At the same time, however, the Dominion-provincial conference has agreed to approve of the repeal of the Colonial Laws Validity Act as it concerns Canada, subject, of course, to the provisions of the British North America Act.

The Colonial Laws Validity Act, passed in 1865, provided among other things that the Imperial Parliament could veto legislation enacted by Colonial Parliaments which was held to be "repugnant to the law of England."

Yesterday's conference agreed that that measure, passed two years before the Dominion of Canada came into being, will no longer apply to any acts passed by the Parliament of Canada or by the Legislatures of the various Provinces—a step that materially widens the autonomous jurisdiction of this country.

In other words, the Canadian Constitution is to remain as it is, while there will be no outside interference with legislation passed in the Dominion.

AN EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH BUREAU.

The announcement that Ontario is to establish a bureau of educational research has been made by Hon. Leopold MacAulay, the Provincial Secretary.

This is an age of research and, therefore, it is singularly appropriate that in the realm of education there should be facilities provided that will give Ontario the most modern and the most effective ideas available for use in the training of her children.

There is no reason why such a highly important phase of development as education should lag behind industry or agriculture in so far as an exhaustive study of and research into the problems peculiarly its own are concerned.

No details have been announced as to the form the projected research bureau will take, but at least its establishment will be hailed as an indication that this Province does not propose to stand still in the realm of education.

The best is not too good for Ontario, and it is presumed that the research bureau will endeavor to see that the school system of the Province shall have the benefit of the latest developments in education the world over, as well as of the reforms the new institution may possibly be able to inaugurate on its own account.

The proposed bureau is a sign of progress, and will be, therefore, welcomed by all who appreciate the value of sound educational methods.

Life is getting to be just one conference after another for Premier R. B. Bennett.

IT'S BIG ENOUGH.

"The universe is very empty," says Sir James Jeans, eminent British astronomer. "Leave only three wasps alive in the whole of Europe and the area of Europe will still be more crowded with wasps than space is with stars."

So, evidently, we have plenty of room. No need for crowding. In that vast arc of space, our own earth, a fourth rate planet in what astronomers tell us is about a ninth rate solar system, looks very small, indeed.

But we shouldn't worry about it. Our earth is large enough, a world of plenty. A world that has produced so much that we don't know what to do with our surplus. And it has only begun to produce. Canada alone could produce enough food for everybody in the world.

So, small as the earth may be in relation to other worlds, it is still so enormous that in century after century we have not yet found how to span it, how to distribute goods so that all producers can sell and all consumers can eat.

Perhaps Sir James Jeans could tell us. He could show us that suns and their planets on the far side of the Milky Way are governed by the same cosmic laws as govern our solar system. He could show us, by inference, that we can't succeed in a really big way until we follow the example of the stars, and until that half of the world which has too much, goes out intelligently to develop that half of the world which has too little.

If we can learn to do that, we won't have to worry about the stars in the firmament, or the three wasps in Europe. But we will, very probably, find that there are jobs for all the civilized world's fifteen million unemployed.—Vancouver Sun.

"OUT FOR LAW."

"I am not impressed at all with your client, because the evidence showed he did not co-operate in mitigating damage. I am quite convinced he was out for law. I don't encourage any such conduct."

This from Mr. Justice Kelly is worth wide attention by lawyers and their prospective clients. Always has there been too many people "out for law." Always too many lawyers willing to encourage clients to take their grievances into the courts. Result, much of the time of our courts is cluttered up with the hearing of evidence in suits that never should have been started. It invariably happens that the least important suits require most time for presentation to a jury.

Justice Kelly had been trying a case in Whitby in which a farmer sued a town newspaper for libel due to an error in a heading. The piece below the heading stated the facts clearly, and subsequently the newspaper published prominently a retraction and apology. The jury found that the defendant had suffered no damage. Justice Kelly awarded costs against the plaintiff, and when the latter's counsel protested, the Bench made a pronouncement that should be thoroughly promulgated.

There are lawyers who frequently suggest other methods of obtaining redress than by action in the courts, but there are lawyers who do encourage extreme steps—possibly owing partly to the keen competition in the profession, and partly because they believe the prospective client "out for law" will only go to some other shop if given any other kind of advice.

Perhaps, also, the vagaries of juries have stimulated the practice of suing in the courts. People with a grievance and their lawyers are willing to take a chance on being able to impress a jury.

"I don't encourage any person just 'out for law'," says Justice Kelly, and he will have a great body of public opinion behind him.—Ottawa Journal.

THE CANADIAN COURTS.

Asked if he had anything to say before sentence upon him should be passed for murder, Thomas McHugh, an American convicted of having held up and shot the cashier of a Montreal taxicab company some months ago, spoke as follows from the dock this week:

"As an American citizen, may I express my admiration for the fairness of your courts in Canada. I feel that I have had a fair trial and that the jury decided according to the evidence. I am deeply grateful to Mr. Franklin, the lawyer who came to my rescue and defended me without hope of receiving a fee. I thank him for his able defence."

McHugh is a seasoned gunman, also "wanted" in Philadelphia for a crime similar to that of which he has been convicted in Montreal. Presumably he has had extended experience with the workings of the American courts. When, therefore, he speaks as he does in regard to the criminal procedure of the Canadian courts, pays tribute to their fairness and efficiency, his opinion is worth respecting.

It should be the constant aim of those responsible for the administration of justice in Canada to see that the reputation of the courts of this country for fairness and independence is preserved and to tolerate no influences or innovations the adoption of which would have the effect of reducing them to the level of courts of corresponding jurisdiction on the other side of the international border.

Canadian criminal courts move with celerity and certainty, yet their conduct is invariably marked by fairness in conformity with the accepted British tradition. Every prisoner brought before them is given a chance to defend himself and receives the benefit of a fair, orderly and unprejudiced trial. It should be the proud boast of Canadians that they possess such a system, praised even by those belonging to other countries who experience its workings, and it should be their business to see that nothing is done that will cause it to suffer in public estimation.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

"World's fair" visitors to Chicago will not have the opportunity of seeing one of the sights of that city, i. e., Big Bill Thompson acting as mayor.

TANAR OF PELLUCIDAR

BY

EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Synopsis of preseding Instalments:—Tanar is a young warrior of Sari, a country in Pellucidar, a strange inner world somewhere beneath the earth's crust. Some years before, David Innes and his scientist friend, Abner Perry, had penetrated to Pellucidar from the outer world, and David had established himself as Emperor of a certain region. In an invasion of a horde of savages calling ing themselves Korsars and coming from across an unknown sea, Tanar is carried away on one of their ships.

Tanar finds a friend in Stellara, who is supposedly the daughter of The Cid, chief of the Korsars. A terrific storm comes up. The Korsars, in a panic, take to the small boats, leaving Tanar and Stellara behind. Tanar learns that Stellara is not after all, the daughter of The Cid, though he believes her to be. He had kidnapped her mother, Allara, from the island of Amiocap previous to the birth of Stellara, but her mother had told her that her father was an Amiocapian chief named Fedol.

The blue waters of the great sea known as Korsar Az wash the shores of a green island far from the mainland—Amiocap, an island of mystery and romance. Thus it appeared to the two survivors from the deck of the Korsar derelict drifting helplessly with the sluggish run of an ocean current and at the whim of vagrant winds.

They had been sleeping—for how long who may say in the measureless present of Pellucidar? Stellara was the first to come on deck from the cabin she had occupied next to The Cid. She looked about for Tanar, but not seeing him she let her eyes wander out over the upcurving expanse of water that merged in every direction with the blue-domed vault of brilliant sky, in the exact center of which hung the great noonday sun.

But suddenly her gaze was caught and held by something besides the illimitable waters and the ceaseless sun. She voiced a surprised and joyous cry, and, turning, ran across the deck toward the cabin in which Tanar slept.

"Tanar! Tanar!" she cried, pounding upon the paneled door. "Land, Tanar, land!"

The door swung open and the Sarian stepped out upon the deck where Stellara stood pointing across the starboard rail of the drifting derelict.

"Land!" breathed Tanar. "How good it looks!"

"The pleasant green of the soft foliage often hides terrible beasts and savage men," Stellara reminded him.

"But they are the dangers that I know—it is the unknown dangers of the sea that I do not like. I am not of the sea. I do not understand it. But there is something that I do understand," and he pointed toward the land.

There was that in Tanar's tone that caused Stellara to look quickly in the direction that he indicated.

"Men!" she exclaimed. "There mus be twenty of them in that canoe."

"And here comes another canoeful behind them."

From the mouth of a narrow cove the canoes were paddling out into the open sea.

"Look!" cried Stellara. "There are many more."

One after another twenty canoes moved in a long column out upon the quiet waters and, as they drew steadily toward the ship, the survivors saw that each was filled with almost naked warriors. Short heavy spears, bone-tipped, bristled menacingly; stone knives protruded from every G-string, and stone hatchets swung at every hip.

As the flotilla approached, Tanar went to a cabin and returned with two of the heavy pistols left behind when the ship had been abandoned.

"Do you expect to repulse four hundred warriors with those?" asked the girl.

Tanar shrugged. "If they have never heard the report of a firearm, a few shots may suffice to frighten them away, for a time at least," he explained, "and if we do not go on the shore the current will carry us away from them in time."

"But suppose thay do not frighten so easily?" she demanded.

"Then I can do no more than my best with the crude weapons and the inferior powder of the Korsars," he said.

"Perhaps they will not be unfriendly," suggested Stellara.

Tanar laughed. "Then they are not of Pellucidar," he said, "but of some wondrous country inhabited by what Perry calls angles."

"Who is Perry?" she demanded. "I never heard of him."

"He is a madman who says that Pellucidar is the inside of a hollow stone that is as round as the strange world that hangs forever above the land of Awful Shadow, and that upon the outside are seas and mountains and plains and countless people and a great country from which he come s."

"He must be quite mad," said the girl. "Yet he and David, our Emperor, have brought us many advantages that were before unknown in Pellucidar, so that now we can kill more warriors in a single battle than was possible before during the course of a whole war. Perry calls this civilization and it is indeed a very wonderful thing."

"Perhaps he came from the frozen world from which the ancestors of the Korsars came," suggested the girl. "They say that that country lies outside of Pellucidar."

"Here is the enemy," said Tanar.

There came a hail from the leading canoe. "We are prepared for you, Korsars," shouted a tall warrior standing in the bow of the first canoe. "You are few in number. We are many. Your great canoe is as useless wreck; ours are manned by twenty warriors each. You are helpless. We are strong. It is not always thus and this time it is not we who shall be taken prisoners, but you, if you attempt to land.

"But we are not like you Korsars. We do not want to kill or capture. Go away and we shall not harm you."

"We cannot go away," replied Tanar. "Our ship is helpless. We are only two and our food and water are nearly exhausted. Let us land and remain until we can prepare to return to our own countries."

The warrior turned and conversed with the others in his canoe. Presently he faced Tanar again.

"No," he said, "my people will not permit Korsars to come among us. They do not trust you. Neither do I. If you do not go away we shall take you as prisoners and your fate will be in the hands of the council of the Chiefs."

"But we are not Korsars," explained Tanar.

The warrior laughed. "You speak a lie," he said. "Do you think that we do not know the ships of Korsar?"

"This is a Korsar ship," Tanar replied, "but we are not Korsars. We were prisoners and when they abandoned their ship in a great storm they left us aboard."

Again the warriors conferred.

"Who are you then?" demanded the spokesman.

"I am Tanar of Pellucidar. My father is King of Sari."

"We are all of Pellucidar," replied the warrior, "but we never heard of a country called Sari. And the woman—she is your mate?"

No!" cried Stellara, haughtily. "I am not his mate."

"Who are you? Are you a Sarian, also?"

I am no Sarian. My father and mother were of Amiocap."

Again the warriors talked among themselves, some seeming to favor one idea, some another.

"Do you know the name of this country?" finally demanded the leading warrior, addressing Stellara.

"We were about to ask you that very question," said Tanar.

"And the woman is from Amiocap?" demanded the warrior.

"No other blood flows in my veins," said Stellara, proudly.

"Then it is strange that you do not recognize your own land and your own people, cried the warrior. "This is the island of Amiocap!"

Stellara voiced a low cry of pleased astonishment. "Amiocap!" she breathed softly, but the wariors in the canoes were too far away to hear her. They thought she was silent and embarrassed because they had discovered her deception.

"Go away!" they cried again.

You will not send me away from the land of my parents!" cried Stellara, in astonishment.

"You have lied to us," replied the tall warrior. "You are not of Amiocap. You do not know us, nor do we know you."

"Listen!" cried Tanar. "I was a prisoner aboard this ship and, being no Korsar, the girl told me her story long before we sighted this land. She could not have known that we were near your island. I do not know that she even knew its location.

"She has never said that she was from Amiocap, but that her parents were. She has never seen the island before now. Her mother was stolen by the Korsars before she was born."

Again the warriors spoke together in low tones for a moment and then, once more, the spokesman addressed Stellara.

"What was your mother's name?" he demanded. "Who was your father?"

"My mother was called Allara," replied the girl. "I never saw my father, but my mother said that he was a chief called Fedol."

At a word from the tall warrior in the bow of the leading canoe, the warriors paddled slowly nearer the drifting hulk, and as they approached the ship's waist Tanar and Stellara descended to the main deck, which was now almost awash, so deep the ship rode because of the water in her hold, and as the canoe drifted alongside, the warriors laid down their paddles and stood ready with their bone-tipped spears.

Now the two upon the ship's deck and the tall warrior in the canoe stood almost upon the same level and face to face. The latter was a smooth-faced man with finely molded features and clear, gray eyes that bespoke intelligence and courage. He was gazing intently at Stellara. Presently he spoke.

"You might well be her daughter," he said, "the resemblance is apparent."

"You know my mother?" exclaimed Stellara.

"I am Vulhan. You have heard her speak of me?"

"My mother's brother!" exclaimed Stellara, with deep emotion, but there was no answering emotion in the manner of the Amiocap warrior. "My father—where is he? Is he alive?"

"That is the question," said Vulhan seriously. "Who is your father. Your mother was stolen by a Korsar. If the Korsar is your father, you are a Korsar."

"But he is not my father. Take me to my own father—although he has never seen me, he will know me and I shall know him."

"It will do no harm," said a warrior who stood close to Vulhan. "If the girl is a Korsar we shall know what todo with her."

"If she is the spawn of the Korsar who stole Allara Vulhan and Fedol will know how to treat her," said Vulhan savagely.

"I am not afraid," said Stellara.

"And the other," said Vulhan, nodding toward Tanar. "What of him?"

"He was a prisoner of war that the Korsars were taking back to Korsar. Let him come with you."

"You are sure that he is no Korsar?" demanded Vulhan.

"Look at him!" exclaimed the girl. "The men of Amiocap must know the people of Korsar well by sight. Does this one look like a Korsar?"

Vulhan was forced to admit that he did not. "Very well," he said, "he may come with us, but whatever your fate, he must share it."

"Gladly," agreed Tanar.

What To-day Means To You

"ARIES."

If April 9th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. to 11:45 a.m., and from 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. and from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

According to the planetary aspects, April 9th, denotes rather unsettled conditions during the morning, but a marked improvement is noticeable in the afternoon or evening. You will be called upon to make an important decision, but do not make it until after 2 p.m.!

Children born on this April 9th will be great readers, and have assimilative memories. They will be serious-minded, thoughtful for others, and possess a strong sense of justice. Their affections will be deep-rooted, and once their love is given, it will be given "for keeps."

If born on April 9th, you are a creature of moods. As such, you are unreliable, as no one knows how to take you. One day you are bubbling over with optimism and hope, while the next, you are in despair, and so far as you are concerned the bottom has dropped out of everything. Your disposition has only two seasons—Summer and winter; there is no expectant Spring, or retrospective Autumn.

You are more of a dreamer than a doer. You can never achieve great things, because the first difficulty encountered stems and deadens your interest. You go from one task to another—you attempt much, but accomplish little. If, to your gifts of intelligence and ability, there were added persistency and concentration, you could become a lasting success. "A rolling stone gathers no moss," and constant changes will not bring any grist to the mill.

Your character, with all its faults, is a kind one, and you would not knowingly hurt anyone's feelings. All the harm you do is to yourself, and you are your own enemy. In the home, the signs denote that much felicity will not prevail, as your nature is not attuned to either permanent contentment or immutability of affection.

COUNTY'S REQUEST

To the Editor,

Dear Sir,—Objections are still being made to the County Council forwarding a resolution to the Hon. Mr. Henry to slow up in construction of Provincial Highways until the depression that now exists has to some extent passed over. The resolution did not refer in any way to maintenance of such roads. The same was in accordance with Mr. Henry's speech at the Road Convention and his policy at the last Legislative session in holding up expenses. Why did the City along with other cities approach the Hon. Mr. Henry in a very beseeching manner to relieve them of the unbearable burden of contributing to Provincial Highways and Suburban-Area roads, when at the same time they were aware that 75% of traffic on such roads is city and town vehicles, and a high percentage of the same pleasure urban traffic. It has been asserted that the city contributes an equal amount towards Provincial Highways to what the county contributes, which is not correct. The demand by the Department for the work carried on in 1927 on the west or Port Hope road some 9.65 miles was $13,000 more to the county than to the city, and to carry out the completion of the road pro-rata an excess to the county, or probably from $25,000 to $35,000 more than the city. The claim is fixed by an engineer at the time of the conduct of the work.

The condition of the farmer to-day is not desirable and although tourist inducement is not by any means decried yet the crippling of the trade with other countries is what is affecting the farmer to-day.

Notwithstanding all of the "boosts" of tourist visitations the farmer today cannot proceed unless some change takes place other than depending on tourist money, such trade may have added to the wealth of some but it certainly has not made millionaires of the farmers. A search in the Registry Office will convince any one that the least transfers of land properties on record is what you will find.

What the farmer (can sell) to-day is selling at abnormally low figures and what he has to buy remains at almost war prices and until the same is remedied the paying by way of taxes by the farmers towards elaborate Provincial Highways will add to his present discouraging circumstances. To what extent, is what the customer is buying reduced, as a result of highways being constructed and maintained by the ratepayers and trucks taking advantage of such conditions.

Until the farmer can get sufficient profit to enable him to meet his liabilities, conditions will remain as they are.

Conditions to-day are an outstanding evidence that when the farmer of Canada is fettered, the country at large suffers.

The railways (our most important facility of transport) buy the right of way, fence it and pay taxes thereon, but the truck traffic is provided with expensive roads built and maintained by the people to operate in competition with self supporting railways. What, will the same assist in paying the bonded debt re the National Railway not mentioning the other railways. How long will the farmers and railways stand the same? The Hon. Mr. Henry's attitude towards not rushing expenses in hard times is to be admired and is certainly appreciated by all responsible thinking men.

The county up to the end of 1930 will have raised from the county ratepayers $153,495.58 and consider they are acting wisely and in conjunction with the Premier in suggesting a somewhat slowup in construction of said roads.

Yours respectfully,
Ed. M. Elliott.

A VISIT TO MUSKOKA

To The Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Mr. Editor,—We left Peterborough on Thursday afternoon for a four days' visit to Gravenhurst, via C.N.R. The ride to Gravenhurst was made pleasant by the courtesy of the C.N.R. officials.

The train arrived about 10 p.m. at Gravenhurst. This, in my opinion, is a nice town, with plenty of houses, medium size and price with large gardens, making it an ideal place for those of us with limited incomes. There are plenty of lots in the town for sale, at very reasonable prices. There are large rocks in the surrounding country and some in the town, but gardening and farming can be done all right.

The highway from Gravenhurst to Peterborough is almost all the way in good condition and if it is as good at the Peterborough end as it is at this end, it surely is an excellent road. My son-in-law treated us to an auto ride to Orillia and on to Atherly, a distance of twenty-eight miles of excellent road. Orillia is a bustling busy place with its factories and business places. The Trent Valley Canal, I am told, is complete with the exception of about two miles. It would be a boon to have the great lakes connected with the water beyond. Muskoka is a wonderful county with its many lakes, islands, picturesque landscapes, towering rocks, wild fruits, flowers, birds, coupled with a dry, pure atmosphere, all going to make it an ideal place for tourists and those who are needing a change, rest or recreation.

I suppose at present there are over one thousand summer cottages here besides a lot of one-room small buildings to let for sleeping quarters. Sunday morning was beautiful; the writer, not a habitual church-goer, went to a small church where a lady stood behind the desk and gave a talk. My hearing not being very good and the lady's enunciation not being distinct, I came away hardly having heard any of her discourse, but with the feeling she was sincere and enjoyed telling good things.

In the evening I listened to a Mr. Fisher, pastor of a Baptist Church. His topic was "Resurrection" a subject few of our regular preachers ject few of our regular preachers seem to preach on now, obvious reasons for not doing so; only dead men can be resurrected. I sat back at the door but I could hear him quite plainly. I came away with the truth being impressed upon my mind that the death of Jesus ransomed Adam and all his posterity from the penalty of death; and the resurrected life of Jesus reconciling the world to God.

We left Gravenhurst Tuesday morning having had a real enjoyable visit. There is an old saying, "Not the only pebble on the shore." True, please do not think I am belittling Peterborough. Excuse the writer for falling in love with Gravenhurst and surrounding county, also my crude way of expressing my exuberant feelings and accept my thanks for the space in your columns.

M. T. Butcher.

The Big Deal

Bob and the boys wanted to get out of town for the summer, but they hadn't much time to look for a cottage. Fortunately, the telephone was admitted to the conference, and it took over matters. A few Long Distance calls to nearby points—and everything was settled. The boys were elated over their "big business" foresight.

GOLDS MAKE BEST SHOWING

Macassa Advances Above 50 on Favorable Despatches From Kirkland Lake Company.

NICKEL UP QUARTER.

Plowing commences —18 Ital. Lack of Rainfall Has Aided in Hastening the Spring Work.

TORONTO, Ont., April 9.—(CP)—The mining market developed an irregularly lower, trend in the forenoon to-day, with the golds, as a group, making the best showing.

Macassa featured the opening, selling well above 50 on word arrangements had been made with Kirkland Lake gold to open up the Macassa property on the 2,500 level from Kirkland Lake gold workings Mining Corp. recovered 5. Lake Shore 15 and other dividend-payers, with the exception of Wright-Hargreaves, were firm. Siscoe lost a couple in light selling, McLeod was down 9 to 12 under heavy liquidation and Tashota lost a little ground. Central Pat and Federal were stronger.

International Nickel, reported to be in good demand in London, was up a quarter, but Noranda and majority of other base metals were unchanged. Sherritt Gordon dropped 3 and balance of Lindsleys were only lightly traded.

East Crest sold up 5 on favorable reports from the west. Homestead dropped another 5, Chemical Research was off 15 and Peninsular Pete and Olga a cent or so apiece.

Two Point Losses On Montreal List

MONTREAL, Que., April 9 (C.P.).—A number of two-point losses appeared on the Montreal stock market at noon today. Abitibi dropped 2 points to 7, Lake of the Woods sold off 2 points to 12, and Montreal Cottons common, on the first board lot sale of the year was off 2 points at 83.

Brazilian was unchanged at 21¾ after a high of 22 for the morning. Dominion Bridge held an early gain of ½ at 7½, and Shawinigan moved up ¾ to 53¾. Montreal was up ½ at 63, and Power Corporation gained ½ at 59½ after touching 60. Nickel was up ½ at 17¾ at noon, and Canadian Pacific dropped ¼ to 39½.

Lower Dividend Rate On Service Stations

TORONTO, April 9.—Service Stations, Ltd., annual report for 1930, released yesterday, showed earnings for the year at a considerably lowerfigure than the street had expected, due to heavy write-offs on inventories and increased reserved made during the last six months of the year.

Operating profits for the year were $1,555,312 as compared with $1,804,060 in 1929, a decrease of $248,748, equivalent to 13.7 per cent. The extent to which write-offs were carried may be gathered from the net accruing to the combined class A and class B capital which was reported at $3.60 per share as against $5 per share in 1929, representing a decrease of 28 per cent. An estimate was made early last year that net per share profits in 1930 would exceed the 1929 figure.

Well-Known Mohawk Dies At Brantford

BRANTFORD, Ont., April 9.—William Smith, son of the late Chief William Smith of the Mohawks, and one of the best known members of the Six Nation Indians, died at his home near Sour Springs on the Reserve early to-day.

Mr. Smith's family has long been prominent in the public life on the reserve. His father was for a quarter of a century the official interpreter for the old Council of Chiefs, the governing body of the Six Nations, of which he himself was a member.

Following in his father's footsteps, the deceased also took a very active part in the affairs of his people, and was a member of the first elective council of the Six Nations.

Winnipeg Review

Special Service to The Examiner through the courtesy of E. J. Bawlf Company, Grain and Stock Brokers, of Toronto

Wheat prices were about unchanged at the opening, but showed a firm undertone and a fractional advance at the end of the first half hour. There was evidence of continual commission house liquidation. This was however offset by a little buying by houses with seaboard connections and foreign account. After the middle hour the market took on a stronger tone, partly due to the unwinding of spreads between here and Chicago and some further buying by Easter interests. This puts this shorts on the defensive. Chicago was showing a quite strong tone. They appear to be taking some stock in scattered reports of insect infestation and in the dry warm weathe that prevails in the spring wheat areas. High temperatures and strong winds were noted Thursday and only a few widely scattered showers occurr d. Cash interests reported a fairly good demand for cash wheat and spreads on the higher grades were advanced 1-8 to ¼. Offerings of spot wheat are light as large holders prefer to wait for the opening of Navigation. Export business was very quiet over night and yesterday, a small business was repor ed worked via the Pacific Coast, New York reporting 500,000 bushels worked, which would be largely Manitobas. Liverpool closed 1-8 to ½ higher, and Buenos Aires was 5-8 to 7-8 higher at noon. Country marketings of wheat in the west totalled 272,000 against 105,000 last year. Winnipeg futures closed ¼ to 5-8 higher, the deferred months being the strongest.

Coarse Grains.—The feature of these markets was further export business in Barley, about 500,000 bushels being worked. A small domestic business in Oats was reported, but there were foreign inquiries for both Oats and Rye, but no sales confirmed Flax market was firm, but trade was light and featureless.

Liverpool cables due unchanged to 1-8 lower, based on Winnipeg.

DULL TRADING TORONTO LIST

Professional Traders Pay Little Attention to Other Than Inter-listed Issues.

NORANDA BACK POINT.

TORONTO, Ont., April 9 (C. P.).—Stocks drifted about without making headway in either direction during the forenoon on Toronto Exchange. It was a market very much the same as yesterday; moderately firm with the public uninterested spectators and professionals paying little attention to other than inter-listed issues. Consequently price changes, such as they were, meant nothing beyond the fact New York also was drifting in that direction at the time.

Noranda at the end of the second hour dropped back ½ point from yesterday's close in a comparatively quiet market, however. International Nickel was at or slightly above last night's final, Brazilian, off from the opening, was nevertheless up about ½ point. Ford, Page-Hersey Tubes, Gypsum were unchanged. The oils made a better showing with B. A. Oil, International Petroleum up slightly. Imperial Oil was unchanged at 15.

C. P. R. sold down to 39¼, a reflection of softness in the rails in New York. Abitibi at 7½ was down between 1 and 2 points from its previous appearance and Service Stations faced renewed selling, dropping to still lower ground at 21½. There was very little action in the distillery group, despite the reports circulating regarding final agreement on the export sales distribution. Reports today were to the effect that Walkers had secured a more advantageous percentage than was at first rumored.

INDUSTRIALS LEAD ADVANCE

Several Gains Registered at Mid-day Following Rail Decline in Morning.

COMMODITIES FIRM.

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 9.—(CP)—Professional operators had the stock market virtually to themselves to-day, but neither speculative faction found the field particularly lucrative.

Selling of the rails impelled a general sag for a time during the morning, but many leading industrials and utilities resisted the downward movement, and after midday, the list showed signs of rallying. A firmer tone in the commodity markets and a better demand for bonds were steadying influences. Trading was in slim volume, most of it originating with floor traders.

In the midday rally, early declines of 1 to 3 points were modified, and a few shares sold up a point or two, including General Motors, which had been firm from the start, and such issues as Allied Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, Dupont, McKeesport, St. Joseph Lead and Bohn Aluminum, the last named reaching a new peak for 1931. Beechnut Packing rose 3. U.S. Steel recovered a 1 point loss, and Bethlehem turned upward after losing more than 2. Auburn fluctuated erratically, getting down 12 points at one time.

American gloves are being worn in South Africa.

FINANCIAL CLIP SHEET

STANDARD OF N.J. IN BETTER DEMAND

Knowledge that one of the most important sponsors of Standard Oil of New Jersey was more friendly toward the stock was responsible for the increased demand noted recently. This interest, it is understood, has been adding to its holdings on recessions recently, due largely to the belief that the "long term" outlook for the industry was manifesting signs of improvement. Incidentally, the reduction in crude oil production during the week also attracted increased buying in "Jersey." The more important buying in the stock, however, does not take place on the bulges, as its sponsors are not yet inclined to extend aggressive sponsorship.

GENERAL MOTORS SALES INCREASE

Persistent buying in General Motors recently is largely based on the fact that sales of the corporation are maintaining their improvement. Actual business during March showed a gratifying increase over the two preceding months and orders booked thus far in April are holding well. Interests conversant with the affairs of the company, consequently, are inclined to anticipate a rather good showing during the current month. Earnings during the first three months of the year were rather encouraging despite the fact that they failed to cover the dividend requirements, and some improvement is likely during the current quarter. First quarter earnings are estimated at 60 cents a share.

CANADA STEAMSHIPS.

As the time for the opening of navigation draws near, a considerable amount of attention is centered around the affairs of the Canada Steamship Lines, Ltd. Those interested in the securities of the company have perused the financial statement for 1930 with keener interest this year than in the past. As regards the outlook for 1931, the situation remains somewhat obscure in view of the general depression in business and industry still prevailing throughout the world. It should be pointed out that a large portion of the company's revenues are derived from the grain movement, which, during the past two years was on a more or less negligible scale. Expectations are that this year will see a very considerable volume of grain business accruing to the company which should add materially to earnings. On the other hand the package freight business is unlikely to show any improvement. The prospects are that betterment in the passenger and general traffic business can be looked for.

There are several factors which, Financial Service understands, should operate to the benefit of the company during 1931, notably the big new terminal a Kingston; the shortening of the Welland Canal; and the putting into operation by the company of new and larger grain boats capable of handling almost double the amount of grain previously carried. In view of this it appears as if earnings of Canada Steamships Lines should show a substantial improvement in the curren year over the previous one.

BUSINESS SENTIMENT.

Sentiment is one of those intangible factors which, while it may be commonly disregarded, is nevertheless a potent influence in both business and the market. During a great part of last year when fear and uncertainty predominated, the course of trade, industry and security prices was not only restrained from any semblance of recovery but actually driven to unjustifiable low levels. Since the turn of the year the opposite has been true and general hopefulness and returning confidence has done more to hasten recovery than any other single factor. What is more, an optimistic attitude is a cumulative force. Confidence breeds confidence and restores that willingness to anticipate the future in the form of forward buying, less sacrifice selling and sound expansion which is the life blood of good business.

Of course, the stock market in the past three months has been the quickest to reflect the change and by its very strength has imparted an impetus to business rather than finding its own foundation in the quickening pace of industry. But perhaps the most profound influence of the better sentiment which has so far characterized 1930, is the general will to work which it has engendered. There is less of the bewailing of conditions in individual industries. In the consciousness that times will be better is born a spirit of more intensive work. Everyone is driving harder to improve his own business and there is no surer path to general prosperity.

Chicago Wheat Gains On European Demand

CHICAGO, Ill., April 9.—(CP)—Buying orders predominated in grains early to-day, and prices average higher. European demand was reported better, and attention focused largely on an official statement that stocks of wheat in all United States markets were diminishing, with the question of grain storage not a serious one. Opening 1-8-5-8 cents up, wheat afterward continued firm. Corn started unchanged to 3-8 higher, sagged temporarily, and then rallied.

HEARING OPENS

ing. He also asked for the exclusion of all witnesses.

Major James R. Bond, of Chippawa superintending engineer for the Niagara Falls Parks Commission was the first witness.

Major Bond, with the aid of maps and photograph, described the scene of the accident where the car plunged into the river. The car crossed the railway tracks at a more diagonal course than at right angles and about 12 feet from the railway the car first mounted the shoulder of the embankment. After striking the shoulder the marks on the snow showed that the right hand side of the car was on the embankment and the left in the ditch, he said. I believe the car swerved after crossing the tracks. One track of the car was about fifteen inches higher than the other. The roadway was smooth and slippery that night, Major Bond said.

The car was nearly submerged with only a few inches of the top showing, the witness continued. It was plainly visible in the water as the headlights were still burning.

Cross-examined by Mr. Cleaver, defence counsel, Major Bond said there was no railings where the car went over and the only thing between the road and the water was a shoulder five feet wide and a foot high. Major Bond declined to offer an opinion whether it would be difficult for even an experienced driver to handle a car with the right wheels over conically piled snow. He stated traffic on the road was normally heavy.

Inquest Evidence.

Despite objections of the defence, the Magistrate permitted F. G. Evans, Crown Attorney, to refer to inquest evidence. The court said counsel would be given freedom in examining witnesses as it was only a preliminary hearing.

Major Bond was closely examined by Crown and defence counsel for technical evidence regarding the scene of the accident.

Wallis Johnston, of Chippawa, Ont., was the next witness. He told of finding the body of Mrs. Hisey in the wrecked car. He said there was a cut on the forehead. In his opinion he car had turned over, end for end, hurling anyone in the back seat forward.

Dr. H. Logan, of Niagara Falls, Ont., read the result of his post mortem on the woman. The cause of death, He said, was fracture of the skull, exposure in water, these combining to cause death. The fracture was caused by a very heavy blow, he thought. If she were in the back seat and fell forward, striking the steering wheel or windshield, she would have received that fracture, said the doctor. He added the kneecap was almost torn off. There was no water in the lungs.

NEW YORK POLICE STAGE ROUND-UP

ted having been there on a pleasure trip.

Miss Gordon's diary reference to Oslo was dated about the time the three men admitted being there.

May Be First Solution.

The Vivian Gordon murder case is the most recent of the series involving women who had figured in the misty Broadway night life. If, as police say, the murder has been solved by the five arrests announced to-day, it will be the first solution of the series. The Dorothy King case is probably the best known of the unsolved Broadway Butterfly cases.

The immediate thought upon the discovery of Vivian Gordon's body was that her murder had been done to silence her threatened testimony in the police vice squad investigation. She had written Isidor J. Kresel, the prosecutor of the probe, shortly before her death, offering to testify.

Vivian Gordon was known to feel very bitter toward the police, especially vice squadsmen, because of her insistence that she had been framed and sentenced to the Bedford Reformatory for Girls in 1923. The charge was prostitution. She denied it, alleging her arrest followed an effort to extort money from her.

Former Mountie

OTTAWA, Ont., April 9 (C.P.) — Jack Holdcroft served in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police from 1920 to 1922. He was invalided out of the force when his health broke down. He signed up in Ottawa, the R.C.M.P. records show, coming to Canada from Europe. He served on the Prairies. The last heard from him was in 1923 when he wrote from New Zealand respecting his discharge.

IMPORTANCE ATTACHED TO NEW ATTITUDE OF STOCK HOLDERS

Minority Shareholders Up in Arms Against Actions of Companies' Officials.

IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENT.

NEW YORK, April 9.—B. L. Belt, president of P. Lorillard Company, has courageously carried the fight with complaining minority stockholders to the barrier of public opinion through widespread use of newspaper advertising.

This particular row between the management and outside shareholders is symptomatic of the revolt of outside investors in numerous corporations, especially in companies which have been cutting liberal melons in behalf of executives and other employees. Since the hitherto apathetic stockholder has become articulate, revolts have taken place in the subjoined other companies: Container Corporation, Continental Shares, Calumet & Arizona, Philadelphia Rapid Transit, Brill Corporation and New York Dock.

The passing of the attitude of lethargic acquiescence on the part of stockholders is an extremely important development. This write for years has warned that corporate laws and company practice had failed to take cognizance of what Professor Thomas N. Carver, Harvard economist, has described as "the present economic revolution in the United States"—namely, the rise of a new and broader class of small investors.

Until the recent period of growing dissatisfaction, which is a biproduct of the depression, outside stockholders for the most part were ordinarily purely passive. When they filled out proxies for the annual elections, they usually acted in a purely "rubber stamp" manner. The annual meetings of stockholders in most American companies have become purely pro forma affairs conducted by lawyers solely for the purpose of complying with the technicalities of the law. The lively interest which is reflected in annual company meetings in England, has been lacking. The stockholders have seemingly lost the traditional qualities of owners. They become not only absentee owners, but also apathetic owners.

RUMOR DENIED

MONTREAL, Que., April 9.—(By the Canadian Press)—There is no foundation for the statement the Dominion Steel and Coal Company is to issue bonds to the value of $10,000,000 which are to be under written in the United States said the company's president, C. B. McNaught this morning. Mr. McNaught was asked to comment on the newspaper despatch from Truro, N.S., that his company was making a bond issue, the proceeds of which will be used in a huge reconstruction program at its Sydney plant this coming season.

N. LONGWORTH

held sway. He was elected to the Ohio House of Representatives. Later he became a member of the Ohio Senate.

Elected to the 58th Congress in 1902, when only 33 years of age, Mr. Longworth first served as a member of the Foreign Affairs committee. Later he was assigned to the Ways and Means committee which has initial jurisdiction over tariff and revenue legislation. Applying himself to a close study of these problems, he was in a position to take an important part in the shaping of the country's tax policy.

He led in the fights against the Democratic Underwood tariff and for the Payne-Aldrich and post war Fordney-McCumber schedules. He was Speaker when the Hawley-Smott Act passed.

One of Majority

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 9 (CP) The death to-day of Nicholas Longworth narrowed to one the Republican majority in the new House of Representatives.

And in narrowing the margin, the chances on Representative Garner, Democratic leader, Texas, and warm personal friend to Longworth during their 26 years together in the house—for the speakership were advanced.

The count of the House to convene in December now stands:

Republicans—216.
Democrats—215.
Farmer Labor—1.

Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican floor leader, was considered among the logical candidates for the Speakership nomination.

There was no assurance from Representative Kvale, Minnesota, the lone Farmer-Labor, whether he would vote for Republican or Democratic organization of the new house.

His latest stand was that he would support the group favoring the recent progressive legislative program outlined by Representative Laguardia, Republican, New York.

SEARCH ABANDONED.

MISSION CIRCLE IS ENTERTAINED

Golden Links Group at Millbrook Present Miss M. Luxon Life Membership.

CONTESTS STAGED.

MILLBROOK, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence) — Miss Marjorie Sayles, president of the Golden Links Mission Circle was hostess for the Easter meeting, over thirty being present on Tuesday afternoon, including a number of former members who are home for the Easter holidays, and who were glad once again to have the opportunity of attending the Circle gathering.

A feature of peculiar interest was the presentation to Miss Margaret Luxon of her Life Membership Certificate in the Golden Links Circle, the amount thus donated helping to swell materially the funds of the organization.

The president took the chair, and after the business session, gave a most interesting report of the recent W.M.S. Presbyterial held at Cobourg, at which gathering she was the official delegate from the Golden Links Circle. Dr. Margaret McKellar's address was the outstanding one of the convention, her forty years' service in India making her an authority on the progress of missions in that large section of the British Empire.

Bryar Edmunds gave a reading, "Easter Thoughts," which fitted in well with the hymns chosen, Mary Burnham presiding at the piano. The 'sunshine bags' given out one month ago, in which members were asked to put one cent for each day the sun shone during March, were returned and netted five dollars for the treasury.

The president announced an early practice for the play to be presented by the Circle next month, the title being "The Spinsters' Return," a companion play to the "Spinsters' Convention," given locally by the Boneka Bible Class last winter.

Contests, including an Easter egg hunt for which Mary Burnham won the prize, and "Miss Flitter's Birthday Party," with the president reading the story and the members adding the wording on their respective slips during the pauses, entertained the guests happily until the tea hour, when the hostess, assisted by Misses Phyllis Kidd, Betty O'Brian and Jean Burnham, served a delicious hot meal which was thoroughly enjoyed.

The admission to the 'party' on Tuesday was an amount equal to one's birthday date in the month, and receipts were quite satisfactory. The hostess was warmly thanked for her hospitality before the guests dispersed.

Pioneer Memories.

Memories of pioneer days were recalled a week ago last Wednesday when the Rev. C. A. G. Spence journeyed to Owenbrook, a distance of fifteen miles to conduct a wedding ceremony, the last six miles of the trip having to be made with a team and "jumper", the roads being impossible for buggy or cutter. Mr. Sam Bullied of Lasswade, who lent the team and jumper recalled that about fifty-five ye ars ago he took a wedding party to Apsley in a jump er for their wedding, but had not heard of a similar event since until this occasion. One of the runners of the jumper was completely worn through on the return trip.

RUMOR BIG BUSINESS WILL DESERT REPUBLICANS IN NEXT U.S. ELECTION

RASKOB HAS PLATFORM.

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 9 (By Ken. Clark, C.P. Staff Correspondent)—A major shift in the balance of domestic politics is forecast by some opinion in Washington. Very big business—business that stretches out its holdings over the round earth and builds factories in the orient and the occident, regardless—will desert the Republican Party and go over to the Democrats, it is said.

Very big business does not approve of extremely high tariffs; it does not approve of Governmental interference in the wheat market. John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and himself a captain of industry, suggests as the first plank for the Democratic platform in 1932: Take the Government out of business and relieve trade from unnecessary and unreasonable governmental restriction, interference and manipulation; at the same time safeguarding the public in every proper way by regulation against monopoly and unfair trade practices. Raskob condemns Federal curbs on these giants (public utilities), which is another of the regrettable tendencies to extend the powers of central Government.

May be Compromise

The Democratic party as a whole does not entirely agree with its National chairman on these points any more than it agrees with him that it should take an unequivocally wet stand, nevertheless having in mind the necessity of capturing the industrial north and east in the elections of 1932 and the immense cost of electing a president, it is not impossible the party might come to some sort of compromise on Raskob's suggestions for its platform. A platform containing the old Republic slogan keep the Government out of business and maintaining the Democratic tradition of low tariffs would appeal to very big business. Further the Republican party cannot free itself of the charge of having a strong element—represented by such notables as Borah of Idaho, Norris of Nebraska, Lafollette of Wisconsin—which is all for more Government interference in business.

Observers here ask themselves what would happen were Owen D. Young, world famous financier, chairman of the General Electric, moderate Wet and a Protestant, selected as Democratic candidate in 1932. On the platform suggested by Raskob, big business would in some degree move on the Democratic standard and the party would have the men and the money, too. A large section of the north would vote for one of the wise big money men who was damp, the south would vote for a Democrat who was not a Roman Catholic although dampness would react to his disadvantage, the middle west if the elections of last November and the mayoralty contest in Chicago are any criterion, would give Mr. Young some support.

Hoover's Hopes

It is pretty generally assumed in Washington that if Mr. Herbert Hoover should run as a dry Republican in 1932 he would probably be elected. The old tradition that no matter how much quarrelling and dissatisfaction there is in the party between elections when polling day comes the Republicans rally round the flag, boys, rally once again, is the strongest sort of argument for this proposition. But if very big business should decide not to rally once again there is a bare possibility Mr. Hoover might have to move from the White House.

Two Autos Hit Woman; Third Drags Her Body

Negro Resident of Freeport Found Dead 5 Blocks From Scene of First Crash.

FREEPORT, L.I., April 9.—Mrs. Martha Plains, 73-year-old negro, was killed Tuesday night when she was run down by two automobiles at the deserted intersection of Main street and Evans avenue, and her body was dragged about five blocks by a mysterious third car for which the county police have sent out a general alarm.

Mrs. Plains was walking across Main street when the first machine struck her. The driver stopped his machine and ran to a near-by telephone to notify the police. While he was gone a machine driven by Robert Pfleugner ran into the body. Pfleugner also alighted and went to summon the police.

When Henry and Pfleugner returned to the spot the body of Mrs. Plains had disappered. The police found it five blocks away, at the corner of Seaman avenue and Main street. Their theory was that a third car had passed over Mrs. Plains, caught her dress, dragged the body for five blocks and sped away.

No arrests were made.

REPARATION OF PUPILS URGED

Prof. Jeanjean Sees Need of More Relaxation From Children in Classroom.

RESORTS TO TELLING JOKES.

MONTREAL, April 9 (By the Canadian Press)—What is needed in all ducational institutions to-day is a repartition of pupils into more homogeneous groups in order that the bright pupil may advance without hindrance and the backward cholar be given more attention by hi professors. This was the belie expressed recently by Chanoine Gustave Jeanjean, professor of applied psychology at the Catholic University of Paris, in a lecture in the Montreal Technical School.

The conferencier declared that tests showing the capacity for work and the capacity for learning of the pupils should be given at regular intervals in an attempt to class the different types of mental activities found in every institution of learning. He said that without some form of repartition of the pupils the good ones would automatically become lazy waiting for the laggards. They finish their work long before their confreres, he averred, and with the strict enforcement of silence now prevalent in the schools they do nothing but sit still and twiddle their thumbs.

Any professor or teacher who believes his pupils to be his slaves should hurriedly change his profession, the speaker reclared, for, he said, the reverse is the case. The adaption of a teacher who can come down to the mind-level of very small children was the sure sign of a superior man, the lecturer stated, and of a type which could more easily handle adults when the occasion presented itself.

Prof. Jeanjean has some very definite ideas as to the proper method of handling children in the classroom. "It is immoral," he asserted, "for a young child to follow a two-hour course without a break. I resort to the system of telling them little jokes ever so often and I order them to laugh as loud as they can. The idea is that they get some relaxation in this manner and their minds are much more receptive when study time comes around again." He also told his large audience that it was one of his tricks that when he had a child who could not spell properly he would tell him to forget all about spelling for at least three months. In this way, he claimed, the child lost all the wrong impressions he had collected and was in a position to start afresh along the proper channels.

EXHIBIT REVEALS HISTORY OF CANADA

Donations Revive and Depict Ancient Days and Customs in McCord Museum.

MONTREAL, April 9.—(By the Canadian Press)—An unusually interesting and comprehensive exhibit of articles and photographs illustrating the economic and social development in the history of Canada has been arranged at the McCord National Museum at McGill University. From the early times of the French regime up to the present days aspects of Canadian life are recalled by valuable exhibits which have been collected frojm many different sources.

The various museums at McGill, railways, banks, steamship companies and other concerns, have contributed exhibits to make the collection as comprehensive as possible.

One case contains articles from the seventeenth century period of the French regime and recalls the life of the soldiers and priests of the time. The names of Champlain, Frontenac and LaSalle are seen on old manuscripts, and there is a one set of coins from the time of Francis I to Louis XV, which were in use in Canada during this period. The latter par of the French regime is typified by exhibits in a second case.

The fur trading days and the exploits of the Hudson's Bay Company are represented in another part of the room, and this includes photographs, maps, documents and relics of this phase of Canadian development. Outstanding is a model canoe, fully equipped for operation. It is a birch-bark express canoe, one-fifth size, capable of carrying a crew of eight men and one or two passengers.

The history of banking in Canada is represented in another case. There are old bank-notes, pictures of the buildings in which leading Canadian banks started on successful careers, curious old engravings and numerous comparative pictures to show how the banks have developed in a short time. The old pictures of Montreal and the history as seen in the various bank-notes shown are of particular worth.

Other great builders of Canada, the railways, are grouped together and treated in much the same fashion. The construction of the C.P.R. is represented in a number of pictures, while there are old pictures of early locomotives as compared with the huge 600-type that the C.N.R. employs to-day. There are also pictures of the first buildings of the Board of Trade in Montreal in 1842, views of the harbor, bridges and other city developments.

Industrial development, more recent, is sketched as well as possible in a series of exhibits—lumbering, mining, water-power exploitation, stores and factories are described.

Other unique exhibits are the first telephone used in Montreal in 1881 and a picture beside it of an early telephone operator, almost lost in her skirts, also a copy of the annexation manifesto of 1849 in which are found the names of many outstanding Montreal citizens.

MONTREAL, April 9.—(By the Canadian Press)—After their annual meeting at Victoria, B.C., June 1-2, the members of the Canadian Manufacturer's Association will sail to Vancouver and will travel, it is announced here, from that port to Toronto, making a stay at Jasper Park Lodge and visiting Edmonton, Saskatoon and Winnipeg. They will travel by special train.

"Tell England" Grips With Its Poignancy

Parts of New British Film Hold Audience in Tension Higher Than Excitement.

LONDON, April 9.—(By the Canadian Press)—"Tell England" a film of Gallipoli, from the book by Ernest Raymond, well known British author and directed by Anthony Asquith and Geoffrey Barkas," cannot be coldly discussed as an entertainment or as an exercise in cinematography," says the theatre critic of The Times. "Parts of it are profoundly, almost intolerably, moving: the audience, knowing the event, is yet held in a tension higher than the tension of excitement; no man of imagination can witness it without suffering. The story is of the Gallipoli landings and evacuation—a story which when told with the screen's approach to naturalism, cannot yet be considered with detachment.

"It is remarkable that the illusion created by the film is always most powerful where Mr. Asquith and Mr. Barkas have either abstained from dialogue or have used it, not to convey information or to illustrate character, but impressionistically as a form of supplementary sound," The Times critic continues. "Partly for this reason, the opening is very weak. The two men, Rupert Ray (Tony Bruce) and Edgar Doe (Carl Harbord), who are afterwards to serve in the same company in Gallipoli, are here shown as senior schoolboys in the spring and early summer of 1914. The intention is to emphasize their friendship and their youth, to offer a peaceful contrast with the scenes that are to follow, and, we are afraid, to provide a part for Miss Fay Compton as Mrs. Doe, the mother of one of them. Some of this may be necessary, but how much better it would be if these scenes of swimming and delight were run together in a swift sequence, a unified impression, instead of being treated as a formal narrative in which, after all, Miss Compton, whose voice is very hashly and gustily reproduced, can produce little effect. Not until her son has gone and she, herself silent, hears with her ears the vain chatter of a visitor but with her mind the music, the cheering, the blasts of sirens that accompanied his going, does Miss Compton influence her audience and Mr. Asquith enter into the true use of his medium."

Montreal Abandons Identity Card Plan

MONTREAL, April 9.—(By the Canadian Press)—The failure of the public to take out identity cards for the issuance of which the city established six offices, and the withdrawal of the Montreal bill, at Quebec, which would have limited the right to vote at municipal elections to holders of these cards, has led to the virtual abandonment of the plan, it was announced lately.

Last fall an office opened in Notre Dame de Grace was closed because no one applied for cards, and it was announced recently that three of the five remaining offices have also been closed.

Cards taken out to date number about 60,000. Of that number one-quarter were issued to persons who were not electors, but desiring cards for general identification purposes.

GRIMSBY, Eng., April 9. (CP) — The trawler North Cape, with a crew of 13 men, has been given up as lost by her owners since nothing has been heard of the vessel since she sailed for Iceland 34 days ago.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM

OMEMEE, April 9.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—The W.M.S. of Trinity United Church held their April meeting at the parsonage. Mrs. Vaughan, president, occupied the chair and an Easter service was held, the special Easter printed program being used in which all members took part, in the form of responsive reading.

The study leaflet 'A hole in the wall," was taken by the president and two short papers were given by Mrs. Blewitt and Mrs. R. Bradley, respectively. Mrs. Cyril Elliott sang a very appropriate Easter number. Miss Race then gave the devotional leaflet. Reading. Mrs. H. Lamb, on Sacrifice and Self Denial.

The delegates were appointed for the Presbyterial to be held at Oakwood, on April 16, Mrs. F. G. Sandy and Miss Race receiving the appointment. After the pronouncing of the benediction, the hostesses, Mrs. Shields, Mrs. Moncrief and Mrs. Arthur Stinson served refreshments and a pleasant social hour was spent.

The mite boxes which had been distributed were all opened and showed a total of $75.80 which is devoted to missions. The service was well attended and was very inspiring.

Guild Meets.

The Woman's Guild of Christ Church met Thursday afternoon in the Sunday school room. The regular opening exercises were conducted by the president, Miss Robinson, the remainder of the afternoon being spent in sewing. Mrs. Sawyer extended an invitation to the society to meet at her home, on King Street for their next regular meeting in May.

At the conclusion of the afternoon's work, the hostesses Mrs. Fred Bent and Miss Ada Atwell served freshments. The ladies enjoying a social time over the tea cups.

An Easter solo was rendered by Mrs. Cyril Elliott, and Mrs. Laidley. In the evening, a song service was given by the choir, which was entirely Easter. Those taking special part were the Misses Faulkner, Race and Werry.

A short address was given by the pastor, Rev. Blanchard, on the Resurrection. COMPETITION FOR MILKMAN

Orange Juice Vendor Will Be New Disturber of Early Morning Sleepers.

IN BIGGER CITIES

BOSTON, Mass., April 9 (C.P.) — The milkman has long held a unique place as a disturber of sleep and provider of vitamins. Now he must share his distinction with the orange-juice man, under a new development through which 60,000 gallons of citric have been produced and shipped to Erie, Buffalo, New York, New Haven and Cleveland, for distribution from doorstep to doorsetp. Boston is next in line.

The juice is put up in cans of various size, then frozen solid stored. Shipped in refrigerator cars, these small containers are delivered in solid form. At least in some places, milk contractors will be the regular distributors. Another proposal now under consideration is to send orange juice north in its liquid state in large tank cars.

E. P. RANCH IS NOT DUDE SHOW

"Prince Insists Farm Must Stand On Its Feet," Says General Manager.

SHOWING CATTLE.

(Special to The Examiner—Copyright, 1931)

VANCOUVER, April 9.—The Prince of Wales may have had a fine time in the Argentine, reviewing the cattle herds on the pampas and playing with the gauchos, but his heart was up here in Western Canada all the time, says Prof. W. L. Carlyle, manager of the Prince's famous ranch on the High River, Alberta.

"The prince is a real cowboy and there is no doubt but that he is the top hand on the E.P. ranch," said Carlyle. "He's not just a figure-head—not by a long shot. Why, only the other day I received a ten-page letter from him giving thhe most detailed instructions as to how the place should be run."

Carlyle recently took two of the prince's prize shorthorn bulls to the big bull sale and cattle fair at Kamloops, B.C. Carlyle says that his royal highness has given instructions to exhibit two or three head of stock at every fair in Alberta, and British Columbia this year and if possible at the big fair in Chicago. Only two or three animals are to be shown, however, because the royal cowboy has no desire to dominate any exhibition.

Not a Dude Show

"The E.P. Ranch is not a dude show at all," said Carlyle. "It's a hard-headed business proposition. Low prices for beef haven't discouraged the prince at all, but we are not increasing the present herd of 150 head of shorthorns. We go in for pedigree cattle and sheep. The ranch must stand on its own feet and it delights the prince to learn of a year's successful operations.

"His royal highness loves the ranch and he prefers it as it is. He insists that we keep it in all its rustic simplicity. Some of us thought that we would build a bridge across a creek leading to the house from the highway—would the prince stand for it? He would not. He wrote me to say that one of the pleasures of visiting the ranch was riding through the rushing waters at the ford. To bridge that spot simply would not do.

Bridge Over Ford

"But here was a case where we simply had to take the law into our own hands, prince or no prince. We did bridge the creek at that spot, but put the bridge under water. We made the bed of the creek firm with gravel and rock, so that wagons and motors may cross at the ford without going down to the hubs. When we told the boss about it he complimented us on our ingenuity.

"When the prince last visited the ranch, he noticed a portrait of himself hung up in the dining-room. It seems that his portrait was the one of the thousands which had been taken which the prince disliked most.

"Where did you get that picture?" he asked the ranch manager.

Carlyle explained that one of the neighbors had cut it out of a magazine and it had then been framed.

"Please take it down," begged H.R.H. "and I'll send a real portrait from home."

Queen Takes Pride

"Some time ago," Prof. Carlyle said at Kamloops, "we received a fine oil painting of the boss from London. It had been done by Munnings and had been taken from the Queen's doll house. Her majesty seems to take a share in the success of the E.P. Ranch, for ahe it was who made it possible for us to have this fine painting."

Carlyle says that following the South American trade adventure upon which the Prince of Wales and Prince George are now embarked, the Prince's next outing will probably be to Canada.

"We are looking for him next year," said Prof. Carlyle. "He is planning to come for the World's Grain Exhibition at Regina."

CATS AND THAT SORT OF THING

Or Civil Service in Seventies, With Reference to Sable Island.

TO EXTINGUISH RATS

HALIFAX, N.S., April 9 (C.P.) — Sixty years ago last month, one of the strangest cargoes ever shipped out of Halifax was cleared for Sable Island. Long noted as the scene of disastrous wrecks, the island had apparently become the home and breeding ground of rats less acute in intuition than other members of their family, credited with deserting a doomed ship at the last port of call. And so the Federal Government of Canada was asked to call upon its resourcefulness and cure the plague.

A Halifax morning paper of March 15, 1871, published the following item in its local column:

"Emigrants to Sable Island.—The steamer Lady Head is ready to leave for Sable Island with a consignment of cats, about fifty in number, sent by the Dominion Government to exterminate the rats of that place."

On the following day further progress was reported:

Completion of the transaction, except insofar as the cats and rats were concerned, was recorded in the issue of March 20:

"From Sable Island.—The steamer Lady Head returned on Saturday morning from Sable Island, after landing its cargo of cats. No wrecks have occurred at the island since last advices."

A recent despatch from Berlin states that, irked by the complaints of stall owners in the central market at Alexanderplatz, that rodents were becoming a nuisance, city authorities appointed twenty-four cats wearing the city colors on their collars, to chase them away.

$85,000 Fire Damages Warehouse In Toronto

TORONTO, April 9.—While hundreds of people watched long tongues of flame shoot into the air 40 feet when a blaze of unknown cause broke out in the fifth storey of the brick building occupied by the Wrought Iron Range Company and the Radiant Aluminum Company shortly before midnight, firemen from the downtown fire halls on a second alarm call literally drowned it out with tons of water after damage had been done estimated at $85 000.

GRAIN STEAMERS HEAD FOR SOO.

SAULT STE. MARIE, April 9. — The steamers Donnaconna and Westmount of the Canadian Steamship Line, left Duluth grain laden for the Soo last night, and will probably reach here to-day. G. S. Shanks, local steamship agent and superintendent of the New Ontario Dock, said to-day he did not believe the boats would attempt to navigate the upper river during the night and would probably anchor around Whitefish to start down at dawn.

TEACHERS LEAVE CADET TRAINING UP TO PREMIER

Resolution For Abolition in Schools Passes After Considerable Debate.

DR. FYFE GIVES VIEWS.

Proposal to Abolish Middle School Exams Defeated By 121 to 102 Votes.

TORONTO, Ont., Apr. 9. —(CP)— Commencing the final day of their annual conclave, delegates gathered here to discuss the numerous problems confronting the Ontaro Educational Association, are faced with another full program. However, it is unlikely any of the sectional meetings will experience as many differences of opinion as developed at the various sessions yesterday.

One of the most striking of these occurred soon after the secondary school teachers had voted to retain a uniform, stereotyped Middle School examination. The proposal for at least partial abolition of the exams was sponsored by W. L. Sprung who said a committee of 10 had been formed and advocated granting Middle School standing without examinations provided the students had been recommended by teachers or principals as able to make 66 per cent or more in their studies.

Proposal Defeated

The vote against this proposal was 121 compared with 102 for. Last year this recommendation was declsively defeated.

Making his first public appearance in this city soon after, Dr. Hamilton Fyfe, Principal of Queen's University, Kingston, speaking before the association delegates at Convocation Hall, declared any sort of rigid examination was a mistaken means to an end. Not only did they stultify the growth of both teachers and pupils, he said, but they were not a criteria of educational development.

Admitting he did not know educational conditions in Ontario—having recently arrived here from England, Dr. Fyfe said nevertheless he wished to warn the Association against too great an emphasis on organized syllabus and stereotyped examination. He pleaded for freedom of the teacher, which he believed was the essential factor in the free development of the child.

It is personality which counts. I hope in the bright future exams may be mainly internal. Anything which cramps the teacher in the exercise of his craft and turns him into a sort of gramophone, well, is nothing less than a primeval terror, he said.

Heated Debate.

It was not until after a heated debate among delegates at the trustees' and ratepayers' sectional gathering that the hardy perennial cadet training—was disposed of. Recommendation of the meeting's resolution committee that a proposal sponsored by Victoria county representatives be laid aside raised a storm of protests.

If we're going to frame the Kellogg pact and hang it upon our walls and say we support world peace, how can we train cadets at the same time, asked one trustee.

Arthur Mould, London, declared cadet training was detrimental to physical training. Every military leader during the last war found he had to introduce physical training to undo cadet training, he said .

The resolution for abolition of cadet training will now be passed on to the Provincial Mnster of Education, Premer G. S. Henry, it was finally decided.

TORONTO, April 9. — For more than 20 years students of secondary schools have received $5,000 annually in scholarships through the generosity of the late J. I. Carter, yet the grave of this man who has assisted a greater number of secondary students than any other single donor, lies unkept, uncared for, and marked by an insignificant stone in a cemetery at Seaforth.

This was revealed by J. F. Ross, president of the High School principals' section of the O. E. A. yesterday, when he appealed to the principals to make some provision to look after Mr. Carter's grave. Mr. Carter left no heirs other than the secondary school students of the Province to benefit by his $100,000 estate, and it was the duty of educational authorities to see that his grave was taken care of.

Carter scholarships are available to students in every county of the Province.

COUNTRY ROADS DAMAGE SMALL

Lightest Repair Bill in Years After Frosts Have Come Out.

ROADS NOW GOOD.

Spring has given the townships and their road superintendents a "break" by releasing the roads from the winters' frost with lightest repair bills in years.

Three or four years ago the county road system of Peterborough County was almost ruined by some two weeks' traffic when the frost was "going out." That experience cost the county treasury $20,000, and Dunc MacFarlane and his men spent most of the summer ironing out the ruts and even putting in new foundations where the roads had broken down completely.

The roads out of Peterborough this week seem almost perfect, and motorists will find them virtually in midsummer condition. The seasonal transition has been a smooth performance that left only a few fretted patches that needed the attention of the road crews. A week ago that blue top section of the Chemong road was packed down as level as the pavement, and the drag was filling in the occasional hollows that were the only blemishes before even March had ended.

The Norwood road is in first class condition, with probably the best of it east of Shearer's corner. The provincial highway maintenance men are apparently doing good work. This comment points no reflection at the county road department, for their stretch of the road into Peterborough has come through the Spring change as soundly as the rest. There are some pock marks that require only a "facial" treatment to bring them up to the general superficial standard.

Thousands of dollars have been saved to the county ratepayers this season; in fact, the Spring expense bill will probably be so light that county sentiment may become agreeable to pushing on the provincial highway contracts at once.

Manitoba Power Net Is Slightly Higher in '30

WINNIPEG, April 9.—Net income before charging depreciation of the Manitoba Power Co. showed an increase of $14,777 in 1930 despite a decrease in gross earnings from operation and miscellaneous income of $3,595. Operating expenses for the year were reduced $1,224.

Per share earnings were equal to $1.96 this year after depreciation, against $1.90 and 1929 on the same basis.

Auburn's Canadian Sales Double 1930

Shipment of Auburn and Cord cars to Canada in March was equal to 98 per cent of the total number of automobiles delivered by the company in Canada in the first three months of 1930, S. Wiley, export manager, announced Monday.

For the first three months of the calendar year Canadian dealers and distributors bought more than twice as many Auburn and Cord cars as in the same period a year ago. Wiley pointed out.

Despite the fact that American cars have been practically excluded from several important European markets by high tariffs the company's European sales for the first quarter of 1931, Wiley said, have kept pace with last year and are more than 50 per cent ahead of 1929.

W. C. Leckie Appointed Vice-President.

At the annual meeting of Standard Brands Limited, held in Montreal on March 31, Mr. Corwin Wickersham, president, announced that the year just closed has been a remarkably successful one, particularly in view of general conditions throughout Canada. Sales of the majority of Standard Brands' products have shown steady gains in the past twelve months, and an indication of the future is seen in the fact that for the first three months of 1931, sales of all major products have eclipsed the record peaks reached in the corresponding period a year ago.

RECEIVING PERMISSION

The Chief of the Fire Department wishes to remind the citizens of this city that the Fire Prevention by-laws do not permit of bonfires or grass fires within the city limits, without permission from someone in authority. As grass fires are so prevalent at this time of the year when the old grass becomes so thorough dry and as spring cleaning suggests the burning of rubbish out-of-doors, utmost caution has to be eexrcised.

Permission to kindle such fires will be granted by the Chief or his assistant, and instruction will also be given. These must be closely followed, because if a fire is lighted the wrong way of the wind, the flames may endanger nearby buildings and fences. The co-operation of all the citizens of Peterborough is asked for in this connection.

CHILDREN BITTEN PLAYING WITH DOG

Animal Will Be Kept Under Observance For Ten Days.

A dog ran amok among a yard-full of children yesterday afternoon, biting two and causing terror and tears to the others. Willie Miller, 221 George Street, suffered a bad bite on the left leg, and Sherman French, 235 George Street, was bitten on the left thigh.

The children were playing in Miller's back yard, when the dog, a mongrel owned by Mrs. Graham, 179 Sherbrooke Street, ran in. Some of the children "shooed" the dog until it became excited and the attack followed. The animal will be kept under observation for ten days.

OLD TIME HITS ARE PRESENTED AT KNOX CHURCH

Young People of Congregation Provide an Old Time Concert Program. ANCIENT COSTUMES.

The spirit of the olden times of our grandfathers and grandmothers was again revived last evening by the young people of Knox United Church in their Old Time Concert given before a small but appreciative audience in the Sunday School Hall. The program consisted of old favorite songs, and the artists were attired in costumes of days gone by. Rev. Wm McDonald presided as chairman of the concert, and interspersed humorous and encouraging remarks throughout the presentation.

The program was commenced by the singing of "O Canada." Mrs Kenneth Baker, attired in a long black and crimson skirt, orange blouse and hat to match, sang "In the Gloamin'," and "In my Ain Wee House" in a clear and appealing contralto voice. Alfred Noyes' "The Highwayman," the most vivacious poem of the century, was effectively recited by Jessie Tully, who was dressed in a long yellow dress with a yellow and green figured jacket.

The humorous piece "The Bulldog and the Bullfrog" was sung by the male quartette, consisting of Don Charlton, Tom Allen, Don Gillespie and William Wedlock. Their encore was "In my Kentucky Home." The members of the quartette were particularly conspicuous by their large pink bow ties and handkerchiefs to match.

Mrs. George Spicer, appearing in a beautiful white Easter frock, sang, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" and "Believe me if all those Endearing Young Charms." A piano and violin duet, "Flower Song," by Gustave Lange, was rendered by Mildred Hetherington at the piano and Alec Robertson with the violin. Mrs H. Wood, in a pink and green Priscilla costume, and Miss Annie Crawford, in an attractive Victorian dress, gave two duet numbers, "Silver Threads among the Gold" and "Juanita."

Arthur Pitchford, dressed in a Wesleyan parson's costume and wearing a flat minister's hat, sang two vocal numbers, "Long, Long, Ago" and "Mother McCree." Mrs H. Turner, attired in somber Victorian style, gave a recitation entitled "Her first call to the Butcher's," and an encore. The song "Lads and Lassies" was exceptionally well rendered by Isobel Black, who wore a pale green figured dress and black cape and who had a copious supply of white hair. The program was concluded by two vocal duets given by Mrs. Baker and Margaret Hill, entitled "Life's Long Dream is O'er" and "I was Seeing Nellie Home." Miss Hill's attractive costume consisted of a gray dress with fancy blue and mauve stripes, and a purple bonnett.

Miss May Pollock acted as accompanist throughout the concert. The program was under the directorship of Mrs. J. J. Pollock. Following the concert prizes were awarded to the best costumes as follows: first, Mrs. Kenneth Baker, second, Mrs. George Spicer. At the close of the program refreshments were served, and a social evening ensued.

QUAKERS LIFT BAN ON FRILLS IN DRESS

Amended "Book of Discipline" Adopted—Omits Usual Advice for Plain Attire.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Adopting an amended "Book of Discipline" for Quakers for the first time in thirty-eight years, the Religious Society of Friends decreed at its New York yearly meeting Tuesday that it was necessary no longer for members of that faith to keep a strict plainness of dress and to shun all kinds of frills and laces.

The action was taken at the second day's session of the meeting at 221 East Fifteenth street. More than 100 Quakers were present. It was the first time since 1893 that a new set of rules of discipline "for the government of members and meetings" was prepared and ratified. The document contained forty-two printed pages and was drawn by the committee on revision of discipline, it was said, only after a series of eighteen long meetings.

Although the provision of the new "Book of Discipline" and that of 1893 substantially are the same, the section on "Days and Times" omitted the customary advice of the seven previous books issued since 1783 as to "plainness" in the mode of a Quaker's dress. "Spiritual simplicity" rather than simplicity in one's uniform was inferred by the document as essential.

BUFFALO GNATS KILLING STOCK

Plague Sweeps Over Mississippi Lowlands, Arkansas and Louisiana.

PEOPLE MENACED.

CLARKSDALE, Miss., April 9. — (CP)—A plague of buffalo gnats today wrought havoc in the Mississippi River lowlands of this state, Arkansas, and Louisiana, killing livestock and menacing the lives of people.

Harris Barnes, Coahoma County farm agent, said he had received reports of the death of 125 mules in the county within the past 48 hours from the pest. More than 100 mules have been reported killed in Arkansas and many head of livestock in Louisiana.

Authorities issued a warning to people to avoid the gnats, and livestock men are using every means to protect their cattle. The gnats arrive in swarms like clouds and settle on deserted houses in outlying sections as well as on barns and herds of cattle.

Veterinarians throughout this area are now administering to stricken stock.

As all but 20 of the 45,000 apartments in Helsingfors, Finland, are occupied, making a record for occupancy for the city, a movement to build more has been started.

VIRGIN ISLANDS RESENT SLIGHT

Claim Stupid U. S. Laws Made Them the Poorhouse as They Were Termed by Hoover.

REBUKE PRESIDENT.

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands, April 9 (C.P.).—The newspaper St. Thomas Mail, in an editorial captioned "An Ill-mannered Visitor," declared today that the islands were no poorhouse when they were acquired by the United States, but that the application of stupid and unsuitable federal laws made them so.

Thus any American, the editorial continues, who insultingly alludes to the Virgin Islands to-day as a poorhouse can only be devoid of decency even though that individual be the President of the United States. He should have known better than to wound the susceptibilities of a loyal people. He had acted unlike the head of the nation, and instead of causing the people to deprecate his visit he should have made them revere his name by the honor the visit would otherwise have conferred on the Virgin Islands.

Apparently in the finest health when he retired last night, he suffered the seizure in his sleep, and was dead when his son went this morning to his room.

Lieut. Col. Backett first joined the Kemptville Company of the Lisgar Rifles when he was 18 years of age. He was gazetted Lieut. Colonel in 1911 after continuous service with the company. During the Great War he was in command of the Home Guard at Iroquois and Cardinal, Ont.

He was a lifelong resident of Oxford Township. He was born near Beckett's Landing in 1858. His wife predeceased him in 1913.

FAREWELL PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Nesbitt, Who Are Leaving Lakefield for Keene, Entertained at Garbutt Home.

LAKEFIELD, April 9.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Garbutt entertained about thirty neighbors and friends at their home on Monday evening, March 30, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nesbitt, who were leaving the community to reside in Keene.

The evening was spent pleasantly in social intercourse and games. A particularly pleasing feature was a presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt as a remembrance of many delightful associations and as a reminder of Lakefield friends. Mr. Thompson Braden read an address expressing the good wishes of the entire company and Mrs. C. W. Garbutt and Mrs. Ernest Garbutt presented Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt with a handsome mantel clock and an electric plate.

Although genuinely surprised by the gifts, Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt replied in graceful manner, assuring their friends that in these days of motor cars distances are easily bridged and the fact that they are no longer in the neighborhood will not prevent frequent visits and a continuance of the delightful friendships.

NEW FRENCH MINE STRIKE.

PARIS, April 8 (C.P.).—Although resumption of work in the coal mines in The Pas de Calais region was general to-day after the walkout which had lasted since March 30, another strike was begun in the Craissesac basin near Montpelier, with the miners reported nearly 100 per cent. out. HON. CAIRINE M. WILSON OUTLINES TREND OF EDUCATION IN ONTARIO

TEACHERS POORLY PAID.

TORONTO, Ont., April 9 (C.P.) — Education of the masses in Upper Canada, now Ontario, in the latter part of the eighteenth century, was largely left to chance, to the church or charity, said Hon. (Senator) Cairine M. Wilson, of Ottawa, addressing the Federation of Women Teachers' Association to-day on "Early Schools of Ontario."

Mrs. Wilson pointed out conditions about 1790 were not favorable to educational progress, as settlements were widely scattered and there were practically no urban centres. There were no roads, no regular mail service, very few books or newspapers and little social life. The struggle of the pioneers with the great forests and the necessity to work all daylight hours in the summer to provide for the long winters, made schools seem impossible luxuries.

Various Steps Traced

Various steps in Ontario's education development beginning with Government land grants in 1797 for the endowment of grammar schools and universities, were traced by Mrs. Wilson. There were the District Schools Act of 1807, and the Common Schools Act of 1816, and the several legislative grants provided for school development. The early schools were crudely-built log houses and the teachers poorly paid. School-books were scarce and of a varied character.

The Act of Union of 1841 paved the way for the appointment of Dr. Egerton Ryerson, the acknowledged father of education in Upper Canada. Before he was installed as Superintendent of Education, said Mrs. Wilson, he had a public career, which brought him into collision with every party, but Ryerson gained the confidence of Lord Sydenham, Sir Charles Bagot and Lord Metcalfe, the first three Governors of United Canada, and was known by them as the unflinching advocaet of moderate reform. Dr. Ryerson linked education in Upper Canada with the great systems of Europe, and laid the foundation of the schools of which Ontario has been so justly proud.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 9.—Increased attention to likelihood of widespread damage from insects this year, owing to the unusually mild winter, had a bracing effect on grain prices yesterday. However, all grains met with free selling on the upswing, and receded in the late trade. Export business in North American wheat totalled but 500,000 bushels, and there were predictions that the greater part both of domestic winter and spring wheat territory would receive beneficial moisture.

Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to ¾ cents higher. Corn ⅝ to ¾ cent off; oats at ½c decline to ¼c advance and provisions 5c to 10c down.

Market Becomes Overcold

Responding suddenly at times to the stimulus of reports about insect ravages immediate or prospective, wheat scored a maximum rise of 1⅜c. A badly oversold condition of the market was disclosed, and offerings were scarce until profit-taking sales relieved the tension. Advices which received special notice said cutworms in Nebraska had destroyed hundreds of acres of wheat near Hemingford, Nebraska, the worms moving across fields and taking a swath fifteen to twenty feet wide.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, April 9.—Egg prices advanced and cheese quotations were lower, while butter and potato prices were unchanged on the produce and dairy market here yesterday.

Car-lot prices of fresh eggs regained some of their losses of yesterday, being up ½c to 1c. Ontario and Prairie extras and firsts gained ½c to 1c at 24c and 23c a dozen, while seconds were ½c higher at 19c a dozen. British Columbia extras and firsts were ½c to 1c higher at 25c and 23c a dozen, respectively, while seconds gained ½c at 20c a dozen. To retailers fresh seconds lost 1c at 20c to 21c a dozen, other grades being quoted unchanged. Receipts were 1,126 cases.

Colored cheese lost ¼c at 12c to 12½c and for the first time in several weeks winter white was traded in, being quoted at 10½c to 11c. Receipts were only three boxes.

Regraded and fresh No. 1 finest pasteurized grass butter was unchanged at 31¾c to 32c a pound, and to retailers solids were quoted at 34c and prints at 35c a pound. Receipts were 750 boxes.

New Brunswick Green Mountain potatoes in car-lots were unchanged at 90c per 80-pound bag and to retailers $1 per 80-pound bag.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 9. — Wheat traders marked time again yesterday in another featureless session which came to a close with values ¼c to ½c higher than Tuesday.

May wheat closed at 57⅛c, up ¼c; July closed at 59¼c, up ⅜c; while October rose an even ½c to close at 61¼c.

Holders offered very sparingly and this restricted the volume of pit trading. There was little early selling through commission houses, but oerings were absorbed by seaboard houses. Trading throughout was draggy and dull in the extreme.

Cash wheat demand was moderately good and spreads of certain of the grades improved ¼c to ¾c from Tuesday. Barley featured in coarse grain activities, probably more than half a million bushels being traded for shipment with the United Kingdom. Prices in the futures reflected the broader foreign demand.

PLACE MOVIES AHEAD OF ART

All But Five of 308 Students Questioned Spent Several Hours in Theatres.

IGNORE MUSEUMS

NEW YORK, April 9.—The average Columbia College students so far as his recreational hours are concerned, might as well be in some cross-roads hamlet attending its cinema place as in New York city with its many educational and cultural advantages, a survey of student interest, conducted by "The Columbia Spectator," student daily, disclosed yesterday.

Replies of 308 students to a questionnaire showed that despite the carefully prepared program of compulsory lectures designed to orient the student to New York, Columbia men virtually ignored the opera, art museums and libraries, and were even more disinterested in the campus literary and dramatic organizations.

All but five of the 308 confessed to passing several hours each week in one of the neighborhood motion picture theatres, although less than one-half ever attended the programs of the Institute of Arts and Sciences; only 52 had ever viewed productions of the Columbia experimental dramatic organizations, and seven never had heard of the latter organizations. In contrast, 306 out of the 308 had attended the big Broadway motion picture theatres.

More than 100 of the students never had been inside the New York Public Library or the Metropolitan Museum of Art, although visits to the museum are prescribed in courses in the fine arts. About one-half never had visited the American Museum of Natural History. About one-third of the men said that they had attended one performance of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and about 150 indicated occasional attendance at symphonic concerts. Only 25 students ever had heard of the Morgan library.

"GOOD to the LAST DROP"

In 1 lb. and ½ lb. tins

NOWHERE did Southern hospitality reach a higher peak than at the old Maxwell House in Nashville, Tennessee. Citizens of the Old South enjoyed its food and, above all, a marvellously blended coffee originated by a Southern gentleman, an expert in coffee.

A fine coffee—a rich coffee—so good that Dixie's sons and daughters quickly made it their favourite. Now, in more modern times, Maxwell House Coffee is everywhere preferred.

Canada Hears the News

The fame of Maxwell House Coffee spread to Canada. Next came insistent demand. Today Maxwell House is Canada's favourite coffee—roasted and packed here. You may get it in vacuum-packed tins ensuring the same freshness as if it had just been ground. Your grocer has Maxwell House in the blue tin.

Fresh—Always Fresh

Coffee cannot be fresher than Maxwell House because vacuum packing protects its rich fragrance and flavour. A newly opened tin is just as fresh as it was when it left the grinder, and the lid sits tight so that it keeps better after you open it.

Under the auspices of the Major Bennett Chapter I.O.D.E., a very jolly and successful Easter week dance was held last night in the hall of the Conservatory of Music, with an attendance of about one hundred and seventy-five young people. Excellent music was provided by Mowry-Steer and their Silver Collegians. Arrangements for the dance and for supper were in charge of an energetic committee from the Chapter, headed by the regent, Miss Evelyn Armstrong. Patronesses were Mrs. George A. Macdonald, Mrs. E. H. Wood, Mrs. George W. Armstrong, Mrs. R. H. Parsons, Mrs. C. H. Rogers, Mrs. H. W. Morphet, Mrs. B. W. Harvey and Mrs. A. Weddell. The young people were indebted to the Canadian Department Stores for the brilliant lighting effects used, which added much to the effectiveness of the decoratice scheme which the yound ladies carried out with green and yellow fans over the entrances, purple silk basket shades over the electroliers, and modernistic screens on the stage, as a background for the orchestra, with designs of green, red and yellow on a black background. The windows, with their dark green curtains, were filled with a quantity of green ferns. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. D. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. A. Darling, Mr. and Mrs. James Matthews, the Misses Margaret Borbridge, Viola Harvey, Arleigh Comstock, Catherine Hodgens, Jeanette Allin, Helen Archambault, Hilda Sullivan, Doreen Sheehy, Jean Duffus, Mildred Morphet, Mary Seabrook, Dorothy Kelly, Evelyn Armstrong, Beryl Cheyne, Helen Banks, Ruth Chambers, Frances Jennings, Marion Hall, Isabel Reid, Doris Ackford, Dorothy Finnie, Marcelle McNulty, Viola Freeman, Dorothy Pogue, Mary Sedgewick, Berenice Martin, Geraldine Collins, Mary Curtis, Gwen Sorby, Margaret Rogers, Isabel Cragg, Mary Kirkwood, Mavis MacMillan, Patricia McClellan, Lillian McClellan, Peggy Roche, Isabel Weddell, Mary Macdonald, Grace Comstock, Helen Cole, Alma Mark, Mary White, Louise Hall, Jean Harvey, Dorothy Gavine, Helen Blanchard, Ethel Brownlie, Jean Ray, Betty Hopwood, Wanda Smith of Simcoe, Nancy Hopwood, Mary Grady, Armine McCarthy, Edith Culcheth, Velma Blackmore, Jennie Batten, Winnifred Batten, Pearl Thomas, Muriel Wilson, and Messrs. Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Recently I have noticed that housewives in homes which I have visited are not as particular in handling mechanical household equipment as they should be and yet they expect that it will give perfect satisfaction.

• • • • • • •

Of course this equipment must be used correctly before it will give satisfaction. Careless handling of wrong management will bring poor results, even if the equipment is not actually damaged.

• • • • • • •

To get the best out of each device, notice its response to your handling. You will find out many little ways for yourself that will be helpful apart from the directions for using any special thing.

• • • • • • •

A vacuum cleaner, for example, can be so run that it is easy or hard on fabric floor coverings. This is particularly noticeable when rugs are fine Oriental or other handmade textiles.

• • • • • • •

In sweeping every expert housewife knows that rugs should be swept with the nap, not against it. But many of these homemakers will run a vacuum cleaner any way over the rug.

• • • • • • •

Run the cleaner either with the nap or across it, not against it. You will notice that the rug will appear darker in places and the surface will not be smooth and even when the cleaner is run against the nap.

• • • • • • •

Carpets minus naps, or with vertical pile do not require such particular handling.

• • • • • • •

Hooked rugs, I am told, should not be cleaned with a vacuum cleaner. In these floor coverings no stitchery holds the loop in place. It is the pressure of one stitch against the other, plus the pressure of the strands of the textile weave through which strands are forced, that hold the loops or the cut pile firmly.

• • • • • • •

The suction of a vacuum cleaner will draw out of the dust and dirt excellently, but it also pulls the strands. These rugs are peculiarly fashioned and must be specially handled.

• • • • • • •

When running a vacuum cleaner be on the alert to spy and needle, pin, tack, hair pin or bit of wire. It does a vacuum cleaner no good to such up such things which may at some time work through the bag and make tiny prick points in it.

• • • • • • •

Be sure to see that the brush is kept cleared of hair, threads, or shreds of any sort that naturally get entwined about it when the cleaner is used. Be careful, too, to empty the bag often. Such a cleaner will serve you well if you use it and care for it adequately.

"THESE HARD TIMES"

"The hard times and scarcity of money makes it more important than ever to economize. One way I save on clothes is by renewing the color of faded or out-of-style dresses, coats, stockings, and underwear. For dyeing, or tinting, I always use Diamond Dyes. They are the most economical ones by far because they never fail to produce results that make you proud. Why, things look better than new when redyed with Diamond Dyes. They never spot, streak, or run. They go on smoothly and evenly, when in the hands of even a ten year old child. Another thing, Diamond Dyes never take the life out of cloth or leave it limp as some dyes do. They deserve to be called "the world's finest dayes!"

Little Girl Saves Her Dog From Train

People in the downtown section of Port Hope yesterday watched with bated breath, the approach of the one o'clock passenger train, for right in the middle of the track stood a large Newfoundland dog, apparently not heeding the warning blasts of the train.

Perhaps onlookers thought the dog would move off the track and did not attempt to rescue it but its little mistress, knowing the danger her dog was in, suddenly rushed out to the track and succeeded in getting her dog out of the way of the approaching train.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

CAUSE OF THE LAZY FEELING.

A physician met an old axquaintance who remarked that he was beginning to feel lazy. "I notice that I am satisfied at times to be doing nothing at all—neither physical or mental work," he said. Although past fifty, he had kept his body in pretty fair condition, but as he had been a mile runner the physician asked him if he still did any running. "No. I kept doing a little slow running until about two or three years ago and somehow or other I simply stopped it." The physician suggested that had he kept up his slow jogging or running he would likely have been free of his laziness as the liver was not getting squeezed much since he stopped running; that the jogging or running "shook" the liver and hastened its circulation, and the deep breathing that would be necessary when he did his running would press the floor of the chest down so far that it would squeeze the liver. The physician reminded him that the reason so many Britishers were able to keep alert mentally and physically was because they rode daily, and the movement of riding a horse kept their liver well stirred up. "Yes," said the acquaintance, "I was in England two years ago, and I met elderly men, one over 90 years of age, who rode regularly with the hounds." And this is really the secret of why so many of these men can eat such hearty meals and continue healthy and strong until well past the alloted three score years and ten.

In the days of the high corset there were four times as many women as men afflicted with gall stones, because the high tight corset prevented much movement of the liver in walking or moving about. The high tight corset prevented deep breathing and so the liver did not get squeezed much by the floor of the chest. Since the high tight corset went out of use, the number of cases of gall stones in women is not any greater than in men,

When you remember that the liver is the largest organ in the body, that it has 25 per. cent. of all your blood within it practically all the time, that it has a number of jobs to do including the removal of poisons from the blood, you are not surprised that it is called the king of the organs.

And the first sign that it is not clearing out the poisons completely from the blood is that "lazy" feeling.

So keep your liver active by deep breathing, by bending exercises, by stationary running before your open window, or by brisk walks.

I Want Work

Letting thoughts go far astray,
Work is carce in every way,
Spend some money, get full of pep
By doing that we'll be happy yet.

Work is wanted every day,
We can't live without some pay;
Us working class have no show
Can you start something? don't say No!

No dear friends, am I out of place
We all belong to the Human race.
Now won't you try and do your best
Advertise your work, we'll do the rest.

Now is the time the work has to be done
To start nineteen hundred and thirty-one;
Don't say 'no work' for it can't be true
You look at your house, there's work to do.

I heard of a job and I went on the run,
She handed me a quarter that was not fun.
I worked five hours in the boiling sun,
I have to do that than go on the bum.

Now let us see you have a heart,
You and your money must sometime part.
You can't take it with you when you die,
Just answer this question the reason 'Why'?

Ashes to ashes and dust to dust,
Roll over you money so it won't us'.
Some poor people have only a crust
I hope work will open which surely must.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETS IN MARMORA

Ladies Complete Arrangements For Community Party—Splendid Program Given.

MARMORA, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence.).—The regular meeting of the Marmora Women's Institute was held at the Public Library on Tuesday evening with Mrs. (Dr.) D. Thomson as hostess.

The meeting opened with "The Maple Leaf," and Institute Ode, an attendance of twenty-eight being present. In the absence of Mrs. H. W. Sabine, Mrs. D. E Bell, first vice-president, occupied the chair. Roll call was: helpful hints for old and young. The final arrangements for the community card party which is being held on April 15th in the town hall were made.

The program committee, Mesdames Marett and Melville were responsible for another good program. Mrs. E. C. Prentice gave Current Events after which Mrs. C. A. Bleecker gave a paper and demonstration on handicraft. Mrs. R. Nayler followed with a reading, "Mrs. Brown's Useless Rag Bag." Miss G. Watt, R.N., of Deloro, then gave a talk on school inspection. Miss Watt asked the Institute if scales might be purchased for the weighing of children at school. A vote of thanks was accorded Miss Watt for her admirable talk. Mrs. H. R. Haacke then gave a humorous reading, "Our Baby." A contest "Things found in the Kitchen," resulted in three ties. The drawing for the prize went in favour of Mrs. Bleecker. The singing of the National Anthem and a delicious lunch wound up another splendid meeting.

MADOC W.M.S. MEETS.

Mrs. Harper and Miss M. Mackintosh Take the Lessons From the Study Book.

MADOC, April 9 (Examiner Correspondence.).—St. Peter's Women's Missionary Society held their April meeting at the home of Mrs. Hailstone, one week early on account of the Chatauqua program on their usual date. The meeting commenced with the singing of the hymn, "Come, sing of a wonderful love." The president, Mr. McCaffrey, led in prayer. The Scripture reading was prepared by Mrs. W. Mackintosh, and contained beautiful thoughts from the Gospels on Easter—the Risen Christ. After singing "Fight the good fight," the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Miss M. Mackintosh. Mrs John Hailstone, clothing convenor, and Mrs. E. West, secretary of welcome committee, reported money used for buying material for a poor family.

The lesson taken from the study book, "Ambassadors of Good Will," was given by Mrs. Harper and Miss M. Mackintosh. Mrs. Harper spoke upon the Gwalior mission. It was started by the late Dr. Wilkie in 1904, great Evangelistic work having been done since. Schools for boys and for girls, also hospitals have been erected. Miss Mackintosh spoke upon the Bhil Field stating that Dr. and Mrs. Buchanan were the first missionaries to go to this field; now they have splendid helpers, and gradually the jungle tribe is coming under the influence of these noble workers.

At the close of the lesson Mrs. E. West offered prayer on behalf of India. "The Morning Light is Breaking," was sung and the service closed with prayer by Mrs. Watson.

FAVORS FREE FUNCTIONING OF GOLD BASE

Barclay Bank Believes Stable Currency Depends Entirely on Recovery.

IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Proper functioning of the gold standard re-established by many foreign countries within the past few years will automatically occur with an improvement in the disturbed economic and political conditions under which many of the nations have been struggling, in the opinion of Barclay's Bank, an outstanding British institution, expressed in a recent bulletin.

The views held by the bank on the subject are particularly interesting at this time because of the general assumption that the gold standard forms one of the topics now being discussed at the "informal" conferences in this city between Montague Norman, governor of the Bank of England, and the heads of several of the nation's Federal Reserve banks.

Policies tentatively proposed in this connection in addition to possible solution of other problems affecting international trade, gold, etc., will undoubtedly be transmitted to high government officials by the British banker and his New York "host" on their visit to Washington early this week.

The little Breadwinner

THIS little chap of twelve, hawking papers in the midst of the city's maelstrom, his clothes in tatters, his eyes eager and shifty, his voice hoarse with shouting—can you see the tragedy of his life? He left school at ten to help earn bread for his mother and brothers.

Yet, Daddy had great hopes for him. Looking down at the wee baby face he had said: I'll give the lad a good start in life—a lift on to the first rung of the ladder."

That was eleven years ago. Daddy had not counted on dying, you see. But he did die—died at the wrong time before his plans had worked out. Injured Canadiens Ready For Tonights Battle

FAVOR CANUCKS TO BEAT HAWKS

Morenz, Lepine and Sylvio Mantha Will Play in Tonight's Game.

SERIES MAY GO LIMIT.

MONTREAL, April 9.—(CP)—"The Stanley Cup will be won and lost on Saturday night, and it will be a fight to the finish all the way. Canadiens are a great team. My men are in fine condition, and there is not an injury among the lot of them." These were the remarks of Manager Bill Tobin yesterday as he arrived with his sixteen players composing that aggregation in which team work has been raised to the highest degree, the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League.

"They are all set, and whichever team wins will deserve the credit. In my opinion, it will be a blanket finish with little to choose between the two," continued Tobin. Tomorrow night his team and that led by Cecil Hart, the Montreal Canadiens, National Hockey League champions and present holders of the Stanley Cup, will clash in the third game of their evenly fought series for the historic, battered bit of silverware that for years has been the emblem of professional hockey supremacy of the world.

May Go Limit

The fourth game is scheduled for Saturday night and a fifth game, which may be necessary, despite Manager Tobin's prediction, is tentatively set for next Tuesday. Two games were played in Chicago last week-end, each team winning a match by a one-goal margin.

The Chicago outlook is bright, as far as condition goes, but that of the Flying Frenchmen also appears considerably more rosy. The entire team, including Leduc and Mondou, who went to the hospital after their series with Boston Bruins, were out at practice today and showed better physical condition than at any time since the second game of the Boston series. Leduc and Mondou are not expected to see much action tomorrow night, but may be serious contenders on Saturday night. Howie Morenz, Pete Lepine and Sylvio Mantha, who have been under the weather, appeared in better condition and will certainly start.

The Frenchmen, who are favored to retain possession of the Stanley Cup, have far more championship experience in their line-up and have the added advantage of playing on home ice with an adoring crowd of over 18,000 spurring them on.

The current series presents the first titular opportunity for the Hawks since their entry into big league hockey in the 1926-27 season. Tobin's men are fast and eager and have an able and experienced bench manager in Dick Irvin, veteran of years of hockey campaigning. Irvin is working out the principle of fast-changing lines which has become the trademark of the Hawks.

LOUGHRAN MATCHED AGAINST SHARKEY

Third Heavyweight Fight Crops Up to Aid Further Complications to Situation.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 9 (C. P.). — Fried and Fishman, Philadelphia promoters, announced to-day that Tommy Loughran, former world's light heavyweight champion, had accepted their terms to meet Jack Sharkey in a ten-round bout at the Municipal Stadium here on June 23.

Maurice Fishman, secretary-treasurer of the Arena Corporation, plans to go to Boston to-night to confer with Jack Sharkey and his manager, Johnny Buckley, concerning the proposed bout. He said Joe Smith, manager of Loughran, had accepted his offer by telephone from New York and that he was prepared to give Sharkey a substantial guarantee. He quoted Smith as saying that Loughran was anxious for another bout with the Boston Gob, and that he favored the Stadium as the site.

The Municipal Stadium, scene of the first Dempsey-Tunney championship battle, accommodates more than 100,000 persons. Fishman predicted that a Loughran-Sharkey match would fill it.

Ryder Players Watched With Interest By Fans

LONDON, April 9. (AP)—The 1931 British golf tournament season began to-day over a neat little suburban course at Roehampton club.

Seventy four professionals including all of the Ryder Cup team played a 36-hole qualifying test match in the annual Roehampton invitation meeting before and after noon.

Since only sixteen can enter the match play stages of the tournament to-morrow and Saturday, interest to-day centred on how members of the Ryder cup team fared and upon the showing of Henry Cotton, Ryder Cup team holdout and Aubrey Boomer, who has been ruled out as a candidate because he is attached to a French club.

AIDS BATTING PRACTICE

Must Appear on Ball Field Whether He Has Pitching Assignment or Not.

By JOHN KIERAN

A veteran baseball fan has sent in a communication which is, in the guise of a request for information, a shower of shot and shell at the Dazzy Vances, Herb Pennocks and George Earnshaws of the modern diamond era.

"Sir: When I was a young fellow we had in our city two pitchers on our professional or league team, and they alternated day after day. Further, there was no foul strike in those days and no base on balls. Scores generally ran up into double figures. Each of these pitchers, therefore, worked many times harder than the pitcher of to-day and never knew what it was to be relieved at any stage of the game. Yet they came through; they had to; and each took his turn pitching again after only one day of rest.

"Now then, of what is the pitcher of to-day made, in that after pitching nine innings he dare not be called upon to pitch again until after four or five days of rest, and if he is not going well in any inning he is taken out at once? Two pitchers to a club is quite different from the ten or twelve carried to-day through a short season. Is the wearying and interminable 'warming up' process responsible for the lack of stamina in the pitcher of to-day, or what is it? Curious."

A Long Story

Well, it's a long story. It's true that there were only two pitchers to a team in the antediluvian days of rule. There were no bases on balls and the batsman could call for a low ball or a high ball at his pleasure. It is true that there has been a great change.

But who made the changes and why? The smarter baseball players made the changes for the purpose of winning more ball games. At the same time it will be granted that in many cases it does seem that modern pitchers are coddled too much. Some of them might be better pitchers if they worked a little harder.

But most of the regulars work harder than some critics realize. After a pitcher works a nine-inning game he does not retire to his downy couch for three or four days of absolute rest before resuming his toil on the mound. Far from it.

Most managers dream of having an accident-proof four-ply pitching staff; four pitchers who can step up in turn and do a good day's work on the mound. Few managers have it, but to them it is the ideal pitching arrangement. That would give a pitcher three days of rest between his appearances on the mound.

The Days of Rest

Even that must appear to ordinary citizens and day laborers as something approaching the "life of Reilly." One day's work in four. Three-quarters of the baseball season a vacation for a fellow paid to play the game. But appearances are deceitful.

On the day after a pitcher has gone nine innings he is expected to show up in uniform as usual. As a rule he does no pitching, though he may toss a few to some catcher by way of light excercise. But he is expected to shag flies and also hit to the outfield in fielding practice. This isn't as laborious as carrying a piano up a circular staircase, but a fellow who puts his back into it can get plenty of work at hitting out flies or "spreading himself" in the outfield in pursuit of the same.

On the second day after his turn on the mound some pitchers will work in batting practice. The custom varies. Some pitchers like to work in batting practice the day before they are due to pitch in a regular game. Some want a day to intervene between their appearance in batting practice and their regular turn on the mound. Some husky specimens will pitch for two days in batting practice and then take the mound.

Concentrated Labor

Here it might be mentioned that in the old days when there were no bases on balls and no foul strikes, there was no batting practice worthy of the name. So the pitchers were spared that labor, and it is, without doubt, concentrated labor from a pitching standpoint. The strain is not on the head but the arm. In fifteen minutes of batting practice—and few practice pitchers last that long—a pitcher will throw the ball more often than in the average nine-inning game.

Just watch the pitchers who come in off the practice mound on any fairly warm day. They are "all in" temporarily, gasping for breath and bathed in perspiration. It's the hardest work, physically, done around any big league ball park. All pitchers take a turn at it as a rule.

Then there is what the veteran fan refers to as the "wearying and interminable warming-up," the exercise in the bull pen so that a replacement will be ready if the man on the mound begins to weaken or lose control. There have been afternoons where the ready relief pitcher in the bull pen did more pitching than the man who went through the game on the mound. But, of course, the mental strain in the actual game makes a great difference.

Summing Up for the Defense

Even so, with all the foot-pounds of energy computed and added together, it doesn't appear that the modern pitcher is worked as hard as the stevedore, the coal miner or the former political prisoners in the salt mines of Siberia. The modern magnates and managers are not intent upon paying their pitchers high wages for doing very little work. There must be some reasonable explanation—of the puzzle, some fact or theory that bridges the gap.

Perhaps the explanation is that baseball, like everything else, has gone scientific, has become specialized. Managers have become convinced that a pitcher, working every three days or four days or even every five days in some cases, is then sent to the mound at the peak of pitching conditions for modern service. He has been primed for this effort as an airplane motor has been tuned up for a hard flight. He is supposed to know the particular weakness of each batter. He is supposed to be able to put the ball where the catcher orders it. Here's just a small item. Control is everything in modern pitching. Control meant nothing in the old days when there were no bases on balls.

So it can be seen that the game has changed radically and if the prime pitchers aren't working every other day on the mound it isn't because they are softer or weaker than the heroes of old, but because the managers, veteran players themselves, believe that pitching reaches its greatest height under the modern method.

SHAWKEY HAS SIX PITCHERS ON 'CAT STAFF

With New Owner and New Manager, Promising Season Predicted for Jersey City Team.

OUTFIELDERS WEAK.

Mainstay of Reorganized International League Outfit is Classy Infield.

JERSEY CITY, N.J., April 9 (C.P.)—With a new owner, a new manager and the veteran Bob Shawkey, former Yankee manager, serving as pitching coach and ready to take a turn on the mound now and then, Jersey City is armed for a desperate attempt to climb out of the cellar and go some place in the International League.

Sam Colacurcio, at one time a bat boy for the team, realized his life's ambition, when he purchased the team this year. He immediately signed George "Specs" Torporcer of the Rochester Red Wings as manager and obtained Shawkey as coach.

The mainstay of the reorganized outfit is a classy infield but the outfield is an unsettled problem while much depends on the pitching staff of a few veterans flanked by a group of inexperienced youngsters.

Defensively the infield should not take a back seat to any quartet in the circuit. Bud Clancy, formerly of the Chicago White Sox and one of the finest fielding first sackers in baseball, will hold down first base. Torporcer will manager the team from second base, while Clarke Pettinger will manage the team from sec-Brown, known as "Poison Joe" to a majority of the International League teams, will play third base. Grant Gillis, the former University of Alabama football star, who was put out of the second base job by signing of Torporcer, will be carried as a utility infielder.

Max West and George Selkirk of last year's club, seem to have two of the outfield jobs sewed up, while Manager Torporcer is looking toward the Yankees for a hard-hitting centre fielder to round out the regular trio. If the Yankees fail to come through either "Chink" Outen or "Pep" Young are slated to get the job.

Six Starting Pitchers

The big "if" of the team, however, centres around the mound staff. Shawkey has taken the hurlers in hand and is expected to have six starting pitchers in shape by April 15. Berly Sonny Horne, who was with Jersey City in 1920 and more recently of the Chicago Cubs; Bot Nekokola, the boy wonder of Holy Cross; Kenner Craf, up from the Western League; John Pitts, a lanky southpaw; Joe Hartman, formerly with the Montreal Royals, and Bob Walsh, an erratic son of Big Ed., are expected to form the nucleus of the pitching staff.

For backstopping duties, the veteran Red Morrow and Young Maurice Walsh are available. Walsh led the Blue Ridge League in batting in 1929, his first year in organized baseball, and last year finished near the top of the Eastern League as a member of the Albany club. Efforts are being made to sign another catcher.

CLEVELAND CHOSEN AS BATTLE GROUND

Stribling-Schmeling Championship Bout Will Be Held Either on July 3rd or 4th.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 9.—(C. P.)—A flip of the pen was all that was needed today to give Cleveland iron-clad assurance of its selection as the site of the Max Schmeling-Young Stribling heavyweight championship bout.

It was understood a contract for the rental of the municipal stadium at a fee of $25,000 would be signed today by William Saxe, representing the Illinois Madison Square Garden Corporation, and George Bender, stadium manager. They worked out the details last night at a conference with City Manager Daniel E. Morgan and William F. Carey of the New York Madison Square Garden Corporation.

The 15-round go will be held either the night of July 3 or the afternoon of July 4. The date will be determined later and is expected to be formally announced next Wednesday at South Bend, Ind. where Schmeling is scheduled for an exhibition.

The contract as drawn provides that the promoters will pay all expenses above $12,500 in increasing the stadium's seat capacity from 80,000 to $120,000 and will split concession profits with the city.

MAPLE LEAFS FAIL TO HOLD LONG LEAD

Indianapolis Come From Behind to Beat Toronto Team 13 to 12.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 9. — Toronto appeared to have an easy victory over Indianapolis yesterday in the second game of the series here, but the Leafs eventually tossed the game away, although it required ten innings before the Indians could emerge with a 13-to-12 victory.

Going into the last half of the seventh inning the Leafs were leading by 10 to 3. Al Butzberger, the youthful southpw, had held the Indians to four hits over the first six frames. One of these, the first, was a homer by Clyde Barnhart over the left-field fence in the second inning. The two additional Indianapolis runs that came in that frame were donated by Art McHenry, who made a two-base muff on what should have been the third put-out.

New clubs established in Ontario include those at St. Thomas, Woodstock, Simcoe, Brampton, Georgetown, Dundas, Caledonia, Welland, Ridgeway, and North Toronto.

MANAGER BILL WORRYING.

Uncle Robby is puzzled. After spending most of the spring at Macon, Ga. deciding which of the players on his squad he wanted to keep, he sent the surplus to Hartford, Brooklyn's Easter league farm. Then the youngsters turned around and beat the Robins twice in four games and now he's not sure his decisions were right. After Earl Mattingly held the big league sluggers to two hits yesterday the Brooklyn manager said he probably would take him back with the Robins.

The Red Sox play the windup game of the trip at Columbus, O., to-day and Lefty Brillheart is scheduled to pitch. Manager Shono Collins says that he is going to let Lefty go as far as he can in hope that the southpaw will settle down to some good control. Unless Brillheart does develop something the Sox will have to start the season with no strong southpaw on deck except for batting practice.

The Braves arrived at Baltimore, Md., to-day to play the Orioles, the last exhibition game before meeting the Red Sox in Boston Saturday. Manager Bill McKechnie is still trying to win a ball game. When his hitters come through his moundsmen go sour. When the fielding's good the hitting's off tune. And while Manager Bill is worrying about winning a game for a change, Earl Sheely and Johnny Beun are having a little private battle over the first base job.

MORE ENTRIES ARE EXPECTED

Four Teams in Each Division Will Round City Baseball League Schedule.

NOMINATION LIST.

The City Baseball League met at Duffus' last night and, as is becoming customary, it was decided to postpone the elections of officers until April 21st, when a more satisfactory gathering is present. This is the second meeting of this league that has had to be called off.

While there was a fair number out last night, most of last year's officers were pointedly absent, and the persons present refused to consider any office. Such being the case, it was generally agreed upon to enter several names for each position and vote on them at the next meeting, seeing that each nominee was present at the meeting.

A number of teams were entered in the different divisions, and it was found that in the junior group there was only one entry to date, that of Jack Deannard's Kiwanis. In the juvenile division, Ches. Mowry entered his Rotary outfit, and Pat Calladine his Maple Leafs. Pat also has a Maple Leaf bantam aggregation lined up again this year, and Jack Deannard will manage a Kiwanis bantam team.

There should be little difficulty in having four teams entered in the junior, the juvenile and the bantam classes. By the time the next meeting is called, several other prospective entries are expected to be in the field.

Some of the names put up for nomination were: President, Tommy Holyman, Doc Long and Mike O'Brien; first vice-president, Doc Honey, Art Moffat, H. Dinsdale, J. Poolman and E. Hollingsworth; secretary-treasurer, Frank Neary, Cliff Cadd and "Shock" Mein; executive, Bill Prindible, Ches Mowry, Pat Calladine and Len Foster.

The next meeting is called for Tuesday, April 21st, and at this time, final entries will be made, and the election of officers will take place. As nothing further could be done last night, the meeting was adjourned.

HORNER LISTED IN LOCAL BOUTS

Toronto Central "Y" Champions Will Take Part in Boxing Tournament.

TO-MORROW EVENING.

The two Toronto boxers who will take part in the tournament here at the Armouries Friday night are Cy Horner, welterweight, and "Red" Springer, lightweight. Both are champions of their classes at the Central "Y" in Toronto. If they win their bouts here, the pair will take part in the trials for the provincial titles which take place next week in Toronto, and if successful there they'll go to the finals in London the last of this month.

Len Post, hardhitting 145-pounder from here will meet Horner in one of the headliners Friday night. The latter boxer is fast and clever but is not an exceptionally hard puncher. Reg. Lesurf, fast and tricky local lightweight is matched with Springer who is both fast and packs a mighty wallop in both hands. They will wind up the boxing card.

Garwood, boxing instructor, says that should the Peterborough boys win they will be given a chance to take part in the trials and Ontario finals.

The bouts begin at eight o'clock to-morrow night, and all the local scrappers are requested to be at the Armouries at half past seven.

ORILLIA CURLER PASSES AWAY

J. E. Hinds Was Former President of Ontario Lacrosse Association.

AFTER SHORT ILLNESS.

ORILLIA, April 9.—J. E. Hinds, one-time president of the Ontario Ameateur Lacrosse Association and prominent curler, died at his home here yesterday in his 50th year, after a month's illness. Mr. Hinds was known province-wide as a sportsman and follower of sport, and his death comes as a surprise to his many friends. "Eddie" Hinds was the foremost defence player on the Orillia lacrosse team that won the Ontario intermediate championship in 1904 and were runners-up on several occasions. As a curler he was popularly characterized as "the mighty champion of bonspiels" and had followed the game with keenest interest since boyhood. For 25 years he was a member of the Orillia Tankard rink, and this year successfully captured the coveted Burden Trophy. He was past president of the Orillia Curling Club and a member of the Kiwanis Club. Horse racing was also a pastime of this premier sportsman, and many were the ribbons that trotters from his stable brought home.

In 1906 he was married to Miss Lulu Boyle of Orillia, and since then, though taking a keen interest in all sports, curling and his business of manufacturing aerated waters had occupied his time. Besides his wife he leaves two sons, Edawrd A. and John F., of Orillia; and six brothers, M. C., of Toronto; Ambrose, of Guysboro, N.S., and Lionel, John J., Joseph and Dr Frank, of Orillia.

CASUAL COMMENT

Lot of boxing chatter around town these days. That show at the Armouries Friday night should be a sell-out. Its been quite a while since a good pug has been imported here to take on a local scrapper. Well, there will be six from Lindsay and two from Toronto on this card.

* * * * * * *

Some fifty followers of the sour science are coming down with the Lindsay leather-pushers so those boys will have plenty of vocal support. Other fans from this district are expected to be on hand for the scraps too. Still, there should be lots of seats around in a place as big as the Armouries. There'll be a small section of reserved seats and the rest are rush.

* * * * * * *

Oshawa sporting organizations are slow in getting lined up for the summer, and there has been no announcement yet as to what the Motor City will be doing in baseball. But they'll likely have an entry in the C.O.B.L. anyway.

* * * * * * *

Belleville and Peterborough are the only two towns who have definitely entered a senior team so far. Kingston, however, is "hot" and will likely line up again this summer.

Doug Frennan, the husky Havelock defenceman who plays for the Vancouver Lions, is still out of the game. So he wont take the ice against the Rangers who are playing the Lions in an exhibition series. And the big fellow will be missed out there.

* * * * * * *

Doug Brennan, the husky Havelock defenceman who plays for head he received from Bobby Connors, of Seattle, to go into battle again this season. That sure must have been a mean wallop he got.

* * * * * * *

The fine weather we've been having this week has brought the young ballplayers out on the streets again. And some of the sporting goods shops are featuring windows full of bats, balls, gloves and pads. Wonder if the fans are getting into shape again.

* * * * * * *

The Toronto delegates to the O.B.A.A. convention here evidently enjoyed it quite a bit. Lou LeBarr, who is in Toronto now, wrote to Bill Kay telling him that Bill Smith, Joe Walsh, and Jack Watson had been talking to him (Lou) since they got back.

* * * * * * *

They were all full of praise for the way they had been treated in the Lift Lock City, and said it was a most successful and enjoyable convention.

* * * * * * *

Life, for the City Baseball League, seems to be just one meeting after another. As for that saying concerning the early bird, it's the bunk. They just won't turn out to a City League meeting before the last week or so in April.

* * * * * * *

There's been two meetings called already, and what has been accomplished at them? The answer, in round numbers, is a big zero. And it isn't the fault of the old reliables who are always on hand. They just didn't have anything to work on, that's all. So there won't be another meeting until the 21st, which is a week and a half away.

* * * * * * *

Perhaps by that time, when the most pessimistic of those interested in the game are finally and fully convinced that it's really spring, then maybe they'll help get baseball started again.

* * * * * * *

At any rate, there has been a satisfactory number of promised entries so far. Just a few more in each division, and the league is ready to begin the race, and then there'll be no trouble getting an executive.

* * * * * * *

As Mike O'Brien said last night, there is the time for those who were kicking about the league officers last year, to make as much noise now and put in who they wanted. But they never do, that type.

STRIBLING PLAYS AT HOME, WAITING FOR HIS BIG CHANCE

Pride of South Has Not Yet Decided Just How He'll Fight Schmeling.

YOUNGSTER AT HEART.

MACON, Ga., April 9.—The wide commercial thoroughfare that skirts the main enthance of the Dempsey Hotel here was alive with traffic at noon when down the street came a roaring motorcycle weaving in and out and careening at dangerous angles. The muffler cutout was wide open and popping like a machine gun.

Astride this two-wheeled conveyance was a bare-headed figure garbed in sweater and khaki trousers.

Willie's Home Again

A sedate Macon citizen, parked in the sun in front of the Dempsey, did not even look as the motorcycle sputtered to a quick stop and the rider ,his pompadour waving in the chill breeze, dismounted and leaped over a traffic rope at the curb.

"I see" said the citizen, "that Willie Stribling is home again."

Macon is the home town of William Lawrence Stribling, who is about to engage Max Schmieling in a heavyweight championship fight and Macon is proud of him, although occasionally lifting a startled eyebrow at his pranks. For Willie Stribling is still a boy in many respects. He loves to go places fast and turn corners on two wheels.

Foy Boone runs the billiard room at the Dempsey. He is Stribling's pal and goes to see all his important fights. Mr. Boone was waiting for Willie on the hotel steps.

"I reckon" he said, "that Strib would ride a velocipede if he couldn't get a faster chariot. He certainly hates to walk. His plane cracked up last week and that's why he's reduced to a motorcycle for a few days. I'm glad of it.

"If he had the plane here now he'd keep after us to take a ride. Now, I believe in taking an airplane when somebody's sick or you've got to get somewhere right quick, but I don't care for joy rides.

"That motorcycle is just as risky the way he wheels it around. You know, Pa Stribling doesn't mind skyriding, but he is always after the boy to quit prancing around on that motorcycle. He gets throwed every now and then, and he might get his hands hurt."

Stribling came across the wide sidewalk and hailed his friend.

"Will, you'll break your fool neck some day if you don't quit skiddin' around on that thing" chided Boone.

The pride of the South laughed.

"Foy, you're just naturally nervous" he said. "How can anybody get hurt on one of them things? They kain't go fast enough."

In a few minutes the restless Stribling again bestrode his iron steed and cracked away. A little later he arrived at the ball park in a cloud of dust and went in to sit in the Brooklyn dugout and fan with Uncle Wilbert Robinson.

Protection Is Given Hard-Up Manitobans

WINNIPEG, Man., April 9. (CP)—Protection against evictions from farm and city homes has been given hard-up Manitobans by the legislature. Legislation was rushed through the house given third reading as assembly rules were suspended and will be given royal assent by Lieutenant-Governor J. D. McGregor today.

Now the act to facilitate the adjustment of debts stands as protection to unemployed city men and penniless farmers against eviction from their homes.

Land-owners unable to meet their obligations will be given an opportunity under the act to pay off debts at a later date.

'PHAT' WILSON IS RETIRING AFTER 15 YEARS IN HOCKEY

Port Arthur Sailors Defenseman One of Best Known Figures in the Game.

COUPLED WITH L'HEUREUX

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., April 9 (By Canadian Press).—"Old Man River," of Canada's amateur hockey has ceased to roll along. Jovial "Phat" Wilson, best known ice star outside of pro ranks, is retiring from his defence post for Port Arthur Sailors after 15 title-dotted years in the senior game. He announced to-day that he had ended his active hockey career, after two valiant but vain attempts to bring the lakehead city a fourth Dominion title.

Next season, broad shouldered "Phat" will be toiling as industriously to set Port Arthur even farther in the van of Canada's cities as an Allan cup winner but he will do his work from the bench. He is to succeed to the managerial mantle worn for the last two seasons by crafty Al Pudas, ex-pro, who played with "Phat" on the Ports' first titled team in 1925.

Only one man in Canada can say with "Phat" that he has played on three Allan cup teams, and that man has hung up his skates these last two years. He is old Wilf L'Heureux, Port Arthur banker, known in his palmy days as the "Old Fox." Only Wilf and "Phat" sipped hard-won champagne from the Allan cup in 1925, 1926 and 1929—Port Arthur's reigning years—and no other team has taken a trio of titles.

Foung Going Hard.

When the "Old Fox" passed out of the stick-handling, body-checking playdown panorama in 1929, "Phat" persevered in his struggle toward yet unattained heights. But he found the going hard. Last year, his sturdy heart bordered on the breaking when the Ports were crushed by Montreal Amateur Athletic Association in the national finals. This season, the Lake-head Sailors fought to the Thunder Bay title but bowed to Jack Hughes' Winnipegs in the playdowns.

So "Phat" retired. Though he could still trade bumps with the huskiest, or hurdle a hardy way through the finest foes, he said: "I don't feel the way I used to. I haven't the same old vigor. I guess I'm slipping back." At the same time, some of his opponents were muttering: "Old 'Phat' is still in there—and can't he hit 'em! Won't he ever fall down on the job?"

A young forward of the Ports' last championship team—who has since made good in pro company—tells of the fighting spirit "Phat" insisted on instilling in his mates, especially since he became captain three years ago. At the opening of the cup final against St. Francois Xavier, "Phat" skated up to the ambitious lad and accused him bitterly of "lying down on the team."

Any tendency to play to the stands or to anger at rough play disappeared from the young forward's play as he strove to work off on the Quebec Saints his resentment at the captain's denunciation. The reproached player rose to his loftiest heights, scored enough goals to down the Saints, and won a handsome pro contract. Only a few days ago, "Phat" explained for the first time to his ex-mate that he had "razzed" him because he knew he played his best hockey when he was mad.

No other hockeyist in Canada has seen so many of his mates snapped up by the moneyed magnates—and still spurned continued pro offers to stay in the old home town. Only in 1921-22 did the lad who was christened Gordon Wilson venture to the less familiar haunts of Iroquois Falls. Born back in '95 at the lake-head, he learned his hockey on the frozen surfaces of Thunder Bay and had broken into the hard-boiled senior hockey of the good old days.

His first senior game was with the old Columbus club septette, according to the recollections of the veterans—for "Phat" does little reminiscing on his own account. After three years with the same team, "Phat" turned to the War Vets and then to the rugged Northends. Then came his sortee to Iroquois Falls only to return to his hill city home, never more to roam.

Since the pro bosses began culling the best of the amateurs, "Phat" has stayed on his job as electrician and watched his team mates flock to the glittering lure of the paid game. Lorne Chabot and Bill Brydge, Alex Gray and Bobby Connors and Al Pudas were the first to go—almost a full team of the 1925 titlists. Jimmy Creighton, Bud Jarvis, Cliff Barton passed on from the 1929 winners. And "Phat" stayed on the job.

It will be a new experience for Manager Gordon Wilson to play his hockey from the bench. But if he makes as good a mentor as he did a defenceman, one phase of his past will persist. He will continue to enjoy an occasional drop from the champagne-filled Port Arthur-won bowl of the late Sir Montagu Allan, and will still watch his comrades being snapped up by the star-seeking scouts of the pros.

BELASCO, CARTER QUARREL ENDS

Theatre Manager to Present His Former Star in Adopted German Play.

LOS ANGELES, Cal. April 9 (CP) David Belasco and Mrs. Leslie Carter have become reconciled and as proof of it she says he is to present her in an adapted German play in New York.

The break between the theatre manager and his star following her elopment with Lou Payne, excited national interest many years ago. Mrs. Carter, the daughter of an aristocratic southern family, had gone to Belasco after an unhappy marriage and divorce and asked him to give her a chance on the stage.

Together they succeeded. When she eloped, Belasco was furious. He refused to see her and they went their respective ways.

Mrs. Carter disclosed at her home here last night their professional relationship soon was to be resumed.

Something led to our communications with each other, she said. And he was good enough to say our quarrel was all his fault. We have been good friends two years or more.

The Chamber of Commerce is the only organization that is non-political, non-sectarian, in which men in every walk of life work for the common good and the welfare of all.

FRANK BOWNESS IS RE-ELECTED HEAD

Satisfactory Reports Read at Fifth Annual Meeting of Beaverbrook Golf Club.

Charter members of the Beavermeadow Golf Club held their fifth annual meeting at a banquet in the Empress Hotel last night. The secretary-treasurer, Robt. MacMoran gave a very satisfying report of the past year's activities mentioning many improvements which the membership have already enjoyed and also showing a considerable surplus financially. The president, in his remarks reviewed the progress of the club from its inception until the present time, when there are a large number enjoying golf at Beavermeadow. Considering the humble beginning those who are responsible for the constant growth, much credit is due.

Mr. Bowness was given an acclamation and will serve as president for his sixth term, as was also Mr. MacMoran as secretary-treasurer. Robt. Simmons is the new vice-president and Thos. Pitchford and P. G. Pirie were elected directors, all of whom form the executive. The two last named to also arrange competitions.

Much new equipment will be purchased this year to further improve upon playing conditions and it is thought on or about May 1st the course should be playable with May 24th set as the official opening.

A pleasant feature of the meeting was the presentation to Secretary MacMoran of a desk and mantle clock in consideration of his interest and endeavors on behalf of the club.

BASKETBALL SEMI-FINALS

WINNIPEG, Man., April 9. (CP)—Western Canada's basketball semi-final is to be played at Lethbridge, Alberta, Friday and Saturday—after a violent pre-series battle by telegraph and telephone between the semi-finalists, Winnipeg Toilers and Raymond Union Jacks. The series had originally been slated to be played on the cramped floor at Raymond.

MRS. W. R. MORRIS COMPLETES TERM

Peterborough Woman Presided at Meeting of Home and School Association.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED.

TORONTO, April 9—Mrs. W. R. Morris, of Peterborough, yesterday completed a notable term of office as President of the Ontario Federation of Home and School Clubs, when Mrs. R. S. McLaughlin of Oshawa was elected to the presidency at the afternoon session of the annual meeting which is being held this week in Victoria College.

Other officers elected were: Recording secretary, Mrs. John Lockhart of Woodstock; Vice-presidents, Mrs. S. W. Archibald of Seaforth, Mrs. J. F. Calvert of London, Mrs. W. H. Cudmore of Bronte, Mrs. G. H. Lightfoot of Stratford, Mrs. M. M. Murphy of Kingston, Mrs. H. W. Price of Toronto, and Mrs. W. R. Whiteside of Windsor.

Mrs. Morris occupied the chair for the day's program, which also included the annual reports of the officers, reception of new associations, and the report of the Constitution Committee.

Chancellor E. M. Wallace of Victoria College conducted the devotional exercises in the morning, and at the afternoon session a report of the Council Presidents was given.

Women must get the idea that the home extends beyond the four walls of the house that shelters them and their families, is the opinion of Mrs. A. B. Silcox, President of the Toronto Home and School Council, who gave a splendid talk on the place of civics in Home and School work yesterday afternoon.

PLOWING STARTS IN OTONABEE

Plowing has been started on some of the farms in Otonabee Township. The Spring work commenced on Monday, but is being confined to the higher land. One farmer living near Stewart's Corners told The Examiner to-day that he began turning up the furrows this week and found the soil quite dry.

This makes almost a record for early plowing in Peterborough County. The lack of rain, which has lasted since last July, is hastening the work.

The absence of rain is causing farmers much concern. In some districts wells have been dry for months and water must be drawn from the river for cattle.

Norway's whaling fleet reports that oil production this season was 40 per cent greater than a year ago.

LADIES PAY TRIBUTE TO MRS. JAS. STUBBS

George Street Ladies' Aid Holds Regular Monthly Meeting.

The April meeting of the Ladies' Aid of George Street United Church was held in the Board Room yesterday afternoon which was bright and cheerful with vases of red tulips and yellow daffodils. The president, Mrs. W. P. Hetherington, presided, and after opening exercises, the devotional part of the meeting was in charge of Mrs. E. E. Harvey, who gave a fine inspirational talk on Easter, referring to the meaning of the word as the goddess of the coming of spring, the coming of hope, joy, love, and everlasting life, the dawning of a new day for Christianity. Before concluding her remarks she paid a tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. James Stubbs, referring to the many excellent attributes of her character and what she had meant in the way of precept and example to the members of George Street congregation. Mrs. Stubbs' favorite hymn, "Take time to be holy" was then sung. Miss Florence Glenny sang a solo, accompanied by Miss Pearl Carruthers. Mrs. C. E. Smith and Mrs. B. Shortly moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Harvey, Miss Glenny, and Miss Carruthers. Excellent reports were submitted by the secretary, Mrs. G. C. Staples, and the treasurer, Mrs. S. Oke. Miss Mary Elliott, corresponding secretary, reported 15 letters written during the month and she read 12 letters of appreciation for flowers received. Several of the members present who had been remembered gave verbal thanks Mrs. J. M. Fanning, for the Social Committee, reported on entertaining the choir, and Miss Elliott read a letter from the choir secretary expressing their appreciation. Mrs. T. Mark reported for the Decorating Committee. Miss Morrow for the Flower Committee, and several of the group leaders, reported progress of their groups, having already held meetings and arranged for teas or concerts. It was decided that the Ladies' Aid take charge of the Sunday School service for Mother's Day, and each group leader was urged to invite the members of her group to attend the afternoon Mother's Day service.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 34 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

A year had passed since the two Swedes had been driven from the savage country where the Sheik held sway. That cruel chieftain had now been away a long time conducting a caravan of ivory and rubber far into the north. This interlude had been a happy and peaceful one for little Meriem. To-day she sat under a large tree, playing as usual and whispering confidences to the battered head of Geeka, her grotesque doll.

Not even the villainous old hag Mabunu came near to pinch or beat her. Alone in this part of the village, the child tended Geeka, so absorbed that she did not note the gentle swaying of the branches of the tree above her as they bent to the body of the jungle creature creeping upon her—unblinking, unwavering. Through the jungle, an hour's march away, the Sheik was returning homeward.

A year had passed also for the boy and Akut, the ape, since these same white men had fired upon them. For months they wandered deeper and deeper into the jungle. The year had done much for the youth. His mighty muscles were developed and he had become a creature of marvelous physical powers and mental cunning. So great was his strength that the powerful anthropoid, with whom he often engaged in mimic battle, was no longer a match for him.

Akut taught him to fight as the bull ape fights, nor was there ever a better pupil. As the two sought the almost extinct species of the ape to which Akut belonged, they lived upon the best the jungle afforded. Their search for the elusive anthropoids who were to welcome them with open arms was at last rewarded. Deep in the jungle, buried far from the sight of men, one evening at a great distance they heard the beating of the drum of the great apes.

FLIGHT RECORD TO AUSTRALIA BROKEN

CHARLES SCOTT BETTERS MARK OVER 19 HOURS

Former R.A.F. Flier Covers 11,000 Miles in 9 Days, 3 Hours, 20 Minutes.

FLEW GYPSY MOTH.

Laurels For Hazardous Trip From England Formerly Held By Kingsford Smith.

PORT DARWIN, North Australia, Apr. 10. (AP)—Charles W. A. Scott, swooping down upon the airfield here from a flight over the turbulent Timor Sea, set a new record for a flight between England and Australia.

Landing at 5:50 p.m., (8:20 a.m., G.M.T., and 3:20 a.m., E.S.T.) he concluded in 9 days 3 hours 20 minutes a trip of about 11,000 miles over the plains, mountains, and forests of Eurasia and the Malay Archipelago.

Over 19 Hours Better

His mark is better by 19 hours and 40 minutes than the former record established by Wing Commander Charles Kingsford Smith, hero of both Pacific and Atlantic flights, last October 20. Kingsford Smith's time was 9 days 23 hours, a mark which was five and one half days better than the previous record.

Scott, whose full name is Charles William Anderson Scott, and who is a former Royal Air Force officer, left Lympne airdrome, England at 5:00 a.m., (midnight E.S.T.) Wednesday, April 1, flying by way of Belgrade, Aleppo, Bushire, Karachi, Rangoon, and Surabaya.

The last stage of his flight was from Sourabaya, where he spent last night, to Bima, and after refueling, from Bima across the Timor Sea, one of the most dangerous stretches of ocean along the world's air lanes, to Port Darwin, the nearest inhabited point in Australia to the Asiatic mainland.

Scott flew a 120 horsepower Gypsy Moth plane with a cruising speed of 92 miles an hour and a top speed of 108 miles an hour. He installed four extra gas tanks so as to minimise the necessity for fuel.

Former Boxing Champion

Standing well over six feet with his shoes off, Scott was light heavyweight boxing champion of the R.A.F. while he served in that branch of the service. Since leaving the service he has been engaged in flying commercial airplanes throughout Australia.

Bert Hinkler two years ago set a fifteen day record for the England-Australia flight which held until last October when Kingsford Smith clipped five and one half days from his mark. Last May the girl flier, Miss Amy Johnston, attempting to break Hinkler's record, ran into hard luck, but completed her flight in nineteen days.

Kingsford Smith encountered very bad weather on his trip, and was delayed at Atomboe, in the Dutch East Indies, in an attempt to aid his competitor for flight honors Flight Lieutenant C. W. Hill, who had cracked up his plane there.

NURSE'S PROTEST TAKEN TO COURT

SERVED WITH CANADIANS.

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 10—(CP)—Marie Averil Bland, a Canadian war nurse, now residing in New York city, vigorously protested to the Supreme Court to-day against the refusal of the government to admit her to citizenship unless she agreed to take up arms in its defense.

The appeal of the government to set aside an order of the Second Circuit Court of Appeals declaring her qualified for naturalization will shortly be reached in the Supreme Court for oral argument.

For nine months Miss Bland nursed shell-shocked United States soldiers at Brest France, immediately following the war. In her brief she declared she was willing to nurse wounded in the event of war, going to the front line if necessary, to give medical aid and attention, and insisted that her religious beliefs and convictions which forbade her to bear arms or kill any human being, even in war, did not disqualify her from becoming a good United States citizen.

She explained that unlike Rosika Schwimmer, who was denied citizenship by the Supreme Court, she had no intention or desire to attempt to influence others to become pacificists or religious objectors.

MODERATOR NOMINATED

BROCKVILLE, Ont. April 10.—(CP)—The presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew has nominated Rev. W. G. Brown, of Saskatoon, Sask, as moderator of the next general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

EVIDENCE GIVEN IN GASTLE TRIAL IS OBJECTED TO

Rumors Spread That Application May Be Made to Supreme Court.

FOUR WITNESSES CALLED.

Expect Hearing to Terminate Late To-day—Elliott Case Likely Be Adjourned.

BARRIE, Ont., April 10 (C.P.). — Rumors of an application to the Ontario Supreme Court at Toronto in regard to jurisdiction and objections to the admissibility of previous depositions as evidence, featured the resumption to-day of the preliminary hearing in the case of Gordon K. F. Gastle, charged with murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Hisey, of Midland, Ont., who was killed February 18, when her car plunged into a forebay at Niagara Falls, Ont. Gastle, who was driving the car, jumped as it left the road. The preliminary hearing in the case of R. J. Elliott, also charged with murder, is still to be held.

Would Rule Out Evidence.

Hugh Cleaver, counsel for Gastle, to-day asked Magistrate Compton Jeffs to rule out the inquest evidence given yesterday. He declared it was inadmissible and quoted authorities. Crown Attorney Evans pointed out no one was under arrest when the inquest evidence was given.

"A magistrate has a right to be wrong in his own court," said Magistrate Jeffs, quoting an authority. "We'll close this by saying the evidence will be admitted but the objection noted."

Richard Sloggett, Customs officer at Niagara Falls, was called as a witness. He said an automobile said to be owned by Robert J. Elliott, driven by Gastle and containing three persons, had passed over to the United States and the car returned on February 13. He produced the Customs record card.

C. J. Palmer, former owner of the Palmer House at Waubaushene, for the burning which last December 16, both Gastle and Elliott were committed several weeks ago at Midland on arson and conspiracy charges, was the second witness called. He related the story of purchasing the Palmer House in 1925, of securing two mortgages for $2,300 and $700 respectively from Thomas King, former husband of Mrs. Hisey, of Mrs. Hisey's foreclosure proceedings last fall, and the Palmers finally vacating the place in November. Mr. Cleaver objected to Mr. Palmer's evidence, contending it had nothing to do with the murder hearing.

Curry Bell, Waubaushene, who was the first to arrive on the scene the night of the fire told the story of the blaze.

"The fire appeared to be in back of house" he said. "I got up and went over. "Gastle was standing at the back of the house. He said he woke, found his room full of smoke, partly

A Problem for Solomon

Superior Court Judge Lester W. Roth of the United States was confronted with a knotty problem of a father asking the courts to prevent his son from becoming an ungainly giant, and a mother who doesn't care how large her son grows so long as he remains healthy and bright. The youth is Adolphe Edward Roome, Jr., who is only 14 years old, weighs 235 pounds, and is over six feet tall. He is shown with his mother in court as she appeared to fight the father's request that science be invoked to prohibit further growth of the youth.

PERCY TOWNSHIP AWAITS VERDICT OF DEPARTMENT

Austen Fellowes Supervising Engineer Visits Township Council.

RATEPAYERS DIVIDED.

Council Seeks to Have Road Superintendent Discharged.

WARKWORTH, April 10—(Special to The Examiner).—Percy township residents will await with keen interest the decision of the Department of Highways in regard to the retention of John McCubbin as township road superintendent.

Austin Fellowes, the department's supervising engineer in this district, conferred with the Township Council Tuesday at a meeting which was largely devoted to a discussion of Mr. McCubbin's qualifications and services. Because the Department pays half the salary of the road superintendent he cannot be removed without the consent of the Provincial highway authorities. It is understood that Mr. Fellowes in his conversation with the council intimated that he had no fault to find with Mr. McCubbin's work. He would present his confidential report to the Minister of Highways, and the Department's decision would be forwarded to the council probably within two weeks.

Former Reeve and Warden.

John McCubbin is a former reeve of Percy township, and was warden of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham in 1926. He was appointed road superintendent of the township three years ago, and it is understood that Mr. Fellowes pointed out that at the time of his

Toronto Jaywalker Being Frowned On

TORONTO, Ont., April 10. — (CP)—No longer will the jaywalker, a variety of bird common to all city streets, have his fling on Toronto pavements if the recommendation included today in a report of the Municipal Joint Traffic Committee to the Works Committees, is put into effect.

Alarmed at the number of citizens who cross the intersections against the command of red lights, the committee strongly recommends an enforcement of the by-law requiring pedestrians to obey traffic signals as vehicles now do.

The committee also urges that the police department be instructed to enforce the by-law restricting hard-tired trucks to a speed of fifteen miles an hour and pneumatic-tired trucks to 20 miles an hour.

MRS. ADA LEWIS TAKEN BY DEATH

Husband Was First Lord Bishop of Ontario and Metropolitan of Canada.

SET UP HOMES FOR GIRLS.

LONDON, April 10 (C.P. Cable).—The death of Mrs. Ada Travers Lewis, at the age of 91, to-day recalled a great churchman who spent the greater part of his life in Canada, and was the original mover in the establishment of the Lambeth Conference—Rt. Rev. John Travers Lewis, First Lord Bishop of Ontario and later Metropolitan of Canada.

Mrs. Lewis was as well known in her own right as Archbishop Lewis, whom she married in 1889. She was Ada Maria Leigh of Newton Grange, Manchester. There were no children by the marriage, though the Archbishop had six children by his first marriage with Annie Sherwood, daughter of Hon. Henry Sherwood, one-time Attorney-General of Canada. One of Mrs. Ada Lewis' stepchildren was John Travers Lewis, K.C., who was Chancellor of the Diocese of Ottawa.

Opened Home in 1861

Mrs. Lewis was educated in Germany and Paris. Her interest in an English shop girl attracted her attention to the opportunities for aiding young girls who were in poor circumstances, and she opened a Sunday home for British and American girls in 1861. Returning to her home, Newton Grange, she became Honorary Secretary to the Ladies' Relief Fund for women and children during the Lancashire cotton famine, when distress was acute.

In 1872 in Paris Mrs. Lewis opened an apartment on the Avenue Wagram, with a three-year lease, but long before that period she was enabled, by her own resources and with contributions from other who sympathized with her work, to purchase the entire building for $50,000 and establish it as a residence for girls. Other homes, one the gift of the late Mgr. Galigani at Neuilly Sur Seine, followed, and she built Christ Church, Neuilly, in which the Prince and Princess of Wales (Edward VII and Alexandra) laid a memorial stone on May 10, 1878.

Mrs. Lewis wrote a number of works on the difficulties confronting young girls and on the anomalies of the French marriage laws as affecting British subjects. She also wrote "A Life of Husband."

Her husband, a native of Ireland, went to Canada and spent the rest of his life there.

THREE VISITORS ELIMINATED IN QUARTER FINALS

Miss Nora Crossley Will Meet Miss Muriel Purk in Semi-finals.

FOR BADMINTON HONORS.

Miss M. Delage of Quebec Favored to Defeat Toronto Opponent.

TORONTO, Ont., April 10 (C.P.)—Three visiting players and one Toronto competitor were eliminated in the quarter-finals this morning of the fifth annual invitation badminton tournament played at the Toronto Granite Club.

Miss Nora Crossley, Oakville, who defeated an energetic and plucky opponent in Mrs. Cullen of Niagara Falls will meet Miss Muriel Purkis of the Granite Club in the semi-finals. The last-named played brilliantly to eliminate Miss M. Barrow, the Quebec champion. After being behind a game and 3-7 in the second, Miss Margaret Robertson of Ottawa staged a fighting comeback to beat Miss Helen Grant of St. Catharines. Miss Robertson had the narrowest of escapes and with a little more steadiness her opponent would have won. Miss Robertson's opponent in the semi-finals will be Miss M. Delage of Quebec who played brilliantly in defeating Miss M. Lamb of Toronto. Miss Delage is favored to win the event, but games will be close from now on.

The results follow:

Ladies' Singles—Quarter Finals

Miss M. Purkis, Granite, Toronto, defeated Miss M. Barrow, Quebec, 11—7, 11—3.

Miss M. Robertson, Ottawa, defeated Miss Helen Grant, St. Kitts, 10—13, 11—8.

Miss M. Delage, Quebec, defeated Miss M. Lamb, Toronto, 11—2, 11—6.

Homes Destroyed By Two Bad Fires Wind Aids Flames

Disastrous Fires Struck the Eastern Township of the Province of Quebec When Residences Were Destroyed in Two Small Villages Acton Vale and Coaticook.

ENTIRE VILLAGE OF ACTON VALE THREATENED EIGHT PROPERTIES WERE LEVELLED BY THE FIRE

Firemen From the Adjacent Towns and From the City of Montreal Rush to Villages—Buildings Were of Wood and Fell Ready Prey to Flames.

SHERBROOKE, Que., April 10 (C.P.). — Two disastrous fires struck the Eastern Townships to-day when four residences were destroyed at Coaticook, and sixteen houses burned at Acton Vale. A high wind rendered both fires exceptionally dangerous and both towns were threatened for a time.

—In Coaticook four homes were badly damaged in addition to those totally destroyed. The fire spread with startling rapidity from house to house when the wind carried burning embers high in the air and scattered them over the town. The Sherbrooke Fire Department was rushed to the scene and combined with the local force in bringing the flames under control.

In Acton Vale the fire got beyond control of the local force and assistance was sought from St. Hyacinthe. As was the case at Coaticoke the high wind spread the area of the conflagration.

ACTON VALE, Que., April 10 (C.P.) —The entire village of Acton Vale was threatened by destruction at noon to-day when eight properties had been levelled by fire that started at nine o'clock, and damage estimated at $100,000 had already resulted. Aid from adjacent towns and from the City of Montreal, 55 miles away, was being rushed to the scene, but the high wind was scattering the flames in all directions, and the situation remained desperate.

Help arrived from St. Hyacinthe, 25 miles away, but a call to Sherbrooke had to remain unanswered as the department from that town had gone to Coaticook earlier to aid in fighting a fire that destroyed several buildings there.

Acton Vale is a village of about 1,800 people and the majority of the buildings are of wood. They fell a ready prey to the flames.

TSUNDA'S STORY MAY GIVE CLUES TO MURDER RING

Vancouver Police Mum But Expect Startling Revelations to Arise.

JAPANESE CRITICALLY ILL.

Police Court Jammed as Trio Appear Charged With Killings.

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 10 (C.P.). — A statement made by Sam Pei Tsunda, Japanese, who is critically ill in hospital here, is expected to provide new clues for police investigation of the alleged Vancouver "murder syndicate."

Tsunda was a patient in the "hospital" operated on East Cordova Street by Shinkichi Sakurada, who with two other Japanese is charged with the axe-murder of Naskichi Watanabe, fisherman, who was slain on the railway tracks of Railway Avenue on March 30. Sakurada and his companions Bunshiro Fugino and T. Hitomi appeared in Police Court to-day on the murder charge and were remanded.

Police Mum.

Police refused to divulge contents of a statement taken by officers at Tsunda's bedside. They intimate, however, that startling revelations may arise from it.

Hundreds of Japanese men and women were at the police station to day to attend the hearing of the three charged with murder. When the main doors were opened there was a rush for the court, where the spectators' gallery seats only 100 persons. When the most aggressive had gained seats, police cleared the corridors and hallways of the overflow.

The alleged "murder syndicate" is believed to have been operating for the purpose of collecting insurance issued on its victims. Watanabe is said to have carried a policy in favor of Sakurada.

Riot Squad Routs Mob In Montreal

MONTREAL, Que., April 10 (C.P.) —A party of nearly two hundred idle men gathered about the excavation work of the new Canadian National Terminals this morning and gave police considerable trouble before they could be induced to disperse peacefully. The police had been advised that a demonstration had been planned for this morning, and a protective squad had been placed on duty. When the unemployed started gathering the police attempted to make them move on. The men refused and the riot squad was called. After an ultimatum from Inspector Bilodeau the men decided to break up and all disappeared quietly from the scene.

LISBON, Portugal, April 10.—(AP) —En route to the Azores, the steamer Lima was recalled by wireless by her owners today who said they had been informed that both Sao Miguel and Ponta Del Ada were in the hands of rebel forces.

Government officials, however, insisted that they had no information as to the spread of the revolt from the Madeira Islands to the Azores and were skeptical of the shipping company's information which they believed to be based on groundless rumors.

MACNIDER FLIES TO WASHINGTON

Waterway Project Rumored as Possible Reason For Sudden Trip.

ACCOMPANIED BY MANION.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 10 (C.P.).—Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Col. Hanford MacNider, United States Minister to Canada, are en route to Washington by aeroplane.

The Minister of Railways and Canals and Col. MacNider left this morning in an American Army plane, which had come to the capital to bring the United States Minister to Washington.

No official intimation of the purpose of the flying visit to Washington has been given, but the trip gives rise to an unconfirmed rumor that possibly some discussion may take place at the United States capitol on the St. Lawrence waterway project.

Dr. Manion and Col. MacNider will reach Washington before three o'clock this afternoon, although a heavy head-wind is prevailing. The two Ministers are expected back in Ottawa on Sunday or Monday.

A psychologist is to be appointed to advise teachers of Northumberland, England, in the grading of pupils.

TORONTO DEPUTATION IN OTTAWA WOULD ESTABLISH CIVIC AIR PORT

MAYOR LEADS GROUP.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 10 (C.P.).—Establishment of a civic airport in Toronto, Ont., was discussed here to-day by a deputation headed by Mayor William Stewart, which waited on officials of the Department of National Defence. A departmental expert will go to Toronto and advise the city on the site and other kindred subjects, and G. J. Desbarats, Deputy Minister, promised a Government grant not exceeding $10,000 to assist in the cost of installing beacon lights.

The Government also would establish a meteorological service at the port, would maintain customs and immigration officers, and install a teletype service for air mail.

Mayor Stewart said the city would be glad to have the advice of a departmental expert without prejudice to any decision it might make on its own behalf. Joseph Harris, M.P., will secure the information from the department and will forward it to the City Council. The negotiations will be continued with the assistance of the Toronto and York members.

A site somewhere in the northern section of the city is considered best by the Department of National Defence, J. A. Wilson, Controller of Civic Aviation, told the deputation.

VACCINE FOUND FOR RHEUMATISM

INJECTED IN BLOOD.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 10.—Dr. Benjamin J. Clawson, of the University of Minnesota Medical School, to-day announced he is experimenting with a vacine destined for treatment of rheumatism in human beings.

I have enjoyed marked success in experiments on animals suffering with rheumatic fever, the Medical School Professor said. By vaccination I have ascertained means of preventing its high incidence in animal life.

Hundreds of human patients, he said, have been given treatment although the vaccine will not be in general use until tests prove conclusively it is successful.

In making the vaccine, he take, the causative organism, which he has isolated from the blood of patients having acute and chronic arthritis, and instead of injecting the vaccine under the skin as is the usual practice, he injects it directly into the blood stream.

FARM BOARD FACES NEW BARRIER IN BUMPER WINTER WHEAT CROP

Extra 40,000,000 Bushels Nullifies Success in Getting 3 Per Cent. Cut in Acreage.

EMERGENCY LOOMS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 10. — (AP)—The Farm Board faced a new barrier today in its drive to reduce the surplus of domestic wheat.

Piled high in front of it was an estimated production of 64,000,000 bushels of winter wheat, 40,000,000 more than last year.

This bumper crop was seen as a nullifier of the board's success in in obtaining a 3 per cent reduction in total acreage planted, both winter and spring.

Should normal weather prevail and a normal yield be harvested the total 1931 production would be 86,000,000 as compared with 851,000,000 last year.

Such an indicated production possibly would create another emergency in view of expected large world carry-overs and only a slight reduction in world acreage exclusive of Russia which has said it would increase its plantings.

A relatively light winter, conducive to good growing, brought winter wheat to a high April 1 condition of 88.8 per cent of normal. The abandonment was only 4 per cent.

PALATKA, Fla., April 10 (C.P.) —Talk about beginner's luck, H. F. Underwood had it.

Underwood is a jeweller. He doesn't play golf. He thinks the game's too simple.

But when a committee from the Palatka Country Club offered him the duffers' handicap to play for the club trophy, he decided to give it a whirl.

He borrowed a set of clubs and waded right through all opposition to win the cup.

To make matters worse, he is the man who sold the trophy to the club.

FLIER HITS CAR WOMAN KILLED THREE INJURED

DRIVER STILL UNCONSCIOUS.

Building Blocks View of Track —Two Young Girls Have Miraculous Escape.

TORONTO, Ont., April 10. (CP)—One person is dead and three others seriously injured as a result of a level crossing accident at Weston, a suburb of Toronto, last night. Mrs. Sarah Watson, Weston, was almost instantly killed when a car driven by James Bowerbank, a boarder at Mrs. Watson's home, was struck by a fast travelling Canadian Pacific Railway train at the Jane Street level crossing.

The three persons injured are James Bowerbank, who lies in a critical condition in the Western Hospital, Edna Watson, 13, daughter of the dead woman, suffering from cuts and abrasions, and Margaret Usher, 12, who received minor cuts.

According to reports from the hospital this morning Bowerbank is still uconscious after spending a restless night, while the two girls both passed a fair night.

On Way To See Doctor

The automobile, with Bowerbank at the wheel and Mrs. Watson beside him was on the way to a doctor's office where Mrs. Watson was receiving treatment when the car turned south to cross the railway tracks. A coal yard at the corner of the crossing obscures a full view of the track and it is believed Bowerbank was ignorant of the train's approach until it was almost upon him.

According to two boys who witnessed the crash Bowerbank was traveling at not more than 15 miles an hour having slowed up at the crossing while both related they had plainly heard the train ring its bell and blow the whistle, before approaching the crossing. The lives of the two girls were saved by the reason of the fact they were sitting in the rear seat while the engine struck the front portion of the automobile.

CANADIAN ACE IS RETURNING HOME

Col. W. A. Bishop, V.C., Returns to Canada After Sojourn in Europe.

TO LIVE IN MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, April 10.—Col. W. A. Bishop, Canada's war time flying hero, Victoria Cross holder, and the chap who brought down more airplanes than any human being, is going to make Montreal his home.

This information comes from someone who can speak with authority on the flyer's movements, and the informant couples the name of Bishop with a well-known Canadian oil Company.

For the last 10 years the former Ontario boy has lived in Europe, where he was a familiar figure, not only in society, but at Le Toquet and other famous wintering resorts. Now he is coming home.

He will take up his residence in Montreal, and fly to his summer residence at Muskoka, a distance of almost a day by train, but less than three hours by place.

Japanese Royalty To Be Well Guarded

The first of the three demonstrations is scheduled at the pier as soon as the Prince and Princess land. The others are planned along the route uptown, one at City Hall and another at Union Square. Although police said they did not expect violence, two detectives of the radical squad were ordered to ride in the car with the Prince and the Princess.

HIGHLY PROTECTED COUNTRIES ARE SUFFERING MOST SAYS MACDONALD

Britain's Position is Favorable Declared Labor Prime Minister.

PROVIDE EMERGENCY WORK.

WOOLWICH, England, April 10 (C.P.).—"The public is increasingly realising that Great Britain, despite her very formidable difficulties, is weathering the world depression better than other highly industrialized countries," declared Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald in a letter of encouragement to George Hicks, Labor candidate in the East Woolwich by-election campaign, made public last night.

The Prime Minister asserted that "highly protected" Germany and the United States were suffering far more severely from unemployment than is Great Britain.

"There are only two alternatives before the country," said Premier MacDonald. "Either it wishes the Labor Government to go on with its work, or it wishes to restore to power the Conservatives it rejected after full experience of the Conservative policy in 1929.

"Efforts will be made to use economic difficulties for attacking the Government and supporting protection. Such efforts must collapse when they are brought up against the obvious facts of the situation.

"We are endeavoring to provide as much emergency work as possible, and already schemes to the value of more than 160 million pounds ($800,000,000) have been approved.

"Part of the act of union between the two Conservative sections which fought the by-election in the cockpit of St. George's is that the very food of the people should be taxed in order to bring national prosperity—by heaping new cares and worries on the back of the housewives. Woolwich is not to seek salvation by that rocky road.

"Our position in the House of Commons, and the hostility in the House of Lords, have prevented us from doing all that we would have wished in the last two years. But both at home and abroad we have done work of enduring value."

12 HYDRO LINES BEING PLANNED

TO MEET COMMISSION.

WHITBY, April 10.—Three resolutions expressing dissatisfaction with methods adopted by the Hydro-Electric Commission, were passed at a well-attended meeting of the farmers' Right of Way Association, held in the Brooklin Masonic Hall yesterday. The meeting was well attended and the claims will be strongly pressed when the executive committee meets with the Hydro Commission on April 15.

W. E. N. Sinclair, M.P.P., informed the members on the new legislation brought down at the last session of the House with regard to the Hydro Commission, which will affect the owners of land through which the Hydro will build in future. He stated that twelve lines of towers would in all probability pass between Whitby and Brooklin, supplying power to Toronto.

The resolutions state that the farmers are not willing to settle for their land with the Commission on the basis of the new legislation which leaves out the question of land value caused by the erection of Hydro towers.

WHEAT QUESTION HOLDS INTEREST

Formation of International Committee to Control Selling Suggested for Exporters.

QUOTAS SUGGESTED.

LONDON, April 10. (C. P. Cable)—Two schemes have been tentatively suggested for the conference of wheat exporting nations of the world, which is to meet here on May 18, the Times said editorially today. One is the formation of an International Wheat Committee to control the selling of wheat outside the country of origin; the other is an agreement on a schedule of quotas restricting the amount each country would be allowed to export.

There are difficulties about both schemes, and possibly they would have to be combined to produce effective results, the Times continued. Above and beyond the difficulty of reaching agreement on a concrete scheme, is the further difficulty of making sure that it will be loyally supported by all parties to it.

Discouraging

The history of international agreements to cure disastrous falls in the value of particular commodities by voluntary limitation of supply, is not very encouraging. In this particular case however there is such general recognition of the necessity for some remedial action that every effort will be made to find a successful scheme.

The conference, the chief delegates to which will be from Canada, Australia and Argentine, is an outgrowth of the World Wheat Conference at Rome at the end of March and is being called on the suggestion of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain. The conference will hold its sessions at Canada House under the chairmanship of Mr. Ferguson, charged with the task of reaching agreement on orderly marketing of the next wheat crop.

FOREIGN TRADE DROPS IN INDIA

Unprecedented Decrease of $650,000,000 Laid Largely to Gandhi Boycott.

MEANS TAX INCREASE.

NEW DELHI, April 10 (AP)—During the year ended Dec. 31, 1930 India lost nearly one fourth of her foreign trade, a loss which is regarded as a misfortune of the first magnitude necessitating a drastic increase in taxes and duties.

In the midst of the general world depression, the Gandhi boycott movement and the drastic fall in commodity prices accounted for an unprecedented drop during the year of about $650,000,000 in volume of trade, of which about $300,000,000 represents export losses.

The value of the country's total trade in 1930 was only slightly above that of 1913. Due largely to the Nationalist boycott movement India's imports of foreign piece goods decreased by 656,000,000 yards.

Jute exports, which normally constitute one fourth of the country's exports, declined during the year by $150,000,000.

PIONEER PASSES IN DODGE CITY

GUN TOTERS COWARDS.

DODGE CITY, Kas., April 10.—A woman who knew the wild west of Bill Hickok's day, mingled as a dance hall girl among its cowboys and gunmen and served as a rooming house proprietor, is dead.

Mrs. Annie Anderson, 84, whose recollections in many cases were based on actual experiences, succumbed to heart disease yesterday.

Mrs. Anderson hailed none of the Dodge City gun toters as brave. They were a bunch of cowards, she said.

As for the exploits of Bat Masterson, the Sheriff, in his famous fight on Main Street. He was standing behind a pile of steel rails at the railroad station shootin' back and forth with a man named Peacock, who was just as well protected behind the old log city jail. And none dared contradict her, for she would say, "I saw it."

Monarch's Bronchitis Rapidly Being Beaten

WINDSOR, England, April 10.—(A. P.)—The condition of the King, who has been ill with bronchitis for several days, continues to improve, it was officially stated at Windsor Castle this morning.

It was understood that His Majesty is still confined to his room and probably will remain there for several days more as a precautionary measure. There has been no decision as yet as to whether he will be able to go to Newmarket at the end of April for the race meeting there.

There was brilliant sunshine today and the weather was much like spring. Lord Dawson of Penn did not call, the first time this week that the King's chief physician failed to drive out from London to see the patient.

Witness is Paid For Time in Jail

HAILEYBURY, April 10.—Being a material witness in a murder case might almost be classed as a vocation in view of the experience here of Olli Panttila, a Finnish boshman.

Early last June, when a compatriot named Fukki was stabbed to death near here, Panttila was arrested by the Provincial Police as a material witness. He could not put up a $500 bond, so he was placed in jail. He has been there ever since.

Yesterday, during the trial of the alleged murderer, it was revealed that the Crown proposed to compensate Panttila for his detention. He was to be paid on a basis of $2.00 per day for the ten months—a total of approximately $600. He had already been paid $375, and the balance would be given him by the Attorney-General's Department, the Crown counsel informed the Court.

"Most extraordinary," 'murmured Mr. Justice Garrow.

373 RECEIVE AGE PENSIONS

About Six Thousand Dollars Spent Monthly in Victoria County.

MUSKRAT SEASON POOR.

LINDSAY, April 10 (Special to Examiner)—According to figures obtained at the county buildings, three hundred and seventy-three people are benefitting from or receiving old age pensions in this county. Some thirty of this number are in the House of Refuge. In February last the county paid out $1,200 as its share towards the Old Age Pension Fund. About $6,000 comes into the county monthly for pensions.

The army of muskrat trappers in this district report that few rats are being caught. It is reported that in some sections the water was so low that the rats were drowned in their homes. John Dixon, fur buyer, states that the catch will be small this year, with price per pelt below last year's figure.

According to a statement issued by the manager of the Lindsay Hydro Electric System, the Hydro line from Lindsay south will be extended a mile or so into the rural district and coupled up with a number of farms. It is understood that the system will continue from Omemee to Reaboro, thus giving farmers the advantage of electric light for power and domestic purposes.

SCHOOLS CLOSED IN NIAGARA FALLS

Officials Seek Desperately to Halt Spread of Dread Spotted Fever.

SIX CHILDREN VICTIMS.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., April 10—Niagara Falls Public Schools were closed to-day and will not reopen for at least two weeks, possibly longer. Action was taken by the Board of Educaton on recommendation of the Citiy Health Officer, who seeks to prevent spread of cerebro spinal meningitis, commonly called spotted fever.

Six deaths have occurred among school children and many other cases have been reported during the past week. The health officers say that normally 75 per cent. of spotted fever cases prove fatal.

An order also will be issued to-day closing all parochial schools. Parents have been advised to keep their children in the open air as much as possible and to avoid all crowds. All swimming pools frequented by children have benn closed and are being cleaned.

FARMER'S HOME IS LOST IN FIRE

Elziver Township Farmer Had Home Destroyed Late Yesterday Afternoon.

STARTED IN CHIMNEY.

QUEENSBORO, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence)—Fire which is believed to have originated in a defective chimney and which was well underway when discovered, at about four o'clock yesterday afternoon completely destroyed the dwelling house and contents of Octab Latonder farmer of Elziver Township, two miles east of here. The loss is estimated at $2,000, which is partly covered by insurance.

PERCY TOWNSHIP

appointment Mr. McCubbin was regarded as the most qualified man for the position. It was also stated that Mr. McCubbin is too old for the job. Mr. McCubbin is past the seventy mark, but to that criticism Mr. Fellowes remarked that the road superintendent was years younger than Reeve Baker, whose capability was recognized in his own municipality and also in the counties council.

Mr. Fellowes was requested to indicate the probable tenor of his report to the Department, but he declined to discuss that result of the conference with the council.

From all accounts the ratepayers are divided on this question which cropped up at the January election when last year's council was almost entirely wiped out at the polls. Those who advocate his removal have their supporters, and those who urge him ignore the agitation against also represent a considerable body of the ratepayers.

Council is Divided.

The division of the council is largely opposed to the present superintendent. Four of the five members, including the reeve, are in favor of demanding his resignation. They are Reeve Baker and Councillors Boyce, Merrill and Partridge, with Councillor Lamey inclined the other way.

The text of the anti-Cubbin petition which was submitted to the Minister of Highways was as follows: "We, the undersigned ratepayers of the township of Percy, believe that our township road superintendent, John McCubbin, is not efficient, economical or fitted by age or ability for the position. We desire an entire change of system to bring about more attention to saving roads from damage, more business-like and economical method of handling gangs and other up-to-date manner of doing public business. We ask you to be good enough to remove John McCubbin out of the way to leave the ground clear for many much-needed improvements."

Members of the council were presumably under the impression that the road superintendent could be removed by the council itself. But, he was appointed by by-law, and the provincial department must give its consent before any change can be made. Against the criticism of those who would remove Mr. McCubbin is the reported approval of the superintendent expressed by Mr. Fellowes. The strength of his opinion will be disclosed by the decision of the Department.

CAIRO, Egypt, April 10 (A.P.). — The Graf Zeppelin, en route to Egypt and Palestine from Freidrichshafen, neared the Egyptian border to-day after passing the Island of Malta at midnight.

It was necessary for Dr. Eckener to shift his course somewhat after passing Malta so that he could avoid unfavorable weather in the Southern Mediterranean.

The special correspondent of the Egyptian paper, Ahram, aboard the airship, said that present plans called for the dirigible to reach Alamaza airdrome, outside Cairo, at 5.30 a.m. Saturday, remain a half hour, depart for Palestine, and return to Almaza the day following. The ship will remain another half hour and then start for home, arriving there Monday.

Any time between April 11th and May 1st . . . the earlier the better . . . just drop into the nearest floor covering store displaying Dominion Inlaid Linoleum or Floor Coverings in its window and ask for a free Contest Book. The dealer will sign the back page of this book and hand it to you . . . thus making your entry official.

The book illustrates eight rooms in full colour excepting the floors, which are blank white space. In the back of the book you will find reproduced in full colour all the Dominion Inlaid Linoleum Patterns.

All you have to do is, study the patterns and select one for each room, marking the pattern numbers in space provided on the back page of the Contest Book; sign the page; tear it out and mail it to Contest Dept., Dominion Oilcloth & Linoleum Company Limited, Montreal on or before May 1st.

How the Contest will be Judged

The eight eminent interior decorators whose pictures are shown above, have each been assigned one room and have chosen a pattern for it. Their selections are deposited with The Royal Trust Company, Montreal. Each interior decorator is in complete ignorance of the other seven selections. In fact, the complete choice cannot be known until the eight selections are withdrawn from The Royal Trust Company on May 7th.

Your eight-room selection will then be compared with the combined secret selection of the eight interior decorators. Selections coming closest to the eight interior decorators will win the first prize. The other prizes will be awarded in order. In event of ties, the prizes will be divided. Winners will be announced on June 1st.

This contest is a TEST of TASTE. Study each room carefully. Consider the colouring of drapes and furniture. Consider the nature of the room itself. Then, decide which pattern you would like best on the floor.

Look for a store with a Dominion Inlaid Linoleum or Floor Covering window display. There you can enter this Contest and obtain contest books.

Wheat, which averaged more than a cent higher early in the day, suffered a last-hour slump, and closed but fractionally higher, ½c to ¾c above Wednesday's close. May finished the day at 58⅝c, July 59¾c to 59¾c, and October 61¾c.

Buying for foreign account constituted the main support, and generally offerings were well absorbed. Chicago interests were the sellers here ystrday.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Apr. 10. — Country cream shippers will benefit 1c per pound fat from the new range of prices decided on yesterday by the larger buyers. The new basis calls for 33c for special, 32c for No. 1, and 29c for No. 2, f.o.b. country points. The new levels will probably be the high point for some time as the butter market has shown a dullness during the past few days.

Butter

Local brokers reported little activity in butter yesterday and quoted prices slightly lower than previously for high-scoring offerings. Number 1 creamery solids were offered at 32c to 32¼ and No. 2 at 31c to 31¼c.

There was a fair trade in cheese, but receipts of new makes have been larger lately and prices have gradually declined. Yesterday brokers were quoting new large at 13¼c to 13¾c, twins at 13½c to 13¾c and triplets at 13¾s to 14c. Retailers were offered new makes at steady prices with the week's decreases, at 15c for new large, 15¼c for twins and 15½c for triplets.

Eggs

Prices for eggs were steady and receipts were clearing well, due to a good inquiry from Montreal. Local brokers were moving supplies to that city at 24c for extras and 22c for firsts, or 1c higher than the local quotation. This movement was viewed with favor by local dealers as likely to aid in maintaining a strong market here. Brokers were quoting graded eggs, in free cases, at 23c for extras, 21c for firsts and 18c for firsts and 16c for seconds, ungraded delivered, cases returned. Retailers were quoted extras in cartons at 26c per dozen, extras loose at 24c, firsts loose 22c and seconds loose 19½c.

Poultry

New poultry lists were issued yesterday and prices were steady to stronger. The only changes from the previous range were on fatted hens, prices on the various grades being 1c higher on live weight and 2c higher on dressed weight.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, April 10.—Prices were unchanged on the produce and dairy market here yesterday.

Cariot prices of Ontario and prairie fresh eggs were quoted at 24 cents for extras, 22 cents for firsts and 19 cents a dozen for seconds. British Columbia fresh extras, in carlots, were quoted at 25 cents, firsts at 23 cents and seconds at 20 cents a dozen. To retailers quotations were unchanged. Receipts were 1,256 cases.

On the butter market regraded and fresh No. 1 finest pasteurized was quoted at 31¾ to 32 cents a pound and to retailers solids were 34 cents and prints 35 cents a pound. Receipts were 392 boxes.

Colored cheese was quoted at 12 to 12½ cents and white at 10½ to 11 cents a pound. Receipts were 2 boxes.

New Brunswick Green Mountain potatoes, in carlots, were 90 cents per 80-pound bag and to retailers $1 per 80-pound bag.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 10.—(C.P.)—Hogs 1200; market not fully established; few bids and sales 10-15 under Wednesday's average; desirable 120-210 lbs. 8.25-8.50; 25-250 lbs. 7.90-8.15; bulk unsold.

Cattle 150; steady to weak; medium steers, 7.75-8.50; common to medium heifers, 7.00; cutter cows, 2.25-3.75.

Calves 600; vealers draggy; generally 50 lower; 10.00 down.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Big export buying of North American wheat, upward of 2,000,000 bushels, lifted grain prices to-day, but active profit-taking sales wiped out the advance. Moisture scarcity northwest and dust storms both north and south of the Canadian boundary had a noticeable bullish influence. An opposite factor was a correct surmise in various quarters that the Government crop report due after the close would prove bearish.

Compared with the average of latest private estimates, the Government report on domestic winter wheat condition indicated a yield of 25,000,000 bushels larger than expected.

Wheat closed firm, unchanged to ¼c higher; corn, unchanged to 3-8c to 1-2c up; oats, 1-8c to 3-8 advanced, and provisions unchanged to 5c off.

My nerves were bad, I was weak, had severe pains in my sides, my back ached and I was a nervous and physical wreck. After taking five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription my nerves were in good condition and I had fully regained my health and strength. Rust-Resistant Wheat Soon To Be Achieved

WINNIPEG Man., April 10—(C.P.)—Complete success in the development of rust-resistant varieties of wheat is not far off, reports presented at a meeting of the National Research Council, western section, showed. Within a short time scientists, working under direction of the Council and the Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture, will achieve a wheat for milling flour that entirely resists the rust ravage.

Thousands of wheat strains were produced last year by crossing non-bread wheat varieties, that are rust-resistant with bread wheats. A group of the new strains are being studied at the Dominion Research Laboratory at Ottawa.

Sufficient success has been met, according to the tabled report, that ultimate success in securing a non-rust variety of wheat can be spoken of with confidence.

KUNST ADDRESSES LOCAL ENGINEERS

Metal Enclosed Switchboards is Subject of Interesting Paper.

Bearing the hall-mark of careful preparation and a deep knowledge on the part of the lecturer of the subject under discussion, a paper entitled "Metal Enclosed Switchgear" was delivered before members of the local branch of The Engineering Institute of Canada in Paragon Hall last evening by P. Kunst, Jr.E.I.C. of the Switchboard Engineering Department of C.G.E. Company.

E. R. Shirley of the Switchboard Department was in the chair and introduced the speaker, also tendering him a vote of thanks at the conclusion of the lecture, which was moved by J. Cameron.

Mr. Kunst, whose paper dealt largely with the technical aspect of this branch of the electrical engineering profession, was followed closely by quite a large audience, composed mainly of employees of the C.G.E. and others engaged in electrical engineering.

He spoke on some of the latest developments in the design and construction of metal enclosed switchgear, including indoor and outdoor metal clad gear, truck type panels and breakers, indoor cubicles and outdoor switch houses.

The paper was fully illustrated by slides, and the lecturer had the assistance in the showing of them, of F. G. A. Tarr, S.E.I.C. the branch secretary.

One of the slides showed one of the first enclosed switchgear assembly equipments to be made at the local plant of the C.G.E., which was in strange contrast to those of the latest pattern which were also shown on the screen and described by the speaker.

U S STUDIES CASE OF JOSEPHINE K

State Department Sent Vigorous Defense of Guards' Actions by Treasury.

FINAL ACTION UNDECIDED.

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 10 (A.P.)—A vigorous defense of the Coastguard's use of forceful measures to capture the rum-laden Canadian schooner Josephine K. off New York harbor three months ago has been transmitted to the State Department by the Treasury.

Attorney-General Mitchell is expected to submit to the State Department within a day or two his opinion on legal aspects of the case. The opinion was asked by Secretary of State Stimson after the Canadian Government protested the seizures.

The Canadian Government contended the Josephine K. was outside the hour's sailing distance from shore within which treaty rights permit search and seizure of British vessels by United States authorities. It also held that the firing of a one-pound shell which killed the vessel's master, Captain William P. Cluett, constituted unwarranted force.

The Coastguard replied the vessel was within treaty distance from shore and that the force employed was necessary.

Upon the opinion of the 'Attorney General, however, the State Department will decide whether the United States officially will reply to Canada, defending the action.

The general belief here to-day is that should the United States defend the Coastguard's action, the case would be placed before an International Arbitration Commission for settlement. The case of the Canadian registered rum-runner I'm Alone, sunk in the Gulf of Mexico by a Coastguard vessel two years ago, is now up for arbitration as a result of a disagreement between the Washington and Canadian Governments over points similar to those in the Josephine K. incident.

WOULD BE FALSE ECONOMY.

It is to be hoped that the fears that are being expressed for the future of aviation in Canada because of the reported intention of the Government to materially slash the appropriations for the Royal Air Force, are without foundation.

The need of rigid economy on the part of the Federal Government is freely admitted; in general appropriations must be slashed to the bone if a huge deficit is to be avoided and heavy new taxation is to be escaped.

But economy that would render useless all the expenditure that has been made on aviation would be a decidedly expensive brand.

The air force has been developed into a most efficient condition; to stop now would simply mean losing all the ground that has been gained and leaves Canada as far behind the world in aviation as she is in the matter of naval defence.

Flying has been pushed ahead in this country on sane, sensible and non-spectacular lines, and in this progress the Royal Canadian Force has played a very material part.

To hamstring the efficiency of this force at the present time would be sheer waste rather than economy, for it would entail the tossing away of everything that has been gained.

DOMINION DAY.

The effort being made by the Mayor of London, Ont., to have Dominion Day fittingly observed in the Forest City this year is one that might well be copied by other municipalities.

Canada's birthday is, from a national viewpoint, the most significant of the year, and yet it is allowed to pass with nothing to impress upon the mind of the people, especially of the new generation and of the new citizens within our ranks, the historic importance of the occasion.

The topic is not a new one with The Examiner—it has been dealt with in these columns from time to time in other years, and it is likely that it will be heard of again until something like a proper appreciation of Dominion Day as a milestone in Canadian history has been arrived at.

The anniversary of the founding of the Dominion should be something more than a mere holiday, than a day off work—it should be devoted to ceremonies that would teach the lesson that the first of July has a deep significance and is of outstanding importance.

The celebration of Canada's Diamond Jubilee, it was hoped, would lead to a more fitting annual observance of Dominion Day, but unfortunately the hoped for reaction failed to develop, and we have drifted back to the old indifference and apathy in regard to the occasion.

CABINET CHANGES.

Rumors from Toronto of a probable shuffle in the Ontario Cabinet in the near future are apparently well founded, and the reported changes will undoubtedly be well received.

At the present time Premier George S. Henry is, in addition, holding two major portfolios, Highways and Education.

It is obviously impossible for him to direct the affairs of government and at the same time do justice to the two decidedly important departments over which he has been presiding.

Mr. Ferguson, it is true, managed to take care of the premiership and act as Minister of Education, while Premier Taschereau of Quebec is at present Attorney-General, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Provincial Treasurer, a four-in-one combination, and both statesmen seemed to thrive on the work.

But as a general thing the holding of dual Cabinet positions is not to be commended.

Premier Henry's burden will be lightened and the administration of provincial business facilitated by the handing over of the Education and Highway portfolios to others.

Hon. Leopold MacAulay, heralded as the new Minister of Education, is one of the new members of the Legislature who has in a short time made his mark.

His handling of affairs in the Provincial Secretary's department has been distinguished alike by sound judgment and quick decision, and a bright future for him as Minister of Education is predicted.

ONTARIO'S FOREST RESOURCES.

A booklet just issued by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests and prepared by J. F. Sharp, B.Sc.F., and J. A. Brodie, B.Sc.F., gives a wealth of interesting and timely information in regard to the forest resources of Ontario.

Each summer since 1919 the pamphlet explains by way of introduction systematic forest surveys that have been conducted by the Ontario Forestry Branch to secure a knowledge of the forest conditions and an inventory of the forest resources of the Province.

To date this work has covered 48 million acres.

Besides the results from these surveys information has been secured from forest inventories by pulp and paper companies covering another seven million acres, and more recently information has been obtained through Dominion topographical surveys on an area of thirteen million acres in the Kenora-Patricia portion of Ontario.

Under the various types of survey during the last ten years in all some 73 million acres of forest have been examined.

This total forms nearly two-thirds of the 116 million acres under organized protection from fire.

Since the various forest surveys have been distributed generally over the Province the information arising out of each has been applied to adjoining unexamined areas, the general character of which is known to be similar.

All this extensive field work has been used as a basis for the booklet, "The Forest Resources of Ontario," and the various forest areas are described under eight regions with a summary of the conditions and estimates of the remaining timber resources.

Chicago's new mayor will have trouble in making the front page as often as his predecessor used to do.

BENNETT-HERRIDGE.

Soon it will be all Herridge, though hotel bills will be for two.

There is no intention of spreading details, resembling an obituary notice, over these columns concerning the "life and letters" of these young people. Few people give a continental as to the appearance of these folk when they were kids and care very little as to how they have deported themselves in their march, so far, through life.

"Good, wholesome Canadians" is the most accurate description that can be applied to them, and what could be more apt or inspiring? In addition to being wholesome, dependable people, they know their way about, and the young lady, as companion and assistant to her brother, the Prime Minister, has accumulated a wealth of experience in public affairs. Washington society, official or other, will not be in a position to instruct her on the essentials or details of deportment. She knows.

If there be a lurking suspicion among the fair sex of Washington as to the snappiness and ability of the descendants of Eve resident in Canada to stand up and be counted in the forefront of society's advance guard, that suspicion will be quickly dispelled when the feminine half of Canada's representation trips into the spotlight.

Mr. Herridge has never been an ambassador. Neither has he ever before been engaged to a Prime Minister's sister. Experience is about to deluge but not overwhelm him.

Washington will be pleased with, and the Recorder and Times is convinced that Canada will be well served by, her representatives, shortly to take up residence in the United States.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

ROOSEVELT IS CLEVER.

Governor Roosevelt, of New York State, is one of the shrewdest men in public life in the United States to-day, and it is no wonder the Democratic party is squinting his way for the next presidential candidate. He is Governor of a State where the legislative bodies are Republican and, while apparently without seriously offending the Republican party, he has his own way in spite of the majority in the Legislature.

"Hell has no furies like a woman scorned," but the Republican party of New York State in this respect is not like a woman, because the Governor just goes on his way feeling confident that the Republicans of the State, as well as the Democrats, on general principles, will support him when election time comes. The Recorder and Times has been keeping tab on this gentleman for some years and it has come to the conclusion that in little things, as well as greater ones, he makes few political mis-steps.

He is not enamored of the idea of an international bridge across the St. Lawrence River, and the scheme he devised has up to date worked well. The bridge project for the moment, at least, is shelved for a number of years, and yet the shelving has been done in such a way as to permit every part of the State bordering on the St. Lawrence River to hope for a bridge. The Governor's commission peculiarly left out of its recommendations the only site for a bridge, for the construction of which, not so long ago, the cash was ready. It has named three other sites, one at the Thousand Islands, one between Prescott and Cardinal and one near Massena, but there is no idea of constructing a bridge at any of these sites, although each of these localities will be hoping that its particular site will get the prize. These projects might be rightly termed "suspension bridges," as they are in the air.

Governor Roosevelt has got a bigger program on hand than that of building bridges, and his policy is liable to meet with a large measure of approval. He is asking for authority to develop water powers in New York State, including the St. Lawrence River, these powers to be under public ownership and control. This is a laudable ambition and Governor Roosevelt has the successful example of Ontario to guide him. For the next election, whether it be for the governorship or the presidency, the present Governor is mapping out a clear-cut policy that will appeal to a host of people, and he untoubtedly believes that, if the people approve of this policy, all obstacles to its fruition can be cleared away.

President Hoover will undoubtedly take the opposite view, as there seems no doubt that he is in favor of private ownership of these utilities, and with Roosevelt as the Democratic candidate, the fight along these lines will be interesting, particularly as each side will have a substantial policy on which to appeal to the people. This water-power development under public ownership is a much greater problem than the building of a bridge, and the people on this side of the line, particularly in Ontario, who believe in public ownership have been watching, and will continue to watch, developments on the other side with a good deal of interest.

The Recorder and Times cannot but think that in addition to this public ownership platform, the "wets" and "drys" will be arrayed against each other in the next presidential election. President Hoover promised to do many things, one of which was to enforce the Volstead Act, but it cannot be claimed that in this he has really been successful. Governor Roosevelt, if a candidate, will be somewhat "semi-ready" on both the "wet" and the "dry," and he will command a very large following among those who, while they would not like to be called "wet," are altogether dissatisfied with the dry law as at present operated. Several States that have dry laws never have enforced the Volstead Act, which is a federal statute, and have repealed those State acts depriving themselves of the power, or at least of the duty of enforcing the federal act.

Should these two gentlemen be the candidates at the next presidential election, the fight will be worth watching, and it will be no runaway for President Hoover.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Ottawa Government departments are being told they must stay within their appropriations or some officials will lose their jobs, all of which sounds like business.

The West is pinning its hopes on the result of the London wheat conference. Mr. Ferguson has the chance to jump right into the star role.

Toronto is being told that the jail farm is no place for old men whose only crime is poverty. And Hon. Leopold MacAulay apparently means what he says.

The Western States have been having the hottest April weather on record. But a few heavy showers of rain would be appreciated a great deal more.

Congratulations are in order to Principal H. R. H. Kenner of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Vocational School, who has been elected president of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Association.

Purple powdered hair is to be favored by women this year, with gold, platinum and bronze running next in popularity. Quite a bright year, it would seem.

TANAR OF PELLUCIDAR

BY

Tanar and Stellara quit the deck of the derelict as places were made for them in the canoe and, as the little craft was paddled rapidly to shore, neither felt any sorrow at parting from the drifting hulk that had been their home for so long. The last they saw of her, just as they were entering the cove, from which they had first seen the canoes emerge, she was drifting slowly with the ocean current parallel with the green shore of Amiocap.

At the upper end of the cove the canoes were beached and dragged beneath the concealing foliage of the luxuriant vegetation. The warriors of Amiocap conducted their two prisoners into the jungle that grew almost to the water's edge. At first there was no sign of trail and the leading warriors forced their way through the bush vegetation, but presently they came upon a little path which opened into a broad, well-beaten trail, along which the party moved in silence.

During the march Tanar had an opportunity to study the men of Amiocap more closely and he saw that, almost without exception, they were symmetrically built, with rounded, flowing muscles that suggested a combination of agility and strength. Their features were regular, and there was not among them one who might be termed ugly.

On the whole their expressions were open rather than cunning and kindly rather then ferocious; yet the scars upon the bodies of many of them and their well-worn and efficient-looking, though crude, weapons suggested that they might be bold hunters and fierce warriors. There was a marked dignity in their carriage and demeanor which appealed to Tanar.

Stellara, walking at his side, appeared unusually happy and there was an expression of contentment upon her face that the Sarian had never seen there before. She had been watching him as well as the Amiocapians.

"What do you think of my people?" she whispered proudly. "Are they not wonderful?"

"They are a fine race," he replied.

"It is all just as I have dreamed it so many times," said the girl, with a happy sigh. "I have always known that some day I should come to Amiocap and that it would be just as my mother told me that it was—the great trees, the giant ferns, the gorgeous, flowering vines and bushes. There are fewer savage beasts here than in other parts of Pellucidar and the people seldom war among themselves, so that for the most part they live in peace and contentment, broken only by the raids of the Korsans or an occasional raid upon their fields and villages by the great tandors. Do you know what tandors are, Tanar?"

Tanar nodded. "I have heard of them in Amoz," he said, "though they are rare in Sari."

There are thousands of them upon the island of Amiocap," said the girl, "and my people are the greatest tandor hunters in Pellucidar."

Again they walked in silence, Tanar wondering what the attitude of the Amiocapians would be towards them, and if friendly whether they would be able to assist him in making his way back to the distant mainland, where Sari lay. To this primitive mountaineer it seemed little short of hopeless even to dream of returning to his native land, for the sea appalled him, nor did he have any conception as to how he might set a course across its savage bosom, or navigate any craft that he might later find at his disposal; yet so powerful is the homing instinct in the Pellucidarians that there was no doubt in his mind that so long as he lived he would always be searching for a way back to Sari.

He was glad that he did not have to worry about Stellara, for if it was true that she was among her own people she could remain upon Amiocap and there would rest upon him no sense of responsibility for her return to Korsar; but if they did not accept her—that was another matter; then Tanar would have to seek for means of escape from an island that was peopled by enemies and he would have to take Stellara with him.

But this cahin of thought was interrupted by a sudden exclamation from Stellara. "Look!" she cried. "Here is a village; perhaps it is the very village of my mother."

"What did you say?" inquired a warrior.

"I said that perhaps thisis the village where my mother lived before she was stolen by the Korsars."

"And you say that your mother was Allara?" inquired the warrior.

"Yes."

"This was indeed the village in which Allara lived," said the warrior, "but do not hope, girl, that you will be received as one of them, for unless your father also was of Amiocap, you are not an Amiocapian. It will be hard to convince any one that you are not the daughter of a Korsar father, and as such you are a Korsar and no Amiocapian."

"But how can you know that my father was a Korsar?" demanded Stellara.

"We do not have to know," replied the warrior, "it is merely a matter of what we believe, but that is a question that will have to be settled by Zural, the chief of the village of Lar.

"Lar," repeated Stellara. "That is the village of my mother! This, then, must be Lar."

"It is," replied the warrior.

The village of Lar was encircled by the most remarkable fence that Tanar had ever seen. The posts, instead of being set in the ground, were suspended from heavy fibre rope that ran from tree to tree, the lower ends of the posts hanging at least four feet above the ground. Holes had been bored through the posts at intervals of twelve or eighteen inches and into these were inserte / hardwood stakes, four or five feet in length and sharpened at either end. These stakes protruded from the posts in all directions, parallel with the ground, and the posts were hung at such distance from one another that the points of the stakes protruding from contiguous posts, left intervals of from two to four feet between. As a safeguard against an attacking enemy they seemed futile to Tanar, for in entering the village, the party had passed through the open spaces between the posts without being hindered by the barrier.

But conjecture as to the purpose of this strange barrier was crowded from his thoughts by other occurances, for no sooner had they entered the village than they were surrounded by a horde of men, women and children.

"Who are these?" demanded some.

"They say they are friends," replied Vulhan, "but we believe that they are from Korsar."

"Korsars!" cried the villagers.

"I am no Korsar," cried Stellara, angrily. "I am the daughter of Allara, the sister of Vulhan."

"Let her tell that to Zural," cried one. "Zural will know what to do with Korsars."

"Yes, take them to Zural," cried another.

"It is to Zural that I am taking them," replied Vulhan.

The villagers made way for the warriors and their prisoners and, as the latter passed through the aisles thus formed, many were the ugly looks cast upon them and many the expressions of hatred that they overheard. They were conducted to a large hut near the center of the village.

Like the other dwellings of the village of Lar, the floors of the chief's house were raised a foot or eighteen inches above the ground. The thatched roof of the great, open living room, into which they were conducted, was supported by enormous ivory tusks of the giant tandors. The floor, which appeared to be constructed of unglazed tile, was almost entirely covered by the hides of wild animals. There were a number of low, wooden stools standing about the room, and one higher one that might almost have been said to have attained the dignity of a chair.

Upon this larger stool was seated a stern-faced man, who scrutinized them closely as they were halted before him. For several seconds no one spoke, and then the man upon the chair turned to Vulhan.

"Who are these?" he demanded.

"We took them from a Korsar ship that was drifting helplessly with the ocean current," said Vulhan, "and we have brought them to Zural, chief of the village of Lar, that he may hear their story and judge whether they be the friends they claim to be, or the Korsars enemies that we believe them to be. This one," and Vulhan pointed to Stellara, "says that she is the daughter of Allara."

"I am the daughter of Allara," said Stellara.

"And who was your father?" demanded Zural.

"My father's name is Fedol," replied Stellara.

"How do you know"? asked Zural.

"My mother told me."

"Where were you born?" demanded Zural.

"In the Korsar city of Allaban," replied Stellara.

"Then you are a Korsar," stated Zural with finality. "And this one, what has he to say for himself?" asked Zural, indicating Tanar with a nod.

"He claims that he was a prisoner of the Korsars and that he comes from a distant kingdom called Sari."

"I have never heard of such a kingdom," said Zural. "Is there any warrior here who has ever heard of it?" he demanded. "If there is, let him, in justice to the prisoner, speak." But the Amiocapians only shook their heads for there was none who had ever heard of the kingdom of Sari. "It is quite plain," continued Zural, "that they are enemies and that they are seeking by falsehood to gain our confidence. If there is a drop of Amiocapian blood in one of them, we are sorry for that drop. Take them away, Vulhan. Keep them under guard until we decide how they shall be destroyed."

"My mother told me that the Amiocapians were a just and kindly people," said Stellara, "but it is neither just nor kindly to destroy this man who is not an enemy simply because you have never heard of the country from which he comes. I tell you that he is no Korsar. I was on one of the ships of the fleet when the prisoners were brought aboard. I heard The Cid and Bohar the Bloody when they were questioning this man, and I know that he comes from a kingdom known as Sari. If you are a just and kindly people, how can you destroy me without giving me an opportunity to talk with Fedol, my father. He will believe me; he will know that I am his daughter."

"The gods frown upon us if we harbor enemies in our village," replied Zural. "We should have bad luck, as all Amiocapians know. Wild beasts would kill our hunters and the tandors would trample our fields and destroy our villages. But worst of all, the Korsars would come and rescue you from us. As for Fedol, no man knows where he is. He is not of this village and the people of his own village have slept and eaten many times since Fedol set forth upon his last tandor-hunt. Perhaps the tandors have avenged the killing of many of their fellows, or perhaps Fedol fell into the clutches of the Buried people. These things we do not know, but we do know that Fedol went away to hunt tandors and that he never came back. Take them away, Vulhan, and we shall hold a council of the chiefs and then we shall decide what shall be done with them."

"It is usless Stellara," said Tanar, laying a hand upon the girl's arm. "Let us go quietly with Vulhan"; and then in a low whisper, 'Do not anger them, for there is yet hope for us in the council of the chiefs if we do not antagonize them."

And, so, without further word, Stellara and Tanar were led from the house of Zural the chief surrounded by a dozen stalwart warriors.

SEEKING INFORMATION

To the Editor of the Examiner,

Dear Mr. Editor:—

I should like to draw the attention of your readers through the medium of your valuable paper to a new method of road construction that has been recently brought to my notice. A certain council at its last meeting in March gave a grant of Municipal money to a private individual for the placing of a quantity of cedar bark upon the road. Now this was not for the temporary repairs of mud-holes but upon a dry part of the road. What I wish to know is: what is the opinion of the heads of municipalities as regards this method of road construction, in these days when road construction has become a matter of such vita l interest, if, in public opinion this is regarded as a commendable example of the expenditure of the people's money?

If it is so considered, why not make it general? There is a vast quantity of cedar bark available in this district which the people would be pleased to furnish, since it would serve the two-fold purpose of being a valuable asset to the municipality for which they would receive renumeration and at the same time rid themselves of very undesirable rubbish.

Hoping you will print this, and thanking you for the space, I am,

A seeker for information.

What To-day Means To You

"ARIES"

If April 10th is your birthday, th best hours for you on this date are from noon to 2 p.m., from 4:30 p.m. to 6:10 p.m. and from 9 p.m. to 10:15 p.m. The danger hours are from 10 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. and from 7 p.m. to 8:50 p.m.

By putting forth your utmost energies on April 10th, the Stars prognosticate that you will be able to accomplish your ends. The signs are exceedingly favorable and intelligent effort will be amply rewarded. On the other hand, speculation and risk must be avoided.

A child born on this April 10th will be pugnacious, but not necessary quarrelsome. These fighting qualities will serve it in good stead in later years. The signs denote that it will often be beset, but never overwhelmed, with difficulties. It will always "fight through."

If born on April 10th, you have a very vivid imagination, are impressional and enthusiastic. You are never satisfied with conditions as they exist. You imagine betterments, and get to work to alter and improve. You, too, are very quick to grasp a new idea and are always ready to adapt it to your own uses. The enthusiasm that you show in your work—always strongest when reverses threaten—is contagious, and those who labor with you "catch it"—and the trick is turned.

You are a born executive, capable of great responsibilities and worthy of complete confidence. In spite of your outstanding ability, you are modest, and always attribute success, not to yourself, but to those who have helped you. With such a "make-up" it is not to be wondered at that you can count on an army of loyal friends whom you never "let down."

You possess an excellent memory, and are a good judge of character, original and inventive. Both men and women, born on this date, are good mates, fond of their homes, and devoted to children. They are kind and sympathetic, not afraid of displaying emotion, have a keen sense of humor, and in their affections are more impulsive than calculating.

VETERANS MEMORIAL.

Fourteen years ago yesterday the men of Canada jumped out of their assembly trenches and stormed the heights of Vimy Ridge to win one of the most glorious Canadian victories of the Great War. Attacking together for the first time as a united Canadian corps, the four Canadian divisions made the name of Canada ring throughout the civilized world. It was a great victory but won at a tremendous cost for, when the smoke of battle had cleared away, thousands of the gallant sons of the Dominion lay on the battle fields, never to rise again.

From coast to coast the sacrifices of these gallant men are being remembered with gratitude. They gave all they had to give and died in defense of their country and Empire and the dear ones they had left at home. They are remembered with pride for they gave a new meaning to the word Canadian and to-day they are honoured with reverence by the comrades who were with them on that day and who were spared to come back.

Memorials, beyond number, have been raised to their memory, but none quite so effective or so striking as the memorial which has been created in their honour by their returned comrades. It is not a memorial of brick or stone, it is a memorial of flesh and blood, devoted to the service of those who were disabled and to the service vice of the widows and children of the men who did not return. It is a memorial which perpetuates the ideals and service for which these men died and which exists to-day, solidly established on a foundation stone of service for comrades, service for country and service for Empire.

The War Veterans Memorial to the fallen heroes is the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, Canada great unified organization of War Veterans, an organization which has ever before it the sacrifices of comrades left in soldier's graves and the ideals for which these comrades gave their lives. As they served in War these men, of the Canadian Legion, are striving to serve in peace so that the debt which they owe to comrades shall never be forgotten and so that the obligation they owe to Canada and the Empire shall be fulfilled. It is a great and glorious memorial but one which shall each its full effectiveness and significance only when every man, who wore a uniform in the country's time of danger, is enrolled in this every growing membership.

SMELTERS INCREASES GOLD OUT PUT

One of the most pleasing announcements which has come from Consolidated Mining & Smelting this year was the report on first quarter operations showing gold output almost doubled from the corresponding period of a year ago. Production of 7,234 ounces as a by-product did not necessarily attain a high figure, but the development was in the right direction, particularly at a time when there is so much talk about a threatened world shortage of gold. Output of zinc and copper was well down, while silver showed an increase. Though the stock was lightly traded, it responded with a gain of 3½ points to 134. The annual report is expected in the course of the next week or so, and though it is generally recognized that earnings were considerably lower than a year ago, it is confidently expected it will show the dividend well earned, with something contributed to the regular bonus. Liverpool Firmness Steadies Chi. Grain

CHICAGO Ill., April 10 (C.P.).—Responsive to the bearish showing of th United States Government crop report, wheat prices here went lower early today. Compa ative firmness of Liverpool wheat quotations, however, helped to steady the market at fractional declines, although the official forecast of United States 1931 winter wheat production wa much larger than the majority of traders had expected. Opening 5-8 cents off to 1-8 up, wheat later held near to the initial range. Corn started 3-8 lower to 1-8 higher, and subsequently hardened.

$540,000,000 CONSOLIDATION IS MOOTED IN CANADIAN PAPER

Various Company Representatives Attempting to Remove Difficulties.

BLOCK PLANS FOR MERGER.

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 10.—(By the Canadian Press.)—The New York Times to-day says Canadian paper interests have renewed conversations looking to a $540,000,000 consolidation, and a meeting was held yesterday in Montreal to try to remove the difficulties that last month blocked plans for a merger. Representatives of Canadian International Power, Canada Power and Paper, Abitibi Power and Paper and Minnesota and Ontario paper companies were reported to be at the meeting. The Times says. Banking interests and representatives of the bondholders of several companies also were interested in the proceedings.

It was said here that the Minnesota and Ontario paper interests had balked in previous meetings at the offers made for that property. The company went into receivership on March 1 last, upon the default of bond interest then due, but its plants are operating.

Threats of a price war, although not a direct issue before the conferences, are said to hang over the negotiations.

LIST CONTINUES DOWNWARD TONE

But Several Industrial and Utility Issues Resist General N. Y. Trend.

TOBACCOS STRONG.

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 10 (C.P.)—The stock market drifted lazily lowe today, still feelin; the downward drag of the rail issues, although trading was the lowest in some time.

Several of the industrial and utility issues resisted the downward tendency, and three were ocassional, short-lived rallies. U. S. Steel's unfilled tonnages report, showing a small gain, caused a momentary stiffening, but steel issues generally were under pressure. Tobaccos were an outstanding strong spot. Declines in grains and cotton,and a downward tendency in bonds, were adverse influences.

Losses of 2 to 5 points appeared in such rail issues as Atchison, Baltimore and Ohio, Norfolk and Western, Union Pacific, Nickel Plate, and Missouri Pacific preferred. The carrier issues, nevertheless, appeared to be meeting support near last December's lows, Nash and Auburn were firm, as their quarterly statements were apparently interpreted favorably. In the tobaccos, American Tobacco "B" sold up more than 5 points. U. S. Steel moved narrowly.

C.P.R. SUFFERS HEAVY DECLINE

Sells Off in Sympathy With Rails in New York Scraping Along Near Year's Bottom.

B. A. OIL ALSO DROPS.

TORONTO, April 10.—(CP)—The Toronto Stock Exchange market turned downward to-day in trading as cheerless as the weather. A handful of interlisted issues carried the bulk of activity ard of these only about half were consistently active.

Leaders on the reaction this morning were stock of widely divergent industries, C.P.R. and B.A. Oil.

B.A. Oil failed to hold up around the level to which it had recovered and to-day at 11½ was off ½ point from last night.

Other oils were slightly easier in a light turnover.

Of the other leaders, Nickel and Noranda were both just under last night, Bell Telephone and Ford of Canada unchanged, Brazilian down ¼ point Consolidated Smelters off two.

Service Stations sold at its record low of 20, Durant Motors dropped a point to 6½ and the liquor stocks were irregularly lower.

Suspicious Actions Get Trio Arrested

MONTREAL, Que., April 10 (C.P.).—Three men suspected of conspiracy to rob a bank in Ville St. Pierre were placed under arrest this morning at Model City by city and provincial detectives, following information that an attempt on a bank was to have been made to-day. Detectives were despatched to the bank to await developments. The passing of the same automobile three times within 20 minutes aroused suspicion, and after leaving the district it was followed to the city, where the occupants were arrested.

They were taken to headquarters, where they are being held for court to-morrow morning on charges to be laid later.

Made $18,000 Year In Wrestling Game

HAMILTON, Ont., April 10.—(C.P.) — There is money to be made in the wrestling business. So it was revealed in Supreme Court to-day in the case of Ralph Gallo, being sued for $5,000 by Charles Manoogian as the result of a motor accident.

Manoogian testified through an interpreter that he made as much as $18,000 a year as a wrestler and that as a result of injuries he had been forced to miss several bouts. Asked what he did with the money he declared he gave most of it to his family, his manager and to charity. There was little left for income tax, he added.

EASIER TREND STANDARD LIST

Price Changes Small and Confined to Relatively Few Issues in Morning Session.

McINTYRE DECLINES.

TORONTO, Ont., April (C. P.).—Price changes were small and confined to a relatively few issues in a dull forenoon session on the mining market today. Though a good part of the list failed to put in an appearance, general trend had an easier appearance.

McIntyre saw some light selling with price down $1.40 to $1.60 at mid-day. Vipond lost 4 to $1.14 and Macassa ran into profit-taking which resulted in a oss of 5 at 48. Howey also di splayed a softer tendency, Eldorado recovered 7 to 97, Wright-Hargreaves 4 to $2.82 and Siscoe a couple to 50. Apex was active and higher in the penny group.

Higher-priced base metals were unchanged and lower-priced members of the rection showed only minor movements. Amulet and Ventures eased a point ea h but other Lindsleys were steady.

Homestead regained some lost ground, standing up 15 from last night at $1 when taken. Olga also was strong but Peninsular dropped a cent and other cheaper oils were quiet.

Billion Dolalr Turn-Over By A. and P. Stores

NEW YORK, April 10.—More than a billion dollar turnover in commodities, 737 new stores opened, preferred stock (7 per cent) up to $13.38 a share as against $11.77 the year previous—that is the 1930 record of the A.&P. chain store system.

This gargantuan conveyer of food last year sold 190,850,000 pounds of butter, 15,790,000 pounds of tea, 177,359,000 pounds of coffee and over $125,000,000 worth of meat. Shades of the meat rust! Although it calls itself The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company of America, tea stands at the bottom of the list of the thirteen classes of products sold by it.

First on the roster of "best sellers" are the commodities sold in jars, cans packages, etc., valued at more than, $3,250,000 followed by fruits and vegetables, meats, butter, sugar, coffee, eggs, bread, tobacco ,soap, milk, flour and—tea! This ranking is according to the value sold, of course, rather than bulk.

Ford Family Owns Entire Stock Issue

NEW YORK, April 10.—It is a far cry from the day when Henry Ford, unknown mechanic, drove Jim Couzens, unknown bookkeeper, to his home in a primitive Ford car after the first meeting of the stockholders, when $28,000 was subscribed to star the Ford Motor Company.

The old Ford was rattling along the streets of Detroit, and Ford was driving. He turned to hsi partner, and said:

"Jim, I wonder how much those fellows are going to give us in salaries?"

Jim figured that he ought to be worth $150 a month and Ford $200.

And that was only twenty-five years ago.

James Couzens is no longer a Ford partner. Henry Ford and his family own every share of the 172,645 shares of the capital stock outstanding. That stock earned $257,52 a share in 1930, or $44,460,823.

"Still, I'm glad I'm out of business," the former bookkeep r, now a United States Senator said to this writer, not long ago.

Every man to his last!

Youthful Gang War Disastrous For Lad

KITCHENER, Ont., April 10.—(C.P.)—Eleven year old August Wilhelm, was a victim of an alleged boys' 'gang war" on a small scale when he was struck on the head by a heavy rock, sustaining a fractured skull. The lad is in St. Mary's Hospital in a critical condition.

The boy was one of a group playing in a sand pit when another band of boys is said to have opened fire with stones. One large rock caved in a portion of young Wilhelm's skull.

FINANCIAL CLIP SHEET

BUSINESS SITUATION.

Commodity Prices: Wholesale price index at 75.1 in March is lowest since December, 1915.

Car Loadings: First quarter's total is 17.8 p.c. below 1930 period; wheat is only item to gain.

Employment: No substantial change evident though early spring has beneficial effect.

Stock Markets: Lower prices fail to bring undue signs of weakness; undertone reasonably strong.

Credit: Seasonal demand fails to materialize as hoped; business attitude is cautious.

Week's Highlight: Retail trade reported fair with industrial activity moderate; fair weather is aid to agriculturalists.

GENERAL BRONZE.

General Bronze Corporation has eliminated operating losses of a year ago through economics and improved methods introduced in the company's seven plants, according to Julius H. Barnes, president. For the first three months of the present year the company showed a slight net profit compared with a loss of $120,000 for the first quarter of 1930, he said, while the company's liquid position has been maintained with cash resources exceeding $2,000,000. Barnes said the depression in the building industry still continues throughout the country with a subnormal volume of new construction work available. General Bronze operates three plants in Long Island City, New York, and others at Minneapolis, Chicago, Milwaukee and Winnipeg, Man. It is the largest manufacturer of architectural and ornamental bronze and other metal work.—Toronto Telegram.

INDUSTRIAL LEADERS WAIT FOR LEADERSHIP ON WAGES.

While a few are prepared to admit that wage reductions are "just around the corner" in Canada, business men and employers interviewed by The Financial Post recently are nevertheless keenly interested in the all-important question of wage rates and are looking eagerly to various sources for information and guidance in this most important problem.

One leading manufacturer stated that in his opinion employers were more than ever before anxious to avoid anything like an open break with employees on the wage question and that wage reduction in Canada would, he thought, only be experienced after other nations had led the way. He felt that short hours and unemployment had already caused considerable unrest among employees in many lines of industry and that any hint of wage reductions would be met with definite hostility. He expressed the hope that the policy at present extent in the construction industry whereby the unions were openly allowing members to accept work at below union rates, rather than go unemployed, might spread into other industries and that in this way considerable progress might be made toward the goal of lower wage costs, without stirring up friction between employers an and employed.

VICTORY BOND JOLDERS MAY GET EXCHANGE OFFER.

Bond refunding operations of the Federal Government this year, will take the form of an exchange of securities and there will be no public offering of new bonds in the generally accepted sense of the term, it is forecast by The Financial Post.

No details are available as to the terms of the offering which will be made to present bondholders. There is reason for believing that the basis of exchange will be sufficiently attractive as to result in the exchange of all or the major part of the issues with maturities extending beyond this year and up to and including 1934. The latter bonds, of course, are non-callable before their maturity date and the exchange could only be effected through the extension of liberal terms.

There has been talk in investment circles over the possibility of the Dominion Government issuing a 4 per cent, non-callable bond, similar to that issued by the British Government and familiarly known as "consols." Further, it has been rumored that banking institutions and insurance companies would be obligated to subscribe for a minimum amount.

As far as can be learned, there is no intention of adopting this policy. In the first place, such a move would meet with considerable opposition from financial interests because of the tying up of credit. There are a number of other financial and technical difficulties in the way and it is believed that the Government will adopt the plan of arranging for an exchange of securities, rather than issuing "consols."

By this means—if the terms are sufficiently attractive to make the exchange successful—the Government's refunding operations could be carried out on a relatively low-cost basis and would not disturb the market.

CREDIT CONDITIONS EASY, BANKING ANALYSIS SHOWS.

Credit conditions are phenomenally easy for this time of year, according to the Financial Post index of credit, which is the ratio of current and call loans in Canada to demand and notice deposits in Canada. The index dropped to 65.8 per cent in February as compared with 67.1 per cent the previous month and 77 per cent a year ago. This is the first year since this record has been compiled that a marked decline in credit has occurred in the early months of the year, the normal trend in Canada being either decidedly firm or upward at this period.

CIGARETTE PRICES.

United Cigar Stores Company and Schulte Retail Stores Corporation have taken the lead in a general price advance in cigarettes. Their higher rates go into effect Monday. Now word comes that independent tobacco retailers which have had to meet competition from their powerful claims are to follow with price advances. Popular brands have been marked down as low as 11 cents a package. They will be advanced to two packages for 27 cents. The long drawn out price war has seriously interfered with the progress of the leading units. It has ruined many small merchants who could not compete with the cut-throat tactics.—Toronto Telegram.

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW

ST. JOHN, N.B.—Reports to Bradstreet's say that retail trade here continues fairly satisfactory while demand at wholesale is about normal. Collections are slow to fair. A. C. Smith, ofA. C. Smith Ltd., cattle shipping agents of Saint John, estimates that 50,000 head of Canadian cattle will be exported this year if ships are available. Recently 266 head of western cattle were shipped from Saint John, followed by 187 more from Halifax, and the opening of navigation at Montreal will give an added stimulus to this trade.

MONTREAL — Reports to Bradstreet's indicate a slight improvement in retail sales, which is reflec ed in the returns from jobbing concerns. The general tendency of the produce markets is downward, and the 1931 season for butter production is now in full swing throughout the province. Arrangements have already been made for several cattle shipments from the port of Montreal for May and June delivery in Great Britain. Real estate sales in Montreal for the month of March exceeded $7,000,000. Building permits for the first three months of the year exceeded the same period of 1930 by over $1,000,000. Clear roads and fine wea her encouraged the influx of many tourists from the South, and hotel business was considerably stimulated thereby. Banking returns show clearings and loans lower, but savings deposi s have slightly increased up to the end of March. This season's maple products are likely to be less in quantity than in 1930, but experts agree that the quality will be better. Collections are reported slow to fair.

OTTAWA—Reports to Bradstreet's say that demand for men's and women's clothing and furnishin s has been fairly active here at retail stores and the coming of spring has stimulated trade somewhat. Wholesale trade is fa r while collections are fair. During the first ten years of this century Canada's exports of wood, wood products and paper aggregated roundly $431,000,000, says "Natural Resources." The second decade saw this figure more than doubled, rising to $970,000,000, and in the last ten years, 1921-30, it shot up to the colossal sum of $2,645,000,000. Taking the whole thirty-year period, 1902-30, the value of Canada's exports of wood, wood products and pulp, exceeded the almost unbelieveable amount of $4,000,000,000.

TORONTO—Reports to Bradstreet's say that retail trade here is more active with the coming of mild spring-like weather and the sentiment among merchants generally is fairly cheerful. Dry goods sales have been good and there has been a much improved demand for millinery and apparel of all sorts. At wholesale houses there has been little change with buying by retailers still of moderate proportions. Collections are fair. In manufacturing circles there is moderate activity with plants in many industries busier than they were but still not up to capacity. The employment situation continues bad with many men out of work still. Textile plants, however, are fairly busy while metal working plants as yet are not what would be called busy. Much hope is centred on the building outlook as there are a number of large projects on the horizon which should help materially.

HAMILTON—Reports to Bradstreet's say that wholesale trade here remains fair with sales of goods at retail establishmen s stimulated somewha by milder weather. Collections are fair to slow. A deal has just been closed with the Anchor Cap and Cover Corporation of Long Island City, New York, whereby this Company will lo ate its Canadian branch in Hamilton. The plant will furnish employment for 350 people between 30 and 40 per cent. of whom will be women. Negotiations are being completed for the purchase of a site.

LONDON—Reports to Brads reet's say that spring trade has opened up here fairly well in retail circles with a relatively good demand for men's and women's furnishings and clothing developing. Buying at wholesale is fair. Collections are fair. Normal shipments of finished cattle are be ng mad each week from this county. There is quite a demand for feeding cattle with good quality animals being somewhat scarce. At auction sales, good grade cows are selling from $50.00 to $90.00, young pigs at $4.00 to $5.00 each, young cattle at $5.00 to $5.25 per cwt., and farm machinery bringing good prices owing to high prices of implements. Horses at farm sales are slow sale with the cheaper horses selling more freely. A load of high class horses averaging over 1,700 pounds each was shipped recently at an average price pe animal of $155.00. A few cars of Western horses are being sold but are not meeting with a very ready demand.

REDS' PLAN TO BOOST COTTON CROP WILL REDUCE IMPORTS FROM U.S.

80 PER CENT. INCREASE.

MOSCOW, April 10 (A.P.)—Plans of the Soviet Government to increase Russia's cotton over 80 per cent in 1931 will deal something of a blow to the country's imports from America, if the plan is realized.

Nearly 6,000,000 acres will be planted to cotton in Russia in 1931, according to present plans. This is a 50 per cent. increase in acreage over 1930 and the Government hopes, by the use of fertilizers and better equipment to increase the crop 80 per cent.

The principal Soviet cotton district is in Uzbekistan, where 60 per cent of the cotton area is collectivized and this 50 per cent, yields 70 per cent of the crop.

In addition to the Uzbekistan area, approximately 1,000,000 acres are being sown in new districts in North Caucasia, the Ukraine, Dagistan, Crimea and Armenia.

T total of 7,400 tractors have been secured to serve the various cotton districts.

It was recently reported that the Russian textile industry was improving with the installation of United States and British machinery and that exports of textiles to the Near and Middle East are expected to increase rapidly.

N. J. Farmers Toss Milk Into Brooks

HOLMDEL, N.J., April 10. — Milk is flowing like water here—into the swine troughs and down the brooks by hundreds of gallons. Nine farmers are throwing their milk away daily or giving it to any one who will bring his own container.

Edward Johnson, spokesman for the farmers, said renewal contracts offered by a Red Bank dairy were unreasonable and could not be accepted. With 17 other States shipping milk into New Jersey, there is a surplus and other markets cannot be found, he said.

JUNIOR CHOIR ABLY PRESENTS OPERATTA IN ST. JAMES' CHURCH

"Snow White and Seven Dwarfs" is Name of Charming Operetta.

MRS. KITNEY DIRECTED.

"Snow-White and the Seven Swarfs" was the attraction which drew a record crowd to St. James' United Church last night when the Junior Choir, directed by Mrs. Ernest Kitney, presented this charming operetta.

As the name implies the librette is founded upon Grimm's well-known fairy story of "Snow-White."

This beautiful Princess is greatly beloved by her father's subjects, whom she has been at liberty to command. All this is changed and Snow-White finds herself an outcast from the palace. Her father has been wedded to a new Queen, who is both jealous and selfish and make life impossible for the beautiful step-daughter. The Queen goes so far as to decide to put Snow-White to death rather than allow her to come first in either the King's heart or that of his subjects. So the Queen sends her into the forest with the Huntsman Carl, who is to carry out her evil purpose. Carl, also loyal to Snow-white, grows faint-hearted at his task and allows her to go free. Thus she wanders about until she is lost, but at last finds the home of the "Seven Dwarfs" who eagerly befriended her and offer to share with her their humble home. Here she is discovered by the Queen, who appears disguised as a gypsy selling lace and again as a friend of the Dwarf's bringing them fruit and vegetables. In every instance the Queen makes a desperate attempt upon Snow-White's life, but is always frustrated by the dwarfs and the forest children who intervene. In the meantime a gay young prince of a neighboring realm is also wandering through the forest, until he finds a bride he will not succeed to the throne of his country. When he hears from Carl of the lovely princess, Snow-White, he is deeply interested and searchesdiligently until he has found her. He promptly falls in love and makes her his Queen.

The first two scenes are laid in a wood land setting, and for these the stage is a bower of beauty, with the pastel shaded gowns of the forest children.

Simple White Dress Worn.

The third scene shows the interior of the dwarf's house, when these funny little men with their brown leather suits and long white beards first appear in their rhythmic choruses. The happy climax comes when Snow-White, in her beautiful wedding obes appears on the grounds outside the young King's palace. Here the forest children, the fairies and the seven dwarfs, with the Huntsman Carl, join in joyful greetings to the young King and Queen, while the wicked mother Queen is banished from the kingdom.

Played With Regal Air.

Miss Marion Wood played the Queen Mother, with a truly regal air, and refuses to admit any rival to her beauty, of which she is justly proud. Her sweet contralto voice, blended perfectly with Snow-White's soprano in their numerous duetts.

The Queen has also several tuneful solos, a particularly fine effect being achieved in "I am the sovereign lady," when she appears in her jewelled crown and royal crimson robes.

The Prince, a stately figure in Powdered peruke, purple satin coat and white breeches, was enacted by Mr. Henry Turner, whose sympathetic tenor won much applause.

Mr. J. Worrell, as Carl, the Huntsman, in his hunting suit of red and powdered wig, won the audience with his loyalty to Princess Snow-White, as he sings in melodious basso. These four leading voices blend harmoniously in the quartette, "That light yet stately tread."

The forest children sing several well-executed choruses and form a lovely background for the chief scenes. Two of their number, Misses Lillian Baldry as Daffodil, and Zoe McDonald, as Arbutus, take minor speaking parts in a pleasing way.

Fairies Form a Guard.

The band of fairies form a lovely guard for their Princess and are a group of fairy, light-footed damsels in white gossamer draperies and yellow blossoms. Their spokesman was Thelma McLaren, as Violet. They have several light and winsome choral selections, including "Ha, Ha, Ha, We Love Her," with its intriguing echo in the distance.

The hardy, lusty-footed dwarfs are a brown-clothed group with tight shining suits and pointed caps. Their leaders Hans and Max, are played in fine form by Laurence Dummitt and BillyPiercy.

One of the most pleasing musical numbers was rendered by Miss Geneva Sedgwick, as the voice of the Magic Mirror.

The committee in charge is to be congratulated on the success of their exquisite production. Exceptional training was manifested throughout making a splendid exhibition of the skill of the Director, Mrs. Ernest Kitney, A.T.C.M.

The St. James' S.S. Orchestra rendered excellent service last evening in their accompaniment of the many solo and choral numbers, and also in their between-act selections.

The operetta will be repeated this evening and is well worth a return visit, or of the patronage of any who were not present last evening.

Bonfire is Cause Of $12,000 Loss

GLENCOE, Ont., April 9 (C.P.).—A bonefire started to-day by children playing behind the barn of E. W. Giles, Concession E, Metcalfe Township, resulted in about $12,000 damages when sparks were carried to a straw-stack by a strong south wind.

The fire is still burning, and firemen from Glencoe are striving to save the barn across the road belonging to Angus McCallum. On the Giles place the barn, a large flock of poultry, a dozen hogs, all implements, the straw stack and a partially filled granary are already destroyed.

The wind carried sparks to the McCallum farm, 1,500 feet away, and in a few seconds the straw stack there was ablaze.

QUEBEC TORIES LIKELY TO UNITE

Parley Called in Montreal to Prepare for Looming Provincial Election.

TASCHEREAU MUM.

MONTREAL, Que., April 10—(CP)—With political party workers straining at the leash needing only the formal announcement of Premier Taschereau of the date of the forthcoming general elections, to send them into the heat of a campaign, the most recent development is the move to unite all the Conservative organizations in the Province in one strong central association with headquarters in Montreal.

All provincial organizations have been asked to send two delegates each to a meeting to be held in Montreal next Wednesday night at which the project will be gone into and possibly adopted at once. It was stated yesterday that more than seventy-five separate organizations had already expressed a willingness to join such a federation.

While there is a general belief that the Provincial election date will be fixed at some point between the middle of May and last of June, Premier Taschereau remains reticent. In the meantime Conservative forces are being mobilized in preparation for the drive which they hope will result in the removal of the Liberal rule which has prevailed in Quebec for more than thirty years.

51 Havelock Citizens Sign For Chautauqua

HAVELOCK, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — The entertainments of the Canadian Chautauqua, given here in Havelock a short time ago made a hit with at least fifty-one of our local citizens, who signified this by signing up for a repeat in 1932. The programs presented appealed very strongly to most of those who took advantage of such high-class entertainments, and in spite of the twenty-three guarantors having to cover up a deficit of $9.47 each, this little town along with a few others will again have Chautauqua. It is thought it will come much earlier next year.

EASIER RATES ARE PROMISED

MEETING IN OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 9. (CP)—Considerable progress is reported to have been made to-day in the matter of bank credits as effecting locally farmers of the western provinces. The subject was discussed at a meeting between Premier R. B. Bennett and representatives of the banks of Montreal, Royal, Nova Scotia, Commerce and Hon. M. A. MacPherson, Attorney General of Saskatchewan, Hon. W. W. Smith, minister without portfolio in the Saskatchewan government, Premier J. E. Brownlee, Alberta and Hon. R. A. Hoey, Minister of Education for Manitoba.

While no official statement was issued, it is stated the bankers intimated their intention to instruct local branch managers in the west to give sympathetic consideration to farmers whose loans are matured and who are not in a position to meet them. Another matter under discussion was the matter of rates charged on loans; and it is understood the bankers promised consideration to representations with a view to enabling prairie farmers to obtain money at reasonable rates.

TROOPERS KILL MAN AFTER ONE IS SHOT

Father of Eight, Sought for Wife Beating, Battles With Officers.

GOUVERNEUR, N.Y., April 9 (A. P.)—Milo Saber, 48 years old, father of eight children, Tuesday was shot and killed after he had fired six shots at two troopers, wounding one of them. The troopers had gone to his home in Benson Mines, St. Lawrence County, to arrest him on a warrant charging assault on his wife. Four children, in the house at the time, fled to the shelter of neighbors' homes as the shooting began.

Saber opened fire from a window when the officers approached the house. Trooper Gilbert G. Blackmere, who, with Corporal Clifford Revoir, had gone from Star Lake to make the arrest, was wounded in his left arm, just below the elbow. He fired his pistol twice at the place from which Saber's bullets had come. Revoir pumped six other shots in that direction.

Fearing Saber had barricaded himself within the house and might do more shooting, the officers waited while an emergency call was telephoned to substations in the area for reinforcements. Five automobile loads of officers converged upon the house in the little mining hamlet, bringing two machine guns, six rifles and tear gas. The house was rushed without any further shooting and Sergeant Joseph Carroll found Saber sprawled upon the floor near a window. He was dead from a bullet wound in his head.

Revoir reported he thought one of the shots he and Blackmere fired had struck their mark. Blackmere, given first aid, was taken to a hospital at Watertown.

Mrs. Flora Saber, the widow, was at the Benson Mines town hall waiting for the arrest. She had sworn to charges in the warrant as a result of a beating she had received at his hands last night. Her husband was out of work, she said, and had been drinking.

KIWANIANS HEAR DR. L. I. AUSTIN

Lure of Beautiful Women Persists Through Pages of History.

LADIES ARE GUESTS.

The lure of beautiful women persists through the pages of history. Marie Antoinette, looking down through the centuries, on her way to her appointment with Madam Guillotine, might have spared a weary smile at the thought of being defended in the twentieth century by a learned professor of surgery from a famous university in far-away Canada. Dr. L. I. Austin of Queen's University, Kingston, who spoke to the Kiwanis Club members and their ladies at the Empress Hotel last night, successfully erased from their minds all suspicion, had there been any such, of the unfortunate queen's complicity in that famous plot which Alexandre Dumas outlines in his story, "The Queen's Necklace."

President John Allen was in the chair for the evening, which concluded, instead of with the usual dance, with a visit en masse to the Capitol Theatre, to see "East Lynne".

Dr. Austin, in an unusual but very entertaining address, pictured for his listeners the famous story which centers about the wonderful diamond necklace that was supposed to have brought about the French Revolution. Possessed of a puck-like sense of humor which evidently delights in sly and unexpected darts at outworn beliefs, the doctor held the interested and amused attention of his audience through a resume of the book that outlined the story in detail and left at its final sentence a complete picture of that historic tangle of events and characters, with the beautiful and unfortunate Marie Antoinette as the central figure. His manner of attaching considered and stressful importance to trifles and of hurrying casually over main events, was one of the intriguing aspects of a talk delivered through the medium of a picturesque vocabulary and plenty of delightfully slurred 'rs.'

The Bar Sinister

There was the picture of that old tragedy that ended with the head of the lovely queen in a basket and the enthronement of the believers in "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity", in the storied Palace of Versailles. They were little cameo word pictures: Maria Theresa of Austria teaching morals to her daughters, "But that didn't make much difference"; the Prince Cardinal who became the dupe of a group of unscrupulous adventurers; the little orphan girl by the roadside, with the blood of the Valois and the bar sinister rampant on her escutcheon; that strange and unfathonable figure, Cagliostro, casting a comet-like streak over the picture, with his sorcery and his boasted power of making diamonds, his pretense of being the Wandering Jew and possessing the power of renewing his life indefinitely; and then, that marvellous diamond necklace, worth 1,600,000 livres, or the equivalent of four and one-half million dollars. Came the midnight meeting of the supposed queen and the conspirators, in the Grove of Venus; the passage of the diamonds into possession of the conspirators, the sudden access of great wealth and then, the final discovery, the wholesale arrests and convictions; the branding of the pseudo Countess de la Motte with a red-hot iron in the Conciergerie and the bestowal of Cagliostro in the Papal dungeons in Rome; and, last of all, the overthrow of the monarchy and the last tragic chapter in the tale.

To J. A. McKone fell the duty of voicing the thanks of the club for the scholarly and entertaining address.

Boosters for the evening were President Allen and Fred Brown of Lakefield. Prizes were won by Mrs. J. A. O'Brien, Mrs. W. H. Freel, Mrs. F. G. Stinson, Mrs. L. J. Pettit and Mrs. Mark Bredin.

The tables were very attractive with vases of spring flowers; narcissus, daffodils and iris.

THEATRES

"EAST LYNNE."

"Then You'll Remember Me," the theme song that echoes all through "East Lynne," strikes the note—of pathos, of romance, of sentiment—that dominates the picture. It is an old song and an old love story brought to life again, and strangely enough, the old is also the new. Sentiment, perhaps, is the one lasting emotion. At least, for the majority of people, these old books: "East Lynne," "Lena Rivers," "St. Elmo," "Jane Eyre," haven't they a lasting appeal? Maybe because they mirror romances that are ever old and ever new. Men still love and grow jealous—women still love and are weak—children still form the everlasting bond. That was as true in the day of Isaac and Rebecca, in the days of Anthony and Cleopatra, as it is in the days of Amos 'n Andy and Madam Queen and Ruby Taylor.

Well, "East Lynne" is a sad picture—that comfortable sort of sadness that allows an audience to watch and listen to the woes of pictured actors, to cry silently in dark corners of the theatre, and sends them off with an inner assurance that the straight road is the best after all. If Lady Isabel hadn't been quite so weak with that wicked old Cornelia, if she hadn't been a little lax—for those days—in allowing a former lover to philander a bit in her company—if she had been able to hold her own with that dominating brute of a husband—well, she wouldn't have ended up as she did. And why couldn't that aggravating old Joyce have told Carlisle all about it in the beginning, instead of in the end? But a happier finale wouldn't have been logical, and the picture wouldn't be quite so effective. One can go to "Just Imagine" and laugh at the fun of a half century hence, and one can go to "East Lynne" and cry over the sorrows of fifty years past. It's fair enough—in one week.

Music echoes through this picture—"Then You'll Remember Me" for the heart-scenes; Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" for that old-fashioned country-seat evening where the men argue over chess and the women discuss the merits of onion soup for a cold—"The Blue Danube" for the waltz; the song of the waits in the Christmas bit, where the new wife and Carlisle trim the tree for the child of the woman who has been cast out.

It retains its old-time flavor. Carlisle divorces his wife on the breath of suspicion and refuses to allow her to even see her child. Isabel takes refuge with Leveson, who has been the cause of the trouble, and then she pays the price. "The cruelest truth is that we cannot live our lives apart from the opinion of the world," says her father, that old, weak worldling with the spendthrift pocket and the gallant old heart, when he promises to help the daughter who has flouted the tongues of the world.

Ann Harding is the blonde beauty of the tale, loving, weak, haunted by disaster—Conrad Nagel is the self-righteous and stern husband. And Clive Brook is the 'other man' who starts the wheel of Fate turning.

If you like real sentiment—not sentimentality—you will like "East Lynne." It is absorbing. But you need one extra handkerchief.

—Jeanette.

AGED RESIDENT DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Annie May Hurchmer Succumbs While Playing Checkers With Daughter.

GRAIN SMUT CAMPAIGN.

LINDSAY, April 10 (Special to Examiner)—Death came to Mrs. Annie May Hurchmer, a highly esteemed resident of Bobcaygeon, in a most tragic manner this week. The deceased had been playing checkers with her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Mark. She had won a game, and was preparing to play another when she collapsed and expired. The late Mrs. Hurchmer was in her seventy-seventh year, and came to Bobcaygeon from Warkworth about twenty-seven years ago. Her late husband conducted a jewelry store in the village for a number of years. She is survived by one son and three daughters.

A campaign against smut in grain is being instituted among the farmers of Victoria County by H. H. Winter, District Agricultural representative. Smut in seed and graneries, he states, is one of the greatest curses on the farm to-day, and many farmers do not take the question of treatment seriously, consequently losing money every year.

Lindsay Garrison Club held its annual Vimy banquet in the armories last night with Colonel G. A. Drew, Master in Chambers of the Supreme Court of Ontario as the guest speaker. Among the guests from out of town were Brigadier G. Hall, of the Peterborough Rangers, Major J. Winterbottom, and Lieut. G. Melton and F. Hart, of the same regiment.

JAPANESE CABINET TO RESIGN.

TOKIO, April 10 (C.P.). — The Cabinet at a meeting to-day decided to resign as soon as they settled the question of a successor to Premier Hamaguchi, who is lying seriously ill after an operation.

The Cabinet apparently wishes to maintain the status quo for a time. A newspaper report, not confirmed, said that the War Minister General Ugaki already had tendered his resignation.

WARSAW, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence).—Pastor Simpson preached an Easter sermon in the Baptist Church on Sunday morning. The hymns were Easter ones, and the choir sang "The Old Rugged Cross."

Pastor Sinclair will preach in the Baptist Church next Sunday and Pastor Simpson will have the other services during April

Rev. F. G. O'Conor-Fenton conducted the beautiful Christmas service of the Anglican Church on Sunday evening. His sermon was a wonderful explanation of the Last Supper at which our Saviour instituted the sacrament of Communion and of the Resurrection. The pretty little church was decorated with Easter lilies, and before leaving Mr. Fenton gave each child an Easter egg. The ladies of the Guild plan to turn their Guild meeting on Wednesday into a house-cleaning bee, and have the church fresh for the Easter celebration of Holy Communion on Sunday morning. The Presbyterian Church was pretty with house plants for Easter day. Owing to so much sickness the choir was unable to give any selections. Rev. Mr. Sutherland preached an Easter sermon from the Sunday School lesson, I. Corinthians, chapter II.

The United Church had Easter lilies and tulips for special Easter decoration.

Rev. J. W. Wilkinson preached Easter sermons at Carmel and Zion and Warsaw in the Uni ed Churches. The service opened with the choir singing "Ring out ye Bells of Easter." During the service it rendered 'Christ, our Passover" and "In the Cross of Christ," "Easter Bells," and Mr. Henry Batten sang "The Holy City."

The lesson was from Matthew, chapter 28, and the texts were from John II., verse 25, "I, the Resurrection and the Life, and Job, XIX, parts of verses 25 and 26, "I know that my Redeemer liveth," and "then, without the flesh I shall see him."(American revised edition.)

Mr. Wilkinson made it very plain that he most firmly believed in the Resurrection of the Saviour, and that we, too, shall rise. Christianity depends on a crucified Saviour and also on a risen Saviour. Death could not hold him. The diciples had gone to their old work, but when he arose they were convinced. We, too know it, and realize the boundless blessings it gives.

All problems for the betterment of the community, business and civic, look alike to the Chamber of Commerce. All receive the same merited impartial treatment.

BUSES REPLACE ROAD TO THOROLD

Railway Officials Announce Change Will Be Made on June 1.

APPEAL DROPPED.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., April 10 (C.P.). — The Niagara, St. Catharines, and Toronto Railway Company has notified the Council of Merritton and Thorold that they will discontinue the service on their line from St. Catharines to those towns after June 1 when it is expected the company will operate a bus line. Merritton has twice been successful in a court action to require the railway to remove its tracks from Merritton streets. The railway had decided to carry its appeal to the Supreme Court, but this plan has now been abandoned.

As Merritton lies between St. Catharine and Thorold the abandonment of street railway service to Merritton means that Thorold must also be cut off. The main line of the Niagara, St. Catharines, and Toronto Railway from St. Catharines to Niagara Falls will still operate through Merritton and Thorold on a private right of way.

AT U. OF M. GATHERING

ORONO, Maine, April 10 (By The Canadian Press).—A potato grower from Aroostook County, just across the border from New Brunswick, shares with an expert forestry improvement and a poultry owner, the honor of being chosen for the farm section of this year's Maine Farm and Home Sextette. This marks the third year that farmers and homemakers have been honored for their success and their contribution to the town, country and state in which they live.

He is pointed out as being especially successful in producing Green Mountain certified seed, and was one of the first growers to start tuber unit plots. The other members chosen for this year's premier farmers are William B. Deering, of York County, whose major interest at present if the improvement of his woodlands, and Charles C. Clement, of Waldo County, who keeps 2,000 hens. He also has an apple orchard of 1,500 trees. Mr. Deering was one of the first in the state to plant pine.

OLD TIME DANCE BIG ATTRACTION

Mr. Freeman Hart, 93, Captures Special Prize for Step Dance at Havelock.

ODDFELLOWS AFFAIR.

HAVELOCK, April 10. (Examiner Correspondence.)—One of the most successful dances in the history of the village was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, April 6, when the local Oddfellows entertained their families and friends at a real old fashioned "shindig."

The hall was beautifully decorated with the lodge colors, and softly illuminated by numerous shaded lights.

Round and square dancing alternately was provided, and young and old entered into the spirit of the evening with a zest unsurpassed elsewhere. Numerous prizes were given for the various feature dances.

A pleasing feature of the event was a prize step dance in which one of the oldest residents of this district competed. Mr. Freeman Hart of Round Lake who has just passed his ninety-third milestone delighted the spectators by th ability with which he executed the tricky strps of the Buck and Wing dance. Mr. Hart received a special prize for his demonstration of step dancing. David Vansickle was first prize winner and Max Post won second prize.

First prize for the old time waltz, went to Mr. and Mrs. Steve McQuigge, with Mrs. Sexsmith and Mr. Wiggins in second place. The lucky spot square dance prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Knox, and the prize two step to Mr. and Mrs. Will Copp. The evening opened with the Grand March, led by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gordon, and the Spot prize in this event was awarded to Mrs. Fred Wrightley and Mr. T. P. Lancaster. The judges for the evening were Mrs. J. Johnson, Mrs. H. Pollock, Messrs. Chas. Armstrong, T. P. Lancaster and Reeve Sanderson.

Delightful dance music was furnished by a newly organized orchestra of local talent, under the name of "The Gold Diggers" and composed by Messrs. Jos. Little, piano, Wm. McLaughlin and Howard McQuigge violin, Messrs. Cook and Ellis, guitar, and Fred Platt, traps.

Proceeds of the evening amounted to $135.

MISS HETHERINGTON ELECTED OFFICIAL

Mrs. Ross Edmunds Conducts Saint Andrew's W.M.S. Meeting at Millbrook.

MILLBROOK, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence) — Group B, Mrs. Ross Edmunds convenor, had charge of the April meeting of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Saint Andrew's United Church, held in the church parlors on Wednesday afternoon, with approximately forty members present, the president, Mrs. (Rev.) W. W. Jones, taking the chair for the opening business and devotional period.

An Easter responsive worship service, under the motto, "Whatsoever He saith unto you, do it," Mrs. Edmunds leading, and all present having a part in the hymns, prayers, and scripture responses.

Mrs. Arthur Fallis read the devotional leaflet, "My Brothers Keeper," this section of the meeting being especially arranged in the interests of temperance; Mrs. Hilliard Lang's reading was, "Is Temperance Just an Extra?" and Mrs. F. A. Kidd gave an appropriate leaflet on "My Easter Offering."

The report of the recent Presbyterial held at Cobourg was given in a most comprehensive manner by Mrs. Eric Hunter, who noted among other items that $11,823.11 was the amount contributed through the W. M. S. in Cobourg Presbyterial last year. Mrs. Jones followed Mrs. Hunter, devoting the larger part of her report to the address given by Dr. Margaret McKellar, an honored veteran of forty years' experience in mission work in Central India. The fact that Dr. McKellar was wearing two medals, one of which was the 'Church Gold Medal' for a quarter of a century of consecutive mission work, with three bars, each indicative of five extra years, was news to the listeners none of whom had previously known that such a medal is presented by the Mission Board.

While Dr. McKellar has an outstanding loyalty to her home land, and to the British Empire as a whole, her heart is in the land to which she had given her life's service.

The president announced the request of Miss Hawken for special prayer that God's presence may be especially felt in the Sunday morning service on April 12, and also the honor that has come to the local auxiliary in having one of its members, Miss Estelle Hetherington, elected secretary of the Christian Stewardship Department for the Presbyterial, and too made head of the Finance Department.

All repeated the W.M.S. Watchword in unison as the final prayer and blessing.

HOWSON MOTORS NOW READY FOR BIG MOTOR SHOW

Special Display Rooms Will Be Opened to Public Saturday Morning.

CONTINUE FOR A WEEK.

Working at fever heat, day and night, for the past few days, Howson Motors have succeeded in getting their Spring Motor Show headquarters in complete readiness for the special display of Willys fine motor cars to be shown beginning tomorrow (Saturday) and continuing during the next week.

For the Motor Show it was necessary to have the big showroom colorfully decorated for this occasin. Painters have been busy, signwriters have been on the job and a thousand and one things have had to be done. Now, however, everything is in complete readiness and it is expected that thousands will view the new cars at the special showroom at 370 Water street. This showroom was formerly a bowling alley and golf course.

Lucky Number Contest.

Little there is that has been overlooked to make the visit of the general public a most interesting and entertaining one. Not only are the cars well displayed, but a big lucky number contest is planned which is bound to create a tremendous amount of interest. Seven valuable prizes are being given away by Howson Motors to the seven lucky visitors during Motor Show Week, April 1 to 18th. These prizes will be as follows: 1st prize, a One Hundred Dollar Credit Note and $25 in gold, on purchase of Willys or Willys-Knight automobile second prize, a One Hundred Dollar Credit Note and $10 in gold on purchase of Willys or Willys Knight automobile; third prize, a Seventy-five Dollar Credit Note and $5 in gold on purchase of Willys or Willys Knight automobile; fourth prize, a Seventy-five Dollar Credit Note on purchase of new Whippet or used car; fifth prize, a $50 Credit Note on purchase of used card; sixth prize, a $25 credit on purchase of used car; seventh prize, five gallons Marvelube Motor Oil.

Everyone visiting Howson Motors at 370 Water Street, Peterborough, will be given a registration card on which to fill in his name and address and a few other particulars. This card will be filed for future reference and one part of it will be deposited in a sealed box. Mayor Roland Denne will officiate at the sealing up of the box on Saturday at 3 o'clock.

Draw Seven Cards.

On the closing night of the special Spring Show, Mayor Denne will draw seven cards from the sealed box and these seven tickets will be compared with the part carried in a special file and Mayor Denne will, later on in the evening, announce who were the seven lucky visitors to Howson Motors.

Undoubtedly this novel idea will attract a great deal of attention and everyone in Peterborough and district will take an active interest in the contest.

Furthermore, every member of the staff of Howson Motors has been instructed in the new merchandise, so that anyone who is interested in a Willys or Willys Knight can rest positively assured of being shown the new cars from stem to stern and enlightened upon any point of interest.

In view of the big program that has been planned it is going to pay everyone to make at least one visit to see the beautiful Willys Seven and Eight and Willys Knights that will be on display.

Spanish Students Battle Police

Students from the Radical College of the University of Madrid, Spain, tore down a portrait of King Alfonso, carried it out into the street, where they made a bonfire and burned it to cinders. They afterwards stoned the police and civic guards, and for five hours a battle raged in which the students received the worst of the argument. This picture shows the students carrying a wounded student away. The student carrying a "red flag" (marked by the arrow) was shot just after this picture was taken.

LONGWORTH PAID TRIBUTE BY ALL

Special Train Will Carry Speaker Remains to Cincinnati For Burial.

FUNERAL SATURDAY.

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 10 (C.P.)—Washington felt an emptiness to-day as it tried to believe that one of its most beloved characters, Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, was dead.

From President to humblest clerk, officials and private citizens joined in tributes. They knew he was dead. But he had been around so long it was difficult to picture the future without him.

In 28 years Washington had become used to the Ohio representative who worked his way from the foot of a minor committee to what he called the greatest office in any legislative branch of any government in the world. That was the Speakership of the House of Representatives.

Even before learning definitely yesterday of the funeral plans, President Hoover announced he would attend the services.

The President and the Congressional delegation probably will go to Cincinnati aboard special trains.

The removal of the debonair Longworth, whose leadership concededly kept Republicans in line in many votes, renewed discussion of possibilities in the next House. Republican leaders conceded their hope of organizing had suffered a considerable setback.

Aiken In Mourning

AIKEN, S. C., Apr. 10.—Nicholas Longworth goes home today to Cincinnati to be laid at rest tomorrow in the city where he was born 61 years ago.

Business houses decided to close during the removal of the body of the Speaker of the House of Representatives to a special train from the colonial home of Mrs. James F. Curtis, where he died yesterday of pneumonia. Streets were ordered cleared of traffic. Aiken did its utmost to show its sorrow over the passing of an adopted son, for the Speaker was an annual spring visitor, usually coming for golf after Congress adjourned.

Special Train

To convey the body to Ohio over the mountains of North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky the Government arranged for a special train to leave at 11:30 a.m. It consisted of an engine, a coach for the body, the private car of Charles W. Clark of Aiken and New York and a Pullman. Mr. Clark's car was primarily for Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth and her brothers, Kermit and Archibald, who flew to Aiken from New York, but arrived after their brother-in-law's death; Mrs. Curtis; Colonel Campbell Hodges, President Hoover's military aide who was sent from Washington to render all possible assistance, and a faithful sorrowing servant, the man who had been Mr. Longworth's valet 31 years.

Among hundreds of messages received by Mrs. Longworth was the following.

Mr. dear Mrs. Longworth:

I am profoundly grieved to learn of the passing of your husband and wish you to know how deeply Mrs. Hoover and I sympathize with you in your bereavement. He was endeared to the whole people by his charm and graciousness, and his distinguished public services entitled him to the honor which he bore so modestly and yet so worthily. He will be mourned by the nation and long held in their affectionate and grateful memory.

Yours faithfully,

HERBERT HOOVER.

MORE THAN 1,000 MULES PERISHED IN THREE STATES INSIDE A WEEK

Houde Likely Resign As Montreal's Mayor

MONTREAL, April 10. — Rumors are flying to-day that Mayor Mamillien Houde, also leader of the Quebec Conservatives, will quit the mayoralty shortly and that his functions will be taken up by Ald. Thomas O'Connell, dean of the City Council with 25 years at the City Hall to his credit.

Next Thursday night at the Mount Royal Hotel the city will banquet Ald. O'Connell and some said to-day that the mayor will present the chain of office to the guest of honor then. But better information is that Mayor Houde will not leave the City Hall until Premier Taschereau has named provincial election day. That is still unknown.

EXAMINER DANCE.

Don't forget the big dance to-night in the hall of the Canadian Legion, when The Examiner Social Club will hold its third affair for this season. Dancing in the hall to Mose Yokom's orchestra and card games (bridge and euchre) upstairs. Decorations will be new and effective. Several prizes will be presented. A real good time is promised. Most of the proceeds will be turned over to relief work in the city.

Farmers Are Trying Oils and Smudges to Overcome Plague.

TAKE NO CHANCES.

CLARKSDALE, Miss., April 10. — Farmers built smudge fires and oiled their mules along the Mississippi delta to-day in an effort to save them from a scourge of buffalo gnats that have so far slain approximately 1,000 of the animals in this State, Louisana and Arkansas.

Other livestock in the river lowlands of the three States likewise have fallen prey to the plague of pests that swarmed over the area last Tuesday in unprecedented numbers, but the mules have been the hardest hit.

The oil treatment was instituted at the barn of Yazoo, Mississippi Delta Levee Board and the 36 mules to which it was first applied have remained unaffected by the gnats. The burning smudges prevent the gnats from seeing. Livestock men also are taking precautions to prevent an outbreak of anthrax.

Veterinanarians say the dead animals in this county, Coahoma, will reach 400 or more. H. J. Hayes, veterinarian at Helena, Ark., reported that the loss on the western side of the river may reach 500 dead. A hundred and fifty mules died in 24 hours in five or six communities near here. Farm workers counted 195 dead ones on two or three plantations.

PAPERS READ ON TEMPERANCE

W. M. S. of Springville United Church Hold Regular Monthly Meeting.

INTERESTING PROGRAM.

SPRINGVILLE, April 10 (Examiner Correspondence)—The W.M.S. of Springville United Church held their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon in the basement of the church. Mrs. S. Staples read the scripture lesson from Matt. 28. Opening prayer took the form of "Sentence Prayer," in which the majority of members took part. In conclusion Mrs. (Rev.) Moyer read one of Pauline Johnston's beautiful poems of prayer.

Business discussions included the appointment of Mrs. Staples and Mrs. Moyer to secure a missionary speaker for a Sunday evening service some time in the near future.

Mrs. William Whitfield reporting for the Watch Tower brought current news from the mission fields of West Africa, China, Siam, Japan, India and Turkey. Clippings were read, interesting stories told concerning the articles and pictures were shown by way of illustration making a very interesting report. In conclusion she remembered the sick and shut in members and a letter of sympathy was written by Mrs. Hunter and signed by all present to be sent to Mrs. Grandy, the vice-president who has been ill for some time.

Mrs. M. Johnston reported for Miss A. Brown, who although unable to attend the meeting sent her Watch Tower material, consisting of a reading from The Brockville Recorder and Times entitled, "The World is Improving."

Mrs. Moyer temperance secretary for the auxiliary gave an address on temperance, choosing for her text, Whatsoever man soweth, that shall he also reap. In 1928 Government Control was passed by the people. Intemperance was sown. It is impossible to throw open the source of getting liquor and as a result reap temperance. Direct results of intemperance are shown by a newspaper report from England stating the brewery is a most paying business.

Again, does it pay for the Ontario Government to reduce their deficit by profits from the liquor traffic? The jails have more occupants than previous to the 1928 Act. The municipalities are unable to support them so they are appealing to the Government for a portion of the profits.

Liquor depreciates the ability of the brain. The material of which the body is composed when analysed and valued is worth only ninety-eight cents. It is the brain and soul that counts in worth.

The lamentable part is that conditions must become worse before they are better.

Mrs. A. Hunter continued with the story of the study book. In simple interesting form she gave her synopsis telling of Japanese customs, temperance and morality. Closing prayer was led by Mrs. M. Johnston.

New Fashion Ideas For This Year's June Bride

(1) One of the attractive new frocks by Blanch Lebouvier, Paris, which would make a charming bridesmaid's dress. It is of rose mousseline with matching muff and wide-brimmed hat trimmed with flowers. Note the long lace mits. (2) Brousselier's new wedding coiffure with orange blossom trimming. (3) A cool going-away ensemble for the summer bride. It is of natural colored pongee, smartly tailored according to the design of Rene Hubert. The jacket shows a bloused belted waistline and the skirt fits snugly to the knees with flounce fullness. There is a crepe de chine blouse of the same light tan shade. A new note is seen in the upstanding collar straw braid which is matched with a close straw wrap-around turban. Two bright red buttons appear on the hat and also at the neckline of the blouse and cuffs.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Alice Michaelis

A RED LEAF

A red leaf slowly gliding down
Marks always glowing summer's end;
Today from countless branches brown,
Red leaves descend.

At summer's end, stripped bare of fruit,
The orchard takes a sombre tone;
At summer's end the woods are mute,
The song-birds flown.

The red leaf is a messenger
Of all departing bloom and song,
A souvenir of days that were,
Days bright and long.

Its presence proves that joy is brief
And summers swiftly pass away,
Yet even a drifting scarlet leaf
Can still be gay!

TOO MANY NURSES BEING GRADUATED

President McKee Claims Change in Training System Needed.

KITCHENER, Ont., April 10 (C.P.) —That more nurses are being graduated in Ontario than the demand necessitates was the point stressed by Miss E. M. McKee of Brantford, President of the Registered Nurses' Association of Ontario, at the sixth annual meeting of the organization which opened here to-day. Nurses from all parts of the Province were in attendance, and in the presidential address Miss McKee urged the need of securing student nurses with backgrounds of sound academic education and the need of changing the system of nurse training to meet the needs of the times. The unemployment among nurses could be remedied if graduate nurses were qualified to enter branches of the profession other than the private duty section.

From the report of the secretary-treasurer, Miss M. E. Fitzgerald, of Toronto, it was shown that in the past year the organization sent a resolution to those concerned in the province, urging that registered nurses be given the preference over lay people in hospital offices as secretaries, stenographers, X-ray operators, and similar posts. The organization had also assisted the Red Cross in enrolling nurses for emergency or war service.

Here's a smart dress that will withstand wear. It is extremely moderate in cost. Yellow linen with rown dots made the original. The belt is brown patent leather. Its yoke-like collar of plain yellow linen ending in deep pointed outline is very slimming. Two brown buttons are effective trim.

Style No. 3073 may be had in sizes 14, 16, 18, 30 years, 36, 38 40 and 42 inches bust.

A model such as this depicts itself lovely to cotton mesh in matte finish, pique, men's shirting, shantung, pastel wool jersey and flat crepe etc.

Size 36 requires 3 5-8 yards 35-inch with 3-8 yard 27 or 35-inch contrasting.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

How many times have you, when you asked for an excuse for certain things not being done, been given the answer, "I haven't had time?"

* * * * * *

Nine times out of ten that is the answer that is given—or the excuse.

* * * * * *

Apart from the fact that many persons use this easy and readily understood excuse—the lack of time—as something to fall back on, rather than having it as a legitimate excuse, it remains true that what people really want as much as anything else, is more time.

* * * * * *

No blame can be attached for uneven distribution for it is the one thing that belongs to each individual in the whole wide world and is exactly the same amount each day.

* * * * * *

It is something no one can take away from another, unless by occupying his attention for a period of time, nor can it be provided in extra quantity.

* * * * * *

There is, then, no reserve stock nor surplus.

* * * * * *

With this fundamental principle of equal distribution of time well understood, how is it that some persons do succeed in accomplishing so much more than others?

* * * * * *

Those who accomplish have time left in which to do a vast number of things, apart from regular vocations. The other group works incessantly and is always rushing, yet apparently has no time in which to do other than routine tasks.

* * * * * *

It is this group who laments loudest about lack of time.

* * * * * *

There must be reason for this diversity. Good planning is one main factor. Another is a wise selection of the most imperative duties to perform, among those that seem important to do next.

* * * * * *

Time, in itself, does not stretch. It cannot, but the amount and also the number of things one can do in a given time increases in ratio to the correct stressing of their importance.

* * * * * *

Every thoughtful person has perceived this. In some curious way the lesser things and the pasures fit themselves around the larger accomplishments like a picture puzzle.

Wrecked Boat's Crew Safe On Lone Island

JUNEAU, Alas., April 10 (C.P.).—The disappearance of the fishing boat Monroe on voyage from Seward to Juneau was solved to-day with receipt here of a message saying the craft had been wrecked and the four men aboard marooned on Wingham Island.

The message said the Monroe grounded on a reef on the southeast end of Wingham Island on March 21. Captain O. P. Brown and his crew of three men reached shore safely and have been staying at a fox ranch on the island.

The Collector of Customs here received word of the Monroe from Katalla. Katalla is about 175 miles east of Seward. The Monroe, of 34 gross tons, was reported to be a total loss.

Parley Too Narrow To Satisfy Henry

TORONTO, Ont., April 10.—Premier George S. Henry, who with Attorney-General Price returned to-day from the Inter-Provincial Conference at Ottawa, expressed regret that the conference had not been as wide in scope as anticipated by the Provinces. Questions such as the gasoline tax, municipal taxation and the Federal and Provincial laws governing companies and insurance were expected to be discussed.

Attorney-General Price intimated there will be a further conference on these questions, declaring it was not deemed feasible to continue on them at this time. Col. Price state another question is to insurance jurisdiction.

Capone's Bodyguard Is Freed In Court

CHICAGO, Ill., April 10.—Another "public enemy" went free of vagrancy charges to-day.

Frankie Rio, personal bodyguard of "Scarface" Al Capone, who served a year's jail sentence at Philadelphia with his boss, stood before Judge Francis Borelli only thirty seconds before his case was dismissed. The police said they had no proof of vagrancy.

Capone was freed recently in a similar manner. The warrants were issued by Judge John H. Lyle, who made a drive against Hoodlums. Judge Lyle later contested the Republican nomination for Mayor with William Hale Thompson, but lost as a third candidate polled enough votes to give Thompson a plurality.

CHICAGO HAWKS WIN OVERTIME TILT 3-2 IN THIRD STRUGGLE

Wentworth Breaks 2-2 Deadlock After Fifty-three Minutes of Overtime Battling—Over-confidence and the Resultant Carelessness in the Third Period Canadiens Two Goal Margin Scored in First Two Frames.

GAGNON AND G. MANTHA ARE MARKSMEN FOR CANUCKS.

(By Wallace H. Ward, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

MONTREAL, Que., April 10.—Chicago's flashing Black Hawks rapped home an impressive goal after 52 minutes and 50 seconds of overtime play here last night to beat the world's champion Montreal Canadiens 3-2 and jockey themselves to within one game of victory in the series for the Stanley Cup. They lead the Habitants 2-1 in games on the series. A win for the Hawks Saturday night and the battered old hockey trophy goes to Chicago.

Canadiens lost the game last night on a tactical error in the third period when they were sitting pretty with a 2-0 lead. It was over-confidence and the resultant carelessness that cost them their margin over the Hawks. Chicago snapped in two goals within eighteen seconds and forced the play into overtime.

Mervin Wentworth confirmed the Chicago victory with a blazing drive from close in. Cook, Wentworth, and Adams swerved in three-abreast and Adams slipped the rubber to Wentworth for the goal that brought victory.

A crowd of 13,000 cheering and groaning fans sat over four hours in the fourth waiting for the verdict, as both teams flashed around at blazing speed that slackened but slightly even after 110 minutes of hockey. The Canadiens and the Hawks are both renowned for their speedsters, and the blistering pace told on the fans as well as on the players. The roaring hearty cheers of the first two periods died away into nearly soundless gasps of apprehension as the Hawks staged a magnificent comeback and downed the popular French team.

Gagnon Scores First

Canadiens tore into the Hawks with workman-like zeal at first. Five minutes ticked off before the first goal. Marty Burke broke quickly down right wing and swung a pass to George Mantha, who barely touched to make the puck slide to Johnny Gagnon's stick. Little Johnny whipped a corner shot into the twine and the crowd broke loose with a throaty roar of joy. In the second period Canadiens made the red light blink again. Pete Lepine made the play, spurting through centre for a quick shot as he reached the Hawks defence. He got through and dug the puck out from behind the net where his shot went a few inches wide, to pass out to George Mantha. The young Canadien's wingman was in perfect position for the vicious scoring drive he ripped past Chuck Gardiner.

So far the glory of the battle was all with her Redshirt crew. They rashly decided to play a defensive game. For most of the third period they managed to turn back the continuous flood of ambitious Hawks. They heaved the puck down to the Chicago end of the rink whenever the chance presented itself. They eased the pressure and tried to coast home behind their 2-0 lead.

Johnny Gooselig flashed across the blue line and sent a forward pass into the right wing corner. Mush March coasted in like an express train, uncovered for the moment. He picked up the pass in his stride and lifted the puck into the far corner of the cage with a wrist shot. The puckwas faced off again, and eighteen seconds later Tommy Cook passed to Adams as they split the Habitant defence. Adams was close in on Hainsworth and placed a waist-high shot cleanly in the cords.

With three minutes to go the Canadiens sprang to life and a fierce drive carried them into Chicago territory, only to be baulked by the grinning Chuck Gardiner, one of the best goalies in the game.

There were doleful, dejected faces in the crowded hockey temple, and wild cheers and much back-slapping around the Chicago bench. The score was tied and overtime necessary.

The Hawks were enheartened, and carried the terrific offensive into the overtime. Sheer man power told. Manager Tobin shifted his front ranks at precise three-minute intervals. The Canadiens were done in. They stumbled and fumbled. The Hawks were invincible. They swept in on Hainsworth again and again, peppering him from all angles. The Canadiens limbered up again and their heavy artillery boomed in at all angles on Gardiner. Chicago kept up the killing pace, and the Habitants gradually weakened again.

Pepper Hainsworth

Adams, March and Gootselig beat a tattoo on Hainsworth's pads from close in. Marty Burke and Sylvio Mantha, stout Canadiens' defence, who went practically the whole route last night, were out on their feet. The stage was set for the climax, and it came in a beautiful three-man attack.

The Hawks earned their victory. It took pluck and perseverance to come from behind a two-goal deficit to tie the score in the last five minutes of scheduled play. That same doggedness carried them buoyantly through the overtime to a victory that did not come till twenty minutes after midnight.

It has been said that the Hawks have no outstanding star. It was difficult to pick their most valuable unit last night. Gottselig, Mush March, Adams, Ripley, Doc Romnes and Wentworth were constant threats.

Chicago Hawks are the pick of the wise money to take the Stanley Cup. They need only the win Saturday night to establish themselves as world's professional hockey champions. They stayed the route last night and in the longest game of the National Hockey League season and finished fresher than the chastened Canadiens. They escaped injury, and will probably be in better shape than the Habitants when the two teams take the ice again Saturday.

Clever Design In O.B.A.A. Souvenirs

Neat souvenirs, in the form of lapel buttons, were carried away last Saturday by delegates to the O.B.A.A. Convention, largely through the generosity of the local Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber was approached by the ballplayers of this city, and asked if they would care to provide some sort of souvenir for the delegates. The suggestion was well received, and the task of selecting a memento of the occasion was left to Frank G. Stinson, manager of the Chamber, who personally designed a button which received favorable comment from all the recipients.

The design chosen was a circular badge, with an embossed miniature of the Lift Locks here, occupying the whole centre and with a white enamelled baseball at the bottom; around the outer rim of the badge were inscribed the words, "Peterborough—O.B.A.A. 1931," while at the rear the badge is crossed with two baseball bats.

THREE IN TIE FOR 2ND PLACE

Clapper, G. Mantha and Adams Amass Total of Six Points in N.H.L. Play-off Averages.

MORENZ FAILS TO COUNT.

TORONTO, Ont., April 10 (C.P.).—George Mantha, a rookie wingman who has made the grade on the flashy line-up of Les Canadiens, Montreal's Stanley Cup defenders, adding another goal to his total last night when the Flying Frenchmen went down to defeat before the Chicago Blackhawks, now ranks second with Dit Clapper, Boston, in standing of marksmen in the National Hockey League's play-offs.

Stewart Adams, the Blackhawk wingman, who had difficulty making the grade in the International Hockey League with London in the midwinter, has proved one of Chicago's best playmakers. Last night he scored the goal which tied the game and sent it into the longest overtime spell of the season. Then to cap his fine work he gave Cyclone Wentworth a beautiful pass for the winning marker. Adams has advanced to second place in the point scoring with Mantha and Capper.

The most unusual feature of the play-off scoring, however, continues to centre about Howie Morenz's failure to net the rubber. Last night's contest was the eighth for the Habitants nd outside of giving four assists, the league-leading point scorer has met with little success.

INDIANS WIN DECIDING TILT

Boston Bruin Club Defeated 3-2 in Final Game of Canadian-American League.

WINNER'S THIRD TITLE.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 10.—The Springfield Indians won the championship of the Canadian-American Hockey League and a year's lien on the Henri Fontaine Cup when they turned back the Boston Bruins' Cubs by a score of 3 to 2 here last night before 7,500 people. This represents Springfield's third championship in five years of the circuit's existence.

A solo by Earl Seibert, Tribal defense man, in the last minute of the regulation time proved the decisive tally, for Boston counted 15 seconds later from a general scrimmage. Springfield's second goal came because of a superfine solo by Gene Carrigan, a star in this series. The championship affair required seven games in all, instead of the customary five, two of the contests here having been ties and having consumed 270 minutes of playing time.

Every one of the bowlers who took part in these games ran into difficulties, leaving up more than an ordinary amount of pairs and singles and this condition according to some of the performers was due to the fact that the alleys on which the games were played had just been equipped with two new sets of pins which had not been used before.

Last night the Lucky Strikes stepped into the peppy Ranger outfit and took third money in the City League, winning the three game series by 300 pins with a total pinnage of 3255. The Rangers who have been maintaining a rather consistent stride all season had a decidedly off night, only two of their players being able to collect 600 pins and as a result were easy meat for the Strikers who were breezing along nicely. Bud Weese uncorked some snappy maple mauling to down 721 pins for the winners while Bill Prindible was next in line with 677.

Kelbrick's team in the K. of C. league this season have established a rather unique bowling record in so much as they have won four championships during the winter while the average of the five players for the fourteen weeks of bowling is 221. The following is the players with their individual averages: Firth, 309; Johnston, 219; Anthony, 223; Martyn, 234; Sweetman, 236.

April the 18th will see the start of the annual tournament at the Duffus Recreation Academy which will last about two weeks and this year besides the usual doubles, singles and team scores in five pins there will be some sort of ten pin competition which should prove very interesting to the followers of the big ball game.

Saturday will finish the last schedule game in the City League ten pin loop which has enjoyed a very successful season this last battle being a postponed game, and the final averages should be ready early next week.

BOWLING GOSSIP.

The Canadians, winners of the second half of the schedule in the Men's City Five Pin Bowling League battled their way to a close victory over the Big Five, first half champions, on Tuesday night to take the championship of the league and first prize money. The game produced only mediocre bowling and neither team were able to top the 3000 mark in total pinnage which is rather unusual in this circuit in which the cream of the city's five bowlers participate. Neis Routley as usual led thew inners with a triple of 642 while H. Freeman was close behind with 625. For the Big Five, Chas. Cummings was the only player who was up to form and spilled

GORD. BRYDSON LEADS SCORERS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 10 (By The Canadian Press).—Gordie Brydson, wandering son of hockeydom, has found a happy home at last. The ex-Hamilton, ex-Toronto, ex-London forward, playing his first season in the American Hockey League, led the loop in scoring this season with 47 goals in 47 games. The mark is a new league record.

Biggest offensive treat of the Chicago Shamrocks, who finished fifth in the seven-team league, Brydson set up his goal-a-game by tallying 34 goals and 13 assists. The best previous scoring total had been set up last season by Larry Goyer, with 38 points.

Brydson's total placed him eight points ahead of Laurie Scott, ex-Saskatoon midget forward now with Duluth Hornets. Scott, with 28 goals and 11 assists, was two points ahead of his team-mate, Jack Leswick, who had 24 goals and 13 assists. Two points farther down in fourth place finished the ex-Selkirk lad, Joey Thorsteinson, with 21 goals and 14 assists.

Two Tulsa players, Leo La France and Frank Sheppard, another Selkirk boy, tied for fifth place, right behind them by one point. Williams' 33-point total is a league record for defence men. Eddie Bouchard, of Buffalo, and Donie MacFayden, of Chicago, are next, deadlocked with 32 points, while Gus Forslund, Duluth, and Gus Marker, Tulsa, each has 29 points.

Several new records were made in the league this season, including a high scoring mark made by the leading Tulsa club. The Oilers tallied 152 goals to break the mark made last year by St. Louis.

Aided by the stellar net-minding of "Paddy" Byrne, born in Ottawa, Kansas City Pla-Mors bettered their last year's league mark for defensive play, allowing only 63 goals in 48 games. Byrne, who holds the world record of seven consecutive shut-outs held opposing teams scoreless on 17 occasions.

Altered rules relative to overtime play and time games were distinct successes, figures show. During the season there was a total of only eight games which failed to reach decisions. In the 1929-30 season, the six clubs of the American League played 48 tie games. Under the present rules games go overtime 20 minutes if necessary.

One of the seven clubs, St. Louis, finished the season without a tie game, while Duluth had but one deadlocked game out of 48 played. Kansas City and Buffalo each had four ties; Tulsa and Chicago three each and Minneapolis two. There were only four scoreless tie games during the season, and Kansas City competed in all four.

Minneapolis Millers achieved the longest consecutive winning streak and accepted the most consecutive defeats. The Millers scored seven straight victories, but they also dropped 17 consecutive games.

16 Year Old Boy Dies Struck By Golf Ball

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., April 10 (C.P.)—Struck on the head by a golf ball two days ago, William Bomber, 16, of this city, is dead. While at play with friends, the lad was accidently struck behind the ear, but at the time complained of only a headache. Hours later, he began to experience severe pains and died shortly after a doctor had arrived. Death was attributed to a blood clot on the brain.

GERMANY LEADS IN ATHLETICS

Sports For Masses in Germany on Scale Not Approached Elsewhere.

WILL SOON STIR WORLD.

LONDON, April 10 (By The Canadian Press)—Master of Athletics and not Master of Arts will, in the near future, be the meaning of the "M.A." behind a German graduate's name. Germany's athletic prowess will soon stir the world to thought on methods of training and there is little doubt that many nations, Great Britain included, will have to revolutionize their systems of preparing athletes. Athletics are now a national issue and they are intimately bound up with political issues in that the highest pitch of manpower often determines a nation's fate in peace as well as in war.

Fraulein Martel Jacobs, the German girl javelin champion, who came here to teach English girl athletes, throws an interesting light on the German view of athletics. She is surprised that the British Government is not interested in the fitness of its subjects outside ordinary domestic obligations. How different are these things done in Germany. Government money builds and equips athletic tracks and stadiums, teaches trainers and pays them, when qualified to train on scientific lines all aspiring athletes. At the German Academy of Physical Education men and women are taught every branch of sport, athletics, physiology and anatomy. They have to take a degree just as an English under-graduate does at Oxford and Cambridge.

Fraulein Jacobs stresses the need for a better system of training in England. She is training English women in field events and thinks they are, potentially, the greatest track athletes in the world. She is astonished at the lack of qualified teachers and says the Germans will always come first until a system of training similar to that adopted by Germany is used in England. "Casual" is her word for the description of English athletic training, and she points out that not only the present but the future depends on the reorganization of the system.

The Chamber of Commerce does not devote its interests and work for any particular group nor does it seek to advance one thing to the detriment of another.

SCHNEIDER CUP RACE SETTLED

CAPTAIN CHOSEN.

LONDON, April 10 (By The Canadian Press)—Course, date and team for the Schneider Trophy contest are announced. As in 1929, when a British seaplane won the event at the record average of 328.6 miles an hour, this year again the competing craft will fly over a course plotted out in Solent and Spithead. Full consideration was given to the claims of other localities in Great Britain, including Belfast Lough, the mouth of the Humber River, the Firth of Forth and Morecombe Bay, but the special Schneider Committee of the Royal Aero Club decided that the Solent and Spithead provide the most suitable stretch of water for safe and efficient conduct of the contest.

The date chosen is Sept. 12, a Saturday which all those interested hope will reproduce the marvellous weather of the day in 1929 when the British and Italian seaplanes battled for the Trophy. This year teams from three countries are expected to compete, France having entered a team of men and machines to challenge the British and Italian teams.

Flight Lieutenant G. H. Stainforth is the only member of the 1929 team who finds a place in the list of those selected this year to fly the British racing craft, though Squadron Leader Orlebar, holder of the world's speed record, again has administrative control. Stainforth was thought by many experts in 1929 to be one of the very best of the splendid British and Italian pilots then engaged in practice flying and he was unfortunate in that the aeroplane selected for him to fly developed annoying fuel-feed trouble which kept it out of the race. He showed that he was practically immune from the ill effects noticed by most pilots in turning at extremely high speed. Where other very fit men suffered temporary "blacking out" due to blood being drawn from the head on high speed turns Stainforth remained unaffected.

A further point about the team is that for the first time it includes an officer of the Fleet Air Arm in Lieutenant G. L. Brunton. The other officers chosen follow expectations, four of them being attached to the Marine Aircraft Experimental Station at Felixstowe, where high speed research flying with the 1929 Schneider racers was done throughout last year, while the remaining member of the team belongs to the staff of the experimental section of the Royal Aircraft Establishment at Farnborough.

LEADING LOOP HITTER SIGNS A'S CONTRACT

BRAVES ARRIVE HOME.

St. Louis Major League Teams Also Home From Annual Training Trips.

Now that Al Simmons, leading batsman of the American league, has signed his contract and Pitcher George Earnshaw has reported to the club apparently in good physical condition, the champion Philadelphia Athletics wre ready with a full roster to-day for the opening of the 1931 campaign next week.

Both Simmons, who was not considered by Manager Connie Mack as a holdout, and Earnshaw, about whom reports of illness had been circulatd, worked out with the team yesterday at Shibe Park. Both looked to be in good trim. They did not go south with the team for spring practice, but spent seven weeks at Hot Springs, Ark., where they played with the Minneapolis club of the American Association.

Neither Simmons nor Manager Mack would reveal the salary that the slugging outfielder will draw or the length of the contract.

The boys at Charlotte, N.C., have begun to talk about who will pitch the opening game for the New York Giants and in the conversation the names of Clarence Mitchell and Fred Fitzsimmons crop up frequently. While many Giant pitchers are only in fair conditions, these two have come right along. Mitchell has been quietly getting into good shape, which often is good enough to beat any National league team while Fitz was able to hurl ten innings against the White Sox yesterday, making him the first Giant pitcher to go an extra frame.

The Braves pulled into Boston today to prepare for their Saturday and Sunday games with the Red Sox. They brought with them prospects of obtaining a good night-handed pitcher. Clise Dudley, who was traded to Philadelphia by Brooklyn with Elliott and a sum of money in exchange for Lefty O'Doul is the man Manager Bill McKechnie has in mind. The Phillies have asked for waivers on Dudley and the Tribesmen refuse to wave. Dudley may come to Boston.

The Boston Red Sox arrive home at noon to-day, their barnstorming trip north ended in a blaze of glory. Manager Shono Collins, who dropped off the train at Pittsfield on the way in to spend the day with his family, has ordered a day of rest for his squad prior to their wto game series with the Braves.

St. Louis' major league baseball teams, the Cardinals and the Browns, came home to-day from their annual training trips, and to-morrow they will open their annual 2 game spring series at Sportsman's Park.

Except for Ernie Orsatti in left field in puace of hold-out Chick Hafey, the Cardinals probably will oppose the Browns with the same line-up that completed last season. The Browns, however, will present numerous new faces.

A twenty-eight man Detroit Tiger squad arrived home this morning after two months of training on the west coast in which they engaged in 31 exhibition games. At least two pitchers and an outfielder still are to be pruned from the squad before the June 15 dead line. The Tigers still have three games scheduled for the exhibition season, all with Pittsburgh on the home lot.

CASUAL COMMENT

Fastiana is having its inning to-night at the Armouries, and followers of the manly art will be out in force. The big show starts at eight and lasts about two and a half hours. There'll be ten boxing bouts and a wrestling match, with the Rangers' Band supplying music in between.

• • • • • •

Gord Garwood was fortunate in getting two such good scrappers from Toronto as Cy Horner and "Red" Springer to box Len Post and Reg. Lesurf in the main bouts. They're champs at the Central "Y" up there, and expect to go through to provincial titles this Spring. They may get a real jolt here to-night.

• • • • • •

And we hear some of those Lindsay boys are pretty good with the dukes. They've been training for some time, and they may steal the show away from the local mittsers. But the latter are all in great shape and rarin' to go.

• • • • • •

The Wilman-Harris rassle ought to be good. Both Charlie Harris and the Lindsay grappler are all set and both are confident of throwing the other in a hurry. They weigh around 160 pounds.

• • • • • •

Gene Hurtubise will referee this go, and the boys had better be good or Gene may get mad and toss them both out of the ring. The boxing referee and the two judges will be announced from the ring just before the show starts. It ought to be a great card all around.

• • • • • •

Archie Weir is visiting his home here now after playing some classy hockey this winter with Niagara Falls Juniors. Archie, it will be remembered played for St. John's here winter before last. He expects to play with the Falls' seniors next winter. They think a lot of him down in the Big Roar town.

• • • • • •

The Rotary Juveniles are holding a workout to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock in James Stevenson Park (weather permitting). Ches. Mowry, manager, invites any one under age to come along, as it is an open tryout.

• • • • • •

Quite a crowd attended that All Saints' Boys Club banquet at Hooper's last night. And they certainly stowed away a lot of food Percy Hooper put up a swell spread, and the service throughout was fine. The boys gave him an enthusiastic vote of thanks after.

• • • • • •

This club has already done considerable, and is sure to be heard from often in different lines of athletics. They've put All Saints' Rink over successfully, and are going to have a basketball court on the same site this summer.

• • • • • •

They will put a shower bath in the clubhouse and have the runners start and finish there. There will also be props and poles for high jumping and such sports. It's quite likely the club will run both a softball and a baseball team this year, and they should, as they have all kinds of good material and a live bunch of officers at the head.

• • • • • •

Speaking of that boxing tournament again, we think George Graham and Fred Shaw will agree to act as judges. The former needs no introduction to fight fans around here, having often refereed boxing cards at Victoria Hall when that was the popular place for scraps.

• • • • • •

And Fred Shaw ought to know his stuff, having been a boxer of note throughout Ontario himself before coming to Peterborough. It's more than probable that Gord Garwood, well-known instructor, will act as the third man in the ring. All in all, there should be no kicks.

• • • • • •

A number of girl softballers have told us that they were strong for a local girls' league this summer, and hoped something would be done. Well, girls, why not call everybody who is interested together at a meeting and talk it all over?

WINGS LOOKING FOR AID FROM PRESENT CLUB

Manager Billy Southworth is Badly in Need of Good Moundsmen.

HAVE STRONG OUTFIELD.

International League Champions Shaken Up By Inroads of Major Leagues.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., April 10 (C.P.) — The Rochester Redwings, three times International League champions, are casting an anxious eye toward the St. Louis Cardinals as they prepare to battle for their fourth consecutive pennant.

When the major leaguers got through buying and drafting last Fall, Manager Billy Southworth found himself without Paul Derringer, John Berly and George Grant, the big trio of his pitching staff. As the result Southworth is depending on the parent club at St. Louis to come through with at least a couple of reliable veterans. Derringer appears to be making the grade with the Cards, while Berly is with the New York Giants and Grant with the Pittsburg Pirates.

None of the young pitchers has shown much promise in the training camp and if the Cards fail to come to his aid, Southworth will have to depend on Herman Bell, a veteran formerly with St. Louis; Carmen Hill, the bespectacled old timer who has seen service on numerous major league clubs; Ralph Judd, up from Houston, and Ira Smith, a holdover. In addition, he has Larry Irvin, a southpaw who was with the team last year, and Rufus Smith, a youngster, whose ability is merely problematical.

The outfield also was robbed of much of its punch, when the Cards claimed John (Pepper) Martin and Robert (Red) Worthington went up to the Boston Braves. Even with their loss the outer garden promises to be patrolled by the most powerful outfit in the circuit. Manager Southworth plans to do much of the outfield work himself and will be flanked by Ray Pepper, a holdover; George Fisher, a hard hitting youngster sent to the Redwings from St. Louis; Waddy Holm, of Houston, and a youngster, Cosmos Cotelle, up from Danville of the Three Eye League.

Sisler at First

Jimmy Collins, the league's ranking first baseman last year, is getting a trial with the Cardinals, but the Red Wings have George Sisler, king of them all in his prime, to hold down the initial sack. Two other veteran infielders, George Torporcer and Joe Brown were sold to Jersey City and Charley Wilson went to the Boston Braves, but Manager Southworth has plenty of material.

Jim Jordan from Greensborg of the Piedmont League is sure to start at second base, with Bill Myers, up from Danville, Ill., at short, and the veteran, Red Rollings, obtained from the Braves, at third. In Jordan and Myers, the Red Wings have two of the most promising youngsters in minor league baseball. There also is a chance that Wilson may be returned by the Braves.

One new catcher, Mike Ryba, will assist the veterans, Paul Florence and Clarence Jonnard, behind the plate.

City Basketball Players Enjoy Jolly Sports Banquet at Y.W.C.A.

CONGRATULATE WINNERS.

The girl basketball players of the city had a very enjoyable banquet in the Y.W.C.A. last evening when cups were presented to the winning teams of the league, and songs filled the event with merriment. St. Paul's team won the senior cup, the Y seniors took the runners' up cup, and the Y elementary team were the junior winners.

During the course of the banquet old time songs were heartily rendered under the directorship of Howard MacDonald, with Mildred Morphet at the piano. A very pleasing entertainment was given by Isobel Duffus and Hazel Bradley who, attired as Mexican signorinas, displayed remarkable skill in their true Latin-American dancing. Two duet numbers were given by Velma Blackmore and Edith Culcheth.

The first toast of the evening, "To the King," was proposed by Hector McLeod, who presided as chairman. In giving the toast, "To Basketball," Maisie Cowan briefly outlined the history of the game and mentioned its features as a character builder and as a means of physical development. Michael Staskopf, as coach of the Y. elementary team who were the junior champions, ably responded to this toast.

Speaking of the girls' basketball league, Hector McLeod noted the wonderful enthusiasm of the girls during the past year. He stated that seven teams consisting of about seventy players had entered the league. He also noted a much higher pitch of excitement which entered into the every game of the cage playoffs. Mention was also made of the "Blue Petes," a newly formed team who did exceptionally well in the league. Mrs. E. E. Harvey, president of the local Y.W.C.A. also added her congratulations to all of the teams.

The presentation of the cups was carried out by John H. Vernor. Arleigh Comstock, captain of the St. Paul's team, received the cup for the senior championship; Isobel Davidson, captain of the Y seniors, the cup for the senior runners' up; Sybil Ecobichon, captain of the Y elementary team, the cup for the junior championship. The players in the St. Paul's basketball team were presented with pins by Mrs. Harvey. The captains of each of the winning teams delivered short addresses in appreciation of their receiving awards and thanked their teams for the wonderful co-operation shown throughout the season.

Presentations were made by the girls of various teams to their coaches. Robert Sturgeon received a gift from the Y seniors; Charles McLeish, from the St. Paul's team; Hector McLeod, from the Westclox girls; Carl Routley, from the Blue Petes; Michael Stoskopf, from the Y elementary; Howard MacDonald, from the senior schoolgirls. Following the words of thanks by each of the coaches, the singing of "O Canada" brought another successful year in the history of girls' basketball to an enjoyable close.

All Saints' Boys Association Attend Theatre Party Last Evening.

PRESENTATIONS MADE.

Forty members of the All Saints' Boys Athletic Club enjoyed a banquet at Hooper's last night, followed by a theatre party to the Capital. It was by way of a token of appreciation to the club in general and several persons in particular, for the manner in which they had put All Saints' rink over so well through the winter.

Percy Hooper served a fine dinner and everybody enjoyed it a great deal. Immediately after, Bill Kay, president of the club, made several presentations on behalf of the members to some who were more responsible for the rink's success. Those who received the tokens of appreciation were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hope (the latter absent) George Gimblett, Jr., past president of the club, and Frank Frost. Each made a short acknowledgement, disclaiming any credit for their part.

Bill Kay spoke on the plans of the club for their coming year, and there were several other short talks humorous.

Women Taken on for War Work at Lakefield Plant During Past Week.

LIGHT WATER SUPPLY.

LAKEFIELD, April 10.—(Examiner Corresondence).—The Canada Cement Company's local plant took on a number of men for repair work this week and the plant superintendent, E. W. Bailey, has announced that the plant will re-open May 1st instead of June 1st, as planned by the head office. This is good tidings for the employees and for the village at large as every person in the community benefits directly or indirectly by the Canada Cement plant operating. There is one bad feature and that is the poor water power, the snow melted but was absorbed by the ground and the river benefited very little. The government is building up Stoney Lake but the river here is very low indeed. The need of heavy rains is very great.

UNCLE WIGGILY AND JOIE'S JUMP.

Joie Kat was a little pussy boy and very funny. I don't mean that he looked funny or was always making funny faces, though, of course, he could make them if he tried. The funny part about Joie Kat was that he always wanted to be jumping. He would jump up in the air and then jump down. And he loved to jump over things like a chair, a table or maybe a hard word in his reading book.

The Lady Mouse Teacher in the Hollow Stump School did not like Joie to jump over, or skip, the big, hard word in his reading book.

"You must learn the hard words with the easy words, Joie," Miss Mouse would squeak.

"Yes'm," Joie would say, but he never did. Oh, you don't need to worry that Joie, because he was a pussy cat, tried to catch the Lady Mouse Teacher in the Hollow Stump School. Pussy cats and mousie mice do not, as a rule, live happily together. But Miss Mouse was different and so was Joie Kat.

He had a brother named Tommie Kat. Tommie like to walk the back fence and make funny mewing noises. There was a sister, Kittie Kat, who could purr most beautifully and wave her tail like a palm tree on a cocanut island. Kittie liked best to curl up in your lap and wash her face with her red tongue.

Across the top he went.

It was only Joie who liked so much to jump and I must tell you what happened to him and Uncle Wiggily one day. The rabbit gentleman was coming home from the store where he had gone to buy Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy a pound of sugar to make a cake. Joie Kat was coming home from school and he was not feeling very happy. For that day, in class, Joie had skipped or jumped over three hard words in his reading book.

"If you do that again, Joie," said Miss Mouse, "I shall keep you in after school."

"Yes'm," said Joie, politely, though he hoped the teacher would not do it.

Uncle Wiggily noticed that there was something wrong with Joie and the rabbit gentleman asked:

"Did anything happen in school, Joie?"

"Yes," mewed the pussy boy, "I am too good a jumper."

"Well, it is a good thing to be a jumper," chuckled Mr. Longears. "Though you shouldn't jump in school."

"Oh, I didn't exactly jump—like this!" exclaimed Joie and he gave a leap up in the air. "I just jumped over three hard, big words. I mean I skipped them in reading."

"You shouldn't do that, Joie," said Uncle Wiggily. "But perhaps you are too proud about being a good jumper in another way. Now it is never right for anyone to be too proud, so I will show you that there are others who can jump much better than you, and I don't mean jump over hard words, either."

"What do you mean?" mewed Joie. "Nobody can jump any higher or any farther than I can, unless, maybe, it's a kangaroo from Australia that we read about in geejogaffy class."

"That is where you are wrong," Joie," said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "I am not as good a jumper as a kangaroo, but I can jump better than you."

"Oh, excuse me, but I don't believe it!" mewed Joie. "Let's have a jumping race, Uncle Wiggily, will you, please?"

"Surely!" agreed the rabbit. "Let me see, now. There is a high, board fence," he went on, pointing one ear at it. "Can you take a run and jump over that fence and far out on the other side?"

"Of course I can!" cried Joie.

"Go ahead—try it!" said Uncle Wiggily. "If you can't do it I can. And even if you do jump over the fence I will go farther on the other side of it than you go."

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Joie. "Just watch my big jump!" Joie started to run toward the fence and, all of a sudden, he sprang up into the air to leap over it. Across the top he went whizz'ng and down he went out of sight. As he jumped Joie gave a loud mew and cried:

"Oh! Oh! Oh, dear!"

"Well, I guess he must have made a pretty good jump!" said Uncle Wiggily. "I guess Joie landed a long way on the other side of that fence. But here is where I beat him in this jumping race!"

Uncle Wiggily started to run to make his jump but just then Joie's sister, Kittie, came running around the end of the fence from the side where Joie was and Kittie mewed:

"Don't jump, Uncle Wiggily!" Don't jump as Joie did!"

"Why not?" asked the rabbit gentleman, stopping just in time.

"Oh, 'cause something terrible happened!" cried Kittie. "Mrs. Twistytail, the fat pig lady was on the other side of the fence with a basket of eggs, and Joie jumped right on her and on the eggs and everything! Oh, you ought to see!" And when Uncle Wiggily saw he laughed and did not jump. Nor did Joie jump that fence any more. Once was enough.

Joie and Mr. Longears helped Mrs. Twistytail up and saved what eggs they could and the pig lady only laughed. So it all happened for the best.

Quick, Mother!

First aid must be applied at once to avoid danger

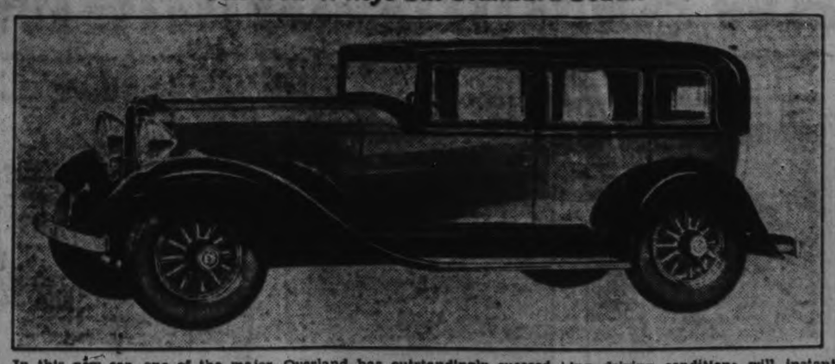
THE most important thing about first aid is to be quick about it. That's why you should have "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly always on hand for instant use.

Think of the child who is burned or cut. You don't want him to suffer a minute; you don't want to invite infections which often come from neglected skin abrasions.

"Vaseline" Jelly will help you. Apply at once. And apply a light bandage. Be prepared. Lay in a supply at once. For sale everywhere, in tubes and jars.

And remember when you buy that the trade-mark Vaseline on the label is your assurance that you are getting the genuine product of the Chesebrough Manufacturing Company, Cons'd, 5520 Chabot Ave., Montreal, Canada.

The New Willys Six Standard Sedan



In this new car, one of the major aims has been to combine beauty and mechanical superiority far beyond any that have previously characterized a low priced car. To this end we firmly believe that Willys-Overland has outstandingly succeeded.

The Willys Six, Model 98-D has been built on a wheelbase of 113 inches....it is a big car of liberal proportions, and yet its ease of handling under even the most trying driving conditions will instantly reveal the masterly job its designing engineers have done in combining the convenience and comfort of a big car with the responsiveness and obedience of a small one. See the new models now on exhibition at Howson Motors, Water street.

Fidelis Mission Band Meets At George St.

The Easter meeting of the Fidelis Mission Band of George Street United Church was held in te Sunday School Auditorium with a large attendance. The meeting opened with the call to worship, followed by the Lord's Prayer. After the roll call Easter story was told from memory by Pentland Wellwood and Warren Smith. Lenore Lewis and Helen Magee sang a duet and Helen Delahay gave a reading entitled "Kindergartens in Japan." A number of the members took part in prayer, each giving thanks for some particular thing in their young lives. This was followed by the taking of the thankoffering, the children marching in line to the platform singing "Hear the pennies dropping" as they deposited their givings.

FIRE DEPARTMENT HOLDS GATHERING

Many Attend Annual Social Function in Lakefield Town Hall.

(Examiner Correspondence)

LAKEFIELD, April 10.—The Lakefield Volunteer Fire Department held their annual card party and dance on Easter Monday night with a good crowd present. The attendance might have been large considering the cause, as the Fire Brigade is a local volunteer organization which gives service all the time to the people of the community, and this, their annual social event, is the place for all who appreciate their service to appear and show their support in a tangible way.

Thirty-five tables of euchre were played after which the brigade served refreshments, serving the large crowd which had been nearly doubled by a number who had come in for the dance which was to follow. Following the serving of refreshments, the efficient manner and the convenor in charge, T. A. Simpson announced the prize winners. Miss Muriel Boyce and John Allen won the first prizes and Miss Mary Tanner and Everett Roseborough the consolation prizes.

Miss Phyllis Charlton won the prize offered to the girl who sold the greatest number of tickets and Miss Merle Webster won second prize.

The music for the dancing was provided by Jack Marshall's orchestra of Peterborough. The committee in charge deserve congratulations on the success, T. A. Simpson, C. H. Hunter, L. Sabatino and G. Scriver. Every man of the brigade who was present from Chief Clerk down to the newest recruit was at his post and helped to make things go, showing a splendid brigade's efficiency.

Another interesting feature was the presence, this year as usual (for while no longer an active member, he is still a supporter and booster of the fire brigade) of the oldest fireman in Lakefield, W. H. Casement, who was a member of the first Lakefield Volunteer Fire Department. Mr. Casement spoke of the great improvement in the equipment which was hand power in the early days with motors still not dreamed of.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Lakefield Agricultural Society held on Wednesday night the dates of the Fair were set for September 21st and 22nd. Committees were appointed to ask for grants and canvas the district.

Doumergue's Address Astonishes Germans

BERLIN, April 10 (C.P.).— Mild astonishment to-day greeted published reports of an address by President Doumergue of France at Nice prior to his departure for Tunis yesterday.

It was felt generally in this capital that he greatly overstressed the menace to peace which some foreign governments profess to see in the Austro-German Economic Union.

The industrialist Allegemeine Zeitung, commenting, said that reiterations of the old phrase of threatened French security was gradually becoming ridiculous.

GAR WOOD SET FOR SPEED TRY

Detroit Manufacturer Attempting to Set New Water Record at Indian Creek.

AWAITS WEATHER.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 10.—(CP)—Odis Porter, timer for the American Automobile Association, was expected here to-day to install electrical timing apparatus along the measured mile course in Indian Creek for Gar Woods' attempt to regain the world's speedboat record.

Wood last night said his Miss America IX was in readiness for the trial but he did not say when he expected to make his run. He said he would wait until weather and water conditions were favorable.

The Detroit manufacturer returned to Miami Beach last Sunday to prepare his craft for the assault on the mark of 103.49 miles an hour, set by Kaye Don of England, in Buenos Aires last week.

Wood piloted the Miss America IX on the Indian creek course March 20 at an average sped of 102.56 miles an hour.

KANSAS CITY GETS BACK IN PLAY-OFFS

Pla-mors Blank Tulsa Oilers in Third Game of American League Series.

KANSAS CITY, April 10. — Kansas City Pla-Mors got back into the American Hockey League play-off fight last night defeating Tulsa Oilers 2 to 0. Oilers won each of the first two games of the best-of-five series at home. Remaining games will be played here.

A packed house of 6,500 fans witnessed the contest. With only six minutes to play in the third, McCusker, the Oiler goalie, dove out to make a stop and Mitchell, Pla-Mor centre, came in, grabbed the puck, and slapped it in for the first score. Less than a minute later, McCusker shunted the puck to one side of the cage, but McCormick passed to Halderson, who drove it into the net.

It was Byrne's 20th shutout of the season.

Kansas City — Goal, Byrne; defence, McLeod and Halderson; centre, Campbell; wings, Goodman and McCormick; subs., Jagunick, Healey, Mitchell, Jamieson, Dunfield, and Ranger.

Tulsa — Goal, McCusker; defence, Lafrance and Marker; centre, Keats; wings, Hansen and Williams; subs., Moffatt, Wakeford, Metcalfe, Sheppard and Trapp.

Officials—O'Leary and O'Hara.

CUBAN CAR SEEN IN CITY

Of particular interest to citizens in the vicinity of the Examiner office on George street yesterday afternoon was a car bearing a Cuban license plate. The car, a seven passenger Cadillac eight, had evidently had a long trip from the Island of Cuba, across the Mexican Gulf by steamer transport to Florida or New Orleans, and then up the Atlantic seaboard and across the border to Toronto and Peterborough.

The license plate had a silver background with red license figures. On the right hand side of the plate was a large C with the letters U B A arranged vertically inside of it. Below this plate was another bearing the Ontario series number EK 409, showing that the owners had decided to spend at least the summer in the Province.

Nearly 7,000 families, each consisting of four persons, are occupying one-room houses in London.

HOMANS ELIMINATED IN N. AND S. TOURNEY

Englewood, N.J., Star Falls Before Consistent Shooting of T. Suffern Tailer.

PINEHURST, N.C., April 10.—(CP)— The 31st annual North and South Amateur Golf Tournament today moved into the semi-final round with Eugene Homans, the 1930 champion, a looker-on.

The Englewood, N.J., star fell yesterday before the consistent shooting of T. Suffern Tailer, Newport, R.I., linksman. Tailer had the defending champion one down at the turn and on the 14th hole laid him a stymie to win the match, five and four.

George T. Dunlap, Jr., of New York, the medalist, whose machine-like stroking has made him a sensation in the tournament, continued his march by defeating Howard Tryon, Elmira, N.Y., 7 and 5.

Dunlap, Intercollegiate champion, to-day faced J. B. Ryerson, Cooperstown, N.Y., shotmaker, who advanced yesterday with a three and one victory over Richard S. Tufts, of Pinehurst.

Tailer's opponent was S. M. Parker, Jr., Pittsburgh, two and one victor over Forbes K. Wilson, York Harbor, Me., in the quarter finals.

Kid Berg's Title At Stake To-Night

DETRIOT, Mich., April 10. (CP)— Jack (Kid) Berg's junior welterweight title will be at stake to-night when he meets Billy Wallace, of Cleveland, veteran of 125 encounters, in a ten round bout at Olympia stadium.

Wallace has scored knock-outs in thirty of his fights, which gives him a margin of ring experience over the pride of Great Britain.

Berg, however, has demonstrated a punishing offense and an ability to take it on defense which has enabled him to defeat the best this country has to offer within the 130-140 pound limits. Both were expected to weigh in at close to 140 pounds.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 35 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The boy and the ape were sleeping in the safety of a great tree when the booming sound smote upon their ears. Both awoke at once. Akut was the first to interpret the strange cadence. "The great apes," he growled. "They dance the Dum-Dum. Come, Korak, son of Tarzan, let us go to our people." Months before Akut had given the boy this name. He could not master the man-given name of Jack. In the apes' language Korak means Killer.

Now the Killer arose upon the tree's branch and stretched his lithe young muscles. The ape stood up, too, squatting after the manner of his kind. Low growls rumbled from his great chest, growls of exicted anticipation. The boy growled in harmony with the ape. He was happy and expectant. Now all thoughts of London and civilization were gone. Except for form and mental development, he was as much an ape as the great, fierce Akut.

Louder and louder came the sound of the drum's beating as the two came nearer to the dancing apes. Presently through a break in the foliage the whole savage scene burst upon the boy's eager eyes. To Akut it was a familiar sight, but Korak's nerves tingled as he looked. The great bulls were leaping in the moonlight about a flat-topped, earthen drum, which three old females were beating with resounding whacks from heavy sticks.

Akut knew the customs of his kind, and he was too wise to make their presence known until the frenzy of the dance had passed. When the drum was quiet and the tribe had feasted he would hail them. After a parley he and Korak would be accepted into membership, unless there might be some who would object. But Akut hoped there would be those who had known Tarzan. His dearest wish was that Korak, son of Tarzan, should become king of the apes.

dressed and got Mr. Hisey out."

No Attempt to Put Fire Out

Bell stated neither he nor Gastle, the only ones present, made any attempt to put out the fire. Gastle, he said, refused to go back into the house as he had "a hard enough time getting out."

Mr. Cleaver made strenuous objection to a number of witnesses standing within hearing of the court. The Crown produced a list of witnesses which was given to a court officer. "This is the third occasion I have had to draw attention to witnesses standing just outside of the court room" said Mr. Cleaver.

Thomas Woods, Waubaushene, contractor stated Elliott had engaged him to raise and repair the house at a cost estimated at $5,000. He had attended the furnace, firing it with wood until the late afternoon of February 18, when he left it to Gastle.

Crown Attorney F. G. Evans at the noon recess intimated that while Gastle's hearing would probably terminate late this afternoon the hearing of R. J. Elliott, on the same charge, might be adjourned until a later date.

Hughes Cleaver counsel for Gastle declined to make any statement regarding what action he proposed on the question of Barrie being the proper venue for the hearing.

Great Span Ticket Holders Return Home

SAINT JOHN, N.B., April 10.—Two young Irishmen leave here on board the C.P.R. Duchess of Bedford to-day to receive a fortune. They were joint holders of a ticket on Great Span, the horse that finished eighth in the great Irish Hospital sweepstake on March 27. They are William Thornberry and John Bennett, and they expect anywhere from $50,000 down. They had been working as laundrymen at the Mountain Sanitorium in Hamilton, Ont. But they did not know if they would be coming back to Canada or not. They liked Canada "all right," but Ireland was home.

BANDITS OVERRUN HONAN PROVINCE SLAYING, LOOTING

Scores of Towns Not Molested For Decades Levelled By Outlaws' Torches.

SUMMER OF TERROR.

Crops Not Being Planted and Famine Looms For This Winter.

KAIFENG, Honan, China (A.P.)—Massacres, looting and burning of towns by gangs of Communist bandits have become almost daily occurrences in Honan, Central China Province, of which this city is Capital.

Refugees reaching here reveal that few districts of the province have been free from attack. Scores of towns and villages that have not been molested for decades have been levelled by the torches of the outlaws, while the more wealthy and substantial citizens have been carried off for ransom.

Summer of Terror

With Chinese Government forces for suppression of brigandage concentrated in Kiangsi and Honan provinces, the people of Honan are confronted with spending another summer in terror. Crops will not be planted in many sections and the consequence will be that there is not enough food this wnter.

Travelers arriving in Kaifeng state that some districts are in state of complete ruin. Mihsien, for example, a short time ago one of the most fertile and contented districts in the provinces, is now a barren and depopulated area. Villages in the county are charred masses of ruins.

The populations fled while a band of 3,000 brigands, waving the Communist sickle and hammer banner, and brandishing torches, looted every hamlet and town in the district. After the bandits left, soldiers arrived, commandeering what was left in food.

SPEAKER'S POST BE HARD TO FILL

Longworth's Death Proves Major Disaster For Republican Party.

DEMOCRAT MAY FOLLOW.

(By Ken Clark, C. P. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Apr. 11. — The unexpected death of Nicholas Longworth, Republican leader and speaker of the House of Representatives, is a major disaster for his party. The result may be the election of a Democrat as Speaker of the House with all that implies — the power of regulating debates shifting to the Democratic side, the steering of important legislation falling into Democratic hands.

When Congress reassembles next December if no other casualties are suffered in the meantime, the line-up will be 217 Republicans, 217 Democrats, and one Farmer-Laborite, representative Kvale, from Minnesota. However, fifteen of the Republicans are Progressives. It is a question whether these might be expected to vote for the election as Speaker of the three leading Republican candidates John Q. Tilson of Connecticut, Bertrand H. Snell of New York, or William R. Wood of Indiana.

Aside from his ability in strategy and his personal prestige, Longworth was greatly valuable to the party as a uniting force. Had he lived he would have been re-elected to the Speakership. But in the situation which now presents itself the Republicans have not a candidate for the office who would be acceptable to the full strength of the party.

Should the Republicans select a candidate who did not meet with the approval of all of its progressive section the Democratic candidate, John W. Garner of Texas, would be elected. The alternative would be the election of a Progressive Republican.

Toronto Dressmaker Is Beaten On Street

TORONTO, Ont., April 11 (C.P.)—Mrs. Florence Mauthe, 32, designer and forewoman employed at a local dress manufacturing company, while proceeding to her work this morning, was attacked and badly beaten by two men who escaped in a motor car.

Mrs. Mauthe had just left her home when the two men approached her. One struck her on the face and knocked her down, she said.

Shortly after the assault police arrested Morris Fisk, of Belleview Ave., on a charge of aggravated assault. He is employed by a dress firm on Spadina Ave., and police state, was identified by Mrs. Mauthe as one of her assailants.

Other workers at the factory where Mrs. Mauthe works are on strike.

FINN ACQUITTED OF SLAYNG MATE

No Defence Witnesses Were Called in Haileybury Case.

JURY OUT 4½ HOURS.

HAILEYBURY, April 11.—Kalle Ollimaki, Finnish woodcutter, accused of having murdered Kalle Pukki, a compatriot and fellow-worker, at Myer's Camp, near Englehart, last June, was acquitted last night at 8:30 o'clock by an Assizes jury, after four and a half hours' deliberation. Mr. Justice Garrow remarked that the jurors had taken a merciful view of the case.

Justice Garrow, who had to leave the bench Thursday when overcome by an attack of indigestion, was able to resume his duties yesterday.

Judge's Charge

"This case," the Judge told the jury in summing up the evidence, "is a fair illustration of the administration of British justice in this country. Foreigners must be taught that, while they will be given a fair trial, they will, in the end, receive justice. The free use of deadly weapons will not be tolerated in this country."

The prisoner was alleged to have stabbed Pukki with a pocket-knife, the latter dying less than 25 hours later in hospital at Englehart.

The case for the Crown was concluded early in the afternoon, and the defense sprang a surprise by not calling any witnesses, George Mitchell, K. C., accused's counsel, contending himself, as he did at the former trial of his client, when a jury disagreed, with addressing the jury.

LINDSAYS GIVEN YEAR AT GUELPH BY JUDGE HUYCKE

Guilty of Stealing Chickens From Miss A. Johnson, Campbellford.

COMPANIONS APPEAL.

Offence, Says Judge, is One of Meanest and Most Contemptible Things.

(Examiner Staff Correspondence)

COBOURG, April 11.—Angus and Manson Lindsay of Campbellford were sentenced each to one year in the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph by Judge Huycke, Friday afternoon for the theft of twenty chickens on January 9th from Miss A. Johnston of Campbellford.

Two companions of theirs in this raid of roost, W. Parcells and Ray Martin, were sentenced by Police Magistrate Floyd on March 28 to two years' imprisonment, and through their solicitor, Thos. Hall, K.C., have entered an appeal.

The Lindsey brothers have been in jail here nearly two months, a detention which Mr. Hall suggested to Judge Huycke might be taken into consideration by a commensurate reduction of their sentence.

His Honour however, declined to grant this request. At the opening of court Mr. Hall said he had been so busily engaged that he was unable to go to Campbellford for the purpose of obtaining witnesses to give character evidence for the two prisoners. He admitted in reply to Judge Huycke's question that one of the brothers had been previously convicted on a charge of breaking and entering, and the other for a moonshine-making breach of the Inland Revenue Act.

Addressing the prisoners, Judge Huycke said: "Even supposing these Campbellford men did give you the best character that would not justify what you have done. You must know that your record has not been very good in any respect. Under all the circumstances I don't think anyhing is to be gained by having those men subpoenaed from Campbellford. The offense of which you have been found guilty is perhaps not a very serious crime, but it is one of the meanest and most contemptible things I know. If you are half as good as you pretend to be you would never have done it. I want to say this to you, when you are in the Reformatory it would be very wise for you to consider your past and what it has brought you to, and also consider your future and what it may bring to you. I can only express the hope that when you have returned to your home you will be more careful about your reputation and character than you have been. You will have a chance to learn something useful, and I hope that after your time is up you will live respectable, honest lives."

Eight Fire Brigades Make Wild Dash When Blaze Breaks Out in Royal Mint

OTTAWA, Ont., April 11 (C.P.). — More excitement than damage resulted from a small fire in the furnace room of the Assay Department at the Royal Mint here last night. The blaze was quickly extinguished after a small amount of woodwork had been scorched, but the uproar as eight fire fighting apparatus from five stations dashed toward the vicinity of such buildings as the General Hospital, mother house of the Grey Nuns, and the Dominion Archives caused a wild commotion among the citizenry. A gas stove is believed to have set the woodwork ablaze.

WILL VISIT CANADA.

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 11. (CP) Prince Takamatsu of Japan and his bride set out to-day to discover what makes the United States tick.

He didn't put it quite that way but it seemed, nevertheless, to be the general idea of the interview he gave shortly after his arrival.

"I look forward to seeing all the things that make for the greatness of America and to meeting many of its prominent people" he said.

Prince Takamatsu, younger brother of Emperor Hirohito and a member of the oldest reigning family in the world, is travelling incognito but his first full day in the United States was filled with official functions.

21-gun Salute

The couple stepped yesterday across a shaky gangplank from the liner Aquitania to the city's welcoming yacht, took a salute of 21 guns as they passed Governors Island, and rode up Broadway through lanes of cheering crowds. At the battery a group of Communists had assembled, and when the Royal Party was getting into its automobiles a handful of them rushed forward with cries of "down with the Japanese hangmen" police made a counter attack and the demonstration was over within a minute.

After a brief visit to Washington the Prince and Princess will leave for Canada and will visit Quebec City, Montreal and Ottawa before sailing westward on their trip home via Vancouver.

SIXTH MAN SOUGHT.

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 11.—The few knickacks which she left behind in her apartment on the night she was killed, their value not exceeding $200, from the entire estate of Vivian Gordon, a Broadway figure in connection with whose death five men have been arrested.

In the days when things were "breaking" for her, Vivian Gordon was popularly supposed to have accumulated $100,000 through transactions which, oplice said, included blackmail. Even at the time of her death six weeks ago it was gossiped that she had $75,000.

No Real Property.

The shrinkage of her fortunes was revealed when the public administrator appeared in Surrogate Court to ask for letters of administration. She left no real property. Detectives were convinced that she depleted her estate in financing shady financial deals and that her death may have resulted when she demanded a return of the investment.

Harry Stein, a racketeer arrested on suspicion of homicide in the case, and four other men remained in custody to-day while police continued their search for a sixth man. It was intimated that the man now sought is the one who drove the car from which Miss Gordon's body was thrown into Van Cortland Park on the night of February 26.

Attorneys for Stein, threatening habeas corpus proceedings said he could establish an alibi.

J. R. Lynn, H. W. Cunningham and Arthur Cook.

VERDICT ACQUITS PAIR IN OTTAWA ON FRAUD COUNT

Jury Out 7 Hours and Half to Decide Verdict in Bouchard, Chartrand Case.

OTHER COUNTS PENDING.

Mr. Justice Kelly Resents Loud Applause as Decision is Announced.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 11. (CP)—A verdict of not guilty was returned after seven and one-half hours deliberation by the jury in the case of J. Leo Bouchard and Lionel Chartrand, Dominion Government employees charged with conspiracy to defraud in connection with alleged manipulation of civil service examination papers.

The verdict, returned shortly before last midnight after an eight day trial at the spring assizes of the Supreme Court of Ontario, does not free Bouchard former senior examiner for the civil service commission, and Chartrand, employed in the income tax branch. The jury-decision disposed of but one of three joint indictments against the men. The other joint counts charge conspiracy, and conspiracy at common law. There are also seven indictments against Bouchard alone, comprising charges of alleged forgery, fraud and falsification of documents. Trial on these remaining charges has been traversed to the Fall Assizes and in the meantime the two accused are on freedom under $4,000 bail each. Whether or not this group of charges will be pressed in court, it is understood, is a matter for decision by the Attorney General's Department of Ontario.

Judge Resents Outburst.

When the jury foreman announced the verdict of "not guilty" there was a dramatic scene in court. Many of the large crowd which awaited the decision broke into loud applause until Mr. Justice Kelly sternly declared: "I will have you all in jail."

Tears streamed down Bouchard's face as his brother rushed forward to embrace him. Chartrand's countenance was somewhat flushed, but otherwise he maintained the stolid demeanor which had been characteristic of him throughout the protracted trial.

The jurymen retired to consider the case after a 66-minute address from the court. Mr. Justice Kelly told them they could not convict one man and allow the other to go free. It required two to conduct a conspiracy.

The Crown sought to prove that Civil Service examination papers were illegally marked by Bouchard, under whose surveillance two examinations were held in Montreal last year for the postal service. Among the odd half hundred witnesses who appeared for the Crown, there were many postal workers who testified to paying sums in the vicinity of $400 to have their examination papers "doctored" so they would be sure of passing. Chartrand was pointed out in court by certain witnesses as the man who had collected the money.

TEAMS PLAY BEFORE GREAT CROWD MOTHERWELL GETTING 2 IN FIRST CELTIC EVENING UP IN LAST HALF

Wind Blows From West and Outfits Take Full Advantage in Turn.

BRILLIANT SOCCER.

Stevenson Opens Scoring With Hard Drive From 20 Yards Out.

GLASGOW, Scotland, April 11 (C. P. Cable). — Motherwell and Celtic fought in a high wind and before an enormous crowd to a two-all draw in the final of the Scottish Football Association Cup competition at Hampden Park to-day. The wind blew from the west, and each team got their share of it. Motherwell, who won the toss, played with it in the first half, and put in two goals. After the turn-around Celtic were able to equalize with the wind in their favor.

For the first five minutes the players were too excited by the occasion and the cheers of the multitude looking on to concentrate on playing their usual game. Gradually, however, both teams settled down to fine football. After R. Thomson, Celtic's right outside, had been thwarted right on the goal line, Motherwell came well into the picture with a strong drive by Wales, their right half. This was quickly followed up by McFayden, Motherwell centre, who forced McGonagle, Celtic left back, to make a hurried return. Stevenson, Motherwell left inside, fastened on the ball and steadying himself sent in an oblique shot from twenty yards out. J. Thomson, the Celtic goalie, dived and touched the ball but could not stop it.

The goal came after seven minutes of play. The success steadied ently and brilliantly. McMenemy, ently and brilliantly. McMenemy, Motherwell right inside, had a great try at the Celtic goal, but Thomson saved at the post. The Celts then had a rare let-off, McFadyen tramping on the ball after receiving a header from his right outside. Murdoch, with the goal open. McFadyen was only three yards out. The Lanarkshire team kept pegging away, and at the end of twenty-one minutes secured another goal, McMenemy being the scorer, the ball coming to him from Murdoch's header when he was fifteen yards away.

YOUTH 17 GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

MIND OF 13 YEAR OLD.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 11 (C.P.)—A sentence of life imprisonment was to-day pronounced on Thomas Edward Delaney, one day short of his seventeenth year, and self confessed to committing a serious offence against a ten-month-old baby girl. Sentence was passed by Mr. Justice Kelly at the weekly session of Supreme Court of Ontario.

The case was described by Mr. Justice Kelly as being "most inhuman and revolting beyond the belief of man."

"While you will be 17 years of age tomorrow," the Court said, addressing the prisoner, "you have the mentality of one of 13 years. You are, however, as responsible as the average."

Referring to report of alienists who had examined the boy, Mr. Justice Kelly said Delaney had no definite mental disorder, being generally defective mentally. One medical examiner declared during the trial that the young prisoner was apparently slated for a criminal career, having been previously found guilty of thefts, delinquencies and truancies.

LONGWORTH PAID FINAL TRIBUTES

House of Representatives Speaker is Laid to Rest at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, O., April 11.— The sealed casket containing the body of Speaker Nicholas Longworth, was at "Rookwood" the family home here today. Funeral services and interment were at 2 p.m.

The Government special train arrived from Aiken, S. C., where the Speaker died two days ago of pneumonia, at 7 a.m., E.S.T.

A crowd of early morning residents, many of them railroad employes, stood with bared heads as the body of the 61 year old Speaker was removed from the private car of Charles Clark, of Aiken, through a window and taken immediately to the family home.

Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, the widow, Mrs. James Curtis, of Aiken, at whose home the Speaker died, and Kermit Roosevelt, a brother of Mrs. Longworth, other occupants of the private car, went to the Longworth home.

Arsenal Clinches English League Lead

LONDON, April 11 (C. P. Cable).—Arsenal virtually clinched the championship of the First Division of the English League to-day, when they won their match with Grimsby Town. Aston Villa, runners up, also won, beating Sheffield United. The Arsenal, with only three more games to play, lead Aston Villa by six points. To miss the championship Arsenal would have to lose all their games and the Villa to win all theirs and have a better goal average.

There was no change at the bottom of the table after to-day's matches, Manchester United, Leeds United and Blackpool facing relegation, all lost.

STATUE PLANNED OF EVANGELINE

THREATS OF TORTURE NET BANDITS $30,465 FROM COUPLE IN CHICAGO

LOSE $26,315 IN JEWELS.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 11. (CP)—Threatening death and torture, four robbers, two of them masked, held up Frank W. Means, president of the Chicago Towel Company, and his wife, in their home early to-day, and fled with Jewelry and other valuables valued at $30,465. The Victims were held captives for more than an hour.

The Means, who had been attending a neighborhood theatre, were greeted by the quartet as they entered the lobby to their apartment home. Mrs. Means evaded them by rushing through the door and slamming it. They called to her that unless they were admitted they would kill Means.

Once inside, they took Mrs. Means into a bedroom and her husband into a front room. In the face of threats to burn their feet unless the couple handed over all their valuables Means directed them to places where jewelry valued at $26,315, a fur coat costing $3,950, $100 in cash, and two bags worth $100 were hidden.

SPECIAL DETAILS OF SOLDIERS POSTED IN ALL PUBLIC SQUARES ARMORED CARS PATROL STREETS

Theatres, Cafes, Music Halls Closed and Audiences Sent Home.

PRIVATE CARS HALTED.

Rumors State Many Arrests in Drive to Prevent Spread of Revolt.

LISBON, Apr. 11.—(AP)—Lisbon awoke today to find itself in the iron grip of the military. During the night heavy details of soldiers were posted in all public squares and elsewhere and today armored cars patrolled the streets, rifles and machine guns blinking from ugly portholes.

Theaters were closed and audiences sent home toward the close of performances last night and all cafes and music halls licensed to remain open all night were shut up summarily. Private cars and taxis were halted in the streets by police with rifles and drivers and occupants forced to show their papers.

Unconfirmed reports said that many persons had been arrested by the government of President General Carmona in a new effort to prevent the revolt which has been successful in Madeira and the Azores from spreading to the mainland.

Man Has Celebrated Two Silver Weddings

LONDON, April 11 (C.P.) — Plenty of people have been married twice or even three times, but few have celebrated two silver weddings.

Such happy fortune has befallen James Labden, aged 72, of Streatham, London. His present wife is aged 75.

"I have had two wonderful wives and I don't know which celebration has given me greater happiness," said Labden to-day.

HIGHEST TIDES IN FORTY YEARS

Dykes Built Two Centuries Ago By Evangeline's People Crumble.

MILES OF LAND LOST.

GRAND PRE, N.S., April 11.—The Grand Pre dykes, built by the people of Evangeline nearly two centuries ago, have at last given way to the restless tides of the Bay of Fundy, and what a few months ago was fertile, sweeping dyke-land, is now a waste of muddy waters.

According to unofficial authorities it is unlikely that the dykes will be rebuilt, owing to the tremendous expense entailed; and so will pass from the Acadian scene one of its most picturesque attendants—mile after mile of dykelands, flat and treeless, from ten to twenty feet below the surging tides of Fundy.

The ruin of these dykes, built by the first French occupants of the country in imitation of the dykes of the Low Countries, from which many of the colonists came, was accomplished by the highest tides seen on Fundy shores for forty years. The water rose higher and higher, with each succeeding tide, until at last in places it streamed over onto the dykelands. Then the ruin of the dykes was assured. Faster and faster streamed the water, wider and wider grew the gaps in the dykes, until at last great breaches over half a mile in length appeared in the sea walls.

Across the dyke-lands the water swept, moving in its relentless stride barns, shelters, fences and all that came within its way. Dyke-roads were submerged, and at last one small town woke up to find itself virtually an island. Train service was demoralized, and inconvenience of more sorts than one was experienced.

The loss to the farmers who owned the dyke-lands is tremendous. Hundreds of acres of land, formerly among the most fertile in the Annapolis Valley, renowned for its very fertile soil, have become wastes of water. And the chances for its reclamation seem very slim indeed.

But the greatest loss to the Land of Evangeline has not been altogether confined to the fertility of the dykelands. Among the greatest tourist sights, has been the wide, sweeping dykes, with their green sea-walls, above which Blomidon, like a great blue-green watchman, rose. Now, they are gone forever. The sea has won at last, in a war that has continued through two centuries.

CAPTAIN EAKER IS AFTER RECORD

Leaves Burbank, California, With Hopes of Reaching New York in 11 Hours.

MAKE ONE STOP.

BURBANK, Cal., April 11.— Captain Ira C. Eaker, United States' Army Air Corps test pilot, streaked off in a low wing, open cockpit monoplane here at 9 a.m. (P.S.T.) to-day for New York in quest of a new trans-continental speed record.

It was a beautiful take off, despite the heavy load of gasoline, and Eaker used only about half the 3,500 foot runway to leave the ground. Then he roared of into the darkness for Wichita, Kas., his only scheduled stop.

Taking with him an apple, an orange, some milk, chewing gum and a handful of cigars, Eaker remarked: "I could get along without gas, maybe, but not cigars."

The flier hoped to reach New York in 11 hours or less, including time for refueling at Wichita, which he expected would require abouut 20 he expected would require about 20 reach Wichita in about five hours.

Eaker started with 330 gallons of gasoline, 100 gallons less than capacity, and hoped to average 215 to 220 miles per hour.

The record for the west-east flight is 12 hours, 25 minutes, set last July by Captain Frank Hawks, who averaged about 195 miles per hour.

HANGED INDIANS BECOME MARTYRS IN PEOPLES' EYES

Mangalore Youth Playing Role of Singh in Mock Trial is Strangled.

RADICALS IN ARMS.

Calcutta British Owned Paper Bitterly Scores Nationalists' Action.

CALCUTTA, Bengal, India, April 11. (AP)—Baghat Singh and his two compatriots dead have come to wield a far more powerful influence in India than they might ever have hoped to hold alive.

Throughout the length and breadth of India Singh and two who were hanged with him at Lahore a few weeks ago for the murder of a British police official are spoken of as martyrs to the National cause and are being venerated by the public.

A tragic sequel to the execution today in the town of Mangalore, Madras Province, shows somewhat the extent to which the executions have been publicized.

A twelve year old boy and some companions there were re-enacting the execution. After a mock court which condemned the three psuedo defendants to death the youngster taking the role of Baghat Singh mounted the scaffold and placed the noose around his neck exclaiming: "I give my life for India."

Rescue Too Late

In some unaccountable way the noose was tightened and the boy was strangled to death. A passerby seeing what had happened rushed to the boy but life was extinct. His presence, however, saved two other boys who seemed bent on carrying out the same experiment.

Mayor Subhas Gandra Bose, for a while leader of Radical opposition to Gandhi, recently in an address at Amritsar, declared "India must produce a thousand Baghat Singhs before she can attain independence." at the same meeting Pandit Malaviya declared: "Every Sikh is expected to come to the firing line."

In answer the Calutta Statesman, British owned, turned a thundering editorial to-day on what it termed the campaign of violence, murder and said sedition was practised by the Nationalists. "Ones blood turns cold, and ones heart sickens" it said, "at public utterances of these exponents of non-violence.

"Resolutions have been passed glorifying murderers of defenseless public officials whose only crime was that they did their duty. Sujjan who murdered Mrs. Curtis and attacked her two children as they sat innocent and defenseless in their garden is exploited as a national hero."

DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

ORILLIA, April 11.—"Death due to causes entirely accidental," was the verdict returned last night by the jury empanelled to investigate the death of Eileen Prophet, 17-year-old high school girl, who died on Wednesday following a motor accident from which Howard Webb, aged 18, and Mary Sullivan, aged 16, escaped unscathed.

MINDEN RESIDENT BADLY INJURED WHEN PINNED UNDER FALLING TREE

Rev. Stringer, Rural Dean of Haliburton County is Transferred to Stayner.

TOURIST OUTLOOK BRIGHT.

LINDSAY, April 11 (Examiner Correspondence)—An accident, which might have terminated fatally, occurred near the village of Minden on Wednesday when Marshall Harrison, son of William Harrison, of the village was injured. The father, in company with his son, were felling trees. One had been cut, but in its descent lodged in another tree. The men decided to fell the later tree, which after chopping operations had commenced, turned out to be rotten. Both trees fell to earth, pinning down young Harrison. After considerable effort he was finally released by his father. Dr. Crow was summoned from Minden, and it was found that Harrison's leg was broken beneath the knee and thigh and he also sustained injuries about the body. Luckily he fell into a small hollow when the trees caught him, and this saved him from being crushed to death.

Rural Dean Transferred

Rev. Mr. Stringer, of Minden, Rural Dean, of the County of Haliburton, has been transferred from Minden to Stayner. For nineteen years he has labored in the northland, being stationed during that time at Maple Lake, Haliburton and Minden. Rev. Mr. Stringer, who was born in England, is unmarried, and during his residence in Haliburton County, has resided in the Clergy House—a log lodge, which was built many years ago when the country was first settled, by the English Land Co., a rich organiaztion which acquired several townships in the northern country.

Tourist Prospects Bright.

Hotel and summer resort proprietors in this district are very optimistic regarding the tourist trade during the coming summer. Mr. J .E. Jackson of the Pattie House, Coboconk, in speaking of prospects on Thursday, stated that all his cottages had been secured by Americans for the months of July and August. The manager of a well-known resort at Bobcaygeon, is authority for the statement that he has received more applications this spring from the United States than during any previous year.

Reports of this nature have also been received from Fenelon Falls, Haliburton, as well as tourist centres along Pigeon River and Pigeon Lake.

Lakes Ice-Locked.

While the takes in the counties of Victoria and Haliburton (reservoirs for the Trent Valley Canal), are still ice-locked, there is sufficient evidence to warrant the fear that these bodies of water will be away below the spring-time level of past years.

This situation is viewed with much concern by power users, who are hoping for a copious rainfall or a series of rainfalls that will help fill the northern feeders. Cameron Lake, above Fenelon Falls, has dropped considerably, and very little water is going over the falls at the village. At the foot of the falls rocks, which have been submerged for years, are exposed to view and the same conditions exist below the two bridges. There is still considerable snow in the northland, but it will not increase the water supply to any noticeable extent.

Fierce Fight Seen If Campaign Renewed

AHMADABAD, India, April 11. —(C.P.).—Mahatma Gandhi, making the presidential address to-day at convocation of the Nationalist University he fonded in 1920, predicted that if the civil disobedience fight had to be resumed it would be fiercer than before.

"I try my utmost for permanent peace," he said, "but I find nature against us. To win swaraj (home rule) for 300,000,000 people is not easy. Those who have been steeped in slavery will not be awakened soon."

Drive Starts To Oust 100,000 Aliens In U.S.

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 11 (C.P.)— The New York Herald-Tribune, in a dispatch from its Washington bureau says a move to drive out of the United States 100,000 aliens who entered illegally, has been disclosed at the Labor Department. Reduction of unemployment is sought, and industrial centres in particular will feel the force of the drive.

The Government estimates there are 400,000 aliens in the country illegally, says The Herald-Tribune, but it is believed the statute of limitation and other circumstances protect 300,000 of these from the present deportation plan.

The effort to oust aliens, says the newspaper, supplements the Government's recent order for the with-holding of consular visas from all immigrants likely to become public charges. This order, it continues, "has all but shut off the influx of aliens from Mexico and Canada, and has greatly reduced the flow from Europe."

25,000 CROWD CAIRO AIRPORT AS GRAF LANDS

Crew of 350 British Soldiers Required to Handle German Dirigible.

STAYS ONLY HOUR.

New Passengers Taken Aboard and Craft Heads Toward Holy Land.

CAIRO, Egypt, April 11 (C.P.). — The Graf Zeppelin, slim gray world traveller, was drawn by British soldiers to a landing at dawn to-day at Almaza Airdrome, near the head of the Nile delta.

An hour later, after taking on new passengers, it roared aloft again, and allowing those aboard one last look at the pyramids, turned toward the rising sun for a visit to the Holy Land.

Despite the early hour, 25,000 persons were at the airdrome. As soon as the Graf touched ground they broke police lines and thronged about the ship, which was unable to make its departure until firemen turned hoses on them and cleared a space around it.

A member of the Graf's crew descended by parachute a short while before it was drawn to the ground and instructed a force of 350 British soldiers, who acted as a landing crew. They were in charge of Flight Lieutenant Luck, who came to Egypt to arrange the mooring of the ill-fated R-101.

The Zeppelin will return here tonight, debark its passengers, and take off again for Friedrichshafen, where she will arrive Monday morning.

While overhead wires of the British government telephone and telegraph service now cover 1,300,000 miles, those underground total 7,600,000 miles.

SCHEME TO INCREASE DISCOUNT TO LIGHT USERS GIVEN SET-BACK

Campbellford Board Decide to Study Question Another Month.

LENGTHY DISCUSSION.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — The proposed increase in the discount for users of commercial and domestic current in Campbellford suffered another set-back yesterday when at the regular meeting of the Campbellford Water and Light Commission Board. Commissioner J. Blue asked that the proposed motion be held over another month to give the board time to fully consider the plan. Commissioner A. L. Riendeau occupied the chair. Commissioners J. Blue, Mayor J. M. Bygott and Engineer R. Scott being present.

Chairman Riendeau, who gave the notice of motion for the proposed discount increase, brought the matter up with the intention of putting the motion to the board. The scheme calls for a prompt payment discount of 25 percent, an increase of 5 percent with thirty day arrears allowed after which service connections will be cut off without notice. Settlement in full of arrears must be made before connections are again made, when a service fee of one dollar will be charged.

Speaking on the proposed motion, Mr. Riendeau stated that he had always been a believer in letting the consumer have power as cheap as possible. He pointed out that the Little Damage Done In Lakefield Fire

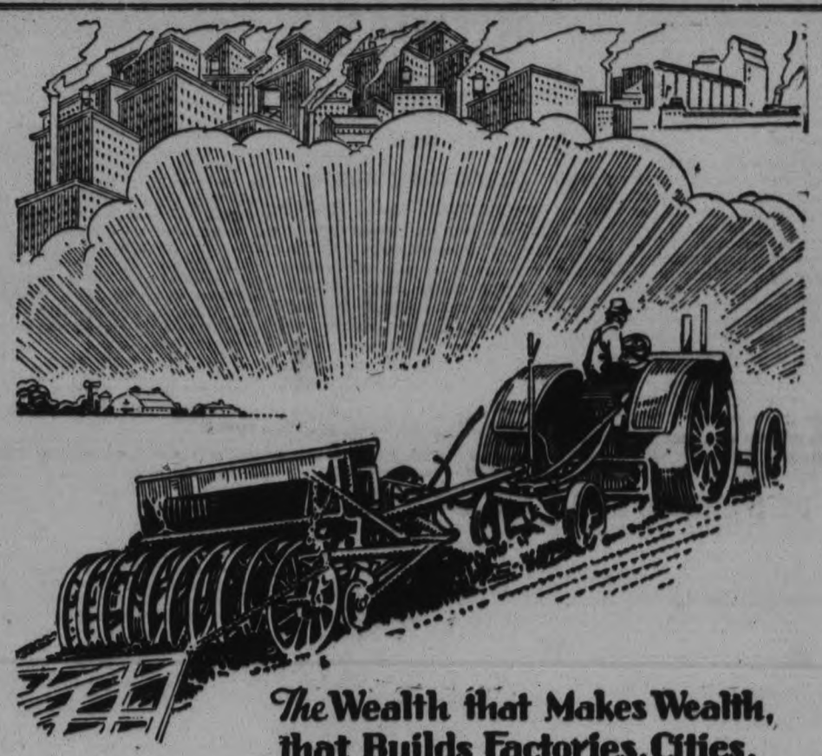
LAKEFIELD, April 11 (Examiner Correspondence).—On Friday morning at 10.45, the first general fire alarm of 1931 was sounded and the brigade responded to a fire in a pile of wood in the basement of Sam Trude's house on Water street.

The house had been closed for several days, and the origin of the fire is a mystery, but prompt action put the fire out, and little damge was done.

Up-to-date there have been four chimney fires this year of minor importance, but this was the first general alarm.



The Wealth that Makes Wealth, that Builds Factories, Cities, Comes from the Soil—

Canadian farmers provide the basic wealth of the Dominion. Under agricultural depression, industrial life stagnates. Self-interest, if nothing else, should actuate every Canadian to do his part to help farmers of Canada to a footing of more permanent prosperity. To this end an event of world-wide interest is planned—

The World's Grain Exhibition and Conference

REGINA - JULY 25—AUG. 6 -- 1932

Advertising of this great undertaking has focused the attention of the world on Canada. The Federal Government has issued invitations to eighty-four countries to take part. Already twenty have signified their interest, and before March 1, 1932, fifty will have arranged to participate.

Canada's wealth and place among the nations of the world depends upon her agriculture. The World's Grain Exhibition and Conference is Canada's opportunity to demonstrate to the world the important part she plays, and the much more important part she is destined to play in her bid for agricultural supremacy.

Farmers from the Atlantic to the Pacific are buying registered seed, giving more attention to cultivation, and putting forth every effort to carry off the major awards.

It remains for all citizens of urban Canada to do their part wholeheartedly. Talk the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference. Plan to visit your farmer friends and relatives, making the meeting place Regina, July 25-August 6, 1932. Encourage your overseas friends to visit you. You will see much of interest. You will meet representatives from the four corners of the world. But if impossible for you to attend, take out a membership and secure a copy of "The Report of the Conference Proceedings" and place this where it will do good. All our provinces are organized to insure the success of this great Canadian undertaking. Write any of them for further information.

MUSINGS AT A MANSE WINDOW

WHERE the church stood does not matter now. Let it suffice to say that it was located on a great thoroughfare. Within was assembled a large congregation. The choir had just taken their accustomed places. From the organ, in response to the sympathetic touch of the organist, soft, worshipful tones were filling the sanctuary. Ushers were finding seats for late arrivals. Some church people seem to have been born "out of due season." They are what might be called "late models." The practice of always being late for church—they seem to think—is one of the Pentecostal gifts!

The organ ceased for a moment, and a great silence settled down over the congregation. It seemed as if the hush of heaven had stolen into that church. Then an impressive thing happened. The organist gave a chord, and with remarkable precision, the choir and congregation stood to their feet and poured forth the Doxology in the most magnificent burst of unaccompanied praise that I have ever heard! With the utmost reverence I have no hesitation in saying that if God is satisfied with the half-hearted, slip-shod way in which the Doxology is rendered in many congregational gatherings He is easier pleased than I am! The trouble with many of us is that we come to the house of God with half-rested bodies, clouded minds, cold hearts and shrivelled souls—and all our so-called worship is a reflection of that state of things!

They Lived Side By Side.

In the course of his sermon on what it meant not to be a Christian, the preacher said that he once knew two merchants who lived side by side on the same street. For many years they had both been prosperous men. They had made money, filled high positions in the business world, stood well socially, were happily married and had pleasant families of children. Suddenly, in the stringency of a great money panic, they both met financial ruin. At the age of fifty or thereabouts they must start all over again.

Now, one of these two men was an earnest Christian! the other was not. The man who was not a Christian came home on that never to be forgotten day and went upstairs as if to dress for dinner. When he did not return, one of his daughters went to call him and found him dying the death of a suicide. No tongue could ever describe the anguish and hopelessness and utter loneliness that drove him to such a deed, or describe the distress left behind him among those who loved him so tenderly and so well.

It Makes a Difference.

Not to be a Christian means that you can never be a partaker of the help and sympathy of an ever present, compassionate and Divine Saviour. Think of the comfort that is bound up in these words which come with power to those who have received Him into their hearts:

"Fear thou not, for I am with thee; be not dismayed, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness."

The Christian merchant was obliged to give up his great business, and his family had to move out of their fine house. But through it all he maintained his integrity and Christian manhood. He took a position as a clerk with another business firm and rented a small house in a poorer neighbourhood. His Christian wife and family gathered loyally around him and did not show by word or look that they greatly minded their reduced circumstances. This man was in his place in the house of God as heretofore. His testimony in the prayer meeting expressed, if anything, a little more sweetness, and there was more comfort in it for his fellow Christians who knew the brave struggle he was making, in the strength of the sympathy and companionship of Christ, and they saw the very glory of God shining in his face.

Various Experiences Await You.

Compare the experience of the one man with the other and see the difference it makes when disaster overtakes you if you are a follower of Christ. The gift of prophecy is not needed to tell us that awaiting us along life's pathway is a great variety of experiences, many of which may fill our eyes with bitter tears and our hearts with unspeakable sorrow.

For some of you there may be financial troubles not unlike those just described. Some evening you will come home, and your wife will look upon your anxious, troubled face, and she will see there that something unusual has happened. And you will have to tell her that you are a ruined man, that you have lost everything.

Then many of your so-called friends will give you the cold shoulder, and in the days that follow you will find it hard to make both ends meet.

Tell me, how are you going to meet that crisis without the consoling presence of the strong and tender Son of God and the assurance of a heart treasure laid up in Heaven which no panic or business depression can ever assail or destroy? For that is what it costs not to be a Christian.

The Doctor's Car at the Door.

It may be that lurking along the pathway of others, there may be seen the shadow of a great and overwhelming sorrow. The doctor's car is standing near the front door. The one that you love best in all the world is lying in the dim light of an upper chamber, in the relentless grip of a disease that is sure to prove fatal. I can hear the man of science telling you that the last resort of medical skill has failed, that your loved one is beyond the reach of any human help and that the end is only a question of a few days or perhaps hours.

Now the stroke has descended. I can see the utterly dazed expression which has spread over your face; the look of hopeless grief in the presence of your great and sore trouble. Your heart is wrung with pain and untold anguish, for you have no Divine Friend to share with you the burden of your sorrow or to comfort you in your deep distress.

That is what it costs not to be a Christian. But you will never know fully what an awful cost it is until you have to bear the burden all alone.

Is It Hopeless Despair?

Other experiences may be awaiting you which, without the consoling and helpful presence of the compassionate Christ, will overwhelm you in bitter grief and hopeless despair. There will come sickness; there will come loneliness; there will come death. And after death there will come judgment, and after the judgment there will come the sentence of eternal banishment.

These are the things which have to be taken into account in the settlement of this great question of what it costs not to be a follower of Christ.

Have you ever counted the cost of sacrificing all claim to the help and sympathy of an ever present, sympathetic and Divine Saviour, not only in these great critical periods of your life, but as the constant Friend and Counselor of your ordinary and commonplace days? That is what is implied in being a Christian, and that is what it will cost you not to be enrolled among His disciples. Are you willing to pay that price, to sacrifice that joy?

A Great Price to Pay.

Not to be a Christian means that you must sacrifice the eternal happiness and bliss of Heaven. "And there shall in nowise enter into it anything that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination or maketh a lie, but they which are written in the Lamb's Book of Life."

There are few people in the world who think of Heaven at all, who have not formed some conception of what its joys will be. There are some whose love for Christ is so real and so intense that they are never satisfied unless that love is finding some means of expression, either in the sanctuary or in the service of Christ. I can tell you what their conception of Heaven is like: "Therefore, are they before the throne of God, and serve Him day and night in His temple."

There are others who for many a long year have not known what it means to be entirely free from physical pain or mental suffering. The aspect of the better life which has the most attraction for them is this: "Neither shall there be any more pain."

There are others whose lives are filled with an endless round of common duties, who labor incessantly from early morn till late at night, and yet they never seem to see an end to the tasks that need to be done, and who often feel, as one busy mother used to express it, "too tired even to rest." Ask such weary toilers for their conception of Heaven, and they will answer: "They rest from their labors."

All Draped in Black.

Then there are still others who have worn black suits and dresses almost as long as they can remember. One by one they have said farewell to members of their home circle, and their friends and loved ones who have gathered on the other shore are by far the greater company than that of the remaining few. Ask them to tell you of their hopes for the great beyond, and a faraway look will come into their eyes, and a wistful expression will steal over their faces, and all their desire concerning the life of Heaven is the realization of the fond anticipation of a joyous and eternal reunion. What someone has called "the dear togetherness" is the sweetest thing to them in all that blissful region.

More Than Tongue Can Tell.

Time will not permit us to tell of all the joys of Heaven that await the believer in Christ. Skim from the summer waters all the brightest sparkles and you will get no idea of the sheen of its ever-lasting sea. Pile up the splendors of all earthly cities, and they will appear lusterless and insipid beside the "holy city, new Jerusalem," which John saw "coming down from God out of Heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband." Every house is a mansion. Every meal is a banquet. Every day is a jubilee.

I have heard of a mother who, in her bitter grief, was bending over her dying child, trying to soothe the little one by talking about Heaven. She spoke of the glory there; of the brightness beaming all around; of the shining countenances of the holy angels. But presently a weak little voice stopped her, saying: "I would not like to be there, mother, for the light hurts my eyes." Then she changed the aspect of her description, and spoke of the sweet songs they sing; of the heavenly harpists and the beautiful music; of the many voices, like the sound of many waters, and as of the voice of mighty thunderings, saying: "Hallelujah, for the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth!" But the description brought no comfort to the child: she only said, "I would not like to be there, mother, for I cannot bear any noise." Grieved and disappointed at her failure to cheer her suffering child, she put her arms about the little one and took her from her restless bed, and enfolded her with all the tenderness of a mother's love. Then, as the little sufferer lay there, so near to all she loved best on earth, this whisper came:

"Mother, if Heaven is like this, may Jesus take me there."

Yes, Heaven is like that. And after you have done your best to describe it, it will transcend all human thought.

How Great Will Be The Loss.

Not to be a Christian means that your voice can never join in the singing of Heaven's sweet anthems; that your eyes can never gaze upon the glories of that sinless world; that your ears can never listen to the rapturous harmonies of the angelic choir; that your feet can never walk the golden streets, or wander with old-time friends amid the endless bowers of bliss; that you can never rest your weary frame on the banks of the river of life, and beneath the spreading branches of its ever fruitful trees; that you can never clasp the hand of your departed loved ones who have died in the faith of Christ, and that you can never nestle in the motherly arms of God.

That is what it means not to be a Christian. That is the price you have to pay—the infinite loss of the eternal joys of Heaven. Are you ready to pay that price? What is your answer? Think it through!

How I Feel About It.

I will tell you how I feel about it. Every faculty of my mind revolts against the committal of so colossal a blunder. Every fiber of my being shudders at the very suggestion of bartering away my spiritual and eternal birthright in Christ. Is that the way you feel about it?

In the name of God, whose nature is love, I bid you enter. In the name of Christ, whose heart broke on Calvary to make an atonement for your sins, I bid you welcome. In the name of the Holy Spirit, who has been corroborating to your heart and conscience the truth of the words I have been speaking, and who has led you thus far toward the goal which your soul inwardly yearns after, I bid you take that final step—the acceptance of God's proffered gift of salvation, through faith in the atoning sacrifice of Jesus Christ. In the name of the Triune God, whose ambassador it is my privilege to be, I urge you to take that final step—and to take it now!

The service ended, and every man went to his own house. Who can tell the effect produced on the minds and hearts of those who heard? The record of the results is with God.

Yours in friendship,
Allan Fairbairn.

The Hour Of Prayer

O GOD, who hast ordained that perfection of character shall be attained only through suffering; whose kindly providence doth lead us over the Via Dolorosa and on towards the Cross; in whose kingdom pain and sorrow and failure and struggle are not enemies, but trusted servants; help us to know Thee now, to practice Thy presence now when peace and prosperity are our portion, that we may look to Thee in the hour of need, as we had learned to do when there seemed no need. We would now study to show ourselves approved unto God then. We would now enlist our habits as allies that they may not then prove our foes. We would now acquaint ourselves with the touch of Thy hand, that in the valley of the shadow we may walk onward and be unafraid. We would now store our minds with Christian philosophy and our hearts with Christian faith, as the flower gather moisture and the beastie gathers nuts, that we may have calm in the crisis, strength for the strain, triumph in the tear-storm, and an inner light when the sun is past our seeing. These things we ask in the precious name of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

DO YOU PRAY?

YOU pray for the graces of faith, and love; but prayer alone will not bring them. They must be wrought in you through labor, and patience, and suffering.

Is The Church Cold and Dead?

WHEN the church is cold and dead, those hymns which were written by God's saints in moments of rapture seem extravagant, and we walk over them on dainty footsteps of taste; but let God's spirit come down upon our hearts, and they are as sweetness on our tongues; and all too poor and meagre for our emotions; for feeling is always tropical, and seeks the most intense and fervid expression.

HANDFULS OF PURPOSE

"We have seen His star, and are come to worship Him." — Matthew 2:2.

HERALD of a new morning! A shining speck with nothing to offer of life or warmth to those who only gazed wide-eyed as o'er the heavens it took its luminous course, but with everything to give to such as bent their steps to follow its gleam. Stars are but broken lights, but lights they are to those who sail on troubled seas or wait the day. Each is a moment's sermon on the sun, as the chirp of the smallest bird is a note in the cosmic symphony. Back of a book is the author, the artist is more than his paint, greater is Bach than a chorale, and Christ outshines the Gospel and the Church. But the workman had never been known but for the fruit of his brain and the touch of his master-hand. There are those who live in dark places and labor in the night watches to whom the stars alone give faith in the sun that shines by day.

Cold and reserved natures should remember that though not infrequently flowers may be found beneath the snow, it is chilly work to dig for thtm, and few care to take the trouble.

Where Is Your House

A man's house should be on the hilltop of cheerfulness and serenity, so high that no shadows rest upon it, and where the morning comes so early, and the evening tarries so late, that the day has twice as many golden hours as those of other men. He is to be pitied whose house is in some valley of grief between the hills, with the longest night and the shortest day. Home should be the centre of joy, equatorial and tropical. Easter has given us the right to build on the heights and bask in the warm light of an assured resurrection for all who fall asleep in Jesus.

REDUCED RAILWAY FARES.

The announcement by the two Canadian railways of reduced round trip fares for week-end trips during the summer months has been heard with a good deal of satisfaction, and there is reason to believe that the reductions will mean a considerable increase in the volume of traffic.

Under the new arrangement round trip fares at the week-end will cost only 25 per cent. more than single fare at any other time, a concession that should materially stimulate the use of train service.

Many people have been urging this step for some time, but the railways have been reluctant to try the experiment.

Without any idea of trying to tell the transportation companies how to run their business, it may be pointed out that it costs just as much to operate a train carrying three people as it does one carrying thirty, so that looking at it from that angle it would seem to be better business for the railways to fill their cars at reduced rates than to run them empty under the full scale.

The opposition of the motor buses and privately-owned automobiles has materially cut into the revenues of the railway companies, and the new arrangement is the first practicable attempt that has been made to give that opposition a battle.

It is to be hoped the reduced week-end fares will popularize travel by railway, for the present concession is certainly a generous one and deserves to be recognized.

MUCH TIMBER LEFT.

Reference was made in these columns yesterday to the interesting book, "The Forest Resources of Ontario," just issued by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

Some striking statistics are to be found in this carefully prepared review of forestry conditions in the Province.

For instance, we find that the total forest area of Ontario is estimated at 110 million acres.

The total area of the Province, exclusive of southern agricultural Ontario, is 221 million acres, and the major divisions of this area include 100 million acres in the inaccessible and little known regions of Central Patricia and the coastal plain.

Excluding these two areas and also three million acres covered by the larger bodies of water and there remains approximately 118 million acres as the forest area at present known and accessible, from which must be deducted eight million acres under agricultural development.

On an area of slightly over 100 millions there are estimated to be 180,558,000 cords of spruce, 25,781,000 cords of balsam and 79,090,000 cords of jack pine, making a total estimated yield of 285,429,000 cords of pulpwood.

The estimate for white and red pine is 7,015,000,000 board feet.

These huge figures indicate Ontario's forest supplies are by no means exhausted, and it should be noted does not include the Ottawa-Huron, the coastal plain and the central Patricia regions.

WELL WORTH PATRONAGE.

Most deserving of support is the Peterborough division of the St. John's Ambulance Association in aid of which to-morrow's night's sacred concert in the Grand Opera House is being held.

The members of this organization have given unsparingly of their time in the community interest, and as a result of this unselfish and public-spirited attitude Peterborough has available a corps of two dozen fully qualified first aid men whose services are always at the disposal of the citizens.

St. John's Ambulance work is comparatively new to this city, but in other Canadian centres and more particularly in the British Isles, the service rendered by the members of the organization is regarded as a most valuable community asset.

The proceeds of to-morrow night's concert are to be devoted to securing uniforms for the members of the Peterborough division, who up to the present have had to carry on in mufti.

The excellence of the program that has been arranged and the merit of the cause that is to be helped should result in a capacity audience at the Grand Opera House to-morrow night.

The Examiner would commend this event to its readers both as a meritorious entertainment and as a means of assisting an organization that deserves well of the community because of its altruistic service.

A SAFETY ESSAY COMPETITION.

The Ontario Motor League and the Ontario Safety League are combining to sponsor an essay writing contest, open to the school children of Ontario, on the timely and interesting subject, "What Can I (Myself) Do to Prevent Highway Accidents?"

Altogether 526 cash prizes will be offered, and the contest, which will close on May 16, should do a great deal toward directing the attention of school age children to this most serious problem of how motor accidents may be reduced and the toll of lives taken on the highways and streets lightened.

The chief hope for safer traffic conditions rests with the children of to-day.

Fast motor transportation arrived with the present generation, and it is taking time for us to learn how to utilize it in a reasonably safe manner; the record of automobile killings shows only too clearly that this generation has failed to a great degree in making motor traffic a non-hazardous factor.

But nowadays children are growing up in the automobile era; motor cars are among the first things that attract their attention, and it should be possible by concentrating safety educational efforts upon the youth of the land to develop a safety consciousness that will inevitably lead to more careful driving, as well as to safer street conditions generally.

The Motor and Safety Leagues have hit upon what should prove a very effective means of interesting the children in a very vital question.

A "FAD" THAT MADE GOOD.

The report of the Toronto Family Court for the past year makes interesting reading. Better known hereabouts, perhaps, by the description "Children's Court," although there is no such institution in St. Thomas, organizations of that class were, when first started, regarded by many people as a "fad." But they have proven their worth and saved many a boy and girl, and many parents, too, from lives of crime or degradation. "Family Court" is the more appropriate name, for, when a delinquent child is brought into court, the guardians of the child are brought in also.

That is an essential part of the scheme. These courts do not exist primarily to punish, but to get at causes, so far as charges which go beyond mere boy or girl mischief are concerned. Environment and heredity have to be considered, and in a large number of instances it is found that the parents are more to blame than the child. They are the real culprits, not the young person who did the wrong. Having found the first causes, the court officers then endeavor to remove or remedy them, the result being happiness all round—for the child, the parents and the community.

It is interesting to note that of the children in the Toronto court last year only slightly over two per cent. were rated of superior intellect. Not quite half were of average mentality, and the rest were on the borderline of subnormal, actually subnormal or even below that grade. The more serious cases were in the latter category. This demonstrates the wisdom of the policy favored by the Ross Commission, which pins great faith on special classes for subnormal children as a means of preventing them drifting into crime because their mentality has not been able to absorb standardized education.

There were 2,122 children before the Toronto court during the period under review. Three-fourths were "talked to," and most of the others were placed under home, "big brother," or "big sister" supervision, only 1.37 per cent. being sent to industrial schools.

Perhaps when the Ross Commission recommendations are dealt with by the Legislature, every county will have its "Family Court."—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

IMAGINED PERILS.

By agreement between the Free City of Danzig and the Polish Government the latter's warships had been allowed to enter Danzig Harbor in winter. This agreement has just been canceled by the Danzig authorities on the ground that Poland now has her own naval harbor in the new port of Gdynia. The abrogation of the agreement was provided for in the original understanding and is in no sense an unfriendly act. But the incident once more calls attention to one of the liveliest issues arising out of the war settlements as between Germany and Poland. This new harbor of Gdynia, upon which the Poles began work about half a dozen years ago, on the open Baltic only eight miles away from Danzig, has been the cause of much heartburning in that ancient port, which had been the sole sea outlet for the whole of Poland. The creation of Gdynia has been described as a plot to bring about the ruin of Danzig with its virtually solid German population. The case has been brought before the League of Nations. And the arguments there adduced are illustrative of a situation broader than the specific issue, or even than the whole question of German-Polish relations. It suggests a type of reasoning that prevails everywhere in Europe.

Danzig contends before the League that as late as 1927 the new Gdynia had only 10 per cent. of Poland's export trade. In 1929 Gdynia had 37 per cent. The joint capacity of the two ports is 22,000,000 tons a year, whereas Poland's exports in 1929 through both ports were 11,000,000 tons. To this Poland replies that Danzig is crying before she has been hurt. It is true that Gdynia has between one-fourth and one-third of Poland's foreign trade, but the gain has not been at Danzig expense. Danzig has been doing very well on her own account. In 1929 the movement of goods in the port, in and out of the country, was 8,560,000 tons, which is more than four times what it was in the year 1913, and more than three times what it was in 1925. The growth of Polish trade has been sufficient to feed both ports. The future growth seems certain to be such as to take up the full tonnage facilities both of Gdynia and Danzig.

It may well be that the Poles are out to hurt the German city of Danzig. It may be that in the long run Danzig will suffer grave injury from the existence of Gdynia. It thus becomes a situation which the pessimists are fond of describing as a "sore spot." But so far Danzig has suffered no harm, and the evil day, if it ever comes, is far off. All over Europe we find "sore spots" which are much more psychological than physical. There are nations "doomed" by the peace settlements which are not at all doomed but can manage very well with a little good-will and effort. There are agreements and settlements which are "aimed" at other nations; but chiefly because these other nations are in the mood to see things aimed at them. England and France cannot begin to work harmoniously together without Germany's seeing her own destruction being plotted. Germany and Austria cannot discuss a reasonable customs arrangement without France's seeing danger in Anschluss, which means in turn that France cannot quite concede Italy's claims in the naval settlement which means in turn that Great Britain has to sit up and take notice. Predominantly, it is a case of nerves and phantoms.—New York Times.

News of Our Own Village

That doughty mariner, Cap Scollard, in an exclusive interview with your scribe this week, sez the water in the back lakes is so low the frogs is likely to forget how to swim this summer.

Some of the villagers who journeyed down east of Havelock Wed. to see the big blast at the rock quarry sez it was quite a show, but not up to some of the explosions heard in the village council years ago.

The village council aint recovered yet from the shock of a bill received for fixing up the fire pumper. It looks like Geo. Gimblett's lads will hafta stick to tossing horseshoes for amusement, cracking into buses being a expensive pastime, so to speak.

Jack Vernor, head of the village clock mill, up and spoke a word for the manufacturers when the Rotarians et at Graham's Hotel Mon. and the boys give him a well-earned ovation. Naturally Jack's was a timely talk.

Roy Wainman has been appointed custodian of the village Big Ben in the Market Hall tower. Roy's big job will be to keep her showing the same on all 4 sides, some think.

Jack Stewart rung in Geo Wade and some fiddlers and such from Toronto, west of here, into his program at the Main St picture house this week and the lads went over so big some folks wants Jack to book Amos 'n' Andy. Why not bring in Rudy Vallee when eggs is so cheap, we hastens to ask.

They oughta be a full house at the Grand Opry House Sun. nite to help the Ambulance brigade get themselves some uniforms. Judging by the way some folks is driving their horseless carriages bigger and better first aid is going to be a necessity this summer.

Another local boy makes good. Leopold McAulay, native son of this fair village, is named as the new Minister of Education in Geo. Henry's Govt. Who'll be next in the Hall of Fame, we asks expectantly.

According to the Market Square philosopher, frogs aint the only things that's doing a lotta croaking in the rural parts these days.

TANAR OF PELLUCIDAR

BY

Stellara and Tanar were conducted to a small hut in the outskirts of the village. The building consisted of but two rooms; the open living room with the fireplace and a small dark, sleeping apartment. Into the latter the prisoners were thrust and a single warrior was left on guard in the living room to prevent their escape.

In a world where the sun hangs perpetually at zenith there is no darkness and without darkness there is little opportunity to escape from the clutches of a watchful enemy. Yet never for a moment was the thought of escape from the mind of Tanar the Sarian. He studied the sentries and as each one was relieved he tried to enter into conversation with his successor, but all to no avail—the warriors would not talk to him. Sometimes the guards dozed, but the village and the clearing about it were always alive with people so that it appeared unlikely that any opportunity for escape might present itself.

The sentries were changed, food was brought to the prisoners and when they felt so inclined they slept. Thus only might they measure the lapse of time, if such a thing occurred to them, which doubtless it did not. They talked together and sometimes Stellara sang—sang the songs of Amiocap that her mother had taught her, and they were happy and contented, although each knew that the specter of death hovered constantly above them. Presently he would strike, but in the meantime they were happy.

"When I was a youth," said Tanar, "I was taken prisoner by the black people with tails. They build their villages among the high branches of lofty trees and at first they put me in a small dark hut as dark as this and much dirtier and I was very miserable and very unhappy for I have always been free and I love my freedom, but now I am again a prisoner in a dark hut and in addition I know that I am going to die and I do not want to die, yet I am not unhappy. Why is it, Stellara, do you know?"

"I have wondered about the same thing myself," replied the girl. "It seems to me that I have never been so happy before in my life, but I do not know the reason."

They were sitting close together upon a fiber mat that they had placed near the doorway that they might obtain as much light and air as possible. Stellara's soft eyes looked thoughtfully out upon the little world framed by the doorway of their prison cell. One hand rested listlessly on the mat between them. Tanar's eyes rested upon her profile, and slowly his hand went out and covered hers.

"Perhaps," he said, "I should not be happy if you were not here."

The girl turned half frightened eyes upon him and withdrew her hand. "Don't," she said.

"Why?" he asked.

"I do not know, only that it makes me afraid."

The man was about to speak again when a figure darkened the opening in the doorway. A girl had come bringing food. Heretofore it had been a man—a taciturn man who had replied to none of Tanar's questions. But there was no suggestion of taciturnity upon the beautiful smiling countenance of the girl.

"Here is food," she said. "Are you hungry?"

"Where there is nothing else to do but eat I am always hungry," said Tanar. "But where is the man who brought our food before?"

"That was my father," replied the girl. "He has gone to hunt and I have brought the food in his stead."

"I hope that he never returns from the hunt," said Tanar.

"Why?" demanded the girl. "He is a good father. Why do you wish him harm?"

"I wish him no harm," replied Tanar, laughing. "I only wish that his daughter would continue to bring our food. She is far more agreeable and much better looking."

The girl flushed, but it was evident that she was pleased.

"I wanted to come before," she said, "but my father would not let me. I saw you when they brought you into the village and I have wanted to see you again. I never before saw a man who looked like you. You are different from the Amiocapians. Are all the men of San as good looking as you?"

Tanar laughed. "I am afraid I have never given much thought to that subject," he replied. "In Sari we judge our men by what they do and not by what they look like."

"But you must be a great hunter," said the girl. "You look like a great hunter."

"How do great hunters look?" demanded Stellara with some asperity.

"They look like this man," replied the girl. "Do you know," she continued, "I have dreamed about you many times."

"What is your name?" asked Tanar.

"Letari," replied the girl.

"Letari," repeated Tanar. "That is a pretty name. I hope, Letari, that you will bring our food to us often."

"I shall never bring it again," she said, sadly.

"And why?" demanded Tanar.

"Because no one will bring it again," she said.

"And why is that? Are they going to starve us to death?"

"No, the council of the chiefs has decided that you are both Korsars and that you must be destroyed."

"And when will that be?" asked Stellara.

"As soon as the hunters return with food. We are going to have a great feast and dance, but I shall not enjoy it. I shall be very unhappy for I do not wish to see Tanar die."

"How are they going to destroy us?" asked the man.

"Look," said the girl, pointing through the open doorway. There, in the distance, the two prisoners saw men setting two stakes into the ground. "There were many who wanted to give you to the buried People," said Letari, "but Zural said that it has been so long since we have had a feast and a dance that he thought that we should celebrate the killing of two Korsars rather than let the Buried People have all the pleasure, and so they are going to tie you to those two stakes and pile dry wood and brush around you and burn you to death."

Stellara shuddered. "And my mother taught me that you were a kindly people," she said.

"Oh, we do not mean to be unkind," said Letari, "but the Korsars have been very cruel to us and Zural believes that the gods will take word to the Korsars that you were burned to death and that perhaps it will frighten them and keep them away from Amiocap."

Tanar arose to his feet and stood very straight and stiff. The horror of the situation almost overwhelmed him. He looked down at Stellara's gold head and shuddered. "You cannot mean," he said, "that the men of Amiocap intend to burn this girl alive?"

"Why, yes," said Letari. "It would do no good to kill her first for then her spirit could not tell the gods that she was burned and they could not tell the Korsars."

"It is hideous," said Tanar; "and you, a girl yourself, have no sympathy; have you no heart?"

"I am very sorry that they are going to burn you," said Letari, "but as for her, she is a Korsar and I feel nothing but hatred and loathing for her, but you are different. I know that you are not a Korsar and I wish that I could save you."

"Will you—would you, if you could?" demanded Tanar.

"Yes, but I cannot."

The conversation relative to escape had been carried on in low whispers, so that the guard would not overhear, but evidently it had aroused his suspicion for now he arose and came to the doorway of the hut. "What are you talking about?" he demanded. "Why do you stay in here so long, Letari, talking with these Korsars!? I heard what you said and I believe that you are in love with this man."

"What if I am?" demanded the girl. "Do not our gods demand that we love? What else do you live for upon Amiocap but love?"

"The gods do not say that we should love our enemies."

"They do not say that we should not," retorted Letari. "If I choose to love Tanar it is my own affair."

"Clear out!" snapped the warrior. "There are plenty of men in Lar for you to love."

"Ah!" sighed the girl as she passed through the doorway, "but there is none like Tanar."

"The hateful little wanton," cried Stellara after the girl had left.

"She does not hesitate to reveal what is in her heart," said Tanar. "The girls of Sari are not like that. They would die rather than reveal their love before the man had declared his. But perhaps she is only a child and did not realize what she said."

"A child nothing," snapped Stellara. "She knew perfectly well what she was saying and it is quite apparent that you liked it. Very well, when she comes to save you, go with her."

"You do not think that I intended to go with her alone even though an opportunity for escape presented itself through her, do you?" demanded Tanar.

"She told you that she would not help me to escape," Stellara reminded him.

"I know that, but it would be only in the hope of helping you to escape that I would take advantage of her help."

"I would rather be burned alive a dozen times than to escape with her help."

There was a venom in the girl's voice that had never been there before and Tanar looked at her in surprise. "I do not understand you, Stellara," he said.

"I do not understand myself," said the girl and burying her face in her hands she burst into tears.

Tanar knelt quickly beside her and put an arm about her. "Don't," he begged.

She pushed him from him. "Go away," she cried. "Don't touch me. I hate you."

Tanar was about to speak again when he was interrupted at a great commotion at the far end of the village. There were shouts and yells from men, mingled with thunderous noise that fairly shook the ground, and then the deep booming of drums.

Instantly the men setting the stakes in the ground, where Tanar and Stellara were to be burned, stopped their work, seized their weapons and rushed in the direction from which the noise was coming.

What To-day Means To You

'ARIES"

If April 11th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. and from 10 p.m. to 11:15 p.m. The danger period are from noon to 2 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The planetary aspects of April 11th do not indicate any positive signs. They denote, rather a degree of passivity and indifference. Nothing demanding enterprise or involving drastic change should be attempted. The path of least resistance wherever practical, should be followed.

Children born on this April 11th, always will desire to excel in everything that they undertake. They will never be satisfied with second place. They will be optimistic, whole-souled and spontaneous, and never put on airs or assume attitudes. Their futures promise to be crowned with success.

If you were born on April 11th, you are extremely conservative in both thought and action. You have no liking for new ideas and new conceptions. You cling to the old with a tenacity of purpose worthy of a better cause. You believe in moving slowly, and have little resourcefulness or adaptability. This applies, in your case, equally to religion, politics and social affairs. You have no spirit of adventure, and are only happy when you travel along the well-beaten path.

You are, of course, at all times conventional, and you are very much influenced not by your own originality of thought but by what "Mrs. Grundy" expects. Your vision is limited, and being by nature a creature of habit, you are invariably uninteresting. You also believe very strongly in tradition, and have a profound respect for heredity.

You are intelligent in other respects, and a hard worker, and although you will never make a stir in the world, you will possibly earn success where others, more daring, would fail. You are a staunch friend, and never refuse help or counsel to those who seek either the one or the other. Your home life will be very correct, but dsaly unemotional.

If April 12th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m., and from 9:30 p.m. to 11:10 p.m. The danger periods are from 7 p.m. to 8:45 p.m.

Much self-control will be needed on April 12th, if trouble and pettiness are to be avoided. There is in the signs a portent of clashing, and poise must be established and equilibrium maintained. After sundown, conditions will be more propitious, especially for the amenities of the family circle.

Children born on this April 12th, will be magnetic, and care should be taken to cultivate this great gift, so that it will only inure to the benefit of all. They will have passionate natures, love music and be temperamental. Only with proper environment will they ultimately attain success.

Energy, courage and imagination distinguish you, if born on April 12th. You are tireless in your work, are never assailed by doubt as to the outcome of that which appears impossible to others. Your life, no matter in what sphere it is spent, is designed to be a full one, and even if you do not attain complete success, you will always have the satisfaction of having done your utmost.

You are no, at all times, practical, and when your plans miscarry—as they occasionally will— it will generally be found in the fact that you underrated the strength of opposition. You are a wee bit too confident of yourself and your ability. You do not own up to any limitations of what you can do. You are conceited, but not vain. You believe absolutely in yourself and generally convince others to do the same. You expect much from friends, but you give little in return.

You rather pride yourself on your indifference to flattery, yet it is unction to your soul. You pretend to be self-centred and free from emotion. This is only "make-believe" as, at heart, you are always wrapped up in others, and your love, once aroused, knows and acknowledges no restraint.

MOSS EQUIPMENT NOW ON PROPERTY

All the heavy machinery required in connection with the mills construction program of Moss Gold Mines, Limited, is now on the company's property, the hoist having been received at the mine this week. In addition to the hoist, compressor and other equipment, the company has a necessary supply of cement and other materials to proceed with the construction of the foundation of the mill. This is the important part of the structure and when it is completed the other units can be proceeded with as required.

Pending completion of the mill next fall the operations at the property will consist of sinking the shaft another 400 feet to a depth of 800 feet, and exploration laterally on the 375 foot level, where gratifying results have recently been obtained, together with the lateral exploration of ore deposition at suitable levels below 375 feet.

The shares of the company, which were recently listed on the New York Curb Exchange, have continued active not only on that market but also on the Montreal Curb and on the Standard Stock & Mining Exchange, Toronto, reaching a new high level at 64.

WOMAN ATTACKED.

TORONTO, Ont., April 11.—(C.P.)—Mrs. Florence Mauthe, 32, designer and forewoman employed at a local dress manufacturing company, while proceedings to her work this morning, was attacked and badly beaten by two men who escaped in a motor car.

Pursued by hunters and hounds a stag ran into a store at Kirby Lonsdale, England, left by a back door, vaulted a wall and escaped.

LOWER COMMODITY PRICES SEND EXCHANGE LISTS ON DOWN TREND

Poor Earnings Statements By Canadian Corporations Aid in Backslide.

FINANCIERS CAUTIOUS.

TORONTO, Ont., April 11 (By The Canadian Press.)—Share prices declined noticeably on Canadian stock exchanges this week due to lower commodity prices, professional "bear" successes in New York and poor earnings statements by Canadian corporations.

Canadian car loadings showed a harp drop during the week, the Canadian wholesale price index at 75.1 for March was the lowest since December, 1915, Canadian steel activity showed no sign of improvement, and there was no substantial change in the employment situation. Mercantile circles displayed marked caution as to the future.

There was a certain amount of investment demand, however, and while this acted as a support for stock prices it proved of little avail against the increasing nervousness and uncertainty among the speculative trading body.

Under the circumstances it was remarkable that Canadian stocks maintained their prices at levels that are not far below those of last week. Brazilian Traction at 22¼ compares with 22 1-8 last week, largely as the result of investment demand attracted by the relatively steady action of the stock early in the week.

Ford of Canada, "A" subject to the general weakness of interlisted shares nevertheless shows a loss of only ¾ for the week, closing at 25½. The company's annual report revealed sharply reduced earnings in 1930.

Nickel is Steady.

International Nickel displayed one of the most consistent movements of the recognized leaders, remaining with a narrow trading area all week. Demand for shares was not any time pronounced yet they met with steady support and at 17 5-8 compare with 17 3-8 last week. Trading, however, was in very limited volume. Massey Harris at 7 is ¾ lower than its price of a week ago, and other declines were shown by City Dairy at 60, Walker's at 73¾ against 73½ last week, and Steel of Canada which declined from 39¼ to 38¾.

C. P. R. shares were directly affected by the pressure against railway stocks at New York and as a result show a decline from 40 last week to their present level of 38 3-8. Nothing in the week's news, aside from the lower car loadings figures, accounted for the selling of C. P. R. shares which followed almost identically the fluctuations of the New York railroad group. Smelters which sold at 149½ last week is now quoted at 153, an advance that was particularly outstanding in view of the action of C. P. R. the controlling company's shares.

Service Stations and Durant Motors were chiefly representative of the markets' attitude toward motor shares and the stocks of motor equipment companies. Durant, which reacted with the news of the company's financial loss during 1930, closed the week at 6½ against 8 a week ago, and Service Stations also encountered selling pressure which drove the shares to a new 1931 low of 20. Service Stations, however, has since recovered to 21½, although it is still below its price of 22½ last week.

Golds Irregular.

Oils and gold stocks shared in the highly irregular fluctuations. British American oil led in point of sales activity with the close on Friday at 11¾ against 12 a week ago, while Imperial oil at 15 shows no change and International petroleum at 12¼ compares with 11 7-8 a week ago. McColl-Frontenac, a typical example of the disinterest among traders in the oil group, is now selling at 16½ or the same level as that of last week.

Gold issues were almost the only group to reflect moderate but sustained buying activity on the Toronto and Montreal stock exchanges as well as on the Standard Stock and Mining exchange. McIntyre shares were fairly active and at $24.75 compare with $25.50 a week ago, but Lake Shore at $2 has maintained its price, and Dome at $11.50 is only slightly below last week's figure. Teck-Hughes at $8.45 and Wright-Hargreaves at $2.80 show a gain of 15 cents in the first case and a loss of ten cents in the case of Wright-Hargreaves.

Noranda retained its leading position among base metals but the weakness in the copper metal market reflected itself in liquidation by holders of Noranda stock. The price at the close of the week, $26.25, shows a net loss of 75.

TRADE DELEGATES BACK FROM TRIP

All Are Pleased With Outlook of Visit to South America.

DOCK AT HALIFAX.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 11. (CP)—Bringing back to the shores of Canada 150 members of the trade mission to Latin America which sailed from this port on February 21, the liner Prince Robert docked at the south terminals shortly after ten o'clock this morning. Assurances of a successful journey were voiced by delegates as they prepared to land.

The Prince Robert made a record run of 36 hours and 59 minutes from Bermuda.

Sir George Perley, official representative of the Canadian government said:

Our cruise on the Prince Robert has been most comfortable and satisfactory except for the tragic accident at Rio when we lost one of our members, Mr. C. E. Marley, of London, who was caught by the undertow when bathing in the ocean. It was a very sad affair, and every one on board sympathized deeply with Mrs. Marley in her sorrow.

Slight Advance In Maple Syrup Prices

Maple syrup had risen a little on the farmers' market this morning, the quotations being 70 and 75 cents a quart.

Eggs were priced from 18 to 22c a dozen, butter was 28 to 30 cents a pound and chickens 25 to 30 cents a pound.

Potatoes were 70 cents a bag, pork 13 and 15c and veal 14 and 16c a pound.

Vegetables were stationary in price, the quotations remaining at the same level as for some weeks past.

VALUES ADVANCE WINNIPEG MART

Cut-down of Shipments From Russia Boosts Canadian Wheat Prices.

BETTER EXPORT DEMAND.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 11 (By The Canadian Press).—Post-Easter trading on the Winnipeg wheat market had boosted values more than two cents today. Revived by a better export demand and cutting-down of shipments from Russia, bulls came into the pit cautiously but stayed to keep early-week rallies from being wiped out.

At the close of trading yesterday, prices were 1 7-8 to 2¾ cents a bushel higher than the previous week. The May future moved upward 1 7-8 to 58 and 7-8 cents, July scored a 2 1-8 cent gain to 60¾ cents and October went up a similar amount to 62¼ cents.

Ocean shipments of Canadian wheat were not particularly large during the week but a substantial amount of cash wheat changed hands and the market appeared to be in a sounder position. Prospects of Lake Navigation being resumed shortly and a feeling that the peak of the wheat movement from Argentina and Australia had been passed created a better sentiment among traders. Exports from the Argentine and Australia fell off last week.

Observers hold it reasonable to assume that Canada will get a larger share of the European export trade in the next 12 weeks and, should Russian shipments fail to materialize this spring, the demand for Canadian hard wheat would be even greater.

LIST DIVIDED ON STANDARD

Individual Action Continues Brisk Although General Market is Dull.

PREMIER IN DEMAND.

TORONTO, Ont., April 11 (C.P.).—Though the mining market, as a while, retained an irregular and rather dull appearance in the short session to-day, individual action continued fairly brisk with losses and gains about evenly divided at the close.

Premier was still in good demand, price adding another 9 to yesterday's substantial advance. San Antonio and Gem Lake also made small gains and Columario closed a couple above last night. Eldorado sold off 5 in light trade, and Howey and Bobjo were down a cent or so apiece.

In the higher-priced gold group Dome was a soft spot, dropping a half to 11.40 under selling pressure. Teck Hughes and Hollinger eased 5 each, but McIntyre sold a quarter higher at $25.00. In spite of favorable month-end statistics showing stocks of copper reduced during March, Base Metal issues were dull, Noranda losing a half to $25.75.

Few changes appeared in the cheaper oil stocks. Home Oil was down 3 to 92, while Olga continued to display strength.

Mountain City Fans Want Soccer Match

HAMILTON, Ont., April 11.—Depite many statements the proposed soccer game scheduled for Hamilton with the English touring team may yet be played. True some hitch has occurred between the local association and the Dominion Football Association, owing to the scale of prices demanded by the D.F.A. but the Hamilton officials are making renewed efforts to have the game staged, if not on the original date set, then on some other later date.

Local officials point out that Hamilton has to guarantee the sum of $2,000 while Toronto with a much larger population to draw upon has only to guarantee $3,000. Pressure has been brought to bear on the local officials with the result that the latter have renewed negotiations with the D.F.A. and hopes are high that the game will be brought to Hamilton.

In common with other centres Hamilton is suffering much from the present industrial depression, but still there are thousands of local fans who would gladly pay the scale of admission prices proposed and whether or not the guarantee is met, local fans are of the opinion that the game should be arranged.

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW

WINDSOR—Reports to Bradstreet's say that little change in either wholesale or retail trade is reported here, both being quiet with manufacturing operations still on a curtailed scale. Collections are slow. The Hupp Motor Car Corporation announces that an assembly plant will be opened at Windsor to care for Canadian sales. Hupp already owns a building suitable for an assembly plant, in which 30,000 square feet of floor space is available, and plans to start production within 90 days, the announcement says.

WINNIPEG—Reports to Bradstreet's say that the Easter trade here was fairly good at retail with wholesale trade also showing fair activity. Manufacturing operations are slightly more active. Another new industry for Winnipeg will be a chamois leather factory about to be located in Elmwood. Excavation for the new Christie-Brown plant in Winnipeg has started and within thirty days it is expected that there will be employment for approximately 150 men. Winnipeg and Empire made products only are to be used in its construction.

CALGARY—Reports to Bradstreet's say that business here at both wholesale and retail establishments has been slow with collections but little better than they have been all winter. Oil production in the Province of Alberta reached the high total of 1,433,841 barrels during the year 1930, according to revised figures compiled in the Department of the Interior and based on the reports of operators. The December total, which showed the highest monthly output on record, was 175, 572 barrles. An analysis of the figures for 1930 shows that 1,313,039 barrels of naphtha were produced in Turner Valley during the year, the remainder being light and heavy crude.

VANCOUVER— Reports to Bradstreet's say that retail trade is fairly active while demand at wholesale is inclined to be quiet. Manufacturers are operating on a fair scale. Shipping at the port of Vancouver continues to record an improvement over last year and monthly statistics show that February deep sea arrivals and departures were ahead of the same month last year, both in point of numbers and tonnage. Last month a total of 97 deep sea ships of 358,915 net ton were entered inward as compared with 82 ships of 299,066 net tons in February, 1930, while departures numbered 95 against 89 a year ago, with the net tonnage figures 347,956 tons and 336,953 tons respectively.

PUBLIC SPECULATORS REFUSE TO TAKE PART IN N.Y. TRADING

Traders For Decline Find Little Opposition in This Week's Sessions.

STEEL PRODUCTION RISES.

(By John L. Cooley.)
(Associated Press Financial Editor.)

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 11.—Professional speculators struggled this week to adjust the stock market's compasses to irregularities in business and industry.

With steel operations declining, first quarter earnings straggling in, easier commodity prices and suggestions that the seasonal recovery had already put its best foot forward, traders for the decline found little opposition, the most important obstacle in their path was the dullness of the market, its refusal to burst out in one of those selling climaxes that marked the turn last December.

If the market bears the earmarks of being sold out, it appears to be in no danger of becoming over-bought. The public is conclusively on the sidelines, watching the sluggish battle of the two speculative parties, and willing to let the professionals have things to themselves. Investment banking firms say the public's attitude toward the bond market is little changed and that only the high grade issues are readily taken. Current weakness of the rails does not contribute to confidence.

Official figures on March steel production disclosed a rise of 10 per cent over February, of about 25 per cent over January and of more than 50 per cent over December, on the basis of daily average output. A year ago March showed a small recession from the previous month, but was nearly 18 per cent above January and some 40 per cent ahead of December. Thus the 1931 rebound has been substantially larger than last year's; on the other hand production in the month has just passed was about 30 per cent under March, 1930 and operations on such a basis cannot be expected to yield much in the way of profits.

The credit markets are well prepared to extend the aid of easy money to reviving business. Federal reserve policy is distinctly in the direction of cheap money and it is believed that the Bank of England favors a similar course. Operations of the New York Reserve Bank in the bull market apparently are intended to maintain the balance which heavy treasury payments on bonus loans might disturb.

TRADERS FACE POSSIBILITY OF SHORT SPRING WHEAT CROP

Dust Storms in Widely Scattered Parts Indicate Dearth of Surface Moisture.

COMPARISONS FOR WEEK.

(By John P. Boughan.)
(Associated Press Market Editor.)

CHICAGO, Ill., April 11.—Chances of a short crop of spring wheat this season both in the United States and Canada are just now being actively canvassed by traders, meanwhile, the annual period for damage to the domestic winter wheat crop is ahead, and throughout the world the maximum marketing movement of wheat already grown has been reached. Focusing of speculative attention largely on likelihood of decided curtailment of the 1931 spring wheat turnout goes beyond government-sponsored efforts to reduce acreage, and is based on numerous reports suggesting that grave deficiency of subsoil moisture exists in various sections of the United States and Canadian northwest.

Responsive to bullish prospects, wheat this morning compared to a week ago ranged from 1-8 decline to a rise of 2 5-8 cents, with corn 3-8-1 higher, oats unchanged to ½ up, and provisions 10 to 27 cents down.

Not only is the wheat trade apprehensive regarding lack of subsoil moisture in the spring wheat belt, but dust storms at widely scattered points indicate dearth on surface moisture as well. Advices at hand imply, nevertheless, that seeding of spring wheat will be general by the end of next week, provided intervening weather conditions are propitious. Regarding United States winter wheat, the chief present special reason for anxiety is that owing to the mild winter the outlook contains possibilities of much more danger from crop pests than usual.

One effect of relatively small imports of wheat in most countries this season is apparent probability that practical exhaustion of supplies would result in any case where the harvest of native wheat is below normal. Some damage is reported in Germany as a consequence of frost during March, and the immediate prospect in France is unofficially announced to be for a yield below domestic requirements taken as a whole, the crop outlook in Europe is considered by leading Chicago trade authorities to be less favorable than it was at this time last year.

INTERESTS OF CITY AT HEART.

Every public-spirited citizen should have the interests of his city at heart. He should be glad to do something which would improve and enlarge it and make it a more important city. The best way by which he can will be to associate himself with the Chamber of Commerce, an organization thoroughly built up and always ready to function in the interests of the city of which it is a very important part.

CANADIAN MISSION RETURNS SATISFIED WITH GOODWILL TOUR

Greatest of Hospitality Accorded Them on South American Trip.

VALUABLE CONTACTS.

BUENOS AIRES, April 11—(By the Canadian Press)—Declaring the Canadian goodwill and trade mission had splendidly performed its ambassadorial task of bringing a message of goodwill to the Argentine, and that much good must result from their visit, The Buenos Aires Herald published the following leading editorial on the day of the Canadians departure:

"If the presence of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales has been the outstanding features of a fortnight of unprecedented publicity for the Empire, it would scarcely be an exaggeration to say that the visit of the Canadian delegates has been second in importance.

"When Canada decided to participate in the Trade Exhibition, she also determined that that participation should not be on any niggard scale. Her pavilion in the Exhibition grounds is a model of what such a building should be. Several days before the opening ceremony, the Canadian pavilion was in readiness, and the delegates were able to view, with some degree of pride, the comparatively splendid showing that the Dominion was about to make in an Exhibition such as Argentina had never previously seen in her history.

"Nor did the Canadian effort end with participation in the display at the Rura Society's grounds. A strong delegation, headed by Sir George Perley, was sent down to Buenos Aires. Not only did that delegation contain representative men, but it was also accompanied by gentlemen who knew and understood the importance of publicity. The consequence is that the Canadian visit has been extensively advertised in letterpress and photograph in every newspaper in the city.

"Realizing, too, that Canada's purpose in exhibiting at Palermo is to strengthen Argentine-Canadian trade ties, the members of the delegation have sought contact with the Argentines. Their visit has meant a crowded program; but that would seem to have been worth while, for opportunities have been afforded for meeting the Argentine authorities, for seeing something of Argentine industry, and for learning more of this nation and its people. Rarely, indeed, have representative visitors been able to cover so wide a field in so short a space of time.

"Of the probable after results of the visit, it is difficult to speak. The similarity of the staple products of the two countries makes the development of trade on what may be termed the major scale a matter of some difficulty. But the Canadian pavilion shows clearly that Canada is something more than a land of wheat. She is developing her industries, and like other industrial lands is seeking to develop an export trade. Argentina, on the other hand, is mainly an exporter of raw material; but much of that material is required in Canada. It would seem, therefore, that the commercial interchange between the two countries could be materially increased, with benefit to both. That this is the opinion of the Canadian delegation and of the Government of the Dominion goes without saying; and it would appear obvious that the delegation has been engaged in a task of greater magnitude than that of representing Canada at the Trade Exhibition. Rather has it enjoyed the status of an ambassadorial mission engaged in the task of bringing a message of goodwill to Argentina and in spying out the land from the angle of a people desiring increased trade. The Canadian writers have performed their task splendidly."

LIQUOR STOCKS REMAIN QUIET

Week's Trading Closes With No Outburst on Toronto Stock Exchange.

TORONTO, Ont., April 11 (C.P.)—The week closed quietly on Toronto Stock Exchange. Neither side to the market appeared willing to take a position, and as a result stocks merely backed and filled, a fall fractional variation one way or the other sufficing to catch current orders. There was no volume, naturally, but traders were content to let the market take care of itself, themselves joining the public on the sidelines.

For a time C.P.R. sold below its opening price of 38¾, which was the same as the close last night, but before the close the stock had recovered its small loss.

Elsewhere prices were unchanged. Nickel left off the same at 17¾. The liquor stocks were quiet and unchanged and the oils closed just where they had last night. Volume in the latter group was noticeably curtailed.

Unofficial compilation of sales was 9,356 shares.

MUSIC RECITAL WELL RECEIVED BY LARGE MILLBROOK AUDIENCE

Pleasing Program Staged Under Direction of Mrs. W. McKee Bingham.

ASSISTING ARTISTS.

MILLBROOK, April 11.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—An auditorium filled to capacity though roads and weather were far from favorable, the audience being representative of the countryside for many miles around, and remaining practically in its entirety throughout a program three and one-half hours in length; close attention, and generous applause for every number presented, were among the evidences of popular appreciation of the work of Mrs. W. McKee Bingham in the interests of dramatic art in the community, on he occasion of the annual recital of her pupils, Misses Laura Smart, Helen Annesley Staples, and Dorothy Elizabeth Hall, with Miss Musa Cox, of Peterborough, and other assisting artists, which was held in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening.

Apart from the recital of poetry the musical numbers greatly delighted the hearers. Mrs. Bingham introducing Miss Musa Cox, who had not previously been heard locally, and whose piano solos, which included as her first offering a double number (a) "Esprit du Soir," by Dennee, and (b) Marche Mignone," by Puldini, followed later by Moskowski's Valse in E Major, fully justified the eulogistic words with which this talented, young artist had been presented to the audience.

Vocal solos by Mrs. Bingham gave opportunity for hearing to advantage her full, rich contralto, the singer looking most attractive in a dress of ivory georgette, made along princess lines and of instep length, the only touch of color being in the knotted sash of emerald green tulle at the left waistline caught with brilliant buckle, and falling to the skirt hem; long white kid gloves and shoes of white kid were worn. Mrs. Bingham's accompaniments were played by Miss Grace Johnson, and her solos included "The Answer" by Terry; The Indian Love call (Friml), with violin obligato by Wilfrid Johnson; and a beautiful number, "Angels Guard Thee" (Godard), which was pantomimed by Misses Laura Smart, Helen Staples, and Dorothy Hall, the music being by Miss Musa Cox, Miss Johnson, and Wilfrid Johnson.

Lyric Poem Group

Full curtains of jet black made an effective setting for the major part of the program, until the group of lyric poems was presented, when the rear curtains were drawn to either side revealing a background that called to mind the sunrise, shot through as it was with pink and gold, a raised white dais, rose-strewn, on which Miss Hall, whose Greek draperies were of pale green and gold, took her place for the lovely balad, "The Twilight Bell" (Lytton Cox), Miss Staples being the other speaking participant in this number, Miss Smart acting as bell-ringer. Miss Steeples' Greek robes were silver grey and deep rose, and Miss Smart's white with deep purple; their feet were sandalled.

An old Scottish Borderland story, "The Black Douglas," was the opening number on the program, Miss Smart wearing a twelfth century costume for its recital, and looking as if she had just stepped from an old painting so true was her dress in all its details; a single lighted candle, and an overhead bulb shaded in dark green, made an effective lighting, the reader being seated at the table with a big book open in front of her, the lines at the heading being:

"I wonder has it pleased you now to see
The oldes tald told thus in phantasy."

The narrative poem, "The Nightingale and the Rose" (Oscar Wilde), was Miss Helen Staples first number, her student's dress of black velvet, high white ruff, with cap and long, black silk robe, exactly suiting the character impersonated; the soft music off stage was written by Paul Bliss. For her humorous number, "An Abandoned Elopmement," Miss Staples wore a dainty evening dress of Copenhagen blue silk, with silver slippers, and red roses at her waist. Her rendition of both these selections was exceptionally good, though a similar statement might be made of the part each artist took in her particular section of the program.

Miss Hall, in the dramatic recitation, "Zingarella," a Spanish gypsy, (MacDowell, music by Giorga), made an especial appeal to the audience, the story exciting keen interest, particularly as it was so effectively told, and the costume worn peculiarly appropriate. An evening dress of flowered blue silk crepe, with satin slippers in a matching shade, was worn by Miss Hall for her second number, "The Band of Hope," by Nellie McClung.

Well Received.

"Miss Lily Mink Read a Paper on 'English Literature'", was Miss Sharp's humorous selection, her dress as a typical old maid, the mincing manner in which she walked, and the nervousness that 'set the paper all a-tremble,' all combining to keep her audience laughing heartily from her first appearance on the stage to the last line of the reading.

The dramatized poem, "The Famine," from Longfellow's Hiawatha, given by Miss Helen Staples, Mrs. Bingham singing "The Lament" of Old Nokomis, could hardly have been more effectively staged, nor more realistically rendered. Outstanding on the program was the group of Greek Lyric Poems, Mrs. Bingham venturing much in their presentation, the ambitious appeal meeting with popular favor as was evidenced by the warm applause. The selections included, "The Enchanted Garden' (Dunsany) by Miss Laura Smart Keats' "Ode to a Grecian Urn," by Mis Helen Staples; Shelly's beautiful poem, "To a Skylark," by Miss Dorothy Hall; and "The Twilight Bell," a number already referred to.

The stage was lovely for this group of lyrics, a big Grecian urn allowing Miss Staples to gracefully pose with it as a background, while Miss Smart gave the first number, a white seat, with ropes of roses carelessly thrown over its back, and a violin laid nearby, found Miss Hall seated with bowed head during the same interval. The Greek costumes added to the effec iveness.

A closing comedy in one act, "The Florist Shop," terminated happily one of the finest programs of amateur talent ever presented locally, the caste including: Maude, the bookeeper, Miss Staples; Henry, the office boy, Norman McBain; Old Slovsky, a Jewish proprietor, Mrs. W. McKee Bingham; Miss Wells, a timid, talkative spinster, Mis Hall; Mr. Joackson, her fiancee, Walter Brown.

Assisting Mrs. Bingham with the business end of the entertainment were Mrs. E. G. Britton and Mrs. J. E. Allen, who took the tickets; E. H. Barnes who was ticket-seller; and Messrs. Henry Lancashire, E. Budd and Piercey Pitt, who acted as ushers.

Mrs. Bingham intends any durplus after expenses are paid to the purchase of new fittings for the stage in the Town Hall. As a climax to Wednesday's recital, before the final curtain, she sang, "All Through the Night."

ART CLUB HEARS MRS. B. L. BARNS

"Lustre" is Subject of Interesting Address at Art Association.

ORIGINATED IN EGYPT.

"Lustre" was the subject of the talk given to the members of the Lyceum Women's Art Association yesterday afternoon in the studios of the Conservatory of Music by Mrs. B. L. Barns, whose address was illustrated effectively by a loan exhibition of pewter and lustre pieces.

Mrs. Barns outlined very interestingly the methods used in the manufacture of lustre, which has been a flourishing industry in many lands through many centuries. It was a successful industry in Italy until the close of the fifteenth century, coming there from Spain, where, until the expulsion of the Moors, when Spain lost interest in ceramics, the manufacture of lustre was actively followed out. It also was a successful business on the Island of Majorca.

The art of lustre painting originated in Egypt and was carried from there to Asia and later to Spain and Italy and finally to England. About 1750, Hancock introduced the art into England, and several years later Wedgewood began to experiment. In the nineteenth century, lustre painting was at its height. Some of the most famous manufactures were those of Wedgewood, Staffordshire, Leeds, and Swansea.

Mrs. Barns went on to enumerate some of the characteristics of the ware and to give a description of the work in gold and silver "resist," as it is called. So common was the emblem of a bird in this work, that it came to be called a "resist" bird.

In the early days, silver was used prodigally in the manufacture of silver lustre pieces, but later, other compounds were employed to produce the same silvery finish. In 1838, electro-plating was introduced to England, bringing silver plate within the reach of the most modest purse.

Ribbed lustre was another variation, with ribbing both vertical and horizontal. Dishes of all types were made with this finish, also teapots and goblets and statuary figures. Tints ranged from gold, silver and copper, to pink, rose, lilac, plum and raspberry, palest pearl and black.

Prior to the address of the afternoon, the president, Mrs. W. Blackwell, made several announcements, and tea was served at the conclusion.

The exhibit of pewter and lustre pieces was exceptionally interesting. Many of the members of the society brought old and new pieces that were handsome and striking in design and shape. Others loaned pieces from outside the membership of the organization included two very old platters loaned by Miss Margaret Hamilton; a very ancient platter of pewter presented to Dr. N. H. Sutton during war time by a French refugee, and a lovely candlabrum, the possession of Miss Mabel Clarry, with its graceful design emblematic of the lily of France.

PLAINTIFF FAILS IN COURT ACTION

GIVEN COUNTER CLAIM.

Holding that plaintiff had not produced enough evidence to establish lack of care on the part of defendants, His Honor Judge L. V. O'Connor yesterday afternoon dismissed an action with costs in First Division court of the County of Peterborough, and allowed a counter-claim for $6.71, $3.71 of which was admitted by plaintiff.

The action was brought by Gordon Puffer, against Gray and Detcher, Central Service Station, for the sum of $34.50. Plaintiff was represented by J. A. O'Brien, while defendants were represented by A. ... Elliott of the firm of Gordon and Elliott.

It transpired that plaintiff had sent his automobile to Gray and Detcher's Service Station last November to have winter oil put in, in place of heavier oil which had been in use previously, and to have the car greased, etc. He also gave instructions that the contents of the radiator be so fixed that there would be no danger of freezing at 15 degrees below zero.

Plaintiff, in evidence, told of how he had motored to Norwood to attend a social function, and of how when about two miles out of Norwood on the way back to Peterborough, something had gone wrong with the radiation system. He had been able to drive the car into within about a mile of the city limits, by means of coasting down hills and stopping every now and then to allow the engine to cool off, but eventually the car was unable to proceed further under its own power.

For the defence, it was claimed that defendants did not put any alcohol in the radiator of plaintiff's car at all, as when the solution already in the radiator was tested it proved up to be of sufficient strength to stand 16 degrees below zero weather.

Mr. Elliott called three witnesses in the automobile business including Allan F. Gray, Joseph Detcher and Joseph S. Fontaine and during cross-examination of Gray and Fontaine, some amusement was caused over questions conecerning the temperatures at which the liquid in the radiator was tested.

Walter Peters, government weather man for the County of Peterborough, was also called and stated that on November 28th last the maximum temperature was 20 degrees and the minimum 1 degree below zero; the day previous was comparatively mild, while on the 29th November, the minimum temperature was 2 degrees below zero.

His Honor, in the course of summing up, was of the opinion that a great deal of doubt existed as to the real cause of the failure of the radiation system in plaintiff's car. There were a number of things which might have occurred, and the suggestion of one of the witnesses that the contents of the radiator had been stolen, was not to be ignored.

Taxpayers of Glasgow, Scotland, are circulating a petition demanding the reduction in wages of all municipal employees.

Manitoba Wheat Pool Plan Passes House

WINNIPEG, Man., April 11. — (C. P.)—Premier John Bracken yesterday safely piloted his wheat pool guarantee legislation through the Manitoba Legislature, third reading coming after an interrupted passage. The bill was reported to the House by the Select Standing committee earlier in the day.

Efforts of J. T. Haig, Winnipeg Conservative member, to have deleted a clause authorizing the Government to again postpone, if necessary, pool security in favor of the lending banks failed when the Premier refused to accept an amendment. If the banks are to make adequate advances to the pool this summer, they must be given first mortgage on the province's security in the pool elevators, Mr. Bracken asserted.

DAIRY COWS REDUCE WHEN ON DIET; LOSS SHOWS UP IN MILK PROFITS

Have Your Herd Tested and Weed Out the Poor Ones—Study Rations.

KEEP RECORDS

By Dr. L. D. LeGear, V.S.

Dieting for the purpose of reducing weight has become a great American habit, especially among the women folks. More bathroom scales have been sold in the last few years than during any period in history. A lot of harm has been done as the result of unwise and rigid diets. It is surprising the number of people who are willing to risk health for a graceful figure.

In the dairy industry we find a similar situation although for a different reason. In the last few years a good deal has been said about keeping records. Every modern dairy farmer maintains an accurate check on the milk production of his herd, and also the cost of feed. Naturally, in order to show a profit, all efforts are directed toward securing big production at a low feeding cost, and there is where the trouble is apt to start.

J. C. McDowell, of the U.S. Bureau of Dairy Industry, tells us that "a study of the records of the half-million dairy cows on test in dairy-herd-improvement associations has indicated that few dairy herds are overfed, that quite a number are underfed, and that many of the herds are fed injudiciously."

Profits Accidental

Take the case of the farmers who feed all their cows alike, regardless of the size, age, and amount of milk produced. Only an accident will enable them to make profits in most cases. But if those same farmers will keep an individual feed and milk record on each cow, and sell off the poor producers and feed the remainder correctly, profits are certain to follow. Time after time it has been proven that cows which eat the most in dollars' worth of feed produce the most milk, the most butterfat, the greatest gross income and, most important of all, the greatest income over cost of feed.

A little study will show why this is true. A cow needs food for two purposes, to keep alive and to produce milk. Under normal conditions about half of the food is used for the maintenance of the body and the other half goes into the milk. But that does not mean that if you increase the rations above the amount the cow ought to have, she will give more milk. In other words, there is a well-defined limit.

A cow that is fed too much will produce the same amount of milk that she would if she was fed just enough. The excess food will be utilized in adding weight. That extra weight is of no value unless the cow happens to be underweight, or unless she hapepns to be preparing for a period when it will be necessary to draw upon a reserve. Overfeeding, therefore, leads to reduced profits.

Underfeeding also leads to reduced profits but from another cause. Self-preservation comes first always. That 50-50 division of food between what is needed to maintain the body and the amount that goes into the production of milk will not hold good when the cow is fed too little, for the simple reason that the body needs come first. When they are satisfied, then production starts. Take a cow weighing 1,000 pounds, that produces 3 gallons of 4% butterfat milk when fed normally. She will produce that same amount of milk if overfed but possibly only half that amount if underfed. The amount that goes for body maintenance remains the same in all three cases.

Good Milkers—Good Eaters

A study of thousands upon thousands of individual records shows that a cow which produces twice the milk of another cow will eat about fifty per cent more than the second cow. A 100% increase in volume from a 50% increase in investment is a pretty good bargain. There are a number of general rules for feeding dairy cows. An old one is to feed Holsteins one pound of grain for every three pounds (pints) of milk produced. Jerseys are supposed to require one pound of grain to every four pounds of milk, with Guernseys in between.

Cows are just as individual in their eating as humans. You have to study each cow and feed accordingly to her production. You must also study the combinations of food. Silage, legume hays and grains when fed to the dairy cow in the right proportions will produce milk at a profit. For every dollar spent in feed you should receive from two to three dollars in milk. Study your records, weed out the poor ones and buy new cows to replace them. Weigh your food and your milk. It is much safer than measuring. Do this at least once a month. Or better yet, if you do not already have a testing association in your community, get a few herd owners together and start one. Then you can have an experienced cow-tester visit your farm once a month.

Success Measured By the Net Profit

Writing in the Economic Annalist recently with respect to the necessity for economic analysis in farming Dr. J. H. Grisdale, Federal Deputy Minister of Agriculture, states: "The measure of success or failure in a business enterprise is the amount by which the returns from that business exceed the total cost of running it, including interest on capital, wear and tear and labor—in other words, the net profit. Farming is a busines enterprise and, like other businesses; must measure its success by its profits."

IS YOUR LAWN SIGN OF THRIFT

Farmer Often Judged by Appearance of Front Yard Around House.

USE CATCHER ON MOWER

It has been said that the character of a farmer can be judged by the appearance of his fence corners but there is reason to believe that the condition of the front lawn is more often the index by which opinions are formed. A well-clipped lawn, free from weeds, not only impresses passers-by with the evident thrift and progressiveness of the owner or tenant but also inspires pride and gives pleasure to those who live there. A slovenly appearing front lawn offers a poor basis for credit just as a slouchy appearance often fails to inspire confidence in a person's ability. A comparatively small amount of time spent early in the season raking up sticks and stones and filling up small holes will make it easier to operate the lawn mower later on. If the children do not like to mow the lawn perhaps the mower is out of adjustment or repair and a new easier running machine is needed. Lawn clippings are an ideal green feed for growing chicks and are easily made available with a catcher attached to the mower.

PETERBORO' COWS MAKE FINE TESTS

Holsteins Through District Also Set Up Credible Records in R.O.P.

SEVERAL SOLD INTO U. S.

Several good records in the R.O.P. have just been announced by the Extension Department of the Holstein-Friesian Association covering the production of cows and heifers in the herd of Sandy Matchett, Peterborough, Ont. The lactation periods were carried through on twice a day milking in the 365-day division. The six-year-old cow, Jennie Rauwerd Colantha, bred by P. B. Nelson, Campbellford, finished her year with 16,657 lbs. milk containing 691.25 lbs. butter, giving her an average test of 3.32 per cent fat. In one month of her lactation period, this cow produced 2155 lbs. milk containing 69 lbs. fat. The other mature cow in the group, Annie Pietje Segis, bred by W. E. Wood, Keene, Ont., gave 14,840 lbs. milk containing 652.50 lbs. butter, her test averaging 3.52 per cent fat. The three 4-year-olds were all bred by Mr. Matchett himself, and their records were as follows: Irene Beauty Echo, 15,438 lbs. milk containing 665 lbs. butter; Jemina Model, 13,779 lbs. milk containing 606.25 lbs. butter, with an average test of 3.51 per cent fat; Princess Echo Model, 13,247 lbs. milk containing 577.50 lbs. butter, her test averaging 3.49 per cent fat. There was also a three-year-old, and a two-year-old in the group. The three-year-old, Segis Echo Model, produced 14,137 lbs. milk containing 546.25 lbs. butter, while the two-year-old, Susie Abbekerk, gave 11,063 lbs. milk containing 450 lbs. butter. These two heifers were also bred by Mr. Matchett.

Two-Year-Old Does Well.

The two-year-old Holstein Club heifer, Rose Korndyke Mercedes, bred by William Jones, Mt. Elgin, Ont., and now owned by Donald Moore, Peterborough, has just finished her first year in the R.O.P. producing in the 365-day division on twice a day milking, 10,801 lbs. milk containing 451.25 lbs. butter. This heifer was sired by Echo Hartog Mercedes. Donald's father, C. E. Moore, has also just qualified the five-year-old Holstein cow, Marcelle Segis, on twice a day milking in the 365-day division with 17,110 lbs. milk containing 782.75 lbs. butter, giving her an average test of 3.41 per cent fat.

A. Vila, Barrie, Vt., has just purchased a number of Holstein cows and heifers in the Campbellford district. He got two from the herd of James G. Milne, Campbellford; two from Robert G. Weddell, Trenton; one from R. G. Pettey, Warkworth, and one from J. H. Stotts, Campbellford.

SCHEME TO

people owned the power plant and he felt that because of the revenue received from it, the people should receive a direct benefit. He thought that the increase of prompt payment discount would also mean an increase in consumption of power, and also add to collections. He believed that the power users should also have the reduction of cost, but he was not advocating that now. His motion only applied to domestic and commercial services.

Mayor Bygott asked if it was in the original by-law that the power went to the consumer at cost. Mr. Riendeau replied to the effect that it was felt that the people should receive power as cheap as possible, because the plant was built up and belonged to the people of Campbellford.

Commissioner Blue was not in favor of the change at first. He thought that giving the extra five percent discount would not help the people to pay their bills if they had not the money. He thought that it would also have to be made up in the taxes if allowed. Mr. Riendeau pointed out that he did not think that the user of light should have to pay for others taxes, that was not fair.

Pay Two Taxes

The board as a whole thought that the renters pay their taxes in the rent they pay, but Mr. Riendeau went further by stating that the renter pays two taxes, one in the rent and the other in the light.

One point that was discussed fully was whether the proposed discount increase should affect the township of Seymour as well as the town. Commissioner Blue thought that it should not, and was opposed to the township getting the advantage of the extra five per cent increase, but the other members of the board thought that it should apply to all the users of the power.

At the suggestion of Commissioner Blue the motion was held over for another month to give the board time to go more fully into the question from all angles before voting on it.

L. T. Diamond, local real estate agent, addressed the board. He put before them a proposition covering the purchase of a property to convert into a centre for the town offices. He thought that to own a central property which was suitable was better than renting, he had in mind the Jenkins property on Bridge street. This was centrally located and would make fine offices and had a double advantage of storing accommodation and garage room for five cars.

He thought that this was a fine property for the town to buy for offices and storage space and would be more suitable than renting. Mr. Diamond also stated that the price for this property would be made right if the board considered the proposal. No action was taken in this matter.

All accounts were presented and passed.

SHORT SOD ROTATIONS PROVE BEST TO MAINTAIN ORCHARD FERTILITY

Cover Crops Get Six Weeks' Longer Growth by Seeding First Week in June.

22 YEARS OF RESEARCH

Short sod rotations offer the cheapest and most satisfactory means of maintaining most apple orchards in a high degree of fertility according to R. D. Anthony, research professor of pomology at Pennsylvania State college. As a result of 22 years' fessor of pomology at Pennsylvania station, Professor Anthony concludes that the problem of maintaining soil fertility in the orchard is far more than the addition of fertilizers, being primarily a question of keeping the soil full of humus, either by sod rotations, preferably leguminous sods, or in some cases by the use of annual cover crops.

This process of maintaining fertility should be started, he claims, when the orchard is planted, if not before. Their experience has shown that it is not desirable to maintain blue grass sod for more than four to six years. Orchard blocks on which sod was maintained for longer periods fell off in yield, although receiving applications of nitrogen, until production was no greater than from trees standing in unfertilized sod.

Custom Changed

In former years it was customary at the station to seed the cover crop in late July and even in August. Later, however, this date was advanced to the middle of July. Since 1929, when those in charge were fully convinced of the necessity of increasing the organic content of orchard soil the cover crop has been seeded the first week in June. This not only gave six weeks longer to grow more organic matter but made it possible to seed the orchard while the seedbed was in a more favorable condition.

Professor Anthony concludes that had all plots been seeded at this earlier date from the planting of the orchard it is probable that their present results woul have been different and that the continuous growing of fertilized cover crops would have maintained soil fertility.

Tractor Sweep Rake Is Proving Popular

In a number of sections the tractor sweep rake has become a very popular tool. Large amounts of hay can be speedily moved to a stacker or to a baler with little effort. In case of stacking the lugs should be removed from the tractor wheels or the field is likely to be dug up around the stack. Some farmers have been reported as using tractor sweeps for moving bundle grain from the shock to the separator with very good results. It is also used to advantage to save the straw following the combine. By setting the baler or press every five acres there is little difficulty experienced in the tractor rake keeping it busy.

Canadian Apples Sold in Egypt

The market for Canadian products, particularly apples, is ever widening. Recent reports indicate that a potential market of considerable interest to Canadian apples are being well received in the Cairo market, selling at around $4.88½ per box. They have not only won recognition as the best apples coming onto the Egyptian market, but apparently they can be laid down there at a price which makes them more attractive than other fancy pack importations from the United States—Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Butter Production Higher This Year

The current news letter of the Dominion Dairy Branch contains the interesting information that butter production for 1931 has got away to a splendid start. Ontario reports an increase of 21.2 per cent over the corresponding period last year; Saskatchewan reports receipts of butter-fat 56 per cent ahead of last year; Saskatchewan shows an increase of 76.1 per cent in butter production for the month of January; and Alberta reports an increase of 83 per cent in the amount of butter-fat received for February as compared with the same month last year.

GET VEGETABLES PLANTED EARLY

Spinach, Cress, Mustard, Lettuce Can Be Sown Soon as Ground is Ready.

PEAS COME NEXT

The first vegetables to go in are usually those grown for their leaves like spinach, mustard and lettuce. We can sow the first of these just as soon as the ground is ready, and we can continue sowing them at intervals of a week for about a month. This will give us a much longer season and a succession of very necessary vitamines at a time when we are just getting over the effects of a long diet of starchy, stored foods or insipid, imported southern stuff.

In all of these the new varieties listed in the seed catalogue represent a vast improvement over the old. We can secure a spinach now that will be ready for the table weeks ahead of the old kinds, and we can also plant late varieties which will keep our table supplied with greens right up into July before going to seed.

With the first of these early leafy vegetables should go in the first sowing of peas. We are only beginning to find out in this country that the best and largest crops of peas come from the early planted seed. This vegetable will stand considerable frost and a snowfall after planting should not be viewed with alarm but as a good omen. The early varieties will begin to bear in forty-five days so that we can plan our first meal of this delicious vegetable right down to the minute. At this time too we should put in the first sowing of radish. A week or two later get in the second sowing of peas, which should include at least one late, one medium and one early variety, so that we prolong the season to its maximum, the first of the beets and carrots and half of the early potatoes.

It is good business at this period to risk a row or two of corn and beans. If a late frost catches them it is a small loss any way. In the third planting group will come cabbages, cauliflower and potatoes which should not go out until danger from frost is past, and a little later when the soil really warms up we can plant melons, cucumbers and celery.

Outside of the really early things such as peas, spinach and lettuce, which make their growth during cool weather, there is little object in rushing the season and particularly in regard to those hot weather crops such as tomatoes, melons, cucumbers and the main planting of corn. Even if these do escape a light, late frost they will not start to grow until the soil and weather really warm up.

BETTER TIMES BEING PREDICTED FOR POULTRYMAN IN FALL OF 1931

Likely to be Fewer High Quality Pullets Due to Feeding of Cheap Rations.

PUBLIC EATING MORE EGGS

With the price of eggs down to 10c and 12c a dozen in February, it is quite natural for poultrymen to become discouraged and question the future of the poultry industry.

Last fall there were something like 2,000,000 cases more eggs in storage than in previous years. This might not have affected the fresh egg market to any great extent had we had a severe winter; instead, it has been very mild throughout the Middlewest, so that the hens laying 60% to 65% instead of 30% to 40%.

Eggs that went into storage last spring at 26c to 29c are being sold every day at a considerable loss. Produce and storage men have taken a severe loss, and will not be in a position to put into storage in quantity as compared to other years.

Because of the low price of eggs, poultrymen have already started to sell their hens for meat. Poultry meat so far is bringing a good price. The low price of eggs is also going to discourage the raising of chicks, and the chicks that are hatched in many instances will be of low vitality due to faulty nutrition on the part of the breeding stock. Many poultrymen have made the mistake of resorting to cheap rations this winter in the hope of reducing their feed costs; consequently, we will see fewer pullets of high quality go into laying houses next fall.

With the cheap price of eggs, the consumer is rapidly being educated to eat more eggs. They are much more frequently found in the diet today than ever before. Market reports indicate 40% more eggs going into consumption during the month of February than the corresponding month in 1930. The demand for eggs, naturally, next fall will be greater than a year ago.

The future for the poultryman who will raise just as many or more chicks this spring looks good. Eggs should bring a good price next fall and winter. They may not be as high in price as they have been, but the margin of profit will be unusually good compared to other farm products. Intelligent feeding in the raising of the pullet crop this summer is going to play an important part as to the profits you may expect from the flock next fall. Select a ration for the chicks that will insure rapid, sound growth.

Portable Hog Huts Coming Into Use

Practical equipment is best suited to the raising of hogs experts of Dominion Experimental Farms find, and the essential characteristic of the new type of all-year hog cabin which is recommended for general farm use is essentially practical. It is portable, durable and strong, cool and comfortable for summer use yet capable of providing adequate shelter for winter; it accommodates four or five brood sows, and it is economical and easy to build. Complete plans and specifications are provided in special Circular 78, available without charge on application to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Otawa.

CHICKS REQUIRE RIGHT VITAMINS

Knowledge Available To-day of Immense Valuable for Best Results.

PICK FEED CAREFULLY

A chick ration may be correct in every respect, yet if certain of the vitamins are missing, the chicks will not grow. The knowledge that we have to-day about vitamins is of immense value in chick feeding.

Vitamins have a tremendous influence on growth in addition to serving as protective foods. For instance, if a chick ration is deficient in Vitamin A, the growth of chicks is checked and they develop a peculiar condition of the eyes. If chicks do not receive an adequate supply of Vitamin B complex, growth is retarded and the chances are a nervous trouble, commonly known as polonеuritis, will appear. Birds so affected will have a peculiar twisting of the head.

Of the various vitamins, the D vitamin has received the most widespread attention of poultrymen. Before the discovery of this food factor, it was almost futile to attempt raising chicks and not be trouble with rickets until the chicks could get outdoors in the sunlight. To depend on the sun, though, would be a big handicap for we have no assurance when it will shine and it would limit the brooding season to a few months in the spring.

Fortunately, these various vitamins may be supplied in the chick ration so that good chicks can be raised indoors in any kind of weather. It merely means that care must be exercised in the selection of the chick ration.

CAMPBELLFORD REVISION COURT HEARS APPEALS ON ASSESSMENT

Decisions Handed Out With Exception of Few Properties to be Viewed.

MAYOR ACTS CHAIRMAN.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). The Campbellford Court of Revision convened Thursday night in the Public Library when appeals were heard against property assessments and decisions in the majority of cases handed out. Some appeals were left over however to allow the court time to view the properties concerned. The Court was comprised of Mayor J. M. Bygott, chairman, Reeve N. Stone, Deputy Reeve N. Alex MacColl and Councillors H. N. Carr and A. D. Bennett. The town engineer, R. Scott, was also present.

Ralph Bennett appealed against the assessment on his lot on Victoria Avenue. He was charged with 66 feet frontage and the deeds of his property proved that the frontage was only 40 feet. Question, Mr. Scott stated that he measurements was according to the assessor's plan. On motion it was decided that the frontage be changed from 66 to 40 on the special assessment role.

Miss B. Bayes thought that she was charged with too much sewer tax on her Victoria avenue site. She owned half a 165 foot lot, which was 82.5 feet of a frontage. This matter was discussed Councillor Bennett expressing the opinion that if 66 feet was the standard frontage for a lot, he did not see why the holders should be compelled to pay more. Charles McKevie, who was present to make a similar appeal, and who owns a lot on Victoria avenue also, stated that they were willing to pay on a 66 foot frontage basis. On motion of Councillors Bennett and Carr both these appeals were granted, the assessment being reduced to 66 feet.

S. J. Moore received a 50 foot reduction on his frontage on Victoria avenue. He stated that he was charged with 142 feet, and as it was a flanking lot, he felt that he should not be charged with a full frontage. On motion the frontage was reduced to 92 feet.

Some discussion arose over the properties on Albert Street. Mr. Moore stated that in connection with the sewer that was laid there, several properties on the street had not been charged up with it. He thought that this was unfair to the sewer builders on Victoria avenue.

Mr. Scott speaking on this question, pointed out that he had been instructed by the Mayor and also the chairman of the Road and Bridge Committee, to do this work. No water main was to be laid on this street and the sewer was to be laid on the west side of it. John O'Sullivan, last year's chairman of the committee, spoke on the subject, declaring that he never sanctioned the work, but Mr. Scott stated that he surveyed the middle of the road for the sewer, but when he was away it was laid on the side. He also stated that it would have been cheaper to run the sewer in the middle of the road. No action was taken in this matter.

Mr. O'Sullivan also appealed his assessment on the corner of Booth street, the intersection. Mr. Scott pointed out that 50 feet had been taken off, but Mr. O'Sullivan declared that he wanted it all taken off. The clerk notified the court that he applicant was assesed for 18 feet on the corner. Reeve Stone saying that this was according to by-law. No action was taken with this appeal.

Five appeals were left over to allow the court to visit the sites and more fully understand the conditions that prevail.

The first of these was entered by Mrs. J Drain on Victoria avenue. She was assessed on a 426 frontage and it was pointed out that over half of this land was worthless for building purposes owing to the lowness of it. Mrs. M. Thomas, Robert Fry, Mrs. W. Todd and Thomas Locke all appealed their frontage on Booth street, claiming as their reason the fact that the railway, an old spur line, cut into them. The court will view these properties before action is taken.

Alfred Merrill's claim for a reduction of 50 feet on the frontage of his Victoria avenue property was upheld by the court. He was assessed for 126 feet.

Magistrate G. A. Payne, a property owner of Frank Street, addressed the court, querrying the reason why the corporation had to pay $1,186 for the work done on this street when the total cost was $1 628.84. He thought that the government was paying fifty-fifty on all this work and therefore the town should be only assessed for half of the total cost. Mr. Scott pointed out that the property owner was only paying $616.00 of the cost of this work, and Deputy Reeve MacColl stated that the government was paying fifty per cent. of all the work done, not on the one sewer. The work was to benefit the unemployed, not the property owner.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright,
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet
Or dims the radiant light.
No unkind word our lips shall pass.
No envy sour the mind.
But each shall seek the common weal,
The good of all mankind.

MILLBROOK

"Household Necessities," took up the time of a recent Institute meeting, one member advancing the information that when buying bedroom slippers, she had found it necessary to purchase these a size larger than the shoes worn for comfort's sake, and for better wear.

It may seem strange, but as a matter of fact, the foot is smaller inside a stocking than when bare; and it is actually more difficult to slip the bare foot inside a closely-fitting shoe than it is when the hose are worn. This same member also expressed her personal preference for a soft felt slipper for lounging, and sometimes for wearing to bed if her feet were cold; while others insisted they liked best the popular black kid bedroom slipper, especially for going downstairs to start the kitchen fire going briskly before completing dressing.

"Glaring colors in glassware are now unpopular," was the contribution of a member who had just returned from a trip to New York, and Toronto, and one whose friends in these cities entertained frequently during her visits, and of course throughout the season. "They are using more of the subdued tints, a soft amber, and quiet greens, or pale rose shades, and of course plain crystal is always considered in the best of good taste."

Just now the sunroom's furnishings for the season is a live question, and affects rural women as well as the city dweller since many modernized farm homes have this useful accessory. That this cosy room should have gay chintz for cushions and chair covers, was generally acceded, with perhaps a trailing vine over the lattice at one window, giving an effect of coolness on a hot day, as well as shade. Also the curtains should match the couch and chair covers, and one or two small tables are indispensable. One member told of making covers for these of the same chintz as was used for the furniture coverings, edging the comparatively small squares with an inch-wide ecru lace bought at the 'five and ten' store. Providing sunfast materials are used, and tubfast as well, the matter of laundering has no terrors of fading and thus giving the room a shabby appearance.

Moreover the women present seemed to think that a set of matching furniture for the sunroom was too formal and stiff looking, and that odd pieces, with one chair and couch alike possibly, and the others selected from differing types, gave variety and was a more appropriate plan altogether. Willow or reed chairs, with painted or wicker tables were apparently the popular choice. Lots of cushions were insisted upon as essential.

WARSAW

In 1925 Mrs. Edith O'Connor, a native of South Africa, and a woman farmer called together some women who were interested in agriculture. These women decided to form an organization to be known as the Women's Section of the Transvaal Agricultural Union, with the motto "Work Ennobles,' 'and colors royal blue and gold. They drew up a constitution which welcomed as members all European women on a non-political, non-sectarian, non-racial basis.

They decided to endeavor to organize branches throughout the Transvaal, and have them send a representative to Pretoria each year. By March, 1929, there were seventy-seven live branches.

Many difficulties have been encountered in organization. The geographical difficulties are sparse population, great distances (some members drive fifteen miles), some come in motor cars, some in horse-carts, some in funny little carts drawn by donkeys. In many places they meet the same day as the men and at the same place. Finances prove a difficulty as the sole income is from the fee of six pence per member. All service is voluntary.

The Government Department of Agriculture does send women officers in Home Economics and agricultural officers, men, all bilingual, to demonstrate and lecture on household matters and the lighter phases of farm work, but there are not enough to do all that is needed for lack of funds.

Members of the branches are judges at agricultural shows They must pass a test before being appointed. A Transvaal Agricultural Union Women's Exhibit is placed in the Pretoria Agricultural and the exhibit has been larger each year.

A weekly market stall in Pretoria has been arranged for members. A free circulating library has been established.

Greater provision for women in agricultural schools has been urged, and a six months' course for women only has been arranged. Women may join some of the other classes. Each branch is urged to send a member to the five day's agricultural classes which exist, the branch to pay her expenses, and she give the branch full benefit of her notes.

In 1927 and 1928 the Women's Section Congress was addressed by member of the National Council of Women, but they did not see their way to affiliate.

The women's branches are noticeably responsible for an increase of friendliness and good-will among country-women.

Though the idea of women's section of the Transvaal Agricultural Union was a spontaneous growth of South Africa it has received much help and literature from an acknowledges its indebtedness to the National Federation of Women's Institutes, Scottish Women's Rural Institutes and the Federated Institutes of Canada.

HAVELOCK

The following paper on "Perennials for Home Beautification" was prepared by John F. Clark, lecturer in Horticulture, Ontario Department of Agriculture.

"Every home should be a picture: The gardner paints his pictures with plants, trees and shrubs which require patience and knowledge, as a few years will pass before the entire beauty will be realized. The most satisfactory and lasting material to use if the beautiful and permanent perennials which are now procurable in abundance.

The principals of proper planting are not hard to master. Varieties should be planted in groups, and in small grounds nothing more elaborate than the planting of a few varieties should be attempted. Care should be taken in the selection of varieties that will content themselves within the space, shade, moisture and soil conditions which you have to offer them in your garden.

Shrubs are necessary for the background, but where there is space, very pleasing effects are to be secured by planting perennials among them, or in a border in front o the shrubbery, to bloom season after season, adding color to the grounds, and furnishing cut flowers for the home.

Well kept grounds require care and attention, this meaning a little work for the owner, but the effort is well worth while and justifiable, paying in added health and pleasure for both time and abor. It also adds value to the home, and increases the possibility of a quick sale when opportunity presents itself.

There are a number of good perennials which can be grown readily from seed, such as: Iceland Poppies, Oriental Poppies, Columbine, Coreopsis, Gaillardia, Campanula, Platycodon, Delphinium, at a comparatively small outlay, and in two seasons many hundreds o' plants may be grown from seed, producing almost continual bloom from spring till Autumn.

It is well to remember that most perennials do best in full sunlight. A southern aspect, protected from strong winds is the best and most satisfactory position for the garden.

Paeonies, Iris, Phlox, Lily of the Valley, Gaillardia, Aquilegia, Day Lilies, and other perennials, can be more successfully divided and transplanted during the first part of September than in spring. Irises may also be divided and transplanted immediately after the blooming period. It is not desirable that the foliage be cut down early in the fall. The foliage should be allowed to die down gradually after the blooming season is past, and the dead cut down and left to protect the crown of the plant during winter, and gathered up and burned in the early spring.

For positions of a dry nature the following perennials are recommended: Achillea ptarmica, Alyssum saxatile, Arabis, Campanula arpatica, Cerastium tomentosom, Coreopsis lanceolata, Dianthus deltoides, Digitalis ambigua, Gaillardia aristata, Gypsophila paniculata, Helianthus, Iris Germanica, Lychnis coronaria, Lychnis chalcedonica, Papaver and Thymus.

Bulbous plants that may be used in the perennial border are Bolbocodium, Chionodoxa, Colchicum, Crocus, Lilium, Muscari (Grape Hyacinths) Narcissus, Scilla, Darwin and Breeder Tulips.

Perennials which have been tested and proved hardy in Northern Ontario are Aqueligia in variety, Aruncus sylvester, Campanuls persicifolia, Chrysanthemum maximum (Shasta Daisy) Coreopsis grandiflora, Delphinium in variety, Papaver nudicaule, Platycodon grandiflorum, Rudbeckia laciniata flore pleno (Golden Glow).

STIRLING

The following paper for the Stirling Women's Institute was prepared by Mrs. Harper Rollins.

The Power of Thought.

"We should talk less and think more. In how far does thought affect our lives? Ella Wilcox says:

" The thing thou cravest,
" Wails in the distance,
Wrapped in the silence unseen and dumb,
Essential to thy soul and thy existence
Live worthy of it,
Call and thou shalt come."

Another writer says,

'Thoughts are forces, through their instrumentality we have in our grasp, and as our rightful heritage, the power of making life and all its manifold conditions exactly what we will. Take care of our thoughts and our actions will take care of themselves."

Every act is preceded by a thought. The inner thoughts are the root of evil. Without an impure thought there can be no impure action.

Crime . . . murder . . . is never the impulse of one bad moment. This has its beginning in hate and malice; these ideas increase in strength and enormity until the awful deed is performed.

Henry Ward Beechers says: "Put away all sarcasm from your speech; never complain; do not prophecy evil.

A strong-minded man can not direct his thoughts exactly as he chooses. Unbidden suggestions will intrude.

It is difficult to have perfect concentration on one idea.

Once the supervision of school is removed from us, too many stop training their minds for the battle of life.

High school hockey boys require more and constant training in hockey and baseball after they go out into wider fields of sports.

A soldier is kept in constant training that he may fight valiantly.

We must never stop cultivating our minds lest we become trivial and fritter away our time in idle gossip.

This is an age when culture is much discussed. The highest culture is to speak no ill.

Our minds must become treasure houses of good literature and then we are prepared to meet the varied conditions of life.

Lack of physical exercise causes weak muscles, no mental activity, dulls the intellect.

We must be prepared to meet sorrow and grief with comforting thoughts such as, "Death is the chilliness that precedes the dawn." Thought is the controlling element in our lives.

Knowledge is not a sealed fountain: drink deep until the sins of emptiness, gossip, spite and slander die.

Isaac Singer did not conceive the first idea of a machine. The invention was one of slow growth rather than inspiration. His first machine was completed in 11 days. It was a failure for the stitches were not firm. All at once the idea occured that the loose threads were all on the upper side of the cloth, so the tension was adjusted and the thing was complete.

In 1851 Singer got his patent. He started with $40 on the stormy sea of commercial life. Disappointments met him at every turn. People were skeptical and refused to buy. He had faith in his work, however, and he resolved to force an unwilling public to recognize his success. By degrees he induced people to give his machine a trial. By 1863 the annual sales amounted to $21,000, in 1880—$500,000.

The tune of this invention is understood by the European matron, the slender Japanese maiden, the flaxen-haired Russian, the dark-eyed Mexican, the Chicago flapper and the Hindoo mother. Ireland's fair-skinned colleens are driving the same treadle as China's tawny daughters. Were Singer alive today, he would see what a giant oak had grown from his tiny acorn.

There are 2,500 varieties of his invention in use today, driven by steam, electricity, etc. The world owes incalculable and forever accumulating benefits of this great invention to the genius of Isaac Merritt Singer.

CAVAN

The Department is advocating a campaign to "Make Canada Beautiful." There is every reason why beautifying home grounds should be of interest to all on account of the increasing desire to live among things that are beautiful and attractive. Now there is so much intercourse between those living in the country and the towns, that any contrast in the appearance of the city and country home is impressed upon the minds of those who frequently go to town. Young people, especially notice the difference between the well-kept lawns, shrubbery, flower borders and the vine-clad verandahs and walls of the house in the city and their own home, often to the great disadvantage of the latter, and this among other things helps to take the boys and girls away from the country. It is true that there are many unattractive looking houses in the city, but it is the streets with the well-kept homes that attract the most attention. There are some beautiful places in the country also, which demonstrate the great possibilities for making rural homes attractive.

Perhaps the greatest charm of a country home lies in the fact that we are not limited by the cramped condition of the city. There are no narrow frontages, no neighboring buildings to shut out the light or clash with the style of architecture, nothing but the natural conditions of its site and the contour of the landscape to consider in planning our architectural design. There seems little to prevent each individual expressing in the building of his home and the planning of his lawns and gardens, his own ideal of a beautiful, liveable farm home and surroundings. Yet we find districts with practically every house built after exactly the same model, and this very often a stilted imitation of a town house, rather than a style suited to country surroundings and the needs of country life.

The reason given for so little being done around the average farm home, is that there is no time It is true that the time when planting should be done is when the farmer is most busy outside, but if the will to do it there, a little time can surely be found to plant a few trees and shurbs, a vine or two, a hedge or to make a flower border. If one tree or shrub were planted each year, in a very years there would be a wonderful change.

Vines add to the attractiveness of a place in a very short period and some suitable ones may be obtained from the woods, such as the climbing bittersweet, wild clematis and Virginia creeper, the self-fastening of the latter being the best.

Some of the best shrubs are the spireas, hydrangeas, bush honeysuckles, lilacs and Japanese roses.

It is generally understood that it requires a great deal of money to buy shrubs, perennials and annuals. It is true that considerable may be expended, but with a little extra labor one may grow her own plants in a small home-made hot bed. The exchange of plants is also a very good way of obtaining a variety. A good deal of labor, however, is involved, but beautifying your home surroundings adds a monetary value to the property and from the standpoint of living conditions its value cannot be estimated.

April is the month for the annual exchange of roots, seeds and slips in the Women's Institutes.

FASHION HINT

"How to make my old short skirts conform to the new length was a problem to me until I hit on this plain. I dropped the hems; and as the part that had been turned under was darker than the rest, I redyed the entire dress, after having bleached the goods, following directions in the Diamond Dyes package.

"I used Diamond Dyes for the redyeing, of course. I have dyed many things with these wonderful colors. They have saved me many dollars and have never failed to give perfect results—smooth, even colors—fast to wear and washing. Friends think my things are new when I redye or tint them with Diamond Dyes. They do give the most gorgeous colors!"

ACID after meals

GET RID of your dread of pain after eating. Eat without fear of "indigestion," sour stomach, disagreeable gas or headaches.

When your food ferments, "disagrees," lies like a lump in your stomach, it's a sign of too much acid. You need not resort to crude methods—take instead an anti-acid that will correct the condition. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

A spoonful of this pleasant-tasting, soothing fluid neutralizes many times its volume in acid. It restores the proper alkaline balance to an acid-soaked stomach and bowels—assists these organs to function as they should.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is what you need when a bad breath, coated tongue, headaches, nausea or billiousness indicates an over-acid condition. Take a spoonful to-day and for several days and see how it sweetens the system. You won't be nearly so liable to colds or sickness. All drugstores in the Dominion sell it in 50c bottles.

WARNER OLAND IN CHAN CHAIN

First Pictures With Theda Bara in 1917—Was Born in Sweden.

HAS DETECTIVE PART.

They are bringing another Charlie Chan mystery story to the screen, "The Black Camel," which started production in Honolulu this week. Warner Oland, who played the philosophic Chinese detective in "Charlie Chan Carries On" will have his old role in "The Black Camel." Mr. Oland illustrates one of the many quaint points about Hollywood; namely, that a Swedish-born actor should make his mark for his proficiency in Chinese make-up.

Born in Umea, Sweden, Mr. Oland came to this country as a youngster and attended school in Boston. He received his high school diploma there, studied at Dr. Curry's Dramatic School, and spent the next twenty years behind the footlights specializing in Shakespearean and Ibsen roles. His first screen appearances were in four Theda Bara pictures for Fox Films in 1917, the chief of which was "Du Barry." Subsequently he played in a number of Pathe series, including "Patria," with Pearl White, but his first important role was that of Charlie Yong in "East is West," with Norma Talmadge in 1922. Three years later he established himself as a screen villain with Douglas Fairbanks in "Don Q." His first talked was "The Jazz Singer" and he has since appeared in "Doctor Fu Manchu," "The Return of Dr. Fu Manchu," and "In Old San Francisco."

26 CENTS A WEEK SPENT ON MOVIES

Average American's Budget Includes Moderate Screen Expense.

$30,000,000 A WEEK.

The average citizen of the United States spend twenty-six cents a week on movies.

The stupendous attraction, and the mighty power of the screen, is indicated in some degree by recent statistics proving that 15,000,000 customers pay $30,000,000 at movie box-offices every seven days. This patronage and pelf is divided among approximately 18,000 motion picture theatres, more than 13,000 of which are equipped to present talkies.

Of the $2,500,000,000 invested in movie houses, studios, etc. throughout the world, all but a paltry $500,000,000 is tied up in the industry in the United States. The transition from silent to sound films necessitated the producers laying more than $200,000,000 on the line. In creation of film product for your entertainment more than 6,000,000,000 feet of film is "shot" every year. It is estimated that this year Hollywood will spend $200,000,000 for film.

It's a mighty industry, requiring enormous outlay, gigantic risk. If there are any black ink figures at the year's end, the producers richly deserve their profits. And, anyway, even if the balance is in red ink, just think of the fun they've had! Let's not speak about the headaches. And your twenty-six cents a week makes you an active partner in the most fascinating undertaking ever featured in the world's history.

CLARA BOW CONTRACT.

Screen Star Also Buying a Cattle Ranch.

HOLLYWOOD, April 11—Paramount has already started talking contract with Clara Bow, whose present agreement expires October 17. This kills rumors that Pa'r would drop the girl. Terms were not discussed, but it is understood Miss Bow will have a long vacation if she wants it.

The actress has three more to do under her present contract. "The Woman" follows "Vice Squad," now shooting, and after that she'll probably do "Manhandled," the Arthur Stringer story which Gloria Swanson did as a silent. A third story is to be selected.

Both Miss Bow and the studio want dramatic parts.

Miss Bow, herself, says she is just beginning to get onto the knack of talkers, having been afraid of the microphone since her first talker. The actress also spoke vaguely about settling down and having babies, but when asked if Rex Bell would be the husband she looked absent-minded.

Miss Bow is going into the cattle business. With Jack Moore, former head of the Paramount ranch, Miss Bow is buying 60,630 acres near Searchlight, Nev., with intention of developing it as a cattle ranch.

Rex Bell is handling the deal for Miss Bow and Moore will manage the ranch. The actress and Moore control all water rights in and around the ranch property.

THESE BRITISH

HOLLYWOOD, April 11.—A writer had just finished telling an exec two ideas he had for original stories.

"What do you think of them?" he asked the exec.

"If I were you," said the boss, "I'd sue that Englishman James Barrie. He's stealing all your stuff."

RAPID PROGRESS BY MISS OLIVER

Memorable Performance in "Cimarron" a Promise of Her Future.

A COMEDY STAR.

Edna May Oliver, who gave a touch of distinction to the role of Mrs. Wyatt, descendant of one of the signatories of the American declaration of independence, in the vocal picturization of "Cimarron" is very favorably mentioned in reviews of Douglas MacLean's screen farce, "Laugh and Get Rich."

She has also been chosen for Paramount's "The Queen of Hollywood" based on Sinclair Lewis' story "Let's Play King."

Luella Parsons in The New York American says:

"Two of our best comediennes, Louise Fazenda and Edna May Oliver, will have the principal roles and Polly Moran.

Louise jogs along about as steadily as any actress in Hollywood. She always seems to be at work and al-screen but she has accomplished as much in the last year as the average actress does in a lifetime."

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Chaplin were ways gives a satisfactory performance. Miss Oliver is new to the Won't these two be a riot in one picture. Talk about Marie Dressler

SCREEN AND STAGE NOTES

"Co-Respondent," an original by Gregory Simpkins, a story of the South Seas, will be Mr. Powell's first picture for Warner Brothers. Marian Marsh, who has played opposite John Barrymore in his last two pictures will play opposite Bill.

Kay Francis has been borrowed by Radio Pictures for the feminine lead in Kate Jordan's story "The Next Corner."

Don Alvarado has been signed for one of the leading male roles. Adrienne D'Ambricourt and John St. Polis to play other important characters.

Sinclair Lewis's novel, "Let's Play King," a satirical story of child film celebrities, will follow "Skippy" in Paramount's series of juvenile film features. It will be called "Queen of Hollywood," and Mitzi Green and Jackie Searl will be featured in the cast as the pampered Hollywood starlets. Direction has been assigned to Norman Taurog and Norman McLeod, who made "Skippy."

John Huston, son of Walter Huston, left New York last week for Hollywood to start a writing career in the films under the aegis of Samuel Goldwyn. Young Mr. Huston's contract came through the good offices of Herman Shumlin, who also launched upon a screen career last week at the United Artists studio. Mr. Shumlin is hard at work casting for his production of "Street Scene." John Huston was financed in his writing studies by his father, and the young man justified his training by selling several short stories and publishing his first novel, "Frankie and Johnnie," last Fall.

MARIE DRESSLER RECOVERING

Marie Dressler is on the high road to recovery, her many friends will be glad to know. She has been sick in bed ever since the opening of "Strangers May Kiss," unable to see anyone save her close friends. But she is getting stronger each day in Santa Barabara, and she expects to be well enough to report for work at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios in another week.

Her next is "Marie and Polly in Politics," with her famous side-kick, Polly Moran, playing opposite her and Chuck Reisner directing. Someone ought to page Will Rogers to provide some of the political dialogue.

Marie has been promised by the M-G-M officials this next picture will not be as strenuous as some of her previous efforts. You see, she isn't the kind who ever has a double. She wants to climb trees herself, slide down hills and do all the things her screen character demands and that takes a lot of strength.

The little platinum blonde, Jean Harlow, is one of the most popular young women in Hollywood. She will have the lead in "Blondie" at the Fox Company, the picture in which Spencer Tracy and Warren Hymer have the male leads. And what a choice for "Blondie." Say if ever there was a white blond it is this girl.

IF BABY HAS COLIC

COLIC comes suddenly. Your first intimation that something is wrong may be a warning cry in the night. If you have a bottle of Castoria handy you needn't worry, for a little of this pure vegetable remedy will soon have baby his happy self again; let him go back to sleep.

Castoria is always the sensible thing to give an ailing child. When a child is restless, fretful, with coated tongue, bad breath and lack of appetite, it is a mother's standby. Most mothers give Castoria an important place in their homes. Ready for sour stomach, constipation, or upset. When buying Fletcher's Castoria always look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. This identifies the genuine product.

About one hundred of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cowan (formerly Miss Blanche Clegg, whose marriage took place recently, gave them a surprice party last night at Chemong Pavilion, when a jolly evening was spent in dancing, followed by a midnight supper. Mowry-Steer and their Silver Collegians played for the dance. During the evening, the presentation of a master electric toaster to the bride and bridegroom was made by Mr. Jack Callaghan, who welcomed Mr. Cowan to the ranks of the Benedicts. Under the energetic supervision of Mr. Fred Scates, the third of the very successful dances of The Examiner Social Club was held last night in the hall of the Canadian Legion. The major portion of the proceeds will be used for relief work, the attendance of the young people, besides providing them with a good time, going to swell the fund of The Examiner Cheer Club for relief purposes. About two hundred and fifty people were present and danced to the fine music played by Mose Yokom and his orchestra. Decorations of the hall, in which Mr. Bert Gash assisted, were carried out in spring colors of mauve and green and yellow, with nets of tissue paper, flags and an effective treatment of the lights with long basket shades of purple and mauve silk, ending in gilt tassels. The "on and off" blue electric stars were a pretty feature of the illumination of the hall. Blue and white programs for the dance were very attractive. Arrangements were in charge of the secretary of The Examiner Social Club, Mr. Fred Scates, who spared neither time nor trouble in looking after every detail. Other officials of the club are Messrs J. H. McCauley, R. A. Baker, H. Lacheur and R. Pearce. Mr. A. K. Whyte assisted at the door, and Mr. Dick Lush also kindly assisted the committee with the specialty numbers, and acted as Master of Ceremonies. Prizes for dances were donated by Miss Cathleen McCarthy, Mr. H. Lacheur and Mr. F. Scates. The prize for the first spot dance was won by Miss Wilma Johnston, dancing with Mr. Pat Killen. In the novelty, the mysterious dancer, the prize was won by one of the officials, so it was changed to a spot dance, the prizes being won by Miss Aileen Moore, dancing with Mr. Clare Theobald, the winners obliging the gathering later by doing a solo dance.

LODGE CELEBRATES 23RD ANNIVERSARY

History of Duke of Manchester Lodge Outlined By Bro. E. F. Reid.

The twenty-third anniversary of the Duke of Manchester L.O.L. No. 50 was recently celebrated here by a large number of the lodge members and visiting brethren from different lodges throughout the county.

The regular meeting was held in the Orange Hall, George Street, with W.M. Bro. S. Cummings presiding, and after routine business had been transacted all retired to the banquet hall, where a dainty dinner was prepared by the ladies in charge of Mrs. F. Millard. Here the chair was taken by Bro. E. F. Reid, and after dinner was over a much enjoyed program was presented, followed by various toasts and musical numbers.

The toast list, interspersed with musical numbers, was as follows: His Majesty the King; the chairman's address by E. F. Reid; musical number by William Nick, Lovatt and Wilson; Canada and Our Empire, proposed by Robert Wright and Bro. Armstrong, two charter members, and responded to by Colonel J. W. Millar; toast to L.O.L. No. 5, proposed by J. C. Waldie, responded to by W.M. Bro. Cummings and Past County Master F. Millard; The City of Peterborough, proposed by A. F. Hagerman, and responded to by His Worship Mayor R. Denne; musical numbers by the Three Musketeers; The County Lodge, proposed by G. Raines and responded to by County Master F. Sanderson; The Ladies, proposed by Bro. Dan Campbell, and responded to by Mrs. Millard and her committee.

The history of the lodge was presented to the members by Bro. Reid, followed by Bro. Millard giving the names of officers from its foundation to the present time. The addresses were very interesting. After tribute had been paid to those members of the lodge who gave their lives during the war, the meeting was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

The old-fashioned dwelling has one great advantage over all the modern conveniences that are installed in the largest apartment houses, and that is space.

• • • • • • •

Nothing can take its place and those who have lived in both a house and an apartment will agree with this statement.

• • • • • • •

On the other hand there are those living in apartments who feel that less room would mean less care and less work. However, those who have lived in both know that it is easier to keep rooms tidy and clean when they are not overcrowded and when living quarters are not used for duplex purposes.

• • • • • • •

Combination rooms are the most difficult to care for and necessity is their only reason for existing.

Those who live in houses should see that they are equipped as completely as possible with modern labor saving devices, as far as they can afford.

• • • • • • •

A house has exposures on all sides and even a semi-detached house will have exposures on three sides while occasionally apartments have this features.

• • • • • • •

In looking for apartments this matter of exposure should be one of the first considerations. Apartments with rooms on one side do not have such clear air and rooms in which sunlight cannot send its cleansing and healing rays are robbed of one health-giving element in nature.

• • • • • • •

Those to whom apartments are not a matter of choice but of necessity, can be careful about getting correct exposures and rooms on more than one side.

• • • • • • •

Given sunny, airy rooms with all modern conveniences, apartments can be delightful. It is almost impossible, however, to get apartments that can supply wanted space.

• • • • • • •

There are rare and very often command enormous rentals. Those who live in houses with only a modest number of new style equipments should realize that space is their greatest asset

New Program Series For Caledonian Club

A fairly large representation of the Caledonian Club was present last night in the Woodmen of the World Hall for its regular monthly business meeting. W. Petrie, president, occupied the chair.

The minutes of the previous business meeting were read by the secretary, J. Wyllie, and adopted. Reports from the various committees were heard and discussed.

D. Anderson, treasurer, gave his quarterly report, which showed the club in good standing.

A program was drawn up to cover the next two months, which promises some good nights for the members.

A representative of the Caledonian Football Club made a request for the hall to run a dance in order to augment their funds. This request was granted. It is hoped that this worthy cause will be given hearty support and thus help to insure a good season for the football boys.

Plans were drawn up whereby members hailing from certain parts of Scotland run a series of programs suggestive of their own particular district. The first of these will take place next Friday, and will be entitled "Glasgow and District." This will be followed later on by "Aberdeen and District." This ought to be interesting and prove a new attraction for the members.

The Caledonian Choir, which used to function regularly and be quite an asset to the city's musical circles, will be re-organized and will be able to appear soon again. Names were handed in last night, and those interested may consult A. D. Clark.

After the business meeting a service of refreshments was served and dancing was engaged in for some time to the accompaniment of R. Gilmour's melodeon.

OPERETTA PLAYS TO LARGE AUDIENCE

"Snow White" Presented By Junior Choir of St. James' United Church.

The dainty operetta "Snow-White" was repeated last night at St. James' United Church by the Junior choir, to a house that nearly reached capacity with a success that surpassed the triumph of their first evening's performance. Everything went off in the smoothest possible manner and the committee in charge is congratulating itself upon the results achieved during the two nights..

The manner in which every detail was foreseen and worked out in the production of this charming musical offering by the young performers is a distinct credit to the junior choir, their director and their own ability.

Mrs. Ernest Kitney, whose untiring efforts in training the cast, contributed largely to their success, was the happy recipient on Friday evening of a beautiful floral tribute from girls of the junior choir presented by one of the little fairies Ella Post.

A most efficient committee composed of Messrs. Herb. Fowler, Stan. Church, Ernest Davis and M. H. Drysdale had charge of the scenery, curtain and lighting. The artificial flowers for decoration were kindly loaned by The T. Eaton Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Poulter and family, of Wooler, were recent guests of friends in the village.

Among those who entertained at their respective homes during the week included Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Price.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

CURING NEURASTHENIA OR NERVOUS EXHAUSTION

In former days many individuals were thought to be lazy, who to-day are called neurasthenics.

Neurasthenia i another name for exhaustion or tiredness, especially a tiredness of the nerves due to too much use or abuse of the nervous system. Any little mental effort seems to tire; hence neurasthenia is spoken of as abnormal fatigue or tiredness, together with muscular weakness. And this muscular weakness is not altogether imaginery. Instruments to test muscular power have been able to prove that there really is muscular weakness besides the tired feeling.

Although neurasthenics will complain of all sorts of ailments, there are three symptoms that are usually present—lassitude, mental depression, and a tendency to become easily fatigued. Other symptoms which may be really present are headache, dislike of noise, and a lessening of the keeness of the eyesight. The headache varies in severity, but many patients complain that the feeling is that of a tight iron band around the upper part of the head.

Although the appearance of many of these patients appears to be normal, their actions often show up the trouble as they are usually very cranky and irritable. His mind is overly active and will dwell on small unimportant matters for days at a time. His courage becomes low, and things upset or frighten him that could have no effect on him if he were well. Any little thing about his body that is not exactly as usual, gets him thinking about himself and every part of his body-digestion, intestinal movement, fast beating of his heart, and so forth.

Heredity may be a predisposing cause; one or other of the parents may have been of the "nervous" type, but usually the individual is himself responsible owing to his strenuous efforts or excesses along various lines—business, domestic, social—which bring upon him responsibilities which he seems unable to carry. Sometimes it is just too much straight mental work that causes the trouble. Physical work is never likely to cause it.

The old treatment used to be rest; absolute rest physical and mental, but latterly the cleansing and strengthening of the body has been giving gratifying results. The patient is examined for any possibility of infection from teeth, tonsils, or constipation and when this is corrected, he is put on regular exercise. As he gets rid of the poisons from his system and builds up his body physically—good appetite, good digestion, strong regular heart beat, regular intestinal movements— he gradually gets well, and if he continues the treatment he stays well.

S. S. CONCERT WELL RECEIVED

Pleasing Program Presented in Auditorium of George Street Church Hall.

VOCAL NUMBERS.

The general concensus of opinion was that the concert presented last evening in the Sunday School auditorium of George Street United Church by the Sunday School orchestra and assisting artists was one of the most pleasing events of the year.

This local organization which numbered 23 members won great praise from all true music lovers. The orchestra is well balanced and play smoothly and harmoniously with special attention to technique. Their selections were varied and showed the result of careful practice and training by their leader, W. H. Cunningham.

One of their most difficult and popular selections was "The Jolly Robbers" in which their strong bass showed to marked advantage. Other numbers were "The Great Divide", "Poet and Peasant", "Sounds From the Sunny South", a snappy selection being a medley of old favorites, and the closing number "Last March of U. S. M."

The instrumental trio composed of Harry Northrope at piano, Stan Northrope, violin and Jack Thackery, cello received great applause and responded to an encore. An instrumental duet by Stan and Harry Northrope was beautifully rendered.

One of the outstanding numbers on the program was the octette from the Male Voice Choir, composed of tenors Messrs Williams, A. V. Lillow, Dr. Fullford, D. Fleming, J. Ward; basses, S. Ivey, Allen Stevens, W. Flowers, Fred Skitch, S. Siddall; conducted by Mr. Phillips.

Solos were rendered by Miss Florence Glenny, accompanied by Mrs. D. Howat. Her clear, bird like soprano was heard to splendid advantage. Douglas Carlisle rendered two solos, accompanied by the string orchestra composed of Stan Northrope, George Gatfield, Jack Thackery, W. H. Cunningham. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rowe gave a beautiful vocal duet "An Old Fashioned Mother" and responding to an encore with "The End of a Perfect Day".

Reading were contributed by Miss Irene Cox who gave "The Deacon's Story" and Miss Evelyn Miller who appeared twice on the program. For her first number she gave, Jessie Alexander's reading "Friday Bargain Day" in a splendid manner. Her encore was "My Sisters Best Feller" and her second selection "Willie's Portion."

Rev. J. E. Millyard acted as chairman and before the conclusion of the program, C. S. Thompson, superintendent of the Sunday School made a few congratulatory remarks on the excellence of the orchestra and its asset to Geirge Street United Church. He also thanked all the artists taking part particularly mentioning members of the Male Voice Choir.

After singing "God Save the King" those taking part in the program were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Thompson and Jack Thompson. Messrs Roy Gilders, Roy Powell and Cecil Buck. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, by W. H. Cunningham, seconded by F. Skitch.

YEAR'S SAVINGS ARE BURNED WITH HOUSE

Aged Maritimer Loses Life When St. John's Home is Destroyed.

ST. John, N.B., April 11.—Nick Breau, of Cocagne Cape, N.B., used his home as his bank. Recently, his neighbors were awakened at 4.30 a.m. by flames in the Breau house. It was found impossible to enter the house as it was a seething furnace.

The building was burned to the ground, and all left of old Nick washis charred frame. That about $2,000 in cash was burned up with Nick, is the claim of some who claim to know. They contend the old fellow had at least $2,000 secreted about the interior of his home, and had been hoarding his savings in the house ever since he was born, which was in the same house, and 80 years ago. He lived all his life in the house, and, in so far as can be ascertained, spent every night of his life there.

He was strenuously opposed to banks and never placed a deposit in one. In fact, there is no record of him ever having crossed the threshold of a banking institution of any kind.

Nick was a bachelor, and somewhat of a recluse. Rarely, did he invite anybody into his home, in which he had lived alone for over a quarter century. However, he did not object to company, and had been eating at least one meal a day at the home of a neighbor. Although he had reduced his revenue producing activities somewhat in recent years, he continued to do some fishing each week, when the weather was favorable. He started producing fash when he was 12 years old.

Some of the neighbors decided Nick was either assaulted into unconsciousness or murdered by somebody who knew of the money being hidden about the house. After the attack and robbery, the assailant fired the house to cover up his crimes. However an investigation by the Provincial Police failed to unearth evidence of a theft, and it is impossible to tell by the remains if an assault was made. What is known is: Nick is dead, and the money absent. Knocking over a lamp may have been the cause of the fire, but the hour was earlier than Breau was usually awake. It couldn't have been pipe, cigar or cigarette, as he didn't smoke.

The street transportation company of Hong Kong, China, has reported that street cars yielded a profit last year, but busses operated at a loss.

Macks and Cards Favored to Repeat This Year

1930 MAJOR LEAGUE CHAMPS PICKED BY SPORTS WRITERS TO AGAIN WIN LOOP TITLES

Washington, New York, and Cleveland Entries Rank Next in American.

A. P. SELECTION.

Brooklyn and Chicago Divide Major Portion of Cardinal Overflow.

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 11. — The St. Louis Cardinals and the Philadelphia Athletics will be leading the major league baseball parades come October unless some sixty newspaper "experts" are wrong, which, of course, is possible.

Voting in the fifth annual consensus of the Associated Press, 64 experts collaborating on the American League selections voted 41 to 23 that the club that Connie Mack built will win the American League pennant for the third successive year, while 66 experts voting on the National League cast 35 ballots to 31 that the St. Louis club again would win the flag in the older circuit.

The margins of the two 1930 pennant winners, while not as great as those given the Athletics and the Chicago Cubs last year in the consensus, still were sufficiently large to leave no room for argument as to the combined opinion.

The first place votes in the American League not given the Athletics were divided among Washington, New York and Cleveland entries, with the Senators receiving 16, the Yankees 10 and Cleveland only one. It was the worst showing of the Yankees in the five years of the consensus.

Brooklyn and Chicago divided the major portion of the Cardinal overflow, the Dodgers receiving 12 first place votes to 13 for Roger's Hornsby's Cubs, while New York received four, Pittsburgh one and—believe it or not—Philadelphia one.

The Boston Red Sox, with a new manager and practically a new team, were given least consideration of the 16 clubs in the two leagues. No expert picked them to finish higher than sixth place and only one voted that spot for them. The Cincinnati Reds, who were relegated to the National League cellar, got one vote for last place berth. The Reds had the distinction of receiving the most votes for last place, however, being so picked by 47 of the consensus collaborators while only 45 picked the Red Sox to finish in the nether regions of the American league. This may have been accounted for by the fact that several of the selectors voting on the American league standings did not bother to list any teams after the first three.

The experts figuring in the consensus included all the sports writers who covered the big league camps for metropolitan press of the country and other close observers of training camp activities.

Here is this year's consensus for both leagues:

National: St. Louis, Chicago, Brooklyn, New York, Pittsburgh, Boston, Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

GAR WOOD PLANS ATTEMPT TO-DAY

Electrical Device Used in Checking Exact Time Installed yesterday.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 11. — (CP).—With his racing craft tuned to perfection, Gar Wood to-day was ready for his attempt to wrest the world's speed boat crown from Kaye Don, of England.

Wood announced last night he would drive his twin-motored Miss America IX over a measured mile course in Indian Creek here to-day in the hope of bettering the mark of 103.49 miles an hour set up by Don at Buenos Aires last week. The Detroit sportsman instructed his mechanics to be ready to put the boat on the course at noon unless strong crosswinds made the water too choppy for speed. The weather forecast for to-day was for gentle to moderate winds from the east and southeast. The course runs north and south.

Part of the electrical timing apparatus used in checking the exact speed over the measured mile was installed yesterday under the direction of Odis Porter timer for the American Automobile Association.

Porter said the device would be in working order before noon to-day.

Wood returned to his home on Indian Creek last Sunday to prepare his boat for his attempt to regain the record. He sent the craft roaring over the measured mile course here March 20 to better the mark established by the late Sir Henry O. D. Seagrave on Lake Windermere.

J. C. RIDDELL HEADS WINGED WHEEL CLUB

Prominent Reorganizer of Montreal Association Elected President at Annual Meeting.

MONTREAL, Que., April 11 (By the Canadian Press).—One of the reorganizers of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association football squad and a strong supporter of the game, J. C. Riddell was last night elected president of the Winged Wheel football club at the annual meeting here. He succeeded G. T. Ogilvie in that post, while A. F. Gayford, outstanding sponsor of the younger element in the game, was elected vice-president.

The club reported but a slight decrease in receipts as compared with last year, and a satisfactory profit on the season. The question of a coach is still undecided, although Frank Shaughnessy was mentioned as a possible mentor. The addition of several strong players during the coming season was expected to strengthen the club considerably, it was said.

Mrs. Hill, veteran exponent of the Scottish game, came through the semi-finals yesterday with a three and one victory over Helen Waring of Pinehurst and New York. She ousted her younger opponent largely through her skilful putting.

Holding the lead from the beginning, Mrs. Wattles played a brilliant all-around game to eliminate her British foe. Miss Perkins, who won the medal, could not get her clubs working in the semi-finals and went out on the 14th hole.

HABITANTS WILL ICE FULL TEAM THIS EVENING

Albert Leduc, Who Has Been Suffering From Fractured Skull Will Be in Uniform.

RECORD SEASON.

Coach Dick Irvin Silent Regarding Prospects for Windy City Sextet.

MONTREAL, Que., April 11. (CP) To-night will either see the Chicago Black Hawks crowned as lords of professional hockey and possessors of the historic Stanley Cup or Montreal Canadiens again on equal terms with their western rivals and a fifth game necessary.

Three games in their best three out of five series have been played, the Hawks taking two and Canadiens one. In each game the margin of victory was one goal and two of the matches went overtime. The teams seem amazingly well matched and although Chicago has a commanding margin it appears anyone's series yet.

The visitors are slightly favorites due to better condition. They have come through series with Toronto and New York Rangers and three games with Canadiens practically without a scratch and have eleven fast skating, hard working and keen young forwards to throw in waves at the red shirted crew. For the first time since the third game of the National hockey league title series the Flying Frenchmen will have a full team in uniform a fact that will gladden the hearts of the twelve thousand odd supporters who will jam the rink to-night. Even if it will not materially aid the team, Albert Leduc, who has been in hospital with a fractured skull will be in uniform and probably in the game to help his fellow defencemen in their attempt to stop the Hawks getting their first Stanley cup. He was on skates yesterday, and although he appeared a bit wobbly his presence will be a moral if not a physical advantage to the redshirts.

Along with Leduc, Mondou, Larochelle, Howie Morens and his substitute centre Pete Lepine are still on the injured list. They will all take the ice in to-night's game but all will be somewhat weakened by the continual battering they have received since the series started.

Much depends on the mental condition of the players, and although they were somewhat downhearted yesterday at losing out after their two goal advantage in Thursday's game, the parallel of a three-goal lead disappearing in the first game of the Boston series, which they finally won, raised their hopes. A constant attack through the game instead of the leeting-down which followed their two-goal lead Thursday night will probably be the Canucks hope of victory to-night, and this along with their wide advantage of Stanley Cup experience will greatly tell in to-night's tussle.

Irvin Silent

Coach Dick Irvin of the Hawks is more or less keeping silent on the result of to-night's game. He admits his team are still in the best of condition, and the whole sixteen will be in uniform when the opening whistle blows. His prophesy of a "neck-and neck finish with "the breaks to decide the series'," evidently still stand. He has confidence in his band of youngsters, and is willing to pit their speed and stamina as a team against the somewhat weary if none the lass speedy individually, Canadiens.

The hockey season has already stretched to record lengths and should the Frenchmen triumph to-night the final game on Tuesday will conflict with the opening of the big league baseball season. Some of the Chicago followers here are connected with the baseball club, and should the series last until Tuesday these members will be forced to forego the final game in order to be on hand for the opening in the Cub's park on that day.

The consensus here is that to-night's game, whoever wins, will decide the series, and to-night's winner will be the holders of the historic trophy for the coming year. If the Chihawks take the game it is of course all over, and if Canadiens come through to-night they are favorites to take their second world's professional title in as many seasons.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, regardless of who finally wins this here Stanley Cup, I'm claiming these here Canadiens is the best team in the N.H.L. That's my story and I'm going to stick to it. Any team that finishes its own section of 44 games bout ½ dozen games in front of the 2nd place team and then wins 3 outa 5 games from the birds that finished as far ahead of the other section oughta be entitled to the silverware without further argument. The Canadiens done that same and come out of the final clash ready for the hospital. What happens after that don't mean a thing to me, for should it happen that the superior condition and man-power of the Chicago Black Hawks sees them grab the final serious does it mean anything? I asks you. Anyway them Canucks has demonstrated plenty that they ain't not only brilliant but that they got plenty of the gameness that makes a real team. Fighters what I mean, a credit to the game, and if they don't cop the Stanley Cup because the handicap they're toting proves too heavy I'm still going to call them the ace team of the N.H.L. and a credit to the fastest game in the world.

I see where this Mister Charlie Adams, the Boston owner, is clamoring for more American referees. Mister Adams ain't sap enough, however, to insist upon American players.

The baseball convention here last Sat. was a wow, Mac. The city dads did the thing right with a bang-up banquet served in real Empress style, while the local committee was hospitality itself. The doings made a hit with the lads from outside, and by the same token the officers of the big association registered a 10 strike with local citizens what come into contact with them. The O.B.A.A. rulers are good guys, what I mean, and they deserve all kinds of credit for the time and energy they give to managing amateur baseball in this fair Province.

The big leagues get under way next week, Mac, and so the customers will be waiting to see which, if any, I pick to cop the pennants this year. Well, old-timer, in the American I'm going to play the Athaletics right across the board. A little shy of heavers is Connie Mack, but he's got a whole lot of pitchers wrapped up in Mister Grove and Mister Earnshaw, and outa the rest of the deck he's likely to deal himself a couple more helpful tossers. In the National you can place a small bet for me on the Cards, but they'll have plenty of opposition. I ain't saying nothing about the International except that it looks like the Toronto Maple Leaves is going to rob old Tom Lipton of his title of the world's best loser.

Sportfully yours,

A. WISE CRACKER.

BICYCLES HAVE NOT DECLINED IN POPULARITY

Many Improvements Have Been Added by Bicycle Manufacturers This Year.

PRACTICAL ASSET.

The call of the road beckons again along the byways of April with all the enchantment of Spring. New life is stirring in the woods and fields. Daily the sun mounts higher in skies of deepening blue. Only in fence corners are the remnant drifts of winter lingering late in the waxing warmth of the new season. Pulses quicken, steps are lighter, enthusiasms well again with fresh hope, and everywhere men are yearning for the open spaces, the golf greens, trout streams, and the lanes where buds are burgeoning and the birds are back with their songs attuned to the lighter and happier notes of the vernal melody.

The old familiar scene presents the modern variation of the automobile in its gayer colors of 1931, and alongside it runs the bicycle, slower paced, but just as bright and still the cheapest and most efficient means of transportation man has yet invented. To the generation whose youth bloomed around the end of the century bicycles were seven-leagues boots that offered new and pleasant experiences in the towns and along country roads that were scantily sufficient for the needs of their times.

Many Improvements

Not only was the bicycle the first of the cushion-tired vehicles, but it has remained and flourished year after year, evolving with its own improvements into the comfortable and easy means of travel which it has become to-day. Stronger than ever in all its parts, made of seamless steel tubing, with smooth running bearings and chains, equipped with Hercules coaster brake that provides safe and secure control in every emergency of traffic and road condition, the bicycle of 1931 is as smart and perfect a machine in its field as its engineers can make it.

That is one reason why its popularity never declines; and this year it comes from the factory with the new appeal of colors that harmonize with the modern chromatic trend. The Canada Cycle and Motor Company's models that are now on the market emphasize two colors: one a sapphire blue and the other a bright maroon, that should increase their popularity. The displays at two local stores, H. T. Millard's sporting goods store on Charlotte street, and T. H. Ashby's bicycle shop at the corner of Rubidge and Dalhousie streets, presents complete lines of the new models, including the standard sports lines for both adults and boys and girls.

A Powerful Appeal

They look so inviting to the average man that he feels a powerful influence to start off with one for the pleasure they give not only in the easy motion along the city streets, but also along the country roads that make cycling a joy undreamed of in the days before the farmers themselves geared up their travel to the modern speed.

Another enduring appeal of the bicycle is the exercise it gives to men who need it more than ever in this age of luxury and lightened labor. It has taken the place of walking because of the extending range of the paved roads and well-groomed county highways. And cycling is a particularly safe means of transportation. The automobile drivers have apparently a friendly feeling for the man or girl on a bicycle. Certainly, it is a matter of satisfactory record that traffic accidents involving the bicycle are comparatively few. That is only what it should be, and this agreeable condition can be maintained by continual observance of the rules of the road by both the motorist and the cyclist.

A Practical Asset

To a large number of working men and especially to the young people the new bicycle is a practical asset on the one hand and a prized possession on the other. In Peterborough the streets are enlivened with a fleet of bicycles at both ends of the day and during the noon hour as men go and come from work. It is a cheap and highly efficient means of overcoming local urban distances that would be othewise tiring if they had to be footed, and this fact deserves the consideration and sympathy of motorists whose occasional impatience should be checked by the realization of their own fleeter means of getting about. The cyclist is entitled to every right of the road, so long as he observes the common rules that apply to and direct all traffic in orderly streams.

And, as for the boy and the bicycle, every father understands that affinity from his own youth. One of those smart juvenile models of the C.C.M. production will delight a boy as no other gift or possession can stir him, and the groups of them that are seen together on wheels are an evidence of the delights which these boys share.

At present day prices any of the models presents a value which will impress any persons who remembers the cost of bicycles not so long ago. This value embraces all the improvements and solidity and smartness that have been incorporated in the product of this present year.

MOTORCYCLES LEAD TRUCKS IN DASH TO FIGHT FIRES

WINNIPEG, Man., April 11.—(CP) —Fleet red motorcycles which would constitute the first line of attack on the demon fire, will shortly augment Winnipeg's fire fighting equipment.

Equipped with a siren and fire extinguishers, these miniature fire chariots would dart ahead of the regular fire trucks to the scene of the fire. Getting to fires quickly, it is believed the men on the motorcycle could check up on the situation and in many cases extinguish fires before they make headway.

FAMOUS SPORTS CARTOON IS NOW RELEASED DAILY

Thompson Fans Given Extra Service in Response to Popular Demand.

STARTS ON MONDAY.

So great is the interest in Jimmy Thompson's famous all-Canada Sports Cartoon that we have decided to make this cartoon a feature every day.

"Jimmy's" work now comes in a new dress—the one column size so popular with the fans who followed "Hockey" in this new form last winter.

Starting Monday every day will be featured by the news of the day and the hour—inside news, piping hot from the diamond, the ring, the courts, the gridiron, the news behind the news of the shifting sidelights of the sporting world—by one of Canada's greatest sports authorities.

Year after year Jimmy Thompson's audience has grown, until it now numbers over a million weekly.

His new cartoon stands to win him a host of new friends. Jimmy is going to like that.

Born in Toronto, Jimmy knocked about the public schools filling up his copy book and geographies with caricatures not even remotely connected with the subjects at hand. The province decided it was a waste and Jimmy figured he'd step out where they actually paid to have such scribbling done. At the Ontario College of Art they gave him a start and after this Jimmy has just travelled along under his own momentum. He did newspaper cartooning for a while and then at nineteen was made display manager for Famous Players Canadian Corporation at $75 a week. He quit cold because he didn't like the work. (Jimmy's like that) and started again at his old love, newspaper cartooning.

Now he makes as much as this every day or so—all of which goes to show that you can't keep a good man down.

Watch for Jimmy Thompson's new daily sidelights sparkling one-column stories on week days and the old reliable three column of Saturdays.

Three Ryder Players In The Semi-Finals

LONDON, April 11 (A.P.)—Three Ryder Cup players and a young and comparatively unknown Irish professional occupied the semi-final round brackets in the annual Roehampton invitation tournament today.

Charles Whitcombe, captain of the British Ryder Cup squad which will meet the United States at Columbus, O., in June, was matched against Fred Robson in one battle, and Herbert C. Jolly against Mike Bingham in the other. Robson and Jolly also will be members of the international team, but Bingham, the youngster, was not even given consideration as a possibility for the team.

Dunlap Meets Parks In Pinehurst Finals

PINEHURST, N. C., Apr. 11.— The battle for the Pinehurst North and South amateur golfing crown today was between George T. Dunlap, Jr., of New York, the intercollegiate champion, and S. M. Parks, Jr., Pittsburgh golfer.

Dunlap, wearing the colors of Princeton, reached the final round by downing J. B. Ryerson, Cooperstown, N. Y., four and three yesterday. Parks won a close contest with T. Suffern Tailer, Newport, R.I., two and one.

The Pennsylvania and Rhode Island linksman reached the 14th hole on even terms, but Parks captured that hole and the 16th and halved the 17th to win.

Dunlap, who won the medal by a ten-stroke margin and has been sweeping like wild-fire through the tournament, had comparatively little difficulty with Ryerson. He was five up on the Cooperstown player on the 13th, was stymied and lost the next hole, but halved the 15th to end the match.

NEARLY 800 FISTIC FANS SEE BOXING MELEE STAGED UNDER AUSPICES OF LOCAL REGIMENT

Petes Won One, Lose One and Draw Another in "Go" With Lindsay Battlers.

REG LESURF VICTOR.

Youngsters Put Up Great Battles in Double No-decision Bouts.

One of the best boxing cards seen here in recent years was staged at the Armouries last night before a crowd of some eight hundred noisy fans. While none of the scrappers in the nine fast bouts were knocked cold, there was plenty of blood shed, hard hitting, speedy boxing, and a technical-out to give the cheering spectators everything they wanted.

The show was put on by the Peterborough Rangers, with Gord Garwood doing the promoting. He also made an efficient referee. George Graham and Wilf. Jones were the judges, while Gene Hurtubise acted as referee for the Wilman-Harris wrestling match. The crowd was much bigger than expected, and many had to stand up, but the raised ring was plainly visible in all parts of the place. The Rangers' Band played in the intermission, before the wrestlers went on.

In the bouts featuring out-of-owners and the Peterborough fighters, the latter broke even, both with Lindsay and Toronto. In the three scraps with Landsay leather-pushers, the Petes won one, lost one and drew the other. And in the two main bouts with the Toronto pugs, Len Post lost to Cy Horner, while LeSurf got the nod over Springer. Art Wilman, the grappler from the Scugog town, had little trouble throwning Charlie Harris from here in two straight falls.

No-Decision Bouts

The preliminary bout was a no-decision affair between the Clark brothers, Allan and Grant, and the boys gave a nice exhibition of the science of the game. They weighed around 96 pounds each. All three rounds were fairly even with considerable long distance jabbing. Grant was more aggressive and kept boring in, but Allan carried a tight guard and used his long left to keep him out. The kids were boxing fast and inclined to mix it up a bit at the end of the third 2-minute round.

Warden Wright and Ross Pulkinghorn, scaling 98 and 99 pounds, stepped a fast three rounds in another no-decision go. They went at it hard from the bell, and both missed a lot of wild swings. Wright had a free and easy method and when he landed, the blows hurt. He missed repeatedly with a terrific uppercut, and Pulkinghorn kept dancing away and covering up. In the third round, both tripped and went down several times from their hard swings, but were up without a count. They were smacking each other fairly hard, with Wright appearing stronger at the bell.

Cassie Gets Decision

Max Gilbert and George Cassie, local bantams, were third on the card and they made it a whirlwind session. There was plenty of hard hitting and fast footwork, and Gilbert hit the resin twice with hard right drives to the head, but was up each time without a count. The boys kept covered more near the end of the bout, with a few sudden fast exchanges of jabs, with George landing more often and harder. They were going strong at the end. Cassie won the decision.

Percy Houzer, 117, of Lindsay and Gord Chapman, local going 120 pounds, gave a fancy exhibition of boxing but the crowd did not always appreciate it and called for more action. They started slow with only a few flurries, with Houzer registering several times, but both boys going along slow and careful. Percy took the first round. The middle one was even and a little faster Chapman was more aggressive but Houzer seemed to know what he was doing and led only when he had an opening. The blows stung when they connected. The final round was a hard and fairly fast one, and both scrappers landed some hard drives to the head. Percy was cooler and made his points count but they were going along nice and even when the gong sounded. Houzer's hand was raised.

132-pound Ends in Draw

Art Gaskell, 132-pound Lindsay fellow and "Bat" Vinette, 133½, went on in the fifth, and got away to a flying start. There were a number of hard swings, but a lot of misses. Vinette went down twice when Art rushed him off his feet, but he was right up and covering at the end. The centre round continued fast with more hard cracks connecting with both. Art waded in wide open often, but "Bat" was cautious and stayed backed. In the third, Vinette took the aggressive at first. Then Gaskell rushed him to the ropes twice with hard uppercuts and jabs. But the Peterborough boy started using his left to good advantage toward the end. The bout was called a draw.

Jack Beaumont, 135, of Lindsay, and Jack Chamberlain, the same weight, staged a careful scrap featured with a great deal of clinching. It started fairly fast, and Chamberlain went down with a right, and left to the head, but he was up again and mixing it with the other till the end. The second was slower, with both hanging on too much. Beaumont had to be hit to bring him out of his pose, but then he rushed hard. Both kept moving and doing a little jabbing throughout. The last was pretty fast, with the boys doing some hit-and run fighting without either doing much damage. Chamberlain was more aggressive and landed a few stiff jabs during this setto. He was given the decision, although there was a few boos.

Art. Hamilton, 161, and Henry Noakes, 159, staged the seventh bout and it was fast and hard all the way. But Art had a deadly left which he kept putting in the other's face throughout and Henry took a bad licking around the head. He carried his guard too low and walked into that left time and again. Art won every round, jabbing away continuously with the left, and occasionally crossing a hard right to the head or body. Noakes was game and kept trying to get in, but was set back on his heels every time. He was pretty well cut up and bleeding freely about the face at the end. It was Art's fight.

Wins on Technical K.O.

The first of the main bouts saw the Toronto welter, Cy Horner weighing 144¾, winning on a technical K.O. over Len Post, 144, at the end of the second, when Referee Garwood stopped the fight. Horner is a hard-hitting, boring-in- type of fighter, fast on his feet and a pretty fair boxer as well. He had little trouble with Post, driving him around the ring with hard rights and lefts to the head and body. Post only landed a couple of solid blows throughout, although trying gamely to weather the rain of leather thrown at him. Throughout the second, Cy was stalking him around, measuring him for a kayo, but couldn't land a good one until just at the bell. Len was bleeding and somewhat groggy, and the referee awarded the fight to Horner

Art Wilman, 158-pound Lindsay wrestler, had two straight falls over Charlie Harris, 160, in nine minutes, and Referee Hurtubise gave him the match. The Lindsay man worked fast and switched from one hold to another rapidly, and had Harris on his back with a half-nelson and a headlock in four minutes. They rested for two minutes and were at it again. Harris nearly had him with a flying mare, but Art broke free and turned him over with another half-nelson. He held him till Harris' shoulders were forced to the mat, taking the fall in three minutes. He got the nod.

"Red" Springer, the 135-pound Toronto mittser, and Reg. LeSurf, weighing 135½, went on in the final bout and made it a fast, rough affair, with plenty of clinching, and both being warned repeatedly for roughing it in the clinches. Springer was the worst offender, often hitting on the break. The first was even with the scrappers just feeling each other out. The second was faster with a little mixing, and considerable clinching. "Red" wanted in-fighting, but LeSurf stayed out and jabbed often. When they came together, there was plenty of rough fighting, and Garwood had to tear them apart time and again.

The third was fast and furious with both warned repeatedly for their tactics. Both were fighting mad, and tore into each other, using everything they knew to finish the other. They were wrestling and fighting hard at the bell. As the bout was even thus far, they went back for a two-minute deciding round. This was another hard go, with Lesurf landing a few hard drives to Springers' head. The latter was bleeding about the face but still wading in at the bell. LeSurf had a slight lead on points and looked stronger at the end, and his hand was raised to the approval of the crowd.

'NEATH SUNNY SKIES

Spicy Bits of Baseball Gossip From Majors' Camps.

Gabby Street's National league championship Cardinals were "at home" today to Bill Killefer's American league sixth place Browns of 1930 as baseball made its annual debut at St. Louis, Mo., today.

For the op ning game of the 2-game series, both managers picked veteran pitchers. Burleigh Grimes, the old spitballer, was Street's selection and Killefer's was Sam Gray. Chad Kimsey and Dick Coffman were in preserve for the Browns and Al Grabowski, a southpaw, for the Cardinals.

Boston's baseball fans today get their first peek at the newcomers to the Red Sox and the Braves as the teams line up for the city series.

The American league rooters are out to get a glimpse at Rabbit Warstler perform at short and watch Van Camp hold down the initial sack. Srtangers in the National league lineup include Wilson at the hot corner; Red Worthington, the mighty hitter, in right field; Wes Schulmerich, left field, and McAfee on the mound.

Despite his long delay in reporting to camp at Norfolk, Va., and the severe attack of tonsilitis that struck him when he finally arrived, Bill Terry, big first baseman of the New York Giants, is showing why he led the National league in batting last year.

Terry has appeared in 13 exhibition games so far and has hit ably in every one of them. He has been at bat 52 times and connected safely on 25 occasions for an average of .481.

Wilbert Robinson brought his Brooklyn Robins back home today a bit worried over the failure of his sluggers to hit their stride in the southl nd.

"It won't matter who I pitch," said Robby, "if we don't do some hitting. O'Doul, Frederick and Bissonette are the only ones who have hit this spring. Maybe the pitchers are putting more stuff on that new ball."

PROSPECTS POOR FOR THE BISONS

Down-grade Veterans Outnumber Up-and-Coming Youngsters on Present Roster.

NEED MORE PUNCH.

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 11.—Buffalo which finished sixth in the 1930 International League race, faces the present campaign with no better prospects. In fact, unless reinforcements are forthcoming, the Thundering Herd may slide deeper into the quagmire.

The club that departed from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., a few days ago, didn't seem to have the proper balance. Down grade veterans outnumber the up-and-coming rookies, with none too strong connecting links between them. The Bisons need more punch and two starting pitchers.

Three of last year's stars will be missing. Al Moore is gone from left field and Tucker from right, and Frank Grube from behind the plate. They provided much of the club's batting thunder last season.

The infield problem is as unsettled as it was in 1930. Manager Jim Cooney is experimenting with two combinations.

He plans to keep Ollie Sax, a youngster who hits consistently, at third base in the hope that Ollie will 'find" himself there after having played almost every other position on the team.

Johnny Hughes, a recruit from Scranton, Pa., is scrapping Sax for the hot corner, Pete Cote, former Holy Cross wonder, and Jim Cooney, are battling for the shortstop post. Cooney's failing legs make cote the favorite for the job.

Another rookie Ollie Olson, has entrenched himself at second base, and Russ Wrightstone, who led the league with a batting mark of .386 last year, is a fixture at first.

The club has three fine looking outfielders in George Ferrell, brother of Wes, of the Indians, Dewey Stover, who hit .455 in 18 games last season, and Mel Kerr. None of the trio has had a year in class AA, however, so the outfield situation is uncertain. Two veterans, Ralph Shinners and Heinie Mueller, are making strong bids to hold their berths. President Frank Offermann is scanning the horizon for a slugging outfielder, but little help is expected from the majors

Frank Pytlak, Buffalo boy, is pushing Clude Crouse, late of the White Sox, for the first string catching berth, with Bob Munn slated for the bull penn.

Pitching is where the Bisons appear weakest. Joe Bloomer, right thander, looks like the ace of the staff, unless old Dave Danforth returns to the form that ranked him at the top of the mound corps a year ago. Fred Russell likely will be traded.

Ed Tomlin is striving to convert himself into a pitcher, and Henry Wertz is hoping hat the southern breezes have returned the zip that made him a big leaguer a few years ago.

CASUAL COMMENT

The annual meeting of the C.O.B.L. takes place to-day in the Y.M.C.A. in Belleville. President Bob Elliott has sent invitations to Peterboorugh, Oshawa, Port Hope, Cobourg and Belleville to have delegates at this meeting, and all are expected to attend.

* * * * * *

While it is doubtful if there will be six teams in the Central League this year, it is quite probable the four major cities in Eastern Ontario will again be represented. Still, wouldn't it be great if each of those six towns had an entry? Just like old times.

* * * * * *

Peterborough and Belleville are both definitely in the league, and Kingston expects to come in. So far, Oshawa is somewhat doubtful, but the Motor City will hardly stay out with the material for a smart senior team in that town. We should know more about it Monday.

* * * * * *

The O.B.A.A. practically assured the winner of the senior series a trip to the Olympic games in Los Angeles in 1932. However, that matter will come in for more discussion later, as it would be an expensive trip. But it's something for the Central League to shoot at.

* * * * * *

The Belleville sports writer believes that if Peterborough has its pick of the local players to form a senior team, it will be a tough outfit to lick. Well, he's right, no doubt about that. But that word "if" doesn't mean a thing in this baseball town.

* * * * * *

Bert McLeod and "Biffer" Ranger will be hitting this city again soon. And we hope they win the championship of their league first. They have only two more games to play, and both are in Kansas City.

* * * * * *

While the Tulsa Oilers won the first two of the five-game playoffs, the Pla-mors won the third and have a good chance of copping the last two on home ice. Get into the game, boys.

* * * * * *

You've got to handit to Gord Garwood. He certainly did put on a classy show at the Armouries last night. Not a hitch all the way through, and no delays. And his work as third man in the ring left nothing to be desired, either.

* * * * * *

The Rangers' Association, under whose auspices the card was staged, want to apologize to those who had to stand up for the bouts. Seats for four hundred fans were obtained, and the Rangers never thought there would be more than that present. However, nearly double that number were on hand.

* * * * * *

The wrestling match didn't last so long. Art Wilman of Lindsay got to work right from the start, and had little trouble throwing Harris twice to take the match. Big Gene Hurtubise was the referee.

* * * * * *

The pick of the whole bunch of fighters was Cy Horner the Toronto welter And what a real scrapper that boy is! Aggressiveness, condition, two-handed wallop, speed and ring brains—Horner seemed to have everything. What he did to Len Post was just too bad.

* * * * * *

We are willing to bet he goes far in the provincial elimination contests, starting next week. And his Toronto partner, "Red" Springer is a nice little boxer too, but inclined to be somewhat dirty. He pulled everything he could while clinching, and refused to break clean.

* * * * * *

Reg. Lesurf finally got the nod over Springer but he had to box a two-minute overtime round to earn it. Both fighters became peeved at times and they made it a great fight to wind up a great card.

* * * * * *

All the local boys were in good shape and will keep in training as there will be another boxing show in Lindsay in a couple of weeks. And say, those Lindsay boys are good too. All of them, with Houzer being the most finished boxer. It was some card, no fooling!

* * * * * *

It might be possible to persuade Garwood to stage another show within the next three weeks, before the baseball season opens. The crowd would be there without a doubt, and with Gord promoting and matching scrappers as he did last night, another great show could be successfully put over.

PICKERING QUINTET WINS CAGE HONORS

Ontario Scholastic Title-holders Capture Game and Round From Sherbrooke.

TORONTO, April 11. — Sweeping through the invaders with an offensive which was not to be denied, Pickering College quintet duplicated their Thursday evening display, to triumph over the Sherbrooke team and capture, for the first time in history, the Eastern Canada Scholastic cage title, and with it the magnificent trophy presented for the competition by Sam Rogers, President of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association. The score of the game was 36-26, which gave the Newmarket quintet the round by a margin of 75-51.

Undaunted by their defeat of Thursday evening, the Quebec champions started aggressively and took an early lead, which was incessantly challenged by Pickering, but was not overcome when the rest period arrived. Dunsmore, pivot man for the invaders, played exceptionally well in the first half and his showing only bore out the statement, that had he remained on the floor in the first game, the margin of victory gained by Pickering would not have been so large. Dunsmore's playmaking was a treat to watch and due to his accurate passing, the Sherbrooke team held a 15-14 advantage at half-time. Ross also played well for the Quebecians in the first half.

LIONS WIN AGAIN

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 11. (CP) A last period spurt of New York Rangers was not enough to carry them past Vancouver Lions here last night and the Lions won the second of their exhibition hockey series, 5-4.

WALLACE BEATEN BY JACKIE BERG

English Lightweight, as Usual, Boxes Aggressively in Detroit Fight.

DETROIT, April 11.—Jack "Kid" Berg of Great Britain retained his junior welterweight title by winning a ten-round decision from Billy Wallace of Cleveland, at Olympia Arena last night. Berg weighed 138, Wallace 137.

After ten rounds of fast milling, mostly by Berg, there was no question of who would receive Referee Elmer "Slim" McClelland's decision.

The British boxer's aggressive whirl-wind style kept the Cleveland boy on the defensive throughout. For every blow Wallace landed, Berg managed to get in at least two, but most of these carried little sting.

With the exception of one effective blow in the first round—a right to Wallace's head—there was little damage done in the early rounds. Most of the boxing was at close range, and, although Wallace slipped over an occasional hard punch, neither fighter was hurt.

Governor-General Has Joined Legion

OTTAWA, April 11.—The Earl of Bessborough, Governor-General of Canada, to-day joined the Canadian Legion. It was not an honorary membership, but a real membership, his Excellency paying $3 as his first year's dues, and 50 cents for his badge, like every other member of the Legion.

The British Empire Service League meets in Canada this year, and many branches of the Legion are staging campaigns for new membership. Thomas Wayling, Chairman of the Ottawa committee, obtained the Governor-General's application yesterday for membership in the Dominion headquarters branch. The application give his Excellency's occupation as "Governor-General of Canada," his service as "1914-1918" and his rank on discharge as "Captain." His next of kin is given as the Countess of Bessborough.

Petrolle Is Winner Over Lope Tenorio

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 11.—Billy Petrolle, the "Fargo Express," won a newspaper decision from Lope Tenorio, Filipino from New York, in a slashing ten-round bout here last night. Petrolle weighed 138 pounds and Tenorio 142. A glancing blow to the chin sent Tenorio down in the fifth round, but he was up before the referee could start a count.

Petrolle grew stronger as the bout progressed, while Tenorio, with a chance for at least a draw, weakened decidedly in the last three rounds.

The Associated Press score card showed five round for Petrolle, two for Tenorio, and three even.

TEN CANDIDATES ARE CONFIRMED

AT CAMPBELLFORD.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 11 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — A very impressive service was held in Christ Church, Campbellford, on Thursday evening when the Lord Bishop of Toronto administered the Rite of Confirmation, the rector, the Rev. N. Clark Wallace presented ten candidates for the laying on of hands.

The service was choral throughout, the choir rendering music befitting the occasion. Part of the service was taken by Mr. Wallace. His lordship preached from the text, Ephesians 6, verse 6, "Not with eye service, as menpleasers, but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart," pointing out to the candidates that it was right to please men up to a point, but that the higher service was to please God. He said that the business men's motto to-day was "We aim to please," and this he thought would be right if the one word "God" was added. To please God was the service and duty of man.

Those receiving the rite were Mr. Fred Smith, Mr. R. C. Ramsden, George Smith, Mack Atkinson, Charles Collard, Charles Smith, Arthur Price, Cyril Middleton, Marie Hollings and Rosie Snelling.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 10.—Rt. Rev. Monsignor Gerald Murphy, for 28 years rector of St. Patrick's Parish in this city, and connected with the parish during a term of 44 years, died this morning of an illness that grew out of injuries received in the Halifax explosion of 1917.

Diamond Jubilee of Resolution on Continent Railway

OTTAWA, Ont., April 11.—(By The Canadian Press).—Sixty years ago to-day, April 11, 1871, the House of Commons passed a resolution binding the four-year-old Dominion of Canada to the tremendous task of completing a railway line from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

This was necessary in order to round off Canada by the inclusion of British Columbia in the confederation. The coast province had made this one of the stipulations in its agreement to join. It was not until 1882 however that work was actually commenced on what is now the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Palpitation Of The Heart Nerves Were All Gone

Miss Rose Griffin, Auburn, Man., writes:—"About five years ago I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, caused by a shock, and my nerves were all gone, and I could not sleep. I read about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and decided to try them. After I had taken three boxes I was feeling fine again. I think they are a wonderful remedy, and wish all others who suffered as I did would give them a trial."

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

BOYS' HOBBY SHOW IS OPENED WITH INSPECTION OF 350 EXHIBITS

Everything That the Boy Has Interest in Is Included in the Fair.

SPLENDID EXHIBITS.

One of the best "Y" Boys' Hobby Shows in the history of the city flung wide its doors last night in the dining room of the Y.M.C.A. and welcomed interested parents and grown-ups to inspect the more than 350 exhibits.

The fact that the "Y" building is undergoing many interior changes along with the new addition failed to noticeably reduce the scope of the show or the quality of the exhibits. Everything that the normal healthy boy has an interest in is included, and along with that must be included the feature that this whole show in every detail was staged and planned by the youngsters themselves under the guidance of James McClenaghan, the boys' secretary. The exhibits were placed, listed and in many cases judged by these same young showmen.

Riding A Hobby

Dr. J. J. Craig officially opened the show last night, addressing a few thoughtful words to the boys in the library. He pointed out the recreation, satisfaction and skill a boy can derive from "riding a hobby".

Stewart Hayes was crowned the show's "grand champion" when the judges made their report, carrying off the highest total of points of any single exhibiter, but his 41 entries was also high.

On exhibition are the prized results of many patient hours of work with saw, hammer and pincers — graceful airplanes, which are guaranteed to fly, stately sailing ships, bird houses, sewing cabinets, jardiniere stands, wooden toys, and 101 other articles that zealous lads can learn to build. Most of the exhibits in the wood-working section were made by boys attending the Manual Training Classes of the Public Schools, which are directed by Albert Hope.

The finely-constructed cranes and elevators made from meccano and erector sets take a prominent place and B. Shosenburg is exhibiting a ferris wheel that is an exact model to the last detail, having even a motor to make it turn.

The art exhibit has some outstanding examples of fine talent. Ernest Wand, 10 years of age, a student of Miss Mamie McCarthy, gains particular distinction with five remarkable nature scenes done in water color. The department of mechanical drawing displays another type of ability with a pencil, members of the Collegiate Vocational School carrying off most of the honors in this field.

Stamp Collection

Then the collector comes into his own with many exhibits of stamps, coins, car markers, newspaper heads, coat labels, overhall labels and advertising and slogan buttons.

The department of photography has some splendid exhibits of snaps taken about the district. The picture of an elderly man shows an extraordinary skill in the handling of light and show effects.

Grand Champion of the Show.

Stewart Hayes, 51 points, with 41 entries.

GRENFELL WORK IS CARRIED ON

Citizens Asked to Contribute in Annual Drive for Labrador Mission.

LETTER FROM FOUNDER.

At this time of the year, when the annual appeal for funds for the Grenfell Mission in Labrador is being made, and when the citizens of Peterborough are asked to contribute as generously as possible to this good work, the following letter, received recently by the local branch, might prove of interest. It was written on the anniversary of the birthday of a great man, Sir Wilfred Grenfell, a man whose life has been filled with untiring effort for the good of mankind. This effort has been made under the most difficult circumstances and has been crowned with glorious success. The letter is as follows:

156 Fifth Ave., New York City,
February 28th, 1931.

"Dear Friends:—

In the Grenfell family, after attaining a 'certain age' we honour more life's milestones called birthdays. Each one proves a valuable stimulus to review records of success and failure, to reconsecrate to greater service, and so gain not merely tokens of a material world, but some of the truer things one can carry beyond journey's end.

"This milestone suggests an attempt to express to the helpers of all years my deep sense of gratitude.

"It seems only yesterday, though actually thirty-nine years ago, that our gallant little ketch bound on her solitary errand of mercy, sighted for the first time the rock-bound coast of Labrador. I can still hear the welcome of those lonely fishermen and feel the lure of the challenge it seemed impossible to meet. And, oh, the excitement of a year later when it was decided to establish a hospital at Battle Harbour to which everyone could come in time of need.

"Today, not forty years later, it seems incredible that that far-off coast line is dotted with small hospitals, nursing stations, orphanages, schools, industries and even agricultural centres.

"Today our northern fishermen are reclaiming their economic freedom their hope and courage, and a chance to develop their invaluable talents, lost in an unaided struggle for life on the northern frontier.

"So, the gift I most revel in today, is the pleasure of saying 'Thank you' from the bottom of my heart, to each one of you who has helped to make my life-work possible.

Sincerely yours,
Wilfred T. Grenfell.

A Birthday Greeting.

King's Shooting Pony Is Taken To Windsor

WINDSOR, Eng., April 11 (C.P.)—Great Britain was further reassured to-day of the recovery of the King, who has been ill for a week with bronchitis by the announcement that His Majesty's shooting pony had been brought from Sandringham and established at the Castle.

The pony was used to draw the King's bath chair during his convalescence after his serious illness in 1928, and it was believed that the horse was brought to-day to be in readiness when the King decides to ride in the sunshine again in the chair.

The pony is the one the King rides when inspecting the Royal estates.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 36 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Akut explained to Korak that these rites proclaimed the choosing of a new king. At last the brutes rested, their stomachs full. "Come slowly, Korak," Akut whispered. "Do as I do." Making their way through the trees, they stood on a bough overhanging one side of the amphitheater. Then Akut uttered a peculiar growl. Instantly a score of apes leaped to their feet. The new king-ape was the first to spy the two figures upon the branch.

He growled ominously. His hair bristled and his legs stiffened, as with a jerking motion he lumbered toward the intruders followed by a number of bulls. Akut did not wish to fight. He had come with the boy to cast his lot with the tribe. "I am Akut," he called down. "This is Korak. He is the son of Tarzan, who was king of the apes. I, too, was king of the apes beside the great waters.

We are mighty fighters. Let us come in peace." The king's little eyes grew crafty. He feared these two strange apes. The sleek, brown, hairless body of the lad spelled "man" and man he hated. "Go away," he growled, "or I will kill you! The eager lad standing behind the great Akut had been pulsing with happiness and anticipation. He wanted to leap down—and show these hairy monsters he was one of them—their friend. Now the words of the king-ape filled him with indignation and sorrow.

The great apes had remained his final hope. To them he looked for the companionship man had denied him. Suddenly rage overwhelmed him. The apes beneath him had formed in a half circle around the king, watching events interestedly. Before Akut could guess his intention or prevent it, the boy leaped to the ground directly in the path of the king, who had now worked himself up into a perfect frenzy of jealous fury.

Old Walrus Skull Is Found In Sand

MONTREAL, April 11.—(By the Canadian Press)—The natural resources and development branch of the Canadian National Railways has come into possession of a walrus skull believed to be between twenty and thirty thousand years old. It was found in Northern Manitoba by George Brown of The Pas, an employee of the C.N.R., during recent construction work on the Hudson Bay Railway. The skull was discovered eight feet beneath the surface of a gravel ridge situated eight miles east of the main line of the Hudson Bay Railway at Mile 467. This point is about 35 miles due west of the western shore of Hudson Bay.

The skull is that of the Arctic walrus (trichechus rosmarus— and probably represents one of the many walrus wanderers that flourished south of Hudson Bay during the glacial period. Walruses are notoriously gregarious and it is interesting to reflect that over much of the country at present traversed by the Hudson Bay Railway there was once heard the dee barking of thousands of these mammals ordinarily peaceful but thoroughly formidable when aroused.

The two tusks, some fifteen inches in length, are well preserved after thousand of years beneath the sands, but one is considerably worn at the tip. It is considered possible that this tusk was chipped as the creature sludged among rocks and sea shells in search of food, or was broken in battle with some polar bear, the inherent enemy of the walrus.

Boys Spend Night In Car In Garage Yard In Order To Purchase Automobile For $4.95

Industry and perseverance received well merited reward today, and three youthful visitors who hiked into this city from Ida in the wee small hours of this morning are ensured of a ride back—in their own car purchased at J. K. Hughes Limited automobile sale, for the nominal sum of $4.95.

The purchaser of the car, a Ford touring model complete with spare time, was Victor E. Phasey, 18, of R.R. 1, Ida. His imagination fired by the Hughes advertisement in The Examiner, Victor decided to make a bold bid for the car; accordingly he and two friends set out from home late last night to tramp off the weary miles in to this city. The trio arrived at the Hughes Sales Rooms at 2.30 a.m., and sought repose in a closed car in the garage yard. Although tired they slept with a weather eye open, determined to be the first on the job, when the sale should open at 9 a.m.

Meanwhile other Examiner subscribers throughout the district who had read of the astounding bargain in the advertisement columns, were also astir. The would-be buyers arrived throughout the early hours of the morning and at 9 o'clock it was estimated that a crowd of some 200 persons had congregated.

Conditions of the sale, which were fulfilled by Victor Phasey, were that the purchaser of the car have exactly $4.95 in currency. The first person in the sales rooms with this amount and with the order slip properly filled in was adjudged the purchaser. The sale this morning was made by Bud Miller, and a great deal of excitement prevailed among the various salesmen for the distinction of making this sale.

Joseph Collins of The T. K. Kelly Sales of Minneapolis, Minn., is the organizer of the used car sale and, in conversation with The Examiner, paid tribute to the efficiency of Examiner advertising. "Up to the present time (9.45 a.m.)," he stated, "at least sixteen used cars have been sold. Never have such results been obtained at an automobile sale in Peterborough and district before."

He added that another bargain car will be sold, probably on Thursday next for 99c. Full announcement will be contained in the advertisement columns of this paper.

Alfonso Demanded To Recognize Republic

RESULT AT POLLS INITIATES ACTION BY REPUBLICANS

Victors Claim They Are Ready to Enforce Demands if King Does Not Accept.

STOCKS SLUMP.

Rumors Spread Spanish Monarch is Forming Provisional Gov't.

MADRID, April 13 (C.P.).—Flushed with victory over the Monarchists in yesterday's elections, Don Niceto Alcala Zamora and the group of Republican leaders who proclaimed a revolution in Spain last December, late this afternoon formally demanded that Alfonso recognize the Spanish Republic.

In a note signed by all the signatories of last December's revolution proclamation, the Republicans declare that "Sunday's elections signify an expression of the public will for an immediate Republic in Spain."

"If the King does not accept the dictates of the public," the manifesto continues, "we are ready to enforce them and to establish a Republic ourselves."

People Be Judges.

The manifesto continues with the prediction that the Spanish people and those in foreign countries will be the judges of the merits of the Republicans' threatened action, if necessary.

On the other hand, the Constitutionalist Monarchy bloc, some of its chiefs said to-day, will probably be disbanded immediately. The Constitutionalists were formerly headed by ex-Premier Sanchez Guerra and are now led by Melquiades Alvarez, Santiago Alba, and former Ministers Miguel Villanueva and Borgos Mazo.

It was predicted that the Constitutionalists would soon issue a manifesto declaring that their program for a Constitutional Monarchy was no longer necessary because the people yesterday had voted against Monarchical rule.

Stocks slumped on the Madrid Exchange during the day, almost all issues falling off several points.

Persons close to the throne said the King was considering an attempt to form another provisional Government of old guard politicians to settle the situation temporarily. The only advantage of this, it was said, would be to gain time in which to decide whether to proceed with the election program, venture another dictatorship, or abandon the crown.

BOOST FORESEEN IN TOBACCO DUTY

LAST CHANGE IN 1927.

LONDON, April 13 (C.P.).—Hints given tobacco importers to limit the amount of stocks to be removed from warehouses during the next few weeks are being interpreted as foreshadowing an increase in the tobacco duty when the budget is announced on April 27.

There has been no change in the tobacco duty since 1927, when Winston Churchill, then Chancellor of the Exchequer, increased it from eight shillings and two pence a pound to eight shillings and ten pence. The duty on tobacco grown within the Empire, under the preference scheme, is six shillings and nine pence halfpenny per pound.

How important tobacco is as a source of revenue can be realized from the fact that the increase of a halfpenny an ounce in 1927 brought in nearly $20,000,000 more to the nation and that in 1929-30, the tobacco revenues totalled £62,793,589 (about $313,967,945).

The Weather

Today's temperature at noon was 70 degrees in the shade. This is the highest point this year. I am told that ice is still to be seen in all the lakes both north and south of the city, but is rapidly disintegrating. Last night was also quite warm, and at daybreak the temperature was up to 50 degrees.—W.P.

Morenz is Again Hurt on Saturday

MONTREAL, Que., April 13 (C.P.).—Over-zealous hockey partisans who threw missiles on the ice at Saturday night's game between Chicago Black Hawks and Canadiens have reason to regret their dangerous actions when Howie Morenz, idol of the Canadien fans, tripped on a penny that was stuck in the ice, and crashed to the boards in the last minutes of the game. The Canadiens centre ice star required an hours' treatment for bruises and strains to his shoulders and back.

POLITICAL POT IS WARMING UP OVER ENGLAND

Leaders in All Parties Busy Planning Campaign After Holidays.

MOSLEY ACTIVE.

Transport Minister Morrison Raps Members Inclined to Kick Over Traces.

LONDON, April 13. (By George Hambleton, C. P. Staff Correspondent).—Fresh from their Easter holidays, politicians are planning their campaigns.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald came back to London from Lossiemouth to-day. Leading Conservatives with Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin at their head will shortly be stumping the country. Labor and Liberals will not be any less active. Sir Oswald Mosley, wealthy young Socialist who heads his own "new party" returned from the south of France ready to resume his party's campaign, interrupted by his recent illness.

New Recruit for Mosley

Sir Oswald has secured a new recruit in Selkirk Davies Liberal candidate for Evesham, Worcester, in the last general elections. Mr. Davies, partner in a Cardiff firm of accountants, was second to Commander B. M. Eyres-Monsell, Conservative, in a three-cornered fight, the vote being 14,694 for Eyres-Monsell; 11,519 for Davies, and 4,138 for R. Aldington, Labor.

In Davies' view the Liberal party is so divided that it has ceased to count. "It is often only an object of pity and even contempt" he said.

Rt. Hon. Herbert Morrison, Minister of Transport who was recently elevated to cabinet rank is carrying the war into the Mosley camp. He calls Sir Oswald and some of his followers "temperamental aristocrats reared in upper class society, who have became accustomed to giving orders purely because of their personal wealth or social position."

CHINA OFFERS POSSIBILITIES AS TRADE MART

Potential Market For Canadian Wheat and Other Products, Mr. Wong Declares.

SPEAKS TO ROTARY.

Canadian Chinese Pleads For More Sympathetic Treatment For His Countrymen.

A striking picture of China as a potential market for Canadian products and a stirring plea for a more sympathetic attitude on the part of Canadians toward the Chinese who are living in this country, featured an eloquent address before the Peterborough Rotary Club to-day by Peter E. Wong, Canadian Chinese newspaperman of Toronto. Mr. Wong, with the advantage of training at several Canadian colleges, spoke in faultless English and his treatment of the subject of Canadian-Chinese relations made his talk one of the most interesting and informative local Rotarians have heard for some time.

Introduced by Rotarian William Tickell of Port Hope, Mr. Wong pointed out that China and Canada had a number of things in common. Canada had fought for and gained general responsible government; China was striving for the same privilege. While both were aggressive nations, neither Canada nor China were aggressor natiqns, and their relationships in the past had not been marred by any warlike acts which augured well for future relationships.

China, with her 463 millions of people, Mr. Wong declared, represented a possible Canadian market of tremendous importance. Canada at the present time had a surplus of wheat that was proving embarrassing. Did not the fact that three-fourths of the people of China ate wheat as a staple food suggest the possibility of a vast market for Canadian wheat once political stability was reached in China? Similarly the Chinese people as industrialization developed, would prove a fruitful market for Canadian machinery of all kinds. It was time the Canadian people awakened to the possibilities that were offered in China.

Mr. Wong paid tribute to Canadian contributions to China, particularly in the field of education, mentioning the universities in China that were maintained largely by Canadian donations and on the staff of which Canadians, both men of science and leaders in religious thought were serving. Particularly he stressed the contribution made by Chancellor Wallace.

The speaker discussed for some time the attitude of Chinese toward Canadians, and similarly the attitude of the Canadian people toward the Chinese. In his grandfather's day, he said, Canadians were looked upon by the Chinese as barbarians; they

Demand is Made For Water Wagon

The final and most certain indication of Spring occurred to-day, when several residents of the city phoned their favorite alderman and urged him to get the water wagon out on their street. As a matter of fact the streets have been as dry and dusty as in mid-summer for nearly a week, and with the brisk south wind which blew today quite large clouds of dust swirled and eddied about.

The City Council is hopeful that the needed rain will fall soon and allay the dust nuisance until a month or so hence when the street-oiling wagons will be commissioned to do their work.

Rev. Father Peter McGuire passed away early this afternoon, at The House of Providence, after a lingering illness, and at the age of 73 years.

Born in Ireland he came to this country as a young man, and was educated for the Ministry at St. Jerome College, Berlin (now Kitchener) and afterwards at the Grand Seminary, Montreal. He was ordained on September 21st, 1886, at St. Joseph's Chapel, Toronto, and took his first charge in the Muskoka district, where he remained for many years.

BLAZE CREATES $1,000,000 LOSS IN LUMBER YARD

Three Homes and Two Buildings Across Menominee River Also Razed.

BREEZE CARRIES EMBERS.

Officials Start Immediate Probe Believing Fire of Incendiary Origin.

MENOMINEE, Mich., April 13.—(CP)—A fire of undetermined origin that destroyed a lumber yard and three dwellings here and two buildings across the Menominee River at Marinette Wis., with a loss estimated at more than $1,000,000 was brought under control shortly after 9 a.m. to-day. The A. W. Wells lumber mills and yards were destroyed. Embers from the blaze carried on a stiff breeze, spread to 50 houses here. Three were destroyed. Across the river at Marinette an ice house owned by City Treasurer George E. Cleary flamed from flying embers and was burned along with a shack.

Four Cities Send Aid

Fire equipment was rushed to Menominee and Marinette from Green Bay, Wis., and Escanaba, Mich.

Belief that the fire was of incendiary origin was expressed by A. W. Wells, President of the lumber company. He said the loss was largely covered by insurance. An investigation was started at once by fire officials. Included in the lumber company loss were about 30,000,000 feet of lumber and 2,000,000 feet of saw logs. The mills, hardwood flooring plants, stables and dry kilns were razed.

Four Counties Were Represented in Saturday Afternoon's Meeting.

FARMERS AROUSED.

Several Additional Lines of Hydro Towers Are to be Built.

Uniting in their demand for adequate compensation for the depreciation of their properties by the erection of towers carrying the Hydro-Electric Commission's power lines from the Ottawa River to Toronto, nearly two hundred farmers of this district organized a local section of the Farmers' Right-of-Way Association here Saturday afternoon.

The following townships in four counties were represented: Rawdon and Marmora in Hastings county; Seymour and Percy in Northumberland; Cavan in Durham and Belmont, Asphodel, Otonabee and North Monaghan in Peterborough. In addition there were three officers from the Ontario county Farmers' Right-of-Way Association present A. J. Nesbitt of Brooklin, the president; F. M. Chapman, secretary-treasurer, and R. P. Winters of Pickering. Their association embraces a membership from the townships of East Whitby, and Pickering in Ontario county, and Darlington in Durham county.

The following general committee was appointed Saturday, at the meeting in the main court room at the County building, as a nucleus of the officers who will be selected later: Reeve Fred McIntyre and Deputy-reeve Alex Huston of Otonabee; Reeve Adam Humphries and G. A. Brethen of Asphodel township; Reeve Frank Breckenridge of Belmont; Reeve Robert Innis of Seymour township; J. E. Stevenson and Harold McConnell of Percy township; Reeve John McIntosh and Deputy-reeve W. G. Waterman of North Monaghan.

Cavan township was represented by Harry Falls and Nathaniel Belch. They stated that their farmers have already formed a branch in affiliation with the Ontario county association, and for the present they will continue in that connection.

Among the representatives from Marmora and Rawdon townships were W. J. Pack and J. S. McKeown. They attended the meeting to catch

PASTOR BLAMES RUSSIAN CHURCH

Claims Iniquities of Old Church Caused Promotion of Atheism.

PREDICTS COME-BACK.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 12. (CP)—Throwing down a challenge to those who revile Russia on religious questions, Rev. Dr. Lloyd G. Douglas, Minister of St. James Church, Montreal last night declared the iniquities of the old Russian church were to blame for the promotion of atheism in that country.

Speaking at the sixty-sixth anniversary service of Chalmbers United Church here, Dr. Douglas said: "Religion simply collapsed in Russia, collapsed as a result of its own iniquities. It ought to have collapsed. Russia will re-define God one of these days. He will be on the side of the common man. He will not be the God of the old Russian church—he will be the God of Jesus of Nazareth."

Dr. Douglas saw a warning to other churches in the course of events in Russia, particularly with regard to modernism.

DAY TURNS NIGHT AT CHICOUTIMI AS SKY RELEASES SHOWER OF MUD

Terrorized Citizens Rush For Homes as Yellowish Sky Turns Black.

LASTS TWO HOURS.

CHICOUTIMI, Que., April 13 (CP) Awe-stricken citizens of this Northern Quebec town stood in streets as dark as night at noon to-day and were drenched by a downpour of rain laden with black mud that stained outspread handkerchiefs and white paper outspread to catch the strange precipitation. At eleven thirty this morning the sky, which had for some time taken on a deep yellowish tinge, suddenly turned black and plunged the town into a midnight darkness. Lights were turned on in every building and the street lights were also put in operation.

People Rush Outdoors

Fearful of what was about to happen the people all too kto the outdoors. There was no wind but occasionally the clouds rolled aside to reveal grayish yellow sky. Then rain started to fall and the amazed population were further dumbfounded when they noticed that the downpour was half mud.

The phenomenon lasted more than two hours. At two o'clock the sky lightened and the inky rain had ceased but it was still cloudy and forbidding. The same conditions prevailed over a wide area of the Lake St. John district but reports from farther south told of summerlike weather and a high wind.

Dempsey Says Wife Sent Him to Reno

RENO, Nev., April 13 (C.P.).—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, admitted through his manager to-day that he is in Reno for a divorce and that he was sent here by his wife, Estelle Taylor, motion picture actress.

Dempsey, who left his hotel early this morning and was not due to return until later in the day, authorized his manager, Leonard Sachs, to make the statement regarding his divorce plans.

"Dempsey is still sincerely in love with his wife," Sachs said, "but she desired a stage and an operatic career, and she felt that he was in her way in this respect. She asked for a divorce, so he politely stepped out of the scene and came here. His divorce complaint will be of a very mild character, probably alleging incompatibility. It is expected that Mrs. Dempsey will file an appearance and make no contest, and the whole affair will be over."

CHARLES S. BLUE DIES

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13.—Charles Steedman Blue, chief of the House of Commons committee reporting staff, died here Saturday after a long illness, aged 57. He formerly represented The Toronto Globe in the Parliamentary Press Gallery.

Just Rights of the Common People Ignored by Hydro, Says R. R. Hall, K.C.

To Editor of The Examiner:

"The representative meeting of the farmers of the counties of Peterborough, Hastings, Durham and Ontario that was held at the Court House in the City of Peterborough on Saturday last is worthy of much more than passing notice".

"No man could listen to the expressions of indignation and contempt, that were expressed not only by the speakers but by clapping of hands and from the hearts of those who joined in such expression, without realizing the importance of the issues under discussion."

"The Hydro Electric Power Commission can bring in its lines from the east to Toronto, and some of the Commissioners have assumed the superior right to ride rough shod over all the farmers and householders whose properties the lines pass over. This is being done with little regard to the rights of those who are the property owners.

"The representatives of the Hydro Commission and the Ontario Government, do not hesitate for one moment to enter upon the lands of private owners; they do not hesitate to destroy their orchards; they do not hesitate to destroy or cut down shade trees in front of their homes; they do not hesitate to destroy their barns and buildings in the accomplishment of their "benevolent" work. In addition to that they assert the right of being able at any time to enter upon the lands of the men to whom wrong has been done; destroying their crops and rewarding these men, only for the injury that has been wrought to the crops at so much per acre."

"It is now being realized for the first time by the farmers of the Province of Ontario that the H.E.P.C. is a mongrel creation of autocratic power, and the sooner this fact is realized more fully, the better it will be for the farmers of the Province."

"Why should any man or government be allowed, since the days of King John, to ride rough shod over the just right of the common people?"

"Why should any authority be given to any body of men to deal unjustly with any one of these people, without justly compensating them for any benefit which that body has derived from the majority?"

"Why should a man be deprived of the fruits of his own orchard, or of the shade of his own maple tree?"

"He has been so deprived by the ruthless hand of these autocrats, and it is an astounding paradox that he can be deprived of his rights and favours under the British law of justice"

"If representatives of the Midland district are worthy of the trust and confidence that is reposed in them, now is the time to act. Otherwise they will be worthy of the greatest condemnation from the people of the Counties of Hastings, Peterborough, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario and York."

YOU'RE A MARKED MAN F. CHAPMAN IS TOLD AT RIGHT-OF-WAY MEETING

Has Incurred Ill-will of Agents or Executives of Hydro-Electric Commission.

GOOD FAITH DOUBTED.

Because of his active promotion of the Ontario County Farmers' Right-of Way Association and the assistance which he gave the farmers of this district in the organization of the local section of the Association here on Saturday, F. M. Chapman of Pickering township, has received intimations that he has incurred the ill-will of agents or executives of the Hydro-Electric Commission.

In his address at Saturday meeting in the Court House, Mr. Chapman referred to these reported threats that have come to him, and a Cavan farmer in the audience spoke out, "You're a marked man."

The statement that underlings of the Hydro-Electric Commission intend to "get him" evoked from Mr. Chapman the assertion that he would risk everything in this effort for justice for himself and for all other farmers who have joined and are joining in this movement for adequate settlements of pending and future claims against the Hydro-Electric Commission for damage to their farms caused by the erection of power transmission lines.

A significant and seeming contradiction of sentiment must have been noticed by the farmers in two of the addresses. On the one hand Mr. T. P. Lancaster told the large audience that the Hon. J. R. Cooke was anxious to placate all the farm owners along the power lines, and to see that they did receive full and

Spring Clean-Up Starts in Parks

The annual spring clean-up of the city parks began this morning, when Alderman Walter Stocker, chairman of the Parks Committee, set six men to work with rakes. The grass in the parks will be thoroughly "curry-combed," and the soil about the plants in the beds loosened. More plants will replace those which have failed to withstand the rigours of winter.

Alderman Stocker is certain that spring is upon us and summer is just around the corner. "Sure," said he, "we'll be mowing the grass in a week."

Japanese Royalty Visits West Point

NEW YORK N.Y., April 13. (CP) Buckles shone a little brighter and shoulders were hitched back another notch at the United States Military Academy at West Point to-day. It was a flourish for a visit by Prince and Princess Takamatsu of Japan, now in this country on a round-the-world tour.

Since their arrival on the Aquitania Friday, the Prince and Princess have spent all their time in New York City, most of it at receptions arranged in their honor. Yesterday for the first time the formality of the programme was relaxed and they had an opportunity to look around while the city was off guard.

Liner Goes Aground Tugs Labor In Vain

COWES, Eng., April 13. (AP)—A small fleet of tugs churned about the Holland America liner Statendam in an effort this forenoon to get her off a mudbank near here, but to no avail.

Stuck since Saturday night on her first voyage of the year between Rotterdam and New York, the vessel appeared imbedded in the mud at least until another high tide. The tugs, which moved her a half length at last night's high tide, could hardly budge her to-day.

Passengers while away their time at deck games, concerts and dances. Big crowds assembled on the shore front to watch the efforts of the fleets of tugs to float her again.

The ship probably will be taken to Southampton to be looked over before continuing her voyage.

Forest Fires Hit Michigan, Wisconsin

VILLAGE IS RAZED 150 INHABITANTS LEFT HOMELESS

Countless Farm Buildings in Flames' Path Are Wiped Out.

COUNTRY TINDER DRY.

One of Worst Fires in History Comes Within Mile of Crandon and Laona.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 13 (C.P.). — Forest fires, the scourge of timber land settlements, smouldered and flared menacingly to-day in sections of Northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

Flames which devastated the village of Wallace, Mich., and razed countless segregated farm buildings had abated with the dying breath of a strong, veering wind

Hundreds of acres of ash-covered soil, the debris of homes, and the smoke filled atmosphere remained, however, as an incentive for vigilance.

Pressed into service at the first onslaught of the flames, forest rangers and volunteers patrolled the fire infested areas which extended over part of what was once Wisconsin's forestry domain. Hundreds of property owners maintained an all-night vigil to combat new and unexpected outbreaks of fire.

Timber Tinder Dry.

Timber slashings, made highly inflammable by tinder dryness occasioned by lack of snow and spring rains, furnished the fuel which carried the fires in all directions.

In Wallace, north of Menominee, Mich., only three buildings remained standing, all of the village of 150 persons were forced to flee without their belongings. North of Wallace the village of Ingalls was isolated when communication lines were destroyed and motorists were unable to traverse roads leading to the village because of fires.

Oconto and Lena, Wis., were among cities which suffered from the fire that razed Wallace. One dwelling in Oconto was burned, and at Lena the telephone exchange and three other buildings were destroyed. Peshtigo, hemmed in for a time escaped a repitition of the forest fire disaster of 1871 when 1,000 persons lost their lives.

Cities Threatened.

One of the worst fires in the history of Forest County ranged to within a mile and a half mile respectively of the cities of Crandon and Laona. Flames that towered 150 feet in the air swooped toward Crandon until back firing operations temporarily blocked ahe flames on an expanse of cultivated soil on the west side of the city.

Police Asked To Find Missing New Yorker

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 13 (C.P.). —Police in all parts of the United States were called upon to-day to search for Frank L. Kelton, pioneer in the development of the coin in the slot turnstile, who has been missing from his home in Brooklyn since March 19.

On the day of his disappearance he packed two bags, put them in his coupe and drove off without telling his wife his destination. She believed he had set out on a business trip, but became alarmed when she received no word from him. Police of New York were asked to help when a private search had failed.

Kelton is 51. A large sum of money deposited in a Brooklyn bank has not been touched since his departure.

29 ARE INJURED AS C. N. R. TRAIN HITS BROKEN RAIL

Passengers and Crew Carried Down 20 Foot Embankment.

CHEF FEARED DYING.

Relief Trains Rush to Scene and Bring Aid to Fast Continental Limited.

EDMONTON, Alta., April 13 (C.P.). — Derailment of the Continental Limited, fast Canadian National Railway flyer, caused injury to 23 passengers and six members of the crew near Edson, Alberta, early on Sunday morning.

Railway investigators probed the cause of the derailment to-day. A broken rail was believed responsible for the mishap.

Seven of the injured, one of whom is in a critical condition, are in hospital at Edson, while the others resumed their journey westward after obtaining medical attention at the scene of the wreck. F. Roye, of Vancouver, a dining car chef, was the most seriously injured, and l'tt'e hope is held for his recovery. His spine was fractured.

Passengers Sleeping.

When the train struck the track obstruction the passengers were sleeping. Many were hurled from their berths. The heavy mountain locomotive and baggage car remained on the rails. The colonist car left the rails but remained upright while the day coach, tourist sleeper, diner and a Pullman car plunged down a 30-foot embankment, overturning as they went. Other sleeping cars left the rails but remained upright. Only the fact that the cars were of steel construction saved greater casualties.

There was no panic aboard the sleeping cars. Two Regina doctors and Nurse Sullivan of Jasper, Alta., who were aboard the train as passengers, performed wonderful service in giving first aid to the injured.

Relief trains carrying doctors and nurses from Edmonton and Edson, rushed to the scene, and later removed the injured and passengers to Edson.

Main line traffic westward was resumed at 5 p.m. Sunday.

GNATS DISAPPEAR IN STRONG WINDS

Scourge in Delta Communities Leaves $100,000 Damage in Wake.

NO HUMAN LIVES LOST.

CLARKSDALE, Miss., April 13. — The death-dealing scourge of Buffalo gnats that descended last week on Delta communities still stricken by last year's drought apparently had passed on to-day, leaving approximately $100,000 damage in its wake.

The plague was the worst of its kind in many years, but no loss of human life has been reported as it is regarded in accounts of the visitation of 1884 around Helena, Ark., of that year Professor Glenn W. Herrick, of Cornell University, in his book on "Insects injurious to the household," quotes C. V. Rilly, who wrotes in 1886, as follows:

"In 1884 several persons were killed by buffalo gnats. H. A. Winter, from near Helena, Ark., while on a hunting trp, was attacked by them, one and a half miles from home while passing some low ground. Running toward the house, he was seen to fall dead. Another man was killed near Qynne Station, Ark., on the Iron Mountain Railroad."

1,000 Mules Die.

Only live stock, chiefly mules, fell before the swarms of gnats that have ravaged large areas of Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana during the past few days. Deaths among mules, estimated to number more than 1,000, were caused both by the sting of the gnats and mechanical pneumonia that followed breathing of the pests into the lungs.

The gnats disappeared, whether permanently for this season or only temporarily is not yet determined, before strong winds that swept over the delta during the week-end.

Also over the week-end, E. P. Krick, Red Cross representative, completed a survey of the damage in this secticen and left to make a survey in Arkansas.

MacDonald Confident Gov't Will Survive

LOSSIEMOUTH, Scotland, April 13.—(A.P.)— Premier Ramsay MacDonald, leaving here to-day for London after an Easter vacation, had full confidence in the ability of his Government to weather the approaching Parliamentary storm.

"It will be a strenuous and busy—I cannot say, momentous—session of parliament," he told a reporter in commenting upon the Conservative motion of censure on unemployment which will be voted upon in the Commons Thursday.

The Government's prospects for weathering the censure motion are the subject of nation-wide discussion, but while defeat is possible, it is felt generally the possibility is remote and that the ministry, with the help of a few Liberals, will survive, at least until after presentation of the budget.

JAPAN'S PREMIER WHOLE CABINET RESIGN OFFICE

Hamagacha's Move is Outcome of Wound Received From Assassin.

SHOT LAST NOVEMBER 14.

Former Premier Wakatuski Held as Most Likely Successor.

TOKYO, April 13.—(AP)—Disabled as the result of a shot fired last November 14 by a young assassin, Juyo Hamaguchi resigned today as Premier of Japan and presented the resignations of his entire cabinet.

The appointment of Reljiro Wakatuski, former Premier, as successor to Hamaguchi was regarded as a foregone conclusion and it was expected Wakatuski would retain most of the Hamaguchi cabinet.

The Hamaguchi administration, which lasted less than two years, weathered many storms growing out of its acceptance of the London Naval Treaty and the attempt upon the Premier's life was attributed to dissatisfaction among patriotic extremists with Japan's position regarding the arms limitation agreement.

Hamaguchi was shot by Tomeo Sagoya, 23, a member of the "Love of Country Association." Investigations disclosed that no "responsible political group" had anything to do with the shooting and Sagoya was regarded as a misguided patriot. He has not yet been tried.

Lay Weeks In Hospital

For weeks Hamaguchi lay in a hospital convalescing while Baron Kijuro Shidehara, the Foreign Minister, acted as head of the administration, which was the subject of several Conservative attacks in the diet

Recently Hamaguchi tried to resume active direction of the Government but was forced to re-enter the hospital. Two operations were performed upon him last week.

Convinced his illness would preclude his participation in politics for some time, Hamaguchi decided to resign.

As leader of the Minseito (Liberal Party), Hamaguchi became Premier July 2, 1929. Negotiations leading up to Japan's ratification of the London Treaty brought severe attacks from the administration's opponents. Climaxing these, Admiral Kanjo Kato resigned as Chief of Staff of the navy.

Hamaguchi's victory in bringing about ratification of the treaty over the objections of influential group in the navy was regarded as significant, as previously in naval policies the custom of the Government had been to accede to the wishes of this solidarity.

As Japan's chief delegate to the London Conference, Wakatuski backed the international agreement.

Church Floor Collapses at Funeral Service and 250 Fall Into the Cellar

LAPEER, Mich., April 13. — Mourners filled the Methodist Episcopal Church at Otter Lake, near here, at three o'clock yesterday afternoon while Rev. Frank S. Hemingway was conducting funeral services for his cousin, Mrs. W. C. Larkin. Suddenly the frame walls of the building swayed, and with a crash the floor collapsed, precipitating 250 persons into the basement. The pulpit and that part of the church containing the casket were not damaged.

Instructing the choir to sing, Rev. Mr. Hemingway then ran to the assistance of the mourners, none of whom was hurt, and reassured them that no further danger menaced them.

The casket was taken through the rear entrance to the cemetery, where the funeral services were concluded.

Mr. Hemingway was being assisteed in the service by Rev. D. A. Vandorn, Otter Lake minister. Mr. Vandorn was thrown off his feet, but quickkly joined Mr. Hemingway in preventing any stampede that might have caused the walls of the edifice to fall on the prostrate mourners.

TELEGRAM HALTS VISIT TO MOSCOW

Polish Delegates Resent Contents of Wire From Soviet Commissiariat.

HINTED INDUSTRY RUINED.

WARSAW, Poland, April 13 (C.P.). —The delegation of Polish industrialists who were entraining to-day for Moscow to inspect Russian factories and further commercial relations between the two countries abruptly cancelled their trip on the station platform after reading a wire to Warsaw papers.

The wire purported to be from Riga and stated that the Soviet Commissariat of Commerce had issued a communique to the effect that the Polish visit was the consequence of complete ruin of Polish industry which was sharing the fate of economic depression as in other capitalistic countries.

Misunderstanding?

The Soviet Trade Commissioner, who was at the station to see them off, made frantic efforts to persuade them that there must be some misunderstanding. His protestations did not avail and the delegation, which was headed by Andrew Wierzbicki, —general manager of the Leviathan or Polish Union of Finance, Mines, Industry and Commerce, picked up its luggage and went home, each asserting that they would go to Moscow only if the communique proved false.

As reported from Riga, the communique alleged that the fact that Herr Wierzbicki, who was known to be unfriendly to the Soviet Union, headed the delegation, as the best proof that Polish industry was on the verge of collapse. He cited the condition of the Lodz textile mills as typical and alleged that this made clear the purpose of the visit.

Visits to plants in Moscow, the Donetz Basin and Dniprostroy were scheduled for the trip. It was understood that the delegation was trying to place textiles and chemical products, principally fertilizers in Russia.

FIVE HAILED INTO SAN DIEGO COURT

Alexander Pantages Heads List Being Accused by Two Girls.

RETAIN EXPERT ATTORNEYS.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 13.—Alexander Pantages, wealthy theatre operator, and four other persons were summoned to court here to-day for preliminary hearing on charges of participating in a "love bazaar," involving girls of high school age.

The co-defendants were John P. Mills, wealthy Los Angeles real estate dealer; Jesse Shreve, San Diego business man; William Jobelmann, former publicity man for Pantages, and Miss Olive Clark Day, Jobelmann's common-law wife.

A battery of expert criminal attorneys was retained to defend them against the accusations of Lydia Nitto, alias Alice Blake, 16, and Helen Livingston, 17.

Wins Re-trial

Mills, Jobelmann and Miss Day face similar charges at Los Angeles. Pantages recently won a re-trial after being convicted of criminal assault on charges by Miss Eunice Pringle, young dancer, in 1929.

The theatre man is accused by Miss Nitto of treating her improperly in a fashionable hotel here October 30 last, and is especially charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and violation of the Juvenile Act. Shreve is similarly accused by Miss Livingston.

Mills, Jobelmann and Miss Day are charged with conspiracy, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and violation of the Juvenile Act.

SEES FREE TRADE AS ONLY WAY OUT

Financial Expert Claims Whole Modern Business System May Collapse.

UPHOLDS 5-YEAR PLAN.

MONTREAL, Que., April 13. (CP) —Free trade is the salvation of the world and a step on the way out of the present depression in the view of Sir George Paish, internationally known British economist and financial expert, who addressed the people's forum here last night on "The world danger and the way out". Other necessary steps, he said, were the "forgiveness of allied debts and reparations payments, the abolition of the fear the nations now have of one another, the employment of fresh capital for necessary developments.

If something was done, he warned, the whole modern business system was in danger of collapse. The statesmen of the nations should get together, face the situation, study it and find some means of getting out of it.

Discussing the Russian five-year-plan Sir George declared that the rest of the world should see to it that Russia's plan succeeded. "Only if it succeeds" he said, "will Russia stop sending her food products into the markets of the world and turn them back to her starving city populations."

CHILD IS LOST AS HOME BURNS

Father Seeks in Vain to Rescue His Five Year Old Son.

MINERS FIGHT FLAMES.

GALETTA, April 13. (CP)—A 5-year-old boy was fatally burned early yesterday morning in a fire that razed the home of Wilfred Allison. Allison awoke to find the bedroom in flames. He succeeded in helping his wife out of the window and dropped a younger child after her, but when he returned for his son Russell the lad had disappeared. At this moment the floor fell away and the father had only time to leap from the second story before the building collapsed. The surviving members of the family are in a serious condition from burns and shock.

Awakened by cries of the infant, a boy of 18 months, Allison carried his wife and two children to the window. After dropping Mrs. Allison and the baby to the ground, he turned to rescue Russell, but the boy had apparently sought other means of exit. As the father frantically searched for his son, the flames spread rapidly and the flooring sagged beneath his feet. Severely burned about the hands and face, Allison staggered through the smoke to the window and fell to the ground.

Whistles in the Kingdon Mines near by screamed as the alarm spread, and Allison's fellow-workers in the mines formed firefighting corps to prevent flames spreading to surrounding homes, which, like Allison's were of frame construction. After the blaze was extinguished, Allison's neighbors recovered the charred remains of the child.

No evidence remains as to the cause of the fire, although it is believed it started in the woodwork near the kitchen stove.

The father is the most severely burned, although Mrs. Allison and the baby also are in a dangerous condition from burns and shock.

Scotland is to have an "Annual Welfare Week," when kindness to animals will be stressed in all parts of the country.

RUM-RUNNING SYNDICATE MEN APPEAR IN COURT TO-MORROW

Investigations Under Judge Gibsone to be Carried on in Quebec.

SWINDLE ALLEGED.

QUEBEC, April 13.—Sensational evidence is expected from the investigation which opens in this city to-morrow, into alleged rum-running syndicate operating in Canada.

The investigations will be carried on by Judge Gibson who will examine members of the various syndicates which have been operating throughout the province.

It is estimated here that the Federal Government has been swindled out of around nine million dollars at least as the result of these rum-running operations during the last three years, for between 200,000 and 300,000 gallons are reported to have been smuggled through yearly for the last three years between Gaspe and Quebec, and as there is an excise tax of ten dollars per gallon payable on all alcohol, it will be seen that the rum-runners have been swindling the Federal Government out of a huge amount.

Between ten and twelve independent syndicates, of which three or four are believed to have their headquarters in this city, and an equal number in Montreal, are said to be operating in the province, and they are well organized, possessing speedy motor boats which are used to lighter liquor cargoes from ships, and fast motor trucks, which rush the booze from shore to a place of safety.

In addition to investigating the contraband liquor traffic, Judge Gibsone will probe the organization and management of the local offices of the National Revenue, to determine whether the organization is efficient enough to control and eradicate the illicit liquor traffic, for he has been given these powers in the Order-In-Council appointing him a special commissioner.

Not only will the Quebec office be probed, but also the organization and management of the Montreal branch of the National Revenue service and as a result of the investigator's findings, several important changes may be made, among them the increasing of the number of boats now in the service for this purpose is totally inadequate, since there are but two.

The probe in Quebec is expected to last from two to three weeks, and some forty witnesses will be summoned, nearly all of them bootleggers and rum-runners, and following the close of the sittings here, Judge Gibsone will move to Montreal, where he will probably question alleged rum-runners there. In the meantime Oscar Gagnon, K.C., of Montreal, who started the probe, is in New York, investigating whether or not New York Jews were engaged in rum-running in Quebec in 1929.

TRIBE FORGETS ITS LANGUAGE

All But Few Greeting Words to Surviving Members of Connecticut Reservation.

MOHICAN TRIBE

Hartford, April 13.—The language of their tribe ha faded from the memories of the last surviving Mohicans in Connecticut.

At Mohican, near Norwich, where the Connecticut tribe has its stronghold, and elsewhere in this state where there are in all about 70 Mohicans left, nothing beyond a few words of greeting is known.

Chief Pegee Uncas of Hartford, who is he presiding officer at state councils of his race, does not know the tongue and says that to his knowledge none of his people do.

But Chief Pegee Uncas, 61 years old, remembers relatives at Mohican who used to talk to him in this difficult and beautiful language. Reminiscences surged back to him this week when he was shown a dispatch of an aged trembling Mohican in Wisconsin, William Dick, who knew the language and was said to be the last of the Mohican who could speak it.

"When I was a little boy," said Chief Pegee Uncas, "an old Indian by the name of Dick used to come to visit us from Wisconsin. He must have been a relative of this man. At that time, my mother's aunt could talk with him in Mohican. The last person I knew who could speak the tongue was my aunt, Mrs. Emma Baker, of Mohican. But she has been dead for many years."

Chief Pegee Uncas, although never elected chief of the Connecticu Mohicans, was a member of the ruling council, before the other members died and the virtual chiefship has descended to him. His grandfather was the ruling chief, come of a line of chiefs, and Uncas had picked his name from these ancestors. Freely translated, it is Fox-on-a-Rock.

"The Mohicans pride themselves," said Chief Pegee Unca , "on having the first Indian preacher in the United States. He was Samson Occum, who went to England and so pleased the Earl of Dartmouth that he backed the founding of Dartmouth College and decreed a scholarship for one descendent in each generation of the preacher."

The Mohican Indians, the chief explained, at one time all lived together in Massachusetts and Connecticut. Later they joined the Iroquois and became one of the Five Nations. On the breaking up of this group a section of the Mohicans returned to Connecticut, where they resided at the reservation at Mohican. Another section, together with other tribes, formed the Brotherhood and removed to Wisconsin. There they formed a settlement known as Stockbridge, named after Stockbridge, Mass., the old home of the tribe.

Trinidad Sees Hope In Canadian Trade

Chamber of Commerce Favorably Impresses Canadian Good-Will Trade Mission.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, B.W.I., April 13.—(By the Canadian Press)—The Canadian delegation to the British Empire Trade Exhibition at Buenos Aires received a warm welcome during a brief visit here. The Trinidad Chamber of Commerce greeted the visitors and at a special meeting of the Chamber addresses were given which were featured by the local men urging closer relations commercially and socially between the islands of the British West Indies and Canada and the visitors endorsing these sentiments.

Hon. Fred G. Grant, President of the Trinidad Chamber of Commerce, extended the official welcome of the Chamber to the visitors. "Included in your number," he said, 'are many gentlemen who have materially aided the development of Canada-West Indies Trade, and I hope he acquaintanceships, or may I say friendships, formed to-day will serve to cement and improve the good fellowship which exists between your people and ours, lead to greater knowledge and appreciation of each other's problems and a continued increase in exchange of goods to our mutual benefit. He expressed confidence in the West Indies' future, and pointed out that the link between Canada and the West Indies was closer than might appear on the surface.

Th establishing of Canadian branch banks, the efficient steamship service, and the extension of the Dominion's trade commissioner service in the Colonies were referred to as practical demonstrations of Canada's interest in the West Indies. Mr. Grant remarked on West Indies exhibits at the Halifax Exhibition and at the Canadian National Exhibition Toronto, and announced that a West Indies Trade Commissioner service would soon be established in the Dominion.

WAR VETS ATTEND DIVINE SERVICE

Battle of Vimy Ridge Observed in Christ Church at Campbellford.

PARADE TO CHURCH.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 13 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—The Battle of Vimy Ridge was fittingly observed on Sunday by the Campbellford Branch No. 103, Canadian Legion and veterans of all wars, when divine service was attended in the morning at Christ Church, Campbellford.

The parade, under the command of Major J. M. Bygott and headed by the Campbellford Branch president, G. A. Ironside, marched from the Armouries to the church behind the Northumberland Regimental Band, commanded by Bandmaster W. Pearson. One stop was made en route, when the company observed a one minute silence at the War Memorial.

The service at Christ Church was conducted by the rector, Rev. N. Clark Wallace, who is also vice-president of the local branch. The band played the accompaniment for the singing of the hymns, and Mrs. F. de F. Free sang as a solo "Land of Hope and Glory."

Mr. Wallace took for his text St. Luke 19, verse 41: "And when He was come near, He beheld the city and wept over it." In his opening remarks, he welcomed the veterans to the church, saying that to him it was an unique occasion, it being the first time he had been asked for a service to commemorate one particular battle, such as was being done on this occasion, the Battle of Vimy Ridge. He thought that there was more nobility in commemorating Vimy Ridge than the Armistic, pointing out that the latter event was commemorated because it marked the hope for a finish of the hardships of war. He said that some speakers made that an occasion to pacifism, by making appeals to the baser motives. Mr. Wallace pointed out that Easter Monday, 1917, represented for the Canadian forces the ending of one big hardship and the commencing of another.

The preacher in a very able manner described the battle; in paticular, emphasizing the fact that the holding of the line at Vimy was harder than the taking of the ridge. The whole operation was a costly and difficult task, he explained, pointing out that the Canadians used more ammunition on one day at this engagement than the whole British army had used in two years of warfare.

"For the first time the Canadians were given a task to do unaided. They did their duty successfully, why not commemorate it," declared Mr. Wallace. He went on to state that the men of this country did not go to war for any superficial reason, but for their love of country, patriotism. They were willing to give all they had to save their land. "And that spirit is still strong within men to-day," he declared. He spoke of the stress laid on internationalism in this age, but pointed out that without nationalism, which is patriotism, internationalism would not exist, for men cannot love the world without loving their own country first. He said that some men had stated that patriotism could not abide in the hearts of righteous men, but declared that whatever religion this was, it was not the religion of Jesus Christ.

Jesus had wept over the city of Jerusalem because he saw its destruction by its enemies. The only other time it is recorded Jesus wept was at the grave of Lazarus, and men had said "How He loved him." "Yes," declared Mr. Wallace, and how Jesus had loved Jerusalem; it is his city, his capital, and he could not contemplate its destruction without giving way. And so we meet,' 'said the preacher, "to celebrate this great battle and victory, which shows and means our love for our country."

AIR UNIVERSITY OPENS IN BRITAIN

Complete Course, Such as R.A.F. Officers Undergo, Offered Foreign Airmen.

LONDON, April 13 (By The Canadian Press).—Airmen of all nations, and in particular officers serving in foreign air forces, will be able soon to come to Great Britain for a complete course of instruction in practical aeronautics—comparable in many ways with degree courses of the leading universities—at a new flying school which reproduces in a civilian organization the entire system of training used by the Royal Air Force.

This new "University of the Air," one of the first of its kind in the world, will be opened at Hamble, near Southampton, on Apr. 14, by Air Service Training, Limited, a company headed by Air Marshal Sir John Higgins, who until recently was Air Member for Supply and Research of the Air Council. The courses of instruction, both theoretical and practical, are devised to cover the field most thoroughly.

Four types of land 'planes and three types of seaplane are included in the fleet of school aeroplanes, the pupil who takes a full course beginning with instruction on a light aeroplane or a service training 'plane and proceeding to army co-operation craft and fighters. In addition to full instruction in every branch of pilotage and navigation the Service course at the school embraces instruction on engines, rigging, meteorology, airmanship and the theory of flight. A special course in "instrument" or "blind" flying may be taken, while commercial or private pilots and flying instructors have choice o subjects particularly suited to their needs.

Preliminary discussions indicate that many young pilots from foreign countries may be expected to take extended courses of instruction, most of them in military aviation. The staff and administration of the school is planned, therefore, mainly with the object of providing the most complete possible instruction in service flying. The commandant of the school is Group Captain R. J. F. Barton, an officer of high rank with a distinguished record in the Royal Air Force, and the chief instructor is Flight Lieutenant H. F. Jenkins, who recently left the Central Flying School of the R.A.F. The other instructors are all ex-officers of the Royal Air Force.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop-dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

CATTLE, GRAIN, PRODUCE

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, April 13. —Broadening export demand for North American wheat and decreasing supplies overseas tilted grain prices upward most of the time Saturday. Dry weather complaints from spring wheat areas of this country and Canada lent a further advantage to bulls. However, buying ardor was curbed by an estimate that Canadian stocks of wheat were 275,000,000 bushels, the largest total ever attained at this time of the season, exceeding by 46,000,000 bushels the record a year ago.

Wheat closed firm, unchanged to 7-8c higher; corn, 1-4c off to 1-4c up; oats at 1-8c decline to 1-8c advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12c.

Wheat owed much of its strength to estimates that 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat had been taken for trans-atlantic shipment in addition to previous purchases, making the aggregate for this week 5,000,000 bushels. In connection with advices that European supplies of wheat and flour were showing a notable decrease, Liverpool said stocks in British ports now totalled 12,560,000 bushels, a falling off of 7,160,000 since Jan. 1. Moreover, European Continental markets were 3 3-8c to 4 3-4c a bushel higher for the week, and Antwerp reported that United States No. 1 hard winter wheat just arrived from the Gulf of Mexico had been bought at 77¼c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 13. — Wheat scored good gains here on Saturday, and once again the May future climbed to an even 60-cent mark, where it closed for the day. July finished at 61⅛c, and October at 68⅜c to 68⅛c.

Closing quotations represented an advance of 1⅛c to 1⅛c a bushel, as compared with Friday's finish.

Trading was active throughout the session, with exporters, mills, seaboard, and houses with foreign connections on the buying side. The liberal offerings were well absorbed. Export sales of Manitobas neared the 1,000,000-bushel mark.

Cash wheat and coarse grains experienced fair demand generally, while sales of barley were exceptionally heavy, totalling 700,000 bushels.

Buenos Aires Shown Many English Books

Pageant of the Centuries in Books Displayed at British Empire Exhibition.

LONDON, April 13—(By the Canadian Press)—One of the most felicitous features of Great Britain's display at the British Empire Trade Exhibition in Buenos Aires is a collection of the English book-sellers' wares, The Observer points out. On the side of printing and production alone it would be of great interest, for it shows some of the best work both of the commercial and the private presses, its contents range from the edition de luxe to the popular series, and it is rich in varieties of format and binding. But the arrangement of its hundreds of items is made to serve other well-conceived purposes.

One group of exhibits recalls the many links between England and South America by such works as "Hakluyt's Voyages," the life of Lord Dundonald, and the writings of W. H. Hudson and Cunninghame Graham. And there is an ordered display, in seven sections of books, illustrations, and facsimiles, giving for each period a representative glimpse of British thought, art, and achievement throughout the centuries.

The visitor will be launched on his progress by excerpts from Domesday Book and Magna Charta, and pictures from Froissart, flanked by the reproduction of a Caedmon manuscript, the Kelmscott "Beowulf," the Stratford "Bede," and Skeat's "Chaucer." Early Ireland is represented by the Book of Kells, and Wales by the Mabinogion, while the work of historical scholarship on the period is suggested in its range and mass by the writings of Stubbs, Tout Coulton, and many others.

By way of the Anglo-Saxon Chronicle, Chaucer and Malory ,one reaches specimens of Caxton's printing, and the approach to the Renaissance.

The Bible and Shakespeare have a space to themselves, where one can see an original copy of the Authorized Verson and a facsimile of the First Folio, with texts and commentaries galore.

Illustration is not forgotten, and opportunity is taken to show what Blake did for Milton, and Beardsley for Malory, while Kate Greenaway and Walter Crane get their due, and Bernard Rackham's "Peter Pan" pictures will be found with Sir James Barrie's letterpress. The representation of the Modern Age is achieved in the broadest spirit, and, while it is brought down to date with "The Good Companions," it offers examples of research ("The Palace of Minos"), official literature ("British Documents on the Origin of the Great War"), and technical works of science and medicine. Such an exhibition cannot but make the development and purport of English civilization more vivid to a nation already familiar with its political and commercial sides.

PEDESTRIANS AND THE LIGHTS.

Pedestrians in Toronto who do not regulate their movements in accordance with the operation of the electric traffic lights are to be given the same treatment as motorists who offend against this particular section of the traffic regulations.

Those who try to cross intersections against the lights will be prosecuted just as drivers are who attempt the same manoeuvre, and it seems only logical that they should.

Traffic lights are installed for the guidance and protection of pedestrians as well as of motorists, and unless both classes govern themselves accordingly the whole benefit and protection of these signals will not be gained.

It is only necessary to observe conditions at local intersections to prove the truth of that statement.

Although there has been ample time for the public to familiarize itself with the operation of the lights, it is evident that many pedestrians ignore the signals completely and constantly cross intersections in the stream of traffic instead of waiting until the lights change and the intersection is clear.

Such practices are inviting accidents and throwing away the benefit of the traffic signals, and if persisted in locally are likely to lead to the adoption of a regulation similar to that to be enforced in Toronto.

THE LIQUOR CONTROL REPORT.

According to the fourth annual report of the Ontario Liquor Control Board, the people of Ontario and their tourist guests bought $52,283,001 of liquors, beer and wine last year.

That's a lot of money, but its expenditure is, fortunately, not quite so sheer a waste as it might at first glance seem.

For instance, the board paid out of that sum $15,500,000 to the Dominion Government last year for customs, excise, sales tax, etc., and handed the Provincial Treasurer $7,495,000, "balance of net profits for year," so there's a tidy little amount of $23,000,000 for federal and provincial purposes that if not paid by thirsty Ontario residents and even more thirsty visitors would have had to be collected in some form of taxation or other from the pockets of the general public.

An interesting feature of the report is the section dealing with cancellation of permits, which shows that 1,333 were "lifted" during 1931, the two main causes being over-indulgence and convictions under the Liquor Control Act.

In this regard it is surprising to find that despite the offer of the Liquor Control Board to co-operate with municipal bodies, social service organizations and relief agencies in cutting off liquor supplies from men whose financial position does not justify such purchases, it has only been found necessary to cancel the permits of 123 men who are receiving relief or who are unemployed.

CADET TRAINING.

Although the trustees and ratepayers' section of the Ontario Educational Association passed a resolution last week condemning cadet training in the schools as smacking of militarism, there is little chance of the cadet movement being discarded.

It has too many stout champions both inside and outside the Federal Parliament and the Provincial Legislature to be easily eliminated, champions who refuse to be frightened by the bogey of militarism that has been conjured up by opponents of cadet training who are unable to find any other plausible argument against it.

There is surely little in the contention that the smattering of military training received in Ontario cadet corps develops a spirit of militarism among the pupils, and that such training is diametrically opposed to the spirit of the Kellogg pact.

There is merely enough military drill to achieve two decidedly worth-while results—first, to improve the physique and bearing of the pupils, and, second, to inculcate some idea of discipline and a regard for law and order, something that would seem to be very sadly needed nowadays.

It is ridiculous to suggest that such training is likely to have the effect of producing a generation of fire-eating swash bucklers anxious to declare war on the world, which is apparently the impression of some of the good folks who steadfastly advocate the abolition of the cadet movement.

THE PENNY BANK RECORDS.

Despite economic conditions which have rendered it impossible for many children to make regular deposits, the report of the Ontario Penny Bank for the first two months of this year continues to make a direct contribution to the building of thrift habits among the school pupils of the Province.

Figures given by the Penny Bank inspector show that 462 Ontario schools are now participating in the bank plan, and that the total deposits amount to $1,302,819.42, as compared with 422 schools and deposits of $1,307,674.94 a year ago.

Thirty-eight per cent. of all the pupils of the schools involved made regular deposits during January and February, while twenty-eight per cent. of these schools had eighty per cent. of their pupils or over make deposits each banking day during the same period, four schools indeed showing 100 per cent. records.

The records of Peterborough schools during January and February find the King Edward School leading as regards the average weekly percentage of pupils making deposits. Sixty-eight per cent. of the pupils attending the school in the south end regularly added to their bank account in this period. Ashburnham children were second in point of thrift, 67 per cent. of the pupils of King George School not missing a banking day.

The average weekly per centage for other Peterborough schools was: Queen Alexandra School, 52 per cent.; Central School, 43 per cent.; Queen Mary School, 41 per cent., and Prince of Wales School, 34 per cent.

Altogether Peterborough school children had to their credit at the end of February 16,785.47, as against $14,021.04 twelve months previous.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE.

The Oshawa City Council has had placed before it a request for co-operation with other municipalities in presenting to the Provincial and Federal Governments a plea for the enactment of some measure of unemployment insurance. This request came from Reeve Dean of the York Township Council, who is giving leadership to a movement directed towards this end. The matter was referred to the general purpose committee of the City Council for consideration, and it ought to provide a subject for an interesting debate, since there is much to be said both for and against the proposal.

The question of unemployment insurance is one which will require considerable study before a plan suitable to the needs of Canada can be evolved. The experience of Great Britain with a measure of this kind has not been re-assuring, since it has loaded a great burden of debt on the shoulders of the British taxpayers. Perhaps that has been due to the exceptionally bad employment conditions, but the plan is meant to take care of just such conditions, irrespective of what the financial obligations of the state might be.

Any plan of unemployment insurance should be based on contributions by the state, the employers and the workers. That is admitted to be the sound policy. But the greatest difficulty will not be in the fixing of the premium rates, but in the making of equitable regulations for distribution of the funds. That is the problem which will have to be solved, and it will require the best brains in Canada to solve it. It is an easy matter for municipal councils to pass resolutions asking for expenditures of federal and provincial monies, but it is not so easy for the larger legislative bodies to act on these resolutions. In principle, unemployment insurance is an excellent thing. But whether it can be worked on a practical basis to meet the needs of a country like Canada has yet to be decided.—Oshawa Times.

BIRCH ROD AND REFORMATIONS.

Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, former Minister of Health, speaking in the Ontario Legislature the other day, declared that the best handling of the boy who is "bubbling over with old Nick" is to be found in a good stiff application of the birch. "Apply the birch to the proper spot, and apply it frequently," counselled the doctor, "and that boy'll benefit a lot more than he will from any theorizing." Possibly Dr. Godfrey is right. It is somewhere stated in the Bible: "He that spareth his rod hateth his son." But the unfortunate thing is that the birch is not always applied when it should be. Easy-going, indulgent parents refuse to punish their children in the good old-fashioned way. The result is that many children, unpunished and even uncorrected, grow indifferent to the laws of the home and of the State. They finally run foul of the law and their parents realize too late that things would have been different had they employed corrective methods at the proper time.

These young offenders are invariably given an opportunity on their first appearance in court, if their offenses are not of too serious a nature, to return to their homes in the hope that their experience will cause them to alter their conduct. Some, of course, never reappear, but others continue coming back until the authorities are forced to send them to an institution in order to protect society and to teach the youthful transgressors the lesson that wrong-doing doesn't pay. The treatment and the instructions which they receive in these institutions decide, to a large extent, the question whether or not they will return.

It is very essential, therefore, that these institutions should be of such a nature as to give their inmates the urge to go straight when they are liberated. Bad thoughts should be replaced by wholesome ones, and general incompetency should be supplanted by efficiency in some line. With this object in view, Hon. W. G. Martin, Minister of Welfare, introduced a bill at the recent session of the Legislature to establish a system of positive treatment. The bill, which was adopted, provides that every juvenile offender shall be treated individually, and examined by a psychiatrist. Each case will be studied for family history and background. From the reports thus obtained the treatment of the child and the school at which this treatment will be administered will be decided. He will be taught a trade and thus be equipped for earning an honest living.

It was while speaking on this bill that Dr. Godfrey lauded the efficacy of the birch rod. No one doubts that there is a lot of prevention and correction wrapped up in such a rod, but the fact also remains that many children, largely, perhaps as the result of its disuse, are sent to the reformatory institutions of the Province and it is therefore essential that these institutions should be reformatory in nature as well as in name. Hon. Mr. Martin's scheme promises to make them so and hence will do much to correct the mistakes that have resulted from parents failing to correct their children in a convincing manner.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

TANAR OF PELLUCIDAR

BY

EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Synopsis of Preceding Instalments:—

Tanar is a young warrior of Sari, a country in Pellucidar, a strange world somewhere beneath the earth's crust. In an invasion of a horde of savages called Korsars, Tanar is carried away a prisoner on one of their ships. He finds a friend in Stellara, who is supposedly the daughter of The Cid, chief of the Korsars. A terrific storm comes up. The Korsars take to the small boats leaving Tanar and Stellara behind. Tanar learns that Stellara is not the daughter of The Cid. The Korsar chief kidnapped her mother from the island of Amiocap previous to the birth of Stellara, but her mother had told her that her father was in Amiocapian chief named Fedel.

By a strange chance, the derelict ship drifts to the shores of Amiocap, but native warriors, believing that Tanar and Stellara are Korsars, make prisoners of them. They are taken before Zural, chief of the village of Lar. Stellara tells him that her father is an Amiocapian, but he refuses to believe her. The two prisoners are thrown into a dark hut. A girl named Letari brings them food and tells them that preparations are being made to burn them to death. She plainly shows that she is attracted to Tanar, which makes Stellara very jealous. Suddenly a terrific noise is heard outside the hut.

Tanar and Stellara saw men, women and children running from their huts and all directed their steps toward the same point. The guard before their door leaped to his feet and stood for a moment looking at the running villagers. Then, without a word or backward glance, he dashed off after them.

Tanar, realizing that for the moment at least they were unguarded, stepped fromthe dark cell out into the open living apartment and looked in the direction toward which the villagers were running. There he saw the cause of the disturbance and also an explanation of the purpose for which the strange hanging barrier had been erected.

Just beyond the barrier loomed two gigantic mammoths—huge tanders, towering sixteen feet or more in height—their wicked eyes red with hate and rage; their great tusks gleaming in the sunlight; their long powerful trunks seeking to drag down the barrier, from the sharpened stakes of which their flesh recoiled. Facing the mammoths was a shouting horde of warriors, screaming women and children, and above all rose the thundering din of the drums.

Each time the tandors sought to force their way through the barrier, or brush aside the posts, these swung about so that the sharpened stakes threatened their eyes or pricked the tender flesh of their trunks, while bravely facing them the shouting warriors hurled their stone-tipped spears.

But however interesting or inspiring the sight might be, Tanar had no time to spare to follow the course of this strange encounter. Turning to Stellara, he seized her hand. "Come," he cried. "Now is our chance!" And while the villagers were engrossed with the tandors at the far end of the village, Tanar and Stellara ran swiftly across the clearing and entered the lush vegetation of the forest beyond.

There was no trail and it was with difficulty that they forced their way through the underbrush for a short distance before Tanar finally halted.

"We shall never escape them in this way," he said. "Our spoor is as plain as the spoor of a dyryth after a rain."

"How else then may we escape?" asked Stellara.

Tanar was looking upward into the trees examining them closely. "When I was a prisoner among the black people with long tails," he said, "I had to learn to travel through the trees and this knowledge and the ability have stood me in good stead many times since and I believe that they may prove our salvation now."

"You go then," said Stellara, "and save yourself, for certainly I cannot travel through the trees, and there is no reason why we should both be recaptured when one of us can escape."

Tahnar smiled. "You know that I would not do that," he said.

"But what else may you do?" demanded Stellara. "They will follow the trail we are making and recapture us before we are out of hearing of the village."

"We shall leave no trail," said Tanar. "Come," and leaping lightly to a lower branch he swung himself into the tree that spread above them. "Give me your hand," he said, reaching down to Stellara and a moment later he had drawn the girl to his side. Then he stood erect and steadied the girl while she arose to her feet. Before them a maze of branches stretched away to be lost in the foliage.

"We shall leave no spoor here," said Tanar.

"I am afraid," said Stellara. "Hold me tightly."

"You will soon become accustomed to it," said Tanar, "and then you will not be afraid. At first I was afraid, but later I could swing through the trees almost as rapidly as the black men themselves."

"I cannot even take a single step," said Stellara. "I know that I shall fall."

"You do not have to take a step," said Tanar. "Put your arms around my neck and hold tightly," and then he stooped and lifted her with his left arm while she clung tightly to him, her soft white arms encircling his neck.

"How easily you lifted me," she said; "how strong you are; but no man living could carry my weight through these trees and not fall."

Tanar did not reply, but instead he moved off among the branches seeking sure footing and secure handholds as he went through the forest. The girl marveled at the strength of the man. She had always considered him a weakling by comparison with the beefy Korsars, but now she realized that in those smoothly rolling muscles was concealed the power of a superman.

Shd found a fascination in watching him. He moved so easily and he did not seem to tire. Once she let her lips fall until they touched his thick, black hair and then, just a little, almost imperceptibly, she tightened her arms about his neck.

Stellara was very happy and then, of a sudden, she recalled Letari and she straightened up and relaxed her hold. "The vile wanton," she said.

"Who?" demanded Tanar. "What are you talking about?"

"That creature, Letari," said Stellara.

"Why she is not vile," said Tanar. "I thought she was very nice and she is certainly beautiful."

"I believe you are in love with her," snapped Stellara.

"That would not be difficult," said Tanar. "She seemed very lovable."

"Do you love her?" demanded Stellara.

"Why shouldn't I?" asked Tanar.

"Do you?" insisted the girl.

"Would you care if I did?" asked Tanar, softly.

"Most certainly not," said Stellara.

"Then why do you ask?"

"I didn't ask," said Stellara. "I do not care."

"Oh," said Tanar. "I misunderstand," and he moved on in silence, for the men of Sari are not talkative, and Stellara did not know what was in his mind for his face did not reflect the fact that he was laughing inwardly, and, anyway, Stellara could not see his face.

Tanar moved always in one direction and his homing instinct assured him that the direction lay toward Sari. As far as the land went he could move unerringly toward the spot in Pellucidar where he was born. Every Pellucidarian can do that, but put them on the water, out of sight of land and that instinct leaves them and they have no more conception of direction than would you or I if we were transported suddenly to a land where there are no points of compass since the sun hangs perpetually at zenith and there is no moon and no stars. Tanar's only wish at present was to put them as far as possible from the village of Lar. He would travel until they reached the coast for, knowing that Amiocap was an island, he knew that eventually they must come to the ocean. What they should do then was rather vague in his mind. He had visions of building a boat and embarking upon the sea, although he knew perfectly well that this would be madness on the part of a hill dweller such as he.

Presently he felt hungry and he knew they must have traveled a considerable distance.

Sometimes Tanar kept track of distance by computing the number of steps he took, for by much practice he had learned to count them almost mechanically, leaving his mind free for other perceptions and thoughts, but here among the branches of the trees, where his steps were not of uniform length, he had thought it not worth the effort to count them and so he could only tell by the recurrence of hunger that they must have covered considerable distance since they left the village of Lar.

During their flight through the forest they had seen birds and monkeys and other animals and, on several occasions, they had paralleled or crossed game-trails, but as the Amiocapians had stripped him of his weapons he had no means of obtaining meat until he could stop long enough to fashion a bow and some arrows and a spear.

How he missed his spear! From childhood it had been his constant companion and for a long time he had felt almost helpless without it. He had never become entirely accustomed or reconciled to carrying firearms, feeling in the bottom of his primitive and savage heart that there was nothing more dependable than a sturdy, stone shod spear.

He had rather liked the bow and arrows that Innes and Perry had taught him to make and use, as the arrows had seemed like little spears. At least one could see them, whereas with the strange and noisy weapons, which belched forth smoke and flame, one could not see the projectile at all. It was most unnatural and uncanny.

But Tanar's mind was not occupied with such thoughts at this time. Food was dominant.

Presently they came to a small, natural clearing beside a crystal brook and Tanar swung lightly to the ground.

"We shall stop here," he said, "until I can make weapons and get meat for us."

With the feel of the ground beneath her feet again Stellara felt more independent. "I am not hungry," she said.

"I am," said Tanar.

"There are berries and fruits and nuts in plenty," she insisted. "We should not wait here to be overtaken by the warriors from Lar."

"We shall wait here until I have made weapons," said Tanar, with finality, "and then I shall not only be in a position to make a kill for meat, but I shall be able better to defend you against Zural's warriors."

"I wish to go on," said Stellara. "I do not wish to stay here, and she stamped her little foot.

Tanar looked at her in surprise. "What is the matter with you, Stellara? You were never like this before."

"I do not know what is the matter with me," said the girl. "I only know that I wish I were back in Korsar, in the house of The Cid. There, at least, I should be among friends. Here I am surrounded only by enemies."

"Then you would have Bohar the Bloody One as a mate, if he survived the storm, or if not he, another like him," Tanar reminded her.

"At least he loved me," said Stellara.

"And you loved him?" asked Tanar.

"Perhaps," said Stellara.

There was a peculiar look on Tanar's face as his eyes rested upon the girl. He did not understand her, but he seemed to be trying to. She was looking past him, a strange expression upon her face when suddenly she voiced an exclamation of dismay and pointed past him.

"Look! she cried, in a voice of terror.

What To-day Means To You

"ARIES.

If April 13th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 a.m. to 9:45 a.m., from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., and from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. The one danger period is from 3 p.m. to 5-45 p.m.

Your guiding star will have dim reflections on this date, but "for him who loves and for him who aspires, life may lead through the thorns, but it never stops in the desert." Do not heed pessimistic doubts.

The child born on this April 13th will have a self-willed, defiant nature, and whether these traits of character will be refined into dignity and self-reliance, or debased into arrogance and despotism, is the problem of their possessor's destiny. Although not a lovable child, it will respond quickly to affection, and will be loyal to those who have won its respect and love.

If born on April 13th, you are one of those people who are best described by the word "harmonious." People never set your teeth on edge, or rub you up the wrong way. Yet you are not overmeek, unpleasantly amiable, or without firm convictions. Your natural effervescence of spirit cheers, but does not inebriate. Be you man or woman, you are the light of your home. In spite of, and not always because of external conditions, you manage to be happy, and find things of interest about you. You have strong likes and dislikes, but you only freely air the former.

You are quick to sense a grain of humor if it can be found in a load of tragedy. Because of your great self-control, you are a good leader or "boss." You take your full share of a burden, and are willing to do more in order to help some one else. You are quite a determined being, but you are diplomatic, and win your way through gentle methods. You never cry over a "spill," but are more careful next time.

You are only moderately ambitious, and you prefer comfort to power and contented obscurity to fame. You will not have many intimate friends, but you enjoy sociable relationships with many people of both sexes. You will relinquish the reins of ardent responsibility rather early in life, from choice, not necessity.

CANADA LOSING MILLIONS ON EUROPEAN FUR MARKETS

Cheap Russian Furs Bought By U. S. Interests Glutting Foreign Market.

BLAMES GERMAN JEWS.

HALIFAX, April 13 — "Canada is losing millions of dollars annually on the European fur market because that market is being glutted by United States fur exporters who buy an inferior quality from Soviet Russia and undersell Canadian fur traders."

This was the word Aarne Alarik Orjatsala, native of Lapland and fur trader at Port Arthur, Ontario, brought back with him upon arrival at this port following a nine-months' study of the fur market on the continent.

Had Lowly Start

Mr. Orjatsala, who is now a naturalized Canadian, has spent the greater part of a lifetime in the fur industry. Following his discharge from the British Army after the Great War with the rank of Captain, the pioneer trader came to Canada. When he arrived at Toronto he had but sixty-five cents in his pocket and it was from small beginning that he renewed his activities in the fur business, establishing a post at Port Arthur, which later grew into a profitable investment. Soon he was conducting a flourishing enterprise in exporting silver fox, skunk, beaver and other Canadian skins to European buyers. Then times grew bad.

Blames German Jew

The bitterness which the ex-service man held in his heart for Germany during the four years of world strife was not lessened any by this change in conditions. For it is the German-Jews whom Mr. Orjatsala blames for cutting deep inroads into his livelihood. For the past five years business has been growng worse and worse.

"I found the fur market in a terrible condition throughout entire Europe," the fur trader said. "Interests in the United States, centering around the German-Jews in New York, are buying furs of cheap quality from Soviet Russia and are flooding the market by selling at ridiculously low prices. In Paris, where once only the most luxurious furs were seen, there are now quantities of inferior quality furs being bought.

Everywhere the same conditions existed, he said. Mr. Orjatsala hazarded that it would be at least five years before Canada could hope to attain her former status on the world fur market.

PILES ALL GONE

Without Salves or Cutting.

Itching, bleeding, protruding Piles go quickly, and don't come back, if you remove the cause. Bad blood circulation in the hemmorrhoidal veins causes Piles by making the affected parts weak, flabby, almost dead. Salves and cutting fail, because only an internal medicine can actually correct these conditions. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt discovered a real internal Pile remedy. After prescribing it for 1,000 patients, with success in 960 cases, he named it HEM-ROID. McDermid & Jury, Bond's Drug Store, say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your Pile misery or money back.

DOWN TREND ON TORONTO LIST

Nickel and Brazilian Unchanged in Inter-listed Issue Section.

BELL TELEPHONE FIRM.

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 13.—(CP)—The stock market began the new week to-day with a vague upward flutter.

Bearish efforts caused some recession during the early trading, but failed to impel important selling, and the list soon reflected short covering. Tobacco's and utilities were leaders of the advance. Radio was also brought forward. Trading remained listless, however, and professional traders moved cautiously.

American Tobacco "B" rose abou 4 points to within the neighborhood of its 1930 high. Allied Chemical rallied as much, and issues up 2 or more include American Water Works, American Power and Light, American Can, Westinghouse Electric, Eastman, Case and McKeesport. Auburn sho up several points, recording another new high since 1929. Radio was a feature of the medium-priced group, rising nearly 2 points. There were numerous gains of a point or so. The steels, however, failed to participate. Vanadium was a bear target during the first hour, when it was pushed down 4 points. It failed to rebound notably when the list turned upward.

LOTTERY WINNER MEETS TROUBLE

Judge Orders $1,770,000 Invested Until Disputes Are Settled.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Apr. 13.—(AP)—The $1,770,000 first prize in the Irish sweepstakes was further tied up today when Justice Meredith ordered sweepstakes officials to invest the money pending settlement of the ownership of the ticket drawing the horse Grakle in the Grand National.

Two countrymen of Emilio Scala, who held the ticket, have secured a writ restraining the officials from paying the money to the London cafe owner on the grounds that they are part owners. Their names are Tony Epicella and Matteo Constantino.

The complainants contended that they possess an agreement signed by Scala's counsel argued that the winning ticket was listed on the agreement after the race had been run and thus was a forgery.

Scala's affairs are further embroiled by the fact that he sold a major portion of the ticket to a London syndicate.

FINANCIAL CLIP SHEET

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Financial Counsel says:

"As time goes on and statistical records for the first quarter of 1931 are compiled, the evidence accumulates that the business depres has apparently reached bottom, though no sustained upward movement has yet got under way. It is difficult to determine whether the improvement so far noted this year over the final quarter of 1930 has been merely attributable to the normal spring revival or to a definite gain in business activity.

"It is characteristic of the current situation that in nearly every branch of industry the operations are still substantially below the corresponding period of last year. In a review of the situation by McLeod, Young, Weir & Co., Ltd., in their quarterly publication. —Financial Counsel.

RAPID RECOVERY UNLIKELY.

"Canadian industry here and there shows signs of recovery. Construction figures hold up well. The automotive industry is seasonally active. Textiles, boots and shoes, flour milling all report some improvement. Gold mining, in these days of overproduction, is in a particularly strong position. An early spring has given a stimulus to Easter shopping, besides hastening the opening of navigation. Eyen from the Prairie Provinces come occasional reports to indicate that the invincible optimism of the West is by no means dead. However, with agriculture, pulp and paper and lumber depressed, not to mention other sore spots, no rapid recovery seems possible. Major revival can hardly be expected till later in the year.—Stanton Letter.

DIVERSIFICATION.

T. C. Shotwell, former financial editor, who thinks the opportunity is ripe for an individual to create his own investment trust, in the fashion of leading corporations years ago comments on the H. L. Horton & Co.'s market letter sd follows:

"To buy the United States you must take stock in several leading industries, each represented by its most prominent and most thoroughly seasoned stock. There is nothing new in this plan. It is as old as the market. It is the secret of the wealth that persists in some families. The pioneer speculator puts all his eggs under one hen, hoping for a quick hatch. But this market is not going to be a quick one, so it will be safer to set all the hens and have the whole United States clucking for you. Slip an egg or two under each of the big hens. They are sitting fine now.—New York American.

HOWARD SMITH SELLING.

Howard Smith common is an excellent example of a security that has been neglected due mainly to the unfavorable attitude that has been adopted by investors towards the newsprint stocks as a group. The evaluation of a security is generally based on earnings; as a rule, a stock should sell at 10 times earnings, although the public utility group usually sells at about 20 times earnings.

The first consolidated balance sheet of Howard Smith Paper Mills, Ltd., for 1930, showed earnings equivalent to 77 cents a share on the common and on a ten times earnings basis, is entitled to sell at 7¾, or at about twice the level the issue is actually changing hands at. There is little doubt but that investors as a whole are playing shy of the newsprint securities, and hence the main reason for Howard Smith common selling at approximately five times last year's earnings.

Financial Service understands that the economies effected by the company the past year have counterbalanced the decreased demand for its products and that the earnings so far in the current year are about on a level with those of 1930.

Repeal of the 80 per cent tariff drawback on American importations of magazine book paper is a factor that is proving beneficial to Howard Smith as well as to other manufacturers of similar lines. A drop in the imports, as a result of the legislation allows for a wider distribution of the company's products. Howard Smith Paper Mills, Ltd.; Canada Paper Co, and the Canadian Cellulose Co., Ltd., are averaging about 75% capacity at the present time.

Howard Smith is the largest manufacturer of high grade writing, book, blotting and cover papers in the Dominion. The company, in its operation of its subsidiary, Canadian Cellulose Co. is steadily improving the position of this unit and it is stated that results are shaping up well. Production facilities of Canadian Cellulose have been further extended and the product is meeting with a ready demand, insofar as surplus available for sale is concerned.—Financial Service.

BOTTOM OF DEPRESSION REACHED.

"The first quarter of the year continues to give evidence indicating that the bottom of the business depression has been reached," says the Quarterly Review published by McLeod, Young, Weir & Co., Ltd. "To-day, however, there are no reliable signs that a sustained recovery is getting under way. Industrial and trade activity has increased over the last quarter of 1930 but is below the first quarter of last year. The usual spring impetus is taking place but irregularity marks the various business indices.

"Generally speaking that mysterious quantity public sentiment, has improved as the action of the stock markets would indicate. However, the recovery of business activity is likely to be a rather slow process. The reports of companies covering the first quarter of 1931 will not be good and there will probably be more dividends reduced or passed altogether during the ensuing year. As a result of far-reaching re-adjustments in production, consumption and finance, the general reduction of costs and the gradual clearing up of the excesses of prosperity, the industrial and financial improvement should be natural and healthy and not in any way artificial."

"With regard to he bond market, once the fin ncial and business difficulties are more or less cleared up, a quite rapid recovery in bond prices is by no means impossible. We still have the advantages of low money rates and low commodity prices and the market at the present time is not overloaded by corporation bond issues. Bidding for government and municipalissues is especially keen and during the past three months the highest and lowest bids have been separated by only a narrow margin. This indicates the confidence which dealers have in the future of the bond market and in the ability of institutions and private investors to absorb new offreings of high-grade bonds."—Financial Service.

ICE DAMAGES LAKE PROPERTY

ICE WINDS CAUSE FLOW.

(Special to Examiner.)

LINDSAY, Ont., April 13.—As a result of the high wind which prevailed on Sunday, the ice in Sturgeon Lake started to loose its fetters about five o'clock in the evening, leaving considerable damage. The moving ice crashed against the large wharf constructed of tons of large stone and timber in front of the property of W. J. Shelly, at Sturgeon Point, and piled the structure up against his large boat house, which contained his palatial launch. Damage was also caused to the boat house of Sir Jos. Flavelle, as well as the Ellsworth boat house adjoining. A large pier in front of Capt. Gray's property was shifted thirty six feet. Phone messages were sent to cottage owners at different points to hurry to the point to save their property along the lake front. With the wind prevailing this morning, it is feared that further damage will result.

MOORE RELEASED

CINCINNATI, April 13.—(By Canadian Press.)—Gene Moore, Jr., rookie outfielder, was to-day released on option by the Cincinnati reds to the Minneapolis American Association Club. Moore was obtained by the Reds from Dallas, Texas league.

SIR JAMES SEXTIN CONGRATULATED

LONDON, Apr. 13, — (AP) — Sir James Sextin, easily the most picturesque character in the present House of Commons, received the heartiest congratulations of his hosts of friends today upon attaining the age of 75.

Sir James, who is known as the "Dockers' M. P." was the son of poor Irish parents. He ran away to sea on a United States sailing vessel when thirteen, and rose to high prominence in the British labor world. He was knighted last January.

LOSSES FEATURE MINING TRADING

Standard Exchange Trading While Fairly Broad in Scope, is Relatively Quiet.

OILS ALSO IDLE.

TORONTO, Apr. 13 (CP).—Opening session of the week on the mining market had a softer appearance, with recessions predominating when the list was taken at mid-day. Trading, while fairly broad in scope, was relatively light.

Sylvanite, under profit-taking and decreased demand, sold off 9 to 97, and Moss, which has been steadily advancing for the past few weeks, dropped back 12 to 50 in evident liquidation. Eldorado lost 4 to 90 and Dome and McIntyre a quarter each to $11.25 and $24.75, respectively. Premier advanced another couple to 95 and Wright-Hargreaves was up 6 to $2.81. In the lower-priced issues St. Anthony and Bunker Hill Extension were stronger, and Gem Lake and Ritchie easy.

The advance in the price of copper to the 10-cent level was reflected in gains of a quarter for Nickel and 10 cents for Hudson Bay. Noranda eased a few cents and small losses also appeared in Pend Oreille and Ventures.

Oils were a quiet group with Home up 3 and Homestead and East Crest off 8 and 2, respectively.

CHINA OFFERS

thought of Canada only as a land where gold might be picked up in the street. To-day, the Chinese people regarded Canada in a different light and thought of Canadians as a people who had a definite contribution to make toward the advancement of China.

And what is the Canadian attitude toward the Chinese," asked Mr. Wong and, answering his own question, went on to say, "I venture to make the statement without fear of correction, that most Canadians think only of us as laundrymen and restaurant keepers. In what other business capacities could our people be expected to compete with you on fair terms?"

The speaker pleaded for more sympathetic and fairer treatment for his fellow countrymen in Canada. Because some of them were slaves to the opium habit, it was not fair to condemn the whole Chinese community as dope addicts. Too much stress was placed, too, upon gambling among the Chinese.

"Aren't we all gamblers?" asked Mr. Wong, "and I want you to remember that the Chinese in Canada have no family life, and little intercourse with other Canadians and they naturally turn to their own games of chance for their entertainment. Then they are raided and the newspaper headlines scream of hundreds of Chinese convicted of gambling."

The strict immigration law, passed in 1926, by which the Chinese were literally excluded from this country was referred to by the speaker in conclusion. There should, he maintained, be some flexibility to that law and and particularly it should permit of the entry of bona-fide Chinese students. The class was being admitted to the United States and naturally this fact worked out to the great disadvantage of Canada. The exclusion of all Chinese women, Mr. Wong described as wrong from a moral standpoint.

Rotarian W. R. Morris expressed the thanks of the Rotary Club to Mr. Wong for his most eloquent address.

Vice-President R. F. Downey was in the chair at to-day's luncheon.

At the camp-fire arrangements were completed for the father and son banquet scheduled for next Friday. It was announced that Frank C. Irwin, assistant Provincial commissioner, would be the guest speaker at that time.

The boys were asked to request those mothers who volunteered aid for the banquet to be at the Parish Hall not later than four p.m. Friday, as dinner will be served at 6.15.

The meeting was closed in a slightly different way.

The Scouts will gather at 6 p.m. sharp next week.

CANADA MAY YET LEAD WORLD IN PRODUCTION OF RADIUM

Recent Discovery in N. W. T. Places Dominion in Enviable Position.

ONTARIO PROSPECT TO.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 13.—With the announcement of Hon. Wesley A. Gordon, Minister of Mines, that the pitchblend fields of Great Bear Lake in the North West Territories yield an encouraging percentage of radium, Canada once again assumes a position of international importance in the production of this rare and invaluable metal.

This is not the first time that Canada has assumed this position. For the past four or five years, there have been frequent announcements from various sources that radium has been found in widely separated parts of the country. But where there is smoke, there is very often fire. The announcement from the head of the Department of Mines that the shores of Echo Bay, Great Bear Lake, are rich in uranium oxides, gives Canada two great fields in which radium exploration will be developed. The other field is in Northern Ontario, Haliburton County, where the discovery of deposits of pitch-blend and radio-active metals was announced last year. At that time, Hon Charles McCrae, Minister of Mines for Ontario, stated that from the samples of ore submitted to his Department, one third of a milligramme of radium was obtained with comparative ease.

It was late in the summer of last year that two Toronto men, the LaBine brothers, made the discovery of radium bearing ore on the shores of Echo Bay. They went north via the MacKenzie River route, travelling partly by air, and partly in Indian fashion. The point at which they made their discovery is just south of the Arctic Circle.

Samples Submitted.

They brought back with them as much of the radio-active ore as they could carry, and submitted samples to both the Government Department and private assayers. It is only now, after months of intense research, that the ore has been found to contain enough uranium oxides to warrant further investigations.

From the two large pieces which the Department of Mines analyzed, more than 60 per cent. was found to be uranium oxide. Uranium, it is interesting to note, is known as the father of radium since the former is, by a slow natural process, gradually transmuted into the precious metal. The lowest percentage of uranium oxide found in the pitchblend brought back by the prospectors was slightly less than 30 per cent.

Despite the encouraging report of the assayers, the Minister of Mines refused to state whether or not the deposit would have any value. It seems likely, however, that if this first assay is any criterion as to what remains there, it should be a discovery of world importance, since the samples yield more than can be produced from the same quantity in any other part of the world. This means, that should the new mine live up to expectations, Canada will take away from Belgium the latter's monopoly on the world's supply of radium.

A government party, it has been announced, will investigate the new find this summer. They will travel by 'plane to Echo Bay which is situated about 750 miles north of Fort McMurray, Great Bear Lake, close as it is to the Arctic Circle, is open to navigation from May to September.

Perhaps of equal importance to this find is the new mine discovered in Ontario last year. This too, by Provincial Government assay, showed an excellent content of uranium oxides, and further investigations are now being carried out in the hopes of developing the find. Radium was found in Haliburton township as far back as 1926, when a specimen of radio-active metal was unearthed in Monmouth township. At that time, the specimen was claimed to be the richest in the world.

Again, in 1928, while sinking a well for oil, radio-active liquids and ore were discovered at Maple, Ontario, just a few miles from Toronto. At that time, too, the well was said to be the largest in the world, but since then has been found valueless from a standpoint of radium production.

Again, about a year later, a Canadian corporation announced that they were planning to develop a new radium field in the region of James Bay, where clay deposits cover many acres of ground. Apparently the investigation proved fruitless, for nothing more has been heard from them.

Then came the sensational "new" find at Wilberforce, in Haliburton County, Ontario. This and the recent discovery at Great Bear Lake, seem to be the most important finds in recent years, anywhere in the world. If they live up to the content of the samples assayed, then Canada will soon become supreme in another mineral field. At present, the entire world's supply of radium is mined in the Belgium Congo, and is so rare that it is worth anywhere from fifty to seventy dollars per milligramme; a milligramme is the thousandth part of a gramme.

Canada Car dropped 5-8 to 16, Viau Biscuit lost 2 points, down to 16, Montreal Power sold off ¾ at 62, and Consolidated Mining and Smelting eased off 2 points to 150. FAMOUS PLAYERS EARNS $4,268,893

Operating Profits Compare With $3,376,845 in Previous Year.

TORONTO, April 13.—Operating profits of Famous Players Canadian Corporation in the fiscal year ended August 30, 1930, before providing for depreciation, interest and other charges, were $4,268,893, compared with $3,376,845 in 1929, and $1,507,068 in 1928.

The company's annual financial statement issued this morning, is particularly noteworthy in view of the increase shown in earnings during a period when many commercial enterprises experienced a marked reduction in income.

Operating earnings of Famous Players Canadian and its subsidiaries have been added to the surplus of $3,071,433 at August 31, 1929, and from this total the following deductions have been made: Interest on bonds, debentures and mortgages, $614,169; depreciation, $484,559; proportion of cost of sound equipment written off, $454,655; proportion of cost of sound installation written off, $178,681; proportion of cost of discount on bonds organization expenses, improvements to theatres and other charges, $289,346; provision for income tax, $176,190. These deductions, amounting to $2,197,602, left a balance of profit amounting to $2,071,290.

Mr. Morrison also has significant words for those Labor members who are inclined to kick over the traces. "In due time" he says, "the Labor Party will declare decisively and finally that members of Parliament elected as Labor members have to toe the line as a disciplined parliamentary force, and will not be allowed to seek popularity as a result of mock heroics."

At the time Mr. Morrison was speaking in Dudley, which is represented in the House of Commons by Oliver Baldwin, Socialist son of the Conservative leader, Oliver is one of those who have recently seceded from the Labor Party to follow Sir Oswald Mosley's banner.

Liberals Meet Monday

The Liberal Parlipamentary party will meet on Wednesday to discuss their attitude when the vote is taken on Thursday night after debate on the Conservative motion of censure, will charge the Government with failure to take effective measures for remedying unemployment.

The Daily Herald, semi-official Labor organ, makes light of the present "cries." In black type on its front page, the Herald observes: "The fact is that relations between Mr. Lloyd George and the radicals on the one hand and the Government on the other, are better to-day than they have been in the lifetime of this parliament."

CANADIAN MISSION LEFT WARM FEELING IN THE ARGENTINE

Buenos Aires Herald Stresses Importance of the Canadian Mission.

SPLENDID TALKS.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 13.—(By Claude Melancon, Canadian Press Correspondent.)—When the Canadian Trade and Goodwill Mission left Halifax last February, some of its own members perhaps doubted whether it could achieve in seven weeks all it was setting forth to accomplish. It is true more time could have been spent in South America, to great advantage. However, now that the journey has ended, Canada's missionaries of trade can look back with proud satisfaction upon their achievements. During the very few days not actually employed in travelling not only have they fulfilled their mission as best as could be expected, but they have returned with a knowledge of southern conditions which should greatly help in fostering better relations with the countries visited.

One of the main objects of the voyage was to extend the bonds of friendship between Canada and the South American republics. This part of their mission was made easy for the Canadians by the warmth of the welcome extended to them. As a matter of fact they had very few opportunities to demonstrate their feelings, so eager were their hosts to convince them of their own cordiality. All they could do was to ransack their vocabulary in search of adequate expressions of gratitude. This was by no means an easy task as words failed to do justice to the generous South American hospitality. Everywhere they were received as long expected brothers, deluged with attentions and courtesies. From the presidents, to the taxi chauffeurs everybody was friendly and anxious to please. Exclusive doors were thrown wide open before them, all kinds of privileges were theirs without asking.

Officially Uruguay, Argentine and Brazil did all they could to recognize th friendly gesture of Canada. Their respective presidents met or received the whole mission, their Departments of External Affairs treated Sir George Perley with all the honors a country can bestow upon an ambassador, their Ministers of Commerce or their representatives were the first to board the S.S. Prince Robert on arrival and the last to leave it at sailing time. All expressed publicly, and at length, their friendliness towards Canada and revealed a surprising knowledge of its problems. They also pointed out readily some of the possibilities of further trade developments (the second object of the trip), and invited more or less openly, definite commercial understandings between their countries and Canada. In every case the ministers were supported by the local Chamber of Commerce, host to the delegation.

Will Make Report

How these understandings will come about is not for the mission to decide. Some higher authority must take the matter in hand. But after establishing previous contacts and collecting valuable informations the Canadian delegates are now in a good position to furnish valuable datas and advance practical suggestions. These will probably be embodied in a general report, now in preparation, to which have collaborated the various committees appointed for the purpose. This report will be available to the Canadian Government and other interested bodies.

Besides commercial and industrial facts the delegates have also found out, after seeing them at work, what precious allies the home merchants and manufacturers have in foreign lands with the Canadian banks on the one hand, and the Canadian Trade Commissioners Office on the other. Incidentally both contributed largely to the success of the trip through their active representation on the reception committees and their extensive connections.

Of the banks, it was truly said, many times during the voyage, that they were Canada's pioneers of commerce in distant countries. They are moreover ideal advisers and agents de liaison, as was demonstrated to various delegates who succeeded, with their efficient cooperation, in concluding private business deals while the Prince Robert was refueling in a port, a result they could never have achieved so promptly if left to their own devices.

J. H. Woods, the head of the delegation, expressed the unanimous gratitude of the mission towards the Canadian banks when, en route to Rio de Janeiro, he presented C. C. Pineo, Superintendent of the Royal Bank of Canada, southern branches, who left the party in the capital of Brazil, with a resolution of appreciation for the good offices rendered during the trip.

Like the banks the Trade Commissioners' Offices can be depended upon to furnish accurate information and establish prompt business contact. Commissioners MacColl, of Argentina and his able assistant, Harris W. Brighton, succeeded during the short stay of the mission in Buenos Aires in arranging the opening of 13 new Canadian agencies in Argentina, four in Chile, and two in Uruguay. This is only an example of what can be expected, not only in Argentina, but in other lands where Canada is represented by active and eager men who, although handicapped by their modest titles, are doing paramount work as unofficial social ambassadors and official Trade representatives.

SUBMERGED FOREST FOUND

As a result of the earthquake in New Zealand great changes have been wrought in the country near Gisborne. For two miles the shore has risen eight to 10 feet, and on the newly made reef is a large pool from which spout many small geysers and jets of inflammable gas. The entire area is covered with seaweed and mud and apparently was "squeezed" from the ocean bed. At low tide the stumps of trees in a submerged forest are visible. OPINION IS DIVIDED ON WOMEN'S VOTE IN QUEBEC

L'Evenement Upholds Action of Legislature in Again Refusing Franchise.

DEFEAT EXPECTED

MONTREAL, Que., April 13.—(By the Canadian Press)—Newspaper opinion is divided over the question of granting the provincial franchise to women; a privilege which was recently again rejected in the provincial legislature. L'Evenement (Quebec) says: "There are people who do not rightly understand the indifference of the province of Quebec towards the women's vote. Because women in English provinces exercise their suffrage in provincial elections, the Anglo-Canadian press thinks that the same should be done in Quebec. "Nevertheless, it takes very little mental effort to see that French-Canadians are reacting against this feminist tendency, just as France and other European nations are reacting against the example given by England in this slide towards universal suffrage. Has the giving of the vote to women done any appreciable good to England? Are French politics suffering much through the absence of women in electoral tempests or in parliamentary life? Moreover, here, women, after having tasted of the right to vote in federal elections, are not crazy about the innovation. Therefore the Quebec Legislature is right in not granting the right to vote to a female population, the majority of which does not want it. If ever the ideas of French-Canadian women change, it will always be easy to allow them to participate in the turmoils of political fights."

La Patrie, (Montreal) commented: "This latest defeat of the rights of women was expected. Hon. Mr. Taschereau had prophesied it when he counselled women not to present again this year measures which the House had already decided several times, but to pin their faith in the possible changes that the next elections might make in the personnel of the House. Those behind the movement did not take the advice and there are many who believe that they were right. A persistent and continuous agitation will be more useful to their cause than a passing surrender could be harmful. The obstinacy of our legislators, once more brough to light, will bring from the other provinces the usual comment which will not be of a nature to heighten the prestige of our province. In the remainder of the Dominion, women have the right to vote. That Quebec is the only province to refuse this right to women does not mean it is right. In our province women have the right to vote in federal elections and they are elegible for the House of Commons and for the Senate, but our provincial legislators do not think that women are fit to vote in our provincial elections. How can that be logical, and how can the opposition of the majority of our legislators be justified when the Council of the Bar Association itself, saw no reason why the entry of women to the profession should be prohibited?"

The Gazette said: "The Quebec Legislature remains consistent in a thoroughly inconsistent attitude towards female suffrage. The one good thing that can be said of the rejection of the suffrage bill was that the vote was non-partisan. The brevity of the debate was out of all proportion to the importance of the issue and the lack of any ministerial contribution to the discussion is likely, quite unnecessarily, to accentuate the sense of grievance which promoters of the measure must inevitably harbor. The one Liberal to speak against the bill was Amedee Caron, who hails from the Magdalen Islands, where, it is safe to assume, the women's suffrage movement is not particularly lively and where Mr. Caron runs little risk of retribution. The fact that the woman suffrage movement is not sufficiently widespread in Quebec to impress the members of the Legislature may supply a reason, of sorts, for the repeated rejection of franchise bills, but it is not a good reason if the principle upon which the women are founding their claim is a sound one. It has been considered sound in other provinces and in other countries, many other countries, and its acceptance has had very solid grounds. Legislation, nowadays, is reaching steadily into new fields of domestic activity, and in many of these fields the feminine judgment is likely to be far more valuable, because of the practical experience behind it, than the judgment of the mere man can ever be."

TORONTO DRAMATIST FELL FOUL OF "SYLVIA"

Dickson Kenwin's Model Stage Was Smashed by the Famous Suffragette

IT is an ill wind that does not blow some-one good. And when Sylvia Pankhurst did Mr. Dickson Kenwin of Toronto's Little Playhouse the signal honor of smashing his miniature model stage — in the interests of votes for women — little did she dream of the service rendered him.

Dickson Kenwin

For out of its ruins there arose a stage which was destined to lead him to success in the world of drama. And eventually he played on old world stages with Sir Henry Irving, Ellen Terry, Mrs. Patrick Campbell, Sir Gerald Du Maurier and others.

But many detours were made before he reached this place of eminence. For, while dramatic art was his first love, it was not his only love. Versatility led him into highways and byways.

But destiny was moving him, like a pawn on a chessboard, slowly but surely, towards his ultimate goal. For while engaged in this work, he built in his spare moments the aforementioned miniature model stage which was instrumental in anchoring him for all time to dramatic art.

The model took three years to complete, using a scale of half an inch to a foot. Built as an economic unit for the purpose of rehearsing plays thereon and trying out stage effects without all the expense incidental to that of a large or final stage, its practicability was demonstrated before Sir Herbert Tree at a convention of theatrical managers. It gained widespread attention. Finally it was placed on exhibition at Selfridge's. To view it became the rage of London, and incidentally the "rage" of Sylvia Pankhurst who lost no time in making her way to Selfridge's. Through the thronging spectators she fought her way to a place of vantage. She waved her magic wand. Her "jinn" rushed in. And lo! the stage was no more.

But from its ruins a better stage reared its head. And it was this model, still in London, that was destined to play an important role in Mr. Kenwin's life. For, through the instrumentality of Sir George Alexander of St. James' theatre, the original effects of Maeterlink's Bluebird at Haymarket were eventually tried out and arranged thereon.

The founding of the Little Playhouse in Toronto was in fulfilment of the express dying wish of Sir Herbert Tree whose private secretary he was, and with whom he played in Shakespearian productions until the time of Sir Herbert's death.

Hard-Boiled Papers Pay Her for Poetry

SASKATCHEWAN boasts one poet whose fame has spread far beyond its borders, a woman whose heart is forever singing of the beauty of the common things of life, and whose work is eagerly accepted not only by the leading magazines of this continent, but also by the editors of the big New York dailies. As every poe knows, it is infinitely harder to get a good poem bought by a newspaper than by a magazine.

Mrs. W. E. Jamieson, who writes under the pen name of Edna Jaques, makes her home near Moose Jaw. She has experienced the loneliness of somesteading on the prairies on two occasions, but out of the crucible of her trials and tribulations she has poured forth hundreds of songs that have brought sunshine and consolation to countless thousands. Selections of these have been published in book form, and others will follow at regular intervals.

Edna Jaques is probably Canada's fastest writer of lyric poetry. When inspiration seizes her she has to use shorthand to capture her thoughts let these wing away never to return.

Twelve years ago, while living in Saskatchewan, Edna Jaques decided she would take a trip round the world. Her money ran out by the time she reached Vancouver, and so she sought employment on a daily newspaper.

The editor handed her a pencil and some paper and told her to go out and dig up a story.

All day she tramped the streets looking for something to happen. Nothing did.

Discouraged, she went to her room and wrote a poem about a newsboy who had lost his papers. She called it "Vancouver at Night."

The editor needed a reporter, not a poet. But, being a kindly man, he took time to read the verses. He found them good and bought them, the first of hundreds that have since been published in that newspaper.

William Duncan Herridge

Our New Envoy to Washington Rode a Bike in Flanders Fields

By A. D. C.

IT is years and years since my last meeting with William Duncan Herridge. I know nothing of Herridge as a civilian, as a lawyer, or as a statesman. Bill Herridge of the C.E.F., B.E.F., is the only Herridge of my acquaintance.

I first met Bill in the juicy month of November (or October) of the year 1915, in the village of Nieppe, opposite Messines. I was billeted in the cure's house, and had just come home from somewhere in time to scrape mud off myself before dinner, when Bill called and introduced himself as a new arrival in the village, a child of misfortune and a candidate for membership in "C" mess. He was large, young, of imposing appearance and attractive manner. His smile was most engaging.

He told me the heart-rending story of his military career to date. He had supposed himself to be a cavalryman no less—the commander of a galloping, slashing troop—but here he was in command of cyclists, bicyclers, peddle-pushers, by the gods of war! How had it happened? I have forgotten the particulars, though I retain a vague notion that they were diabolical. Horses had been replaced by bicycles overnight, between the very legs of Bill and his men — or something like that. Anyhow, the ex-troop leader was as sore as if he had been remounted on a porcupine.

I introduced Bill to "C" mess, where he was cordially received by one of the most various and remarkable collections of human temperaments, talents, ambitions and genius ever brought together under one roof by the grim necessities and accidents of war.

Just because Mr. Herridge commanded cyclists, you must not take it for granted that he, himself, forked a bicycle. To do so would be to admit a profound ignorance of our hero, and of armies in the field generally. Bill's mount was a horse; and, owing to the fact that, as a cyclist, he was not in a position to pick and choose his horse, it was an ancient steed and somewhat the worse for wear. He had picked it without authority to pick or opportunity to choose. Such things were of common occurence in those days.

Bill said that he wanted to inspect his horse and his billet, and asked me to join him in the inspection. This must have been on his first night in Nieppe, after dinner. We walked to the edge of the village, a long and slippery way, and there found the headquarters of the cyclists and the commanding officer's billet and batman. The billet was a native structure of thick walls, stone floors and two rooms. The outer room was furnished with straw, two battered buckets and a ladder leading to the loft. It was occupied by a blanketed horse. While Bill made a tender inspection of the horse's legs, the batman-groom reported an extensive purchase of oats, hay and straw from the civil population. So we climbed to the loft and inspected the purchase.

"Why not run him into headquarters stables and let his majesty rustle the oats and hay?" I suggested.

"Eclipse has no official existence," replied Mr. Herridge. (Eclipse was the name, unless my memory fails me.) "He is officially missing—from an A.S.C. outfit, originally — and has long been off the strength. Also, I am not entitled to a horse. My little bike is supposed to keep me happy. Let sleeping camp commandants and missing horses remain so."

Bill and I became cronies without loss of time. I liked his attitude toward his horse, though it puzzled me at first that such an easy-going lad should feel the difference between a horse and a bicycle so keenly. He told me that he was easy-going, and a simple soul; and I was a simple enough soul to believe it for a long time. And I liked his way with men, as it came under my notice—with his friends and his cyclists. His command was doing forward traffic control duty, and part of his job was to make a round of inspection of his posts every now and then, day and night. I went Bill's round with him several times, after dark, both of us mounted and spurred.

If Mr. Herridge had been smaller by several sizes, and if Eclipse had been a trifle stronger in the knees and white instead of sorrel, you would have sworn it was Napoleon inspecting his outposts. That is how impressive Bill looked on a horse; and I trust that the Canadian government will take this as a hint and see to it that their minister at Washington is officially mounted, and well mounted, and that his mount is officially fed.

My horse was small, but sturdy and full of pep; and he was a great comfort to old Eclipse when Bill and I rode abroad together. When Eclipse felt tired, he leaned against my steed for support. Bill's leg, being thicker than mine, served as a fender and saved my leg. Thus we slopped homeward together more than twice or thrice, by moonshine and starshine and no shine at all, from tours of duty and tours of diversion. On such occasions, Bill's thoughts and talk flew far from that time and that place; and sometimes I wondered if his imagination had got the better of him and often thought, "Here's another poet in "C" mess."

And sometimes Bill accompanied me when duty called me up and into the line. On one of these occasions, probably the first as we plodded and skidded overland towards the support-trenches of the outfit that was my objective because the communicating-trenches were wetter than usual, I noticed that Bill moved from my right elbow to my left every time a shell-hole or other obstruction changed our relative positions. It happened three times before I noticed it.

"What's the idea?" I asked.

"You're a married man," said Bill.

And then I realized that he was persistently interposing himself between me and the general direction of the sources of such hostile demonstrations as Fritzie happened to be indulging in just then.

"Oh, hell, Bill!" I protested; but I was deeply touched, of course; and I have not forgotten the incident. Would the honorable the minister do as much for me, I wonder?

The fact that Herridge was not the simple soul that he said he was dawned on me slowly. The thought occurred to me one day that a truly simple O.C. cyclist should have simple friends, but that Bill's friends—with the single exception of myself — were not simple; and realization of the fact that even my reputation, founded on my unique job, was not for simplicity, came to me like a smack in the eye. I had liked Bill from the first, and had soon recognized his stoutness of heart and distinguished qualities of mind—but I had not taken the trouble to work out the possible effects of my friend's qualities and qualifications on the military career of a cavalry subaltern who had been pitchforked by the mischances of war from the back of a snorting charger to the cow-hide saddle of a theoretical bicycle.

I went away. I came back a year later. On a gold and blue spring day I visited a farm that was the headquarters of an infantry brigade; and who should greet me from a window of that farmhouse but Bill all dolled up with red tabs? A staff captain! Was I surprised? Not at all. I had realized a year before that a bicycle was due for junking. But it was the same old Bill. He leaned out and dragged me in through the window.

My last meeting with Bill on the field of honor was with a brigade major; and were his responsibilities weighing a trifle on his humor—or was my liver at fault? A condition of gnawing cramps was my normal state all that year, and for several years after that; and perhaps I tried to blame my stomach-ache on Bill, who doubtless felt that he had troubles enough in the brigade without shouldering any from corps.

And now that Major Herridge is Canada's minister at Washington, I am not surprised. Washington will not put anything over on him. The only thing that was ever put over on Bill was a bicycle, and that was a long time ago and did not last long.

This new job of Bill's should be child's play to an ex-brigade major. Here's power to him!

MEN & WOMEN in the public eye

Yukon Poet-Laureate Lives More Softly Now

"I AM, I fear, perhaps a little prejudiced," said Robert W. Service, famous Canadian poet, recently when asked which of his literary productions he considered his best, and why.

The English-born Canadian poet who spent his first years in the Dominion farming on Vancouver Island and who followed so many occupations before he settled down to banking and went into the Yukon in the days of the famous gold rush, weighed the matter carefully in the scales before he ventured to give the palm to either the "Songs of a Sourdough," "Ballads of a Cheechako," or the novel, "The Trail of '98," all of pioneering days' fame; to "Rhymes of a Red Cross Man," of war correspondent experience on the battlefields of Europe or in the Balkans; or to any of his other great works.

"The book I dislike the least of all my published works," he finally put it judicially "is my last, 'Why Not Grow Young?'"

And the reasons are, he adds, that this collection contains more of himself than anything he has written; "and also because it has failed entirely to be successful."

Since his days of war correspondence Mr. Service has made his home in the highways and byways of France. He has no fixed address, except the rover's forwarding address of an express company. The days are gone when the poet made a specialty of portraiting "Hard Luck Henry" and the characters in the famous "Shooting of Dan McGrew." In his poetry the day of the Yukon pioneer, the miner and the ranger is gone. Sunny, elegant France has put its stamp on the themes of the struggling and straggling spirit.

The days of pioneer farming on Vancouver Island are long past. To-day the poet is nearing the three-score years, and the days follow more in the trend of the boulevards, the ballads of a bohemian and "The Rhymes of a Rolling Stone" than into the noisy, roughnecky days of "The Eldorado" and other phenomena connected with Canada's conquest of its last border.

MASTER: "Did you throw out that bootmaker when he came with my bill?"

Servant: "Yes sir, but he's here again with a bill for me, so now perhaps you would throw him out, sir."

COLORFUL HIGHLANDER WARMED UP COMMONS

A NEW star has appeared in the political firmament at Ottawa, a star of the first magnitude. The Hon. Ian Alistair Mackenzie swept the House of Commons recently with his burning eloquence, real eloquence, genuine rhetoric, blazoned with wealth of phraseology rich in apt expressions. It was a speech that tore seasoned listeners from their moorings of cynicism, made of quiet men shouting enthusiasts, and in the end brought such a whirlwind applause as falls to the lot of few parliamentarians.

Ian A. Mackenzie

Mr. Mackenzie is a Highland Scot of 40 who came to Canada in 1914. He was born in the far north of Assynt, had a distinguished university career at Edinburgh where he graduated in arts and law, took honors in classics and specialized in Celtic languages and did two years' research work in Ireland. He had a brilliant military record, and in 1920 he was elected to the British Columbia legislature. In eight years he was a cabinet minister. In 1930 he entered the Mackenzie King administration at Ottawa as minister of immigration, but the government was defeated right afterwards and he never sat in the House as a member of the cabinet. However, he was elected in Vancouver Centre, defeating Hon. H. H. Stevens, one of the ablest Canadian public men and considered invulnerable. Therefore, his recent speech was his maiden effort in the federal House.

At the outset he congratulated those who were able to speak to the Commons in the two official languages, but regretted that he himself was "not privileged to address the House in my own native tongue." This caused a college friend of his at Edinburgh, now located in Ottawa, to remark that when Mr. Mackenzie entered the university he was a "raw Highland youth who could scarcely speak English." When he began his speech it was difficult to tell from his accent the country of his origin, but as he proceeded, all doubts were cast aside and in the end his voice rang so truly with the intonation of the Sutherlandshire highlanders that the Scots who throng these buildings were carried away to a great enthusiasm and in the corridors little knots and gatherings of them rejoiced that the land of their fathers had given them another chieftain. Almost needless to say, he is tall and of a striking appearance. Liberal and Conservative showered him with congratulations.

Man Who Will Probe Our Grain Trade Can Make Figures Stand Up and Salute

IT is said of Sir Josiah Stamp, who is to be chairman of the royal commission to inquire into the grain trade of Canada, that his head rests more comfortably at night on a pile of blue books than on a soft down pillow. If a policeman or a United States custom official slapped him on the hip pocket he would find a slide rule in place of a gun or a flask. For Sir Josiah is a human calculating machine and the only romance he knows is the romance of statistics and figures. Fractions to him are an enchantment and he does not know how they ever came to be called vulgar.

Having been born on the outskirts of London in 1880, Sir Josiah Stamp is still a comparatively young man, and at a very early age his powers of concentration and his aptitude for figures sometimes embarrassed the local school teachers, so it came as a relief to them when he passed on to the university. There he devoured all the economic and mathematical fare that was placed before him and won distinction after distinction without any apparent effort. There was only one place for him to go after graduation and that was the civil service which he entered in 1896.

Unlike so many brilliant scholars to whom the red tape and the officialdom of the civil service have meant oblivion, Sir Josiah Stamp thrived in the cold and cheerless atmosphere of Somerset House. The fogs from the River Thames were life-giving and soul-inspiring to him, and after two years of preliminary work his chess board mind was found to be just what was wanted in the department of inland revenue. Here he had the opportunity to study income tax in all its bearings—from the man in the street right up to the multi-millionaire. He was promoted to the secretariate in 1914 and then came the war.

During the war years Sir Josiah Stamp was at the call of the British treasury as expert adviser on taxation, and for five years he led a hard life. Income tax, supertax, entertainment tax, excess profits duty, and the innumerable other taxes that were introduced in the British parliament in order to finance the war, were all examined and reported upon by him. His was probably not the creative mind that conceived them, but on his shoulders fell the responsible task of advising the government what yield they would bring to the treasury and their likely effect on the taxpayer. To enable him to do this a complete survey of the finances of Britain's industry was made — a stupendous task in itself but only a preliminary to a much greater one. Sir Josiah's own final compilation was a masterpiece of accuracy and comprehensiveness; in fact, it was regarded almost as a ready reckoner for finding out at any given time the amount of financial strain that Britain could bear.

Now, at the age of fifty-one, Sir Josiah Stamp is chairman of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway and president of its executive, and a director of the Bank of England. He is also president of the Royal Statistical Society and a prominent member of the International Statistical Institute. He has found time at different periods of his busy life to be examiner in economics, political science and statistics at the universities of Cambridge, London, Edinburgh and Glasgow, and in 1924 he was British representative on the Dawes committee that investigated German currency and finance. In 1926 the British Association for the Advancement of Science paid him the compliment of making him president of one of its sections, and this is perhaps the honor he appreciates more than any of the others.

In association with Sir Harry McGowan and other industrial celebrities, Sir Josiah Stamp plays an important part as a director of Imperial Chemical Industries.

Edison Was Once Kicked Off a Train For Mixing Science With News Vending

ALL was well at Smith's Creek one fine spring day in the early sixties. The usual group of idlers leaned to support the walls of the little station. On the platform peering down the tracks, beaver-batted, fawn-vested local dandies contemplated a forthcoming trip to the "city." The telegraph operator prepared to desert his key and assume the role of station agent. A critical hour of the day had arrived for the populace of this small Grand Trunk point. The Port Huron-Detroit local was due.

Down the rails appeared a coughing "monster," its inverted cone-shaped smoke-stack spitting forth smoke and cinders over the peaceful countryside. It slowed down as it reached Smith's Creek and drew finally to a stuttering halt. Onlookers by this time had assumed strategic positions on the board platform to examine arrivals and otherwise keep up with local news, which began and ended at the station. A flurry of excitement went through the crowd and eyes spread wide open as the baggage coach rolled slowly by, smoke issuing from its open doors. Excitement was climaxed with amazement when a hazy form precipitated itself through the smoke to the platform. Its exit from the baggage coach was not unaided, however, and the departure was hastened by the impact of a sturdy shoe. There was a final bang as a case of type jarred downward after the figure and the form of an irate conductor appeared in the doorway, scarce able to express itself from the righteous indignation which rose within. And the unhatted figure which first appeared waited not on the order of its going. Truly events were moving fast at Smith's Creek.

The event was more significant than the spectators knew. Railway officers believed they had rid themselves of an outrageously troublesome newsboy who had persisted beyond the good nature of the train crew, which tolerated and liked him; for he outrageously violated all rules of the road by starting a fire in the baggage car with smelling chemicals. It was Thomas Alva Edison they threw off the train that day and wished good riddance. To-day, that same station is an exhibit in a remarkable group of objects that Henry Ford has collected together in a model early American village at Dearborn portraying milestones in the life of the famous inventor. It was transplanted brick by brick and reproduced faithfully. In mid-October of 1929 the United States celebrated the Edison golden jubilee anniversary of the inventor's completion of his experiments with electric light. Another train with the wood-burning engine, lamp-lit coaches and bronze-armed seats pulled into the transplanted Smith's Creek station. Thomas Edison, the clever young "news butcher" of earlier days, again sold fruit along its aisles and distributed papers like those printed and edited by himself in earlier days on his own small press.

The Grand Trunk Western Railway played a not unimportant part in the inventor's early life. He served as newsboy and in his spare time with that company read and experimented. He put together a miniature printing press and enterprisingly sold his weekly newspaper, known as "The Grand Trunk Herald" in the towns along his line and to passengers. Always interested in electricity, he delighted to watch operators at their telegraph instruments at the stations. He was conducting a chemical experiment when he so unceremoniously lost his job as newsboy. He rescued a child from death beneath a train's wheels and a grateful company allowed him to learn telegraph dispatching at Mount Clemens, Mich. As an operator, he came to Ontario points, in Canada and still has friends along the old Grand Trunk southern Ontario lines, now part of the Canadian National Railways, who knew him in early dispatching days.

FARMERS UNITE IN THEIR DEMAND FOR ADEQUATE COMPENSATION FOR DEPRECIATION OF LAND BY HYDRO

its spirit, and to obtain information for the purpose of organizing branches in their townships which will join their forces with the associations west of them.

Farmers Aroused

Saturday's surprisingly large attendance demonstrated the appeal of this Association especially to the farmers whose properties are in the line of the existing Hydro power route across the province and also in the path of the projected lines which when completed will stretch twelve high tension electric arteries from the Ottawa and St. Lawrence Rivers to Toronto.

The drafting of resolutions and the preparation of other business was left by Saturday's meeting to the general committee. The farmers were manifestly to obtain the information at present available and to form a local district corps of opposition to the intolerable methods which the Hydro-Electric Commission in invasion of farm lands for the erection of the first two transmission lines which are now in use. The memory of the haggling practice of the Commission's agents in determining the depreciation of farms in this experience of several years ago was mentioned during the meeting as an impelling cause that has aroused these rural citizens against the prospect of further inadequate indemnities for losses to their properties by the erection of Hydro towers.

Reeve Fred McIntyre of Otonabee who was largely instrumental in calling the farmers together for Saturday's meeting acted as chairman, and after expressing his satisfaction with the large attendance, he outlined the course the meeting might take, and suggested the enrolling of members to establish the association's corporate form. A nominal fee of one dollar was decided upon for a fund to defray ordinary expenses, and a large number of the men signed up at the close of the meeting.

The speakers for the afternoon were T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P. of Havelock, R.R. Hall, K.C., Peterborough, Warden G. H. Hooton of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham, and Mr. Chapman, secretary of the Ontario county Farmer's Right-of-Way Association.

Mr. Lancaster in Sympathy

T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P., for Peterborough county, was the first speaker called on by the chairman. Mr. Lancaster declared himself in full accord with the rural property owners who are affected by the existing Hydro lines and the additional lines that are now being laid out by engineers.

"I feel that the farmers have been most unjustly dealt with by the Hydro" he said. "In its valuation of damages done to farms along the towers lines there has been discrimination against the farmers. I don't know of one case in which a farmer has received sufficient compensation, and I may say that I am and I have been vitally interested, as you know, in this question."

Mr. Lancaster pointed out that the Hydro-Electric Commission was not a government body, as many persons regarded it. It was a public utility, he explained, with powers conferred on it by the Legislature, similar to such corporations as the C.P.R. and the C.N.R.

Pointing to a small chart which he held before him, Mr. Lancaster briefly traced the routes of the proposed power lines across eastern Ontario.

Proposed Power Routes

"You have already two lines across these counties from Chats Falls on the Ottawa River, and two more will be erected parallel to the present pair of lines, and close to them.

There are also four tower lines which will carry Beauharnois power to the Leaside transformer station at Toronto. These lines will apparently cross Peterborough county north of Rice Lake."

A glance at the map indicated that from Hastings county these lines are to extend over the Trent River, traversing Seymour township in Northumberland county, and continue on over a corner of Percy township. They recross the Trent some distance west of the village of Hastings and follow a route through Otonabee and Monaghan, emerging in the Fraserville neighborhood close to the place where the two existing lines cross the Peterborough-Port Hope highway.

"Another four lines are to be constructed from the Cornwall and Morrisburg district on the St. Lawrence River practically parallel to the Kingston highway. They will cross the lower townships of Durham and Northumberland counties. These twelve lines will all converge at Leaside."

New Legislation Passed

Mr. Lancaster stated that the Hydro-Electric Commission had acknowledged that the farmers had not received a square deal, and Hon. Mr. Ferguson, when Premier, had admitted the justice of their grievance, Hon. J. R. Cooke, the government member of the Hydro-Electric Commission, had determined to do all he could to redress the farmers' wrongs. Wishing to remove the irritation which had been caused by the erection of the present power lines, Hon. Mr. Cooke had brought down in the Legislature practically a new Bill which has since become law.

Sketching the main provisions of the new legislation, Mr. Lancaster said that the Government now has the authority to appoint a valuator to determine the compensation to be paid to farmers for damage to their property by the erection of Hydro towers. If the valuator's adjustment is not acceptable to a farmer he has the recourse of appealing to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board. The salary of the valuator shall be paid by the Hydro-Electric Commission. Furthermore, the new legislation is retroactive, and any farmers who are dissatisfied with the settlement which the Hydro-Electric Commission made with them for the right of way on which the present two lines of towers have been erected may have their claims reopened and reconsidered.

Plan of Compensation

Mr. Lancaster next explained the new basis of compensation. Essentially it will be the value per acre of the individual farm as the compensation for each tower on the first transmission line with an increase of 25% for the corresponding towers on the second transmission line; fifty per cent increase for each tower on the third transmission lines; and an increase of another 25% for the corresponding towers on the fourth power line. Illustrating this plan of easements, Mr. Lancaster supposed a certain farm to be valued at $100 an acre. Suppose also that four lines of towers cross this particular farm. For each tower on one line, which may be called the first line, the owner of the property would receive $100. Then for each tower on the next transmission line, which may be called the second, the rate of compensation would be $125 or an increase of $25%; moving over to the third power line each of its towers would bring $150 in compensation to the owner of the property; and on the fourth line the rate would be $175 for each tower. These are the figures quoted by Mr. Lancaster, and he also stated that the increase in compensation for each successive power line would be twenty-five per cent.

Farms of Lesser Value

Some of the farmers told Mr. Lancaster that here were not many $100 an acre farms in this section, and by way of further illustration he estimated the compensation on several different price bases. If a farm is valued at $80 an acre and four transmission lines cross his property, for instance with ten towers on each line, this farmer would receive $80 each for the ten towers on the first line, amounting to $800. Then for the second line the rate of compensation would be increased 25 per cent, bringing the rate to $100 for each tower on that line; for the third line there would be another 25% increase; and so on with another 25% increase on the fourth line.

If a farm is worth only $40 an acre, then each tower on the first line would mean $40 in compensation; on the second line each tower would bring the farmer $50; and so on with a 25% increase on each of the other lines.

Question of Farm Values

G .A. Brethen of Norwood asked whether the value of a farm for this purpose of compensation would include the improvements.

Mr. Lancaster said he understood the new legislation to mean "farm damage."

Mr. Brethen remarked that his impression was that the land was to be valued apart from the improvements such as house, barns and similar assets. He also made the comment that if the Hydro-Electric Commission paid the valuator, the Commission would be his boss, in spite of the fact that the government appointed him.

Concluding his summary of the new legislation, Mr. Lancaster stated that the valuator was to give special consideration to such circumstances as in the event of towers being put up in barn yards or in other places where they became a nuisance. Additional compensation was to be allowed in these instances. If the valuator is unable to agree with a farmer he shall leave with the farmer a written notice giving the property owner right of appeal to the Ontario Railway Board within thirty days. Protection of farmers against the loss, and also a change in the telephone line, that is strung alongside the power lines, to abate the loss resulting from it, were other points touched on by Mr. Lancaster. He advised the farmers to form an organization, and assured them they had his sympathy.

One farmer remarked that the basis of land valuation must surely include the buildings, "because without the buildings a lot of the land is worth less than when our forefathers got it from the Crown."

Warden Hooton

Warden G. H. Hooton of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham urged the farmers to "get together and form an association." The farmers have not been paid enough in the past for the Hydro power line right of way, Warden Hooton said, and he added, "I don't think that schedule is high enough yet."

Ontario County's Example

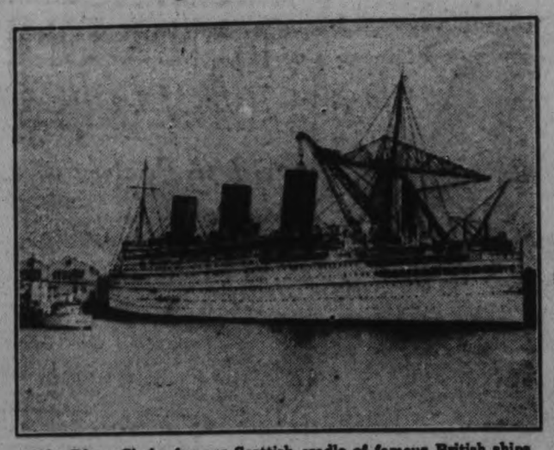
F. M. Chapman, secretary of the Ontario county Farmers' Right-of-Way Association said: "It gives us from Ontario county more confidence and heart when we see so many farmers of this district here today. We are now out to beat the Hydro; we don't wish to embarrass the Commission in any way. In fact we all want cheap electric power. I live only two miles from a local line, but I haven't been able to put in electricity yet. All we want is justice from the Hydro in settling with the farmers for the loss and damages which these power lines will cause to our properties."

"Our Association in Ontario county was pleased with this new legislation when it first came out" Mr. Chapman said. "We figured out the compensation for a farmer in Darlington township. He has a fine farm. We estimated that he would get $1,750, which sum approached the actual depreciation. We then learned that settlement for damage was to be for the land only, independent of the buildings, and the agent of the Commission who gave that information also said there was going to be very little $100 an acre land when it came to making settlements. At our last meeting just recently our farmers were up in arms. They thought that they had been betrayed by the Hydro again, and they have decided to fight this time for justice. Some people tell us that a law is a law and that we can't get it changed. I was always taught that the people themselves are supreme, and if they so willed they could wipe out the Hydro itself with one stroke of the pen. I don't think that any government will ignore the united voices of the farmers from Toronto to Peterborough and all across Eastern Ontario. We believe that the Hon. Mr. Cooke desires to give us farmers a square deal, and I may say that we have an appointment with him for next Wednesday."

Mr. R. R. Hall

R. R. Hall, K.C., was the concluding speaker. He said that the Hydro-Electric Commission had evidently undergone a change of heart. The injustice which had been done to many farmers in the permanent trespass on their lands had presumably become abhorrent to the members of the Commission. It had always seemed a strange license that after farmers had toiled to clear their farms of stones and boulders, the Hydro-Electric Commission could come along and locate their towers where they wished without adequate compensation to the owners. Mr. Hall suggested that a general committee be formed representative of the various townships which are affected by the Hydro lines, and that the resolutions which have been considered and put forward by the Ontario county association be endorsed by the local association.

"Nearly Ready For Trials"



The River Clyde, famous Scottish cradle of famous British ships, will be the scene of the speed trials of yet another famous liner, when the 42,500 ton Canadian Pacific "Empress of Britain" steams down river for the first time early in April.

The photograph, first to reach North America since the liner was completed, shows her just after her last funnel was "stepped". She is to enter service May 27th, completing her maiden voyage at Quebec June 2nd. The Empress of Britain is 758 feet long, and 97½ feet wide.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM CROWE.

WARSAW, April 13. — (Examiner Correspondence.) — The funeral of the late William Crowe, North Dummer, took place on Wednesday afternoon to Warsaw cemetery and was largely attended. Rev. J. W. Wilkinson conducted the services at the house and cemetery. This was Mr. Wilkinson's tenth funeral since coming to Warsaw less than ten months ago. He had visited Mr. Crowe several times since coming here, and had been impressed with the Christian patience shown. It is hard to be laid by for three long years. He also spoke of the resurrection in connection with the Easter season.

The bearers were Messrs. Percy and Harry Hill, Lakefield, Theodore and John Douglas, Warsaw, Maxwell Swanson, Peterborough, and John Booth, Burleigh. There were several beautiful floral pieces.

WILLIAM WOODLEY

NORWOOD, April 13. Examiner Correspondence)—The funeral of the late William Woodley, whose death occurred at the home of Herman Rusaw on Friday, was held Sunday and the service was conducted by Rev. Mr. O'Conor-Fenton, of the Anglican Church.

The late Mr. Woodley, who was in his eighty-fifth year, suffered a stroke a few days ago from which he did not recover.

THOMAS ROBINSON

NORWOOD, April 13. (Examiner Correspondence)—The funeral of the late Thomas Robinson, whose death occurred at his home on Alma street on Thursday, after a short illness, was held Saturday from St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of which he was a faithful member. Rev. A. C. Reeves conducted the service at the Church and at the grave.

The late Mr. Robinson who was eighty-four years of age, was widely known in the district, being a drover for a number of years and thus came in contact with a large number of people who found him most honorable in all his dealings.

His wife predeceased him about six months ago.

JAMES KEATING

HAVELOCK, April 13 (Examiner Correspondence). — James Keating, one of the best known residents of this district, died last evening at his home on the Ninth Concession of Belmont in his 86th year. He had farmed here for nearly sixty years.

Surviving are five children, George and Edward of Rush Point, Frank of Campbellford, Mrs. Jack Hart of Smith Falls, and Mrs. Walter Blewett of Trent River.

HIGHWAY EXPENDITURES.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—Kindly make the following omissions with regard to my letter of Thursday, April 9, re road matters.

There appeared in such issue $153,-495.58 expended on roads, which should have read 150,495.58 for Provincial highways.

The County raised $295,761.57 in addition to the above for County and Suburban Area Roads. The city during the same period raised for local County Suburban Area roads $93,-250.00.

The letter pointed out the excess paid by county as compared with the city toward Provincial highways, citing 1927 claim as being $13,000.00 greater than the demand from the city. In indicating what might be expected for the 34 miles now under way east, it would mean pro rata not less than from $25,000.00 to $35,-000.00 more than the city will be called upon to pay. The 1927 demand covered 9.65 miles.

I would again respectfully point out that from the fact that urban vehicles on such roads are 75 per cent., then why should the city be bothering the Hon. Mr. Henry to relieve them of any contribution to said roads. Confine city autos to city streets, and 90 per cent would be in the market for sale for practionally all city pleasure driving takes place on rural roads.

Respectfully yours,

ED. M. ELLIOTT.

Suffered With Pains In The Back

Relieved By Taking Dodd's Kidney Pills

"For two years I suffered with pains in my back," writes Mrs. Fred Casey, 3 Douglas Lane, Amherst, N.S. "I tried different remedies but none seemed to do me any good. After taking a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills the pain left me and I always keep them in the house now in case the pain may come back."

Many men and women suffer periodically with backache, and, as middle age approaches, the pain increases in severity.

Rest may give temporary relief, but Dodd's Kidney Pills do much more than this. They strengthen the weak kidneys and remove the cause of the pain.

"He Was Left An Income Of $100 a Month for Life"

A man said, "If only somebody we didn't know would die and leave us a million dollars!" And his wife replied, "Yes, or even somebody we did know, and only half a million!"

It is a favorite day dream to "wish" that some remote relative we never heard of would remember us in his will, and that the good news would be announced by the postman on his very next visit.

Yes, it would be nice to have the postman call every month at the same time, and leave a cheque for $100. Very welcome now, of course, but how much more so later on, when our energies begin to f"ag; say, when we reach age 50, 55, or 60. Just when we begin to feel like easing up and letting the younger people have their way, and the job.

Of course, if a man or woman has about twenty thousand dollars well invested, an income of One Hundred Dollars a month can be secured right away.

The great majority of people, however, cannot command any such capital sum, nor is it necessary if one wishes to plan now for the income to be delivered some time in the future.

If you want to pass the last third of your life in comfort and independence, or should you wish to guard against being totally disabled and unable to earn money, look into this suggestion now.

UNITED COUNTIES GET GOOD PRICE

$238,000 in Debentures Bring the Best Price in Ten Years.

PAY FOR PAVING

Warden Hooton of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham, has been elated over the sale of $238,000 debentures to Gairdner and Company of Toronto at the premium price of $101.50.

The debentures were issued to pay for some of the counties' paving extensions. The special committee appointed in January to receive tenders for these bonds and to dispose of them was composed of Warden Hooton, Reeve W. F. Rickard, of Newcastle, Reeve P. Stinson of Millbrook together with Major MacNactan.

KAWARTHA MUSKIES IS COMING TO CITY

Fish and Game Association Showing Several Reels on Thursday Night.

Through the courtesy of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, the local Fish and Game Protective Association are showing a series of moving pictures at the Empress Hotel on Thursday next entitled, "Kawartha Muskies."

Anyone interested in hunting or fishing or any other person who wishes to attend this meeting, is extended a cordial invitation.

The Association has had the offer of quantities of pheasant eggs and wishes to get in touch with persons who could "set" them and then release the birds. The Government has recently started a bird farm at Codington, north of Brighton for which 400 pairs of Hungarian partridge were secured.

It is hoped shortly to form a party of local sportsmen who will be privileged to drive down to the farm, and see the work which is being carried on down there.

The Association will soon be receiving a large number of trout fry for their rearing pond, and local streams also another large consignment of pickerel fry for the River at Nasau.

Bait casting practices are also scheduled to commence at the end of the present week, and crow shoots will soon be in order also.

Brisk Wind Prevents Saturday's Attempt

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Apr. 13.—(CP)—Gar Wood hoped for favorable weather conditions today in order to seek a new world's motor boat speed record on Indian Creek here.

A brisk easterly cross wind prevented an attempt Saturday and Wood watchfully waited for it to subside, stating firmly that he would not put his Miss America IX into the water until conditions were ideal.

The present record of 103.49 miles an hour was recently set on the Parana river at Buenos Aires by Kaye Don, British race car driver, in his motor boat Miss England II.

RUN-DOWN IN HEALTH AFTER A DIFFICULT WINTER

Mrs. Elizabeth Fenton, Pickerel, Ont., Needed a Spring Tonic —Says Dr. Williams' Pink Pills (Tonic) Did Wonders For Her

"It's fifteen years now," writes Mrs. Elizabeth Fenton, "since my first trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am thirty now, but I never will forget what those pills did for me when I was just a girl, so run down and weak from sickness. When I feel tired out and nervous and need a good tonic I always go back to the old standby, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am never a victim of ill-health. I enjoy all sorts of sports and especially hiking. Health is next to happiness and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the key to health."

Mrs. Fenton is right! Think of the people you know who are happiest—who get the most fun out of life. Strong and well, aren't they? Able to enjoy a day's work — and have strength to spare for social pleasures. They look well, too, and people like them.

That's what health does for you!

"Always Goes Back to the Old Stand-by"

If your blood is thin and poor, as is often the case in the spring, you can't be happy The iron and other elements in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills (tonic) increase the red corpuscles in the blood, giving color to the face and lips. At all Druggists'—50 cents a box. Or write to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville. Be sure to say "Dr. Williams'" so that the druggist will know exactly what you want. 19

BRINGS FAME TO NATIVE HEATH

Only Maritime Woman Harness-Racing Enthusiast Pays Extra Taxes.

HAS FINE STABLES.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 13—If you claim the woman doesn't pay, don't argue the point with Mrs. Charles Ballard, of North Sydney, N.S.

Mrs. Ballard is an enthusiast on harness racing, and beginning last year, she assembled a stable of trotters and pacers, at her home in North Sydney. First she acquired Ruby P., 2.04¼, a Saskatchewan mare, which had been campaigned in New Brunswick and Maine. Since then she has purchased Flo Abbe 2.12¼; Marion M. 2.12¼; Abbe Worthy 2.12. Female horses too, for she says they give the more satisfaction, being not so temperamental as the males.

Last year, Mrs. Ballard directed the campaign of her stable, through Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, although she did no driving in the races, having a man for that work. However, she put her equines through some of their training brushes.

Mrs. Ballard was of the opinion the town of North Sydney should pass her a vote of thanks and present some tangible form of recognition, because she placed the town on the turf map in the maritime provinces. Hers is the leading harness racing stable of Cape Breton Island. Her first reward was when the Cape Breton tracks barred her Ruby P. because she was too fast for the competition.

The second reward has come from the town of North Sydney, and is a tax bill for $55. The explanation is that the town is in dire need of money, and decision was made to put a special tax on the Ballard trotters and pacers.

Mrs. Ballard is the only woman in the Atlantic provinces owning and operating a stable of harness horses. In addition to the four marked horses named, she has several more that are green, and which she intends developing. She plans on opening her campaign the latter part of May, and continuing from track to track until early in October. Spending most of her time on the New Brunswick and Maine half mile ovals.

NO JUNGLE PERILS TO GIRL EXPLORER

Miss Gloria Hollister Tells of Adventures in British Guiana.

MONTREAL, April 13 (By The Canadian Press).—The day when women shrieked at the sight of a mouse and fainted if they saw a spider is a far cry from the adventures enjoyed recently by Miss Gloria Hollister, technical associate of Dr. William Beebe, in the jungles of British Guiana, and recounted by her at a meeting of the Women' Canadian Club. Miss Hollister, who is young, sligh and blonde, modestly assured her audience, however, that the dangers of the jungle are mostly a matter of the imagination. Wild animals don't attack you unless you interfere with them or corner them, she explained, and the long rope-like things that twine about and hang from the 250 feet trese only look like snakes. Actually they are just vines.

Despite Miss Hollister's sattemen that most of the danger of the jungle came from an over active imagination, it could not but be felt that the jungle presented plenty of stimulus. Among the everyday incidents he related en passant were the facts that one morning she wondered what her hammock was bumping into to discover that an alligator had chosen its shadow to sleep in; that tarantula spiders and scorpions had bunked in her "sneakers" and shared her pillow; and that her limb had been exposed to the vampire bat—just to see if he really would fan them numb with his wings and then bite into them with his long teeth!

Mixing a little homily with her exposition, Miss Hollister told of the ai, of cross-word puzzle fame, a three-toed sloth which spends his life hanging on a branch and has moss growing next to his skin because he is so inactive—a striking warning of how vegetating may turn one almost into a vegetable.

Miss Hollister also told of the Indians living in primitive state in the central part of the country, as they had before Columbus had "even thought of discovering America." As long as one did not treat them with suspicion they were most loyal, she said. Some 10 years before, however, they had abandoned a party of white men 250 miles inland because they had discovered that they carried revolver beneath their clothes.

In order to entertain her Indian hosts, she had performed a stunt of balancing a glass of water on her forehead, while lying down and getting up. This had pleased them so much that they had demanded an encore. But her parlor tricks were now exhausted. Luckily she had hurt her teeth playing hockey and had been forced to wear a little brace, so she took this out and put it back again. They were so delighted with this, she said, that all the small boys immediately began to weave grass in their teeth.

At Edith's first "bridge" in her new home she makes a thrilling discovery . . .

"I do all my own work yet my hands are as nice looking as theirs"

"DICK and I just moved to this charming suburb, but already we've met such an attractive 'young married' group.

"They're all more prosperous than we are—yet! Every one of the other women has a maid, while I do all my own work.

"So I was a little nervous about my first bridge. But it went off beautifully! They couldn't believe I did everything myself. Especially—they said—because my HANDS looked as if I had SEVERAL maids!

"Truly, my hands do look as lovely as theirs, and it's all due to my precious LUX. I use it not only for fine things, but also for dishes and cleaning. And my hands NEVER have that DISHPAN look!"

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Although the weather has been a little cool we know that Spring is here and during this Spring season, entertainments can be given a timely element by featuring games that bring this fact to mind.

• • • • • • •

Successful hostesses are always on the lookout for things that may be used in their plans to make an entertainment that is "different," for that "different" idea is what makes a party a success.

• • • • • • •

A costume party at which each woman dresses like a Spring flower and each man comes in fishing togs or sports suit is an innovation.

• • • • • • •

Or each guest may be asked to wear or bring from one to six Spring flowers, no more. During the evening the hostess gathers these flowers and puts them in a vase or bowl.

• • • • • • •

She gives each person a floral tally card and pencil and has each guest guess the number of flowers in the container.

• • • • • • •

The second contest consists in guessing the number of kinds of flowers in the bouquet. The third question might be how many of each are there in the bouquet.

• • • • • • •

You might also ask the number of colors in the bouquet, giving the names. Of course the guessing should be done after the players have had several minutes in which to inspect the bouquet after which it is taken out of the room.

• • • • • • •

The hostess should not pass the tally cards until after the bouquet has been taken away. She should warn the players that they will have several guesses to make about the bouquet but should be given no hint as to what these will be.

• • • • • • •

The game known as "Baskets of Flowers" is interesting, this game consisting of players sitting in a circle with one called the florist standing in the centre.

• • • • • • •

He hold a small garden tool such as a child's rake or hoe, or a trowel. The florist points this to a player and says, "What flower will you put in your basket?" Then he counts ten.

• • • • • • •

The players must name a flower before the florist stops colunting or places must be exchanged. No flower can be named twice. A forfeit may be given for such a mistake, or the one who repeats the names already given may become florist and the florist enter the circle.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

CAUSE OF STOMACH ULCER

When a severe burn occurs there is not only the danger from shock, but also from the damage done to the entire system by the absorption of poisons from the burned surface. Now these poisons get into the blood and circulate throughout the body and cause trouble in various places.

An interesting report regarding some of the trouble occuring in the body after burns, comes from Dr. G. Riehl, Stockholm. He reports five cases in which the burns were followed by an ulcer of the stomach or small intestine. He believes that the ulcer is nowcaused by a mechanical action, irritat ion from the broken down blood and tissue acting on the lining of the stomach or small intestine but by the action of the poisons circulating in the blood. He believes that these poisons act directly on the lining surface of the stomach and intestine, or else act on the nervous system in such a way that the natural movements of the stomach are interfered with, and a sort of spasm occurs which permits the stomach juices to cause trouble to the lining surface.

This idea that poisons from burns may cause stomach ulcer adds one more point in strengthening the belief that many cases of stomach ulcer are due to poisons in the system.

As you know, many cases of stomach ulcer are cured by using soft foods and an alkaline diet, only to break down again in a short time.

Why?

Because the real underlying cause of the ulcer is likely the poison from one or more infected teeth. The removal of these teeth may not immediately clear up the ulcer, because the poison remains in the system for months after the teeth are removed. It may be held in certain glands, or in the large intestine.

Stomach and intestinal ulcer is very common. Many patients think they have simply indigestion because sometimes after abstaining from food, or eating soft food and taking baking soda, they are free from symptoms for a while, when as a matter of fact, they have likely had a small ulcer which has healed.

If you have chronic indigestion, it would be wise to get your teeth and tonsils checked over, now that it is becoming more apparent that poison in the system is likely the cause of many cases of indigestion, and stomach ulcer.

SONG FOR APRIL

By Molly Bevan
The Blue Bell Poetess

When April, hand in hand with Spring,
Sets every robin carolling,
And hair and very far and clear the god
Pan calls,
There's something in the heart of me
That mocks at adult dignity,
Wakes me long to run and play with bounce-y rubber balls!
Lovely mottled marbles,
Slipping-ropes thin,
Silver-wheeled roller-skates,
Tops that spin,
I want to play hopscotch,
I want to soar high
In a creaking old swing
That meets the sky;
I want to listen,
As I used to do,
To the strange earth sounds
Of seeds coming through;
I want to hunt fairies,
With gossamer wings,
Who'll grant three wishes
For magical things;
I want to watch small
Green parasols unfurl,
When sugar-sticky chestnuts
Their buds uncurl;
And I want to imagine
I'm alive again
In the Upside-Down-Land
Of puddles after rain.
If April, as she's ever done,
Keeps teardrops rainbowed by the sun,
Incarnates all the beauty in the Age of Gold,
Then have I found in very truth
The foundation of eternal youth!
I'll count my age by Aprils that defy me to grow old!

31 CANDIDATES ARE CONFIRMED

Rt. Rev. J. F. Sweeny, D.D., Conducts Impressive Service in St. John's Church, Havelock.

PRAISES RECTOR.

HAVELOCK, April 13.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—At St. John's (Anglican) Church, Havelock on Friday at 3 p.m., a most impressive service was held when the Right Rev. J. F. Sweeny, D.D., the Lord Bishop of Toronto, administered the Rite of Confirmation to 31 candidates, including adults and young people. The service opened with the processional hymn, by Mathew Bridges—"My God, accept my heart this day," the choir leading the procession to the chancel of the church. At the conclusion of the hymn his Lordship preceded to the Episcopal Chair which had been placed in position at the top of chancel steps. At the same time the Rector, Rev. P. C. Howard descended to the body of the church, and standing with the candidates, who occupied reserved seats at the front of the church, presented them to the Bishop for the rite of Confirmation. Returning to his seat in the chancel the Rector then read the Preface and selected portions of Holy Scripture, after which his Lordship questioned the candidates who replied accordingly. Continuing, the Bishop read the Prayer of Invocation which was followed by a few moments of silent prayer, at the conclusion of which the beautiful hymn by Rev. Edwin Hatch—"Breathe on me, Breath of God" was sung very softly by the choir and congregation while still kneeling, creating an appropriate atmosphere for the solemn and beautiful rite of the Laying on of Hands as performed by the Reverend Father in God.

Rector Praised.

Before commencing his address the Bishop congratulated the Rector and congregation on the splendid work that had been accomplished during the past two or three years, particularly the new addition to the church in the form of a spacious vestry with kitchen beneath. His Lordship also commented favourably on the robing of the choir and the redecoration of the interior of the church, all of which had been accomplished during Mr. Howard's (as yet) short incumbency. The Bishop also congratulated the Rector on his splendid work, especially in presenting such a large class for Confirmation, one of the largest classes in the history of the parish.

The eloquent and helpful address given by his Lordship, Bishop Sweeny was based on the 14 verse of the 33rd chapter of Exodus. This verse, he requested the newly confirmed members, to mark in their Bibles as a constant reminder of this very solemn and auspicious occasion. Throughout his address the capacity congregation followed appreciatively every word spoken so quietly and impressively by this kindly and stately Bishop. During the offertory the anthem "Lord I believe" was sung very effectively by the choir. After the Benediction and recessional hymn his Lordship received the newly confirmed and many other friends in the vestry. The church was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies, hydranges and tulips.

Canadians Beat Hawks To Tie Stanley Cup Series

HABITANTS OVERCOME 2 GOAL LEAD TO TAKE 4-2 DECISION FROM HAWKS IN FOURTH GAME

Gagnon, Lepine, Joliat and Burke Outstanding For Flying Frenchmen.

COURAGEOUS BATTLE.

Return of Albert Leduc Was Powerful Factor in Montreal Victory.

MONTREAL, Que., April 13 (By Wallace H. Ward, Canadian Press Staff Writer).—Whether the Chicago Black Hawks will take the Stanley Cup, ancient but coveted emblem of the profressional hockey championship of the world, back to Chicago, or whether the Montreal Canadiens will equal the dinted trophy for the second year in succession, must be decided here Tuesday night when the two teams meet in the fifth game of their series. The ambitious Hawks were jubilant as they counted two goals in the first period of their game here Saturday night, looking back with satisfaction to their 2—1 lead in other games. But an inspired and desperate Canadiens' attack, comparable in its fury to a lioness defending her young, snatched the old mug from the eager fingers of the middle westerns. Canadies ran in two tying goals with Hawks short-handed on account of ill-timed penalties, and then rose to the heights of hockey glory to count twice in the final minutes to take the game 4—2 and deadlock the series at two games all.

Hawks Take Lead

The first period was a Chicago affair. The Black Hawks jumped to the offensive with a verve and enthusiasm that carried all before it. Johnny Gottselig, Mush March, Adams, Ripley, Tommy Cook, and Couture blazed away at Hainsworth from wing and centre. They rode down on the Canadiens' defence in swift-moving waves. The Canadiens' defence stood firm for a time, turning back and crushing attacks with heavy crashing checks. Chicago flashed through on Hainsworth and Johnny Gootselig took Vic Ripley's pass and snapped the puck into the goal cage. Twelve minutes later Ingram got the puck in a scramble and shoved it to Ty Arbour, who with a second to go as the Canadiens defence dived for him, steadied and found the top corner of the net with a beautiful snap shot.

A scattering of Chicago fans went wild with joy. The legions of Canadiens supporters took it out on the referees, chagrined at the apparent downfall of the Flying Frenchmen. Rough work on the Chicago defence that went unpunished brought 13,000 angry fans to their feet with a menacing roar. Coins, programs and other articles, including an empty bottle, rattled down on the ice. An irate fan high in the stands threw a full bottle of gin at Referee Bobby Hewitson with deadly aim. The referee seemed to sense the missle, and ducked his head. The heavy bottle whistled by his head and crashed to the ice a little over a foot from his skates.

The Canadiens pulled themselves together and went into the second period a far different team. Morenz blazed down the ice like a meteor, followed by the smart little Johnny Gagnon and Aurel Joliat, the mighty midget of professional hockey. They smothered the struggling Hawks with a bewildering array of clever and fast-moving plays. Johnny Gagnon saved the Canadiens from an ignominous shut-out. With Couture on the penalty bench, Canadiens swept inside the Chicago defence. Leduc passed smartly to Gagnon, and the little winger crashed the puck into the twine.

Heartened by this success, the Flying Frenchmen launched another terrific big push in the third period and counted three goals. Gagnon scored his second goal and tied the score when Helgy Bostrum was in the penalty box. Nick Wasnie gave him his chance with a short pass in a scramble, and Johnny whipped a high shot past Chuck Gardiner's arm. The Canadiens were berserk.

With the crowd on its feet in rumbling and roaring hysterics, the Red Shirts flashed to the attack with beautiful precision. Howie Morenz, top scorer of the National Hockey League, burned up the ice at dizzy speed and tried Chuck Gardiner with wicked drives, but was unable to break the jinx that keeps him scoreless since the scheduled league games ended.

Pete Lepine, polished centre star, scored the two smart goals that gave Canadiens the game and a chance to keep the cup. The sheer speed and fury of the Canadiens offensive had the Hawks dizzy. Gardiner jumped and lunged almost ceaselessly to fend off the whistling drives from the four-men attacks of the scintillating Frenchmen. Lepine broke through twice, only to be beaten by the Chicago goalie's clever dives. Then Lepine and Gagnon flashed through with a blazing burst of speed and Johnny feinted and passed to the tall centre man. Lepine rifled a hot drive into the net.

A darting, weaving sortie by Aurel Joliat gave Lepine the play that brought the final goal. Joliat broke trickily and stickhandled around an exhausted but still game Chicago defence. Joliat curved in on Gardiner. The goalie crouched tensely for the shot, but Joliat slid the rubber to Lepine with a flip of his wrist, and once more Pete lunged with a terrific drive that found the twine unerringly.

The din was terrific for minutes after the final bell had sounded as the excited and exultant fans gave the Canadiens a terrific ovation. The scene in the Canadiens' dressing room showed directors, friends, and players cheering wildly and kissing each other with Gallic emotion.

It was a tense and thrilling game. Tempers ran high and bumping was plentiful. Mush March clipped Pete Lepine over the head with his stick. Leduc stepped up to March and cut him down with a blow on the jaw. March skated to his own defence and then crumpled to the ice. Both Leduc and March drew major penalties.

Rookies Will Start In Tuesday's Games

Veterans will fill most of the posts on the sixteen major league teams when the season opens to-morrow but a number of recruits up for the first time, may break into the lineups as regulars. Aside from pitchers, the outstanding rookies who seem to have battled their way into a starting place include:

National League

New York—Vergez, third base.
Cincinnati—Heath, first base.
Phillies—Arlett, outfield and Mallon, second base.
Boston Hulmerich and Worthington, outfielders, and Wilson, third base.

American League

Chicago—Simons, Outfield.
Detroit—Harvey and Gerald Walker, and Ivey Shiver, outfielders.
Cleveland—Vosmik, outfield.
Boston—Warstler, shortstop, and Vancamp, first base.

Cleveland Battle Fills Fistic Card

Their 15-round struggle at Cleveland to-morrow night furnishes the one and only high spot of a dull fistic schedule this week.

Thompson won the welterweight title in May of last year by whipping Jackie Fields, but held it only about four months before he was beaten by Freeman at Cleveland last September. Freeman's right to be classed at the top of the 147-pound class has been widely disputed, but expert opinion favors him by a slight margin to beat back Thompson's challenge.

C.O.B.L. OPERATE AGAIN THIS YEAR

Representatives From Peterborough and Belleville Present at Quinte City Meeting.

THREE TEAMS SURE.

BELLEVILLE, April 13.—The Central Ontario Baseball League will operate again this year, but whether there will be a four-team loop is problematical. Representatives from Belleville and Peterborough were present at the meeting, called by the President of the league, R. A. Elliott, of Deloro, while Kingston sent a telephone message saying they were ready to enter, but wished the drawing of the schedule and election of officers to be deferred.

The annual meeting will therefore be held on April 25, in this city, and in the meantime Oshawa will be asked to join and make a compact four-team loop. Prospects for a ball team in each of the three towns represented were of the brightest and all anticipated going to the barrier on May 24 with strong teams.

The delegates felt it would be unwise to let the league drop out of existence, as it would take some time to bring it back into the limelight again. Peterborough will draw their team from all the players in the Liftlock City, while Belleville will have the old guard back, with many new faces. Kingston will have a strong team, as there is said to be some new material in the Limestone City. Oshawa, if they enter, can field a good team and pressure will be brought to bear to have them come in.

DUELLING COMMON IN EARLY REGIME

Comparatively Few Duels Fought in Quebec Had Tragic End.

MONTREAL, April 13 (By The Canadian Press).—Duels in the Province of Quebec under British rule were recently described by Aegedius Fauteux, president of the Historical Society of Montreal. He said more than 70 duels recorded in historical documents, memoirs or newspapers were fought in Lower Canada from about 1760 to the time the practice was abolished. In the early years of the British rule in the Province of Quebec, people proved to be most sensitive on matters relating to private life, honor and dignity.

Mr. Fauteux pointed out that the practice of challenging an enemy to a duel was almost limited in the early years of the British regime to military officers. The practice had undoubtedly been retained from the French regime, the code of honor, fixing in advance the action of the officer receiving the challenge. Any officer being ordered to fight and trying to avoid it had his promotion cancelled and was degraded in the eyes of his fellow-officers. These duels were fought with pistols, many of them at Windmill Point at daybreak, or later at various points near the forts on St. Sulpice properties, or else on that part of the island of Montreal now known as Fletcher's Field. The first duel recorded under the British rule took place between two young French-Canadians at Boucherville on August 17, 1789.

Only a small number of duels fought in the Province of Quebec had a tragic end, the speaker claimed, one being Samuel Holland, officer in the 60th Regiment who fought Captain Sheds, the latter remaining on the field, and one in 1838 between Robert Sweeny and Major John R. ward. The two men being well known in Montreal, public opinion was aroused at the death of Major Ward in the duel and loud protests were heard from all sections of the population. Holland used a pistol given his father by General Wolfe.

Mr. Fauteux mentioned the fact that mostly all the best known political leaders at that time defended their honor with the pistol.

American Hockey League Champions; Tulsa Oilers to Seek World Honors

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 13.—William F. Grant, President of the American Hockey League, said that Tulsa, crowned champions here Saturday night, will challenge the National League for the Stanley Cup, emblematic or world professional hockey supremacy.

Chicago and Montreal, both of the National League, now are playing for the cup, with one all-deciding game remaining.

OTTAWA, April 13. — Tulsa's challenge for the Stanley Cup will be considered by the cup's trustees when it is received, William Foran stated here last night. The President of the Ottawa Hockey Association, who, with F. D. Ross, of Ottawa, is custodian of the historic trophy, stated however, that no challenge has yet reached here from the American Hockey League champions.

Mr. Foran would give no indication of the attitude he will take on the matter if a challenge is made. For several years past word has gone out that the minor league titleists would bid for the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world's professional hockey championship, but no challenge ever has been received by the cup's trustees.

Organization Planned Hastings County Loop

MARMORA, April 13. — Baseball fans of Hastings County are awaiting with keenest interest the result of a meeting which is to be held at the Y. M. C. A., Belleville on Wednesday evening next at 7:30 p.m. The formation of an intermediate league will be under discussion, Tweed, Madoc, Deloro, Picton, Napanee, Corbyville, Trenton and Belleville Victorias are expected to send representatives.

The question of operating the league under two sections will likely be brought up in the event of a well represented and enthusiastic meeting.

GAGNON LEADS PLAY-OFF LIST

Montreal Canadien Wingman Scores Two Goals and Assists in Another Last Night.

GARNERS SEVEN POINTS.

TORONTO, Ont., April 13 (C.P.). —Johnny Gagnon, deadly shooting wingman of Montreal Canadiens, has taken the lead of the players still in the Stanley Cup play-offs. Whipping a brace of goals past Chuck Gardner, brilliant Chicago goalkeeper, and assisting in the scoring of another marker, Gagnon ran his total points to seven, one less than garnered by Cooney Weiland, Boston's clever centre player.

Johnny Gottselig, Chicago's flashy wingman, and Pete Lepine, Canadiens' great second line pivot, advanced to the five-way tie for third place. The former notched his third goal of the play-offs to increase his total to six.

OUTPLAY MISSOURIANS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 13.—The Tulsa Oilers recaptured the American Hockey League championship by defeating the Kansas City Pla-Mors here Saturday night 3 to 2 in the fourth and deciding game of the play-off series. Tulsa won the series 3 to 1.

Oilers, who lost the title to Kansas City last year, clearly demonstrated their right to the championship and the accompanying Skelly Cup by breaking a 1-1 tie in the second period and adding a third count in the final session before the Play-Mors counted again.

The visitors gained the advantage in the first period by outplaying the Missourians on the rushes. Throughout they carried a fast and well coordinated attack into Play-Mors territory.

JOHNNY TAKES HIS TIME

Johnny Miles, famous Canadian runner, who in 1926 won the Boston Marathon is, to say the least, a surprising young man. Even the best sport critic can't make him out and those who have tried have failed dismally. The best one he ever pulled was in a 15-mile road race in Toronto before he left to represent Canada at the Amsterdam Olympics. At the start of the race and for the first few miles he went breezing along full of confidence and pep and the scribes and fans picked him to win. Shortly after he had passed the thirteen-mile mark Johnny came upon peaceful Queen's Park. It was a beautiful sunny day and Johnny decided to take a nap. He sat down in the sunshine until about twenty of his fellow competitors had passed, then leisurely set out to finish the race as an also ran. He came in about twentieth as fresh as a daisy and had them all guessing as to what had happened to him while the first half of the field crossed the finish line.

AMERICAN LEAGUE MANAGERS ARE READY FOR THE OPENING OF 1931 BASEBALL CAMPAIGN

Officials Have Doubtful Hopes of Tighter Pennant Race Than Last Year.

A's FAVORED TO WIN.

With Stronger Pitching Staff, Yanks Could Give Champions Battle for Honors.

(By Paul Mickleson, Associated Press Sports Writer).

CHICAGO, Ill., April 13.—Having watched their National baseball league cousins reap gate receipt harvests for four straight years while they eagerly snatched World Series glory, American League clubs set out on their 1931 baseball wars tomorrow with renewed but rather doubtful hopes of a tighter pennant race.

Most of the experts, accustomed to seeing the league stage a somewhat top-heavy pennant race for the past few years, predict just another romp for Connie Mack and his Philadelphia Athletics, with only a little interesting crowding by Washington, New York and Cleveland. The club owners, however, join with their managers in predicting the closest race in years from start to finish and in first as well as second division.

A careful sifting of claims and hopes just before the big get-away indicates that the key to the situation is held by the Athletics who have been running away with the flag for two straight years.

Connie Mack, perhaps with a feeling of remorse, has failed to strengthen his championship front for the 1931 campaign, except for a few reserves, while the rest of the clubs have strengthened their forces in varying degrees.

The big "if" of the race centers around the Athletic pitching staff. If "Lefty" Grove and big George Earnshaw are as good as they were last year, the "A's" probably will repeat, no matter what the reserves accomplish. If either of Mack's two pitching aces experience a poor season, and no reserve pitcher comes through in big style, the whole race may be turned upside down. Walberg and Mahaffey, two pitchers who helped Grove and Earnshaw last season, haven't looked so well this Spring, although Hank McDonald, husky 20-year-old pitcher purchased from Portland of the Pacific Coast League, has caused many a smile to ripple across Connie's face. If McDonald comes through and Grove and Earnshaw are in form, the "A's" with their terrific batting punch probably will repeat easily.

Walter Johnston and his Washington Senators and the New York Yankees, piloted by the same Joe McCarthy who lifted the Cubs out of baseball's wilderness in the National league, are the two clubs which are expected to end the domination of the Athletics if any team does it. Of the two, the Senators look the strongest because of excellent pitching, a timely attack, a tight infield and the spirit that moulds championship teams. The Yankees, still possessing a great punch at the plate are contenders although their pitching is of a suspicious quality. Given good pitching, the Yanks probably would extend the A's to the limit, but they don't appear to have them.

Fielding is the big Cleveland problem. Errors on defense beat the Indians last year.

Detroit, Chicago, Boston and St. Louis all have been strengthened during the winter and spring shopping season but none is expected to startle the league by winning the pennant. Of the four, the White Sox appear to be the most improved although they like Cleveland, must prove their ability on defense. Detroit has a good attack and a fair defense but pitching worries Manager Bucky Harris. The Browns have pitching and fielding but light hitters, a trouble likewise afflicting the Boston Red Sox who have made great improvements over last year.

Two new managers will be in the league for the thirty-second season, John "Shano" Colling of the Red Sox and McCarthy of the Yankees. Too, for the first time since its existence, the league will open a campaign without a president because of Ernest S. Barnard's sudden death last month.

NEW TALENT WITH PHILLIES.

Chicago Cubs Brimming Over Confidence With Rogers Hornsby at Helm.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer.)

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 13.—Another close race in the National Baseball League, with at least four or five clubs in the running—that is the "dope" going the rounds the day before the 1931 season opens. Optimism is the rule in the elder major league and few clubs are willing to admit they won't be close to the top in September.

The St. Louis Cardinals are generally favored to repeat their triumph, but only after the hardest kind of struggle from the Chicago Cubs, Brooklyn Robins, New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates. The concensus of expert opinion has picked the five leaders to finish in that order, with Boston, Philadelphia and Cincinnati bringing up in the rear.

While all the clubs have added new playing talent in preparation for another tight race, the Cardinals, for the most part, are standing pat on their 1930 lineup. Chic Hafey, however, remains a holdout and Ernie Orsatti has been given his place in left field. The veteran St. Louis mound staff has been augmented by two promising recruits, Dizzy Dean and Paul Derringer.

With Rogers Hornsby, now manager, back in condition, the Chicago Cubs are brimming over with confidence. Hornsby has made no changes in last year's regular line-up, but has acquired a lot of good reserves, both recruits and experienced players.

Brooklyn's Robins plugged a few holes by trading some of their spare man power to the Phillies for Fresco Thompson, a steady second baseman, and Frank O'Doul, hard hitting outfielder, and also are highly optimistic. The New York Giants are counting on Young Johnny Vergez to take care of third base, while Freddy Lindstrom plays right field. Like most of his rival managers, John McGraw could use another good pitcher or two but Harold Schumacher and John Berly may fill the bill.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, handicapped by injuries last season, again are rated as a fifth National League contender. With Pie Traynor and Lloyd Waner back in shape, the Pirates should be much stronger. Tommy Thevenow, ex-Phillie, at shortstop, may help.

Boston's chances seem to depend upon how their newly acquired minor league sluggers fare. Manager Bill McKechnie has four newcomers in his regular lineup. Wesley Schulmerich and Red Worthington, outfielders; Earl Sheely at first base and Charley Wilson at third.

The Phillies are counting on improved pitching to put them into the running. They traded several good men for pitchers and will start with Buzz Arlet and Hal Lee in the outfield, Dick Bartell at short, and Leslie Mallon at second. Their new moundsmen include Clise Dudley and Jim Elliott from Brooklyn and Stewart Bolen from Baltimore.

Dan Howley's Cincinnati Reds still are in the process of re-building and have few hopes of climbing high in the standing. Ed Roush, former Giant holdout, and Nick Cullop may provide some badly needed punch at the plate.

CASUAL COMMENT

We always maintained that this was a good town for amateur boxing, and Friday night's turnout at the Armouries proved it. Why, people around here were fight-hungry! Theyll come out anytime they're assured of a good card, despite counter-attractions of all sorts.

* * * * * * *

Well, they got their money's worth Friday night, and then some. All the boxers were in good shape and in there to win. And some of the bouts saw the referee jumping to keep out of the way of the rushing gladiators.

* * * * * * *

The decisions given were well-received, which is unusual in a fight crowd. However, they were fair, having an experienced referee and two good judges to back them up. And the crowd was generous in its applause of both winners and losers.

* * * * * * *

You've got to give Gord Garwood credit for the way he put the show over. He not only had all the local boxers in first-class shape for the bouts, but he attended to the multitude of details in arranging the whole card. He paired the scrappers off in a manner that gave the fans the best possible run for their money.

* * * * * * *

Of course, Gord himself is an old experienced ringman, his coaching and training throughout the winter, his promoting of the tournament Friday night, and finally his smart refereeing all result from his long association with the fistic game.

* * * * * * *

A number of the spectators who were talking to us right after the show, believed the majority of those present would welcome one more boxing show before the baseball season. If the card compared favorably with the last one, it should go over big.

The South-end Softball League meets at 26 New Chamberlain Street next Wednesday night at 7.30 to get organized, enter teams and elect officers. This is a new softball league, and already has ve teams lined up.

* * * * * * *

They are Prince of Wales, St. James', Brintons, Mervin's Rats, and Brownton Tigers. A sixth team would round out the loop. Each outfit should have at least two representatives present at the session on Wednesday night.

* * * * * * *

The league expects to have a schedule drawn up next week and the games started the 1st of May.

* * * * * * *

All clubs affiliated with the Central Ontario Tennis Association have been asked to have entries at an open singles tournament in Kingston, July 1, and a doubles in Belleville on Civic Holiday.

* * * * * * *

There will be a third tournament later to decide the mixed doubles championship. Peterborough is entered in the Intermediate tennis group, and will play with Whitby, Bowmanville, Oshawa, and Cobourg.

* * * * * * *

Towns entered in the senior class are Oshawa, Bowmanville, Tweed, Campbellford, Belleville, Kingston, and Peterborough. The winner gets the Morrow Cup, donated by H. A. Morrow of this city. The executive committee which will draw up the schedules consists of a representative of each of these towns.

* * * * * * *

The C.O.B.L. will operate again this year. The Petes, Belleville, and Kingston have entered the league, and Oshawa is expected to come in as well. Kingston reequested the drawing of the schedule and the election of officers be postponed for a short time.

* * * * * * *

The annual meeting of this loop will be held in Belleville on April 25, and they will go ahead whether there are three or four teams entered. Little was done at Saturday's meeting.

Montrealers are talking of the wonder of playing golf all day and then being able to see a hockey game that same night. The present series is setting a record for lateness in the season.

STRONG SOCCER DELEGATION TO VISIT DOMINION

Sixteen Players From English First Division Chosen to Make Trip.

TWO FROM THIRD.

TORONTO, April 13.—Soccer lovers of Canada will see the strongest team that ever represented the English Football Association if they go to visit any of the games of the tourists this summer. Eighteen players have been chosen to make the trip across the Dominion and the first game is scheduled for Montreal on May 25. The second game is called for May 27 and was originally billed for Hamilton, but there is some talk of playing it in London, as the Hamilton Football Association will not accept the ruling of the Dominion association that a certain admission fee be charged.

H. C. Tewkesbury (Birmingham) H. Hibbs (Birmingham), H. Shaw (Sunderland, T. Jennings (Jiddlesboro) W. C. Roughton (Huddersfield), T. Magee (Est Brom), Len Oliver (Fulham), P. O'Dowd (Burnley), A. F. Campbell (Huddersfield) W. Eden (Sunderland), J. Weddle (Portsmouth), E. Hine (Leicester), J. Smith (Portsmouth), I. Barry (Leicester), J. Cookson (West Brom), H. Roberts (Arsenal), H. Houghton(Exeter), T. Urwin (Sunderland), 1st Division Experience.

Sixteen of the players have first division English league experience, and two are from the third division. Of the two atter, Len Oliver of Fulham, played in the recent test game to select the English team to play Scotland, and the other, Houghton, plays inside left for Exeter City, the team that created such a sensation in the English cup this season. Many offers have already been made for this player's services, and he is sure to be transferred to a leading first division club for next season.

Three of the party played against Scotland in Glasgow; Hibbs, in goal, Roberts and Campbell, in half back line.

But one player was out before, little Magee of West Bromwich, Albion, that nimble right half-back. All the rest are not find if some will be disappointed in not seeing "Dixie" Dean, there is Cookson, West Bromwich's prolific scorer, as well as J. Weddle, from Portsmouth.

As Birmingham and West Brom are going to fight for the cup at Wembley, we shall be sure of seeing at least one of the winning team.

Hine, by the way, is of the firm of Chandler Hine and Adcock, Leicester's trio of forwards, with Lochead on the other side.

Exeter City, the third division team who fought their way right to the very last ditch in the cup, are represented by one of their stalwarts H. Houghton, who is credited to be the brains of their attack, at inside-left.

Two goalkeepers, three full-backs, five halves, six forward, and two general utility men make up the party.

H. Hibbs, Birmingham's goalie, played International in 1930, against Scotland, Ireland and Wales; the Scottish league in 1929, and against everything of importance this season.

A. F. Campbell, Huddersfield's left-half, played in 1929 against Scotland and Wales, and against the Scottish league, won a up medal, too, in that year.

T. Magee, West Brom., right-half, played against Wales in 1923 and Scotland in 1925.

T. Urwin, Sunderland, played against Wales in 1926, and the Scottish league, the following year.

E. W. Hine, Leicester City, represented his country against Ireland and Wales in 1929:30, and the Scottish league in the same years.

H. Roberts, one of the main cogs in the present wonderful team at Highbury, displaced Seddon at centre-half, and normally plays as a third brick, fitting into that peculiar system adopted by Manager Chapman of allowing but the wo wingmen and Lambert up front, with Jack and James co-operating as auxiliary half-backs. When not approaching he others for large transfer fees, and consequently publicity, he is credited as being up with the best in fitting into that machine which won the cup last season and, barring earthquakes, will annex the league.

The reserve goalkeeper, H. C. Tewkesbury, is from Birmingham University hails from Brighton, and subs for Hibbs at times, as well as holding down the fort for the English amateur international team all season.

Shaw, Sunderland's full-back, cost hem a pretty penny last season, the transfer fee from Wolverihampton being reputed to be £7,000, which puts him in the "monied" class. He played in a recent test match.

Houghton, Huddersfield, took the place of Wadsworth, the town's famous international and has no missed a match since then, in the early part of last season.

The forwards are all players ajpresent at the top of their form. The wingmen are W. Eden, Sunderland's outside right, who will be partnered by his clubmate, T. Urwin, the International and L. Barry, who has already represented England, and is the outside left for Leicester. Cookson of West Brom, and Weddle of Portsmouth will fill the centre position. J. Smith of Portsmouth, who also played in the recent test game, and E. Hine, Leicester's International inside right, will occupy the inside right position and Houghton of Exeter who has already been mentioned, will partner Barry on the left wing.

Ty Cobb Got An Early Education in Craftiness From Johnny Kling—Bill Corum Opines the Robins Don't Run to Brains.

WORK HAS SENT OLD FANS SCURRYING AWAY.

By BILL CORUM

NEW YORK, April 13.—Jay E. House was writing in his syndicated piece the other day about how he used get overpaid at $3 a game for playing semi-pro baseball in the pleasant country town of Harrisonville, Mo. There was a fair sort of shortstop among Mr. House's teammates. The name was Johnny Kling.

But what House did not mention, and perhaps did not know, is that there still is a fair sort of shortstop who claims Harrisonville as his home. And this time the name is Glenn Wright, whom Robbie would rather have than Hoover.

Kling was to gain big league fame as a catcher, one of the game's great catchers and perhaps the shrewdest ever to don the iron mask. Also one of the surprisingly few great Jewish ballplayers.

I mind a story about Kling that goes back to the world's series of 1907 between the Cubs and the Detroit Tigers. John, naturally, was centring his attention on Ty Cobb, then little more than a limber-legged Georgia rookie, who was fresher than a movie usher that's just been promoted.

The players still rode in buses in those days, and on the way to the park Kling cooked up a scheme with Tinker and Evers in case "Terrible Ty" should get as far as second base.

Ty did. Whereupon Kling started bluffing throws as though to try to catch him off base. But each time he contended himself with a bluff, so that Cobb, being, Cobb, began to stretch his lead. Finally, Tinker came up behind him while he still was a dozen feet from the base, stopped, and started back toward his normal position.

"If' the Jew'd a thrown that time we'd a got you sure," Joe threw over his shoulder as he walked away.

Ty turned away from second to reply to Tinker with the 1907 equivalent of "Oh yeah?" and as he did so Kling rifled the ball into the waiting hands of Evers, who had sneaked over to the base.

Coaches and fans screamed a warning, but it was too late. The swaggering swashbuckler of the base paths was caught flat-footed and retired. He had been outmanoeuvred by the canny Cub catcher. It was a typical Kling play.

But Cobb, as usual, had the last laugh. In the last game of the series, which the Cubs won in four straight games after the first had been tied in 12 innings, the beaten Tigers unveiled a rookie catcher.

This was "Flatfoot Jim" Archer, who made such an impression on the Chicago management that when the chance came a year later they bought him for the Cubs.

Archer, who in those days could sit on his haunches and shoot a mosquito off second base with a baseball, was to relieve Kling behind the bat in the Athletics-Cubs world series of 1910. He later became first string catcher for the Cubs. Johnny soon quit the game and drifted into the pool billiard hall business with Benny Allen in Kansas City.

Kling now owns and operates a dairy farm near Kansas City, and his recreation is golf. He seldom goes to a ball game and when he does he is apt to get nervous about the fourth or fifth and slip away to the golf course.

Out the other way from Kansas City, near Excelsior Springs, Zack Wheat also engages in the dairy business. Zack has the perfect name for it, but you can't feed milk cows on a name, not even if your name is Wheat.

It's funny how the old gang drifts away from baseball. We were talking about that in the Garden the other day. I believe Joe Humphries, the silver thrush of fistiana, said it had been 17 years since he had paid any attention to the game. He quit when his pal Mike Donlin did, at any rate.

Then there was Damon Runyon, who really broke into the Big Town as a ball scribe. His is a more or less perfunctory interest now. They tell me when The Demon first joined the Jints out in Marlin, or somewhere like that, he was exceedingly timid and said to the other scribes: "I'm a green young feller at this and I hope you'll help me out all you can."

Maybe they thought so, too, until they began to read his stories. Then they probably realized that they were the ones who could stand a little helping.

Lardner comes around now and then when the Cubs are in town. But Cobb and Broun have pulled up so completely that they don't even bother to look in on the world's series any more.

And the strange part of it is that the boys all seem to think it's the game that's changed. Go sit down with Francis Albertanti, who used to be a nut as well as a scribe, and the first thing he'll ask you is: "What's happened to baseball?"

Nothing, of course, has happened to baseball. They simply don't follow it any more. What would a Lardner of 1912 do to "Pea Ridge Day, the Arkansas hog caller with the Robins, or the great Herman? To all the Robins, in fact. A ball team that can hit so hard and is so dumb the chances are there will be innings next summer in which the only way they'll get them out will be for three or four of them to try and get on the same base at the same time. And they will. They always have.

I understand that in Clearwater this spring Robbie borrowed the town traffic signal and set it up at second base to keep his young men from collecting there in crowds. And if I live to be as old as Hal Coffman I'll never forget the afternoon at Ebbets Field when Herman, Vance and some other Brooklyn player came sliding into third base at the same time from different directions.

Why, they've got ballplayers on that team so dumb they have to take off their caps every few innings and study the letters on them to find out which side they're for.

Stanley Cup Gossip.

MONTREAL, Que., April 13. (By Wallace H. Ward, Canadian Press Staff Writer—"The penalties put us under last night" said manager Tobin of the Chicago club after the game. "But we aren't licked yet. The boys feel fine—and you can tell the folks back home we'll take them Tuesday night."

The fire laddies of Montreal back their convictions with hard cash. The Montreal firemen have invited manager Hart and the Canadiens to present themselves at fire station No. 13 to-night, when the hook and ladder boys will give the Canadiens a presentation in cash in appreciation of the fine game the Frenchmen played Saturday night.

Among the spectators sitting beside the Chicago players' bench was the former Irene Castle, now the wife of Major McLaughlin, owner of the Hawks. Mrs. McLaughlin kept her fingers crossed throughout the battle, but not with the same success as Thursday night.

The referees, Bobby Hewitson, and Alex Romeril, were just as bruised and battered as the players when it was all over. Each of them stopped a speeding puck with their shins during the course of the game, and both were limping badly.

The wild shouting of the crowd died away into a shocked and ashamed silence as a full bottle of gin hurtled to the ice, aimed by some irate fan at Bobby Hewitson's head. Hewitson ducked his head as if he were aware that the gift was on its way. It missed his head by inches, and splashed on the ice at his feet, spattering his legs.

Police and ushers pushed into the crowd and seized a struggling man. They dragged him off to the police station.

"It's a wonderful hockey team. I have here" said Manager Cecil Hart of the Canadiens after the game, "I'll stack them up against any team there ever was. We'll fix them Tuesday night."

The Flying Frenchmen for once came out without any notable injuries. There were bruises and cuts, but all of a minor nature.

This has been a tough play-off season for the Canadiens. This is their second five-game series to go the whole route, and they have been more than the usual amount of overtime so far

Jack Dempsey-Estelle Taylor Have Come To Parting Of Ways Is Hollywood Rumor

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 13.—(C.P.)—Informed of a Reno despatch saying her husband, Jack Dempsey, had announced his intention of seeking a divorce to pave the way for her screen and singing career, Estelle Taylor, actress, refused to comment today.

Reports that Dempsey was about to seek a divorce have been in circulation several days, particularly since the former heavyweight champion stopped in the Nevada city after a trip east.

Dempsey left his home here a month ago, stopped at Reno on his way to Chicago and Rochester, Minn., and returned to the Nevada point last Saturday after a visit with relatives at Salt Lake City.

Since Dempsey appeared in Reno Miss Taylor has refused to comment following the advice of her press agent. Her friends also have been unwilling to speak of the marital troubles in the Dempsey household, although the rumor that they had come to a parting of the ways has been heard in the inner circles of the movie colony for several months.

FILM "SHOOTS" AFRICAN BEASTS

E. Ratcliffe Holmes on His Way to Tanganyika District.

"MADDEST OF THEM ALL."

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, April 13 (By The Canadian Press). — "The maddest Englishman of them all" is the way F. Ratcliffe Holmes, a writer of repute who was in Cape Town recently on his way to Tanganyika with his talking camera to "shoot" wild animals, described himself to a reporter of the Cape Argus. At least, this is the description he says the men of the Wa-Sanya and the Masai tribes give him. "They cannot understand that I should travel many weeks to pitch my camp in one spot, go off six miles in one direction, stalk a herd of game and then turn a handle in a box pointed at the game; then go off another six weeks in another direction to shoot meat for the pot."

Holmes said he could not express the joy he found in filming wild beasts and studying their habits. "I have proved that animals do not drink only at dawn and dusk, as is supposed," he said, "but that they drink at any time. It is only to avoid man that they have taken to these hours. In unhunted country they drink when they are thirsty.

"I have found that the sight of animals is not so marvellous as it is thought. True, they often take fright if you raise your arm when two miles from them, for they detect movement at great distances; but their optic lenses do not seem to have any analytical power. They will look into a photographer's 'hide-up' and see the lens of his camera. But they will not see the camera behind it or the photographer.

"I have evidence that animals can 'talk' to each other. I do not mean that they have a vocabu'ary, but they can send messages to each other. One of a herd will throw up his head and sight you. In a second or two all the other heads will be up, and they will be off. Once when I planned a hiding-place near a ford three zebra and one old wildebeeste saw me. The three undoubtedly warned the herd when next they were driven to the ford where I wanted to film their passing. The leaders recognized the spot, snorted, stamped and chattered. In a minute, 20,000 animals, driven on by my beaters, milled furiously and broke through the ring of beaters. Africa is still full of adventurers," Mr. Holmes went on: "Ivory poachers, lion hunters, wanderers."

A BEDTIME STORY

by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILYS RUBBERS.

April, you know, is the month when we have much rain. Just as February is the month when we have much snow. At least, so it was in Woodland near the Orange Ice Mountains where Uncle Wiggily lived in his hollow stump bungalow.

"Pitter patter! Patter pitter!" the rain came down dashing on the windows of the rabbit gentleman's house. Uncle Wiggily was watching the drops as they ran down the window glass. One drop seemed to race with another to see which would be the first to reach the bottom of the window, just as puppy dogs race to see who can catch his own tail.

"Dear me! I'm afraid it will never stop!" sighed Uncle Wiggily as he pressed his pink nose against the window until it stopped being pink and almost stopped twinkling.

"What will never stop?" asked Mrs. Longears who, with Nurse Jane, was mending holes in the stockings of the forty sixteen bunny boys and girls who lived with Uncle Wiggily in his bungalow.

"It seems as if the rain would never stop!" went on Mr. Longears. "Anyhow, I am going out!"

"I hope you aren't going out to try to stop the rain!" spoke Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, who picked up one of Baby Bunty's stockings which had very large hole in the leg where, just for fun, Peetie Bow Wow, the puppy dog boy, caught hold of Bunty with his teeth. But Peetie didn't bite the little orphan rabbit—he just tore her stocking.

Peetie caught hold of Bunty.

"No, I'm not going to try to stop the rain," said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "But I am not going to stop having adventures just because there is an April shower. I'm going over to see Mr. Twistytail the gentleman pig."

"I hope you have a nice time," said Mrs. Longears, threading her darning needle.

"I'll wear my rubbers," Uncle Wiggily said. But neither his wife nor the muskrat lady housekeeper trusted the rabbit gentleman. They went to the front door with him and made sure he had his rubbers on before they would let him go out.

Out into the rain hopped Uncle Wiggily. He had his umbrella with him and as he hopped along the rain drops pattered on the umbrella as if it were the roof of a little moving house.

"It's jolly fun to be out in the rain!" laughed Mr. Longears. "And I can't get wet wearing my rubbers and carrying an umbrella! Ha! Ha!"

He reached the pen house of Mr. Twistytail the fat, pig gentleman and, hopping up on the front stoop Uncle Wiggily said to himself.

"I will take off my rubbers and leave them outside here on the porch. I don't want to track a lot of water into Twisty's pen.

Uncle Wiggily slipped off his rubbers, put them in a corner of the porch and then, he let down his umbrella. A lot of water ran from the point of it and Uncle Wiggily said:

"I can't take my umbrella in, either. It's all wet. I'll stand this here on end and let the water run off while I am inside talking to Twisty.

Uncle Wiggily stood up his umbrella but, by mistake, he stood it with the point in one of his rubbers. Soon all the water from the wet umbrella had run into the bunny gentleman's left rubber. Uncle Wiggily went in to see Mr. Twistytail, not knowing at all about what had happened to his rubber.

While Uncle Wiggily was inside out of the rain, talking to the pig, along came Uncle Butter the jolly goat gentleman. He, too, had an umbrella, but he had no rubbers. Reaching Mr. Twistytail's pen house Uncle Butter said:

"I will go in and see Twisty!" He hopped up the steps and there he saw Uncle Wiggily's umbrella in a rubber filled with water.

"What a clever umbrella stand!" bleated the goat. "Rubbers are just the thing for dripping umbrellas. How clever of Twisty to have thought of it. There is one empty rubber left for me. I'll put my wet umbrella in that."

So Uncle Butter did and the water from his dripping umbrella filled Uncle Wiggily's second rubber. The three friends sat and talked about old times. Uncle Butter said nothing about the funny umbrella stands made of rubbers.

But when the visit was over and Uncle Wiggily came out to get his umbrella and put on his rubbers, he found them both filled with water.

"Who did this! Who put umbrellas in my rubbers?" cried the rabbit.

"Why, one of them is your own umbrella!" grunted Mr. Twistytail.

"And one is mine!" said Uncle Butter. "Oh, I'm so sorry but I thought, Twisty Uncle Wiggily's rubbers were some new clever umbrella stands— What a joke!"

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "The joke is on me and my rubbers!"

But he emptied out the water, Mrs. Twistytail dried the wet rubbers over the stove and everything was all right.

MAGICIANS SEE NEW TRICK

Grey-haired and young magicians of England are marveling over a new trick shown at the recent dinner in London of the Magicians Club. Fifty of the most expert in the profession gazed in astonishment when Ned Williams, a young South African, curly haired and shy, presented his new illusion. He produced a box, each side of which was two feet long, and showed that it was impossible for a grown human being to get into it. Then he closed the box, waved his hand and a girl, who a few minutes before had been sitting in the audience, lifted the lid and jumped out.

Building Destroyed In Spectacular Midnight Blaze

WROUGHT IRON RANGE COMPANY DAMAGED TO EXTEN T OF $100,000—FIREFIGHTERS HAVE TRICKY PROBLEMS

Hundreds watched the most spectacular fire of the year in downtown Toronto when a 40-year-old brick building occupied by the Radiant Aluminum Co. and Wrought Iron Range Co., was damaged by a stubborn blaze to the extent of $100,000. The photograph reproduced ABOVE shows fire fighters directing streams of water into the heart of the inferno after a second alarm had brought all the downtown equipment to the scene. It was considered by the fire chief as one of the worst fires in some time. Sweeping from the south end of the structure the fire seared a path through windows and roof with tremendous speed.

AT THE REGENT

"CHARLIE CHAN CARRIES ON."

"Most men must wear out at least one pair of fool's shoes," said Charlie Chan, when he embarked on the dangerous adventure of finding the murderer in Dr. Lofton't Around-the-World touring party.

"Charlie Chan Carries On" follows out the idea of the Saturday Evening Post story of the same name, shortening the tale to fit movie requirements and yet appearing to retain most of the likeable elements. Just as a piece of workmanship alone, demonstrating how this very thing is done, when picture directors take a long story and fit it to match their cloth, as it were, the picture is an interesting one for those who have read the tale. For those who haven't, it will thrills, because the murders follow regu provide some new and very interesting larly and logically. The episode where the lady is shot in the moving Continental elevator, for example, is extremely picturesque.

Warner Oland whose, characterizations of Orientals are always of the very best, seems to be a perfect 'natural' for this part of Charlie Chan. His bland good nature, his twinkling eyes in his fat face, his manner of translating difficult situations into pungent little aphisms, bring him into the center of the picture at every moment. He gets his audience at once and they burst into mirth over his funny sayings.

"A mulberry leaf and patience make a silk gown," is just one of the telling little bits that pepper the story with verbal fun.

—Jeanette.

MRS. M. MEIGHEN

ing the morning and until two o'clock this afternoon throngs viewed the remains which were placed in state in the church. During her residence in St. Marys Mrs. Meighen became well known for her kindly disposition and willingness to help those in need. She was ever a wise counselor and a kind friend.

Friends Accompany Body.

Accompanying the body from Toronto were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson, Welland, William Meighen, Warden of Stoney Mountain Penitentiary, Manitoba; Everett Meighen, Portage La Prairie, Ald. J. A. C. Cameron, representing the City of Toronto, Andrew Fernie, Ottawa, and Mrs. R. Tellock, Toronto. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and Mrs. Meighen and other relatives and friends arrived by motor later in the morning.

At 2.30 o'clock this afternoon a service was held in First Presbyterian Church, conducted by the Rev. J. George Miller, Fort Frances, Ont., at one time minister of First Church here and a warm personal friend of the late Mrs. Meighen. The church was filled to capacity by relatives and friends and the service, while simple, was deeply impressive. Following the service interment took place in St. Marys cemetery.

The pall bearers were J. F. McLean, Toronto, Dr. Michael Steele, Stratford, former M.P. for South Perth, C. E. Richardson, M.L.A. for South Perth, R. S. Graham, John Legge and T. H. Driver, all of St. Marys, and close friends of the Meighen family.

Senator R. Lessard Be Buried Tuesday

EDMONTON, Alta., April 13. — (C.P.)—The funeral of Senator R. E. Lessard, who died at St. Paul, Alta., Saturday, will be held from St. Joachim's Church, Edmonton, Tuesday morning.

Senator Lessard was born in Cranborne, Quebec, February 3, 1873, and came to Alberta in 1898. He was 58 years of age. He was Minister without portfolio in the first Alberta Provincial Government on formation of the province in 1906, and was appointed to the Senate in 1925.

REPAIRS MADE TO CATHEDRAL

Work Progressing on Several of Alterations to Interior of St. Peter's Church.

OTHER CHANGES MOOTED.

Quite an ambitious program of minor changes is mooted for St. Peter's Cathedral, as announced yesterday morning by the rector, the Rev. P. Costello. Work is already progressing on several of the alterations to the interior and it is anticipated that a great deal of improvement will be noted when the repairs and changes are finished.

The Cathedral has two transepts in which upper galleries were built. These are seldom used by the congregation and have now been removed, allowing more light to enter through two beautifully stained glass windows which have been obscured by the galleries. In the extra space thus obtained, altars will be placed. The two small altars of Our Lady of Lourdes and the Sacred Heart, now in the sanctuary, will be placed outside of it, against the north wall, and they will be companioned by two larger altars. One to the Little Flower, which has been in the church for some time, will be moved farther along the north wall, on the Gospel side of the altar, while an altar to St. Joseph will be erected in a similar place on the Epistle side, companioning the altar to Our Lady of Lourdes.

In the sanctuary itself, proper furniture will be installed, according to the custom of the church, and will include stalls for visiting clergymen on special occasions.

A Baptismal font will occupy the space at the rear of the church at the Gospel side, now taken by the Holy Water font, and ushers' seats on that side will be moved to the other side of the entrance. The installation of two rest rooms at either side of the entrance, and the lathing of the stone wall at the north end of the Cathedral, are other improvements in view.

The most important of the items which is anticipated is the installation of a new organ, to take the place of Peterborough's oldest church organ, the Cathedral instrument having been in use continuously for about three quarters of a century. It is hoped to include a new organ in this program of improvements.

Going as Secretary and Rev. R. D. Wright of Gilmour Memorial Church as Treasurer.

A paper entitled "The Didachi" was read by Rev. E. R. James, assistant at St. John's and the topic proved to be an interesting and enlightening one. The only other business to be transacted was the commencement of arrangements for the annual picnic in June.

Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe of Murray Street Baptist Church the retiring President of the Association, acted as chairman at the meeting.

Orillia Board Denies Trent Canal Report

Repudiation of a statement attributed to Orillia Board of Trade by a Toronto newspaper correspondent to the effect that "no deputation will be sent to the Federal Government asking for the completion of the Trent Valley Canal from its present terminus to Georgian Bay," is contained in a communication received from that Board by the secretary of the Trent Waterway Association in reply to a query raised by him.

George J. Overend, secretary of Orillia Board of Trade, in his communication, states that the matter was taken up at a meeting of the Board, who wished to make the following statement: "The report that Orillia Board of Trade is opposed to asking the Government to proceed with the completion of locks on the Trent Waterway, is entirely without foundation. The Board has taken no action which would justify such a report, and will gladly join in any measures considered desirable by the Trent Waterway Association towards impressing the Government with the importance of opening the northern outlet."

"It was no little surprise to the members of the Board to see the article in the Toronto papers, but they ascribed it to some journalist looking for sensation. As I have stated before, I had no knowledge of the Board taking any part as a body in the deliberation on this question," concludes Mr. Overend.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 37 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

"I am Korak!" shouted the boy. "I came to live among you as a friend. You want to drive me away. Very well, I shall go; but before I go, I shall show you that the son of Tarzan is you master as his father before him." The king ape stood motionless with surprise. Akut was equally surprised. Now he shouted excitedly for Korak to come back; for once the king ape's mighty jaws had closed on the boy's neck, it would be his end.

To [illegible] the boy's rescue would mean death for Akut; but the brave old ape never hesitated. Rolling and growling he leaped to the grass as the king ape charged. Korak, too, leaped forward to meet the attack; but reaching, beneath the outstretched arms, quickly, with all the weight of his body and the strength of his trained muscles, he drove his clenched fist into the bull's stomach. The king ape groaned with pain.

When the king collapsed, howls of rage and dismay broke from the other apes, as with murder in their savage hearts they rushed upon Korak and Akut. Old Akut was too wise to risk any such unequal encounter and he knew it would be futile to call off the boy. To delay was fatal. There was but a single hope and Akut seized it. Grasping the lad around the waist, he lifted him bodily and ran swiftly toward a low hanging branch.

Close on their heels swarmed the hideous mob; but old as Akut was and burdened by the struggling Korak, he made the tree, grasped a limb, and with the agility of a little monkey swung to temporary safety. Then on through the jungle night until the roaring apes were left far behind. The boy was furious. "Why did you drag me away?" he cried. "You are alive," said Akut. "Had I not brought you we would both have perished. Even lions fear maddened apes!"

PROSPECTIVE EMPLOYER DEAD.

Advertising in The Examiner for a position as housekeeper, a local woman received a reply from Toronto, whither she went for an interview with her correspondent. Arriving at the stipulated address, she found no one at home, and enquiry revealed the sad fact that her prospective employer had been accidentally killed the day previously.

FIVE FIRES OVER WEEK-END

Five fires over the week-end kept the local firemen awake during the mornings. No alarms were sent in on Saturday afternoon. At 9:51 Sunday morning a roof on 585 Homewood Avenue caught fire and gave the firefighters some little difficulty. At 10:30 a call came in for a chimney fire on 89 Park Street South. A box alarm was rung in at 12:23 p.m. for a chimney fire on 549 Gilchrist Street.

At 10:01 this morning the Department answered a call from 212 Euclid Avenue for a chimney fire. At 11:15 a grass fire at the end of Caddy Street required the attention of the firemen.

BOWLER—In sad and loving memory of David Bowler, my beloved husband, who died April 13, 1930, aged 68 years and 11 months.

"You are gone but not forgotten,
Never shall your memory fade;
Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger
Around the grave where you are laid.

There is a wife who misses you sadly,
And finds the time long since you went,
And I think of you daily and hourly
But try to be brave and content.

But the tears that I shed in silence
And I breathe a sigh of regret,
For you were mine, and I remember,
Though all the world forget."

sympathetic consideration in easements for their properties.

Mr. Chapman himself expressed the opinion that Hon. Mr. Cooke was favorable to the rural property owners, but Mr. Chapman also made public these intimations that some person or persons in the employ of the Hydro-Electric Commission had openly threatened him with some sort of Hydro vengeance because of his active interest in the new Farmers' Right-of-Way Association. The nature of these penalties may be imagined from the context of Mr. Chapman's reference to this unpleasant incident, as coming within the category of financial setbacks which these agents or officials might be able to accomplish.

Every farmer who knows the Hon. J. R. Cooke will realize that he would not tolerate either vindicative threats or acts by any persons in his employ, and especially by agents of a great public utility which is owned by the people themselves.

Nevertheless the statement was made by Mr. Chapman reflecting upon the spirit of Hydro in its dealings with the public, and nearly two hundred farmers, some of them from Hon. Mr. Cooke's own neighborhood heard that statement and must have gone away with the impression that it was true. And one effect of that statement is to create doubts in the mind of farmers of the good faith of the Hydro-Electric Commission in the negotiations for indemnity for depreciation of their farms.

In a sense Mr. Chapman's statement yas the most serious challenge to the Hydro-Electric Commission uttered at Saturday's meeting.

Miss Bennett Weas Major Herridge

CHARMING BRIDE WAS GIVEN AWAY BY HER BROTHER

Simple Grace Marked Wedding of Miss Bennett and Major Herridge.

RECEPTION FOLLOWED.

Every Wrap Dress and Feminine Detail of Bride's Trousseau Canadian Made.

(By Isabel C. Armstrong, Canadian Press Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, Ont., April 14. —In a charming and impressive ceremony, Miss Mildred Mariann Bennett, sister of Premier R. B. Bennett, was to-day married to Hon. William Duncan Herridge, Canadian Minister to the United States.

Miss Bennett is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Bennett, of Hopewell, N. B. Major Herridge is the son of the late Rev. Dr. W. T. Herridge and Mrs. Herridge, of Ottawa. Delightful Spring weather smiled on the occasion. The air was balmy and there was scarcely a cloud in the sky.

Vice-Regal Party Present.

In accordance with the wishes of the bride and groom, emphasis was placed on the religious significance of the ceremony, which took place at half past three oclock. Other than the Governor-General and Countess Bessborough, the invited guests included immediate relatives only.

Not only in Ottawa, but throughout the Dominion, the Premier's sister is noted for her gracious and happy personality, and outside the church throngs of people waited to wish the couple happiness. A spontaneous demonstration testified to the affection in which the bride is held. For many years the bride has been an inseparable companion of the Prime Minister. During the last political campaign she went with him across the country and was frequently heard on the public platform. The groom, before his appointment at Washington, was for some time confidential advisor to the Prime Minister. He attained an international reputation as a patent and corporation lawyer. He had a distinguished military career in the war, and was awarded the Distinguished Service Order and the Military Cross with bar.

FLYING FORTRESS GIVEN TEST IN U.S.

Craft Faster Than Army Pursuit Planes Has Automatic Machine Guns in Wings.

CARRIES BOMB CARGO.

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 14.— An army "flying fortress" whose single wing bristles with machine guns, was described by the New York Herald-Tribune to-day. Tests were conducted with extreme secrecy yesterday at Teterboro Airport, N.J.

The plane, designed by Anthony H. G. Fokker, is described as the most formidable fighting aircraft of its kind ever turned out. In a diving attack the whole wing opens fire under automatic control.

Manned by a crew of two, the plane carries a quarter of a ton of bombs and six machine guns, yet the preliminary tests indicate that it is faster than the pursuit plane now in use by the army.

One official observer is quoted as saying that the development is "comparable to taking a leviathan of the sea and giving it the speed and maneuverability of a humming bird."

Four of the machine guns are buried in the leading edge of the wing. The others are mounted on a movable ring topping the gunners' cockpit.

STRUCK BY TRAIN A. PATTERSON HAS CLOSE CALL

Road Commissioner For North Monaghan Suffers Only Minor Injuries.

CHEST WAS CRUSHED.

Did Not See the Train Until He Was Only a Few Feet From the Crossing.

Struck by a train and hurled thirty feet, a motor car was demolished at 10.25 this morning, but by some fortunate twist of fate Archie Patterson, Road Commissioner of North Monaghan, its only occupant, came out of the crash with only minor injuries.

Patterson was driving south on Monaghan Road. Failing to see C.P.R. train, No. 902, a fast freight from Toronto, approaching from the west, he drove on to the tracks. The engine struck the motor vehicle, and hurled it back over the sidewalk on the north-east corner of Romaine street.

Chest was Crushed.

Dragged from beneath the wreckage, Patterson was found upon examination by Dr. Raymore Scott to have escaped serious injury. His chest was crushed and bruised and his left wrist was scratched, but otherwise he was unhurt.

He told The Examiner that he did not see the train until he was but a few feet from the crossing. "I applied my brakes and tried to turn left to run beside the tracks, but it was too late," he stated.

Charles E. Foster, 72 Monaghan Road, and Goldie Bugg, 430 Edison Avenue, were witnesses of the accident. Both said that Patterson was proceeding at an average rate of speed toward the tracks. The train whistled, but Patterson apparently did not take warning. "The car slewed just a few feet from the tracks and then there was a crash. The car seemed to be just tossed back over the sidewalk," explained Foster.

The train was in charge of Engineer H. Topham, and Conductor Fred Wilkinson, both of West Toronto.

The view of the tracks west of Monaghan Road is clear for some 100 yards and trains can be seen approaching for more than 300 yards down the tracks.

Farmer Goes Fishing, Missing Four Days

THAMESVILLE, Ont., April 14 (C.P.). — Mystery surrounds the strange disappearance of Carl Dodman, aged 43, a farmer of Camden Township. Dodman was fishing in the River Thames four miles west of the village, just off Highway No. 2, about 4.30 on Friday afternoon.

A nephew was with him at the time, but left on an errand for the farmer by whom he was employed. When he returned to the river after about 20 minutes, Dodman had disappeared. When time passed and he did not appear, dragging operations were commenced and continued until Saturday night, but without any result.

KING STEPS OUT SPAIN DECLARED TO BE REPUBLIC

Quarter Century Reign Ends After Ultimatum is Sent Ministers.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED.

Niceto Zamara, Republican Chief, Takes Charge as Provisional President.

(By Clarence Dubose. Copyright, 1931, by the A.P.).

MADRID, April 14. — King Alfonso, the last of the Bourbons, abdicated at 6 o'clock this evening (1 p.m. E.S.T.).

The monarch, who was born a King and had reigned in the ancient Spanish capital more than a quarter of a century, this afternoon bowed to the sweeping demands for a Republic that his subjects voiced last Sunday, and stepped out.

Although the King's abdication has been an unquestioned outcome of the political crises for the past few days, it was not until the last moment that he stepped from power.

Ultimatum Sent.

At 4.45 p.m. Alcala Zamora had found it necessary to send an ultimatum to the King's ministers saying that unless a Republic were formally accepted within an hour, the Republicans would not be responsible for the consequences.

Niceto Alcala Zamora, Republican leader, who not so many weeks ago was in jail for his activities, is Provisional President.

The hour went by and then just fifteen minutes after the ultimatum had expired, the abdication of the King became reality. The announcement was made exactly at six o'clock after a final session with the Cabinet in the Royal Palace.

A Republican Government, with Alcala Zamora as President, took charge immediately of the ancient and historic Monarchy.

Tentative Cabinet

The following tentative Cabinet of the new Spanish Provisional Republican Government was announced this afternoon as follows:

LANG REQUESTS 2 YEARS' GRACE

Claims Every Commitment to British Financial Interests Will Be Met.

WANTS FAIR DEAL.

MELBOURNE, Victoria, April 14. (C. P. Cable, via Reuters).—Premier J. T. Lang of New South Wales, head of the Australian Labor Extremists, delivered his statement of policy on debt repudiation to-day and declared that if British financial interests would allow Australia two years in which to get her house in order, she would then meet every just commitment.

Premier Lang defaulted interest payments of more than $3,000,000 due in London on April 1. The Commonwealth Government paid this amount and is now seeking to recover from the state by legal action.

Declaring his speech was directed wholly to British financial interests, Premier Lang said: "If you cannot treat us as you treated France and Italy, then treat us as you treated Belgium and even Germany."

INTENTIONS UNKNOWN.

CRANBERRA, Australia, April 14. —(C. P. Cable.)—When the House of Representatives reassembled after Easter to-day, Hon. E. G. Theodore, Commonwealth Treasurer, told a questioner that he had "no idea" of the intentions of the New South Wales Government regarding the interst due to Australian and United States bondholders this month. He understood the State would continue to pay until the interest bill, for reduction of interest rates, now before the State House had been dealt with.

The State paid commitments to United States' bondholders on April 1 but defaulted payments to bondholders in Great Britain.

Because of the unemployment situation in the district no one was allowed to enter unless he had $500 or more cash in his possession.

BANDIT CAPTURED AFTER WILD RUN

Youth in Stolen Taxi Lands in Police Hands as Machine Upsets.

FAKES UNCONSCIOUSNESS.

MONTREAL, Que., April 14 (C.P.) —Stephen O'Connor, 21, was arrested early this morning after a mad chase in which many shots were fired by a policeman, and charged with attempted robbery with violence. Albert Wilkins, a taxi-driver, was the alleged victim.

Wilkins was discovered by a policeman in the East End when the taxi man ran along a quiet street shouting for help. He told the officer that his taxi was in the hands of a bandit and the officer started in pursuit. After a short chase the taxicab overturned and was badly broken up, but the driver emerged unhurt and dashed across a field, the officer in pursuit, firing several shots at the fugitive. The latter fell and was taken to headquarters, where he seemed unconscious. A medical examination proved him to be uninjured.

Verbal Street Duel Ends In Police Court

"That's a lie, Your Worship, them words never passed my lips," declared James Pearson in Police Court this morning in repudiating the charge brought by Maurice Sweeney that he had used "foul" language on the street. A verbal duel developed in court between the two as they strove to explain what language had been used.

"I told Sweeney that the cops were after him and that's all" maintained Pearson.

The Magistrate believed the defendant because the case was dismissed. During the hot debate Sweeney alleged that Pearson had set fire to his hen house.

MAIN ESTIMATES CONTAIN NOTHING FOR PETERBORO'

Cobourg, Belleville, Port Hope and Oshawa Are All Mentioned.

OSHAWA GETS $75,000.

Kingston Also Will Get a Big Slice of Money to be Spent.

(Special to The Examiner)

OTTAWA, April 14. Peterborough is not mentioned in the Federal Government estimates for 1931-1932 as tabled last night in the House of Commons by Premier Bennett. For more than a year Peterborough, through civic delegations and its Government representative, has been urging upon the Governmen the need for a new Post Office and the combining of all Dominion offices under one roof. This has been lost in the successful attempt of the Government to make sweeping reductions, but may be brought down in the supplementary estimates likely to follow.

Belleville, Cobourg, Port Hope and Oshawa are mentioned, the total to be spent in these three places being $153,000. Oshawa leads with a further grant to harbour improvements of $75,000, and Cobourg gets $30,000 and Port Hope $27,000 for harbour improvements. Under public buildings $21,000 will be spent in Belleville which includes an addition to a site and improvements to heating.

Orillia gets $5,000 for public building alterations and improvements. Kingston is prominently mentioned, and $335,000 will be spent there. This includes, $5,300 for reconstruction of guide piers in LaSalle Causeway; $150,000 for dredging Little Cataraqui Bay, and another $175,000 for construction of Little Cataraqui Bay breakwater, which is already under contract; repairs to Kingston drydock to amount of $1,700, and repairs and improvements to the Royal Military College to a cost of $3,500.

C.G.E. EMPLOYEES PURCHASE 1,811 SHARES OF STOCK

Sale Made Under Company's Recently Devised Thrift Plan Number 5.

$99,605 SUBSCRIBED.

37 Per Cent of Employes Take Advantage of Offer to Subscribe.

The Canadian General Electric Company's accumulative preferred stock recently purchased by employees reached the impressive total of 1,811 shares for which they paid $99,605, R. E. Layfield, assistant to the Works Manager, told The Examiner to-day.

This sale was made under the company's recently devised thrift plan No. 5, by which preferred C.G.E. stock was offered to the employees at $55.00 a share on either cash or deferred payment transactions.

"Of the employees in our factory, 1,290 were eligible to subscribe for this stock," Mr. Layfield said. "Of that number there were 483 subscribers or 37 per cent. In that number 362 were old subscribers, that is, they had previously bought stock in the company, and 121 were new subscribers. The number of shares sold on the cash basis was 531, and on the deferred payment plan 1,280, making the total 1,811."

Bonus Is Guaranteed.

This preferred stock pays an annual dividend of 7 per cent. with a guaranteed bonus of 1 per cent. During the last two years the preferred stock holders have received a bonus of 2 per cent., an interest feature which should appeal to the employees. They are receiving 8 or 9 per cent. on an investment that carries all the security of the C.G.E. Company. Mr. Layfield remarked that the company has no outstanding bonds or mortgages. This preferred

AVIATION SERVICE IS NOT CURTAILED

Aviation Estimates Have Been Cut By Over Two and Quarter Million.

LESS WORK IN WEST.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 14 (C.P.)—The aviation estimates for the current fiscal year have been cut by over two and a quarter million dollars, bringing the vote down from $7,475,700 last year to $5,142,900. Examination of the details however, have disclosed to those most closely concerned with the development of aviation in Canada that the effect of the reduction will not be as serious as was originally feared.

The largest item reduced is that of civil air operations, the decrease being $1,289,000. A survey of the reduction indicates that the item would, of necessity, have been cut this year, inasmuch as a large number of non-recurring expenditures have been eliminated. The restoration of natural resources to the Western Provinces is responsible for much of the drop. Formerly the Civil Aviation Branch of the Department of National Defence assumed all responsibility for forestry patrols, elimination of grain pests, aerial photographic surveys, etc., in those Provinces. Now, however, the Provincial Governments will themselves have to take over such work, or, if they require its continuance, be obliged to pay the Federal Government for it. To perform this duty the Dominion had to establish airdromes and other bases of operations, had to provide the machines and pilots. With the resources now in the hands of the Provinces, the Dominion has washed its hands of all these obligations.

With regard to the decrease of $900,000 in air mail routes, a more difficult situation develops. Only $100,000 is proposed for the maintenance of the radio beacons, directional wireless along the air mail routes, and so on. Whether the Civil Aviation branch can get along with this is a problem. A number of the unremunerative air mail services will be scrapped, but in the main the principal services will continue unaffected.

Statement Made By Premier Henry Was Misconstrued

Construction of the Provincial Highways East of Peterborough Will Be Continued This Season With Probably Four Contracts in Progress.

T. P. LANCASTER IS ADVISED BY PREMIER HENRY THAT CESSATION STATEMENT APPLIED TO PAVING

New Route Between Norwood and Havelock Has Been Decided Upon by the Department—Construct High Level Bridge Over the C.P.R. East of Norwood.

Construction of the provincial highway east of Peterborough will be continued this season with probably four contracts in progress between here and Madoc.

This information was given to The Examiner by T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P., of Havelock, who outlined the location and extent of the work that will be carried on this year.

Referring to the resolution by Peterborough county council requesting the Ontario Department of Highways to suspend operations until the present economic depression has lifted, Mr. Lancaster said that members of the council must have misconstrued the expressed intentions of the Minister in his promise to discontinue highway work in counties that objected temporarily to the expense. This cessation of construction applied only to permanent paving, Mr. Lancaster said he had been advised by the Minister, Premier Henry.

This season's program of construction east of Peterborough includes the completion of Brennan Construction Company's contract immediately east of the city to Shearer's corners on the Norwood Road, and maintenance of the rest of the highway to Norwood.

New Route From Norwood

The Raynor Construction Company's contract for the section between Norwood and Havelock was also let last fall, but was held up by difficulties in arranging cash settlements with several property owners for a right of way over their land. The Department decided to avoid that obstacle by mapping out a new route for this link of the highway. Instead of following a course south of the C.P.R. from Norwood easterly, the road will cross the C.P.R. by a new high level bridge immediately east of Norwood in the vicinity of the Field Lodge Farm mill, and will extend to Havelock north of the railway to a point about a mile east of the C.P.R. village. The Raynor Construction Company retain this amended contract.

Hastings County Links

The road from Havelock to the Peterborough - Hastings boundary will be maintained by the Department for the present, but two contracts are proposed for the road east of the Hastings border. It is proposed to call for tenders for construction of the section from the boundary to Marmora village during the present season, and also for the section between Deloro and Madoc.

From Marmora to Deloro the present road is in fairly good condition, and will be maintained by the Department similarly to the link between Shearer's corner and Norwood.

The ultimate paving of any stretches of the new highway will not be undertaken for a few years at least. Mr. Lancaster said that this expenditure would be indefinitely deferred. The Department's Sanitary District Tunnel Cleared By New Smoke Ejector.

FIREMAN STILL MISSING.

Survivors Cheat Death By Huddling in Safety Chamber 14 Hours.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 14. — Sixteen men, groping in exhaustion, emerged to-day from a sanitary district sewage disposal tunnel in which seven workers and three firemen, sent to their rescue, had died after flames, smoke and deadly gas filled the bore last night.

As the survivors crawl to safety, after huddling 14 hours in a narrow air chamber, all but one man, Fire Captain James F. O'Neill, remained accounted for. He had not returned to the surface after leading the first rescue squad into the tunnel last night.

A policeman also was killed near the scene by an ambulance.

Heat that melted the rubber suit of a diver and fumes that choked and blinded the daring rescue squads had forestalled a thorough search of the bore until a new smoke-ejecting device rushed here from Kenosha, Wis., was applied to the air shaft.

Its double-barreled pipes sucked the smoke from the chamber 50 feet underground and forced compressed air down, clearing a path to safety for the entombed men. Once on the surface, they were rushed to St. Anthony's Hospital, where 28 other firemen already were patients, suffering from injuries and the effects of gas.

Survivors Crawl Out.

Led by Division Fire Marshal Patrick Pierce, the survivors crawled unaided to the surface through the shaft that had been an avenue to death for the ten firemen and tunnel workers trapped in lethal gas and unbearable heat.

They had saved their lives through twelve hours' imprisonment by sealing themselves in safety chambers at the end of the new sewage disposal tunnel.

The smoke ejector is the invention of Peter T. Pirsch, a Kenosha contractor, who hastened to complete his first model at 3 a.m. to-day, and sped here with his son to give the machine its baptismal test. Billows of smoke poured from the tunnel mouth as its pumps began function-

Girls Not Bothered On The City's Streets

Girls walk unmolested about Peterborough's streets at night, according to Chief Newhall.

Asked to-day whether conditions here were similar in any way to those claimed by ministers to exist in Cobourg where it is maintained girls can not take a walk at night without meeting insults from young men, Chief Newhall said: "It is almost a year since we have had a report of such a thing here."

"It was months ago that a girl reported that an unknown man had molested her on the Hunter Street bridge."

Contrary to Cobourg too, local girls do not hesitate to report the unwanted attentions of men to police, Chief Newhall said.

CHEMONG BRIDGE BADLY WRECKED

Wind and Waves Played Havoc With Floating Structure Over Week-End.

WEEKS BEFORE REPAIRED

Battered by wind and waves the Chemong floating bridge is in a most dismantled condition. Traffic over the bridge is impossible and it will probably be weeks if not months before it is in condition again to carry motor vehicles. Saturday and Sunday's wind storms played havoc with the bridge, carrying away practically all the railing on the west side and leaving very little on the east. In several places the bridge has separated and towards the middle of the lake it has been shifted a considerable distance to the east. Ice is piled high on the bridge, the planking is all loose and it is even dangerous for pedestrians.

Federal Estimates Slashed $37,327,754

RETRENCHMENT PROVES GENERAL 33 SERVICES CUT

Ontario Public Buildinf Funds Slashed By Half 1930 Total.

CIVIL SERVICE HIT.

Dupre Spekaing For First Time Spiritedly Attacks Anderson Gov't.

OTTAWA, Ont., Apr. 14.—(CP)—Consideration of interim supply bills, probably comprising one-twelfth of the main estimates tabled by Preimer R. B. Bennett last night, will occupy the attention of the House of Commons tomorrow. The Government, usually pays its employees on the 15th of the month and unless Parliament provides the money the civil servants will be forced to forego their bi-monthly salary checks.

The supply bills, however, may not be reached before the Liberal opposition has introduced the subject of dismissals from the Department of the Interior. Already many employes of this department have been dismissed and the opposition probably will ask they be absorbed in other branches rather than face unemployment. When the supply bills are passed the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne will be resumed by Cameron R. McIntosh (Lib., North Battleford).

Estimates Slashed

The estimated expenditure of the country for the fiscal year ending next March was set at $336,394,408 by Premier R. B. Bennett, Minister of Finance. This represented a decrease of $37,327,754 from the last financial year. Retrenchment was seen all along the line and of the 42 Government services, 33 showed reductions from last year and only nine increases.

The Minister of Finance tabled last night the Dominion's estimates for the fiscal year 1931-32. They total $336,394,048.63 as compared with total appropriations for he fiscal year 1930-31 of $432,722,163.35, a decrease of $37,327,754.72.

Of a total of forty-two services estimates for thirty-three have been reduced, and nine increased.

The estimates provide $50,500,000 for European war pensions, an increase of $60,000.

In the estimates for the Department of Agriculture is a new vote of $650,000 for grants to agricultural fairs and exhibitions, the total for agriculture being $9,929,000, an increase of $414,000.

For public buildings the following amounts are provided: Nova Scotia, $261,000; New Brunswick, $175,900; Quebec, $1,076,900; Ontario, $1,379,400; Manitoba, $81,700; Saskatchewan, $176,050; Alberta, $52,000, and British Columbia, $81,000. While votes for public buildings generally amount to $562,300, for harbors and rivers the sum of $4,183,600 is recommended.

PREMER AZNAR'S SPANISH CABINET RESIGNS OFFICE

King Withholds Acceptance—Begins Parley With Political Leaders.

MAY BE GENERAL ELECTION.

Madrid Streets Filled With Civil Guards, Soldiers Heavily Armed.

MADRID, April 14 (C.P.) — The Cabinet of Premier Admiral Juan Bautista Aznar, who became head of the Government just two months ago, handed their resignations to King Alfonso this forenoon. The action followed sweeping Republican victories at the nation-wide municipal elections held Monday.

Official announcement of acceptance of the resignations was withheld while the King began conferences with various political party leaders in an effort to form a party Government. King Alfonso himself received Admiral Aznar at the Palace for his renunciation of authority.

Situation Uncertain

The situation continued uncertain with Madrid streets filled with a small army of civil guards, police and soldiers, all heavily armed.

There were persistent rumors that the King might abdicate or that the Republicans might proclaim a Republic at any time.

Alfonso's first conferences were with with Jose Antonio Sanchez, leader of the left; Jose Bergamin, and Miguel Villanueva Gomez, all Constitutionalists, as the leaders of the movement for convening of a Constituent Cortes, or Constitutional Convention, are called.

This development was taken to indicate that the King was considering general elections and a Constitutional Convention which would determine whether Spain was to remain a Monarchy or become a Republic.

Trustees Turn Down Challenge By Tulsa

OTTAWA, April 14.—Arrangements for play-off matches between the champions of the American Hockey League and the 1931 National League holders of the Stanley Cup, recognized emblem of supremacy in professional ice hockey, cannot be made this year owing to the lateness of the season.

This was the edict handed down tonight by the custodians of of the historic trophy after consideration of a formal challenge sent by the Tulsa, Okla., club, which captured American League honors this season.

Announcement that the Tulsa challenge would have to be shelved for this year was made by William oFran, who is joint custodian of the Stanley Cup with P. D. Ross, also of Ottawa. "Owing to the lateness of the season we are unable to accept the Tulsa challenge," Mr. Foran said.

GROUNDS INVADED FISHERMEN KICK

Lunenburg Skipper Claims Foreign Boats Destroy Their Trawls.

PROTECTION SOUGHT.

SYDNEY, N.S., April 14.—A protest to the Minister of Fisheries will be forthcoming from Captain Arnold Parks, skipper of the Lunenburg schooner Bruce and Wenoro, who declared yesterday that foreign beam trawlers operating on the Sable Island banks were deliberately running down and destroying trawls set by the Lunenburg fishermen. Captain Parks and his crew of twenty-one brought the Bruce and Wenoro in yesterday, claiming to have been driven off the banks by the activities of foreign trawlers over a stretch of ten miles of fishing grounds. Their practice was, the captain said, to run between the trawl buoys and the dory-men, destroying the trawls and jeopardizing the fishermen.

"Unless the Government supplies the Lunenburg fleet with a suitable patrol boat to safeguard our interest these foreign trawlers will force the home fleet off the grounds in a very short time," the captain said.

program should receive the hearty approval of those municipalities which have urged upon the Department the advancement of the preliminary stages of construction which are now to be carried on. Marmora, Havelock, Norwood and the city of Peterborough have been in favor of this progress, and Madoc village is also in favor of the highway, but did not make any recent representation to the Department because, it was stated, certain details of the route in centre Hastings have not yet been settled.

Employment A Factor.

In this announcement of the season's No. 7 highway program it may be noted that the only new contracts are in Hastings county, the two Peterborough sections having been let last fall. Representations to the Department have pointed out that an important consideration this season would be the employment which would be provided for men who will be engaged. No objection has been raised by Hastings county council to building of the highway this year, and as Mr. Lancaster pointed out in his report of the proposed program the major expense of paving will not be incurred during the present financial stringency.

GROSS REVENUE CUT 17 PER CENT REPORT REVEALS

Despite Hard Times C.N.R. Net Revenue is Nearly 21 Millions.

REPORTS ARE TABLED.

Effective Control of All Expenses Revealed in Railways Operation.

OTTAWA, April 14.—The report of Sir Henry Thornton, Chairman and President of the Canadian National Railways, covering the operations of the system in 1930, was tabled in the House of Commons yesterday by Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, and shows a decrease in gross revenue of $46,223,052, with a decrease in expenses of $25,915,964. Net revenue for the system during the year 1930 was $26,510,937, a decrease of $20,307,087 as compared with 1929.

The year's operations produced $23,958,305 applicable toward paying the interest due the public on securities held and other interest charges. The interest due the public on funded debt was $50,921,422, and interest on unfunded debt amounted to $2,257,622, so that the deficit after meeting all charges to the public was $29,219,739. The accrued interest on Government advances was $32,067,462, producing a total deficit of $61,287,201.

Gross Revenue Falls

"The most outstanding and important fact in connection with the affairs of the company for the year 1930," the report states, "is the reduction in gross revenue of 17 per cent. This loss in revenue was not peculiar to the Canadian National Railways, for virtually all railways on the North American Continent, as well as other enterprises, have been similarly afflicted. The causes of such a situation have been much discussed, and a variety of reasons and remedies have been suggested. Suffice it to say, however, for the purposes of this report, that the condition exists. It was recognized by those who are responsible for the administration of the property, and progressively effective steps, within the limits of intelligence and prudence, were adopted to meet the situation, resulting in a reduction in expenses of substantially $26,000,000.

"In adopting remedial measures to meet such a considerable reduction in gross revenue, the railway administration was obliged to have a proper regard for the maintenance of the property, its responsibility to the public in the matter of services and its obligations to a large number of old and loyal employees who depended on the railway for their very ex-

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., April 14.—A deficit for the fiscal year of $234,581.23 is shown in the public accounts of the Province of Prince Edward Island, tabled in the Legislature last evening by Premier W. M. Lea. Total expenditure was $1,410,720, and total revenue $1,176,138. Ordinary revenue was $1,148,748 and ordinary expenditure $1,133,366. The estimate of expenditure for the year was exceeded by some $50,000.

ELECTION DATE DEBATE SUBJECT

Announcement Expected Inside Two Weeks as to Voting Day in Quebec.

LIBERALS ANXIOUS.

MONTREAL, Que., April 14. (CP) During this week or next the date of the Quebec provincial elections will be made known, observers of the political situation agree. Whether the elections will be in the spring or early summer is the question on which commentators are guessing. Premier L. A. Taschereau who has withdrawn to the country for a brief holiday following a strenuous session of the legislature, is noncommittal at present.

It is learned a caucus of Liberals recently left the matter of elections in the Premier's hands. Unofficially it is believed the Liberals spoke in favor of striking immediately, pointing out that in a long list of spring elections their party has been more than usually successful. The Liberal regime in this province goes back over thirty years.

Both parties are actively pushing their organization work. Each day brings word of new candidates ready to offer themselves before the electors. In this connection an interesting development is the apparent determination of Alderman J. Allan Bray, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Montreal city council, to offer himself in Vaudreuil County as a supporter of Mayor Camillien Houde who is also leader of the Conservative opposition. Mr. Bray has been holding sugaring parties in the county of late.

The provincial cabinet will meet on Thursday and it is quite possible the date of elections may be announced then.

BELMONT HOME RAZED BY FIRE

Mrs. Geo. Melville Loses Contents of House—Neighbors Save Barn.

BLAZE AT KING'S HALTED.

HAVELOCK, April 14 (Examiner Correspondence). — Yesterday, the 13th, but not Friday, was nevertheless an unlucky day for at least two residents in Belmont township, when fires broke out in their home. One of them, Mrs. George Melville, residing about four miles from Havelock in a north-easterly direction, lost her house ond contents.

Fanned by a strong west wind that at times reached the proportions of a gale, the fire which was first noticed in the roof, probably caused by a spark from the chimney, soon made the task of saving the house a hopeless one.

Ralph Cook, a neighbor living on the Round Lake road, about a half mile away, who was on his way to visit the Melvilles about 12.30 noon, first noticed the fire. It was providential that Mr. Cook happened along as the family, Mrs. Melville and her two daughters, Margaret Melville and Alice Wood and the latter's husband, Ralph Wood, were in the house eating their dinner, quite unaware of their danger. The family lost no time in getting out, carrying with them what they could. Among the articles lost were two stoves and three beds.

After about five minutes of futile effort to save the burning building, they directed all their energy to saving the barn and stable, situated directly to the east of the doomed building. At this point it was noticed the grass between the two buildings was on fire and sweeping rapidly toward the barn, and it was only due to their heroic efforts that the barn was saved, as it caught fire many times. The work of the fire-fighters can be better appreciated when it is known the only water available was that in a shallow stream about 25 yards from the house. The house, a log structure, built by Jack Melville, a brother of the late George Melville, about thirty-three years ago, was Yesterday in Parliament.

The Senate sat for a short time.

The House of Commons continued the debate on the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

Premier R. B. Bennett tabled the main estimates for the fiscal year, 1931-32, totalling $336,394,408, and estimates covering loans to the Canadian National Steamships and payments under the Maritime Freight Rates Act totalling $11,325,988.

Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, tab'ed the annual reports of the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian National Steamships.

Bennett Is Requested Form Wheat Board

WINNIPEG, Man., April 14.— (C. P.)— The Manitoba Free Press publishes the following from its Ottawa correspondent:

"Foreseeing difficulties in financing the 1931 wheat crop, representatives of the Prairie Provinces have placed before Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett a proposal to create a Canadian Wheat Board, similar to the one of 1919, and guarantee a fixed minimum price to farmers. Mr. Bennett did not give any reply to the proposal."

The Free Press Despatch says the prairie representatives suggested the Federal Government take over the marketing of all the crop, guaranteeing an initial payment to farmers of 55 cents per bushel at Fort William.

Too many women neglect this greatest Threat to Beauty!

LOSS of teeth threatens loss of beauty—and half the adult teeth lost are lost because of pyorrhea.

Here are words to startle every woman who values the youthful contour of her face. for a famous British scientist tells us that many people have pyorrhea for ten years before tender, spongy gums appear.

You should, of course, see your dentist regularly, but, more than this, you should give your teeth and gums thorough daily care.

Brush them with Forhan's. Massage them with Forhan's. This dentifrice was originated by R. J. Forhan, D. D. S., a specialist in pyorrhea.

Used for brushing the teeth, it cleans them gently, thoroughly, safely. Clean teeth add to beauty, but that is only half the story. When there are harsh tartar deposits at the gum line, the irritation is one cause of pyorrhea.

The other important reason for using Forhan's is the benefits it gives with massage (full instructions with every tube). Follow directions and you will feel the tingle of vigorous circulation—health-giving circulation—which helps to keep the gums strong and firm.

Forhan's is the logical dentifrice for the whole family—so safe that the tiniest child can use it. Do not let the precious years slip by—adopt Forhan's now as your dentifrice. It comes in two sizes, 35¢ and 60¢—just a few cents per tube more than ordinary toothpastes, and exceedingly well worth it. Forhan's Ltd., Montreal.

PROPERTY NEAR MARMORA YIELDS SAMPLES OF VALUABLE MARBLE

Cores Drilled From Beneath Swamp Are of Varied Hues.

FIRST FOUND 13 YEARS AGO.

MARMORA, April 14.—(Examiner Correspondence)—Beneath the unpromising surface of a swamp, what person anticipates the finding of much of monetary value, and yet beneath one of the small swamps in Marmora Township which has the forbidding appearance of all other swamps, lies buried what may prove to be one of the greatest marble finds in the history of Ontario' quarrying.

It is eighteen years now since the property was drilled at seven different sections in the quest of iron. Little of the sought mineral was found, but marble was yielded in attractive quantities with varying hues, such as black, green and even purple, besides the clear white. The property is that of Mr. Denis McGrath and it adjoins the C.N.R track about three miles north of the Marmora freight shed.

All these eighteen years, the cores, some two and a half inches in diameter and others of the smaller diameter a' obtained through the use of a diamond drill have lain in boxes in Mr. McGrath's drive house. These were shown to the Examiner representative who joined the growing army of the curious taking a Sunday afternoon hike to the place now becoming famous. All to be seen at the scene of operations is the large drill which has been operating under the direction of R. Blomfield, one of the present optioners, for the past two weeks.

Many Difficulties.

Difficulties enevitably had to be met in operating this at first but from the third hole which has been drilled, an eighteen foot core was removed on Saturday evening, the marble being reached 12 feet below the surface. This sample was of a beautiful greenish hue and the place from which it was taken is but two hundred feet from the railroad track.

In the drillings which took place in 1913, marble was obtained as deep as 135 feet beneath the surface and the natural marble foundations of Mr. McGrath's residence were also sampled.

Interesting developments of Marmora's newest project are being eagerly awaited. Two miles to the south is Bonter's silica rock quarry which has been operating little over a year and this venture also has met with a good measure of success. It would seem that the name "Marmora", meaning in the Latin "marble" is destined to greater significance in the days to come.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, April 14.—Butter and cheese quotations declined and egg prices advanced, while potato quotations were unchanged on the produce and dairy market here yesterday.

Fresh and regraded No. 1 finest butter lost ¼c, being quoted at 31c and 31½c a pound respectively. To retailers, prices were unchanged, solids being quoted at 33c to 34c and prints at 34c to 35c a pound. Receipts were 609 boxes.

Ontario colored cheese lost ¼c to ½c at 11¾c to 12c a pound, and receipts were only 7 boxes.

On the egg market fresh Ontario and Prairie seconds, in carlots, gained ½c at 19c to 20c, while extras and firsts were unchanged at 24c and 23c a dozen respectively. Quotations to retailers were unchanged. Receipts were 1,937 cases.

New Brunswick Green Mountain potatoes, in carlots, were quoted at 90c per 80-lb. bag and to retailers $1 per 80-lb bag.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, April 14.—The butter market was a dull affair yesterday and prices were down another ¼c per pound. Since the recent buying spell brokers' quotations have declined ½c to ¾c on No. 1 and No. 2 creamery solids, but buyers have not shown much enthusiasm, even at the reduced range. Yesterday the prices of 32c for best No. 1 and 31c for No. 2 were only naminal, as there was no real trading and receipts from Ontario creameries were more than equal to the demand.

Cheese

New cheese was quoted lower by brokers at 13c to 13¼c for new large, 13¼c to 13½c for twins and 13½c to 13¾c for triplets. Price to retailers were steady at last week decrease, the range being 14c for new large, 14¼c for twins and 14½c for triplets, but wholesalers were of the opinion that still less money would be asked in the near future.

Eggs

Prices for eggs were steady, but trade was not very active and the demand was not quite able to take care of receipts. Some storing has been done, but not in proporton to other years when the prices have been low. Buyers have been waiting for a real bottom price and do not want to store too heavy and have to take losses like those of last year.

Country egg shippers were quoted 20c for extras, 18c for firsts and 16c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned. Retailers were offered, extras at 26c in cartons, 24c for extras loose, 22c for firsts loose and 19c to 19½c for seconds loose. Brokers quoted graded eggs at 22½c to 23c for extras, 20½c to 21c for firsts and 18c to 18½c for seconds, in free cases.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 14. — Influenced by good export business worked in Canadian wheat since Saturday and strong foreign cables wheat values advanced ⅝c to ¾c at close of trading in the wheat pit here yesterday.

The May future closed at 60⅝c, up ⅝c, July was up ¾c at 62¼c, while October closed at 64½c, up ⅝c.

Pit trade for the most part was in fair volume, with support coming from seaboard houses. Export sales over the week-end totalled one million bushels.

Cash wheat met a good demand with spreads generally unchanged to ¼c better. Sales of barley for export featured the coarse grains section. Prices were fractionally higher in all commodities.

MILLIONTH FORD IS SEEN IN CITY

Ford's Policy During the Present Year is to Create Work.

$116,000 SPENT IN CITY

The millionth Ford automobile was here yesterday afternoon! A sleek, shiny sedan just the same as its counterpart which may be purchased through any Ford dealer in the country, except that it was emblazoned with the caption "The Millionth Ford," but what a wide gap it establishes in the evolution of motor car design, since the creation of the initial 'buggy-like' model in the days when sceptics were slow to believe that a new era in the transportation world was dawning.

This Ford car driven by L. J. Washer, retail promotion agent for the Ford Company was the object of much interest, and headed a large parade of automobiles of all types, makes and models through the main streets of the city.

In the company of Charles F. Cumming, of Hood and Cumming, local Ford agents, Mr. Washer paid a visit to The Examiner and in the course of conversation intimated that the Ford Motor Company's policy during the present year, is to create labor, not with a view of amassing profits, but with the one purpose of keeping the wheels of industry turning.

"Every Ford car we manufacture," he stated, "actually creates six weeks' work for a fellow Canadian, while every ten cars manufactured creates a year's work for one man. Seventy-five per cent. of the cost of manufacture of a Ford car goes out in wages. An astounding fact, but nevertheless an actual truth."

$116,000 Spent in City

"During the past year the Ford Company spent the vast sum of $116,000 in Peterborough alone, and the point I wish to drive home is, that in purchasing a Canadian made Ford, one is doing something to help along home industry—a Peterborough industry."

"That's the theme song of our present tour with the "Millionth Ford," Mr. Washer added.

"It is very hard for people to realise that we have produced one million Ford cars right in Canada, but we want them to realize also that the Ford Motor Company is a Canadian Corporation and a contribution to the country's progress."

"In the last decade over $300 million has been expended by our Company in Canada, while in the past fourteen years the proceeds from exported Canadian cars made by the Ford Company, has amounted to $150 million. Last year which was considered the peak, so far as our export trade was concerned we brought into Canada $11 million of new money."

"It will thus be realized that the whole thing takes on a national aspect, and that there is a real patriotic motive behind the purchase of every Ford vehicle."

Mr. Washer proceeded to Lindsay from here, having started out from Windsor, where the car was made on March 21st, last week. En route here he touched all the important centres from Hamilton to Kingston, and his itinerary is to include a tour across the whole Dominion from coast to coast.

Rev. Mr. McNeely offered a very beautiful prayer and Mr. Sutherland, in his remarks, struck the keynote of Mr. Lang's character when he spoke of his charitable works and pointed out that he was a man who did not let his left hand know what his right hand did.

Among those who attended the funeral from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson, Mrs. John MacFarlane, Mrs. William Mein, Mrs. Isaac Fife and Mrs. Kerr, all of Peterborough; Mrs. Armstrong and two sons, of Stewart's Hall, Miss Ella Cameron, Mrs. Hope and Miss Sharpe, of Westwood.

Aged Toronto Man Ends Life With Gas

TORONTO, Ont., April 14 (C.P.)—Charles P. Burke, 95, of Toronto, ended his life yesterday by inhaling illuminating gas.

Some weeks ago his wife died and he was grief stricken. He retired to bed early last evening and, according to the police, after stuffing the doors and windowcracks of his room with paper, turned on the illuminating gas mantle and left it unlighted.

Mr. Burke's nurse, unable to get in his bedroom, to-day called the police who, on forcing the door, found him lying on the bed with his head covered with a blanket. The coroner's department was notified and the body removed to the morgue.

ROTARIANS HEAR REV. R. W. PATON

Roseneath Pastor is Guest Speaker at Weekly Luncheon of Campbellford Club.

DESCRIBES SCOTLAND

CAMPBELLFORD, April 14 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — An address on "A Few Glimpses of Scotland," formed the theme for the guest speaker of the Campbellford Rotary Club, the Rev. R. W. Paton, M.A., of Roseneath at the weekly luncheon held yesterday in the St. Lawrence Hotel, when he gave a splendid description of that country and drew a word picture of different centres that was interesting and instructive. The club president, H. N. Carr occupied the chair.

In his opening remarks Mr. Paton said that there were two distinct features of Scotland which gives the country its individuality, its scenic beauty and the atmosphere of tradition that prevails. Of the first named feature he said that it was known as Bonnie Scotland, pointing out that although there were wonderful sights to be seen here in Canada none of them could be termed in the true sense "bonnie." The hills of Scotland with their wonderful greenness, the moors and the lakes, were individual to the country.

In a very able manner the speaker described the more notable features of the country, the wooded isles and Loch Lomond, and those places of scenic beauty for which it is noted.

Of the historic interest of Scotland Mr. Paton said that a great deal of the country's history was made in the past and that the places make its history live in the imagination. The people of Scotland love to memorialize the past, they are fond of their great men, as can be seen by their love for Burns, the Ayrshire poet. He is a living force in the every day life of the people and himself has interpreted Scotland in his writings.

Of the city of Glasgow the speaker said that it was the most cosmopolitan in the country, a monument to the vigor of the people. He pointed out that the River Clyde, which was originally a shallow salmon stream, had made Glasgow as Glasgow had made the Clyde. For the area covered, the population, one and a quarter million people, was dense. They were a people who were kind and gracious and whose hospitality was excellent. "Glasgow," said Mr. Paton, "is a city of the glad hand, which is the reverse to Edinburgh which is a silent city, and one where brains or birth open the door of society." One of the sights of Glasgow, the speaker stated was the cathedral, with the Necropolis, the city of the dead, in the rear of it.

Edinburgh is a different type city altogether. It is exclusive and suffers from a superiority complex. It is a place that breathes the atmosphere of royalty, which is especially found at Holyrood Palace. Princes street is one of the finest thoroughfares in the country, while the Castle is full of historic interest, marching hand in hand with the past. "The walk down the Castle Hill to the Cannon Gate is a mile of memories," the speaker said, especially of John Knox, who set the country afire with his Calvinistic doctrine and preaching, but Mr. Paton pointed out that the people of Edinburgh went so far as to forget the grave of this great man, and only an approximate site is shown.

National War Memorial

The speaker concluded his address by describing what he called "The greatest sight in Great Britain," the Scottish War Memorial. It was personal in its appeal and was the soul of Scotland. It was a hymn of praise, and embodied more pride and less regret than any memorial in the world. It was coldly dignified in its beauty yet warmly emotional. It was a memorial of arches in the gothic, each division being given over to different regiments with the regimental colors. The windows were especially beautiful, representing all spheres of war work including the work of the women. There was nothing of the beastliness and horror of war in this portrayal.

It was the war shining forth through the windows of the Scottish soul. Then one entered into a place of prayer through gates of bronze, the Shrine. Here there was a beautiful bronze portraying the sons and daughters of Scotland who took part in the World War, and on the altar was a casket which contained the names of the 100,000 Scottish soldiers who died. "It was typical of the genius of the Celt to sanctify sorrow," declared the speaker.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Paton was moved and seconded by S. H. Neale and A. D. Bennett and conveyed to him by the president.

Next week's meeting of the Campbellford Rotary Club will be featured by the annual election of officers.

LEGION INITIATES 12 NEW MEMBERS

Recently Elected Officers of Peterborough Branch Are Installed.

Twelve new members were last night initiated into the local branch of the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L., while the recently elected officers and executive were also installed in office as follows: President, A. E. Everett; 1st vice-president, R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne; 2nd vice-president, Rev. Captain Father Paul Costello; Immediate Past president, James Abraham; executive, J. A. Dewart, M.C.; V. Cutmore, R. Long, Dr. N. H. Sutton, G. A. Macdonald and Lieut-Colonel M. H. Park, V.D.; committees, sick, H. Coit; entertainment, T. M. Williamson; relief, house and pension, James Abraham.

On the motion of Comrade Abraham, seconded by Comrade Morris, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the past secretary-treasurer W. Swanger for the able manner in which he had always discharged his duties.

Comrade Abraham also spoke on pension matters, and reminded the gathering that there are thousands of cases waiting to be dealt with, not only in Peterborough but in other centres throughout the Dominion.

He urged them to have confidence in the thought that these matters were being dealt with in an expeditious manner, and that they must all have patience.

Called upon by President Everett, C. Bowker, president of Branch 31, Mount Dennis, Toronto, addressed a few words to the members of branch 52, bringing them greetings from the Toronto comrades and assuring them of the pleasure it gave him to be present on such an occasion.

At a later juncture President Bowker, who is a former English concert hall comedian, added greatly to the entertainment held in the auditorium, where a splendid program was given by Eddie Leonard's well known minstrels.

Flying Officer A. K. K. Calwell, of Belfast, Ireland, who died recently, left nearly $20,000 in trust for the benefit of wives and children of Royal Air Force officers who have been or may be killed in flying accidents.

Mrs. James McKenzie Hostess To W.M.S.

CENTRETON, April 14 (Examiner Correspondence)—The members of the W.M.S. held their Easter meeting at the home of Mrs. James McKenzie on Thursday, when the members responded to the roll call with a verse of scripture.

After the opening exercises, Mrs. Will Rogers gave an interesting reading on Easter thoughts. Mrs. Archie Nichol gave a splendid report of the W.M.S. Convention held in Cobourg following which a vote of thanks was extended to her. Mrs. James McKenzie contributed a temperance reading and the hostess played the selection, "Will the Anchor Hold" on the gramaphone.

Nichol and Mrs. McGregor sang a duet. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Nichol. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess.

GET DOWN TO BUSINESS.

Now that Canada's Parliament has re-opened, it is to be hoped that little time will be lost in terminating the debate in reply to the Speech from the Throne, which has been carried over the recess.

There is not even political advantage in further prolonging this already much too long feast of talk.

The people of Canada have long since lost interest in the debate; in fact, public attention began to wander just as soon as the speeches of the leaders had been made.

Once the leaders had spoken few people outside of Parliament cared to hear what the lesser lights had to say.

There is in the problems to come before Parliament this session a good many things that can be discussed with profit to the country, and the politicians might as well call it a day so far as the initial debate is concerned and get along to the business that really matters.

With trade shrinking, wheat unsold and unemployment still a pressing problem, the people have no patience with this long drawn-out verbal argument over nothing in particular.

Let Parliament get down to business.

THE FARMERS UNITE.

It is not surprising to find the farmers of this district banding themselves together to protect themselves against the depreciation of their land by the power lines of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission.

The strange part is, that the resentment that has existed at the scurry treatment accorded farmers whose land has been despoiled has not long since broken out into action.

The inexorable manner in which the Hydro lines have been carried over agricultural lands and the miserable recompense that has been paid to the land owners who have suffered thereby might have been expected to produce a storm of protest that would have to be met with a fairer policy than that hitherto prevailing.

It is true that at the last session of the Legislature new legislation that has materially improved the situation was passed, but an examination of this legislation indicates that the farmer is not yet in a position to expect adequate recompense for the damage his land has sustained or is likely to sustain as the result of further power line development.

There is need for further adjustment and for retroactive justice for those who have already been losers, and the farmers of the district have taken a commonsense as well as an effective way of seeking their rights in forming an association.

Much more can be accomplished by an organization speaking with one voice for all the land owners concerned than could be hoped for were the farmers to endeavor to fight single handedly for justice.

The Ontario Hydro Commission has been allowed to ride rough shod over individual rights too long, and the time has come for united action against the injustice of the policy followed.

FAIRER TREATMENT NEEDED.

It is a strange commentary on our civilization that a Canadian Chinese, addressing members of a service club, should find it necessary to utter a plea for more sympathetic treatment of his fellow-countrymen living in Canada.

The worst part of it all is that his indictment of the general Canadian attitude toward the Chinese who live among us was all too true.

The Chinese we have in Peterborough are quiet, honest, law-abiding people who mind their own business and who are scrupulous about paying their bills to a degree that should shame a good many of our white citizens.

And yet they are addressed by many people in terms that should make honest Canadians blush that fellow human beings should be so humiliated.

Our attitude toward the Chinese is typical of our treatment of other residents of foreign birth; the work of the melting pot is made all the more difficult because of an insular idea that all people whose origin is not Canadian or British are to be regarded as on a lower plane socially and otherwise than the rest of the community.

Instead of helping to Canadianize our foreign-born citizens and using the best they have to offer in the fabric of our citizenship, we regard them as Chinks or Wops or Bohunks as the case may be and thus drive them for protection into themselves.

Sometimes, of course, we get among our newcomers a race like the Doukhobors with whom nothing can be accomplished in the way of Canadianization—but it should be remembered that the majority of foreign-born residents desire to become useful members of the society which they have allied themselves.

BETTER OUT OF THE COUNTRY.

Considerable comment was occasioned a short time ago over the fact that Miss Alexandra Tolstoy, daughter of the famous Russian novelist, had been refused admittance to Canada because she had been unable to obtain her passport from the Russian Government.

It now turns out that Miss Tolstoy's purpose in seeking entrance to Canada was to edit a Doukhobor newspaper, which puts a quite different complection on the matter.

Of all the mistakes the Canadian immigration department may have been guilty the most serious possible was admitting Doukhobor settlers to this country.

As the Stratford Beacon-Herald forcibly puts it, the Doukhobors "have no more love for our institutions than Gandhi has for a plug hat."

They have been a constant source of trouble, for they have no intention of trying to become Canadians or to adapt themselves to Canadian standards of living, and they refuse to allow their children to be educated in Canadian schools.

If Miss Tolstoy's idea in trying to enter Canada was to continue to stir up the racial consciousness of the misfits through the medium of a newspaper she is better out of the country, and the British Columbian and Federal Governments were entirely justified in refusing to allow her to come in.

The Doukhobors are bad enough now without any press agitation to stir them up.

THE GENERAL OUTLOOK.

The stability which has been noted in our two preceding issues is still characteristic of business, says the monthly letter of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. We repeat, however, our former qualification, namely, that the current movement has not proceeded far enough to lead to a firm conclusion as to the future trend of business, for the ground must be cleared of much debris before the way is opened for a continuous advance. This will be obvious if consideration be given to the fact that the origin of many economic difficulties with which practically the entire world has had to contend can be traced back for some years prior to the commencement of the present depression, and their removal may require time.

The business record of the last three months is, however, the most stable of the past year and a half, even though commercial activity is well below that of a year ago. In other words, while the tide of trade is at low ebb, there has been no further marked recession, but instead slight indications of a turn towards the flow. It is, of course, usual to witness an upturn in industry at this time of the year, and, therefore, it should be kept in mind that the comparative steadiness of the last three months may be accounted for largely by the customary seasonal swing. But accompanying this development has been a firmer tone in prices of the principal commodities; the decline in the general level has continued, but at a much slower rate than throughout the greater part of 1930. If this firming tendency in commodity markets continues over a sufficient period it should, with the aid of cheap money, bring about that confidence in prices which is essential to orderly commerce and, in addition, hasten the readjustment between producers' and consumers' prices, without which there can be no substantial improvement in trade.

We turn now from somewhat general to specific terms in order to reinforce the foregoing remarks. The average monthly decline in our price index number since January is 1.02, as compared with a monthly average loss of over two points in the last six months of 1930. Starting from a low level in December, steel production has increased by about 30 per cent., although it is about one-third less than the output in the first quarter of last year. Activity in automobile manufacture has gained by about 45 per cent., and while production is below the normal rate, such expansion as has recently taken place has been helpful not only in the centres in which the industry is situated, but at many others where there are allied industries. Manufacturers of furniture have been well occupied, as have some branches of the textile and boot and shoe industries. Farm implement manufacturers have added to their working forces, but their output is small compared with that of former years. The newsprint industry has, according to preliminary reports, been more active in March than in February, which was a dull period, the mills as a whole then working at 56 per cent. of capacity. Consequent upon a slightly greater demand for their products following a generally favorable logging season in which production costs were reduced materially, lumbermen have established a more favorable ratio between orders and output, but while they have increased their cut somewhat it is fully 20 per cent. below that of a year ago and not more than 50 per cent. of capacity. Construction contracts awarded, as a whole, have steadily been enlarged until those for March exceeded the figures reported in the like month of 1930. Allowing for lower building costs, the work now in progress is 13 per cent. less than at this time last year; it has changed also in form, there being a subnormal volume of residential and industrial construction and a large program for public works and engineering.

Agricultural conditions have not changed beyond the hope that comes with the opening of spring and the progress towards diversified farming in the West, which is indicated by official reports showing an increase in February, 1931, of 56 per cent. in butter fat received at the creameries in Manitoba over February, 1930, and of 83 per cent. in receipts at the creameries in Alberta. In Saskatchewan the butter production in January, 1931, was 76 per cent. larger than in January, 1930. Total exports of wheat since August 1st, 1930, amount to about 175 million bushels, more than double those of any other country, but shipments in recent weeks have been below the weekly average for the elapsed part of the current "wheat year."

TANAR OF PELLUCIDAR

BY

EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

So filled with fear was Stellara's tone that Tanar felt the hair rise upon his scalp as he wheeled about to face the thing that had so filled the girl with horror, but even had he had time to conjure in his imagination a picture worthy of her fright,he could not have imagined a more fearsome or repulsive thing than that which was advancing upon them.

In conformation it was primarily human, but there the similarity ended. It had arms and legs and it walked erect upon two feet; but such feet! They were huge, flat things with nailless toes—short stubby toes with webs between them. Its arms were short and in lieu of fingers its hands were armed with three heavy claws. It stood somewhere in the neighborhood of five feet in height and there was not a vestige of hair upon its entire naked body, the skin of which was of the sickly pallor of a corpse.

But these attributes lent to it a fraction of its repulsiveness—it was its head and face that were appalling. It had no external ears, there being only two small orifices on either side of its head where these organs are ordinarily located. Its mouth was large with loose, flabby lips that were drawn back now in a snarl that exposed two rows of heavy fangs. Two small openings above the center of the mouth marked the spot where a nose should have been and, to add further to the hideousness of its appearance, it was eyeless, unless bulging protuberances forcing out the skin where the eyes should have been might be called eyes. Here the skin upon the face moved as though great, round eyes were rolling beneath. The hideousness of that blank face without eyelids, lashes or eyebrows shocked even the calm and steady nerves of Tanar.

The creature carried no weapons, but what need had it for weapons, armed as it was with those formidable claws and fangs? Beneath its pallid skin surged great muscles that attested its giant strength and upon its otherwise blank face the mouth alone was sufficient to suggest its diabolical ferocity.

"Run, Tanar!" cried Stellara. "Take to the trees! It is one of the Buried People." But the thing was too close to him to admit of escape even if Tanar had been minded to desert Stellara, and so he stood there quietly awaiting the encounter and then suddenly, as though to add to the uncanny horror of the situation, the thing spoke. From its flabby, drooping lips issued sounds—mumbled, ghastly sounds that yet took on the semblance of speech until it became intelligible in a distorted way to Tanar and Stellara.

"It is the woman I want," mumbled the creature. "Give me the woman, and the man may go." To Tanar's shocked sensibilities it was as though a mutilated corpse had risen from the grave and spoken, and he fell back a step with a sensation as nearly akin to horror as he had ever experienced.

"You cannot have the woman," said Tanar. "Leave us alone, or I will kill you."

An uncanny scream that was a mixture of laugh and shriek broke from the lips of the thing. "Then die!" it cried, as it launghed itself upon the Sarian.

As it closed it struck upward with its heavy claws in an attempt to disembowel its antagonist, but Tanar eluded its first rush by leaping lightly to one side and then, turning quickly, he hurled himself upon the loathsome body and circling its neck with one powerful arm Tanar turned suddenly and, bending his body forward and downward, hurled the creature over his head and heavily to the ground.

But instantly it was up again and at him. Screaming with rage and frothing at the mouth it struck wildly with its heavy claws, but Tanar had learned certain things from David Innes that men of the stone age ordinarily do not know, for David had taught him, as he had taught many another young Pellucidarian, the art of self-defense, including boxing, wrestling and jui-jitsu, and now again they came into good stead as they had upon other occasions since he had mastered them and once more he gave thanks for the fortunate circumstance that had broughtDavid Innes from the outer crust to Pellucidar to direct the destinies of its human race as first emperor.

Combined with his knowledge, training and agility was Tanar's great strength, without which these other accomplishments would have been of far lesser value, and so as the creature struck, Tanar parried the blows, fending the wicked talons from his flesh and with a strength that surprised his antagonist since it was fully as great as his own.

But what was still more surprising to the monster was the frequency with which Tanar was able to step in and deliver telling blows to the body and head that in its awkwardness and lack of skill, it was unable to properly protect.

To one side, watching the battle for which she was the stake, stood Stellara. She might have run away and hidden; she might have made good her escape, but no such thoughts entered her courageous little head. It would have been impossible for her to desert her champion in the hour of his need as it would have been for him to leave her to her fate and so she stood, helpless, awaiting the outcome.

To and fro across the clearing the battlers moved, trampling down the lush vegetation that sometimes grew so thickly as to hamper their movements, and now it became apparent to both Stellara and Tanar from the labored breathing of the creature that it was being steadily worn down and that it lacked the endurance of the Sarian. However, probably sensing something of this itself, it now redoubled its efforts and the ferocity of its attack, and, at the same time, Tanar discovered a vulnerable spot at which to aim his blows.

Striking for the face he had accidently touched one of the bulging protuberances that lay beneath the skin where the eyes should have been. At the impact of the blow, light as it was, the creature screamed and leaped backward, instinctively raising one of its claws to the injured organ and thereafter Tanar directed all his efforts toward placing further and heavier blows upon these two bulging spots.

He struck again and landed cleanly a heavy blow upon one of them. With a shriek of pain the creature stepped back and clamped both paws to its hurt.

They were fighting very close to where Stellara stood. The creature's back was toward her and she could have reached out and touched him, so near was he to her. She saw Tanar spring forward to strike again. The creature dropped back quite abreast of her and then suddenly lowering its head it gave vent to a horrid shriek and charged the Sarian with all the hideous ferocity that it could gather.

It seemed as though it had mustered all its remaining vitality and thrown it into this last, mad charge. Tanar, his mind and muscles co-ordinating perfectly, quick to see openings and take advantage of them and equally quick to realize the advantages of retreat, leaped backward to avoid the mad charge and the flailing claws, but as he did so one of his heels struck a low bush and he fell heavily to the ground upon his back.

For the moment he was helpless and in that brief moment the creature could be upon him with those horrid fangs and ripping claws.

Tanar knew it. The thing charging him knew it and Stellara, standing so close to them, knew it, and so quickly did she act that Tanar had scarcely struck the ground as she launched herself bodily upon the charging monster from behind.

As a football player hurls himself forward to tackle an opponent to Stellara hurled herself at the creature. Her arms encircled its knees and then slipped down, as he kicked and struggled to free himself, until finally she secured a hold upon one of his skinny ankles just above its huge foot. There she clung and the creature lunged forward just short of Tanar, but instantly, with a howl of rage, it turned to rend the girl. But that brief instant of delay had been sufficient to permit Tanar to regain his feet and ere ever the talons or fangs could sink into the soft flesh of Stellara, Tanar was upon the creature's back. Fingers of steel encircled its throat and though it struggled and struck out with its heavy claws it was at last helpless in the clutches of the Sarian.

Slowly, relentlessly, Tanar choked the life from the monster and then, with an expression of disgust, he cast the corpse aside and stepped quickly to where Stellara was staggering weakly to her feet.

He put his arm about her and for a moment she buried her face in his shoulder and sobbed. "Do not be afraid," he said; "the thing is dead."

She raised her face toward his. "Let us go away from here," she said. "I am afraid. There may be more of the Buried People about. There must be an entrance to their underworld near here, for they do not wander far from such openings."

"Yes," he said, "until I have weapons I wish to see no more of them."

"They are horrible creatures," said Stellara, and if there had been two of them we should both have been lost."

"What are they?" asked Tanar. "You seem to know about them. Where had you ever seen one before?"

"I have never seen one until just now," said she, "but my mother told me about them. They are feared and hated by all Amiocapians. They are Coripies and they inhabit dark caverns and tunnels beneath the surface of the ground. That is why we call them the Buried People. They live on flesh and wandering about the jungle they gather up the remains of our kills and devour the bodies of wild beasts that have died in the forest, but being afraid of our spears they do not venture far from the openings that lead down into their dark world. Occasionally they waylay a lone hunter and less often they come to one of our villages and seize a woman or child. No one has ever entered their world and escaped to tell about it, so that why my mother has told me about them is only what our people have imagined as to the underworld where the Buried People dwell for there has never been any Amiocapian warrior brave enough to venture into the dark recesses of one of their tunnels, or if there has been such he has not returned to tell of it."

"And if the kindly Amiocapians had not decided to burn us to death, they might have given us to the Buried People?" asked Tanar.

"Yes, they would have taken us and bound us to trees close to one of the entrances to the underworld, but do not blame my mother's people for that as they would have been doing only that which they considered right and proper."

"Perhaps they are a kindly people," said Tanar, with a grin, "for it was certainly far more kind to accord us death by burning at the stake than to have left us to the horrid attentions of the Coripies. But come, we will take to the trees again, for this spot does not look as beautiful to me now as it idd when we first looked upon it."

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at The Examiner Office on the day before it is desired to have them inserted.

Editor, Examiner,
Sir:

In connection with the recent article in the Examiner, on the alleged confession of Nino Pecararo the "medium," it is interesting to note that, sooner or later, all these so-called "spirit mediums" are either proved to be fraudulent, or else confess to a long series of deceptions of their credulous supporters. It would appear from past records that mediumship inevitably leads to a mental and moral degradation terrible in the ultimate end. The history of spiritua lism is full of such cases.

That prominent men like Lodge and Doyle have believed in spiritualism is no argument for the genuineness of the cult. Scientific and literary genius does not necessarily imply the ability to see and detect fraud and imposture. All the great churches teach that there is a "communion of saints" but this is accomplished by a lifting up of the spiritual natures of those here on earth towards the higher things of the spiritual world, not by parlor tricks and legerdemain, moving of furniture, and receiving of "messages" that are remarkable more by their ambiguous and illiterate nature, than by any revelation of new aspects of truth.

It is interesting to know what the great mystery school of the Rosicrucians the A.M.O.R.C. whose American headquarters are at San Jose, California, says of the matter,

"Spiritualism as a system, is taboo with the Rosicrucians, for they KNOW that the spiritualistic explanation of much phenomena is wrong, that most so-called mediums are unaware of the facts, know little or nothing of the laws they are attempting to demonstrate, and often bring serious situations and sorrows into the lives of those who are guided by them. Furthermore, Rosicrucians KNOW that departed souls do NOT return to earth in a material form, and that departed spirits do NOT make materialized demonstrations as entities, and that "communications" are not always what they seem to be to the spiritualists."

In other words, a large proportion of the spiritualistic phenomena is fraudulent, and the residue has nothing to do with "departed spirits."

Thanking you for your valuable space I am, Sir,

Frater R.

A Thought

DEATHLESSNESS OF LOVE.

If love lives through all life, and survives through all sorrow, and remains steadfact to us through all changes, and in all darkness of spirit burns brightly, and if we die, deplores us for ever, and still equally loves, and exists with the very last gasp and throb of the faithful bosom—whence it passes with the pure soul beyond death, surely it shall be immortal! Though we who remain are separated from it, is it not ours in heaven! If we love still those we lose, can we altogether lose those we love?—Thackeray.

What To-day Means To You

"ARIES

If April 14th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 a.m. to 11:15 a.m., from 2:15 p.m. to 4 p.m. and from 8 p.m. to 10:10 p.m. The danger hours are from 12:10 p.m. to 2 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

The astrological indications of April 14th point to a day of effort with a barrenness of result. Much will be attempted: little accomplished. Those who are wise will be content with the discharge of routine duties. After sunset, there will be a soothing atmosphere, propitious for lovers.

A child born on this April 14th will be naturally kind and have a sweet disposition. Its thoughts will be centered on its home and those whom it shelters. Rather than cause trouble, it will gladly shoulder others' responsibilities: it will, of course, be imposed upon. It is assured a fair degree of success.

Were you born on April 14th? If so, your horoscope says that you are not only attractive, but fascinating. You possess strong personal magnetism, and draw to you all of those who are your intimate associates. This, of course, is a dangerous gift. In your case, however, you never take an unfair advantage, and no one ever has reason to regret having been conquered by your charm. Although your disposition brings many to your way of thinking, you do not depend only on this factor for success. You are clever and have become so by hard study and by keen observation.

Tactfulness is one of your gifts. Knowledge of human nature is another; while your self-control prevents you at all times committing errors of impulsiveness. Your nature is a sympathetic one, provided those with whom you are called upon to sympathize, are frank and candid. Anything that savors of deceit or hypocrisy is anathema to one of your disposition.

The opposite sex is, of course, strongly attracted to you. This may lead to difficulties, but these will be overcome, and, when you make your definite choice of a mate, neither he nor she will have reason to complain of lack of love or of steadfastness.

NEW RECORDS SET BY CLAUDE NEON

Sales and Earnings in Current Year Showing About Same Ratio of Increase as Did 1930 Over 1929.

It is reported in quarters close to Claude Neon General Advertising, Limited, that sales and earnings for the first three months of the current year to date show an increase at about the same ratio as the gain which was registered in the same portion of 1930 over 1929. March was a good month all through and, while final results have not yet been collated, it is known that the period will set a new record of business activity for the organization.

The constituent companies operating in various sections in Canada are going ahead aggressively with their development plans and are finding a steadily increasing appreciation of the value of Neon lights as an effective medium of sign display and flood lighting. A great deal of attention has been drawn to the new developments announced for the Neon light system through the perfection of new tubes which may be used for industrial, commercial and domestic lighting and decorating effects. It is understood that, in due course, announcements will be forthcoming indicating more generally the direct commercial distribution of the new tubes. In the meantime, the field for the present product seems to be widening considerably as the advantages they offer are more clearly demonstrated.

A couple of weeks ago financing was announced for the company, in the form of an issue of $1,000,000 of 7% cumulative redeemable preferred stock, brought out at 96 by Williams, Partridge & Company, Limited, Montreal, Matthews & Company, Toronto, and W. C. Pitfield & Company Montreal. It is understood that this offering was exceptionally well received by the general public. On the market there has been a tightening up in the supply of common stock around 9 to 9¼ which, also was available to subscribers to the preferred in the form of a share for share bonus.

AGED FARMER DROPS DEAD IN FIELD.

BRANTFORD, Ont., April 14. (CP) James Maxwell of Woodhouse township and one of the pioneer residents of Norfolk county was found dead lying in a field by his son, this morning.

The son had called at his father's home earlier and found him working in the field. He then went on a short errand for him and on returning found him lying dead.

The late James Maxwell was 82 years of age and had wide family connections throughout the county.

16 Game Wardens Have Been Named

Sixteen wardens have recently been appointed by the Government and will commence their duties at the commencement of the fish spawning season. The Examiner is informed by Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association, in a concentrated effort to put a stop to the practice of promiscuous fishing out of season and in an effort to conserve the fish in the local streams.

The number of wardens who will do temporary duty this season throughout spawning time, is in excess of those engaged in any previous year in the history of the local association.

President J. W. Gravestock also states that the association is eagerly anticipating a Government declaration that will soon declare a portion of Peterborough County as a game sanctuary, and also the appointment of a permanent warden to patrol the district regularly.

NORANDA HIGHER.

TORONTO, Ont., April 14.—(CP)—Trend among mining stocks continued irregular to lower in the forenoon session to-day, with trading brisk on the opening but at a reduced rate around midday.

International Nickel and Noranda were higher throughout, both up about a quarter. Gem Lake, Arno, Amulet, Ventures, Chibougamau, McLeod, Arno and Bunker Hill were all higher, gains ranging from fractions to two cents. Malartic and Teshota eased somewhat.

Golds, with a couple of exceptions, were quiet.

McIntyre strengthened, selling a half dollar higher to $25.50. Big Missouri, Sylvanite, Dome, Lake Shore, Premier, Moss, and Mining Corporation held near previous closing prices. Wright Hargreaves was active, and receded somewhat.

Oils continued dull, with no outstanding movements during the session.

Foreign Utility Net Creates New Record

TORONTO, April 14 (C. P.).—Despite less favorable conditions prevailing in Jamaica generally, the year 1930 was one of progress and expansion for Jamaica Public Service, Ltd., and subsidiary company.

Consolidated gross and net earnings registered a new high record in the history of the company, the gross increasing by $66,537 and the net by $18,961. This increase in net is minimized through absorbing a substantial increase in taxes and because of a decline in tramway earnings.

Gross earnings are shown at $833,853 as compared with $767,315 in 1929. Operating expenses amounted to $457,-214, leaving net earnings of $339,300 as compared with $320,339. After maintenance charges and dividends on classes of stock the surplus for profit and loss amounted to $67,950.

Sterling Milling Co. Enters Receivership

Shrinkage in Inventory Values and Bad Management Reasons For Insolvency.

TORONTO, Ont., April 14.—Sterling Milling Co., with head office at Toronto and milling plants at Streetsville, made an assignment in bankruptcy at Osgoode Hall to-day. E. G. C. Clarkson was appointed custodian.

The custodian was empowered by an order of W. J. Reilly, registrar in bankruptcy, to carry on business at Streetsville as a going concern until the first meeting of the creditors.

William H. McCarthy, general manager, has filed an affidavit stating there is manufactured products on hand, worth $16,000 with receivables of $15,-000.

A nominal surplus of $69,798 is shown in the statement of affairs the assets consisting principally of real estate,

"Shrinkage in inventory values, commitments for grain at higher prices than the present market and bad management." are given as the reason for insolvency.

Favorable Weather Sends Wheat Down

CHICAGO, Ill., April 14 (C.P.).—Forecasts of showers likely to afford relief in drought regions northwest tended to make grain prices average lower early today. Liverpool wheat quotations showing unexpected downturns counted also as a bearish influence. Opening at ¼ cent off to ¼ up, wheat after ward kept near the initial range. Corn started at ⅛ decline to ¼ advance, and subsequently rallied.

CAR SALES IN SEVENTEEN STATES SHOW MARCH GAIN

Ford Does Its Bit to Encourage Future Buying By Widening Its Scrapping Policy—Plans to Wreck 5,000 Old Cars Per Day.

AUBURN MOTORS SHIP MORE AUTOMOBILES DURING MONTH THAN IN THE WHOLE OF 1930

TORONTO, April 1'.—With Auburn Motors having set a fast pace in March shipping more cars than for the whole of 1930, the Street is still turning its attention to the automobile industry as the big hope which may bring about a Spring revival in business for steel, and thereby for many other lines of activity.

Auburn is not the only motor company to make a good showing, as the latest despatch from Detroit points out that detail sales of new passenger cars in the first 17 states reporting registrations; for March showed a sharp seasonal upturn, with an increase of 46 per cent over February. Even so, the 17 states sold 31 per cent fewer cars than in March of a year ago.

The Detroit despatch said Chevrolet maintained the lead in sales with 18,534 cars registered, against 12,445 in February and 21,512 in March, last year, Ford titled 16,808 against 11,401 in February and 34,871 in March, 1930. Chevrolet's gain over February was 49 per cent, compared with 47 per cent for Ford. Chevrolet did 86 per cent of its March, 1930, volume in these states, while Ford registrations dropped to 48 per cent of their volume total in March last year.

The Ford decline of 18,063 cars compared with March last year accounted for approximately 70 per cent of the total shrinkage shown by the industry in the 17 states. Excluding Ford, the balance of the industry did 84 per cent of its March volume last year, and showed a gain of 45 per cent over February. The registrations, with Ford excluded, totalled 41,253 in March against 28,354 in February, and 49,093 in March, 1930.

Plans More Scrapping.

In the meantime Ford Motor Company is doing its bit towards encouraging new sales by widening its scrapping program. In February of 1929, the Ford Company began its task of ridding the United States of worn-out cars, and the plan is said to have been so successful that the idea is to be extended.

From 300 to 400 cars are now being junked daily in the Ford plant, and it is planned to increase facilities for the scrapping of 5,000 cars a day. While the main idea is to take in old Ford cars and junk them, rather than leave them as a temptation to some purchaser who could possibly afford a new car, the scrapping will not be confined to Ford cars alone. Other cars of the cheaper grade which can be turned in on new Fords will be treated in the same manner.

The Ford plant uses a regular "disassembly" line for this purpose. The old cars are run upon a moving platform. Aluminum moldings, copper and brass pipes and radiators are taken off. Window glass is removed and sorted into sizes, some is repolished and some is recut. Lead and pitch is salvaged from the batteries.

Tires are melted up and used in a composition to make steering wheels. Body top materials, felt and leather are converted into polishing pads of which the company uses millions annually. Cotton in the seats is reclaimed. Cloth is reshred into shoddy. On the old Model T, Fords the magneto and flywheels are removed. Some major assembly units, if in good condition, are reconditioned and sold to parts salvage depots.

Is New in 30 Minutes.

When all salvagable articles have been removed, the remaining hulk is moved forward into a box-like machine which resembles a paper baler on a larger scale. This device crushes the car into a compact mass about the length and width of an automobile but only two or three feet thick. This unit then is conveyed to the openhearth furnace where a giant ram forces it through an enormous steel funnel into the furnace door. Out of the other side of the furnace comes the hot metal which goes into the usual machinery for making ingots, and thus in about 30 minutes an automobile is a gain converted into the material whence it came.

It is estimated that Ford obtains from $5.50 to $8 worth of scrap and from $5 to $7 worth of salvage material in the operation perhaps an average of $11 a car for which is paid from $15 to $20 f.o.b. Ford plant. In addition the company has to stand the labor costs involved which on 500 cars a day is about $300 or 60 cents a car.

FRESH SELLING DEVELOPS IN TODAY'S TRADING AT N. Y.

Electrical Equipment and Motion Picture Issues Carried Down Under Avalanche.

MARKET OPENS STRONG.

(By Claude A. Jagger.)
(Associated Press Financial Editor.)

NEW YORK, April 14.—The stock market lost courage and yielded to fresh selling in the electrical equipment and motion picture issues to-day, after a display of strength in the initial transactions.

The vulnerability of the list, after its best rally in nearly a month, was discouraging to bullishly inclined traders. Its inability to carry yesterday's upturn beyond the early trading to-day was accepted in brokerage circles as an indication that there had been no fundamental change in the wobbly character of the market.

The quarterly report of American Telephone helped the early advance, carrying that issue temporarily up more than 2 points, but the general tenor of news of corporate profits remained remained uninspiring. Net losses of a point or two were numerous by early afternoon, embracing such issues as General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, Paramount, Fox Film, Warner Bros., North American, Radio, U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, consolidated Gas and Standard Gas. Air reduction tumbled 4 points.

Theatre's Net Income Up Over 85 Per Cent.

Hamilton United Shows Big Improvement—Gain in Surplus.

TORONTO, April 14.—Net earnings of Hamilton United Theatres, Ltd., in 1930 showed an increase of over 85 per cent. over 1929. Net earnings before certain deductions are reported at $116,-578 as compared with $62,854, an increase of $53,724.

Proportions of write-offs on sound equipment and installations is about $11,000 higher at $21,433, depreciation reserve higher at $19,786 and reserve for taxes more than double at $4,805. This leaves a surplus for the year of $70,553, as compared with the previous year's surplus of $31,740.

While current asstes are down from $113,204 to $98,636, current liabilities show a much greater proportionate drop, being down from $67,713 to $21,291. Net working capital amounts to $77,345 as compared with $45,491 in 1929. Deferred charges have been reduced from $64,784 to $15,508. Theatre properties are carried at $725,213. Surplus account, shows an increase from $45,410 to $60,398, after all deductions and write-offs. Total assets are reported at $2,160,089. Capital stock is carried at $1,988,400.

Nearly $10,000,000 is to be spent for new school buildings in Prague, Czechoslovakia.

Bethlehem Stockholders May Ballot Upon Bonus

TRENTON, N.J., April 14.—(CP)—Vice Chancellor Backes in an opinion filed to-day directed that stockholders of Bethlehem Steel Corporation might ballot upon the cash bonus system inaugurated by Charles M. Schwab in 1917 but that the vote may either be recorded nor announced until sanctioned by the court.

The court decision denying the petition of 22 stockholders paved the way for consideration of the bonus question at the annual meeting at noon to-day in Newark.

Interesting Pageants Presented By Circle

Two interesting pageants marked the program offered under the auspices of the young Women's Mission Circle of the Park Street Baptist Church, in their church, on Friday evening. One, rendered by the Circle members, was entitled "The Way of the Cross," and those taking part were the Misses Maude Bell, Viola Tranter, Ena Batley, Martha Sands, Agnes Sands, Inez Collison, Amelia Whatley, Iva Whatley, Ruth Leader, Marjorie Leether, Dorothy Peace, Margaret Snowden, Ruby Campbell and Mr. Newton Hamilton.

The second pageant by four little girls, Dorothy Cunningham, Aileen Briscoe, Beatrice Brierley and Madeline Gilbert, was entitled "How Some Little Dolls Came to be Missionaries."

A general program included piano solos by Miss Findlay, and Hazel Scriver, vocal solos by Inez Collison and Ena Batley, and a cornet duet by the Wilson Brothers of Otonabee.

At the conclusion of the program dainty refreshments were served by Mesdames S. Sands, P. Scrivener and Peace.

UTILITY STOCKS ALSO ARE FIRM

Irregular Price Movements Characterize Listless Session on Toronto Exchange.

C.P.R. UP FRACTION.

TORONTO, Ont., April 14 (C.P.).—Irregular price movements characterized a listless market on Toronto stock exchange this morning. Oils dragged even more wearily than previously and tired holders let stocks go at slight concessions, with the result the group again was heavy.

Most of the inter-listed stocks held up better this morning. Utilities, soft yesterday, firmed with Bell Telephone, C. P. R., and Brazilian showing fractional gains of ½ point or less. International Nickel held up at 18 and Noranda was higher at 26. Ford of Canada slipped and Canadian Dredge was off nearly a point. Service Stations recovered from its extreme low of 20 to 20¾. The liquor stocks were firm but not active.

11 PER CENT. CUT DEFENCE ESTIMATES

Reduction Means $1,032,800 Cut From Militia Service of Dominion.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 14.—(By the Canadian Press)—A reduction of 11 per cent in the estimates of the department of National defence represents a drop of $1,628,720, of which $1,032,800 is whittled from the militia services. The decrease in the vote for the naval service is only $225,000.

The non-permanent active militia is the most heavily hit, with only $1,606,-000 being provided for its purposes as against $2,324,500 last year. Militia officers fear that this will mean the cancellation of many summer camps, with a consequent discontinuance of field training for militia regiments. Something of this sort was foreshadowed a few weeks ago; when officers were informed that they must prepare for a big cut in the estimates.

With regard to the naval service, the current year will see the last instalment paid on the two destroyers now nearing completion at Thornycroft's yards, Southampton. That will be done out of the $3,375,000 which parliament will be asked to vote. The drop of $225,000 may entail some restriction in the training of naval reservists; but it is not expected to interfere with the maintenance of the four destroyers which Canada will shortly possess the two new warships included.

No provision is set aside for any new construction, which would indicate that the replacement of the obsolete mine sweepers, Armenteres, Festubert and Ypres, and of the ship that was sunk some years ago on the Bamfield patrol; Thiepval, is not contemplated for the current year.

Murder Case Continues In St. Catharines Court

HAMILTON, Ont., April 14. (C.P.)—The trial of John Dybka, St. Catharines, on a charge of murdering Ludwig Rakoczy, continued before Chief Justice Rose and a jury in the Supreme Court to-day. The case is proceeding slowly as all the testimony must be translated from the Polish.

Rakoczy was stabbed to death on the steps of the house where he boarded on February 10th.

Witnesses questioned to-day told of a fight after which the murdered man was discovered to be suffering from terrible knife wounds. None were able to say who had inflicted the injuries.

ODD SLANTS AT INDUSTRY

by HAROLD R. SUTHERLAND

(By Harold R. Sutherland.)

Nearly a million and a half pounds of freight were transported by plane during 1930 in Canada, which included everything from first class mail to freshly caught fish.

There was enough gold produced in Canada last year to give every man, woman and child $4.07. In the United States the per capita production was thirty-eight cents.

During 1929 Canadians consumed over thirteen and a half million dollars worth of ice cream, almost ten million gallons. In the past thirteen years the quantity produced in the Dominion has increased by 179 per cent. and the value by 232 per cent. Nearly forty-three per cent. of the total production comes from Ontario.

If all the cold creams, beauty creams and skin lotions used by milady beautiful in Canada and the United States for one year were piled in a heap it would amount to over 100,000 tons, it is said. Over two thousand tons of rouge, four thousand tons of face powder and six thousand tons of bath salts are manufactured annually.

Hat manufactures have become so concerned over the "hatless-capless" craze that they have got their heads together—with hats on—and have decided to shame the rest of the male population who dare to go bareheaded. They will use every means in their power they say, to inform the world that a gentleman is not well-dressed unless behatted.

Although there has been a decrease recently in the consumption of manufactured cigarettes in Canada, the industry does not believe that cigarette smoking is becoming less. During the past year there has been a noticeable increase in the consumption of cut tobacco and as the sales of cigarette papers are going up, it is assumed that more people are rolling their own.

Some people in Egypt had a good feed of strawberries last month with few, if any, of them realizing that they were grown in British Columbia, where they were frozen for export. In spite of the long voyage across Canada and the Atlantic and subsequent transhipment to Alexandria, the fruit, according to the department of agriculture, is reported to have arrived in good condition.

Because automobile manufacturers have made such a good thing out of the replacement argument to increase sales, furniture dealers are considering the adoption of some similar idea. It may be that those buying chesterfields next year will speak of them as the 1932 models. Which, of course, will mean that in 1933 they will be urged to have them replaced by new ones before their trade-in values diminish too greatly.

It is said that one of the best mineralized areas of eastern Canada is not even being worked. It is the district north of the Upper St. Lawrence and the lower part of Lake Ontario, commonly known as Central and Eastern Ontario. Though a certain amount of mineral investigation has been done in this area during recent years, the ownership of the mineral rights by the farmers and others, through the old land grants, has discouraged general prospecting.

For those who go swimming, but don't want to get wet, perhaps a new bathing suit being developed by a Toronto knitted-wear manufacturer may solve the problem. An attempt is being made to develop a garment of fine mercerized cotton, woven into a very tight stitch, with the idea that the garment will act in the same way a tent which will shed water indefinitely, provided it is not rubbed. The new suit is said to be designed for swimmers who are particular about their bathing apparel and who usually wear silk because of its water shedding properties.

Twenty-five years from now there will be more older people in the world than there are today—older in the sense of age average—according to the prophets of big business. New demands for goods will occur and the balance of sales will be greatly changed because of fewer younger people and more older people. It is estimated that while in 1860, forty-five per cent. of the people in Canada were between the ages of 20 and 50, forty-six per cent. were under 20, and nine per cent. were over 50. In 1950 the proportion between 20 and 50 years will rise from nine to twenty-eight per cent.

Delving back into the history of his business, a woollen manufacturer has pulled out this interesting sidelight on the woollen and textile industry of the ancient Egyptians. During the heyday of these famous people of the Nile their high priests were forbidden the use of wool, being allowed to wear only linen garments. Two reasons given for this edict are suggestive of modern political and fashion conditions. One was that wool was too common a material for so high a functionary as a priest and the other was that the linen manufacturers had influence with the Egyptian government and insisted on solving their merchandising problems by inducing the government to pass a law compelling the best people to wear linen.

FINANCIAL CLIP SHEET

1930 EARNINGS.

The 1930 annual report of International Hydro-Electric System, a division of International Paper and Power Company, shows consolidated earnings after interest, depreciation, dividends and amounts applicable to minority stocks of subsidiaries, and dividends on preferred stock of the System, of $3,423,343, equivalent to $4.30 a share or well over twice the preferential dividend requirements on the average number of Class A shares outstanding during the year. This compares with earnings at the annual rate of $4.25 a share on the substantially smaller average number of Class A shares outstanding during the System's initial fiscal period from April 1, 1929 to December 31, 1929, inclusive

MARKET SHAPING FOR A RALLY.

Action of the market during the past several days in the face of widespread bearish propaganda leads some observers to believe that it is shaping itself for a substantial technical rally. In this respect, attention is called to the fact that the borrowing demand for stocks is the largest since the middle of last December when the short interest was of record breaking proportions. In addition, the tactics pursued by some members of the "bear party" would indicate that they are becoming somewhat uneasy. For example, a number of "tips" were broadcast during the day that a vigorous drive would be launched against the market. This, however, failed to make its appearance and might indicate that shorts were beginning to look for outside assistance.—New York American.

ST. LAWRENCE POWER

The investing public of this country is deeply interested in the passage of the St. Lawrence power developemnt bill across the line. The road to accomplishment in this connection is likely to be long and tortuous. A treaty with Canda, involving besides power the matter of navigation, cannot be negotiated in a hurry, and in view of evidences of the Dominion's resentment over the latest tariff readjustments the treaty will encounter obstacles whose removal will call for unusual diplomacy. There is also the liklihood of political conflicts in Washington which would keep the matter in the air. It is the guess of one utility executive that it will be at least five years before the State of New York is ready to enter the power business on the St. Lawrence.

SARNIA BRIDGE

R. M. Norton, president of the Sarnia Bridge Company was in conference with the Montreal directors here Thursday. Financial Service understands that business with this company has shown a steady pick-up during the last two months. Although there is a considerable amount of work in sight competition remains keen. Recent contracts received include the steel joists for the technical school at Kingston and the St. Patrick College at Ottawa. In addition the company has been appointed general contractor for the erection of a bridge at Port Elgin, Ontario.

ST. REGIS PAPER

Report of St. Regis Paper disclosed several interesting features, among the item of $1,369,270 profit from the sale of 190,366 shares of Niagara Hudson Power, accounting for approximately 30 per cent of the year's net income. The report also disclosed for the first time results from that source amounting to $2,570,702, or a larger portion of the total net than many had supposed after the company's importance as a holder of utility stocks had been so widely stressed. Floyd L. Carlisle, president indicated that more than 90 per. cent. of the gross operating revenues resulted from the sale of catalogue and directory paper under long-term contracts; specialty papers, bags and other more stable products.

60 MEN REQUIRED TO HALT GRASS FIRE

TORONTO, Ont., April 14. (CP)—Flames 30 and 40 feet high raging over 150 acres of farmland in Scarboro township yesterday burned down fences and required the frantic work of 60 farmers and railwaymen to save cottages and barns from destruction.

The fire got under way shortly after noon near the railway tracks when sparks from a locomotive ignited the parched grass.

Parley Arrangements Up To Canadian Gov't

LONDON April 14. (C. P. Cable). —Arrangements for the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa are in the hands of His Majesty's Government in Canada, and while he had not definitely heard that all the Dominions would be represented, this seemed likely, Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas told a questioner in the House of Commons to-day.

The Secretary for Dominion Affairs had been asked for assurance that all the Dominions would be represented.

Mr. Thomas also stated that he did not know as yet who would represent the Government of Great Britain but as soon as the representatives had been decided upon he would inform the House.

EASTERN INDUSTRIES ARE URGED TO USE WESTERN RAW MATERIALS

Senator Buchanan Declares Eastern Industry Essential to West's Prosperity.

NO SECESSION PLANS.

TORONTO, April 14. — Prosperity is returning to Western Canada, but it will only be gained after Eastern Canada appreciates the problems of the West, adapts Eastern industries to utilize Western raw materials, and establishes branch factories in the West, and after the West adopts diversified agricultural methods based upon high standard production, according to Senator W. A. Buchanan, publisher of the Lethbridge Herald, who addressed the Board of Trade Club last night at dinner. At the same time, Senator Buchanan denied that secession was sought by the West.

With untold resources which promise to produce two or three rich oil fields, vast coal mines, millions of acres of arable lands, Western Canada has developed itself into a country without reserves and existing on "next year," Senator Buchanan stated. Its wealth was based upon the promise of what next year would return. To-day it faces the task of evolving a sound basis for the development which will follow co-operation with the East, he declared.

Founding such a basis, Senator Buchanan continued, could only be accomplished by adopting mixed farming to a degree which would not place the country in a position of over-production of mixed farm products. The safest way of accomplishing this would be by produing the highest grade agricultural products in the world and thus gaining the markets which will absorb them.

Hopeful of Future.

"Many gloomy pictures have been painted for the people of the East," declared Senator Buchanan. I want to paint some bright spots. The West is suffering more than all the rest of Canada, yet we are hopeful of the future. Only in a few places is despair apparent and those areas are suffering not only from the depression which followed our wheat collapse but from many years of poor crops and difficult production.

Wheat, he continued, must remain the paramount product of the western provinces. But many areas, half a million irrigated acres, should be turned over to producing vegetables and sugar beets. The latter had proven a background in his own section which was bringing the farmers of the area through the depression period in better condition than any other western agricultural section. One small factory was turning out sugar sold in the West; seven factories could supply a great proportion of the sugar for the western provinces and at the same time provide farmers with a line of staple production and employment.

This, he continued, was only one instance. Mixed farming carried on wisely and under the direction of the board proposed recently, could avoid over-production and a repetition of the wheat conditions by purchasing only the highest grade stock and hogs and shipping to the markets of the world products which would sell because of their high quality.

Eastern wool manufacturers could send the West on the road to prosperity by asking western farmers to produce the type of wool needed in the East. Vast areas, better suited for grazing than any other purpose, could support huge herds of sheep. Similar areas could graze herds of cattle which would supply the meat for Canada and, if of high quality, invade overseas markets successfully.

Dupre Raps Anderson Govt.

Parliament heard a new voice yesterday when Hon. Maurice Dupre, Solicitor-General and one of the young French-speaking Conservatives elected in Quebec last July, faced the house for some time. He utilized the occasion to make a spirited attack upon the Anderson Government in Saskatchewan for its action in forbidding the use of the French language in that Province. Mr. Dupre hoped the legislation would be repealed, declaring that it lacked justice and broadmindedness and was "an insult to the true Canadians established here for 14 or 15 generations."

As one of the delegates to the Imperial Conference last summer, the Solicitor-General upheld the proposals made there by Premier Bennett. He believed they offered the only empire solution to the trade depression of to-day. The policies had been received enthusiastically all through Great Britain and the people of that country were of the opinion the Canadian delegation was one of the strongest this country ever sent across the Atlantic.

In striking contrast to the age and experience of the solicitor-general was the member ho spoke after him, Hon. W. R. Motherwell, former Minister of Agriculture in the King Government. As an old Parliamentarian and one possessing a vocabulary rich in apt political catch phrases, Mr. Motherwell delivered a multiple-barbed attack on the Governments' record. For Canada to refuse to trade with Russia was a "mad policy" and in doing so, this country was only "cutting off its nose to spite its face."

Differs With Action.

While he did not agree with the Soviet system of government or its attitude toward religion, as a world-trading factor Russia could not be denied, Mr. Motherwell asserted. Canada should have consulted with the other nations of the Empire before taking any drastic step toward refusing Russian trade. Russia, he assured the House, would not be "wiped off the map" by one country refusing to trade with her as Canada had done.

While dealing with the Imperial Conference, Mr. Motherwell's aptitude for political phrasing came into full force. Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas' use of the world "humbug" to describe Premier Bennett's proposals was mild, the policies were "twice-distilled, double-dyed hypocracy." The Prime Minister while in Great Britain had been "flamboyant, belligerent and bellicose" in his speeches; he had failed to realize that compromise was the basis of a successful conference. To make the adjourned session of the conference a success, Mr. Motherwell counselled the Premier to "climb down" from his former uncompromising attitude.

Premier Bennett's efforts to sell Canadian wheat also were criticized by the former Minister of Agriculture. The Premier had gone to Paris with the result that France bought only one-half the total purchased in 1929. He had negotiated with China, with the result Australia secured the business. Mr. Motherwell could not understand why the Government refused to peg the price of wheat when it was low, considering that it had utilized this method of price-fixing in 1917 and 1918 when the quotations were considered too high.

Revolutionary Proposals

Two revolutionary financial proposals were laid before the Government by E. E. Perley (Cons., Qu'Appelle). He believed the Government should pay the freight rates on that part of the 1930 wheat crop sold below 70 cents a bushel. A conference between the Government and the loan companies should be held with a view of securing the consent of the companies to the writing-off of 40 or 50 per cent of Western loan interest if the Government absorbed the remainder.

A. W. Neill (Ind., Comox-Alberni) advocated the payment of a bounty of $1.50 a ton on coal mined in Vancouver Island to enable it to enter the South American market.

Thirty cents an hour was the wage being paid in some sections of Northern Ontario for work done on the trans-Canada Highway, declared Dr. J. R. Hurtubise (Lib., Nipissing). He suggested the Government pay the men the difference between the thirty cents and the prevailing rate of wages.

Other speakers were J. H. Harris (Cons., Scarboro-Toronto); Paul Mercier (Lib., St. Henri) and J. H. Stitt (Cons., Selkirk).

GROSS REVENUE

istence; consequently, whatever policy of retrenchment was adopted necessitated the display of prudence, economy and justice. In effecting economies with respect to any railway operation, the accumulation of deferred maintenance may constitute a serious future liability. Many factors enter into the consideration of such a problem which are not always apparent to the layman, and the objective sought by the administration was a maximum of present economy without the establishment of liabilities for the future.

Good-bye?

In the "good old days" when goodbyes were said, it meant tears and long absence. Travelling was slow and communication poor. To-day one says, "So long! I'll telephone!" The miles mean nothing to Long Distance.

INSTITUTES MEET IN WARSAW HALL

WARSAW, April 14 (Examiner Correspondence)—The regular meeting of the Senior and Junior Institutes was held in the Institute rooms on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. George Weller being in the chair.

Mrs. Weller showed the framed picture of the classes held in January which Mr. Nelson presented to the Branch. A letter was read from Miss Hopkins, who hopes to conduct a coaching class here next summer. Miss Hopkins suggested attending the District Annual to try to arouse more interest.

It was decided to collect clothing for a girl of eleven and a boy of nine years and also to buy shoes. The president announced that she had received half of the proceeds from the play put on in Lakefield by the Presbyterian young people and that they had offered to donate a percentage of their share of profits from any presentations of the play in the interests of the Institute.

Reports from Branch convenors were asked for, but several were absent. Mrs. Cooper reported that nothing had been done in legislation and Mrs. Miller reported investigating one case and that it was found they were provided for and another family had received aid.

Mrs. T. Cooper gave an interesting talk on the management of the Institutes as a whole. Some discussion came up about the Federation fees when they should be paid and how much. Warsaw Institute has always paid the fee since the Federation was formed in 1919. For some years it was not paid until the fall when all the members had paid their dues, and for the past few years it has been paid for at least twenty-five members even if they had not paid by the time of the District Annual.

Warsaw annual meeting will be held on Thursday, Mary 14.

Spring Premium Price Is Raised To $1.50

NORWOOD, April 14 (Examiner Correspondence)—At the executive meeting of Norwood Horticultural Society, it was decided to give the following premiums this year: two Tuberous Begonias, 30c; one Regal Lily, 60c; ten Ranunculus, 10c; three Gladioli, 25c; one Lupine, 25c.

The retail value of the spring premiums this year then will be $1.50. There will be bulbs in the fall also and the membership fee is $1.

J. E. Thompson, secretary of the society, was requested to distribute the lists to the canvassers for the spring canvass which will be carried out as soon as possible.

Work is to be commenced on the public flower beds in order to have them ready for spring planting.

Ladies' Guild Holds Home Cooking Sale

MADOC, April 14.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The Ladies' Guild of St. John's Anglican church held a very successful sale of home cooking in the salesrooms of Tufts and Kelly's Furniture Store on Saturday.

The Christian Endeavor Society of St. Peter's Presbyterian church met on Monday evening with a good number of members and visitors present. An illustrated lecture was given by Rev. T. G. Marshall showing such well-known and sacred scenes as "Christ's Triumphal Entry," "Christ washing the disciples' feet", "The Last Supper," "The Agony in Gethsemane," and many others.

Miss Ella Adams of Kingston spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, in Madoc.

Mr. Harry Stratham of Acton has moved to Madoc, where he has secured a position with Mr. Thomas Caverly as baker. Mr. Wm. Knox who held that position, has moved to Toronto.

Although crimes of violence have not increased in England in the last 50 years, there has been a decided growth in the number of cases of housebreaking, embezzlement, blackmail, false pretenses and larceny.

Beware of Bladder Weakness Getting-Up-Nights

Disturbed Rest Undermines Health, Says Vitality, States Physician Who Recommends Home Treatment

Men and women who are constantly annoyed and distressed by Bladder Weakness or Urinary Irritation should take immediate steps to combat their trouble before it reaches a serious or perhaps dangerous stage!

Backaches, Headaches, pains in feet and legs, nervousness, restlessness, frequent but scanty urination with burning and pain, getting-up-nights—these are some of the more troublesome signs of Bladder Weakness or Irritation that should have prompt attention.

No matter how stubborn your case may seem to be or how many different medicines you have tried without success—don't give up, and think your case hopeless or the natural consequence of advancing years, until you have tried the special private prescription of Dr. Southworth, a physician of over 40 years' successful experience.

In order to reach the many thousands who cannot come to his office, Dr. Southworth has placed his URATABS in good, local drug stores—and invites you to try them without risk of cost, unless pleased. WEDDINGS

GREER—BELL.

WARSAW, April 14.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—A very pretty wedding took place in Warsaw United Church at five o'clock on Friday afternoon, April 10, when Miss Lulu Bell became the bride of Mr. James Greer, of Whitby.

The church was prettily decorated with pink and white streamers and pink and white house plants. Pink and white streamers entwined the cedar arch from which depended white wedding bells. The bride entered the church with her father, Mr. William Bell, while Mrs. George Taylor played the wedding march from Lohengrin. Rev. J. W. Wilkinson performed the marriage ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father. During the signing of the register Mrs. Wilkinson sang very sweetly, "Love's Old Sweet Song."

The bride's wedding gown was of ivory white crepe backed satin, she wore an embroidered net veil, caught with a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. She looked exceedingly sweet and pretty. The bridesmaid, Miss Beulah Valequette of Whitby, wore a poudre blue gown of crepe-back satin, with silver grey picture hat, trimmed with blue satin and silver slippers. The little flower-girl, Gloria Kidd, cousin of the bride, wore a pretty canary-yellow frock. The groomsman was William Kirpatrick, of Whitby. The ushers were Arnott Bell and Theodore Rose.

Mrs. Greer, as Lulu Bell, had spent most of her life in Warsaw, before going to Whitby Hospital, as a nurse, and was very popular, always pleasant, and willing to do her part whenever needed. She had sung in the choir in the church where she was married and the church was well filled with people who wish her well in her new home in Whitby. After the ceremony the young couple returned to the bride's home where her near relatives gathered and the wedding supper was served. Mr. Greer's relatives are in Ireland, except one brother in Chicago, who was unable to be present.

In the evening, the young people of Warsaw held a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Greer.

Miss Valquette, Mr. Greer and Mr. Kirpatrick return to Whitby on Saturday night to be on duty on Sunday morning. Mrs. Greer will remain at her parents' home for two weeks, when she will go to her new home in Whitby. The bride's going away dress was of sand silk crepe, trimmed with gold radium lace, with hat, gloves, hand bag hose and shoes to match.

BELMONT HOME RAZED BY FIRE

razed and the south-west corner of the barn badly damaged.

Second Fire

About three o'clock in the afternoon, or two and a half hours after the first fire, the home of Horace King of Belmont Lake, four and a half miles east of town, was discovered to be on fire, flames having broken out on the roof of the woodshed. Mrs. King, who was alone at the time with the two children, discovered the fire and, carrying the two children to a place of safety, she hastily phoned the alarm to neighbors, who fortunately lived quite close and hurried to her assistance. The first to the rescue were women neighbors, who bent every effort to extinguish the blaze. The men who were all away at the Melville fire, close by, returned about fifteen minutes later, when the ladies had the fire under complete control. Although there was plenty of water handy in this instance, it was no mean accomplishment, when it is realized the buildings are all frame structures, the hazard of the burning grass and the strong west wind, and only a handful of women and girls to fight the fire.

PLAYS PRESENTED IN STIRLING HALL

Two Plays Presented by Members of United Church—Parts Well Enacted.

STIRLING, April 14 (Examiner Correspondence) — The play, "The New Minister's Wife" was presented in the United Church basement recently when the cast was New Minister's wife, Mrs. Walt; the maid, Mrs. C. Macklin; callers, Mesdames Rowland, L. Munroe, W. Fox, W. Hawkins, E. Bailey and the Misses Donnan and Currie.

Mrs. Frances Jeffrey sang, "In an Old-Fashioned Garden" and Mrs. W. Hawkins presented the minister's wife with a live goose. Mrs. L. Munroe presented her with cups and saucers.

Missionary Play

A two-act play, "From Small Beginnings" was staged by the United Church W.M.S. on Monday evening. In the first act the stage depicted a sitting room of sixty years ago when the first Women's Missionary was born. The men strongly objected to the women organizing.

The cast was as follows: hostess, wife, Mrs. E. Johnston; members of wife, Mrs. E. Johnston; members of the sewing circle, Mrs. Arthur Phillips, Mrs. Orval Jackson, Mrs. C. Sharp, Mrs. Blake Sharpe, Mrs. George Weaver and Mrs. M. McConnell.

Act two showed the society six months later when the work is well under way. The costumes of the ladies were of the year 1871. In 1930, through the efforts of the women more than one million dollars was raised for missions in our land.

PROVINCIAL HIGHWAYS HAVE COST $823,173

PER CAPITA COST IS $5.82, LOWEST IN THIS SECTION

Victoria Citizens Assessed $7.10 Per Capita—Hastings $8.60.

CHAMBER'S RESOLUTION

County and City Ratepayers Have Paid $231,888 Towards Highways.

Construction and maintenance of provincial highways in Peterborough county have cost up to the present $823,173.70. Of this sum 35 per cent amounting to approxinmately $231,888.66 has been paid by the county and the city.

On the basis of a population of 42,000 for the entire county, inclusive of the city, these facts as recounted to The Examiner today, with the assertion that they were obtained from official sources, reduce the expenditure for provincial highways in this county to the rate of $5.52 per capita.

In other words, the two sections of highway within this county, the one leading to Port Hope and the other to Lindsay, have cost each person in the county (including the city) the sum of $5.52. And according to The Examiner's information this is the lowest per capita cost of all the counties in this section of Ontario, and obviously of the entire province. The arithmetical details were confined to the expenditure in counties adjacent to Peterborough.

Comparison of Costs

As a basis of comparison, and by way of indicating that the citizens of Peterborough city and county are not over-burdened by the mileage of provincial highways already completed within its borders a few comparative facts are submitted as follows:

Per capita cost of provincial highways in Peterborough—$5.52.

Total cost of provincial highways in Victoria county $887,647.88; the twenty per cent charged to the county (including Lindsay) totalled $177,529.58. Population of county, including Lindsay, 25,000. Per capita cost $7.10.

Next turn to Hastings county, our eastern neighbour. Total cost of provincial highways within the county, $2,055,868.78, including Indian Reserve and Trenton and Belleville. Amount charged to the county and city, $464,805.51. Population of county 54,000. Per capita cost of provincial highways $8.60.

The United Counties.

Next the United counties of Northumberland and Durham. Total expenditure by the Government for provincial highways within the united counties $4,161,170 93. Twenty per cent of this amount has been charged against the counties and paid, this sum being $832,234.16. Population of the two counties 53,000. Per capita cost of provincial highways within the two counties $15.70.

The significance of these figures is obvious. They show that while every man, woman and child in Peterborough county has paid $5.52 for construction and maintenance of provincial highways, a corresponding man, woman or child in Victoria county has paid $7.10; in Hastings county $8.60; and in Durham and Northumberland counties $15.70.

Wentworth county in the Hamilton district heads the provincial list with a total expenditure for provincial highways within its boundaries of $6,380,503.14; Prince Edward county $1,106,818.16; Ontario county, including Oshawa, $3,754,622.85.

A Local Resolution.

These facts perhaps illumine a recent resolution which the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce recently adopted for presentation to the Ontario Department of Highways.

This resolution points out that the King's Highway No. 7 east of the city, as designated last year, is a very important trade route used extensively by residents of Peterborough and neighbouring counties, and when completed will greatly assist farmers in transporting their produce to neighbouring markets; when completed it will become a popular scenic route and also relieve the congestion of traffic along the lake shore highway. The resolution also declares that tourist travel through Peterborough county has become a major activity, and that the completion of the highway will bring a greater number of tourists into the county from St. Lawrence River ferry points.

Lowest in Province.

Another clause is quoted in full as follows: "And whereas the per capita cost as revealed by a comparison of the costs of provincial highways in Ontario counties does not reveal that Peterborough expenditures have been excessive as the county shows the lowest per capita expenditure of any Ontario county up to the end of 1930."

The resolution also mentioned the relief of local unemployment which the prosecution of the projected work this year would effect, and unfolds its appeal thus:—Therefore be it resolved that the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce commend the Ontario Department of Public Highways for implementing the Minister's promise when last in Peterborough, on April 25th, 1930, and petition the government to proceed with the work which is already under contract at as early a date as possible in the spring of the present year."

This resolution is said to express the carefully considered thought and investigation by the Chamber of Commerce, and was intended to affirm certain facts without giving cause for controversy.

600 Civil Servants Will Be Dismissed

OTTAWA, April 14. — It is estimated 60 civil servants will be dismissed as a result of the rigid economics which Premier Bennett has effected in the estimates for the current year.

Hasty scrutiny of the thousands of items fails to reveal any substantial vote for the proposed St. Lawrence Waterway, for old-age pensions, for technical education or the Trans-Canada Highway.

The Prime Minister, however, is committed to all these things, and he may implement his pledges by some other method. He might introduce a Bill respecting old-age pensions and technical education, but the chances are no great expenditures of a capital nature on the Trans-Canada Highway as contemplated this year. The same applies to the St. Lawrence seaway scheme.

FARMERS CLAIM SEED IS REFUSED

Many Municipalities Decline, Disliking to Pay 25 Per Cent of Ultimate Loss.

REASON FOR HESITANCY.

SASKATOON, Sask., April 14 (C. P.).— Many municipalities in Saskatchewan were refusing to undertake the distribution to seed grain to farmers and to pay 25 per cent. of the ultimate loss in doing so, Frank Eliason, secretary of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, declared here yesterday. The distribution plan was formulated by the Dominion Government. The Provinces and the Dominion to share 75 per cent. of losses.

The attention of the Saskatchewan Government has been called to "many complaints received from farmers," Mr. Eliason said. Application for the seed is made to the municipalities and farmers have had their requests turned down in many cases.

"If municipal councils and mortgage companies are hesitating to approve the advance of seed to farmers for the 1931 crop, there must be a reason for it," commented the U. F. A. secretary. "If the reason for the refusal is that these bodies are not sure that it will pay to seed land in 1931, would it not be advisable for individual farmers to think twice before beginning seed operations?"

WOLF MENACE IS SERIOUS IN NORTH

Deer in Northern Sections Rapidly Disappearing Under Ravages of Packs.

The wolf menace in the north country continues to deplete the ranks of deer according to hunters and settlers throughout Northern Ontario. Fear is held that in a few more years no deer will be found this side of the Arctic Circle, as those that are not killed by the numerous roving packs will be driven farther and farther north, eventually disappearing like the old buffalo bands.

George Robertson today received a letter from Dave Pender, a man who has lived in the bush around Pickerel River the last forty years, summer and winter. Pender is walking boss of the Pakesley Lumber Company there, one of the largest in Canada and he is on the go al through the district.

He said in his letter that on his last trip along Dollar's Lake, he came across the remains of twenty-one deer torn to pieces by wolves. In several cases, the dismemberedbody was that of doe, with the bodies of very small fawns lying close by. When the wolves were hungry, they devoured practically everything, but in other cases they merely killed and mangled the deer. This happened within the past month, according to Pender.

He has seen as many as twenty wolves in the immediate vicinity of the camp at Dollar's Lake where they are taking a cut out. They roam about generally in small packs of five and six, and every night may be heard howling a short distance off. The men have no time to clean them out, and the animals are becoming more daring all the time. Few deer remain around that part of the country now.

Here we see Mrs. Floyd Kenlay, daughter of the new mayor, pouring out a cup of coffee for her father, while Mr. Cermak himself holds his granddaughter, Mary Alyce Kenlay, six months old.

BRANCH ASKED TO CO-OPERATE IN SPONSORI NG SHORT COURSE

Millbrook Institute Holds Regular Meeting at Home of Mrs. T. G. Harkness.

COMMUNICATIONS READ.

MILLBROOK, April 14 (Examiner Correspondence)—The April meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Saturday afternoon, at the home of the president, Mrs. T. G. Harkness, with over twenty present, and a considerable amount of business transacted.

The treasurer, Mrs. T. H. Aiken, read a financial statement of recent social gatherings under Institute auspices, and on motion the accounts outstanding were ordered paid.

On motion of Miss E. Grandy, seconded by Miss Burnham, the branch decided to remit rent for the piano in the Town Hall in connection with its use during the Chautauqua entertainments, except for the cost of tuning, as financially the committee signing the contract had a considerable deficit to make up.

The secretary, Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, read a number of communications, among these being one from Mr. Putnam, superintendent of Institutes, referring to the annual summer series of meetings. Millbrook's turn being listed for Friday, June 26. Other branches on the provisional list submitted were Charlecote, June 24; Elizabethville, June 25; Baillieboro, and Cavan coming June 29 and 30, respectively. The speaker, and other information including the subjects for the addresses, will be received from the Department at Toronto at a later date.

Girls' Conference.

Mr. Putnam also wrote regarding the annual Girls' Conference to be held at the O.A.C., Guelph, on May 19, 20, 21, and urging the local branch to sponsor the work of having girls from this district in attendance. Delegates must be over sixteen, and accommodation has been arranged for 250 for the three days of the conference' 'First come first served' will be the rule in making up the quota of delegates, so the earlier the applications are in, the better the chance of being accepted.

The Institute was asked to co-operate with the county Agricultural Representative in making it possible to hold a short course in the community, Miss Edith Hopkins to again be the instructress for the coaching classes this season. Five girls will have the chance of being among the number chosen to attend the Royal Winter Fair, entering into the competition there in the judging classes. Nutrition, housing, and clothing are the subjects to be taken up; this year the number of centres where the coaching classes may be held has been reduced, but if a sufficiently large number of girls can be enrolled in this vicinity, it is likely Miss Hopkins will have the classes in Millbrook again this season. Durham county is listed for the end of July for its classes.

A personal letter to the branch secretary, mentioning the request of Mr. Putnam that she visit as many of the W.I. branches as possible, and her desire to learn dates of regular meetings so she might put this request into practice. If her duties sall her into this neighborhood at the time of the Institute meeting, Miss Hopkins will be welcomed to the local branch in her official capacity.

The importance of having the girls of the community and district in the Home Garden and Canning competition was stressed in Miss Hopkins' letter, as their standing in this contest has a bearing on the choice of girls chosen for the Royal Fair.

Stage Improvements.

The president announced the suggestion of Mrs. W. McKee Bingham that the Institute join with her in the matter of new scenery, and other stage improvements at the Town Hall, but no definite steps were taken as Mrs. Bingham was not present to make clear to the members what her proposal in the way of raising, and spending, funds might be. Probably at a later meeting Mrs. Bingham will present her plan to the gathering.

A list of books suitable for school libraries that may be ordered from the Ontario School Trustees' and Ratepayers' Association was passed around, after a letter from this organization had been read asking the interest of the branch in the work being accomplished, and intimating that a similar letter had been sent to the 1,150 W.I. secretaries in the province.

A number of letters received in reply to invitations to attend the birthday party of the Millbrook branch, but too late for reading on the night of that historic gathering, were in the secretary's hands, one of particular interest being from Mrs. Jos. Mulligan, the first secretary after organization, and now living on a farm not far from Brandon, Manitoba. Mrs. Mulligan told a number of interesting incidents among these being the fact that the local branch was the third Institute to be organized in Ontario, and that it had at one time two hundred members.

"We didn't know what to do with the government grant," wrote Mrs. Mulligan, "so we decided to invest it in plants, as a treat for our members, and we ordered some bulbs. Later I was informed there was a bag of onions at the station for Mrs. Mulligan, and so for the first time, I expect, many of us planted hyacinths, narcissus, daffodils, etc., and learned what it meant to really grow these flowers for ourselves."

The annual meeting will be held the second Saturday in May at the home of Mrs. H. J. Armstrong, at 8 p.m., and as all fees must be in by that date the following collectors were appointed: Miss Margaret Whyte, east end; Mrs. J. W. Hilton and Mrs. H. C. Lord, west end; Mrs. J. L. Byam and Mrs. L. J. Morton Tupper and Bank streets; Mrs. Morton, north of the village, and Mrs. R. J. McKnight, east; Mrs. T. G. Harkness and Mrs. H. J. Armstrong, centre; Miss E. Grandy, Anne street; Mrs. Wesley Brown, Zion line; Mrs. Arthur Fallis, Fallis Line; Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, Fourth Line. The executive will make up the committee responsible for the annual meeting.

An Easter reading, "The Suit That Failed," was given during the program period at Saturday's gathering, the committee in charge, Mrs. Weston Fallis, Mrs. J. H. George and Mrs. H. Lowes, serving fruit and homemade candy during the social hour at the close.

Top Muskrat Skins Bring $1.25 a Pelt

The muskrat trappers' complaint that trapping is slow on account of the fact that many streams and lakes are still ice-bound will probably give way to a more satisfied frame of mind and fuller traps with the break-up of sheet ice, which may now be expected at any moment. To-day the warmest temperature of the present year was recorded; the thermometer climbing to 70 degrees around noon. The chilling wind which prevailed on Saturday, while still of quite a blustery nature is tempered with a warmth which speaks of spring.

Local fur dealers report that muskrat pelts are beginning to dribble in, although as yet there is no decided movement. It is a trifle early however to expect the skins in any large quantities, nevertheless it is felt that the catch will be decidedly smaller than in previous years. As compared with an average price of $1.50 for top grade muskrat pelts, last season, the prevailing price this year for the highest grade skins is $1.25.

Cabinet Ministers Must Use Own Cars

OTTAWA, April 14. — (Canadian Press Despatch.)—Cabinet Ministers will have to get along without Government cars in future, but they will each have $2,000 more salary to enable them to own their own. Confirmation of repeated rumors that Premier Bennett intended to abolish the practice of supplying automobiles and chauffeurs to members of the Government in the main estimates tabled in the House of Commons last night.

A sum of $42,000 is to be voted to provide $2,000 additional to each Minister and to the Leader of the Opposition and $1,000 each to the Speaker of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Commons, in lieu of the motor cars hitherto provided. Chauffeurs whose positions are abolished may be appointed to other positions in the Civil Service.

The allowance for motor cars brings the total remuneration of Cabinet Ministers up to $16,000 per year. At present they receive $10,000 salary and $4,000 as sessional indemnity.

FERGUSON PAID $12,000 PER YEAR

Salary is $2,000 a Year More Than That Paid His Predecessor.

SAME AS WHEN PREMIER.

OTTAWA, April 14. — Hon. G. Howard Ferguson will receive as British High Commissioner, a salary of $12,000 a year, or $2,000 more per year than was paid his predecessor in that office, the late Hon. P. C. Larkin.

This was revealed in the main estimates tabled last night by Premier Bennett. The estimates include a vote of $132,260 for the "salaries and expenses of the office of the high commissioner for Canada." This is $15,000 more than was voted for the previous fiscal year, which ended on March 31 last. The wording of the vote states that it includes $2,000 additional salary for the High Commissioner.

The increase of $2,000 brings Mr. Ferguson's salary up to the level of that which he received as premier of Ontario. In spite of the rise, however, it remains far below the figures quoted in the rumors in circulation when he took office. A salary of $50,000 was bruited then and was denied by Mr. Ferguson.

Appropriations for the offices at Washington, Paris and Tokio are unchanged, $100,000 for Washington and $80,000 for each of the others.

REV. D. A. THOMSON, D.D., IS NEARING 48TH YEAR AS PASTOR OF CHURCH

Seventy-nine Years Ago Since Presbyterianism Began to Take Visibility in Hastings.

PIONEER SETTLERS.

First Church Dedicated on Site of Present Edifice in 1858.

HASTINGS, April 14.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—Rev. D. A. Thomson, D.D., of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, is reveicing congratulations on the approach of his 48th anniversary as pastor of St. Andrews.

It is exactly 79 years ago since Presbyterianism began to take visibility in Hastings. That was the year of 1852. Since then it has proved itself a pioneer for good under good in the entire community. The nucleous of St. Andrew's as it now stands, was a little band of earnest devout, sturdy pioneers, from the lowlands of Scotland and from the north of Ireland. When the Sabbath day came round all unnecessary work ceased, it was to them the day of rest, but, there was something lacking. There was no place of worship, to which they could go, and there was no man to lead them in the worship of God.

They resolved to have occasional services at least, and a beginning was made by the coming from Scotland, of the Rev. Mr. Calquhoun, who took up his residence at Cotteslow, known after the advent of Mr. Calquhoun for many years as "Calquhoun Corners." Mr. Calquhoun's parish was an extensive one stretching from Warsaw to Keene He was able to give service at Hasting about once a month. Hastings was then known as "Crooks Rapids" and the services were held in the diningroom of Mr. James Fowlds.

After Mr. Calquhoun came, Dr. Mac-Aluse, who made his home in Norwood, and was able to give Hastings more frequent services. Under his pastoral care and able expositions of the scriptures the dining-room became too small for the congregations, and they had to resort to the saw mill which was fitted up and cleaned for the purpose. The Doctor was a powerful man physically as well as otherwise. The Dr. found a better cause for his energy in ministering to the spiritual wants of his people, which he used unsparingly and under such consecrated energy, the cause of Presbyterianism flourished.

From the saw mill, the congregation moved to a hall, furnished for such purposes, over the Post Office, whichwas then situated at the north west corner of Front and Bridge Streets. It was then resolved to build a suitable place of worship, and such an edifice was erected on the site of the present church. The site was the gift of Mr. Henry Fowlds, senior. About this time, Dr. Mac Aluse received a government appointment and left for Ireland. He was succeeded by the Rev. Mr. Bowie, sent out by the Free Church of Scotland. Mr. Bowie was a man of devotional and earnest spirit and was welcomed by an anxious congregation. Under his pastorate the new church was dedicated in 1858. The Rev. William Blane of Springville, Col. 2:10, "Ye are complete in Him." preached the dedicatory sermon from On the evening of the following day a social gathering was held at which the following ministers were present, The pastor, the Rev. Mr. Bowie, presided and addresses suitable to the occasion were delivered by the Rev. Wm. Blane, Rev. Dr. Neil and the Rev. J. M. Rogers, Norwood and Hastings congregations were then organized into a pastoral charge, under the care of the Presbytery of Cobourg, and the pastorate of the Rev. James Bowie, Mr. Bowie remained in charge until 1866, when he returned to Scotland.

Rev. W. C. Young Follows.

After a vacancy of about 18 months, the Rev. W. C. Young was called, and inducted by the Presbytery of Cobourg, on the 29th day of October, 1867. During the vacancy the church, which was a rough-cast building, was renovated and bricked over. Mr. Young's first service was at the re-opening of the church and was largely attended. Mr. Young's sermon on the occasion was based on the text, Neh. 6:3, He ministered to the people of Norwood and Hastings for six years, when he was compelled, through failing health, to resign his charge. Speaking of this some time later, Mr. Young said, "I can look back with the greatest pleasure and delight to that period of my life and ministry. few ministers were more kindly treated, loved and respected by their flock than I was in Norwood and Hastings.

The next minister called was the Rev. T. F. Fotheringham. He was ordained and inducted by the Presbytery of Peterborough, on the 21st day of July, 1875. In that year the union of the three Presbyterian churches in Canada was consumated and formed the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Norwood and Hastings congregations decided to join the union, and were from then under the care of the Presbytery of Peterborough.

On account of his wife's failing health, Mr. Fotheringham resigned this charge and moved to California in 1881. During the vacancy which followed his resignation, the Hastings congregation resolved to separate from Norwood and took steps towards that thend. They desired a minister resident among them, in order to have both morning and evening services. The matter of separation came before the Presbytery and was strongly opposed by the representatives from Norwood. Mr. John M. Fife, represented the Hastings Session, Mr. W. J. Fowlds, the Board of Management, and Mrs. W. J. Fowlds and Mrs. John Peters, represented the congregation. The Presbytery granted the separation on the 5th day of April 1882.

On the 14th day of April, 1883, the Rev. D. A. Thomson, the present pastor then a graduate of Knox College, Toronto, came to take charge of the congregation until eligible for a call and on the 19th day of July of that year, he was ordained and inducted as the first pastor of the pastoral charge of of St. Andrews, Hastings. That is 48 years ago, and the pastorate, though above the average pastorate in length, has been a most friendly and satisfactory one. During that time the other churches have had several changes. There have been at least 18 ministers in the Methodist, or United Church, nine in the Anglican Church and six in the Catholic church. It is gratifying to the pastor of St. Andrews Church to find his people still unanimous regarding the continuity of his pastorate.

Yet the long pastorate could not be without its times of trial and anxiety. A great trial was the burning of the old church which had so many hallowed memories attached to it. It was a disastrous fire which swept a considerable part of the village which laid the church in ashes on July 5th, 1897. But the people had a mind to work and took steps to build while the smoke of the ruin was still ascending. On October 18th, the foundation stone of the present commodious building was laid by the late Mr. Henry M. Fowlds, and opened on February 20th, of the following year for regular services, free of debt and $30 to the good. The opening services were conducted by the Rev. J. K. Smith, D.D, of Toronto, an ex-moderator of the General Assembly, both morning and evening, and the Rev. Francis Andrews, D.D., of Keene, in the afternoon, services which were pleasant and profitable and enjoyed by all.

Church Union.

Another time of trial for the congregation was the crisis brought on by church union. The people did not object so much to the Union as to the methods and means employed to bring it about. While always endeavouring to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace, and live on friendly terms with all the churches, the people decided that there was still a place and a purpose for the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

On April 10th, 1928, Knox College honoured itself, and St. Andrew's Church, Hastings, by conferring upon the pastor, the degree of Doctor of Divinity. Dr. Thomson also had the honour of addressing the graduating class of Knox College, on this occasion.

Dr. Thomson is a native of Scotland. He was born in Dundee and, after passing through the lower grammar schools in that city, attended and graduated from the University of Glasgow and, after studying two years in Theology at Glasgow, he came to Canada and finished his course at Knox College, Toronto, It was while a student there, that he received an invitiaton to preach in Hastings, which eventually led to his ordination and induction and his long and successful pastorate of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church.

I wonder how many of you have come across the word "tactile" without bothering to look up the meaning, if you did not know it?

• • • • • • •

I came across the word recently and found that it is a new word for an old quality in food that makes for excellence. In other words, the word "tactile" means, "perceptible by the touch" or "capable of being touched."

• • • • • • •

Foods, especially cooked edibles, are judged in quality in various ways, one of which is their tactile excellence. The word comes to the fore as expressing a certain element indicating the "feel" of articles in various realms.

• • • • • • •

In painting fruits, the fruit must have the right texture and look tempting to the palate while cloth must have a textile appeal and resemble fabric.

• • • • • • •

In actual culinary matters, a tactile quality signifies a "feel" of the food to the tongue. Some dishes must be smooth, and among such is custard.

• • • • • • •

Cake, to be its best, must have just a suggestion of creaminess in its texture as well as a light spongy element. If the cake is done too much it may be light, but it loses its creaminess.

• • • • • • •

If the cake is not baked sufficiently, it is not full of the necessary air to be light. If a cake falls, it is too solid to be creamy. Cake that is stale has lost the proper moisture.

• • • • • • •

Jelly and marmalade may have all the delicious flavor and taste that belong to them and yet be lacking in the right tactile quality.

• • • • • • •

They must not be of the consistency of honey nor should they be so solid that immediately the tongue detects gelatine—they must be both smooth and firm to just the correct degree.

• • • • • • •

Macaroons made from almond paste necessarily have nut particles in them. They should be crisp outside, soft inside and leave infinitely small particles of tasty almonds on the tongue as a final tactile element.

• • • • • • •

You will find that all foods which contain nuts have this quality.

• • • • • • •

The expert cook seeks to have the tactile element in dishes as decided as the flavor, for the tongue delights in the texture as much as the taste.

munion table and pulpit stairways, and tall gold standards filled with Easter lilies, added a festive touch to the stately church. The full choir was in attendance, and a musical program of deep impressiveness accompanied the service. At a quarter past three o'clock the strains of the Guilmant Wedding March were heard. This was followed by a short recital of appropriate pieces, while in the vestibule the gowned choir assembled. The choir divided into two double lines for the processional up the centre aisles. The processional hymn, "Praise my soul the King of Heaven" (Goss), announced the coming of the bride, who followed up the left aisle, leaning on the arm of her brother, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, who gave her in marriage. Awaiting in front of the communion table were the bridegroom and the minister of the church, Rev. Dr. John W. Woodside, who read the marriage service.

Bride Unattended

Unattended, the bride was a picture of radiant loveliness in her nuptial costume in pastel tones. The exquisite gown was of summer cloud blue bouffe de soie with fitted silhouette. It spread in a long, full flounce ending in two small trains at the back. A jacket of the same material, completing the ensemble, was beaded to the elbows with mauve and green beads, the design outlined with seed pearls. From the elbows, long full scarves floated to form trains. The hat with large and gracefully undulating brim, was of rough French straw in the cloud blue and the silver embroidered crepe slippers matched in tone. She carried a large bouquet of mauve and pink orchids.

During the signing of the register, "The voice that breathed o'er Eden" was sung softly by the choir.

The Reception.

Following the wedding ceremony, parliamentarians and their wives, members of officialdom, and close friends had an opportunity of bestowing their good wishes upon the couple at a reception held by the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett at the hotel where he resides. The bride and groom with the host arrived by the ballroom entrance, and received in the spacious drawing-room, where a mass of blue and pink hydrangeas and ferns formed a background between two tall gilt-framed mirrors, and repeated the delicate tints of the bride's gown.

Refreshments were served in the ballroom to which the Earl and Countess of Bessborough were escorted by the Prime Minister. The bride's table was a great horseshoe in the centre, covered with a primrose yellow cloth and adorned with trails of smilax and forget-me-nots, and bowls of Johanna Hill and Butterfly roses and gypsophella.

The many-tiered wedding cake was placed in front of the bride.

Tall standards of calla lilies added to the beauty of the scene, and behind a screen of lilies and ferns an orchestra played.

The toast to the bride was proposed in a happy speech by his Excellency, Earl Bessborough. After cutting the imposing wedding cake, the bride presented the first two pieces to their Excellencies.

The gift of her Excellency to the bride was a rich papier mache tea table. His Excellency presented the bridegroom with a beautifully chased silver cigaret box.

Leave for New York

Major and Mrs. Herridge left at 6.15 o'clock for New York and will sail on the Europa for England. Before returning to Canada they will also visit Copenhagen. They do not expect to take up their residence in Washington until the late summer.

For travelling, the bride donned a printed crepe frock in gray, black and red tones, fashioned in simple lines. With it she wore a batiste collar, the ends pulled through and tied in a crisp bow. The tones of the dress were echoed in the leather handbag of gray with red enamel initials. The becoming hat of stitched gray faille had a narrow gray patent leather trim with jaunty bow of patent leather at the side. Her shoes were of snakeskin with touches of black, and her wrap a Paquin model coat of smoke gray with large fluffy collar of grey fox.

Guests

Out-of-town relatives who attended were Captain Ronald Bennett, brother of the bride, and Mrs. Bennett of Sackville, N.B.; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Barclay, Montreal, and Mrs. Kenneth McLaughlin and Mrs. Eric McLaughlin, sisters of the bridegroom, from Montreal.

Accompanying their Excellencies were Mr. Alan P. Lascelles, Secretary; Col. H. W. Snow, Comptroller of the Household, and Mrs. Snow; Col. H. Willis O'Connor, A.D.C., and Mrs. O'Connor; Lieutenant D. Fuller, A.D.C.; Capt. Stuart Frencan, A.D.C., and Captain Sir John Child, Bart, A.D.C.

Masters John and Roger Rowley acted as ushers.

Amongst the handsome and unique wedding gifts of silver, china, crystal, pictures and so forth the bride and bridegroom treasured a number of favorite books, handsomely bound.

A novel gift was a plate in blue and white china from a dinner service used by Napoleon, and another silver candle snuffers from the period of George the Third. A genuine old Toby jug added a cheery touch, and a painting by Cobourn had a place of special honor.

A prominent Peterborough citizen who travels a lot was heard to say the other day, "The citizens in towns and cities I know of who support an active Chamber of Commerce most certainly are able to boast of constant growth and development."

LADIES' AID HOLDS PLEASANT MEETING

Centenery Church Women Hold Most Delightful Meeting.

ROSENEATH, April 14 (Examiner Correspondence).—A very profitable and pleasant afternoon was spent on Thursday, in Centenery Church when the Ladies' Aid Society held their monthly meeting. The president, Mrs. Thomas Arthur was in charge.

The secretary, Miss Emma Sherwin read the report of the March meeting. The gathering continued their business period, among the various articles, it was finally decided to hold a social evening including progressive crockinole on April 20th to take place in the school house. A good program is being provided by the committee for entertainment to those who do not wish to play crockinole.

A splendid program was given at the meeting consisted of a paper given by Miss Jessie Smith, "The Malady of not wanting," taken from Luke 6-25, "Woe unto you that are full."

A poem, "Haven't Got Time," was given by Miss Evalina Sherwin. Short readings by Mrs. M. Brown, "Casting up accounts," Mrs. Delbert Sherwin, "Deeds Not Words,' Miss Emma Sherwin, "A quaint Indian Legend." Discipleship, what it means, was explained by Mrs. Dawson Timlin, Christ places a cross at the heart of His appeal for discipleship. Let him deny himself, the law of sacrifice and self denial is Christ's law. To take up the cross daily, will mean a daily attempt to walk in humility before God and man, and a slow and painful surrender of self-will. The cross will no longer be an irksome task but a glorified chance to serve.

The pleasant afternoon closed with the singing of a hymn and repeating the mizpah benediction after which a social hour was spent and dainty refreshments were served. The May meeting will be held at the Misses J. and E. Sherwin with Miss Arthurs to secure talent for the program.

Scullin Gov't Saved By Two-Vote Margin

CANBERRA, Australia, April 14.—(C. P. Cable via Reuters). — The Labor Government of Prime Minister James Scullin was saved from defeat in the House of Representatives to-day by only two votes, the narrowest margin it has yet received.

The vote was on a motion of censure moved by Hon. John Greig Latham, official leader of the opposition who called attention to a deficit of roughly $100,000,000.

The government was saved by the support of the Extremists of the Labor Party who now, since their removal from the cabinet hold the balance of power in the house.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

FEVER BLISTERS OR COLD SORES.

There have been cases on record where cold sores, fever blisters, (herpes) were brought on by emotional disturbances—fear, worry, fright—but after all it is likely the digestive disturbances caused by these emotions that were really to blame.

These fever blisters are usually about the edge of the mouth where the skin and the lining of the mouth meet. The blisters seem to come on suddenly as a small red spot, then a little pimple, which breaks down and becomes a shallow ulcer. There is a feeling of tension of tightness accompanied by pain. The little blisters may gradually dry up, but usually the movement of the mouth in eating, talking or laughing, opens them up and leaves a raw painful surface.

The pain is very irritating considering that the blister is so small, and this pain, always present, makes the patient irritable to all about him. As you know the surface of the skin, especially about mouth and tongue, contains a great many small nerve endings, hence the pain when these nerve endings become exposed, or have pressure put upon them.

What causes these fever blisters or cold sores as we more frequently call them?

It would seem that some individuals are more likely to have them than others, whether it is an inherited tendency or just the peculiarity of their issues.

While some particular food substance can very often be the cause, there is usually some weather condition—cold, dampness, rawness of the atmosphere—that helps to bring out the blisters.

Some of our best foods have been named by some physicians as causing fever blisters. It would seem however, that some emotional disturbance, then the food, then the raw wind, all have something to do with it.

In regard to treatments; as in any skin condition, the intestine should be moved by epsom salts and then something soothing applied to the sores.

Dr. W. A. Pusey suggests that softening the lips with vaseline or cold cream once or twice a day may be useful. When the blisters are open and raw, hydrogen peroxide one part to three or four parts of warm water helped to prevent them spreading.

If you open the blisters be sure to put the point of the needle through a lighted match first, as these blisters may be easily infected and give real trouble.

Your best plan however is to try and avoid fever blisters by discovering their cause, and whether it is some particular food, some emotional disturbance, or both.

SOCIETY SPONSORS HOME COOKING SALE

Successful Event Held Under Auspices of St. Thomas' Church W.A.

MILLBROOK, April 14 (Examiner Correspondence)—The W.A. of Saint Thomas' Anglican Church sponsored a successful home baking sale, and afternoon tea, on Saturday at 3 a.m., the vacant store east of the printing office being used for the purpose.

Easter decorations, including bunnies, Easter eggs, an abundance of pussy willows, and spring blossoms, made the interior most attractive, the boxes of homemade candy, long counter of baking, and daintily-laid tea tables all adding their quota to the enjoyment of the whole occasion.

Among those assisting were Mrs. L. J. Morton, who looked after the sale of candy; Mrs. J. A. Vance, Mrs. H. Attwooll, Mrs. R. A. Ford, and Mrs. George Howson, who were salesladies for the home baking; Miss Margaret Christie attended to the making of tea, and waiting on the tables, which were filled several times over, were Mrs. E. G. Britton, Miss Margaret Wood, Miss Anna Kells and Mrs. J. E. Allen.

The rector, Rev. William Simpson, B.A., who has recently come to the parish, and Mrs. Simpson, were among the many who attended the sale, remaining for some time and taking advantage of the opportunity the event afforded for making acquaintance, and enjoying the social converse which was a happy feature of the afternoon tea section of the occasion.

VIOLIN RECITAL PLEASING EVENT OF THE SEASON

Deane Miner Established Reputation as Violinist of Fine Ability.

DIFFICULT PROGRAMME.

(By Jeanette)

Deane Miner's recital of violin music in the hall of the Conservatory of Music last night was interesting from three standpoints: First, the virtuosity, if such a word might be coined, of the youthful musician; second, the breadth and range of the program; and third, the singing voice which formed an interlude in the instrumental music.

Mr. Miner has made a reputation for himself since his arrival in the city last year, as a violinist who possesses exceptionally fine technical ability and a sympathetic comprehension of the nuances of many differing types of compositions. His program last night included lengthy works by Handel and Wieniawski and shorter pieces by Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, Debussy and Kreisler.

The violin in Mr. Miner's hands responds to every demand made upon it and its outstanding characteristic, perhaps, is a degree of soft brilliance in atmosphere and a singing quality in tone that makes his renditions most effective. This singing quality was most apparent in the noble and profound music of Handel which formed his opening contribution, in the Sonata in D Major No. 4. For the violin, outside of the celebrated 'Largo', Handel's music is rarely heard and the effect of that smooth, legato bow that brought out all the beauty of a benign, melodic tone was extremely interesting in four movements which progressed from the peace of the Adagio, through the more restless bow of the Allegro, to the long, broad measures, with accented chords from the piano, of the third movement, the Larghetto and the Allegro which again appeared as a close.

As a very great contrast came the Wieniawski Concerto in D. Minor, at the heels of the Randel Sonata. This Concerto offered a remarkable feat in memorization, as it was played throughout without the help of the score.

It is a difficult and exacting composition that binds in its three movements most of the obstacles which confront the master of that most temperamental of all stringed instruments: the violin. Mr. Miner appeared, however, to find no terrors in the varied types of bowing, in the false and real harmonics, in the double-stopping in which this piece abounds. An Allegro Moderato movement opens the composition, its theme increasing in crescendo fashion, both in warmth and in speed, with arpeggios that quicken the beat to a brilliant finale. Then comes the Romance with its lingering finale of soft, sweet tone, and its music that was almost like that played with a mute over the strings, so controlled and soft was the pianissimo tone. The movement which concludes the Concerto appears in gypsy style, 'a la Zingara' and forms a dramatic finish, with its trilled harmonics, cascaded like a bird song.

The Flaxen-haired Maiden

That difficult art of double-stopping which forms such a hill of terfor for many a violinist doesn't effect Mr. Miner's playing in the least. In fact, his mastery of this mode of playing on two strings with the one motion, without causing any weird dissonance, was notable in many of the selections of the evening.

In the two groups of shorter compositions which came later, there was an elfin bit of entrancing melody in a tiny thing by Debussy, "La Fille aux Cheveux de Lin" (The Girl with the Flaxen Hair), with a companion in Kreisler's "La Gitana", an Arabian-Spanish gypsy song from the 17th century and a gay dance, a Porpora-Kreisler Menuett, that formed the conclusion of the programmed numbers, and that had some distinctive phrasing in a strongly-marked martele, or hammered, bow. For this, there came much applause and a brief, melodic encore played 'con sordini'.

The three other numbers on Mr. Miner's program were a Bach "Air", with a slow, sombre bow; Beethoven's Romance No. 40, and a Brahms' Hungarian dance, with the swift, pulsating, vivid music of the csardas in its gay measures.

The assisting artist of the evening was Dorothy Allan Park, singing four songs and their encore with her usual effective presentation of varying types of melody. Outstanding in its dramatic and expressive sweetness was a song like the cry of a heart, "Think On Me" one of the old Scottish airs that stir the imagination with their poignant pathos and rich sentiment. It was a beautiful thing, dramatically and expressively rendered, and its echoes remained as a lovely memory until the gayety of the little following encore, an Irish folk song, shattered them.

Mrs. Park's first song was a reverential rendering, in the half voice in a high pitched key, of the aria, "Come Unto Him" from Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah". As a contrast to the pianissimo handling of that song, came a robust, triumphant full-voiced paean of praise, in "Alleluia" new to local ears. The fourth song in a contrasting group was an arrangement by Marjorie Kennedy-Fraser of a Hebridean song, "Seagull of the Land Under the Waves" the calmy fatalistic dirge of a people accustomed to sudden death, with Gaelic phrases intertwined in the vague melody.

The applause which followed every number of Deane Miner's violin playing was just as insistent for the singer of the evening, and both artists responded finally with brief encores.

The third, indispensable member of the group, who, like Mrs. Park, received a beautiful floral tribute during the progress of the program, was Mrs. Agnes Logan Green, playing the piano accompaniments of the evening with sure and satisfying skill that formed an artistic background for singer and player alike.

MOURNING WARDROBE

"A death occurred in our family and I had to go in mourning. I could hardly afford to buy all black clothes, so decided to dye what I had. I consulted our druggist and he advised using Diamond Dyes. Everything came out beautifully; coats, wool dresses, stockings and all. I have since learned to appreciate the excellence of the black Diamond Dyes. I tried another black dye and the results were impossible. I had to get Diamond Dyes and do the work over. Recently I have tinted my curtains a beautiful raspberry shade and dyed a rug a lovely garnet with Diamond Dyes. They are real money savers—the finest dyes money can buy—I truly believe."

16 Major League Clubs Swing Into Action Today

APPROXIMATELY 230,000 FANS EXPECTED TO ATTEND OPENING GAMES OF TWO MAJOR LEAGUES

Hoover to See Athletics and Senators in Action at Washington.

PIRATES OPPOSE CUBS.

Walter Stewart, Former Leaf Hurler, on Mound for St. Louis Browns.

NEW YORK, April 14.—It's fair and warmer along the baseball fronts for the grand opening of the major league season to-day. Far from feeling any pinch of the times, the sixteenth American and National League clubs have marshalled reinforcements, increased the wages of many of their star performers and otherwise set the stage for a gala get-away as well as a brisk campaign and big business all summer long.

Approximately 230,000 fans are expected to turn out for the eight opening games prepared to give the sport an appropriate send-off.

President Hoover heads the list of notables who will figure in the opening ceremonies, featured, according to time-honored custom, by formal parades, floral tokens and the hoisting of flags.

They're Contenders

The President will be on hand to watch Connie Mack's champion Athletics start the defense of their title against the Washington Senators, generally regarded as the outstanding rival of the A's for American League honors.

There will be no special attraction, except for the annual debut of the one and only "Babe" Ruth, but the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox expect to draw an opening-day crowd of 50,000 to the Yankee Stadium. This was the top figure in advance estimates for all the openers.

More than 40,000, including Commissioner Landis, may see Rogers Hornsby and his Chicago Cubs start the National League campaign against the Pittsburg Pirates at Wrigley Field, Chicago.

This affray brings together two of the five teams picked to wage a merry scramble for the championship now held by the St. Louis Cardinals who play the Reds at Cincinnati.

John Arnold Heydler, President of the National League, planned to see the New York Giants open the season at Philadelphia, while the rampaging Brooklyn Robins will journey to Boston to trade heavy wallops with the Braves.

Stewart in Action

The Detroit Tigers will play the Browns at St. Louis, featuring a southpaw duel between Earl Whitehill and Walter Stewart, while the Chicago White Sox oppose the Indians at Cleveland in a game involving two "dark horse" contenders for American League honors.

Nearly a score of newcomers will be closely watched as they trot out on the field to hold down regular jobs. With the exception of the Athletics and Washington in the American League, every club has re-arranged its lineup.

While standing pat on their regular lineups, the Cardinals and Athletics both have strengthened their pitching prospects by acquiring sensational youngsters. The Cards, however, will go to the barrier temporarily without the services of their slugging outfielder, Chick Hafey, the last of the holdouts.

The Spool Axminster Team by clever victories in the final lap of the schedule in the Brinton Carpet League ousted their keenest opponents, the Finishing Room, from the championship of the loop and the right to hold the President's silver trophy for one year by the slim margin of two points on the final count. The Combines and Jacquard Axminster, the other two teams in the circuit who showed plenty of class in the initial tilts of the season, were hopelessly outplayed on the home stretch and finished up with 18 and 16 points respectively, ten points behind the leaders.

BOWLERS PROCEED WITH ORGANIZATION

Much Progress Made Towards Formation of Provincial Governing Body.

LONDON, Ont., April 14.—At the Dominion Lawn Bowling Association meeting much time was devoted to the promotion of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association of Ontario, which is being organized. This association is to govern lawn bowling within the Province of Ontario, the same as the British Columbia, Alberta, Manitoba and Quebec Associations control the game in their respective Provinces.

The constitution and by-laws as compiled by A. A. Langford of London were accepted as a basis for this new Provincial association and a committee was named to receive comments from clubs relative thereto. This committee will deal with these at a meeting to be convened shortly in order that any contentious points may be adjusted before the organization meeting, which has been postponed until early in May.

The committee is representative of interests in all parts of the Province and the personnel is as follows: A. A. Langford, London, chairman; officers of D.L.B.A., President, Dr. Knapp, Woodstock; Vice-President Walter B. Cowan, Toronto; Secretary, W. G. Howse, Toronto, and William Rae, Hamilton; K. B. SMITH MAY PITCH IN OPENING GAME

Manager O'Neill Expects to Get Players From Brooklyn Dodgers.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 14.—Although Manager Steve O'Neill had planned to hold a practice session for the Maple Leafs here yesterday, it had to be called off owing to the fact that the Jersey City team had arranged to play an exhibition game with a local semi-pro outfit. The Leafs arrived here during the noon hour and idled for the balance of the day. However, they were out at the park this morning putting in their last practice session prior to the season's opening on Wednesday.

Manager O'Neil and a number of the players watched the Skeeters win their exhibition fixture yesterday afternoon. Like the Leafs, the Jersey City team is badly in need of pitchers. The Leafs are believed to be in line to secure a couple of hurlers from the Brooklyn Robins. Both are former Class AA pitchers, and when Vice-President James Dunn of the Toronto club arrives here tomorrow morning negotiations will likely be conducted with the Brooklyn management in an effort to get these pitchers as soon as possible.

Gin Thrower Pays Into City Coffers

MONTREAL, Que., April 14 (By The Canadian Press) — Henri Clement, 26, who was arrested and charged with throwing a bottle of gin on the ice at the Forum Saturday night during the first period of the Canadiens-Black Hawks hockey game, pleaded guilty in court yesterday and was fined $50. When the ardent fans went into a rage over a decision handed down by Referee Bobby Hewitson, a barrage of programs, coins, cigarette boxes and a bottle of gin showered the ice. The bottle narrowly missed Hewitson. Clement was arrested after considerable difficulty in securing necessary witnesses. He was held in jail over the week-end, bail being denied.

In addition to bringing him arrest and a fine, accompanied by a scathing lecture from Recorder Semple, Clement because of his excess enthusiasm, also missed seeing his favorite team come from behind to win an epic victory in the final period.

MONTREAL NETTERS WIN AT PINEHURST

Jack Wright and Marcel Rainville Victorious—Close Call For Shields.

PINEHURST, N.C., April 14.—Despite one near upset, all the seeded players came safely through the first and second round matches yesterday in the thirteenth annual united North and South tennis tournament.

The sensation of the day was Ed Yeomans of Washington, University of North Carolina star, who forced Frank X. Shields of New York, seeded number one, to three sets before losing 5-7, 6-4, 9-7, in the second round. Shields used a smashing service and speedy court work to overcome his opponent.

Two Montrealers were victorious and one was defeated. The second round of the men's singles included the following results:

John Van Ryn, Philadelphia, defeated Dr. Irwin Epstein, Montreal, 6-0, 6-1; Jack Wright, Montreal, defeated B. T. Welsh, Washington, 6-1, 6-8, 6-0; Marcel Rainville, Montreal, defeated Lenoir Wright, 6-2, 6-2; Berkeley Bell, Austin, Texas, defeated E. S. Stillman, New York, 6-3, 6-2; Clifford Sutter, New Orleans, La., won by default from H. D. Vail, Glen Cove, L.I.

Miss Marjorie Sachs and Miss Virginia Cross, both of Boston, in their second round match furnished the fireworks in the women's division, Miss Sachs winning, 6-3, 2-6, 9-7, after a furious battle. Mrs. Marian Jessup, Wilmington, Del.; Miss Anne Page, Philadelphia, and Miss Florence Le Boutillier, New York, were not pressed in winning their second round matches.

Engines Jump Rails Crews Are Injured

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., April 14—Two engineers and two firemen were injured early yesterday when the first of two locomotives hauling a long freight on the Berlin-New Britain branch of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad left the rails and fell on its side with theh cab projecting over a 20 foot embankment.

Officials of the road said an open switch was the cause of the derailment and added that someone not connected with the railroad had been tampering with the switch. An investigation was begun by railroad police.

CURLERS HOLD ANNUAL DINNER

Cups Are Presented at Dinner of Lakefield Curling Club.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

LAKEFIELD, April 14 (Examiner Correspondence).—The annual banquet of the Lakefield Curling Club was held on Thursday evening in the Lakefield House, where a bountiful and delicious supper was prepared. Twenty-seven members were present and T. Crawford, president of the club, was in the chair. Following the supper the business of the past season was discussed and the prizes awarded to the winning rinks. The president referred to the past season, which had not been as good as some previous years owing to the prevailing industrial and business depression. Several of the old reliable members had been unable this year to curl owing to bad health, and during the past year one of the most popular members of the club had been called away by death. However, in spite of the discouragments, the club was not downhearted, but would go forward with high hopes of better days in the future.

The FitzGerald Cup was presented to J. E. Galvin's rink, as follows: A. E. Higgins, A. G. Lawless, W. Watson, J. E. Galvin, skip. The prizes accompanying the cup were jackknives. The FitzGerald Cup is for the local competition.

The Casement Cup for the skips' bonspiel was presented to H. Hamblin, N. S. Osborne, N. A. Moore, and P. Spence, skip. The prizes were packs of playing cards.

The Tanner Cup, or Vice-Skips' Cup, was won by M. Holland, G. Scriver, G. H. Spence, and R. D. Murduff, with neckties as the individual prizes.

The Dawson Cup, which is a challenge cup, was won by H. Hamblin, C. Stenner, E. Watson, and E. H. Northey.

The Douro Cup, which always brings a note of humor into the curlers' season, was won this year by C. Payne, Rev. T. M. Wesley, J. A. Porter, and H. R. Wagar.

J. W. Ridpath, who has been one of the most ardent of all the curling enthusiasts of the village, was present at the banquet. He was made an honorary member of the club this year as ill-health made it quite impossible for him to indulge in his favorite pastime. In a brief speech he expressed his thanks for the honor paid him by the club, and assured them of his deep interest in their activities.

After the various prize-winners had been heard from, the officers were elected for 1931-1932 as follows: President, D. H. Charlton; Vice-president, W. G. Morrison; Committee, A. . Lawless, N. S. Osborne, J. E. Galvin. The secretary-treasurer, P. Spence, resigned his position, which he has filled for the past nine years with efficiency and unfailing good humor, and a hearty vote of thanks was extended to him for his valuable services. A. B. Burrows was appointed secretary-treasurer for the coming season.

Votes of thanks were given to the retiring officers and executive committee and to Mr. and Mrs. Lawless for the sumptuous banquet.

The following were present: E. W. Bailey, D. H. Charlton, G. A. Charlton, T. Crawford, Rev. W. J. Creighton, B. Q. Dench, J. E. Ga'vin, M. Holland, A. E. Higgins, N. W. Kyle, A. G. Lawless, Dr. F. H. Lingwood, N. A. Moore, W. G. Morrison, E. H. Northey, N. S. Osborne, J. H. Payne, N. Payne, J. A. Porter, C. C. Stenner, H. M. Stewart, J. W. Ridpath, G. Scriver, G. H. Spence, P. Spence, Rev. T. M. Wesley, W. W. Yale.

Youth Pleads Guilty To Forging Cheques

LINDSAY, April 14 (Examiner Correspondence)—A young man's ingratitude to his foster mother was the story unravelled in the police court yesterday when Arthur Southern, of Cartwright Township, pleaded guilty to forging cheques on March 10th and March 30th of this year. The name which he forged was that of his foster mother, Mrs. A. J. Southern. Mrs. Southern and her late husband having adopted him when he was a small child.

County Crown Attorney Anderson termed the accused "a parasite, living on his foster mother and getting all he can get from her, and then when he fails to get all he wants, commits the crime of forgery." Mr. Anderson claimed that the car which the accused owned seemed to be the seat of the trouble, as all of the cheques forged were to pay for parts for the machine.

On two other occasions Southern had committed a similar offence, but the mother had put up money and the affairs were hushed up.

Police Magistrate Jordan remanded the accused for a week.

CANADIENS FAVORED TO REPEAT VICTORY OVER HAWKS TO-NIGHT

A REAL SPORTSMAN

Paavo Nurmi is probably one of the greatest runners in the world today. Besides a great runner he is a great sportsman as events in the past have proved. During the 1928 Olympics at Amsterdam Nurmi was running in a heat with a little Frenchman who was not considered to be a particular threat. While going over one of the water hurdles Nurmi stumbled and fell backwards. The Frenchman, a little ahead of him turned and gave him a helping hand, although he realized that Nurmi would beat him on the straight run at the finish. At the end of the race Nurmi and the Frenchman finished in a dead tie, Nurmi refusing to win from him.

Stanley Cup Final to be Played on Montreal Ice This Evening.

FIFTH OF SERIES.

MONTREAL, April 14.—Canadiens of Montreal or the Black Hawks of Chicago will be crowned as hockey kings of the world to-night at the Forum here, when the fifth and final game for the Stanley Cup, silver emblem of the game's highest honors, will be fought out. The teams divided the first four games evenly in a sensational series, two of the games going into overtime, both of which Chicago won.

The game will be played to a finish to decide whether Chicago takes the cup to the Middle West of the United States for the first time in its history or whether Canadiens will tuck it back on the shelf it has occupied since they took it away from Boston Bruins last Spring.

Canadiens, by virtue of their smashing win Saturday night, have been installed slight favorites to become the first team to win the cup twice in succession since the league reached its present proportions. Ottawa Senators turned the trick in 1920 and 1921 when the league was smaller. The showing in the last game when Canadiens came from behind with a two-goal deficit, to win by 4—2, has convinced the fans of their ability.

The Black Hawks have suffered no injuries during their hard play-off matches and have set their hearts on taking the cup home. It is likely their everchanging lines will set a terrific pace from the start. With everything at stake, one of the fastest games of the long season, which started way back in November, is expected.

The same officials will have charge, Bobby Hewitson and Alex. Romeril of Toronto. Hewitson was the target of a full bottle of gin in the game Saturday, but the missile just missed him.

It is likely Manager Hart will send out Morenz, Gagnon and Joliat to start the game on the forward line, though this depends on the condition of Howie's shoulder. Cook, Adams and March appeared certain to get the call for the Hawks. Tickets are at a premium, and the capacity of the Forum will again be taxed to the limit.

WARSAW FACTORY GOOD STANDING

Report of Year's Business Read by Fred. M. Crowe—Re-appointed Official.

WARSAW, April 14 (Examiner Correspondence)—The annual meeting of the patrons of arsaw cheese factory was held in the factory on Friday afternoon, with a fair attendance. William Davis was chairman. Fred M. Crowe, secretary-treasurer, read his report, which showed the factory to be in good standing. Mr. Crowe is appointed secretary-treasurer for the coming season, and Earl Borland.

On account of the low price of feed and stock, the price of whey is reduced from 15c a barrel to 12c.

The usual resolution against turnip feeding was carried, namely, that any patron feeding turnips would be responsible for any loss entailed by the factory.

OTTAWA, April 14—Major John S. Roper, K.C., M.C., of Halifax, was last night elected Dominion President of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, in succession to Lieut.-Col. L. R. LaFleche. In tendering his resignation, Colonel LaFleche said pressure of other work was making it difficult to carry on the Presidency, which he had held for three years.

Premier Presents Cup For Rural Hockey Loop

PRESTON, April 14. — Word has been received from the Hon. George S. Henry, Premier of Ontario, that he will donate a trophy for annual competition in the Ontario Rural Hockey Association. The credit for securing this trophy for annual competition must be given to Lorne Johannes of Blair, who has been interested in rural sport during the past few years. Blair Hornets were successful in winning the Ontario Rural championship this year. Blair has been one of the prime movers in rural athletics and it is quite fitting that its name will be the first to be inscribed on the cup. A meeting of rural leagues will be held in the near future with a view to organizing the league for next year while an attempt will be made to expand this association each year.

BITTER BATTLE IS INDICATED NATIONAL LOOP

Cubs Are Much Stronger Than Year Ago With Additional Pitching Strength.

FOUR GAMES TO-DAY.

Robins With Fresco Thompson and Lefty O'Doul Most Improved Club in League.

(By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 14.—Eight clubs, all hoping for the best, faced the barrier for the opening of the National baseball league season to-day and some 100,000 baseball-hungry fans prepared to give them a hearty welcome.

Expert opinion already has forecast a five-club struggle in which St. Louis Cardinals are favored to beat out the Chicago Cubs., Brooklyn Robins, New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates for their second championship in as many years. Neglected in this forecast, the three other clubs, Boston Braves, the Phillies and Cincinnati Reds, all hoped to better their positions of a year ago and give the experts something to think about.

The first day's schedule sent the Cardinals against the Reds at Cincinnati; the Cubs against the Pirates at Chicago; the Robins against the Braves at Boston; and the Giants against the Phillies at Philadelphia.

A maximum aggregate attendance of 113,000 was predicted for these four games with some 40,000 expected at Chicago; 30,000 at Cincinnati; 25,000 at Boston, and 18,000 in Philadelphia.

Gabby Street, who piloted the Cardinals into first place last year, is banking on virtually the same line-up to repeat. Chick Hafey, a persistent holdout, is absent from the outfield, but that's about the only change in the champion's line-up. Pitching support is hoped for from Dazzy Dean and Paul Derringer, recruits.

The Cubs have looked much stronger than a year ago with additional pitching strength, Manager Rogers Hornsby again in shape and hopeful of playing 154 games at second base, and much stronger reserves.

The Robins, with the addition of Fresco Thompson at second base and Lefty O'Doul in the outfield, apparently are the most improved club in the league. Their batting punch well may be the strongest in the circuit.

Granted that he gets improved hurling and that Johnny Verges acceptably fills the bill at third base, John McGraw was confident that his New York Giants would be a factor from the start of the season. The Pirates, with few important changes, come up to the starting line in better physical condition than they have for years. Injuries and illness ruined their chances a year ago, but Jewel Ens hopes for better luck this time.

Bill McKechnie has quietly built up the Braves until they threaten to become extremely troublesome to the more highlytouted favorites. With Red Worthington and Wesley Schulmerich to bolster the outfield, and Frank Wilson at third base, McKechnie's prospects are much brighter than they were a year ago.

The Phillies once more lack pitching strength, and the team's undoubted punch at the plate hardly can hope to offset this weakness in the box. Cincinnati, with a re-built team that found little favor in expert eyes, has been beset by a last minute jinx. Mickey Heath, young first baseman, has been stricken with tonsilitis and Outfielder Cliff Heathcote has pulled a tendon. Joe Stripp is to be shifted to first base with Dressen playing third, and Roettger was to fill for Heathecote.

A quick glance now over the situation indicates a bitter battle all the way, with victory going to the team with the strongest reserves.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL

"PARLOR, BEDROOM AND BATH"

The lady craved for a real wild man—one with a woolly past that wouldn't bear inspection, one who could give her thrills and show her just how the cave man subjugated his mate. And Buster Keaton, as Reginald Irving, essayed to fill the order.

The frozen-faced comedian gets plenty of laughs in this production. He doesn't have to do anything but look and act natural. He is a sign-tacker by profession, but Reginald Denny, who is the other prime male factor in the production, decides that he will do to please the critical Angie, a tall maiden looking for a he-man. Angie's' sister won't marry Geoffrey Haywood (Denny) until Angie is married, so it's up to Geoffrey to get Angie signed up. Buster happens to be in the way at the moment and they pick on him. That, roughly, is the basis of the tale. The title has absolutely nothing to do with the picture at all. They probably just picked it out of a lot of others and plastered it on.

Buster doesn't seem to be living up to Angie's requirements in the way of devilishness, so Geoffrey decided to engineer a hectic episode to convince the lady that her betrothed is really very bad. Buster, coached by the more experienced Geoffrey, consults his notebook at the proper moments. "Wine—lobster—kiss—knee" are the cues and he does his best to develop the plot. He gets mixed up with the wrong female, however, and an angry husband arrives on the scene.

Buster Keaton has excellent support in the blithe and irresponsible Reginald Denny, while Charlotte Greenwood is a scream in the role of Polly Hathaway, an elongated lady who looks like a long-legged boudoir doll, talks like the latest edition of Punch and contrives to give the innocent Buster some lessons in love-making that he turns to excellent account later.

"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" is peppered with laughs and chuckles. Buster Keaton has a characteristic role that suits his melancholy type to perfection. —Jeanette.

GODINO FILIPINO SIAMESE BOY TWINS BIG TIME ENTERTAINERS

Coming to the Capitol Friday of This Week.

There have been Siamese twins, but not since Chang and Eng, the original joined-together couplet, have there been male Siamese twins in the world—that is, not until Lucio and Simplicio Godino, boys, were born joined together on the Island of Samar, in the Philippines twenty-three years ago.

The Godino twins, coming to the Capitol for one day only, Friday of this week, are different from other Siamese twins—there are but three other similar pairs on earth, all girls—in that they are highly educated, are dancers, expert gymnasts and talented musicians. They dance, roller skate and do amazing gymnastic feats. They offer mad musical moments in solo and duet on their various and wind and native instruments. They would be popular big time entertainers even if they were not world features by reason of their joined-together bodies. And they are good-looking, lithe well-formed boys, dressing smartly in the English mode. They speak five languages, and meet their public as suave men of the world. Usual prices.

Dates Are Set For Eastern Cage Finals

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., April 14 (C.P.).—The Eastern Canadian senior basketball final games between St. Catharines Graduates, Ontario title-holders, and the winner of the semi-final games between Saint John, N.B., Trojans and the North American Life quintette of Montreal, will be played here April 18 and 20. The easterno champions will journey to Vancouver, B.C., for the Dominion finals.

The Montreal-Saint John semi-final will be decided at Montreal to-night, the Montrealers winning the first game last night 38 to 26.

CASUAL COMMENT

Well it seems there will be a girls' softball league in the city once more. It will consist of four or more teams. Brinton's, C.G.E., Westclox and Bonner Worth have all signified their intention of putting in a team, and a few other local companies may do the same.

* * * * * * *

That's fine. The girls like to play and the fans like to see them at it. And there are plenty of smart softballers among the fair one around town, town. Each of those four teams mentioned is quite enthusiastic and optimistic about its chances this summer.

* * * * * * *

Bailieboro is seriously thinking of entering a team in the East Peterborough Baseball League when the league re-organizes again. The other teams who are expected to round out this loop are Cogs, Raybestos and C.G.E. There'll likely be the annual E.P.L. meeting soon.

* * * * * * *

And things are looking better for the City League now. More entries are promised and the league will likely have four juniors, four juveniles and four bantams entered at the next meeting. This is called for a week from to-night at 7.30 in Duffus'.

* * * * * * *

The Kinsmen's Club will back a bantam team, with "Shocky" Mein probably managing it. He piloted a bantam hockey team, the Athletics, to the championship of the South-end City League this winter, so he should do all right with a baseball team.

* * * * * * *

Rotary is entering a juvenile team, and Kiwanis will have one in each division if necessary to round out the City League. That's what you might call fathering baseball. The clubs are all willing to do all they can for the younger ballplayers of the town.

* * * * * * *

And we hope others interested in the game will attend the next meeting and help get it off to a start. There's the election of officers yet.

* * * * * * *

The City Softball League will be meeting one of these nights to sort of get squared around for the season. Already there has been a number of promised entries, so there'll be no trouble getting all the teams necessary to make it a sizeable league.

* * * * * * *

Some of those who have indicated their intention of having an outfit this year are Westclox, Canadian Woollens, Harrison's, the Belmont Club, Choates', probably the Sugar Bowl, Teco and others.

* * * * * * *

This is the weather that brings them out. Every afternoon and evening, the corner lots are occupied with gangs practising with the baseball or softball, both girls and fellows.

* * * * * * *

But it's plenty early yet and youthful hurlers should take it easy and not try putting too much steam on the ball for awhile. It's mighty easy at this time of year to get a kink in the arm that may stay there all summer. It takes a nice warm sun to loosen up the soup-bone.

* * * * * * *

We understand the Lakeshore League will be operating again but haven't heard for sure what teams will be represented in it. Some say Cobourg, Port Hope, Oshawa and Peterborough. The first two will be there all right, whatever about the others.

* * * * * * *

Well, we'll be seeing Bert McLeod and "Biffer" Ranger around here again, as their hockey season is all over. The Pla-mors lost to the Oilers from Tulsa for the championship. However, being winners last year and runners-up this winter isn't bad going at all.

* * * * * * *

The two Peterborough boys have played nice hockey for the Kansas City team, and will likely be back there again next winter if they want to.

Baseball Originated Ninety-Two Years Ago

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y., April 14 (C.P.)—Ninety-two years ago baseball had its inception in this town where the "cradle" of the game still is being used.

Nearly a century ago, Abner Doubleday of Green's Select School, Cooperstown, made the first diagram of a baseball diamond, drawing a stick through the dust to indicate what sports writers have come to call the "paths" and to show the players' positions.

With a pencil, Doubleday then made notes on rules for the game, which he named "baseball." Abner Graves, one of the youths who took part in the game under Doubleday's direction, lived to tell this to an official commission appointed to study the origin of the game, in 1917.

The first diamond now is know as Doubleday Field. All local games are played there. The village owns the property and uses part of it as a playground.

HOME RUN RECORD LIKELY TO STAND

But Another Duel Between Ruth and Wilson is Probable.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The home run duel between Hack Wilson, of the Chicago Cubs, and Babe Ruth of the New York Rangers, probably will furnish one of the most interesting sidelights of the 1931 major league pennant races.

Until last season Ruth dominated the leagues in the number of home runs hit each season. He established an all-time home run record in 1927 when he knocked out 60 circuit blows.

With a new regulation ball to be used, it is unlikely that either Ruth or Wilson will approach the record mark this year.

Other players who are expected to give Wilson and Ruth a run to maintain their slugging honors are Chuck Klein of the Phillies; Babe Herman, of Brooklyn; Gabby Hartnett, of the Chicago Cubs; Wally Berger, of the Boston Braves; Leon Goslin, of the St. Louis Browns; Lou Gehrig, of the New York Yankees, and Al Simmons and Jimmie Foxx, of the Philadelphia Athletics.

PITTSBURGH — Midget Wolgast, Philadelphia, outpointed Archie Bell, Brooklyn (10).

CHICAGO—Baxter Calmes, Wichita, Kas., outpointed Bud Doran, Chicago (10).

CLASSY BOUTS ONTARIO SHOW

Fistic Fans Receive Money's Worth at Eastern Ontario Boxing Championships.

CLOSE CONTESTS.

TORONTO, Ont., April 14.—(By the Canadian Press)—Amateur fistic fans received their money's worth and then some at the Eastern Ontario amateur boxing championships here last night. A total of 24 bouts were programed and the large crowd remained until the "wee sma' " hours before witnessing the final tussle.

To-night, 14 semi-finals and two final bouts will be contested. The winners of the various titles qualify for the Ontario championships to be held at London.

Sixteen of last night's bouts went the full three rounds, while the others ended in knockouts.

Most of the popular favorites came through with flying colors. Tony Canzano and Horace "Lefty" Cayne, classy pair of flyweights, won their bouts handily and were favored to reach the final.

Ray Cook, rated the best featherweight in these parts, won his bout with H. Canning easily. The latter took the count in the first round completely outclassed by the boy who recently knocked out the Michigan state featherweight champion.

George Taylor, Timmins, the only out-of-town entrant, lost in the third round on a technical knockout to Cliff Rahmey, in the 175 pound class.

The two finals on to-night's card bring together the heavy-weight and light-weight aspirants. E. Goble and A. Watts meet in the heavyweight joust while Eric Cryderman and Jesse Munro settle the light heavyweight crown.

"Strangler" Lewis Beats Michigan State Aspirant

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Apr. 14 (C.P.)—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, twice wrestling champion, won what right Ed "Don" George, late of Michigan University had to the world's grappling crown at an open air show here last night in straight falls. He downed the younger man in one hour, ten minutes, six seconds for the first fall with a headlock, and in 7 minutes 42 seconds for the winning fall with a hammerlock.

Lewis had things his own way in the second period, George appearing tired. He used a series of headlocks, hammerlocks and wristlocks. Lewis weighed 228 pounds, George 222.

George Voigt Enters British Amateur Play

NEW YORK, N.Y., Apr. 14 (C.P.).—The British amateur golf championship at Westward next month will have no Bobby Jones to harass native born players but George Voigt of New York has decided to have another shot at the title.

Voigt plans to sail on the Aquitania on May 5 and already has filed his entry for the championship which starts May 18.

Voigt competed in the championship last year and bowed to Jones in the semi-final only after a bitter struggle. He held a lead of two holes at the thirteen hole only to lose on the home green.

RANGERS HOLD LEAD

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 13 (C.P.)—Throwing in a whirlwind attack that netted them four goals in the first period and adding another in the final frame, while holding their opponents to a single score in the initial and last sessions, New York Rangers defeated Vancouver Lions 5—2 here last night in an exhibition hockey game packed with action from start to finish. Rangers have a 2—1 game lead in their five-game series.

The winners will proceed to Halifax, N.S., where the Wanderers, Maritime winners, will be their opponents in the Canadian finals.

It will be Freeman's first defense of his title. He was favored in the wagering to-day to retain it.

C.G.E. EMPLOYEES

stock is the first claim against the company. It was sold to the employees at $55 a share, but the market price is around $62 to $64.

"The company had to go into the market and buy these shares at the prevailing price, but they were offered to employees at $55.00," Mr. Layfield explained.

Company Takes a Loss.

Replying to the query of why the company should bear that cash loss in inducing the employees to buy the stock, Mr. Layfield said the company realized that this participation would stimulate the interest of the employees in the general affairs of the company and its success

"It will also tend to keep them away from the speculative stuff," said Mr. Layfield, referring to the public's comparatively recent bitter experiences in the market. "They are buying sound securities with a very favorable dividend return. And the company also wished to encourage the habit of saving. That is one reason why we have made it easy to buy shares on the deferred payment plan."

Restriction on Sale.

One restriction placed upon the employees is that they cannot dispose of their shares outside the company. The arrangement for selling them was explained at the time of the announcement of the opening of the subscription list. The reason for this check is simply that some persons might take immediate advantage of the market and sell above the $60.00 price shares for which they had paid only $55.00.

Mr. Layfield stated that nearly $500,000 of the company's stock is held in Peterborough.

Rum Smuggling Probe Postponed In Quebec

QUEBEC, Que., April 14 (C.P.) — Judge G. P. Gibsone announced this morning that the inquiry into Quebec rum-smuggling had been postponed. The Court was not called to order and the Presiding-Commissioner made the announcement in a statement handed out after a short conference between Oscar Gagnon, K.C., and Noel Belleau, K.C., joint counsel for the investigation:

"It is my desire," said His Honor, "and it concurs the opinion of the lawyers who will direct the case, that the enquiry once begun should continue without delays. This at present is impossible as the gathering of data, assembling of proofs and rounding up of witnesses has not yet been completed. I can not say, however, when we will be ready to start. Messrs. Gagnon and Belleau are now arrnaging this matter and should come to a decision before noon."

ROYAL COMMISSION'S INQUIRY INTO GRAIN FUTURES IS OPENED

Sir Josiah Stamp Claims Hearings Will Not be Contested Between Two Parties.

EXCHANGE HEAD TESTIFIES.

(By Gillis Purcell, C.P. Staff Writer.)

WINNIPEG, Man., April 14.—Hearings before the Royal Commission inquiring into the effect of grain futures dealing on the price to the producer is not to be in "any way a contest between two parties," announced Sir Josiah Stamp, chairman, at the opening session Monday. He explained that the Commission's procedure would be mainly by way of examining and hearing statements of witnesses. But that the commission would reserve the right to halt cross examination.

Three Commissioners.

With Sir Josiah as Commissioners sat Chief Justice J. T. Brown of the King's Bench Division of the Supreme Court of Saskatchewan and W. Sanford Evans, Winnipeg grain statistician. Travers Sweatman, K. C., Winnipeg, acting counsel to the Commission, and L. B. Pearson, of Department of External Affairs, Ottawa, as secretary for the Commission.

Representing the Winnipeg Grain Exchange were Isaac Pitblado, K.C., and A. E. Hoskins, K.C., of Winnipeg.

For the wheat pool counsel were O. M. Biggar, K.C., of Ottawa, and R. H. Milliken, K.C., of Regina.

The futures market was brought into existence at Winnipeg in 1903 to relieve the exchange of the onus of price fluctuations, stated A. P. White, president of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, first witness called. He stated that the exchange did not and does not keep records of its transactions, in answer to a query from Chief Justice Brown regarding volume of trade on the Winnipeg Exchange.

More Discipline In Maine Prison

THOMASTON, Maine, April 14.—Inmates of the state prison here are beginning to feel the iron rod of authority. From now on not more than four hundred love letters weekly will find their way from behind the institution's stone walls. Limitation of correspondence to two letters a week was the most vigorously protested rule of the new order established by Warden C. E. Linscott a short time ago. Early one morning the prisoners decided to "yammer" which is technical terminology for a noise riot. Six hours of yammering resulted only in six of their number going to solitary, and the new rules, which include compulsory wearing of prison uniforms, are still in force.

A BEDTIME STORY

By Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S FUNNY RIDE.

After the April shower when the bees made him an umbrella of waxed paper Uncle Wiggily went out in many rainstorms around his hollow stump bungalow. Sometimes he took with him the waxed paper umbrella the bees had made and, again he took his own cloth umbrella which Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy always hid behind the front door so the bunny children could not find it to play it was an airplane parachute.

For that's what Buster, Custer and some of the boy rabbits once did with Uncle Wiggily's best umbrella. They opened it and jumped off the top step of the porch, thinking the umbrella would be like a parachute an airman uses. Only Buster, who tried it first, fell and broke three of the umbrella ribs.

He was having a funny ride.

"It's a good thing you didn't break your own ribs," Uncle Wiggily said as he ran out and picked up Buster and the broken umbrella.

After that Nurse Jane always hid the umbrella behind the door.

"Yes, we have had a lot of rain," Uncle Wiggily said as he hopped out of his bungalow one wet April day. "The duck pond must be well filled with water. I'll hop over and look."

As Uncle Wiggily hopped near the duck pond he heard the voices of some boys calling:

"There he is again. Hit him with a stone! Poke him with a stick! There he goes! Bang him!"

"Dear me! I wonder what can be happening?" said Mr. Longears.

He hopped a little nearer and saw some boys on the bank of the duck pnod. These boys were real lads, not animal boys. There were three of them and they were running about, shouting and throwing stones and sticks into the water.

"What are you doing?" asked another boy running up from the clump of bushes where Uncle Wiggily had hidden himself. "What game are you playing?"

"We are playing the game of Stone the Mud Turtle," answered one of the three boys who were throwing rocks into the duck pond. "Look, there's a big mud turtle swimming around in the water. Sometimes he comes up to the top. Then we can see him. There he comes up now! Hit him with a stone!"

"Sure! Hit him with a stone!" cried the new boy, and he, too, joined in this game. It was a game for the boys, perhaps, but not for the poor mud turtle. He was a big chap but he could not crawl out of his pond and chase the boys. Though if they had put their fingers in the water near him he might have nipped them and no one could blame him.

"That's no kind of a game to play!" thought Uncle Wiggily hiding in some bushes on the bank of the pond. "That mud turtle has done nothing to those boys and yet they are stoning him so he can't come to the top of the pond when he wants to breathe. I must drive those boys away so they will leave the turtle alone."

Uncle Wiggily wondered how he might do this. He knew if he went out and tried to scare the boys they would only laugh at him.

"And maybe they'll stone me, too," thought the rabbit gentleman. "I must scare them. I know what I'll do. I'll stay here in hiding and throw some stones at those boys. Maybe they will think it is a Police Dog or something like that. If that turtle only thought of it he might splash water on the boys. But I suppose he doesn't dare to get close enough. But I'll throw stones at them."

Gathering some stones Uncle Wiggily keeping well hidden in the bushes, threw them at the boys. The stones made a clattering noise as they fell and the boys were surprised.

"Some one is pegging rocks at us!" cried one boy.

"Maybe it's the mud turtle!" said another.

"Maybe it's a policeman!" said a third, "Come on, let's run home!"

The boys stopped throwing rocks at the big mud turtle and ran away. Uncle Wiggily, laughing at his trick, came from behind the bush.

"Thank you, Uncle Wiggily," croaked the turtle, no longer afraid to come to the top of the duck pond. "You did me a great favor and now I want to do one for you."

"I don't believe a mud turtle can do me a favor, thank you," said the rabbit. "I can't come in the water where you are."

"No, but if you will stand on my back I will paddle along on top of the water and give you a funny ride," croaked the turtle. "Do not be afraid that I will sink with you and let you get wet. I will come close to shore so you can step on my broad, strong shell back. Then I'll ride you all around the pond."

Uncle Wiggily got on the back of the mud turtle and soon he was having a funny ride and he didn't get a bit wet. So he and the mud turtle became good friends and lived happily for many, many years.

IOWANS RESENT CATTLE TESTING

Farm is Picketed and Veterinarian and Gov't Officials Ordered Off.

JAILING OF NO USE.

TIPTON, Ia., April 14.—A group of Iowa farmers are stoutly resisting efforts of state veterinarians to make tubercular test of their cattle.

The opposition of the farmers came to a climax Saturday when they gathered at the E. C. Mitchell farm and prevented continuation of tests started earlier in the week by Dr. Peter Malcolm, State veterinarian. Malcolm and State and County law officials were ordered off the place and pickets were stationed about the farm. The farmers announced they would post guards at any other farms where tests were attempted.

Mitchell and several other farmers were jailed for opposition to the law, but still refused to submit and continued their opposition as soon as released.

HOSPITAL FUND RUN BY JAPANESE

One of Men Charged in Vancouver Murder Ring Said to be Operator.

SEIZE MORPHINE.

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 14. (CP) Police officers investigating the alleged murder conspiracy arising out of the death of Mashichi Watanabe have discovered a hospital operated in Cordova Street by Shinkichi Sakurada, one of the men charged with the slaying of Watanabe, said to be close to Sakurada's house. A quantity of alleged morphine, cocaine and other drugs was seized. It is also reported that numerous medical instruments were in possession of the Japanese occupants of the premises. No arrests were made.

Investigation of the alleged murder conpiracy may reach an interesting stage today with the analysis of the contents of several bottles seized by detectives in Sakurada's "hospital."

T. Hitomi, alleged by the police to have been the wielder of the axe with which Watanabe was slain on the night of March 29, has required medical attention, and the state of his health is causing police to keep a close watch on him in his cell at police headquarters.

FAMOUS RELIC WILL BE SOLD

"Howard Grace Cup" is Said to Have Been Thomas A'Becket's Drinking Vessel.

IN FAMILY 400 YEARS.

LONDON, Apr. 14.—(C. P. Cable)—The Duke of Norfolk, premier peer of Great Britain, is shortly offering at auction a remarkable relic known as "the Howard Grace Cup." This vessel of ivory and silver-gilt, which has been in the possession of the Howard family for more than 400 years, is the cup which Sir Edward Howard, grandson of the victor at Flodden and standard-bearer to Henry VIII, bequeathed to Katherine of Aragon in 1513. The cup, then of plain ivory, is said to have been the drinking vessel of Thomas A. Becket. Queen Katherine had the cup superbly mounted by Italian craftsmen then in England. These mounts bear the London hallmark of 1535.

On Queen Katherine's death in 1537 the cup reverted to the Howard family, and apparently passed into the possession of various members, as at the end of the last century it was found to be belonging to Philip Henry Howard of Corby. From him it came into the possession of the late Duke of Norfolk.

Apart from the claims to association with Becket, the cup is an extraordinary relic of Tudor days, because hardly a vestige of Henry VIII or Wolsey's silver survived except the 1523 cup which the King presented in 1540 to the barber-surgeons. Yet when Mary was married to Philip at Winchester 12 carts full of her father's silver were sent from the tower to grace the wedding feast

Arrests in England for begging have dropped from 25,000 in 1914 to 5,000 in the last 12 months.

450 Members Of 20th Hold Big Re-union

"Vimy Night" was celebrated by the first annual dinner and reunion of the 20th Battalion, C.E.F. at the Prince George Hotel Toronto, on Saturday evening, when some 450 members of the "old unit" gathered in the Empire Room and pledged their loyalty and remembrance in a group of inspiring toasts to "The King", "Canada Within the Empire", "Our Comrades at Rest", "The Queen's Rangers", "20th Battalion" and "Our Guests".

At the head table there were many distinguished leaders of the battalion overseas including Lieut.-Colonel H. V. Rorke, D.S.O., L. of H.; Lieut.-Colonel B. O. Hooper, D.S.O., M.C.; Lieut.-Colonel G. C. Ingles, D.S.O.; Lieut.-Colonel W. T. Rogers, M.C., V.D. O. C. Queen's Rangers; Brigadier General Rennie and His Worship Mayor Emersonne of Bully Grenay, France. The latter brought the greetings of his people to "the boys of the Canadian Corps in general, and those of the 20th Battalion in particular."

Several former members of the "old Battalion", from this city, journeyed to Toronto for the event. Included among those present were, Corporal Bert Deck, M.M.; Corporal Harold Freeman; Scout Frank Smith; Signaller Norman Patterson; Trench Mortar Norman Watkins, M. M.; Lance Corporal L. Petty.

Many new busses are to be placed on the streets of Cork, Irish Free State.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Dry, Hacking Cough
Caused By a Neglected Cold

Mrs. James A. Stewart, Stellarton, N.S., writes:—"For some time I was troubled with a dry, hacking cough, caused by a heavy cold I had, at first, neglected. A friend told me if I would take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup it would help me, so I got a bottle and it did relieve my cough.

"I am the mother of six children and I use it for every one of them when they have colds, and find it always gives relief, and I would not be without it in the house for anything."

Price 35c a bottle; large family size 65c., at all druggists and dealers; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

Minstrels Entertain Members Of Legion

The entertainment put on by Eddie Leonard's Minstrel Troupe at the Canadian Legion Hall last evening, following the regular business meeting of Branch 52, was keenly enjoyed by an audience consisting mainly of returned men and their families, and the entertainers were highly complimented by Past-President James Abraham.

Comrade Abraham also gave a resume of the work which is being done by the local branch for the returned men and spoke of the problems which are becoming more acute as the years roll on. He eulogized the splendid assistance given to the work of the branch by the Ladies' Auxiliary, and bespoke for the newly elected president, A. E. Everett, the whole-hearted support of the entire membership.

He deplored the apathy of the returned men in this city, of which there are between two and three thousand eligible to join the Canadian Legion, and in conclusion thanked the artists for their contribution to a very enjoyable evening.

Dancing was indulged in to a late hour, following the termination of the concert.

CHAPTER PLANS TO AID HOSPITAL

Peter Robinson Chapter Plans to Give $1,000 to Nicholls Hospital Addition.

TO HOLD BIG BRIDGE.

When Nicholls Hospital gets its proposed new wing, the Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E., is going to contribute $1,000 towards it. At least that is what the Chapter has in mind and a goodly amount of the sum is already in hand. The Chapter has contributed in the past $500 toward the equipment of a Fracture Room at the hospital, and its activities in this line make for a very worthwhile community effort.

From the proceeds of the big bridge party which the Chapter is holding at the Empress Hotel on Friday evening of this week, it is hoped to gain other sums for the purpose in view. A hundred tables of cards will be played and elaborate arrangements are being made to provide a very enjoyable program of entertainment.

On April 11th, the Chapter reached the fifteenth anniversary of its foundation in the city, for which it has a peculiar significance on account of its name, taken from that of the man who helped to make Peterborough a city, The Hon. Peter Robinson was responsible for much of the colonization of the village of Peterborough a hundred years ago, and this Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire perpetuates his memory to a certain extent.

There will be lovely favors at each table for the big party and a birthday cake with fifteen candles will center the refreshment table. Five prizes will be given for cards; firsts and seconds for men and women players, and a lucky number prize.

THE SON OF TARZAN No 38 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

After his inhospitable reception by the great apes, Korak roamed the jungle unhappily for days, unsatisfied vengeance smouldering in his breast. A week he remained in the vicinity of the apes' ampitheater hoping to meet the king ape. But finally the constant search for food led him several miles away. With Akut he was moving slowly down wind. Suddenly they halted. Not a muscle quivered as they stood immovable, listening.

Korak advanced cautiously a few yards and leaped nimbly into a tree. Akut followed close. Neither had made a noise that human ears could hear a dosen yards off. Stopping often to listen they crept forward through the trees. Both seemed greatly puzzled. Finally Korak caught a glimpse of a palisade and beyond it some goatskin tents and thatched huts. His lips curled in a savage snarl. Blacks! He signed to Akut to wait his return.

Woe betide the unfortunate village whom Korak the Killer came upon in his present mood! Leaping lightly from one jungle tree to another, he came silently above the village. His ears told him some human being was near and he held his spear ready. Now he saw the owner of the voice that rose to him from below. It was a little girl, a little nut-brown maiden singing a lullaby to a ragged doll. The snarl faded from his lips and he smiled to himself.

Now arose a great noise on the opposite side of the village. Men, women, and children ran toward the gate through which trooped a motley crowd of black slaves, Arab camel drivers, donkeys, goats, sheep and horses. A tall, sour, old man led the caravan. Korak saw him question an old hag; she pointed to the place where the girl played. "Her father," thought Korak. "His first thought is of his first thought is of his first thought is of his him!"

SPRING WORK IN FULL FORCE.
The big annual spring drive on the farms has started, and it is a common sight and a beautiful one in the country now, to see sturdy teams of horses laboring ahead of the plow, with the rich chocolate-colored loam spreading in thin ribbons to the rear and ahead of the implement, and meanwhile the hungry birds swooping down on the hapless creeping and crawling things who lay wriggling and exposed after a long winter's, rudely interrupted, hibernation.

Numerous outfits were seen at work in Smith Township yesterday afternoon, and from a cursory survey the land in the immediate vicinity of Peterborough City appears to be in good condition.

CASH RECEIVED $12,183
The total subscribed to date for the Peterborough Relief Association is $12,994.76, with actual cash received amounting to $12,183.93.

CLOSED FOR TWO DAYS
The rooms at the Peterborough Relief Bureau, over 435 George street, will be closed on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. They will be open on Friday and Saturday from 2 to 5 o'clock. The used clothing department will be open only on Friday from 2 to 5 o'clock.

SHOES URGENTLY NEEDED
There is an urgent need just now at the Peterborough Relief Bureau for children's shoes for school wear and also for lighter-weight clothing for children of school age.

TWO CALLS IN 9 MINUTES
With things very quiet around the Fire Hall since noon yesterday with the exception of the routine work and physical drill, the firemen received two calls within nine minutes of each other just after lunch to-day. At 1.14 an alarm came in for a grass fire out of control at the corner of Mark and Maria street. A few minutes later another call was sent in from 183 Mark street for a chimney fire, thus necessitating the using of two piece of apparatus. Both fires were, however, of a minor nature.

Crazed Man Sets Fire to Wife, Stepson, Stabs Boarder Fatally, Then Suicides

WOOSTER, O., April 14. — Ellis McGregor, 55, living near here, ran amuck at his home to-day, poured gasoline on his wife and stepson, set them afire, fatally stabbed a boarder with a butcher knife, and then committed suicide.

The slain boarder was Clayton McAffee, 50.

Mrs. McGregor, 40, and her son by a former marriage, Harold Riddle, 25, were taken to a local hospital in a critical condition. Doctors said they would probably die.

McGregor, a stone mason, was found dead in a shed behind his house. He had hanged himself with a logging chain.

17 MEN RESCUED IN CHICAGO SHAFT

Dramatic Moment

It was a dramatic moment as the little group of workmen rose to the street.

Firemen were pumping away, watching the shaft opening tensely; ready to attack any flames that reached the surface and threatened the sheds of the mouth. Suddenly the elevator bell rang; the cage ran up and the grimy faces of the first handful appeared.

A tremendous shout went up, and firemen and rescuers surged to the entrance of the put. Again the cage dropped; brought up another gang; then a third time to hoist a load.

Rescuers worked at a desperate pace all through the night and this morning in the hope that the missing men might st'll be found alive behind the bulkhead of an air chamber at one end of the tunnel. So intense was the heat in the tunnel, however, that the men were forced to stop their search for half an hour, after which they renewed it with vigor.

The coroner, firemen and police all joined hands in the rescue attempts, backed by orders from Mayor Anton J. Cermak, telephoned from Miami, Fla., that no efforts be spared. Unable to see because of the dense smoke, the rescuers, wearing gas masks, grouped about the incomplete workings of the tunnel, hoping to find the missing alive, but fearing they would find them dead.

Two Theories as to Cause

There were two theories as to the origin of the blaze. The County Coroner said he believed that spontaneous combustion in a pile of shavings piled in front of a bulkhead leading to the main section of the tunnel, was responsible. Timothy Ryan, an official of the company building the tunnel, however, gave a different version.

Ryan said that a group of workmen descended into the tunnel to find a leak, summoned Albert Martin, a plasterer, who dropped a lighted candle, igniting some sawdust on the floor. The seriousness of the fire was not realized at first and it was three-quarters of an hour before firemen were called.

Captain James F. O'Neil, commanding a fire truck was the first to arrive. A thin curl of smoke was coming from the shaft mouth, which is situated at about the centre of and the only entrance to the 450-foot portion of the tunnel which has been completed. O'Neill and his crew hurried down. Fifteen minutes later three of his comrades emerged, half dead. This crew went in without gas masks not realizing their danger.

O'Neill and one member of his crew were still in the tunnel early this morning.

Money Provided For In Old Age Pensions

OTTAWA, Ont., April 14 (C.P.). — Absence of votes for old age pensions from the main estimates is without significance, it was stated to-day. The money for this purpose is provided by statute, and never appears in the estimates. So far there is no announcement as to whether the Dominion will assume a larger share of the cost of the pensions scheme which is now borne half by the provinces and half by the Dominion. Technical education grants will also be provided by statute and do not appear in the estimates.

MISSION WORK ABLY OUTLINED BY MISS HAWKEN

Has Spent Fourteen Years on Mission in Fields in Canadian West.

HEARD AT MILLBROOK

MILLBROOK, April 14—(Examiner Correspondence).—Miss E. C. Hawken, who has spent fourteen years on the home mission field, and who was at one time principal of the local public school, was the special speaker at morning worship in Saint Andrew's United church on Sunday when the members of the Sunshine Mission Band, the Golden Links Mission Circle, and the Woman's Auxiliary attended service in a body, over one hundred and fifty of the membership of these organizations marching from the basement at 10.30 and occupying the centre pews of the church.

An atmosphere of deep spiritual significance marked the service throughout, the opening anthem by the choir, "I Have Set Watchmen," with obligato by M. McDowell, being particularly appropriate, as was also the second number, "For God So Loved the World," with solo by Mrs. H. W. Johnston, and soprano and alto duet by Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. M. McDowell. Four girls, Jean Stinson, Marian O'Brian, Marian Earle and Dorothy McDowell, members of the Mission Circle, and wearing their OG.I.T. costume, took up the offering, and acted as ushers, the three organizations represented receiving their Easter thankoffering at this service.

The pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones, B.D., was in charge of the service, and the vice-president of the W.A., Mrs. (Dr.) L. H. Rae, led in the responsive reading of the Psalm.

Served in Alberta Mission

Miss Hawken, who went to the Kolakreeka mission in Alberta in 1917, leaving Millbrook the previous summer and visiting here again when on furlough six years ago, mentioned in her opening remarks her pleasure in seeing so many familiar faces, and her sadness because of some whom she missed 'and who I will not see again until we meet in a better land"

On the pulpit platform with Miss Hawken was Mrs. J. H. George, who wore the dress of a native Ukrainian woman, the speaker explaining that the linen of the blouse, which really was an underrobe reaching to the floor, had been made by hand in Ukrainia, the elaborate embroidery being also hand done, and the striped homespun skirt woven on a home loom. "There is no particular fit, so it will do for any number of people at different times, and it will wear for years and years. They love bright colors, and they buy their shoes with the idea that the more leather they contain, the better value for their money."

The Ukrainian colony where Miss Hawken has served as teacher at Kolokreeka and then Wahstao, "Something shining on a hill" being the meaning, and now under appointment to go to Radway next fall, is six thousand square miles in extent, and has many scattered villages, with but few English families on the farms. A day at the school home was described in detail, and the point was emphasized that from these boys have developed several members of Parliament, lawyers and members and other professions.

"Bolshevik influence is strong in the west; these people resent the English coming and settling among them, preferring to retain their segregation. But God is also at work, and we are His witnesses, coworkers with Him in winning them to Christ and to Christian citizenship."

Illustrating how "Christ is the bond between us," as she told of two boys in the Wahstao Home making up a quarrel, Miss Hawken asked two young men in the choir, Will Byam and Walter Sayles, to sing the hymn, "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross," as these Ukrainian boys had done.

After a rainy morning the weather cleared up half an hour before the start at 3.30 p.m., and the pitch, though a bit soft, looked in perfect condition. Expectation that another one hundred thousand people would attend the replay were not realized, for at the start of the match the stands were not a quarter filled.

The crowd gave Celtic an enthusiastic welcome, and also received the Motherwell team warmly as they came on to the field. Celtic won the toss and took advantage of the freshening breeze. Motherwell were prominent in an early raid, but Thomson was not troubled. Celtic replied with an attack in which Scarff was just crowded off the ball when well placed for the shot. The first corner was awarded to Celtic in the fifth minute of the game. The attack was repulsed, only for Celtic to come again, and this time to score. Alec Thomson lobbed the ball into the goalmouth, where a terrific melee ensued. Bert Thomson forced the ball over the line. It was not a clean-cut goal, and Motherwell's custodian, McClory, appealed against it to the referee, but was ignored.

Show Better Form

Celtic were showing better form than on Saturday. McStay was a stalwart defender and when Motherwell reacted after Thomson's goal he broke up several attacks. Stevenson led them and the Motherwellites played an open game, swinging the ball across the field on long passes. These kept the Celtic defence vigilant for a while.

The crowd, which grew rapidly in numbers during the first half, laughed when McGrory took a flying leap at McGlory and somersaulted over the heads of the press photographers on the goalline after a rush.

At the other end McGonagle cleared a free kick which Ferrier had lofted into the Celtic goalmouth. Motherwell forced a corner against Celtic's appeal and Ferrier placed the ball beautifully into the wind. It curled round the Celtic goalkeeper, who dived and missed, and murdoch, standing near the far post, had simple task to tap it in for the equalizer. Play had been in progress twenty-six minutes.

Motherwell in the second half with the help of the strengthening wind attacked but spoiled their chances with two fouls on Bert Thomson who was the spearhead of the Celtic attack. A flying run by Napier enabled Celtic to establish themselves in Motherwell territory with a corner but this and another run by Scarff which resulted in another corner were both cleared by the steadier Motherwell defence. The Motherwell forwards crowded too much in attacking the Celtic halves easily broke up movements.

Mgr. Aylward was rector of St. Peter's Cathedral before his removal to Sarnia. At the time of Bishop Fallon's appointment he was prominently mentioned as a possible appointee.

CHICKEN THIEF LOSES APPEAL AGAINST TERM

Judge Asserts Case Messed Up By Cobourg Magistrate—Conviction Faulty.

WRONG SECTION CODE.

Claims, Despite This, Two Year Sentence Not Too Long For Campbellford Man.

TORONTO, Ont., April 15. (CP)—Second Divisional Court at Osgoode Hall to-day dismissed the appeal of Walter Parcels, Cambellford, from a prison sentence of two years imposed by Magistrate Floyd at Cobourg when he was convicted on charge of stealing fowl. Roy Martin, who was given a similar sentence when he was convicted on a charge of receiving, also appealed, but the court delayed the decision in his case.

Admitting that the convictions were faulty, the appeal judges declared they could not deal with that aspect, as the appeals had only been fyled against their sentences.

Mr. Justice Orde pointed out the men were convicted under the wrong section of the Criminal Code and asserted the case was messed up by the local magistrate.

Both men are at present in jail and Justices Orde and Riddell expressed themselves as satisfied with adjournment of the Martin appeal "as long as he was in jail."

In summing up the appeals of the two men Chief Justice Latchford said "these men wanted to get whiskey. The proper medium of exchange they thought was chickens. They packed the fifteen hens and chickens into a bag and exchanged them for moonshine. Two years in the penitentiary is not too long. The only way to check this crime is to punish it."

SUBURBAN AREA ROADS INSPECTED BY COMMISSION

Two-mile Extension on the Warsaw Road Included in Year's Program.

CONDITIONAL OFFER.

Paving of the Lakefield Road Not Be Undertaken This Year.

In their program of work for this season the Suburban Area Commission has definitely included a two-mile extension on the Warsaw road and a lengthy section of the Bensfort road in Otonabee, which leads from the Locks to Bensfort Bridge. The proposed paving of the Lakefield-Peterborough road was considered at meetings of the Commission yesterday afternoon and this morning, but this project will not be undertaken this year.

Austin Fellowes, District Engineer for the Ontario Department of Highways, has been in the city for two days discussing with the Commission the season's operations. With C. F. Kitney, chairman, and Morley Smithson and Harry Gainey, the two other members, Mr. Fellowes inspected this morning the Lakefield, Chemong and Keene roads, and went over the Warsaw road this afternoon. He stated that he never saw these roads in better condition than they are to-day, and expressed himself as highly satisfied with the improvements the Commission and their superintendent, Duncan MacFarline, have accomplished.

A Conditional Offer

This year's work comprises construction of the additional two miles on the Warsaw road and the stretch of the Bensfort Bridge road, which has been assumed, together with maintenance of the other roads that are under the supervision of the Suburban Area Commission.

The Bensfort road has already been taken over by the county from the township of Otonabee, and its assumption by the Suburban Area Commission is conditional on the reversion to Otonabee of that section of the Norwood road east of the Lift Lock which the Commissions has rebuilt during the last few years. With the opening of the new provincial highway, it is expected that the bulk of traffic will enter the city by the Locks Bridge, and for that reason the Commission can relinquish control of the present county road extending easterly from the Lift Lock.

Spring Saves $5,000

Mr. Kitney told The Examiner the Commission expected to have $5,000 more than usual to expend on road construction as a result of the favorable weather conditions this Spring

WORKERS UNITY LEAGUE DEMAND POSITIVELY REFUSED BY BENNETT

Asked to Enact Bill Providing For State Non-Contributory Unemployment Insurance.

"NO PREMIUM ON IDLENESS"

OTTAWA, Ont., April 15.—(CP)—Positive refusal of a 'demand" for enactment of a bill providing for non-contributory state unemployment insurance was made by Premier R. B. Bennett to a delegation here today. Never would any Government of which he was a member enact such legislation, Mr. Bennett told the delegation.

"We will not put a premium on idleness, and we will not put our people on the dole," asserted Mr. Bennett.

The question of unemployment insurance was before the Government and it was his hope, said Mr. Bennett, that something would be done about it. But, if action were taken it would not be such as to destroy mens' self respect.

The delegation, which Mr. Bennett spoke to represented the Workers' Unity League of Canada, which, spokesman stated, had been in operation for a matter of months. A petition setting forth the alleged conditions among the unemployed in Canada and making a "demand" for non-contributory unemployment insurance was presented. Note paper used bore at its head "Workers' Unity League of Canada. Canadian section. Red International of Labor Unions."

Speaker Checked Up

The Prime Minister refused with emphasis to listen to any reflections on the judiciary of Canada offered by spokesmen of the delegation.

The matter was left with the board of directors. Those named as responsible for the losses through "unauthorized accounts" and "unauthorized speculations" at a meeting of shareholders October 22 last were James Stewart, Winnipeg, former president, and A. B. MacDonald, former general manager. According to the balance sheet and profit and loss account made public at that time the total loss for the 16 months period was $5,806,803.

Winners of The Scottish Cup

The Celtic soccer team to-day defeated Motherwell four goals to two in the re-played game of the Scottish Cup final. Motherwell on Saturday held the Celtic outfit to a draw, but were unable to hold them in the re-play this afternoon. Celtic for years has been, along with the Rangers, the premier attraction in Scottish football. The team is also in the runing for the League title.

DOLE AND DISTRIBUTION OF GOLD SUGGESTED CURES OF DEPRESSION

Washington Leaders Seeking Remedy Put Forth Various Proposals.

TWO DIFFERENT SCHOOLS

(Following is the first of a series of articles on the world economic situation as seen by officials, diplomats and observers in Washington.)

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 15 (By Ken Clark, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—The world economic depression as it enters upon the second summer since its serious appearance in the United States, preoccupies Washington to the exclusion of every other question including prohibition. This country having failed to emerge from the slump as quickly as was prophesied, business men and politicians are turning to experts in the various departments and asking their opinions. Economists here are divided into two and seventy jarring sects but in a general way there are two schools.

The first, which may be called the radicals—in the non-political sense of the word—believes the present depression does not arise entirely from the same circumstances attending similar periods in the past, that it contains a new element and may be the fore-runner of a new series of depressions. Its primary cause, this school holds, may be discovered in the mal-distribution or "division" of profit.

Part of Business Cycle

The second school is made up of conservative specialists who consider the situation simply a part of the business cycle resulting from such conditions as over-production, concentration of gold, the fall in the

COLLIERY BLAST KILLS 2 MINERS

Part Owner of Mine Seriously Burned in Gas Explosion.

NEAR EDMONTON.

EDMONTON, Alta., April 15 (C.P.). — Exploding gas in the workings of the Ellersile Collieries, 12 miles from here, cost two lives on Tuesday. The dead are: E. Woods, part owner of the mine, and Sam Roberts, miner.

John Harris, partner of Woods in the operation of the mine, is suffering serious burns as a result of the blast.

The body of Roberts was recovered from the mine soon after the explosion, but noxious gases filled the shaft, and until a late hour last night prevented the rescue workers reaching Woods, whose groans could be heard.

When the rescuers finally succeeded in reaching the stricken man he was dead.

RUSSIAN TIMBER BANNED

LIVERPOOL, England, April 15 (C.P. Cable).—The Liverpool Corporation has banned the use of Russian timber in any municipal work. Sir Thomas White, Council leader, said last night, when the matter was being discussed, that 40,000 workers in the English timber and milling industries were out of jobs because of Russian dumping. Laborite and Irish councillors condemned the resolution as an attempt to prevent the Russian people from marching forward.

Dies From Stroke As Morenz Scores

ST. CATHARINES, April 15.—The solo effort of Howie Morenz in the Canadien-Black Hawk game at Montreal, when he scored his first goal of the series, resulted in the death of another famous local athlete, John W. Downey, here last night. He was one of the star quartette of brothers, Jack, Charlie, Ted and Dave, who made lacrosse history with the Athletics of 20 years ago, seated before his radio, as Morenz flashed in and scored, he clapped his hands, cried "That's great," and, slumping back in his chair, was dead before help could reach him.

TWO ARE KILLED AT BARCELONA

Police Forced to Fire Into Mob Celebrating King Alfonso's Abdication.

JAIL STORMED.

BARCELONA, April 15. (AP) — Marial law was proclaimed here today after disturbances incident to the political developments during the night in which two persons were killed and several wounded.

The casualties were the result of fighting between a crowd celebrating establishment of a Catalonian Republic and a detail of police guards who protested their excesses, finally firing into the mob.

The crowd, containing several thousand persons, stormed the prison, demanding release of political prisoners, not knowing that Colonel Francisco Macia, President of the newly established republic, had already ordered the prisoners freed. They tried to set the building afire and the warden was obliged to turn loose everybody, including the common law prisoners.

While all this was taking place other crowds ranged the streets, tearing down portraits of King Alfonso, destroying statuary of royal personages and eliminating every reminder possible of the deposed King.

A Catalonial provincial government has been constituted under the Presidency of Colonel Macia. Other members of the Junta are Jean Casanovas, Manuel Carrasco, Rafael Campalans, Salvador Vidal, Ventura Gassol and Casimir Giralt.

BRITISH PRESS LAUDS ALFONSO FOR HIS ACTION

Times Claims Acceptance of Facts Saved Spain Ordeal of Civil War.

OPINION UNANIMOUS.

Welcome Extended — Tributes Paid to His Courage and Industry.

LONDON, April 15 (A.P.)—Whatever their judgment of Alfonso's kingship, London newspapers of all shades of opinion, from Socialists to Conservative, to-day give the fallen monarch credit for the manner of his retirement from the throne, complimenting him for sparing Spain the bloodshed which it is held, must inevitably have resulted from any attempt on his part to hold the sovereignty against the popular will.

"By his prompt and statesmanlike acceptance of the facts, Alfonso spared his country the cruel ordeal of a civil war," says The Times, while the Socialist Herald, together with papers of other views, accords him the same high merit.

On the other hand it is widely admitted that he brought the fate upon himself by supporting the dictatorship of Primo De Rivera, thereby, even in the view of the Spanish Monarchists, violating his royal oath and tearing up the constitution. The newspapers admit that the dictatorship established an official administration in place of a "wasteful futility

RE PRESENTATIVES OF 37 NATIONS AT CONFERENCE ON WORK FOR BLIND

Canada Applauded as World Leader in Placement of Sightless Workers.

HOOVER EXTENDS WELCOME

NEW YORK, April 15 (C.P.). — Representatives of thirty-seven nations attending the world conference on work for the blind to-day applauded Canada as the world leader in the placement of sightless workers, when Captain E. A. Baker and J. F. Clunk, of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, spoke on "Employment of the blind on work for which sight was formerly considered essential."

Welcomed by messages from President Hoover, Calvin Coolidge and Governor Roosevelt, and an appeal by Helen Keller for the world's six millions who are waiting for us in the dark, world experts in welfare activities for the blind, are comparing efforts at the conference. Canada's proud records of advanced work in more varied opportunities for the blind proved a vivid contrast to tales of abject misery and poverty of the Asiatic sightless.

Canadian Method.

Captain Baker, as general secretary of the Canadian National Institute, stressed Canada's discovery that instead of investing large sums in experimental work to develop new special trades for blind persons, with all the attending subsidies for operating, better results to both the individual and the community were obtained by investing the same funds in a properly operated placement department. Captain Baker presented a list of Canadian factories which now employ sightless workers and outlined the

Long Live Spain Is Parting Cry Of King Alfonso

Only Few Persons See Monarch As He Arrives in Carteyena By Automobile After Drive From Madrid in Early Morning Hours—Some Cheer, Some Jeer.

HEAVY POLICE GUARDS STATIONED ABOUT DOCKS BAR ALL EXCEPT OFFICIALS AND NEWSPAPERMEN

Officers Shout "Long Live the King" As Deposed Ruler Leaves Land of Birth—Royal Family Expected to Take Up Residence in London.

CARTAGENA, Spain, April 15.—(AP)—"Viva Espana"—Long live Spain—were Alfonso's words of farewell to the country which has acknowledged him as King since his birth, 45 years ago.

It was four o'clock this morning when the automobile bringing him, a cousin and the chief of the Royal household from Madrid arrived here, driving through the city by a circuitous route so as to avoid demonstrations. Only a few hundred persons saw the Royal car and its escort of soldiers. Some of these cheered, others jeered.

Heavy police guards were stationed about the docks, and would not let any one come near except a few newspapermen and port authorities. A party of army and naval officers were already gathered at the quay and they cheered as the deposed monarch stepped down from the car.

He was smoking a cigaret, and was attired in a sack suit covered by a brown overcoat. He wore a grey hat, which he doffed for a moment as he shook hands with the officers, one of them, Admiral Magaz, who was a member of General Primo de Rivera's cabinet during the dictatorship, spoke to him, remarking how much he felt all that had happened.

Alfonso replied: "I am continuing my traditions."

"Long Live the King."

He lit another cigaret and stepped aboard a tiny launch waiting at the dock. Officers cheered and shouted "Viva Rey" (long live the King). Alfonso replied simply, "Viva Espan" (long live Spain).

The little launch shoved its way out into the bay, where the deposed King boarded the cruiser, Principe Alfonso, for his trip into exile. At 4.35 a.m. the cruiser lifted anchor and sailed away.

Aboard the Principe Alfonso with Alfonso XIII are the Infante Alfonso of Orleans, a cousin, and the Duke of Miranda, who has been chief of the royal household at Madrid.

A dispatch from Cartagena said definitely that the Principe Alfonso was taking the Royal exiles to England. They probably will make their residence in London.

King Alfonso of Spain abdicates almost on the silver anniversary of his wedding to the grand-daughter of Queen Victoria—Princess Victoria Eugenie. Dominion Accepts Mother Deported By United States

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 15.—Mrs. Kate O'Leary, thirty-five, mather of two small children, has been deported from the United States and, by special dispensation of the Canadian immigration authorities, permitted to re-enter the Dominion. She had been in custody in the United States for four months on charges of illegal entry, after being picked up in New York city. Mrs. O'Leary lived in Canada for twenty-two years and is estranged from her husband who lives in Toronto. Ottawa officials permitted her return because of the children, rather than deportation to England where she was born. She went to St. Catharines to-day in an effort to find work by which to support herself and the children.

Martin Urges Grants For Underprivileged

CLEVELAND, O., Apr. 15.—Larger Governmental appropriations for the underprivileged and handicapped were urged by Hon. W. G. Martin, Minister of Public Welfare in the Province of Ontario, before the International Society for Crippled Children which concluded its annual convention to-day.

He laid the greatest responsibility for crippled children upon the home. Too often, he said, parents are occupied with the pursuit of pleasure. If we are going to stem the tide of crippledom, parents must look after their homes.

Peasants Guarding All Roads To Border

HENDAYE, Spanish Frontier, Apr. 15 (C.P.).—Armed peasants patrolled roads of Spain leading to this border city last night and to-day, inspecting all vehicles, and allowing none to pass until assured that occupants were of the Republican sympathies.

More than 3,000 persons from nearby Spanish townships paraded in Hendaye during the night, remaining to cheer returning political exiles. The crowds sang the Marseillaise and waved small and sometimes improvised tricolors.

DEAN CLOSES CATHEDRAL TO WAR ANNIVERSARIES

LONDON, Ont., April 15.—An announcement came yesterday from Rev. Dean Tucker of St. Paul's Cathedral that after this year the annual Ypres Day ceremonies will not be held at St. Paul's. Dr. Tucker feels that in a war-sickened world, with people everywhere praying for peace, victories over former adversaries should not be celebrated. London war veterans have arranged for their annual Ypres Day Service at St. Paul's on April 26. The attitude of the dean is endorsed by Lieut.-Col. W. H. Kippen, D.S.O., and also by Rev. Major J. Bruce Hunter of Metropolitan United Church.

Car Upsets In Ditch Two Girls Injured

LONDON, Ont., April 15 (C.P.). —Two young London women are in Victoria Hospital, one in a critical condition, suffering from injuries received when a motor car in which they were passengers overturned in the ditch on Sprinkbank Drive last night.

Bridget Harley received a fractured jaw, severe face and head lacerations, and is suffering from shock. Anna Adams suffers from minor injuries.

Gas Price Reductio.. Will Be Considered

TORONTO, Ont., April 15 (C.P.).—Consideration of a recommendation of the general manager, Arthur Hewitt, to reduce the price of gas by five cents per 1,000 cubic feet, will be given by directors of the Consumers' Gas Company on Monday, it was announced to-day.

Mr Hewitt's announcement follows the victory scored by the company yesterday when, by an Order-in-Council, they were permitted to extend their mains to Port Credit and Toronto Township

The reason given for the proposed reduction is due largely to the increase shown in business during the past year, when sales showed an increase of more than $167,510 over the previous year.

While the quinquennial census of the native and foreign population in France has been completed it may be several months before the results can be announced.

INSURGENTS KILL NINE U. S. PEOPLE NEAR LOGTOWN

Nicaraguans Waylay Victims in Series of Raids and Ambushes.

HACIENDAS RAVAGED.

Undetermined Number of Natives Slain—Rebels Also Suffer Losses.

PUERTO CABEZAS, Nicaragua, April 15 (A.P.)—Nine United States citizens have been killed by Nicaraguan insurgents in the vicinity of Logtown, about 70 miles from here, since last Saturday morning.

The insurgents, who attacked a lumber camp there by surprise, and have since ravaged nearby haciendas, have slain a large but undetermined number of native, although meeting with some reverses themselves at the hands of the Nicaraguan Constabulary.

The insurgents suddenly appeared at Logtown on the morning of April 11 at about 7 a.m., barely giving the Commissary clerk the time to call the Wawa Junction telephone exchange. He shouted "help" into the mouthpiece and ran, leaving the receiver down.

Operator Hears Scrap

The Wawa operator, as a consequence, was able to hear the bandits as they looted the Logtown Commissary and notified Puerto Cabezas and other encampments in the vicinity.

An automobile carrying William Selser and "Pinkie" Wilson and Arthur Curtis, took a Marine and four of the Guardia toward the lumber camp but stopped some distance away to await Captain Harlen Pefley and four more of the Guardia, before proceeding to Logtown.

When they were near the place the insurgents, who had prepared an ambush, opened fire from behind, killing Captain Pefley and wounding a Guardia and Sesler, who died later.

The insurgents had tapped the wires at Puerto Cabezas and were listening to the appeal for help so that when Lieutenant Clyde Roy Darrah, Ralph Beardsley and twenty men from Puerto Cabezas approached they found another ambush and were isolated by the Nicaraguans. They later fought their way out.

Planes Drop Bombs

Marine Corps planes bombed the insurgents Sunday morning, enabling the Guardia to improve its position. Reinforcements under Captain J. C. Wood and Lieutenant Simmner joined the guard Monday morning and engaged the insurgents in a battle, killing eight of them, including the high Sandino leader, Pedro Blandon.

The Guardia detachment arrived at Puerto Cabezas Tuesday afternoon exhausted, Beardsley bringing Baldon's sword. Three of their number bore wounds. They said that the insurgents had attacked many farms in the area, killing everyone except their sympathizers, who were identified by red handkerchiefs which they wore around their necks.

The bodies of victims were chopped into small pieces with machets and the heads impaled on fence pickets. All buildings and bridges were burned and rails torn up.

The gunboat Asheville arrived here early Tuesday morning. Its failure to land a detachment of Marines immediately to reinforce the Guardia here caused dismay among both United States citizens and Nicaraguans, who are in fear of another attack from the insurgents, who are numerous and well armed.

WOMEN BAILED TO STAND TRIAL IN FORGERY CASE

Preliminary Hearing Heard by Magistrate Floyd at Bethany.

PROCEEDINGS BRIEF

BETHANY, April 14—(Examiner Staff Correspondent).—Offering no plea to charges of forgery with which they were confronted before Police Magistrate W. H. Floyd of Cobourg, Edna Bigelow and Priscilla Bigelow were yesterday afternoon bailed for trial in the sums of $500.00 each. The accused were represented by Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., of Peterborough. Crown Attorney Col. F. D Boggs, K.C., of Cobourg acted for the Crown, while J. A. O'Brien of Peterborough held watching brief on behalf of other interested parties.

The proceedings while of a brief and formal nature, excited great public interest, and the village Community Hall which served as an improvised court room presented some interesting contrasts. Almost every chair along each of the four walls was occupied. At one end of the hardwood dancing floor, grouped around a table were the two accused, and their counsel, the magistrate and Crown Attorney and the court stenographer.

The two accused, sisters-in-law, are jointly charged in respect to the endorsation of a promissory note for $1,500.00, which is alleged by the prosecution to be a forgery.

George Bigelow, of Cavan Township, the first witness, handed the promissory note by the Crown Attorney, scrutinised it and in reply to a question stated that his signature was on the note. It was a note he had given to his father the late John Bigelow, he said, on September 18th, 1928.

"There was no writing on the back of the note at that time, and I do not know who wrote on the back of the note since," stated witness.

Herbert C. Bigelow, farmer of Another "Battle of Century" Looms With Dempsey as One of Combatants

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 15 (C.P.). — The prospects of seeing Jack Dempsey in another "Battle of the Century" — this time with his wife as opponent and the divorce court as the arena—were dimmed slightly today by an exchange of statements in which they almost called off the fight.

To Jack's statement that he had gone to Reno, Nev., to get a divorce because his wife, Estelle Taylor of the movies, had proclaimed a decision to follow her career and had told him to "get out," the actress replied yesterday that she had not known of any plans for a divorce and that she would fight the case if it materialized.

Asserting the former heavyweight boxing champion had "no grounds for divorce," Miss Taylor denied they had lived apart for nearly two years and said she had been maintaining the Dempsey home in Los Angeles. Dempsey's original statement said Miss Taylor had forsaken domestic life for her career.

Miss Taylor's statement led Dempsey to comment in Reno that if she had changed her mind and is willing to give up her career as an actress and become a real home maker a divorce might be avoided.

RANGERS PLAN TO HOLD DRIVE FOR RECRUITS

Peterborough's Battalion Will Carry On Despite Cut in Estimates.

UNIT HOLDS BANQUET.

Boxing Lessons Will Be Continued and a Training Camp Probably Held.

"Carry on" will be the slogan of the Peterborough Rangers Regiment as enunciated last evening by Lieut. Colonel M. H. Park, O.C. of the battalion, before the officers and men at an inspiring regimental dinner.

Despite the major reduction made in the Government estimates for military training, the commanding officer declared that it was the unanimous decision of the officers not to curtail the battalion's activities in any way but to march forward and even increase this year the annual strides that the battalion has enjoyed in strength and standing. That the men joined heartily in this decision was made by the rousing cheers with which the announcement was greeted.

Officers and Men Unite

The dinner itself was but another example of the esprit-de-corps of the Rangers. It was the first time in many years that officers and men sat together about the festive board, joined in good-fellowship, song, and the common aim to increase the standard of the Canadian Militia, while honoring its well-famed records of the past.

Activities for the summer were planned, and the battalion is almost definitely committed upon going under canvas in camp for at least three days near Civic Holiday, and a trip to Lindsay on May 24th to assist Colonel Moore and his regiment in making the re-union of the 109th battalion a greater success. These were stated by Colonel Park to be only outward indications of the determination of the regiment to "carry on".

"We feel that we have the finest group of boys in Peterborough in the Rangers" stated Colonel Park in his brief address. "Their work and conduct stamp them as such, but we feel that there are other young men in the city who should be taking an active part in the training and recreation given here."

Launch Recruiting Drive

He stated that the biggest recruiting drive in the history of the city would be launched in the next two weeks, and promised that with the support of every man the result "will surprise and please all citizens."

No criticism was offered the Government for reducing the Militia estimates. On the other hand, it was freely admitted that the country was going through a critical financial period and economy was needed, but as Colonel Park said, the reduction is not going to reduce the Rangers' activities. The men are pooling their pay (as before), and in this way will proceed with their training.

The boxing lessons will be continued, and in the first week of May another exhibition will be held in

STORE TAKES FIRE AT BANNOCKBURN

Quick Action By Bucket Brigade Halts Blaze Before Headway is Gained.

(Examiner Correspondence)

QUEENSBORO, April 15. — The citizens of Bannockburn were given a bad scare on Monday about noon when it was noticed from the garage that the roof of the general store, belonging to Hunter and Donly was in flames.

The alarm was given and several men who were in the store making use of the cistern full of water under the dwelling house and the pails that were readily available soon extinguished the blaze, but not until a hole some three or four feet square had been burned in the roof.

The fire is believed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney and with the wind blowing at a great velocity it is felt that a heavy loss was narrowly averted. The same day the dwelling of Mr. M. E. McEwen, general store also took fire, kindled it is believed by a spark from a defective chimney, but this too was quickly put out.

My Dear Banker: "I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank account makes it impossible for me to send you a check in response to your request. My present financial condition is due to the effects of Federal laws, State laws, County laws, Corporation laws, By-laws, Brother-in-laws, Mother-inlaws, and Outlaws, that have been foisted upon an unsuspecting public. These laws compel me to pay a merchants' tax, capital stock tax, excess tax, income tax, property tax, auto tax, gas tax, water tax, light tax, cigar tax, street tax, school tax, syntax, and carpet tax. The Government has so governed my business that I do not know who owns it. I am suspected, expected, inspected, disrespected, examined, re-examined, required, commanded and compelled until all I know is that I am supposed to provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire, or hope of the human race, and because I refuse to donate to all and go out and beg, borrow and steal money to give away, I am cussed, discussed, boycotted, talk to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, held down, and robbed, until I am nearly ruined, so the only reason I am clinging to life is to see what is coming next.

REPUBLIC CHIEFS MOVE TO INSURE LIFE OF REGIME

Would Make Sure Alfonso's Return to Spain is Impossible.

GREAT CELEBRATING.

King's Terms of Agreement With Zamora Kept Secret Till He is Out of Country.

MADRID, April 16 (By Clarence Dubose, A.P. Staff Correspondent). —As King Alfonso and members of the royal family scattered into exile to-day, leaders of the Spanish Republic moved to ensure life of the new regime and to make their return to Spain impossible.

The prison gates of Barcelona, Valencia, Jaca and other Spanish cities were opened for thousands of political and revolutionary hostages incarcerated during the dictatorships of the last eight years, while crowds bolsterously celebrated the death of the Monarchy and the birth of the Republic.

Sail Into Exile.

The King, accompanied by his cousin, the Infante Alfonso of Orleans, and the Duke of Miranda, boarded the cruiser Principe Alfonso at Cartagena, and sailed away before dawn into exile, probably in England, although his destination was not announced.

The Infante Alfonso, Prince of Asturias, heir to the throne, took a motor car before midnight, presumably for Hendaye, Spanish-French frontier, and the Infante Juan, the youngest of Alfonso's sons, left Cadiz for Gibraltar, where he will board a British cruiser for England.

An automobile carrying the deposed monarch and his party from the palace at 9.30 last night had its blinds drawn, but from behind them Alfonso, who in his day has heard crowds cheer for him, listened to the shouts of his subjects, chanting happily, like the yelling sections of a football game:

"Now he is gone, now he is gone."

SECESSION TALK IS BEING HEARD DECLARES IRVINE

Money Bills Will Be Discussed in the House of Commons To-day.

C.N.R. INTERFERENCE.

Address on Speech From the Throne Drags on in Federal House.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 15.—(CP)—Money bills to provide the necessary credit to carry on the business of the country until the main estimates are passed, will come before Parliament today. This may be the signal for questions concerning the recent dismissals from the civil service, particularly from the Department of Interior.

L. E. Parent, Liberal member for Terrebonne, Quebec, will continue the address debate when the money bills are passed. It is believed improbable he will be able to take the floor today, because of the short sitting on Wednesdays.

Threats of secession in Western Canada should not be taken too lightly, the house was warned yesterday by William Irvine, U.F.A. member for Wetaskiwin. While admitting such a step would be disastrous, and one he would combat to the best of his ability, the Farmer member warned the Government that if we at this session do not find some means of compensating agriculture for the extra burden which the tariff has placed on it, we shall have to face the disintegration of our Dominion.

Interference With C.N.R.

From a different side of the chamber the Government received another ultimatum—this time from Ross W. Gray, Liberal member for Lambton West. It was time, he said, that certain interests in Montreal were informed parliament would brook no political interference with the management of the Canadian National Railways. There was evidence that Mayor Houde of Montreal, who also was Conservative leader in Quebec, had succeeded in having the whole question of the Montreal terminals reconsidered. It was at the suggestion of Sir Henry Thornton, the railway president that the plans had been ratified by a parliamentary committee and an appropriation of $50,000,000 passed. It now as suggested the whole question should be threshed out again before the Board of Railway Commissioners—a board lately reorganized by the present government. Parliament, Mr. Gray concluded, should reiterate its faith in the administration of Sir Henry Thornton and his associates and oppose political interference.

The two members were taking part in the continuation of the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. It has been grinding on practically ever since Parliament opened, and the end may not come this week. The House of Commons took a short recess yesterday afternoon to permit the members to attend the reception given by Premier R. B. Bennett, following the marriage of his sister, Miss

NORTHERN TOWNSHIP TO BENEFIT BY AMENDMENT TO ROAD ACT

Grant Towards Road Machinery is Increased to Fifty Per Cent.

LANCASTER SPONSOR

The northern townships of Peterborough County will benefit from an amendment to the Colonization Roads Act which increases the Ontario Government's grant from 25% of the amount spent by a municipality in the purchase of road machinery to 50% of that amount.

The Bill was introduced by the Hon. Mr. Finlayson, at the request of T. P. Lancaster, Havelock, who pointed out certain inequalities between the grants to the townships in the Colonization Roads department and those under the control of the Department of Highways. To the Colonization roads townships in this county for example, the government grant for road machinery bought by the municipalities has been 25%, but the other townships received a grant of 40% on their machinery. Mr. Lancaster contended that the northern townships such as Burleigh, Chandos and Galway had less revenue proportionately to buy road machinery than other townships such as Smith and Otonabee, and for that reason the grants from the department were inequitable.

Under the recent amendment, the northern townships will not receive a grant of 50%, while the grants to the other townships in the county remain at 40%.

Aged Man Passes Sitting In His Chair

LINDSAY, April 15 (Examiner Correspondence)—Death's summons came to Joseph Wilson, a well known resident of Mariposa township, a few days ago while he was sitting in his chair. The deceased who was in his seventy-fourth year, was in excellent health and spirits during the day. Neighbors dropping in for a social call found the deceased sitting in a chair, having passed away without a struggle.

Mrs. A. McGinnis, a well known resident of Norland, was severely burned in a most peculiar manner on Saturday last. She had ignited a match for the purpose of lighting a lamp when sulphuric sparks ignited her dress. She shouted for her husband, but before he came to her rescue nearly all the clothes were burned from her body, and she was badly burned about the arms and body. Mr. McGinnis also sustained a number of nasty burns while attempting to extinguish the flames. Mrs. McGinnis is still under the doctor's care.

Lindsay town council did not take seriously the resolution forwarded for endorsation relative to petitioning the Provincial Government to permit the sale of beer in hotels by the glass. Jocular references were made to the prayer of the resolution, after which it was unceremoniously filed.

Darrow Makes Film To Back His Theory

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 15.—Clarence Darrow has put in motion picture film his side of the evolution dispute.

For him, the famous Scopes "Monkey Trial" battle in Dayton, Tenn., with William Jennings Bryan has never ended. There was much which wasn't told then, he declared, much that couldn't be told. It had to be shown.

"The Mystery of Life" is the name of the picture being filmed. At first Darrow intended it only for his personal archives.

The lawyer himself wrote the story. It is his scientific conception of the evolution of the earth, the planets and life itself. He has drawn on world museums for specimens and eminent scientists for data.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 15.—Possibilities of a general breakup of drought conditions, both in Canada and the United States, had sudden bearish effect on grain markets yesterday. Sprinkles of rain at various points were followed quickly by price tumbles. Weakness resulted also from the fact that wheat had risen 4 cents a bushel within a week, and that trans-Atlantic demand for North American wheat had fallen off compared with brisk activity of late.

Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to ¾ cents lower; corn, unchanged to ¼ down; oats, at ¼ decline to ¼ advance, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 5 cents.

Forecasts of showers likely to afford at least some relief in drought regions northwest tended to make wheat prices average lower early, but rallies were numerous later, many traders taking the positions that widespread soaking downpours were necessary. It was asserted that dearth of subsoil moisture had become general throughout the grain belt, and that in the spring wheat region with the seeding season at hand the situation was critical. Canadian reports especially stressed the unfavorable soil condition of many farmers as indicating a material decrease of acreage.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, April 15.—Egg, butter and cheese quotations were lower, and potato prices were unchanged on the produce and dairy market here yesterday.

On the egg market, fresh Ontario and Prairie extras, in carlots, were unchanged at 24c a dozen. Firsts and seconds lost 1c at 21c to 22c, and 19c a dozen, respectively. British Columbia fresh extras, in carlots, declined ½c, at 24½c to 25c, and firsts were off 1½c, at 21½c to 23c, while seconds lost ½c to 1c, at 19½c and 20c a dozen. To retailers, fresh firsts and seconds declined 1c, at 24c and 20c a dozen, while fresh specials and extras were unchanged at 29c and 27c a dozen. Receipts were 2,649 cases.

Fresh and regraded No. 1 finest butter lost ½c, at 30½c and 31c a pound, respectively. Retailers' solids and prints both declined 1c, at 33c and 34c a pound. Receipts were 869 boxes.

Ontario colored cheese was off ½c, at 11½c to 11¾c per pound, and receipts were 105 boxes.

New Brunswick Green Mountain potatoes, in carlots, were quoted at 90c per 80-pound bag, and to retailers $1 per 80-pound bag.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, April 15.—Very little trade on the local butter market yesterday resulted in still lower prices being asked for creamery solids. But buyers did not appear to be interested in any quotations and confined their attentions to the disposal of stocks purchased a few weeks ago. Brokers were asking 31½c to 31½c for No. 1 and 30¾c to 30½c for No. 2.

Receipts of new cheese continued to be heavier than the local market could absorb, and prices quoted by brokers were ½c lower on all grades. They offered new large at 12¾c to 13c, twins at 13c to 13¼c and triplets at 13¼c to 13½c. Prices to retailers were steady at 14c for new large, 14¼c for twins and 14½c for triplets. The market here has been weak for some time and shows no signs of improving.

Brokers reported egg receipts not quite as heavy as previously and clearing well at prices steady to lower. The quotations of 22½c for extras, 20½c for firsts and 18c for seconds, graded and in free cases, were equal with the bottom of the range quoted on Monday. There were no changes in prices to country shippers, wholesalers quoting 20c for extras, 18c for firsts and 16c for seconds, ungraded, delivered, cases returned. Retailers were offered extras in cartons at 26c, extras loose 24c, firsts loose 22c, and seconds loose 19c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 15. — Narrow in range, th wheat market moved in aimless fashion in the wheat pit here yesterday, and at the close values were ½c to ¾c lower than Monday's finish.

May closed a 60½c, down ½c; July, at 61¾c, was ¾c lower; while October, at 63¾c, eased ¾c.

Offerings for the most part were light and came chiefly in the nature of profit-taking sales. Some sales of the May future against purchases of the July were in evidence, but interspreading market operations were not a factor. Export transactions overnight and yesterday were estimated between 400,000 and 500,000 bushels.

Cash wheat export demand was good, but offerings were light. Spreads were unchanged. Coarse grain prices moved within a narrow range.

REPUBLIC CHIEFS MOVE TO INSURE LIFE OF REGIME

and "We've thrown him out, we've thrown him out."

Alfonso left behind him the Conde de Romanoes, Minister of State in the resigned Aznar Cabinet, a manifesto containing his farewell to his people, to be kept secret until he is out of Spanish jurisdiction; and until it is published the terms of his agreement with Alcala Zamora and the Republican leaders may not be known.

While De Romanoes considered himself honor-bound not to reveal its contents, political circles believed that it will make clear Alfonso's action was not a complete abdication of the throne for himself and his heirs. It was believed that it on the contrary would reveal a hope of some day returning to Spain in the event, say, that parliamentary elections should go Monarchist.

Although deferring formal induction into office as Provisional President of the Spanish Republic until to-day Don Niceto Alcala Zamora took immediate charge of affairs from the moment shortly after 6 p.m., when he stepped before a microphone and announced to all Spain that the King had given in and that the Republic was a fact.

Prisoners Freed.

His first decree ordered the release of all political prisoners, his second one declared to-day a national holiday. Another deposed former Premier General Berenguer's brother as Captain-General of Madrid, and appointed a successor. Senor Alcala sat with his Cabinet until nearly dawn, poring over the work which must be done to establish the new regime.

A message received by the Junta from Colonel Francisco Macia, who was re-established at the head of a Catalonian Republic proclaimed in Barcelona, centre of an age-old Separatist movement, promised his cooperation with Alcala and Madrid in a Spanish Federation of States, thus apparently removing possibility that Spain would emerge from its revolution divided.

The actual government overturned, after months, even years of sanguinary disturbances, was effected almost without bloodshed. There was a riot last night in Barcelona, where two men were killed and several wounded, and some minor disturbances with a few casualties in Malaga, but generally the country from early morning yesterday was quiet. Good-natured supervision of troops and police was sufficient to keep crowds in order.

Like the French, who danced the Carmagnole on the streets of Paris after the fall of the bastille, the people of Madrid became deliriously happy, dancing, shouting, screaming in their delight. Strangers slapped each other on the back. Hawkers improvised Republican flags of red, purple and yellow and sold thousands. It was nearly dawn before the streets cleared and the city quieted down.

Details Kept Secret

The Government today guarded with utmost secrecy details of negotiations between Alfonso and Alcala which led to Alfonso's decision to leave Spain and allow proclamation of a Republic, but it was understood that those with whom he conferred after resignation of Premier Aznar's cabinet yesterday morning informed him he no longer had the support of either public or army.

He sent an emissary to Alcala Zamora, who is understood to have demanded that the King resign before 6 p.m. The Conde de Romanones asked for an extension of time, but Alcala refused, saying that it would mean a civil war or a general strike.

At 5:30 the King called in Alcala and others of the rival and official household to talk over the situation. As he entered the room he exclaimed: "I am still King."

Then he announced his decision to withdraw and allow establishment of a Republic. He shook hands with each of those present. "I am going because it is the will of Spain," he said, "and to avoid bloodshed. I go with a clear conscience."

At 6 p.m., Alfonso left the meeting and Alcala announced that the Republic had become a fact. Later, an hour after Alfonso's car had departed from the palace for Cartagena, accompanied by several truckloads of soldiers, Alcala stepped to a balcony and informed the crowd below that the monarch had left the capital and was on his way out of Spain.

Friends advised Alfonso to disguise himself for the trip from Madrid, but he scorned to do so.

His Attitude recalled his words to a Spanish aristocrat who showed him some secret passageways under the Palace which he might use for escape in time of need. The King replied: "Only foxes run to earth; there are no foxes in my escutcheon."

SECESSION TALK

Milfred Bennett, to Major W. D. Herridge, recently appointed Canadian Minister to United States. With all due solemness, the members and Mr. Speaker agreed it was 6 o'clock, and therefore time to rise for the daily intermission, when the clocks in the chamber showed 4.30 o'clock. This apparent disregard of the clocks was the only way the recess could be secured.

Must Have Protection.

Although he did not believe protection was in the best interests of any country, Mr. Irvine said to exist in a protected world, Canada must have protection. It undoubtedly would work further hardships on Western Canada, but might benefit the east. He suggested the appointment of a special committee of the House to study the present economic conditions and recommend solutions.

The name of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner in Great Britain, was introduced into the debate by Mr. Gray. He read reports of a speech made by the former Ontario Premier after his appointment to London, in which he was quoted as saying he would revive the spirits of the British people. The West Lambton member then referred to the subsequent speech of Premier Bennett at the Albany Club in Toronto, in which he jocularly reminded Mr. Ferguson of the recall of Sackville-West, former British Ambassador to Washington, for interfering in United States domestic politics.

Sackville West was recalled, Mr. Gray proceeded, and G. Howard Ferguson never should have been allowed to start until he had been rebuked to a much greater extent by the leader of this Government.

Revision of the Canadian banking laws to prevent the exploitation of farmers and to guarantee them reasonable credit facilities was urged by Cameron R. McIntosh (Lib., North Battleford). Western Canada was in the grip of serious economic conditions and drastic remedies might have to be applied. He believed the Government owed it to the people of the West to reveal at once its agricultural policy. He suggested to Premier Bennett that he operate a practical farm in the West and endeavor to demonstrate it could be run profitably under the present tariff.

Praise for the protectionist policy of the Government came from J. A Barrette (Cons., Berthier-Maskononge). Industries had been forced to establish themselves in Canada as a result of the higher tariffs imposed at the emergency session and he believed a still greater stimulant would be provided when Premier Bennett introduced his Budget at the present session.

While the Government seemed to be concerned chiefly with the manufacturers, little or no attention was being paid the consumers, charged W. A. Hall (Lib., Bruce South). Other speakers were Dr. Jules Desroches (Lib., Portneuf) and J. A. Verville (Lib., Lotbiniere).

the Armouries. Colonel Park praised the work of Instructor Garwood, and stated that boxing was one of the finest activities of the battalion.

Lieut.-Colonel H. S. Neilson, O.C. of the Northumberland Regiment, was present and voiced greetings from his regiment, as well as expressing his pleasure at renewing friendships with comrades of 93rd days.

Rev. Dr. R. C. Blagrave, padre of the battalion, proposed the toast to the former members of the Peterborough Rangers and the 57th Regiment. He emphasized the bonds of fellowship that tied together those who wore the King's uniform. "I want to tell you that there are things that cannot be measured by the yardstick or scale; these are honor and duty and service. These are the finer things in life and cannot be measured in bank accounts," Dr. Blagrave said.

Congratulations were expressed to Colonel Gordon Hall, former O.C. of the regiment, who has recently been appointed commander of the brigade. The fine standing of the Rangers as compared with other regiments was pointed out by Colonel Hall.

Sergeant-Major Sam Calladine was greeted with "Old Soldiers Never Die," when he arose to express his thanks to the men for the large turnout.

The regiment's band, under direction of Lieut. Peryer, played during the dinner, and Colonel Park especially praised the work of the brass and bugle bands and the progress made by them through the season.

Commemorates Battle.

On Sunday the regiment will parade to All Saints' Church with the Canadian Legion to commemorate the Battle of St. Julien, the battle in which the first Canadians withstood the gas attack and maintained their line against tremendous odds.

Captain Joe Dunkerly, on behalf of Colonel F. L. Bradburn, presented the Somme trophy to Private Gordon Wainwright, the best shot in the battalion.

Other awards for skill in musketry were made by Acting Adjutant George Melton, musketry officer, as follows:

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15, 1931

A KING STEPS DOWN.

Another king has stepped down; a new republic has been added to the lengthening list.

King Alfonso of Spain, monarch of that country for over a quarter of a century and the survivor of many political crisis, has had at last to face the inevitable; last evening he abdicated.

Spain, which for eight years has not had a parliament and has been in the grasp of a dictatorship, has become a republic.

Yesterday's developments were foreshadowed by the heavy Republican majorities piled up in Sunday's municipal elections.

The result of that voting left it clear that only a miracle could save Alfonso's throne—and no miracle eventuated.

There are Spanish Monarchists who declare that with the King out of the country the tide of sentiment will swing in his favor and his restoration may be expected.

Little ground would seem to exist for that theory; the Spanish people are apparently through with kings, and it is evident that the mistakes made under the dictatorship have been responsible for the creation of an irresistible republican spirit that has resulted in the downfall of King Alfonso.

CREATING JOBS.

While there will be nothing but sympathy for employees of the Department of the Interior whose services are being dispensed with because the transfer of national resources to the Western Provinces has left them without work, the suggestion that these employees should be absorbed in other departments should be examined with some care.

It simply amounts to a proposal that jobs should be made for 500 or 600 civic servants who were engaged for a particular service that is no longer needed.

That policy has been followed at Ottawa by both political parties for many years, and it has resulted in needlessly loading up the Civil Service with supernumeraries who have been kept on the pay-roll when the need for their services had long since passed.

The policy was directly opposed to business principles, but it has been persisted in to an extent that has made the burden of maintaining the Civil Service unnecessarily heavy.

There never was any justification for the idea that once a person got a foothold in the Civil Service he was there for life, whether there was any need for his services or not.

If there are any other jobs to which the employees of the Department of the Interior can be transferred with benefit to the government services, all well and good, but there should be no question of merely creating positions for them.

There has been too much of that sort of thing.

USING THE PRUNING KNIFE.

Predictions that federal expenditures were to be drastically curtailed have been more than fulfilled by the main estimates tabled by Premier Bennett in the House on Monday.

The Premier, it was prophesied, would cut to the bone, and it must be admitted that he has not spared the use of the pruning knife.

Over thirty-seven million dollars has been carved off the appropriations, and every Government department, except agriculture, trade and commerce and labor, will have to carry on with materially reduced budgets.

Out of 42 Government services 33 find themselves with smaller appropriations.

Militia and aviation expenditures have been ruthlessly slashed, the cost of civil government has been lessened, a large number of civil servants, most of them in the employ of the Department of the Interior, will join the ranks of the unemployed, public works appropriations are cut in two compared to last year, and all along the line there are similar evidences of a desire on the part of the Government to meet the financial situation by a policy of economy in Government expenditures.

Many of the cuts will be unpopular; there will be protests at the curtailing of many important services, there will be vehement complaints from many districts that find no plums in the estimates.

Mr. Bennett would be a confirmed optimist if he expected anything else.

The simple truth is, that while people grumble about the burden of taxation and the high cost of government, they regard the spending of money as the main function of a Government, and they are inclined to look with disfavor upon any administration that makes an earnest effort to cut down expenditures.

STARVING THE MILITIA.

The drastic slash that has been made in the appropriations of the Department of National Defense means that militia regiments, which have for years been existing on a dole system that barely kept the organizations alive, are now faced with the task of trying to survive on an appropriation that makes the previous grants look almost corpulent.

Camp training, it is inevitable, will have to be materially reduced and in many cases eliminated completely, and the allowance for training is so meagre that it will be a difficult matter for militia regiments to maintain even a semblance of efficiency so far as the rank and file is concerned.

The task of those officers who were public-spirited and patriotic enough to place themselves at the service of their country and to undertake the responsibility of building up efficient militia units, has been for some years a most thankless as well as a most difficult one, and with the announced cut in militia appropriations now becomes almost impossible.

Most of the active officers in the Canadian militia are men who fought for Canada in the World War and who on their return to this country felt it their duty to make their experience and training available for the purpose of developing a defense army in Canada.

The reward for this patriotic attitude has been a starvation policy on the part of successive Governments that has now been carried to the point where it would seem that the militia of the country is due to pass away from malnutrition.

TWO ARMIES.

It took 5,000 men under General Wolfe to capture what was then Canada in 1759.

It will take 15,000 men and women in 1931 to take the census of what is now the Dominion of Canada.

In 1759, Canada's greatness was an unknown quantity to Canadians.

In 1931, Canada's greatness is still an unknown quantity to most Canadians. They do not grasp the enormous wealth they have. They do not know how to get the best markets for the tremendous produce of get the best markets fo rthe tremendous produce of Canada. They do not even know how many people Canada has.

The Dominion census this year will correct that. It will find how many people there are, how much they own, what they do, what they own, and it will be the basis for a regular encyclopedia of Canadian affairs.

Two features about the census worth remembering:

First.—The information will be treated with strict confidence; it will not be betrayed either to your own or to anyone else's advantage or disadvantage.

Second.—The census takers will be backed by Government authority.

That means that everyone has all to gain and nothing to lose by giving full information. Canada, on the results of the census, will be equipped to go out into the markets of the world and compete, to adjust many of her own problems and to right inequalities that may exist.

This is census year. This is the year to co-operate. —St. Catharines Standard.

BLACK MARK TO REMOVE.

With so many educationists gathered together in Toronto just now it is interesting to notice what inspectors found at three Collegiate Institutes in that city, Humberside, Jarvis and Riverdale. The tests made by inspectors had nothing to do with anything new or strange; no intelligence test was tried, just plain writing and spelling.

The tests were all made in form 1 classes of the Collegiates. Of 392 pupils examined for writing the results were:

Good	93
Fair	154
Poor or bad	145

There were 511 scholars examined for spelling, and the record is given:

Good	68
Fair	123
Poor or bad	320

As is customary at these meetings of educationists, there is much time devoted to telling what advances have been made; there are those, too, who have new ideas they wish to graft upon the school system.

These results in three Toronto Collegiates should give the educationists something to ponder on. Tests taken in form one of the Collegiate on such basic subjects as writing and spelling are fair, because there is no further instruction provided in the usual upper school courses, so there would be little chance for improvement.

What is the use of going ahead with a so-called education when it is demonstrated that the scholars cannot spell, and when it is known they are poor writers. We would place spelling ahead of writing in importance because good writing of poorly-spelled words does not help matters at all.

If our scholars coming from public schools cannot spell, well, then, there should be more instruction given in secondary schools. A secondary school system which turns out poor spellers has a black mark against it which should be rubbed out. The smattering of languages imparted to Collegiate pupils is not sufficient to offset the fact that they cannot spell English well.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

With the baseball season now officially under way, millions of Americans will come to the conclusion that this is not such a bad old world after all.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson's luck still holds. While estimates are being slashed by over 37 millions, he gets a salary increase.

And now the County Council will arrive at the conclusion that Hon. George S. Henry must have had his fingers crossed when he said something about halting highway construction.

Mr. Bennett has shown that it is possible for a Government to use the pruning knife, but has not yet demonstrated that a Government can cut down expenditures and remain popular.

Better keep that marine railway oiled up. There is nothing in the estimates for the completion of the Trent Canal.

Having brought down the estimates and seen his sister married, Mr. Bennett has nothing to worry about this week but the budget.

Ottawa Cabinet Ministers will have to provide their own cars. Still that extra $2,000 will buy a lot of taxi transportation.

TANAR OF PELLUCIDAR

BY

Once more Tanar and Stellara took up their flight among the branches and, just as they were commencing to feel the urge to sleep, Tanar discovered a small deer in a game trail beneath them, and making his kill the two satisfied their hunger, and then with small branches and great leaves Tanar constructed a platform in a tree—a narrow couch, where Stellara lay down to sleep while he stood guard, and after she had slept he slept, and then once more they resumed their flight.

Strengthened and refreshed by food and sleep they renewed their journey in higher spirits and greater hopefulness. The village of Lar lay far behind and since they had left it they had seen no other village or any sign of man.

While Stellara had slept Tanar had busied himself in fashioning crude weapons against the time when he might find proper materials for the making of better ones. A slender branch of hard wood, gnawed to a point by his strong, white teeth, must answer him for a spear. His bow was constructed of another branch and strung with tendons taken from the deer he had killed, while his arrows were slender shoots cut from a touch shrub that grew plentifully throughout the forest. He fashioned a second lighter spear for Stellara, and thus armed each with a sense of security that had been entirely wanting before.

On and on they went, three times they ate and once again they slept, and still they had not reached the seacoast.

The great sun hung overhead; a gentle, cooling breeze moved through the forest; birds of gorgeous plumage and little monkeys unknown to the outer world flew or scampered, sang or chattered as the man and the woman disturbed them in their passage. It was a peaceful world and to Tanar, accustomed to the savage, carnivorous beasts that overran the mainland of his birth, it seemed a very safe and colorless world; yet he was content that nothing was interfering with their progress toward escape.

Stellara had said no more about desiring to return to Korsar and the plan that always hovered among his thoughts included taking Stellara back to Sari with him.

The peaceful trend of Tanar's thoughts was suddenly shattered by the sound of shrill trumpeting. So close it sounded that it might almost have been directly beneath him, and an instant later as he parted the foliage ahead of him he saw the cause of the disturbance.

The jungle ended here upon the edge of open meadowland that was dotted with small clumps of trees. In the foreground there were two figures—a warrior fleeing for his life and behind him a huge tandor, which, though going upon three legs was sure to soon overtake the man.

Tanar took the entire scene in at a glance and was aware that here was a lone tandor hunter who had failed to hamstring his prey in both hind legs.

It is seldom that man hunts the great tandor single-handed and only the bravest or the most rash would essay to do so. Ordinarily there are several hunters, two of whom are armed with heavy, stone axes. While the others make a noise to attract the attention of the tandor and hide the sound of the approach of the axe men, the latter creep cautiously through the underbrush from the roar of the great animal until each is within striking distance of a hind leg. Then simultaneously they hamstring the monster, which lying helpless, they dispatch with heavy spears and arrows.

He who would alone hamstring a tandor must be endowed not only with great strength and courage, but must be able to strike two unerring blows with his axe in such rapid succession that the beast is crippled almost before it realizes that it has been attacked.

It was evident to Tanar that this hunter had failed to get in his second blow quickly enough and now he was at the mercy of the great beast.

Since they had stared upon their flight through the trees Stellara had overcome her fear and was now able to travel alone with only occasional assistance from Tanar. She had been following the Sarian and now she stood at his side, watching the tragedy being enacted below them.

"He will be killed," she cried. "Can we not save him?"

This thought had not occured to Tanar, for was the man not an Amiocapian and an enemy; but there was something in the girl's tone that spurred the Sarian to action. Perhaps it was the instinct in the male to exhibit his prowess before the female. Perhaps it was because at heart Tanar was brave and magnanimous, or perhaps it was because, among all other women in the world, it was Stellara who had spoken. Who may know? Perhaps Tanar did not know himself what prompted his next act.

Shouting a word that is familar to all tandor hunters and which is most nearly translatable into English as "Reverse!" he leaped to the ground almost at the side of the charging tandor and simultaneously he carried his spear hand back and drove the heavy shaft deep into the beast's side, just behind its left shoulder. Then he leaped back into the forest expecting that the tandor would do precisely what it did do.

With a squeal of pain it turned upon its new tormentor.

The Amiocapian, who still clung to his heavy axe, had heard, as though it was a miracle from the gods, the familiar signal that had burst so suddenly from Tanar's lips. It had told him what the other would attempt to do and he was ready, with the result that he turned back toward the beast at the instant that it wheeled to charge after Tanar, and as it crashed into the undergrowth of the jungle in pursuit of the Sarian, the Amiocapian overtook it. The great axe moved swiftly as lightning and the huge beast, trumpeting with rage, sank helplessly to the ground and rolled over on its side.

"Down!" shouted the Amiocapian, to advise Tanar that the attack had been successful.

The Sarian returned and together the two warriors dispatched the great beast, while above them Stellara remained among the concealing verdure of the trees, for the women of Pellucidar do not rashly expose themselves to view of enemy warriors. In this instance she knew that it would be safer to wait and discover the attitude of the Amiocapian toward Tanar. Perhaps he would be grateful and friendly, but there was the possibility that he might not.

The beast dispatched, the two men faced one another. "Who are you," demanded the Amiocapian, "who came so bravely to the rescue of a stranger? I do not recognize you. You are not of Amiocap."

"My name is Tnaar and I am from the kingdom of Sari, that lies far away on the distant mainland. I was captured by the Korsars, who invaded the empire of which Sari is a part. They were taking me and other prisoners back to Korsar when the fleet was overtaken by a terrific storm and the ship upon which I was confined was so disabled that it was deserted by its crew. Drifting helplessly with the wind and current it finally bore us to the shores of Amiocap, where we were captured by warriors from the village of Lar. They did not believe our story, but thought that we were Korsars and they were about to destroy us when we succeeded in making our escape.

"If you do not believe me," continued the Sarian, "then one of us must die for under no circumstances will we return to Lar to be burned at the stake."

"Whether I believe you or not," replied the Amiocapian, "I should be beneath the contempt of all men were I to permit any harm to befall one who has just saved my life at the risk of his own."

"Very well," said Tanar. "We shall go our way in the knowledge that you will not reveal our whereabouts to the men of the village of Lar."

"You say 'we,' said the Amiocapian. "You are not alone then?"

"No, there is another with me," replied Tanar.

"Perhaps I can help you," said the Amiocapian. "It is my duty to do so. In what direction are you going and how do you plan to escape from Amiocap?"

"We are seeking the coast where we hope to be able to build a craft and to cross the ocean to the mainland."

The Amiocapian shook his head. "That will be difficult," he said. "Nay, impossible."

"We may only make the attempt," said Tanar, "for it is evident that we cannot remain here among the people of Amiocap, who will not believe that we are not Korsars."

"You do not look at all like Korsars," said the warrior. "Where is your companion? Does he look like one?"

"My companion is a woman," replied Tanar.

"If she looks no more like a Korsar than you, then it were easy to believe you story, and, I, for one, am willing to believe it and willing to help you. There are other villages upon Amiocap than Lar and other chiefs than Zural. We are all bitter against the Korsars, but we are not all blinded by our hate as is Zural. Fetch your companion and if she does not appear to be a Korsar, I will see that you are well treated. If I am in doubt I will permit you to go your way; nor shall I mention the fact to others that I have seen you."

"That is fair enough," said Tanar, and then, turning, he called to the girl. "Come, Stellara! Here is a warrior who would see if you are a Korsar."

The girl dropped lightly to the ground from the branches of the tree above the two men.

As the eyes of the Amiocapian fell upon her he stepped back with an exclamation of shock and surprise.

"Gods of Amiocap!" he cried. "Allara!"

The two looked at him in amazement. "No, not Allara," said Tanar, "but Stellara, her daughter. Who are you that you should so quickly recognize the likeness?"

"I am Fedol," said the man, "and Allara was my mate."

"Then this is your daughter, Fedol," said Tanar.

The warrior shook his head, sadly. "No," he said, "I can believe that she is the daughter of Allara, but her father must have been a Korsar for Allara was stolen from me by the men of Korsar. She is a Korsar and though my heart urges me to accept her as my daughter, the customs of Amiocap forbid. Go your way in peace. If I can protect you I shall, but I cannot accept you, or take you to my village."

Stellara came close to Fedol, her eyes searching the tan skin upon his left shoulder. "You are Fedol," she said, pointing to the red birthmark upon his skin, and here is proof that my mother gave me, transmitted to me through your blood, that I am the daughter of Fedol," and she turned her left shoulder to him, and there lay upon the white skin a small, round, red mark identical with that upon the left shoulder of the Amiocapian.

For a moment Fedol stood spellbound, his eyes fixed upon Stellara's shoulder and then he took her into his arms and held her closely.

"My daughter!" he murmured. "Allara come back to me in the blood of our blood and the flesh of our flesh!"

ABSOLUTE HARMONY

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Mr. Editor: An item in a Toronto daily last week under heading of Colborne, Ont., alleges that twenty families left the United Church there because of dissatisfaction with the minister and formed a separate congregation as prior to Union.

Will you allow me, as a neighbor, knowing the church and minister intimately, to say that a very grave error has done serious injustice to a Godly Christian gentleman. No semblance to such a state exists in Colborne; the minister is highly sustained by his officials and people. There is absolute harmony in the congregation.

Mention in the dispatch of Huron Presbytery and Clinton leads one to suppose an obvious error, but the heading, Colborne, Ont., undoubtedly is misleading. Considerable and deep concern is being felt locally and I desire the public to know the facts in all fairness.

Thanking you
Andrew McLauchlan,
President Northumberland Ministerial Ass.

PROVINCIAL HIGHWAY

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir: I noticed in your last few issues items called "Voice of the People." This means that any fair-minded person with common sense can write.

In reference to the Provincial Highway No. 7, the people in my district and north as far as Stoney Lake, the great summer resort for American tourists in Ontario had hoped this road would follow the boundary between the townships of Asphodel, Dummer, Douro and Otonabee, but instead it was shifted down the Norwood Road, called the Iroquois Trail—a road with seven or eight curves between Peterborough and Norwood. I would call it a snake trail.
